Judge Rules Taxpayers' Restraining Order Stays

By CYNTHIA BLACK

Middlesex Superior Court Judge Henry H. Chmilisky has continued a temporary restraining order that stops the process of compiling and sending out future Newton property tax bills if they are not based on 100 per cent valuation.

The continuation of the restraining order took place yesterday in Superior Court at Cambridge where Judge Chmilisky also questioned the efforts of the city to revaluate and asked for definite action from the Board of Aldermen.

The hearing Wednesday was the latest action in the suit of 37 Newton residents who charge that property taxes are unfair because they vary widely and are not based on 100 per cent valuation for everyone.

Judge Chmilisky left the door open for the city to counter with legal steps on its own behalf. "I have no intention of crippling the city financially," the Judge said. "If you have a problem, feel free to come back here at any time; but I think something should be hanging over the head of the city."

In the morning hearing yesterday it was revealed publicly for the first time that the panel of citizens which has been studying revaluation for Mayor Theodore D. Mann recommended an outside firm should be hired to assess all real and personal property at 100 per cent valuation.

Newton City Solicitor Melvin J. Dangel revealed the panel's recommendations, adding that the committee wanted an outside firm of evaluators or assessors to be chosen on the basis of competitive bids.

Judge Chmilisky said: "I can only enforce the law and the law is quite clear on this matter. . . Newton as well as every other city and town in the Commonwealth has had 11 years in which to comply with the Springfield decision. The law says 100 per cent valuation and that's what it means."

During the course of the hearing Judge Chmilisky said he did not question whether the city has made efforts to straighten out the property tax issues and practice but he did add: "I question whether the city has put forth as much effort as they should."

The attorney for the taxpayers group that brought the suit, Richard Gellerman, noted in court that in October, 1972, Newton's aldermen voted to reassess all property at one third of the fair market value.

The judge replied. "That, of course, is directly contrary to the law."

Gellerman said that he felt without a restraining order the Board of Aldermen would "go along the same way as it has in the past."

"The Board of Aldermen seems to have a basic lack of comprehension of the importance of this matter," the judge said. "The city has only made desultory attempts to comply."

Pointing out steps already taken by the city Attorney Dangel noted that when Mayor Mann took office in January, 1972, he was asked by assessors to request an approriation for revaluation and the Board of Aldermen put $135,000 into a reserve fund for the first year of the revaluing job which was expected to take two years.

The study panel was subsequently formed and requested to recommend future action to the mayor.

In addition to revealing the recommendation of the panel for an outside firm to revalue property at 100 per cent, Dangel also said the panel's report "Recommends adequate staffing and equipment so the assessing department can conduct ongoing assessments."

Final Budget Decision Monday

The School Committee is slated to make a final decision on the 1973 Newton School budget next Monday night (Feb. 5), a document which will include a mandatory extension of funds for an additional six months, from Jan. 1 to June 30, 1974, in accordance with new state law.

A last public hearing on the total budget, both the salary and non-salary sections, will be held tonight (Thursday) beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Bigelow Junior High School Auditorium on Vernon St.

Citizens are welcome and urged to attend this session, which will mark the last chance for Newton taxpayers to ask any questions they may have formulated regarding educational funding for the coming year. The School Board will be available to answer audience questions and to make final reviews of the budget figures themselves.

At its meeting this week, the Committee voted to pare a total of $22,000 from the Operations, or Non-Salary portion of the budget.

This included: a dropping of $11,000 from the Acquisition of New Equipment account, from the Administration's recommendation of $165,000 to $154,000; a decrease in salaries and overtime with respect to the maintenance of school equipment by $5,000; and elimination of $5,000 from the projected funding of custodial supplies; and a decrease in the Out-of-State Travel account by $1,000.

These deletions were voted on one by one Monday night, but do not represent a final vote, although the amounts will most likely be carried over into next week's final budget decision.

The School Committee approved the decreases as a "sense of the meeting."

With their cuts, the non-salary portion of the budget now stands at $7,170,945. The instruction part of the 1973 school budget is approximately $18,000,000, a figure recommended by Superintendent of Schools Aaron Fink. Much of the requested increase in this year's budget is represented in negotiated salary increases.

The Administration has requested the approval by the Committee of a 7.9 per cent hike in instruction costs for this year, and the raising of Operations costs by 2.3 per cent. The total budget, if approved next week, will cost the city slightly more than $26 million.

Budget Director Harry W. Vienneau outlined the administration's recommended percentages in projecting the budget to an 18-month statement of fiscal outlays, as is required by Massachusetts statute this year.

Most of the costs were simply increased by 50 per cent — annexing a 12-month budget by another six months of financing. However, the "big baby", as Fink termed it, is the per cent extension in the area of teachers' salaries, which is a recommended 67 per cent instead of 50 per cent.

The extra 17 per cent in major costs stems from the fact that, in financing the extra half-year from Jan. 1 to June 30, 1974 the city must pay the instructors for the previous July and August, in compliance with the legislative ruling.

Mayor Theordore D. Mann told the Board Monday night that residents will be assessed for the 18-month budget according to the following schedule: bills which will pay for two-thirds of the projected school costs will be sent out in November of this year, with April, 1974, as the billing date for the final one-third.

Budget extensions and a final scrutiny of recommended figures will both take place tonight and Feb. 5 by the School Committee in Bigelow Junior High School. The public will have its last chance to air grievances and ask questions this evening.

Quinn Issues Statement On Child Safety

Chief William F Quinn of the Newton Police Department issued a statement this week to Newton parents about the recent warning mailed by John T. Driscoll of the Mass. Turnpike authority, relative to children taking short cuts across the heavily traveled turnpike.

The chief said "It is sad to think that children must climb a six foot fence to face one of the most dangerous traffic situations in the state.

"This department and its safety officers have discussed this problem in all schools in the district and have also provided through the schools a route map indicating safest walking routes," he said. "Parents for the most part supervise children's routes, however I suggest that all parents discuss and check their childrens pedestrian habits, not only in the turnpike area, but all areas that might have some elements of danger."

Chief Quinn added: "My safety officers will confer with school authorities with a view toward issuing periodic warnings about this and other dangerous practices."

Families Are Preparing Welcome For POW's

When Russ Temperley sets foot on American soil, 15 members of his family will shed POW bracelets; and when Paul G. Brown arrives, he's going to have a chance to do "whatever he wants to do."

That's what the families of the two Newton prisioners-of-war had to say this week while discussing the now bright prospects for the return of their loved ones from North Vietnam.

The names of Air Force Major Russell Temperley and Marine Captain Paul G. Brown, 29, both appeared on the POW list released Saturday by the Pentagon after peace was officially established in Vietnam.

Major Temperley, who used to live at 150 Gibbs St. in Newton Centre, was shot down over North Vietnam on October 10, 1967, and has been a prisioner since that time.

Capt. Brown, a navigator, was shot down in July, 1968, and listed as missing in action until August, 1969, when it was determined he too was a prisioner-of-war.

The captain's mother, Mrs. Mildred Brown of 248 Tremont St., Newton, said this week that she and the other members of the family are forming the "official welcoming home committee" for her son.

The Pentagon gave them no idea when Paul will be home, she said, except within the next 60 days as was stated in the official announcement.

Mrs. Brown said she had just received a letter from her son on Jan. 10. He sounded "very

Guidance Clinic's Director To Take Post In Galveston

Dr. William E. Stone, first and only director of the Newton Guidance Clinic, has announced that he will vacate the post April 1.

Stone will accept the position of Kempner professor of child psychiatry at the University of Texas, Medical Branch, in Galveston, Tex.

Stone has been with the clinic since it opened its doors in September, 1965.

Making the announcement, Stone noted that when the clinic was first established, a simple contract was effected between the Newton Mental Health Association and two sources of public funds — the Dept. of Mental Health and the City of Newton, with the Board of Directors of the Association assuming th responsibility for the direction and support of the Clinic. With the redistricting of the state under the Mental Health Act of 1966 and the establishment of the Newton-Weston-Wellesley Area Board, Dr. Stone recalled the confusion in determing the roles and responsibilities of each agency.

DR. STONE

He expressed great concern over the layers of bureaucracy with all its attendant administrative tangles, and the extra burden placed on the Newton Mental Health Association to produce whatever funds are necessary that are not provided through government sources, and earnestly hoped at some point in the near future, the whole system of funding would be re-evaluated and a search made for viable alternatives.

In closing, Stone lauded and thanked the members of the

Solicitor Expected To Clarify School Transfer Controversy

By RICHARD HULL

An official clarification is forthcoming, hopefully by the end of the week, regarding the controversy over the School Committee's right to transfer costs from one account to another.

City Solicitor Melvin J. Dangel is slated to rule on the matter today, according to School Board Chairman Manual Beckwith, who briefly brought the affair to the fore publicly at the Committee's Monday night session.

"There will be no discussion on the matter Thursday," Beckwith emphasized Monday; "I hope by the next meeting (this evening) it will be clarified further."

The controversy serfaced last week with the receipt of a letter by Superintendent of Schools Aaron Fink from Newton's Director of Finance, Arthur A. Marr, Jr., who made several allegations of "mishandlings," "confusion," "illegal transfers," and the assumption that he personally was going to be embarrassed and critized by the State when he files his annual report "showing ten overdrawn School Accounts."

"Some of the intemperate words in the letter," stated Beckwith, "should not have been used by a mature city official."

Marr had accused the Administration of withdrawing $212,000 from the appropriated "Chapter 871 , Food Program" budget account, and relocating it in the "Cafeteria Account," in order to have the funds available for expenditure by the School Department in 1973, allocated in a so-called "revolving fund."

Fink dashed off a letter the next day, informing Marr that there was nothing illegal in the action taken on the account referred to, and that he "resented" the innuendo. He enclosed in his communique a complete record of the transactions involved, including appropriate minutes from the Nov. 27, 19/2 meeting of the School Committee, which read:

"Voted: to transfer $417,455 from Chapter 871 (Food Program) unexpended funds into the Cafeteria Revolving Fund, subject to the determination of the legality of such a transfer."

The same day Fink had Budget Director Harry W. Vienneau dispatch a letter to Solicitor Dangel on the subject.

Add A Telephone To Menu

By LEN BATEMAN

For Carol Teuscher of Newton Centre and the 20 men and women in her novel weight control program, dieting, as is the case with 50 per cent of Americans over 30, is a problem.

Carol went on her first diet when she was nine. It didn't work and neither did any of the other "fad" diets, as she termed them, since that time.

Actually, Carol was never obese. She was overweight to the tune of about 15 pounds, but she felt "fat" and knew that was the reason for her constant depression.

Her clothes didn't fit. Her mirror didn't lie to her, and her well-intentioned friends tried to, but didn't succeed.

Her long-patient husband also began to grow tired of the diet recipes constantly being paraded around the Teuscher kitchen. He belongs to the other half of America — the one without a weight problem.

In a last desperate move, Carol returned to her childhood to learn the reason for her extra pounds.

She found that her parents unsuspectingly related food to "reward" in her young mind. A good deed called for a summoning of the good humor man.

Carol got the message and decided to substitute a different kind of reward for the good deeds she saw herself performing every day as a wife, and mother of two pre-school children.

Carol's substitution was quite basic. She replaced her ever present food hunger with two-five minute telephone calls every day.

The first call is received from an "adviser," a person with a similar weight problem. This "adviser" listens as Carol proceeds to recount the pounds she has lost since the previous daily call, or the problems she has run into in not losing.

"It's as simple as that," stated Carol, "and it works as nothing else ever has."

The second call finds Carol reversing roles. She now listens as her "friend" on the other end of the line tells a personal story of the battle of the bulge. The round-robin of calls continue throughout the day until all members of the group have been listened to, and have listened.

"The results have been phenomenal," stated the now slim founder of the program. "We have had weight losses among all participants of the program."

Barbara remains anonymous as do the other members of the group. They do not know anything about each other except first names.

"We want it to remain this way, because it is the key to our reward," most members stated.

But Barbara did add, "I can't resent someone I know only as a voice telling me how to lose weight. Friends and relatives have been giving me hints for years, but I only resented them and went right on eating from morning till night."

Barbara has lost six pounds in the week she has been in the program. "I know now that I am going to make it to 130 pounds," she added. "For the first time in my life someone is really listening to me about my problem, and I know now I'm going to lick it. I don't feel hungry anymore and I'm content with eating the same meals as my ever slim and understanding husband."

"I haven't cheated once, feel good about myself, and I'm eating sensibly. Every time I feel like nibbling, I remember that call coming later in the day," added Barbara, who has had a weight problem since she

Conservators Meet With Director of Public Works

Newton's acting director of Public Works addressed the January meeting of the Newton Conservators, held at the home of Conservator's President, Dr. H. Garrison Wilkes.

Richard Dudman manages an enterprise with an $8 million annual budget and is firmly of the opinion that the director of the department should be a person who is trained in management. He operated a management consultant firm prior to taking his present post.

The organization of the department as well as its day-to-day operation was discussed before the meeting. Under the present set-up, three divisions — water, streets and engineering — report directly to Dudman.

He said he would like to modify this by dividing the sanitation function from the street department and by adding a staff in the director's office that includes budgetry control and planning and inventory control.

At the present time, the Street Department, which gets about three-quarters of the entire DPW budget, has such varied responsibilities as trash pick-up, drain maintenance, street repair, plowing and traffic. The latter function includes painting lines on roads, maintaining signals, and even collecting coins from parking meters. This collage of functions naturally results in some difficulties in overall planning, which is why a new division of functions is indicated, Dudman indicated.

Among the innovations that Dudman has initiated is the use of street sweepers during the winter when the weather permits. This results in less buildup of sand in catch basins, and a much smaller clean - up job in the spring.

On the question of road salting, Dudman stated that, while he has not yet reached a firm decision, he is inclined to use a mixture of three parts sand to one part salt on main roads, and five sand to one salt on the lightly used roads. This is said to result in a substantial reduction in total salt usage.

Also he is looking into the possibility of having the city use trees other than the Norway maple for its streetside plantings.

There were questions from the Conservators on such subjects as mixing of garbage and trash, and spraying of insecticides on private property in the city. Dudman expressed the opinion that none of these things should be done.

The Board of Directors of the Conservators have gone on record to oppose the mixing of garbage and trash until the present incinerator is upgraded. A new plan for total waste management is to be presented to the city by Arthur D. Little, Inc. by the end of April, from which further planning for upgrading of the incinerator will be done.

The next Conservator's meeting will be on Feb. 14, when the group will take up the problem of land use planning. Anyone interested is asked to call the home of Dr. Wilkes at 244-3174.

ADA Picks Newton Woman

Elizabeth Parnes of Newton has been elected the new chairman of the Massachusetts Chapter of Americans for Democratic Action at that group's annual state convention on Sunday, Jan. 21.

Mrs. Parnes has served in the past as the organization's legislative chairman and was honored in Washington last spring by the national ADA when she received the Helen Rotch Award given each year to an officer of a local chapter for dedicated and effective service.

Serving with Mrs. Parnes as first vice - chairman is Barney Frank, state representative from the Back Bay, Beacon Hill area of Boston. Mr. Frank has been involved in the Massachusetts Chapter for many years as vice - chairman and state board member and most recently served as national executive committee secretary for the national ADA. Melanie Totenberg of Belmont will serve as executive vice - chairman.

Other officers elected by the liberal political organization include Charlotte Davis of Brookline, Steve Cohen of Boston, Nancy Korman of Newton, Ernest Winsor of Newton and Ed Moscovitch of Marblehead as vice - chairman.

Donald Butterfield of Boston was re-elected as Treasurer and David Guberman of Newton was elected Secretary.

Outgoing Chairman Gordon A. Martin spoke at the meeting about his 2½ year tenure as chairman of the Massachusetts chapter and criticized President Nixon for his distortion of law and order, his dismantling of the Office of Economic Opportunity and his practice of governing without the advice or consent of even his advisors.

Martin praised Congressmen Tip O'Neill for his almost single - handed efforts to reform irresponsible House procedures, Robert Drinan for his work in the Judiciary and Internal Security Committees, and Michael Harrington for his work on the Armed Forces Committee, and all three for helping to make the Democratic caucus a vehicle for peace.

With this statewide meeting held last Sunday, the ADA in Massachusetts began the celebration of its 25th anniversary in the Commonwealth.

Job Bank Growing

Newton Job Bank is continuing and the community effort to provide youth employment has increased over the previous year.

As a result of the excellent cooperation of the local news media, community residents continue to supply the Newton Job Bank with employment opportunities for youth, according to Martin Cohen, senior job counselor. In commenting on the program, Mr. Cohen stated "that the local news media as a public service, has made known the availability of the Newton Job Bank for Newton's youth and has enhanced the number of job listings and job applicants."

He also stated that despite the increase of jobs over last year, the demand has also risen and he therefore feels a need to find more employment opportunities within the city.

As a result of the changing school schedules, students are available at a variety of times. One of the tasks of the program at this point is to correct the misconception among adults that students available at almost any time during the day so that individuals should not hesitate calling Job Bank relative to early hour employment.

students are only available afternoons and weekends. There are students available at almost any time during the day so that individuals should not hesitate calling Job Bank relative too early hour employment.

If your cellar needs cleaning, pets cared for during winter vacations, let job bank know.

For information on job bank or to list a job, call 969-5908 and ask for Pat or Marty. They are located at the Newton Community Service Centers, 429 Cherry St., West Newton. This activity is sponsored by the City of Newton through the Newton Youth Commission headed by Rev. Charles Coyle as Chairman and Mr. Jerald Stinson as executive director.

Tools for Spanish Instruction

Newton Teachers Hear Talk On Innovative Spanish Program

An innovative foreign language instruction program, differing radically from all traditional foreign language programs, was presented in Newton recently before a group of local teachers.

Teaching a student to communicate with a native Spanish-speaking person is the goal of "Spanish for Communication" program, designed by Houghton Mifflin Co. primarily for secondary school students.

It has been tested and validated by more than 400 teachers and 12,000 students over a 13-year period, including a trial run in Newton schools.

The rationale behind the new method is that communicating with natives should be the goal of language instruction, not just "learning Spanish."

Developers of the new method assert that it differs from other methods because it "focuses on the entire communication process rather than merely on learning to manipulate the arbitrary forms and conventions of the language."

For example, the student learns that distance between speakers can determine how well communication takes places. Spanish-speaking people, students are taught, generally stand much closer to each other in a natural, relaxed conversation than English-speaking people do.

In addition, the student learns that gestures play an important role in communicating in Spanish and is taught appropriate conversational gestures. The student also learns to simulate the pronunication and intonation patterns of Spanish which are different from English.

In the program the student is taught to be aware of the natural tendency to transfer English language habits to speaking Spanish and to realize that this tendency can prevent or distort communication with a native Spanish-speaking person.

"Spanish for Communication" also differs from all traditional foreign language programs in its use of English. In this program, the student uses what he knows about English to enhance his understanding and learning of Spanish.

For example, in Spanish there are pronouns similar in function to the old English pronouns "thou" and "ye." The Spanish pronouns for "you," like the old English pronouns, demonstrate the relationship between speakers.

In old English, "thou" was used when speakers knew each other well. "Ye" or "you" was used in formal situations or when speaking to superiors. Today "you" is the only pronoun commonly in use in Egnlish.

In modern Spanish, two forms of the pronoun "you" are used in much the same way as the old English pronouns for "you" to distinguish social relationships between speakers.

Although speakers of English no longer use the old pronoun forms, other linguistic cues which distinguish social relationships are retained. Examples of these cues include the use of "Hi" or "Hello" and the use of a title such as "Mr." or "Miss" or the use of only a first name.

In SFC similarities of the English and Spanish languages are utilized to enable the student to make the best use of "old" language knowledge in acquiring "new" language knowledge. The student just has to learn what concepts in both languages are similar and learn the appropriate new Spanish language forms.

A third unique attribute of this program is the new type of course organization which sets for teachers and students realistic goals that have been demonstrated to be attainable by extensive classroom testing.

The student works with a self-pacing, self-instructional textbook containing a series of daily assignments which are to be prepared before class rather than after it. The teacher works with daily lesson plans and visuals which incorporate modern research in educational learning theory, linguistics and classroom management.

The final pre-publication draft was tested between 1963 and 1971 in the Public Schools of Scottsdale, Arizona and Tacoma, Washington where all students in both districts used the program for several years.

When a student completes the lessons in level one, he is supposed to have the ability to communicate effectively on an elementary level with a native Spanish-speaking person.

The approach of the program is intended to facilitate maximum utilization of the time available to the teacher and student. The instructional program is organized in such a way that both teacher and student are aware of their respective responsibilities and both can complete these responsibilities with a minimum of wasted effort.

MISS DEBBIE MOORE, 16, of Waltham, is pinned by her instructor, Sally Epstein, after losing 42 pounds since last September at The Diet Workshop. Miss Epstein lost 40 pounds herself and will be instructing Newton classes at an open house to be held during the week of Feb. 5. The open house will initiate a series of classes to be held on Szturdays at 9:30 a.m. at 317 Washington St., Newton Center. This class will be of special interest to teenagers and working people who find Saturday a more convenient time. Open houses will also be held during the week of Feb. 5 in Newton Highlands, Newton Corner and West Newton. # March Of Dimes Names Treasurer for Newton

Mr. John Balkus of the Community National Bank has been appointed Community Treasurer for the 1973 March of Dimes Birth Defects Campaign in Newton, it was recently announced by Harry Sher, treasurer of the Mass. Bay Chapter of the National Foundation, March of Dimes.

Balkus' responsibilities as March of Dimes treasurer include the receipt of funds from all activities of the local drive in Newton. He will accept contributions for the business, school mail and coin drives, as well as envelopes received in the house to house Mothers' March.

Mr. Sher expressed his gratitude to Balkus for filling this most responsible position for the current year. "We are indeed fortunate to have a capable person like John Balkus on the 1973 March of Dimes team. Having him as treasurer in Newton will assure us of a fine, well organized campaign."

Proceeds from the 1973 March of Dimes will go to the Mass. Bay Chapter to serve the cause of birth defect prevention through medical research and public education. Much of the money collected helps to maintain birth defects centers around the country such as the one at the Boston Floating Hospital. Notable volunteer efforts have been launched for Rubella immunization drives within health departments and medical societies.

Balkus is a life-long resident of Newton and father of three children.

Police Arrest Dedham Man

Newton police have arrested a Dedham man for suspected possession of drugs, and violation of the firearms law.

Acting on an anonymous tip, police said, they went to a rooming house at 666 Centre St, last Friday and observed shotgun shells on a dresser through the open door of the suspect's room.

Dective William M. Fitzsimmons and Sgt. Edward F. Ceurvels proceeded to Newton District Court where a search warrant was obtained specifically naming the house and room of the suspect, police said.

Upon searching, police found what they believe to be heroin along with hypodermic syringes and needles. Further search turned up the sawed-off shot gun according to the police journal for the day of the search.

The suspect was arrested at the place of his employment and informed of his rights police said. He was charged with violations of the controlled substance and firearms laws.

Further investigation revealed that the suspect had rented the Centre street room under the alias Edward Bovney. His real name, police said, was that of a Dedham man wanted on one Massachusetts' warrant and several federal warrants.

A check of the sawed-off shot gun revealed that it had been reported stolen to the Boston Police according to the Newton Police.

Police were also investigating a break at the Presentation High School, 2 Washington St.

Responding to a call from the school's principal, police officers reported that entry was gained sometime between 4:30 p.m., Jan. 24, and 7:30 a.m., Jan. 25, by unknown person or persons who broke a pane of glass in the rear of the school and entered through a window.

Missing at the time of discovery of the break were three Royal typewriters said police.

Police also received an inventory of items missing from a break earlier reported at the F.A. Day Junior High School.

Reported missing from the music room of the school were a Sony stereo tape recorder valued at $500 and a Sony stereo cassette valued at $210 and two microphones valued at $15 and $1110 each police said.

Sal Gorgone, watchman at Newton North High School, reported to police that he had discovered a break in the rear of building three of the school.

The girls' gymnasium office was entered and a filing cabinet and safe were rifled. It is not known at this time the value of any missing articles according to police.

A weekly column of information about the Newton Centennial Celebration

The greatest array of jazz talent ever assembled in Newton will headline the Festival of the Performing Arts program for the Newton Centennial.

Featured in the exciting concert — "The History of Jazz" — which will be held on Saturday evening, May 12, at McHugh Forum, Boston College, will be jazz greats Dizzy Gillespie, Thelonius Monk, Art Blakey, Sonny Stitt, George Wein and the Newport All Stars, with guest artist Bobby Hackett, and the Preservation Hall Band of New Orleand.

"Former Newton resident George Wein has assembled this outstanding aggregation of world renowned jazz performers especially for the Newton Centennial program," announced Performing Arts Festival co-chairmen, Mrs. Bernice Johnson and Mrs. David Kosowsky. "We are understandably excited about this dynamic and unique program for the Centennial and know that the community will share our enthusiasm."

Wein, recognized as the foremost impressario in the world of jazz and an accomplished performer in his own right, began his career in the entertainment field as a producer of musical shows at Storyville in Boston. His Newport Jazz Festivals, held in Rhode Island until last year, is considered the finest production of its kind ever assembled and annually attracted audiences from all over the United States. In 1972, Wein moved the jazz festival into New York City where it played at a variety of indoor and outdoor locations to almost half million spectators over a 12 day period. His produc itions have been the showcase for every major performer in the field of jazz for the past fifteen years.

As a former resident of Newton who has brought distinction to himself, his profession and to his "home town," Wein will be among those distinguished citizens who will be honored later in May at the Centennial Homecoming Garden Party when he will be presented with an Honorary Golden Centurion Award.

"Many Newton citizens have contributed their efforts to this festive venture", stated the festival co-chairmen.

"Currently serving with us on the committee are Mrs. Victor Barr, Mrs. Ruth Burns, Mrs. Eric Dane, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Hochberg, Mrs. Robert Jacobs, Alfred Karp, Mrs Louis Klebenov, Eliot Kraft, Russell Nutall, Richard Waters and Mrs. Whelan Vinnicombe."

Additional volunteers who have offered their services to the Performing Arts Committee include Winslow Auryanson, Mark Budd, George Brewer, Lawrence Dallin, Benjamin Orent, Sal Rizzo, Mrs. Mordecai Shore, Neal Weinstock and Stuart A. Yoffe.

"As the theme of the Centennial is widespread community involvement, with many areas of participation in both planning and implementation," said the co-chairmen, "we would welcome any members of the community who would like to serve with us."

Blaze Damages Kitchen, Bedrooms

Newton firefighters extinguished a blaze in a private dwelling at 97 Berkely St. last week after the flames had gutted the kitchen and bedrooms of the two and one-half story structure.

Melinda Hardaway, owner of the extensively damaged home, was taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital by a neighbor after she unsuccessfully tried to extinguish the flames. She was treated at the hospital for burns on her hands, arms and face.

Mrs. Hardaway reported to police that the fire started when fumes from lacquer she was using to strip furniture ignited near the stove in her kitchen.

Later in the week Patrolman Robert K. Antonelis observed smoke rising from the second floor of the unoccupied house known as the "Giles Estate" at 249 Waltham St., West Newton. The fire department was notified by police headquarters.

Chief Frederick A. Perkins directed operations at the blaze which was confined to the upper floors of the three story abandoned building.

Firefighters Marco Marino and John Garabedian were both taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital after suffering minor injuries at the scene. Both Marino and Garabedian returned to the blaze after being treated.

Mrs. Susan Hazlett, 1 Edgewater Drive, Wellesley, owner of the estate, was notified of the fire by Newton Police. Mrs. Hazlett informed police that her carpenters would soon board up the building to conform with the city's building and fire regulations.

A neighbor reported to police that she had observed two youths emerging from the rear of the house a short time before the fire was discovered police said.

Assistant Fire Chief William Murphy said that investigation revealed that the fire might be of incindiary origin.

Pines And Harrington Testify On Legislation At State House

State Representative Lois G Pines has reported her testimony at three hearings held in the last few days at the State House

Rep. Pines and Rep. Peter F Harrington of Newton testified before the Judiciary Committee in favor of legislation they sponsored to change "Tenancy by the Entirety," a method of holding property which confers upon the husband the right to rents and profits of the realty and the exclusive possession and control of the premises

"In Massachusetts property held by husband and wife as joint tenants and not as tenants be a tenancy by the entirety Unless the presumption is explicitly rebutted and the property is clearly designated joint teants and not as tenants by the entirety. The property is held by husband and wife as 'tenants by the entirety'," Harrington stated.

"Unfortunately", said Rep. Pines "because of the lack of familiarity of most non-lawyers with the concept of tenancy by the entirety and the lack of awareness of presumption in favor of the tenancy by the entirety, most creations of tenancy by the entirety are unintended. Often this situation causes estate planning problems and possible gift tax consequences."

According to Rep Pines, "If the legislature prefers to maintain this type of holding, it should not apply to personal property (stocks and bonds as well as household goods)

Joint tenancy can be several by either spouse but tenancy by the entirety cannot This indestructibility of survivorship which is terminated only by divorce can be retained if this is deemed desirable by the legislature but the rights to control, use and profits should belong equally to each spouse This is the character of Tenancy by the Entirety in New York But this is the only way in which this form of ownership of real property should be allowed to exist," she said.

Representatives Harrington and Pines, both attorneys, pointed out that "the presumption in favor of a tenancy by the entirety discrimates tenancy by the entirety against women and is, in the opinion of many constitutional lawyers, unconstitutional since it violates the equal protection clause of the 14th amendment of the Constitution."

Representative George L. Sacco (D-Medford) and Mrs. Pines also testified before the House Committee on Counties in support of their jointly filed legislation to transfer all county jails and houses of correction to the State Department of Corrections.

Testifying in support of the measure, Sacco said, "we believe the consolidation of all Commonwealth correctional facilities in one unified system would permit considerable savings and an increase in operational efficiency

"In addition to savings in administrative costs, I believe a unified correction system would greatly reduce the present appallingly high rate of recidivism in Massachusetts," Sacco said

Mrs. Pines further noted that, "this bill will also increase flexibility within the Corrections Department by allowing creation of specialized facilities for drug related offenses, diognostic treatment, and the separation of youthful offenders and older repeating offenders."

The measure, House Bill 311, would transfer all county correctional facilities to the State Department of Corrections for consideration of $1. Upon passage of the civil service examination, all current county correctional employees would be retained by the State Department without change in grade, pay, or seniority. Future administration of the unified system would be at the discretion of the Commissioner of Correction, she said.

Rep. Pines also testified before the House Committee on Public Safety in support of legislation filed by the Boston Fire Commissioner James H. Kelly and others requiring that fire sprinklers be installed in all new construction of building in excess of 70 feet in height. She said "the state has a responsibility to see that the people are protected from fire hazards which we are only beginning to become aware of through recent tragedies involving modern fire proof high rises."

She also supported a bill prohibiting the use of heat activated devices for summoning elevators and a bill requiring the installation of outside fire escapes for school buildings of two or more stories and having wooden stairs for access and egress.

Hear Deaconess Head

Rev. Guy Morrison, formerly pastor of the Christ Church Methodist in Wellesley, and now executive director of the New England Deaconess Association, will be guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the United Methodist Women of the Newtonville Church, Walnut street at Newtonville avenue, on Wednesday, Feb. 7.

Refreshments will be served at 7:30 p.m. and the program will follow at 8 p.m. Mrs. Fred Hawkins of Newton will be in charge of the meeting.

Mr. Morrison will show slides of the residence and nursing home at Rivercrest, Concord, and the home at Magnolia, and tell of the growth of these homes beginning with 24 persons and now accommodating over 300. Opportunity will be given to ask questions.

Persons in the community who may be interested are cordially invited to attend.

Rogovin Elected

Gerald A. Rogovin, president of Gerald A. Rogovin-Public Relations, Inc., a Newton firm specializing in corporate and financial public relations and marketing, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the counselors section of the Public Relations Society of America, Inc. (PRSA.)

Rogovin, a PRSA-accredited counselor, has offices at 400 Centre street in Newton. He is a past president of the New England Chapter of the PRSA, and past chairman of the Society's Northeast District.

ARMY BLOWS BUBBLES

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (UPI) — The U.S. AKRMY Corps of Engineers is exploiting a system for blowing bubbles through holes in a submerged pipe to percolate warmer water to a cold surface. This method may be the simplest to keep the narrow Great Lakes and St. Lawrence shipping lanes open during the winter.

WHAT IS TRASH?

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you took the time to go through a ton of typical, everyday trash, you would most likely find: 920 pounds of paper products, 440 pounds of food and yard waste, 200 pounds of glass, 160 pounds of metal, 140 pounds of wood and 140 pounds of miscellany such as cloth, rubber, plastic and leather.

Heart Association Has Program For Parents

The Greater Boston Heart Association is now in the preliminary stages of organizing discussion groups for parents of children with congenital heart defects.

Parents of congenital heart children are urged too assist in the effort by participating in an area survey that will determine the direction of these discussion groups.

According to Sally Fogel, Heart Association program associate, "the survey questionnaire is very brief and each of the questions is optional.

"The survey will be an invaluable aid in forming the discussion groups which we hope will provide an opportunity for parents to share problems and hopefully solutions to problems that can arise from their child's heart problems."

The questionnaire has been developed by a Heart Association committee of parents, nurses and social workers who will be actively involved in organizing the discussion groups based on the survey results. Parents interested in participating in the survey should contact Sally Fogel as soon as possible at the Greater Boston Heart Association, 267-4400, for further information.

Hospital Lectures Continue For MDs

"Computer Assisted Evaluation of Electrolyte and Acid Base Disorder" will be the subject of a lecture by Dr. Howard Bleich, assistant professor of medicine, Harvard Medical School, at Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Feb. 5.

The talk, which is open to medical personnel in the Newton-Wellesley-Weston area, is the fourth in the Hospital's 1973 Fried lecture series and will be given at 8:30 p.m. in Usen Auditorium.

The author of thirteen articles relating to the use of computers and automated instructional programs in biomedical research, Dr. Bleich interned at New England Center Hospital and served residencies there and at Grady Memorial Hospital, Atlanta, Georgia.

Ward 7 Democrats Hold Their Elections

At its January meeting, the Ward 7 Democratic Committee elected a new slate of officers.

Mrs. Constance G. Kantar, of 382 Kenrick street, was elected chairwoman; Mrs. Mary Alice Stanton of 28 Sargent street was elected secretary, and Mr. Edward Gottlieb of 286 Waverly avenue, was elected treasurer.

Also elected as new membes to the committee were: Mrs. Marion Ress of 306 Franklin street, Mrs. Audrey Stein of 19 Stuart road, and Mr. Douglas Oesterheld of 436 Ward street.

Ms. Helen Rees, national democratic committeewoman from Massachusetts, spoke to the committee about the election of Robert Strauss as chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and about the role of the National Committee in shaping the Democratic party in the next four years.

Ms. Rees noted that while Mr. Strauss is considered "Conservative" in his views, as well as very political, the fact he wants the Democratic party to "Win in 1976" implies his recognition of the importance of the liberal wing of the party. Although the Massachusetts delegation appears to have little leverage at the top, Strauss made it clear, personally, that he needs their participation.

Ms. Rees also spoke about the establishment of the Charter Committee and Delegate Selection Committee as the two most important groups in working out a new structure for the Democratic Party and its National Convention.

The next meeting of the Ward Democratic Committee will be on Tuesday, Feb. 6, at 8 p.m. at Grace Episcopal Church. The featured guests that evening will be Rep. Paul Guzzi and Rep. Peter Harrington, addressing themselves to major issues facing the legislature in 1973. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Ward School Kindergarten Registration

The Ward School, Newton, is setting plans for registration of children who expect to enter kindergarten in Sept. 1973.

Parents who have eligible children should call the Ward School secretary at 244-0481 no later than Friday, Feb. 9, for details.

To enter kindergarten in Sept., 1973, all children are required to be five years of age before Jan. 1, 1974.

When It Snows In Newton

The next time you are out shoveling snow and think you'll never get to the end of the front walk consider the job for the men and machines of the Newton Department of Public Works.

The city has some 300 miles of streets to clear within Newton's boundaries. That's 600 miles of plowing and pushing and clearing when you remember that to get the job done right a plow has to go up one side of a road and down the other.

Most of us were snug in our beds with the thermostats up when the work call went out to the city's snow clearing crews in the darkness of 3 a.m. Sunday morning.

Snow was predicted Saturday and this time, at least, the warnings came true. The soggy stuff measured six inches in Newton before the storm abated.

The city's snow crews worked nonstop until midnight Monday clearing the streets. It was the first storm since Richard Dudman took over as Newton's director of the DPW.

A lot of other people appreciate the efforts of the men in taking care of the worst snow storm this winter.

Sure, there will be a few complaints. Someone always has to be last on the list of streets to be plowed. But the job in Newton is a much larger undertaking in terms of sheer size than clearing up Waltham or Watertown or Brookline.

There will be no complaints about the noise a snowplow makes as it clanks and bumps along a snowy street in the middle of the night. That's just about the most reassuring sound there is.

Car Cut on 128

Not the least interesting of the prosposals which may be presented by Massachusetts agencies before the Federal Environmental Protection (EPA) is one which would cut private automoble traffic on Route 128 and roads in its perimeter.

Some scientists have figured out that during the summer in this part of the world an average of 15 days brings to the area a dangerous smog level. The level can be held stationary on such "Smog Days" if conditions which aggravate those once lovely "New England" summer days are cut to the minimum.

The idea is that some Massachusetts agencies would bar private motor traffic in the 128 area on those bad days. Modern equipment is supposed to aid scientists in forecasting smog conditions even before the sun comes up.

On such days commuters would be awakened by broadcasts informing them their cars will be taboo on that day. So will the vehicles of others, unless they have been issued special pemits.

No doubt, many of the grounded motorists of such a regulation will give their support to the idea if they happen to live within walking distanceof a golf course.

The EPA is getting all kinds of proposals and the curbs on motor traffic. They range from demands of some Los Angeles experts which would just about eliminate the combustion engine Henry Ford conceived for America many years ago.

As Americans we have seen this country perform achievements that have astounded the rest of the world.

However, the Federal Clean Air Act of 1970 is asking accomplishments that even transcend the U.S. creation of the largest merchant fleet the world ever knew in War II.

We all hope that our air will be a lot cleaner by any deadline in 197. However, this is a problem that is not completely concerned with blue prints and steel outputs; huge new factories and ultra-modern machinery. Clean air involves us with an outraged nature. She spurns deadlines.

Incinerators

They are building a really big incinerator down in East Bridgewater. It is strictly a private undertaking but when the builders showed up to tell prospective customers about the incinerator's capacity, Representatives from 30 communities showed up.

They numbered over 100. They spent a whole day listening to descriptions of the big burner, examining literature and models, and asking questions.

The plant at the outset would have a capacity for 600 tons a day but could be later expanded to 2000 tons. The $6-million facility, its builders assert, could operate on a cost of less than $11-a-ton for solid waste delivered to the incinerator at its site.

Costs could be cut even greater if a number of communities could be signed up to use larger vans to handle refuse from smaller trucks.

The plant, it is expected will be in operation late in May or June.

The list of cities and towns showing interest in the incinerator include Randolph, Holbrook, Milton, Abington, Plymouth, Canton, Brookton, Whitman, Duxbury, Pembroke, Marshfield, Dedham, Stoughton, Halifax, Hull, Sharon, Cohasset, and the Bridgewaters. That is quite an impressive list. It reflects the worries of municipal governments everywhere. "What are we going to do about our solid waste when present facilities become exhausted?"

It's not clear which or how many communities will buy the East Bridgewater service. The claims made for its efficiency come at a time when complaints keep coming from towns like Wellesley and cities like Boston about the efficiency of incinerator disposal.

Right now cities and towns are taking a good long look at any mass disposal idea that comes along.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Dwight Explains Why State Govt. Should Be Revamped

Lieutenant Governor Donald Dwight, who will be the Republican nominee for Governor next year if Francis W. Sargent decides not to run again, offers some cogent reasons why the Legislature and the general public should support the proposals by the Governor and his cabinet members for revamping the structure of the state government.

In addition to serving as Lieutenant Governor for the past two years, Dwight has been State Commissioner of Administration and Finance (Deputy Governor) and State Public Works Commissioner. So he knows something about the operations and functions of the state government.

Dwight is by no means a hack politician. He commands attention and respect when he speaks. If time should prove him wrong in promoting the reorganization of the state government, he may have to live with his mistake because he could well be the next Governor of Massachusetts.

Speaking from his own observations, Dwight declares that there is redundancy, inefficiency and waste in the state government and that situations exist today which would not be tolerated in private industry.

He says the acceptance or rejection by the Legislature of the reorganization program will determine the shape and scope of governmental service for years to come. With the possible exception of Governor Sargent, no one has a bigger stake than Dwight in the accuracy of that statement.

"For years and years government has been growing, expanding, getting into more and more areas," Dwight declares in explaining why the reorganization is needed. Coincidental with this growth trend has been a tendency toward self-preservation on the part of many agencies, he adds.

"Some agencies in state government spend more time and energy insuring their own growth and proliferation than they spend performing their designated functions," he continues. "In some respects, then, government has lost sight of its true goal — serving people.

"When government saw a need, those in government responded by investing in new programs. But nothing was done about the old programs. They were simply perpetuated, becoming less and less relevant with the passage of time. The result was programs on top of programs," Lieutenant Governor Dwight stated in an interview.

"Cost-efficiency — what the taxpayer gets for his dollar — rarely gets priority and occasionally is ignored altogether," he went on. "There are agencies in state government which have become antiquated, providing services no longer needed or wanted — the Weather Amendment Bureau, for example.

"There are agencies which have become arcane, accountable to practically no one and doing things known only unto themselves," Dwight exclaimed. "There are agencies which have become hidebound, narrowminded and willing to listen to no one or nothing other than tradition. You do it this way because that's the way it always has been done!

"This situation didn't develop overnight," Dwight asserted. "It has taken years and years. Nor is any individual or any political party responsible. The system itself is to blame in large measure. But assigning guilt will not solve the problem. The time has come to modernize government, to streamline it, to attune it to the needs of the society it is supposed to serve."

Dwight points out that Phase 1 of the so-called Reorganization Act was simply an organization, not a reorganization. "We are now at a crucial juncture," Dwight says. "We have the basic structure, and our task is to make it work. That is what Phase 2 is all about.

"Nothing really changed in terms of government structure under Phase 1," Dwight observed. No agencies were abolished; none was trimmed; none was abolished. They were simply assigned into categories. Those agencies which were anachronistic before Phase 1 are still anachronistic after Phase 1."

He voiced the conviction that results will now be achieved if the reorganization bill is adopted and that, in addition to the savings which will be realized, government will be placed back in the hands of the people by administering programs locally rather than from Beacon Hill.

"We will establish broad policy and set goals," Dwight declared. "But people at the local level will determine how to utilize their resources in order to achieve those goals.

"We will begin to put an end to the burgeoning, faceless bureaucracy which so maddens and frustrates the individual citizen. We will hasten the day when a citizen seeking help is no longer told to go to another state agency and to another and to another.

"We not only will bring agencies together; we will bring together the people who work at those agencies, and we will give them new powers to assist the citizen in need. We will stop treating pieces of problems, and we will start treating whole problems.

"Imagine a family in trouble," Dwight said. "Dad is in prison. Mother is on welfare and has a problem with alcohol as well. A young son, quite possibly because of this environment, is into drugs.

"Under the present system, that family would have to deal with the Department of Correction, the Department of Public Welfare, the Department of Health and the Department of Youth Services. There would be four separate files and probably four or more social workers involved. Besides being inefficient, the system is unfair — unfair to those we are trying to help."

Dwight went on to say that after the reorganization bill is enacted the Executive Office of Human Services would be able to treat such a family as a unit and single problem, not as a series of unrelated fragments.

He said it also would made possible tighter fiscal control and would stop the 15 to 20 per cent increase in state expenditures which the people have come to expect each year.

A paradoxical aspect of Dwight's effective arguments for the passage of the reorganization bill is that he probably would be in a stronger political position if the measure were defeated.

In such an event Dwight could campaign against the Legislature and accuse it of blocking more efficient and economical state government.

But the indications are the reorganization bill will be enacted and that Dwight will be obliged to campaign on the benefits realized from that action.

Democratic politicians, incidentally, who have a very healthy respect for Dwight, believe that he will be the Republican nominee for Governor next year.

They express doubt that Governor Sargent will run again or that he could win reelection if he did run.

George Minot, veteran columnist of the Herald American, reported the other day that he was surprised at "how tremendously unpopular" he found Governor Sargent to be during a trip across the state.

He said he was convinced before going far that as of today Mr. Sargent has little chance of gaining another term regardless of who his opponent might be.

That opinion is shared by many observers. That's why so much attention is now being centered on Donald Dwight whose big problem is to get out from Sargent's shadow and become better known in his own right.

Repeal of Third Term Ban Urged For Good of Nation

Richard M. Nixon is now a lame duck president. Under the 22nd Amendment to the U.S. Constitution he cannot seek reelection to a third term in 1976 although he will be younger then than New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller who is talking about another possible bid for the Presidency.

Will Mr. Nixon, who has been described as the most introspective of our presidents, do a better job for the people of the United States because he is now working for his future place in history?

Or would he be more responsive to the American people if a possibility existed that he might once again stand before them and ask their votes? Many observers are inclined to this latter view.

At the very moment of the inauguration which began Richard Nixon's second term as President, some sound students of government were urging that the Democratic-controlled Congress start the machinery in motion to repeal the 22nd Amendment.

Not because they want Richard Nixon to serve a third term as President or even run for one, but because they believe the existing situation is not a healthy one for a second-term President or the nation.

The 22nd Amendment was steamrollered through a Republican-dominated Congress in 1947, with only a small amount of debate in the Senate and even less in the House.

It has been described as "a posthumous revenge" against Franklin D. Roosevelt, the only man ever elected to more than two terms in the Presidency.

Richard Nixon, a driving, determined, austere man, might or might not stand for a third term as President of the United States if the Federal Constitution permitted him to do so.

But it could well be better for the United States and its citizens if President Nixon were uncertain whether he might have to face public judgment again.

Well-meaning persons talk continually about taking offices such as that of President and Governor outside the area of politics.

But the most astute scholars of government point out that high public officials are most responsive to the people when they are within the system of political controls.

For example, there is no evidence whatever that lengthening the term of Massachusetts Governors from two to four years has resulted in improved service by the incumbents of that office.

In fact, the opposite is true. There were fewer abuses of administrative authority when an election was never more than two years away. The longer term has not produced better government.

When the 22nd Amendment was adopted, the politicians chipped away a little more power from the people, and much the same thing was done in Massachusetts when the term of Governor was lengthened from two to four years.

Police Association Urges Election of State's Judges

The Boston Police Patrolmen's Association may get unexpected support of its proposal that Massachusetts judges be elected by the people.

Under the present system, judges are picked on the basis of the contribution they made to a Governor's election - usually in the form of a campaign donation.

The Executive Committee of the Patrolmen's Association complains of the "recent nomination of immature and totally inexperienced" attorneys for District Court judgeships.

The people will get the right to elect judges only if they demand it. The so-called reformers usually want to take power away from the people when they urge change in government. Rarely do they advocate giving the voters more power.

Governor's Councillor George Cronin of West Roxbury also is on sound ground when he declares that a hearing on the qualifications of a person nominated to be a judge should be held in public, not in a secret, star chamber session behind locked doors.

Cronin wants to know what there is to hide when a man or woman is being questioned about his or her fitness to preside over a trail and decide whether another person shall be deprived of his freedom and sent to prison. What indeed?

We hear much these days about the right of the people to know. Councillor Cronin thinks they have a right to know what questions are asked a nominee for a judgeship and what answers are given. The existing rule obviously is intended to prevent the people from knowing.

Safety of Children Issue In School Imbalance Case

An examination of the 140-page Report of Material Facts made by Superior Court Justice Robert Sullivan after he had rejected a suit by the State Board of Education against the Boston School Committee disclosed that he placed considerable importance upon the safety of children involved in travelling between their homes and schools.

He also declared, in effect, that the State Board had submitted erroneously labelled information to him.

The suit by the State Board requested the court to establish new school attendance districts in Boston which would necessitate the large-scale busing of children in order to racially balance the city's public schools.

Judge Sullivan's statements should have an impact not only in Boston but also in outside cities and towns because a suit is now pending in federal court which legal experts say could result in a busing interchange of pupils between schools in Boston's ghetto areas and schools in suburban communities such as Newton, Needham, Dedham, Norwood, Westwood, Dover, Canton and Sharon.

Unless findings by the Massachusetts Supreme Court are overruled by the U.S. Supreme Court, Judge Sullivan's report leaves the impression that such a lengthy and complicated busing of school children is unlikely.

The jurist declared that the principal reason he rejected the State Board's redistricting plan was that, as a matter of law, it would "result in busing far in excess of that which is legally permissible."

He said he found that "excessive busing" was the direct results of the fact that the proposed school attendance districts were too large and gerrymandered when viewed in the light of a Supreme Court decision and that the suggested districts did not comply with the legislative mandate to take into account the concept of "neighborhood" (as that word was interpreted by the Supreme Court in the Springfield case).

"This Court also held that the plan was not specific enough with regard to safety factors to allow for a judgment to be made as to whether safety had been considered on an equal basis with the consideration afforded to racial balance," Judge Sullivan asserted. "In making my analysis of the proposed plan, however, I did consider the hazards to safety which exist."

Judge Sullivan is regarded by highly respected members of the legal profession as an extremely sound and even brilliant jurist whose findings carry a great deal of weight. In one significant section of his report he said:

"In rejecting the Board's plan, this Court was mindful of, and guided by, these pertinent portions of the statute and by the Supreme Judicial Court's interpretation of those same portions. They follow:

" 'Any plan to detail changes in existing school attendance districts, with the intention of reducing or eliminating racial imbalance, must take into consideration on an equal basis with the above-mentioned intention, the safety of the children involved from home to school and school to home."

A section of the law quoted by Judge Sullivan says: "No School Committee shall be required as part of its plan to transport any pupil to any school outside the school district established for his neighborhood, if the parent or guardian of such pupil files written objection thereto with such School Committee."

He also cited a Supreme Court ruling that school attendance districts "must bear a relationship to the neighborhood" where the pupil and his family reside" and that "school attendance districts, when redrawn for the purposes of achieving racial balance, must bear a reasonable, though not necessarily a fixed, proximity to recognized neighborhoods."

As an illustration of the depth to which Judge Sullivan explored his subject, he referred to a Supreme Court ruling that a School Committee may include "several" neighborhoods and more than one school within an attendance district.

He then went into a discussion as to precisely what "several" means, concluding that a reasonable construction of the word would be three of four and that a liberal construction would be five. (There were more than five schools and neighborhoods in some of the attendance districts proposed by the State Board of Education.)

Judge Sullivan also observed in his report that the State Board of Education submitted data to him supposedly based on

Court Ruling 'Horrifies' Citizens For Life Group

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Massachusetts Citizens FOR Life are horrified at the decision of the Supreme Court which apparently prohibits any attempt by the states to protect the lives of its unborn children.

The Supreme Court has the legal power to interpret the meaning of the Constitution of the United States. There has never been a guarantee that this power will always be used wisely. The decision on abortion is incomprehensible to anyone aware of the facts of life before birth.

In relegating abortion to the status of a medical procedure and in evading the central question as to when a human being acquires a right to life, the Supreme Court has opened a Pandora's box of horros which will be a source of national anguish for years to come.

If a child is alive following an abortion, is he then a legal person?

May he be kept alive solely for the purpose of medical experimentation and then destroyed?

Will the millions of citizens who oppose abortion on humanitarian or religious grounds be forced through their taxes to subsidize the destruction of innocent human life?

How could the same court which recently outlawed the legal execution of criminals now condone the legal execution of innocent babies?

In apparently nullifying any rights of the father to protect his unborn child, does this decision logically not absolve him from any obligation to support his children?

The legal and moral turmoil resulting from this decision will continue to haunt the national conscience.

Massachusetts Citizens FOR Life, in conjunction with pro-life groups throughout the country, will continue all efforts to educate the public to the true nature of life before birth, so that pregnant women will not in a time of panic be stampeded into an action which could cause them great mental anguish in the future.

We will continue to provide a voice for those little ones who are unable to speak in their own defense. We will continue to promote respect for all human life from the moment of its creation. We will continue all such efforts until this sad decision is reversed by a more enlightened Supreme Court, or until a Constitutional Right to Life amendment supported by the required majorities, rectifies this error.

Supreme Court Ruling Halts Illegal Abortions

Editor, Newton Graphic:

The decision of the Supreme Court in Rowe vs. Wade should effectively halt the heavy toll of death and mutilation resulting from countless illegal abortions.

The court, by recognizing that the Constitution grives a woman the right, with her doctor, to made a decision of obvious enourmous personal consequence, will lend new dignity to motherhood and new importance to family life. The decision should remove this issue from politics.

Planned Parenthood League of Massachusetts both welcomes this and recognizes it as a challenge to this Commonwealth and the nation to provide such comprehensive and effective family planning services so as to minimize the need for women to fall back on abortion.

Solicitor-

Vienneau sent along a copy of a letter by Joseph Robinson, General Counsel for the State Department of Education, whose opinion was asked on the "legality" of the School Committee's approved motion.

Robinson stated in a letter dated Dec. 27 that the courts had ruled that a school board "may use money allocated to the school as it sees fit even to the extent of diverting sums specifically allocated in the budget from one use to another." This phrasing was drawn from a 1971 decision pertaining to Fitchburg.

Beckwith said Monday night that it "seems silly to think of someone commenting on the illegality" of the transfer, when the School Committee's minutes for Nov. 27 clearly stated the need for official ruling on the matter.

Dangel is due to "take a position" on the controversy, said the School Committee Chairman. Dangel has all the correspondence from the concerned parties, and should rule on the legality or illegality of the transfer soon.

Beckwith may very well have an official statement on the entire affair tonight at the School Committee's meeting.

Lead Free Gasoline Regulations Explained

Editor, Newton Graphic:

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has promulgated final regulations requiring the general availability at gasoline stations of at least one grade of unleaded gasoline by July 1, 1974.

Our agency has also proposed annual reductions of lead content in all other grades of gas beginning January 1, 1975, and extending to January 1, 1978, for health protective reasons.

The one grade of lead free gas required by July 1, 1974 must be of at least 91 research octane number and must also be phosphorous-free.

"Lead-free" is defined as gasoline containing 0.05 grams of lead per gallon. "Phosphorous-free" is defined as a maximum of 0.005 grams per gallon.

The general availability of lead-free gas is required to assure the protection of catalytic devices determined to be a key part of 1975-76 auto emission control systems.

Under the new regulations vehicles requiring lead-free gas must carry "unleaded gasoline only" labels on the dashboard and near the gas tank inlet. Special auto gas tank inlets and gas pump nozzles must also be developed to prevent accidental usage of the wrong gas.

Gas stations carrying unleaded gas must prominently display signs which read "Federal Law Prohibits the Introduction of Any Gasoline Containing Lead or Phosphorous into any motor vehicle labeled unleaded gasoline only."

These precautions are necessary because lead in gas deteriorates catalytic devices, which change auto exhaust gases of hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide into carbon dioxide and water for release into the air.

The requirement to sell unleaded gas is expected to affect more than 70 per cent, or about 250,000 of all gas stations in America.

An aerospace corporation study has shown that the use of unleaded gasoline will substantially increase muffler and spark plug life, resulting in an annual reduction in maintenance costs of approximately $10 for the average car owner. This cost reduction should nearly offset the approximately one cent per gallon of gas cost increase due to the lead regulations.

The reductions in the lead content are designed to protect public health by reducing the amount of lead in the air.

It should be pointed out that considerable numbers of urban residents have abnormally elevated blood lead levels resulting from excessive exposure to environmental lead principally through food, water, paint, air and dust.

A considerable body of evidence also supports the view that airborne lead and the resulting lead in dust and dirt should be considered significant sources of lead exposure. Over 90 percent of this airborne lead is caused by emissions from motor vehicles using leaded gasoline.

On the basis of the evidence implicating automobile emissions as a significant contributor to environmental lead exposure, William D. Ruckelshaus, EPA's Administrator, concluded that lead in gas should be reduced as much as possible to protect the public health.

The health effects information which forms the basis for the Administrator's decision is included in a paper entitled "EPA's Position on the Health Effects of Airborne Lead," which is available from the Public Inquiried Branch, Office of Public Affairs, Environmental Protection Agency has specifically asked the scientific community to comment on the sources and exposure routes of lead in the environment.

Worshiping Ted Kennedy

Editor, Newton Graphic:

The worship of Ted Kennedy still goes on in Massachusetts. One always must question the validity and purpose of local folk heroes. Mr. Colbert's comparison of Ted Kennedy with John is timely but lacks insight and depth.

"Ted has made greater political progress," says Editor Colbert, "than his late, great brother John did during his first 10 years on Washington's Capitol Hill."

It must be understood that John Kennedy's immortality rests not only with a social program implemented by Lyndon Johnson after John's untimely death that is unprecedented in American political history for its foresight and creative thought toward constructive change but with a certain literary genius, for John Kennedy stands out for his writings alone as a giant of the Twentieth Century.

It is a mistake to compare Ted and John on political grounds because it signifies a preoccupation with politics over the arts, character and depth as a man. John Kenneedy was not a politician. Ted is. John's greatest contribution to the twentieth century was his ability for creative thought both as a statesman and as a writer.

It is almost preposterous to ever mention Ted and John in the same breath, except to say, they were brothers, held office and had a Boston accent. That is where the similarity ends.

Needham Chief Thanks Newton

(Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to this newspaper by Chief Frederick Perkins of the Newton Fire Department.)

Dear Chief Perkins:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Newton Fire Department for their excellent service they rendered to the Needham Police and Fire Departments on Friday, January 19, 1973, in the search of the Charles River for the bodies of William Mandile, age 7, and Kevin Mandile, age 4, both of 58 High Street, Newton Upper Falls, Massachusetts.

The members of the Newton Fire Department cooperated admirably with members of all the departments at the scene.

Both the Newton Police and Newton Fire departments did an outstanding job, and I want to commend the members of the Newton Fire Department for a job well done. The services rendered were certainly appreciated by all persons involved in this tragic incident.

Many thanks.

Yours yruly,
Daniel C. Henderson,
Chief of Police
Needham, Massachusetts

Real Estate HAPPENINGS

BY JACK SOHMER

Did you know that $1 will support a purchase of $1,000,000 or move? A deed requires a certain consideration from the purchaser in order to be legal. The law calls a "consideration" any sum, large or small. Thus, you can bind yourself to pay for a piece of real estate worth hundreds of thousands with a mere $1.00 bill. Of course, you have still bound yourself to pay the rest of the bill. To quote leading authorities: "The slightest consideration is sufficient to support the most onerous obligation."

Conscience and Resistance Week at Paulist Center

The Paulist Center, 5 Park Street, Boston, will sponsor a "Week of Celebrating Conscience and Resistance," beginning with a workshop on "Radical Values in a Valueless Society," conducted by Paulist Fr. Ed Guinan, on Saturday, February 3, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission for the workshop, which includes lunch, is $5 (students $3.50).

Father Guinan is a Paulist priest who is the founder-director of the Community for Creative Non-Violence, and "house dean" of the Peace Study House in Washington, D. C. He runs the Zaccheus Kitchen which provides free meals daily for the poor and soon will open a Hospitality House. Father Guinan lives in community with students and young workers involved in non-violence and resistance. He spoke at the International Assembly of Christians in Solidarity with the Indo-Chinese People in Paris and was one of the few convicted in the May Day anti-war activities, refusing to answer charges in court in favor of making a statement of conscience regarding the criminal and moral complicity of the justice system in the destruction of life in Southeast Asia and the U. S.

On Sunday, February 4, Father Guinan will celebrate the 11 a.m., 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. Lturgies, as well as the Saturday, February 3, 6 p.m. Liturgy.

On Feb. 5, James Douglass, professor at the University of Hawaii, will speak on "Resistance and Contemplation" at the B. U. Nursing Auditorium, 635 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston. Douglass is the author of "The Non-Violent Cross and Resistance and Contemplation;" he was recently convicted for pouring blood on draft files in Hawaii. Donations will be accepted at this lecture for the defense of the Camden 28 whose trial begins Feb. 5.

On Wednesday, Feb. 7, at 8 p.m., two 4-week mini-courses will begin at the Paulist Center. Paul Chapman of Packard Manse will conduct a course on "Welfare and Wealth Distribution." Anne Walsh, peace-activist and chaplain at Newman House, Boston University, will lead a course on "Women of the Third World." Admission for each course is $5 (students $2).

On Thursday, Feb. 8, at 7:30 p.m., a Liturgy of Conscience and Resistance will be celebrated to mark the second anniversary of Paul Couming's sanctuary at the Paulist Center.

A group from the Paulist Center will attend the film, "King of Hearts," at the Central Square Cinema, Cambridge, on Friday, February 2, at 9:45 p.m.

The week of celebrating conscience and resistance is sponsored by the Paulist Center Peace Committee, Boston University Newman House, and Packard Manse.

Registration for Father Ed Guinan's workshop may be made at the door or by calling the Paulist Center, 742-4460.

West Roxbury Furrier Joins Boston Company

Renauld T. Yanco of 44 Bronx Rd., West Roxbury, formerly treasurer of Vogue Internationale Fur Company, last month joined Lehrburger and Asher, Inc., downtown Boston Furriers.

A 1934 graduate of Mitchell Designing School in New York where he studied fur fitting and fur design, Mr. Yanco made the change in order to "benefit my many customers and provide them with the best of fur service, fine workmanship, and sensible down-to-earth prices."

He says he has been close to Lehrburger and Asher since boyhood. The firm is located on the second floor of 59 Temple Place, with an entrance also at 501 Washington St., Boston.

A Local Look at Alcohol

By MAY NELSON

In all the developed nations of the world, alcohol is now conceded to be the No. 1 drug problem, and one reads about Poland, France, Holland, Ireland, etc., taking a new look at the problem which is spreading even to the 12-year-olds.

United States statistics say that alcoholism, one of mankind's most insidious complex, progressive disorders now affects some 9 million out of the 90 million who use alcohol . . . and less than 5 percent are of the Skid Row variety, contrary to common belief. 24 percent of alcoholic deaths are violent, 33 percent of the nation's suicides are alcoholics, 33 percent of sudden and unexpected deaths among young adults are attributable to alcoholism. Drinking drivers and pedestrians cause more than 25,000 traffic deaths and 800,000 casualties in the U. S. each year. The impact of these figures on families and business staggers the imagination.

"But," said a Maryland doctor recently, "a wonderful ferment is happening all over the country.." This is what he calls the growing public concern in alcohol and alcoholism. And in Massachusetts, the ferment is undoubtdely caused by a new law under Chapter 1076 which goes into effect on July 1. It abolishes "Public drunkenness as a crime," and specifies detoxification, treatment and rehabilitation. In short the alcoholic is not to be sent to jail as a criminal, but considered ill, as indeed he is.

Alocal effort in the problem is an Alcohol Task Force for the 11-town Norwood-Medfield Mental Health and Retardation Area which is assessing what could be done hereabouts. A recent two-day Conference brought together a variety of people from the ranks of medicine, education, mental health, both lay and professional, and from the Mass. Division of Alcoholism. Not the least interest on the program was a sketch, "Lady on the Rocks" by the Cambridge Traveling Players under the auspices of the Cambridge-Somerville Committee on Alcoholism. This group of amateurs did a spell-binding job on the effects of a woman's drinking on her husband and young son. One could wish that many groups could see the presentation . . . and indeed this is probably possible as these people give their time and effort to help.

But the Task Force meetings continue and action has been started to get grant funds for an "Alcohol Hot Line" where information and referral help can be had by lifting the phone. One also hears of a new interest by medical men, sparked by Dr. John Kelly of Norwood and reports by David Meadows, assistant administrator of Norwood Hospital, on the logic of taking someone under the influence into the hospital proper rather than a separate unit for detoxification, and of course, treatment of any accompanying medical problems.

This is being done at Glover Hospital in Needham, says Mrs. Stanton, social worker on the staff of the Norfolk Mental Health Center in that town.

Dr. John Hart of the Medfield Hospital staff outlines their policy of providing further observation and treatment of such patients after detoxification. Detox, as Mr. Meadows stresses and everyone agrees, is only the first step. In anticipation of the new law, the Division of Alcoholism has set up five Detox Centers around the State which provide less than half of the 500 beds needed and where the average stay is five days.

Some AA and Al-Non members present stress the availability of their groups. The question of course is: How does one get the patient to want further help?

But what emerges from the complexity of the problem is the vital and even more complex aspect of "education" and "prevention." Allan Stata, who heads "Outreach" in Dedham with a splendid hot-line referral system, says 20 percent of its calls deal with alcoholism in two groups: the teenage drunk and the 30-50 year old chronic alcoholic, and agrees on the need for education. Attention is drawn to another upcoming Seminar for Teachers by the Norfolk Mental Health Association co-sponsored by the Norfolk County Teachers' Association which will have some sessions on the subject.

Milton Wolk, the educator from the Division of Alcoholism tells of his work around the State in trying to help school systems, and how he could "work a 40-hour day." An interesting aspect also emerges in the discussion of education: 1. The lack of communication between the Dept. of Education as well as schools in general with the public, and 2. The fact that not every teacher by temperament, background and maybe prejudice, would be able to reach youngsters. Says Ed Leahy, consultant to Alcohol Beverage Control Division, "It has to be a teacher with special rapport with youth to reach them—and not necessarily in the classroom."

One such person was present, Louis Jennings of Norwood, whose position, created with some vision by the School Committee last year, is "Drug Resource Coordinator" and whose reputation with youngsters is well known in the town. He said that alcohol was indeed more prevalent than other drugs, that junior high age is very impressionable, how Dr. Kelly is willing to work with him, and how he draws in other young people to help. His comment on the powerfully harmful influence of beer and wine TV commercials drew unanimous agreement and there was some conjecture as to how to protest it.

And so on a bright morning around the long table, the chairman, Mrs. Gedman Dauksis of Norwood asked: "Where do we go from here?" The thought was that community support in all its facets was necessary to battle America's most neglected health problem . . . but "let's talk with school people of the area next."

The Task Force is trying — it needs everyone's help.

Openings for Underprivileged Youngsters

Youngsters between 9 and 18 years of age from underprivileged families will be welcomed next summer at Camp Union, sponsored by the Boston Young Men's Christian Union, it was announced by Camp Director Waldo E. Stone.

Stone invites young boys to contact his secretary, Mrs. Astrid Clarke at the Boston YMC Union, 48 Boylston street, for details concerning the big summer program at Camp Union, opening its 43rd season at Greenfield, N.H., beginning July 3 and continuing for an 8-week period. (tel. 482-1122).

The camp, situated on Otter lake at the foot of Crotched Mountain, features a regularly programmed round of daily activities, such as swimming, canoeing, hiking, overnight camping, instructions in handicrafts, archery, and sailing under the supervision of a professional staff. Environmental exposure and discovery projects also have high priority in the activity schedule.

"We are particularly proud of our role of helping young boys from every walk of life, culture and creed, and of teaching them the true role of brotherhood."

Weaver At Spaulding

Weaver Sarah Graham arrived at Spaulding School this past week with her looms, many wallhangings, and her spinning wheel.

She spent the day explaining the many varieties of weaving to the students of the upper grades and the following day was spent explaing fundamentals to the younger children.

Sarah Graham's weaving program was a part of the new artist-in-residence project established this year by Creative Arts.

Mayor Mann Appoints Information Specialist

Mayor Theodore D. Mann recently appointed Mrs. Mildred Stetson as Newton's first Community Information Receptionist at Newton City Hall.

Mrs. Stetson, the first volunteer of the newly formed Newton - Wellesley - Weston Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), of the Newton Community Services Center and a resident of Newton, will be working under the supervision of Mr. Jerry Stinson, director of the Department of Human Resources.

RSVP provides opportunities for retired persons of 60 and over to contribute their time, experience, knowledge and interests in their community.

Mrs. Stetson will be dispensing information too citizens from the lobby of city hall, 9 a.m. to noon daily.

She prepared for her new volunteer job by training for two weeks with the Social Security Administration office in Cambridge. In the future, she will be taking additional training in Medicare and Medicaid information.

Following her retirement as a bookkeeper with Lord and Taylor in New York, Mrs. Stetson moved to Newton to be near her daughter, Mrs. Alar Toomre, and her three grandchildren.

Mrs. Stetson, also volunteers at the Catholic Guild for the Blind as a driver.

RSVP is actively recruiting additional volunteers to be trained as community information specialists, ombudsman in housing developments for the elderly, teacher aides, nursery school aides, clerical assistants, friendly visitors and library aides.

For further information on RSVP contact Mrs. Marjorie Glassman, director of the Newton - Wellesley - Weston Retired Volunteers Program by calling 969-5906. Volunteers are provided assistance with transportation, meals and insurance expenses.

In another development Mayor Theodore D. Mann announced recently that in conjunction with Newton's Dental Health Month during February, 1973, children from Newton will be participating in two programs planned by the Massachusetts Dental Health Society.

Through Feb. 11, at the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain, a dental exhibit is displayed where children may be able to "Play Dentist." "Newton's school children, who will visit the museum, will see what the dentist sees when he examines teeth," commented Dr. Michael Sheff, chairman of Dental Health Month for the Massachusetts Dental Society.

"They will use modern dental chairs and hand pieces loaned to the museum by leading supply houses. Dentists, graduate students, hygenists and other professional personnel from surrounding dental schools will provide information and guidance. It is hoped that through exhibits of this type children will gain a better understanding of the need to take care of their teeth. This is the message we want to get across to the youngsters," commented Dr. Sheff.

The second event scheduled for the observance of Dental Health Month is a Boston Celtics basketball game with the Philadelphia 76's on Sunday, Feb. 4, at Boston Garden.

Tickets to this event will be sold to youth at reduced price of $1. Each child will receive a free dental care kit which wil help him to learn the rudiments of sound dental health, an important factor in over-all health.

A highlight of the game will be a presentation to Jeffrey Cohen, vice president of the Boston Celtics, by the American Society of Dentistry for Children.

Community Center Offers Fun Activities For All Ages

A number of activities now underway or scheduled soon have openings according to Mr. Anthony J. Bibbo, executive director of the Newton Community Service Centers, Inc.

Mr. Bibbo stated that registrations are being taken for a number of children's activities. Presently, the open activities program for boys and girls. 7-9 years of age, can accommodate a limited number of youngsters.

This program varies with athletics, games. crafts project and other special interests. Coordinated by Mr. G. Michael Gardner the activities have a special appeal to all boys and girls who wish to have the opportunity for self expression in a warm and challenging atmosphere of varied activity.

Activities such as baton twirling, cooking, sewing, crocheting and knitting and boys and girls clubs, although already underway, also have open enrollment. Information on these and all children's activities may be secured by contacting Mr. G. Michael Gardner or Miss Bonnie Algerie at the centers.

Due to the movement of some families from the area, the nursery school for boys and girls ages 3 and 4 can take some additional students. Headed by Mrs. Herbert Stearns, the program operates Monday - Friday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon each day and includes a wholesome child development curriculum for the youngsters.

Brochures for Sept. 1973 are presently in preparation and those interested in receiving one with applications should contact the centers now to insure an early registration opening.

Creative arts brochures and applications for all ages are also available at the centers or may be received by mail by phoning the main office at 969-5906.

The exciting creative activities program for special education youngsters under the co-ordination of Mrs. Avis Jacobson is now underway. The program is designed to provide special education youngsters with the opportunity to gain social skills, to make friends and to function in a democratic social group.

The popular Don Meany returns for another series of golf lessons held each Wednesday or Friday evening for a seven week period. Classes are scheduled for each hour beginning at 7 p.m. and enrollments are limited to six individuals. Covering all phases of golf, the program is designed for the beginner as well as the accomplished golfer.

Mrs. Ruth Lucas will return for for her Wednesday evening cake decorating classes, 7:30-9:30. A master cake decorator from the Wilton School of Cake Decorating, Mrs. Lucas will teach the fundamentals of writing, flower making, use of tools, border work and other facets of this intriguing activity.

In addition both day and evening classes are scheduled in sewing, ladies physical fitness, yoga and crafts. Each Thursday at 7:30 p.m. is weight watchers night at the community center building. There is always a welcome in the weight watchers and no previous registration is necessary.

Monday or Friday afternoon is when persons 60 years of age or older gather at the community centers and Pomroy House, respectively, for enjoyable leisure time activities. All are invited to come and visit or join each week.

For additional information on the centers and their activities phone the agency at 969-5906 or visit either 429 Cherry Street, West Newton, or 84 Eldredge Street, Newton.

Medical Society Auxiliary Will Sponsor Lectures

The Women's Auxiliary to the Mass. Medical Society will sponsor a program of lectures and seminars on Jan. 26 through Feb. 23 at the Harkness Commons of Harvard University, Jarvis street, Cambridge.

Themes of the series will include intrapersonal relationships, the social environmental factors affecting life today. Various authorities will present the programs scheduled to run each Friday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 12 noon to 2:00 p.m.

Tomorrow morning Dr. Howard N. Jacobson, director of the Macy program at the Harvard Medical School will discuss "Procreative Responsibility." "The First Two Years of Life" will be the topic of Dr. S. Norman Sherry, Harvard instructor in pediatrics, at the afternoon session.

GOP Plans Lincoln Fete

The committee on arrangements for the annual Lincoln Day Dinner is meeting again Thursday evening, Feb. 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smerling, Donald P. Quinn, president of the Newton Republican Club, announced recently.

The event has been sponsored for twelve years by the club in cooperation with other local GOP groups in Newton.

Tentative arrangements, according to Quinn, have been made but several important matters remain to be resolved before final plans are set.

One of the key factors, is the price to be charged per person. "This is a very serious problem," a spokesman for the group stated, "what with banquet costs being at their current levels. Our effort is to stay within a reasonable range and to make certain there is the necessary support for a successful dinner event. We should be able to come up with the answers at Thursday night's meeting."

Speech Topic Of A Meeting For Teachers

"Speech and the Pre-School Child" will be the topic of a meeting of the Newton Nursery Teachers' Association to be held at Sandman Nursery, 218 Walnut st., Newtonville at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 6.

Mr. Beverly Wilson, speech and hearing counselor for the Newton public schools will be the speaker.

Parents of nursery school children are invited to attend.

Guaranty-First Trust Company. Because you deserve a better way to bank.

What's a Guaranty-First Trust Company? It's a combination of the Guaranty Trust Company of Waltham and the First National Bank of Natick. It merges the best of both banking worlds into one, new, bigger, and best of all, better way to bank. For you.

The way we look at it is this. You grew. So we grew. The more your financial needs keep shifting and stretching, the more you need all the bank you can get out of your bank. So we decided that two good banks would be even better as one.

What does it mean for you in the way of services? Guaranty-First will continue to feature the same superior services both banks have been famous for. That means things like lifetime guaranteed no charge checking, First Reserve or American Express credit, Master Charge, 24-hour check cashing, student loans, and automatic mortgage payments and account transfers. And we've got bigger and better ways to bank on the way.

What does it mean in the way of bank locations? Well, there are Guaranty-First branch offices in Waltham, Belmont, Natick, Framingham, Holliston, and Sudbury. That means no matter where you are, there's a better way to bank right in your backyard.

Finally, what does it mean in the way we treat you? If you're an old friend who knows us by an old name, remember our new name, and remember, we're getting more than bigger. We're getting better. If you've never known us by any name, remember why we're here. Because you deserve a better way to bank.

GUARANTY-FIRST TRUST COMPANY

Our main office is located at 600 Main Street, Waltham. Our branch offices are located at 876 Lexington Street, 424 Trapelo Road, 1290 Main Street, and 114 River Street in Waltham; 69 E. Central Street, 32 E. Central Street, Sherwood Plaza (Rte. 9), and Natick Shopping Center (Rtes. 9 and 27) in Natick; 250 Concord Street in Framingham; 100 Central Street in Holliston; Mill Village Shopping Center in Sudbury, and 60 Concord Avenue (soon to be located at 492 Trapelo Road) in Belmont. For offices in the Waltham-Boston area, dial 899-2100. For offices in the Natick-Framingham area, dial 653-5500.

Boston-Bred Jack Lemmon More Concerned With Role Than Image

cinema updated

by Marjory Adams

Jack Lemmon really isn't a short-tempered, quick acting, irascible gent such as people who have seen him in "The - Out - of - Towners," "The Odd Couple" and now "Avanti" seem to believe. You can't blame them, he does it so well.

"How do you happen to be cast so often in this particular type of character?" I asked him recently. I was bewildered, having known him first when he was at Harvard, alternating between serious as "Playboy of the Western World" for the Drama Club and playing a hairy-legged chorus girl in Hasty Pudding musical comedies.

Jack always seemed such a nicely behaved, courteous young man, and of course he was Hasty Pudding president.

"Not by design," he answered, reflecting a minute. "I never thought of it before. I consider the story and the role, rather than what type of image I am asked to portray. Actually I have another finished film, as well as "Avanti."

"The title is 'Save the Tiger' and in it I play a man of around 47, about my own age, who watches the world he has grown up in crushing around his ears. He doesn't know what to believe in and he attempts to rationalize what life has become."

"Are there ethics or only non-ethics? As a boy he was taught to stand at attention when the flag passed by. Now he sees kids making flags into jock straps. What is the answer."

Maybe Jack hits the top most frequently when he is working with his friend Billy Wilder, the eminent film director. Two of his Academy Award nominations were for Wilder pictures, "Some Like It Hot" and "The Apartment," and Jack was also with Wilder in "The Fortune Cookie" and "Irma La Douce" which were successful at the box office.

Of course, Lemmon isn't alone in appreciating Wilder. Pretty Juliet Mills, daughter of John Mills and sister of Hayley Mills was so enchanted to be cast opposite Jack in the Wilder film "Avanti" that she did "What I would do for no other man in the world."

She ate pasta and fat-making food for three months to become the chubby heroine of "Avanti," a girl described on the screen with a succinct but ungallant phrase. Not only were there 25 extra pounds on the Mills frame, but she let the film-makers dress her in tight dresses with loads of ruffles.

"It took me two months to take off the 25 pounds," she said with some satisfaction.

As most of the picture was made in the beauty spots of Italy — Ischia, Sorrento and Capri — she and Jack were able to enjoy all the marvellous Italian cuisine without worries.

Jack's real name is John Uhler Lemmon III, and he was born February 8, 1925 in Newton Centre, but was brought up in Boston, where his mother, vivacious, charming and beautifully dressed, was one of the most popular women at any affair connected with the cultural arts.

People loved Milly Lemmon, both in Boston and in California, where she settled down (as much as possible) and became her son's fan mail secretary until her death four years ago.

Lemmon attended the Rivers Country Day School, Phillips Andover and Harvard University. He resisted the desire to leave Andover and go on the stage. Now he believes that young men in the acting trade should get a college education.

"There is no training ground as good today as the universities and college schools for the [illegible] and music," he thinks.

Despite his own prestige at Harvard, Jack had to spend a couple of years to get started on his life's profession.

"But, like most of the young people today, I was never daunted," he remembered. "I knew I was good. I was shocked that people I approached for a job and told my qualifications were so apt to say, "That's very nice, I'll keep you in mind."

"I would go away very angry at such stupidity on their part. They were so blindly ignorant about my capabilities. And so I managed to overcome my hurt."

Once Jack made a film debut in "It Should Happen To You" with the late Judy Holliday things started getting better immediately. His films take up a lot of space in "Who's Who" — to mention just some of them: "Days of Wine and Roses," "How To Murder Your Wife," "Bell, Book and Candle," "Mister Roberts," and "The Great Race," plus the film mentioned above. The [illegible] - Harvardite admits he made good, but he says there can always be a comp in the future. Anything is possible.

Not many people know that Lemmon was once in the Navy. He was Communications Officer on an aircraft carrier and was demobilized in 1946, at which time he made his foray on Broadway.

In real life Jack looks so much like himself in pictures that you can't go wrong in picking him out of a crowd. His dress has been described as casual — slacks, turtle necked sweaters and sports jackets are his customary apparel. An inch under six feet, with hazel eyes and black hair, the actor might be a Boston banker who belonged to the right clubs at Harvard and is not overwhelmed to find himself somewhat of a celebrity.

Someone however, has pointed out the difference. He has "nervous hands" which are used effectively in conversational descriptions.

Cinema Review

THE POSEIDON ADVENTURE is the hit film of the holidays for high excitement, audience participation, first class characterization by first class actors and astoundingly graphic camera effects. It's a man's picture, too, and outside of "The Godfather" and "The Valachi Papers" how few of these films reach top level calibre.

I defy anyone with the slightest bit of imagination to remain unmoved as less than a dozen people fight their way to safety through an ordeal that could only be dreamed of in a nightmare.

Gene Hackman plays the principal role as a young minister with progressive ideas who commands a little group to follow him through the perils of an overturned ocean liner in which the only hope of survival lies in getting to the very bottom of the ship, which is now the only part above sea level.

Each character has his or her story, and the role played by Shelly Winters, the fat and amiable grandmother who rises to glorious heroism and sacrifice, may be the most dramatic. But others have their moments of greatness.

Ernest Borgnine as the bad - tempered police inspector, Stella Stevens as his wife, Red Buttons and Carol Lynley — who have a heart - stopping scene between them, Jack Albertson, Arthur O'Connell, Pamela Sue Martin and young Eric Shea are excellent and deserve far more credit than this short critique can give them.

Oh, yes, that genius from England, Ronald Neame, is the director and lives up to all previous ovations.

Jeanette Teresa Bibbo Marries Thomas Hanisch

Our Lady Help of Christians church was the scene of the Jan 1 wedding of Miss Jeanette Teresa Bibbo, daughter of Nicola A. Bibbo, Faxon street, Newton, to Thomas James Hanisch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hanisch, Seventh street, Dell Rapids, S.D.

The Rev. Leroy E. Owens officiated at the 3 p.m. Nuptial Mass. A recaption followed in Boston aboard the SS Peter Stuyvesant at Anthony's Pier 4. The couple spent their honeymoon in Cozumel, Mexico.

Given in marriage by her father, Jeanette wore an empire gown of peau de soie and lace with a chapel length train. She carried a bouquet of holly and white poinsettas.

Mary Anne Fadden of Potomac, Md. was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Ellen Fox of Brookline and Christine Bibbo of Newton. They carried bouquets of holly and pink poinsettas to match their attire of wine and pink.

Gerald Hanisch of New York City served his brother as best man. Ushers were William S. Kelly and Eugene Hanisch of Dell Rapids, S.D.

Robert Fadden of Potomac, Md. was ring bearer.

The newlyweds will reside in Suffern, NY. where they both are teachers.

Author, John Wallace Spencer, Will Speak To Waban Woman's Club

The Feb. 5 meeting of the Waban Woman's club will feature a pot-luck supper at 6:30 for members and guests At 8 p.m. John Wallace Spencer, lecturer and author of the book, "Limbo of the Lost," will describe the mysterious tragedies in a portion of the mid-Atlantic ocean known as the "Bermuda Triangle." He will discuss documented case histories of strange happenings in the area bounded on the west and north by the eastern seaboard of North America, east to the Azores and south to the Caribbean Islands.

Mr. Spencer became interested in this area after the disappearance in the Atlantic of the submarine, "Scorpion". His thorough research on all the mysterious disappearances of both sea and aircraft resulted in a number of radio and television specials, speaking engagements, and a book.

The program has been arranged by chairman, Mrs. Henry A. Lambert Jr. Mrs. Darthea T. Wells will introduce Mr. Spencer.

Mrs. Joseph Morg, president, will conduct the business meeting at 7:30 p.m. The philanthropic budget showing the proposed disbursements of the club's philanthropic fund will be presented for approval.

JOHN WALLACE SPENCER,

Each member is asked to make a reservation and supply casserole, salad or dessert to serve six. Transportation will be provided by calling 969-9261 if necessary.

Mrs. George Bent and Mrs. William Hadley, hostesses, will be assisted by social committee members; Mrs. Barrett Gilchrist, Mrs. William Harney Jr., Mrs. Edward Laferty, Mrs. Edward J. McCarty Jr., Mrs. H. Edward Schuluntz and Mrs. Thomas Urell Jr.

A wide variety of scholarships have been made available through the Mass. The TFS Syndrome . . .

Common Foods May Cause Allergy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A University of California professor of pediatrics says most parents don't realize that a wide variety of symptoms experienced by their children may be caused by foods eaten almost daily, including milk.

The symptoms include recurrent abdominal pains; cranky, unhappy or difficult behavior, pallor and dark circles under the eyes; tiredness and fatigue; leg aches or "growing pains," and respiratory tract symptoms such as stuffy nose, chronic coughing and wheezing.

"While any one of these symptoms may be due to a variety of other causes, most people and many physicians are unaware that they may also be caused by food allergy," says Dr. William Deamer.

When several of the symptoms co-exist, Deamer says, a child is said to have Allergic Tension-Fatigue Syndrome (TFS).

Deamer claims that many physicians are not acquainted with the TFS syndrome and that some of those who are do not accept it as a valid entity.

"In order to find the real problem, a careful history of the child must be recorded," says Deamer.

"If food allergy is suspected it is best studied by trial diets which eliminate certain foods for a three-week period. Skin tests unfortunately are quite unreliable for food allergy. The foods most often found to be responsible are milk, chocolate and corn.

"Elimination of the first two alone may bring relief to over half the cases. It is not quite as easy as it sounds as milk elimination includes cheese and ice cream. Chocolate elimination includes cola drinks."

He contends that allergy to milk, the chief offender, often begins in infancy.

"This can be understood if one considers the degree of exposure to milk an infant experiences. If a 15-pound infant ingests a pint and a half of milk a day, it is equivalent to a man weighing 150 pounds drinking two gallons of milk a day or one pint every hour for 16 hours."

Letter to Editor

Enjoys Work Of Cartoonist

Editor,
Transcript Publications:

We live in Needham and have friends in Canton, etc. and are just delighted with the work of Ed Germano, your cartoonist, which appears weekly in the Transcript Publications.

There is no doubt, the papers have improved editorially and are probably among the best weekly papers around Germano's work, however, adds to and brings it into line with top notch coverage.

Our friends and family say "thank you" for a job well done.

Sincerely,
Mr. LeBlanc

Soccer Talk

By PAUL ELDRIDGE, JR.

The North American Soccer League College Draft has been rescheduled for Monday, February 12th. Due to the strong possibility of a Philadelphia franchise and the purchase of the Atlanta franchise by the OMNI Group in Atlanta, the draft was postponed from Thursday, January 11th. Speaking of Philadelphia, an accouncement is due late next week regarding the addition of a ninth franchise into the already strengthened NASL. Commissioner Phil Woosnam foresees future growth for the NASL in 1974 with the League returning to the West Coast. The 1973 season opens Saturday, May 5, and will climax with the NASL Championship Game the weekend of August 26th. The 1973 schedule is expected to be released within the next two weeks.

The Miami "Toros" is the new name of the NASL Resort City franchise. The new owners, headed by Harper Sibley, Jr. and which include some of the World Champion Miami Dolphin owners, felt that the name "Gatos" was too similar to the "Gators", the nickname of the University of Florida. The owners selected the name over 20 other choices. The "Toros" will take on a new array of color and will be outfitted in maroon jerseys with white trim and white shorts.

George Best in a New York Cosmos uniform??! Clive Toye, General Manager of the Cosmos is negotiating for the troubled Manchester United Star with his club to obtain his services for the 1973 NASL season.

Eddie Pearson, the NASL Director of Officials, flew to Mexico City recently to act as an English speaking instructor at the FIFA Referees Clinic for officials from the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Central America, and the West Indies. Also attending the clinic were the Chairman of Canadian Soccer Association's Referee Committee Ray Morgan, who also acted as an instructor and NASL officials Roger Schoot, John DiSalvatore, Carmil America, John Davies, Paul Avis, Jim Highet, Reg Clerk, Dante Maglio and Toros Kibritjian.

Economy Topic When Church Women Meet

Mrs. Nancy Stutzman, a representative of the Middlesex County Extension Bureau, will give the Women of St. Mary's Church in Newton Lower Falls some timely hints on Economy Buying when she speaks at their monthly meeting on Feb. 6.

All interested women are invited to attend this 10 a.m. meeting at the church. There will be a baby sitter to care for the children of those attending.

Miss Laura Jack of Wellesley will lead devotions and the hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Hoffman, Jr. of Wellesley and Mrs. Russell Rowe of Natick.

Motivation pays

A moitvated student at Syracuse University can save $3,232 of the cost of a bachelor's degree by completing requirements in three years and one summer rather than the customary four years if he so chooses.

Victoria Aghababian, a junior at Bates College, Lewiston, Me., took part recently in the mid-year meeting of the Bates College Board of Trustees. A Student committee of four met with the Trustee Committee on Conference with Students. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vahe H. Aghababian of 13 Parker Ave. The two-day meeting gave trustees increased contact for in-depth consideration of the problems and potential of the college.

Catholic School District Explains Registrations

Regulations for the 1973-74 academic year at the newly-established Newton Catholic High and elementary schools was held recently at Our Lady Help of Christians School in Newton.

Registrations for grades 1 through 8 and 10-12 were taken. The fee was $25 for senior high classes and $10 for elementary school classes.

All students who wanted to attend the Newton Catholic School system, including those currently attending Our Lady schools, were required to register. Registration dates for grade 9 will be announced later. Acceptance for this grade will depend on the results of the Diocesan High School entrance examinations.

The new Newton Catholic School has been made possible by the joint cooperation of several Newton parishes, the Sisters of St. Joseph, and the Archdiocesan School Department.

The school will use the present facilities of Our Lady's schools, 575 Washington St., Newton. In addition to classrooms, the facilities include a gymnasium, science laboratories, fully-equipped cafeteria, and an auditorium. All classes will be limited to 35 students. The capacity of the high school will be 300 and of the elementary school, 560.

The Newton Catholic School will be financed by student tuition plus subsidy from the participating parishes, according to the number of students attending the school. Prior to this consolidation, Our Lady's Parish assumed the difference in cost between tuition received and the total cost of educating all students attending its school.

The following parishes are participating in the new school plan: Our Lady's, Newton, Sacred Heart, Newton Centre, Corpus Christi, Auburndale, and Mary Immaculate of Lourdes, Newton Upper Falls. Students from these parishes will enjoy a priority in registration.

For 1973-1974, each student from a participating parish will pay $300 tuition for high school and his parish will pay $200 subsidy. For the elementary school, tuition will be $110 and the subsidy will be $115. Students from non-participating parishes will pay $500 tuition in the high school and $225 in the elementary school.

The Sisters of St. Joseph will provide six full-time teaching sisters for the High School, and seven full-time teaching sisters for the elementary school. In addition, they will supply two sisters to be principals of the two schools. The rest of the faculty will consist of 16 lay teachers and several part-time religious teachers.

The department of religion will be under the supervision of a religious and lay faculty, including three priests.

Administration and operating policy of the schools will be determined by a school board made up of clergy, religious, and lay people from the participating parishes.

Parachini Heads Office For Children's Service

David S. Liederman, state director of the Office for Children, today announced the appointment of David C. Parachini of Newton as regional director in the southwest suburban region.

"Dave Parachini will be responsible for developing and coordinating children's services in southwest suburban communities," Liederman stated, "in conjunction with parents as well as public and private agencies."

Parachini will be directing the "Project for Children," a program designed to reduce the number of children admitted to state institutions by providing services near the home.

"Mr. Parachini will head a regional team composed of full-time staff of the Mental Health, Public Welfare, Public Health, and Youth Services Departments," Liederman said. "The team, working with local Councils for Children, will determine funding priorities in each local area."

Mr. Parachini has an outstanding background in the development of community services," Liederman added, "and I am confident that he has the experience and capability necessary for this unique job."

Before becoming regional director of the Office for Children, Parachini, age 30, was area drug program coordinator of the Department of Mental Health in the Newton-Wellesley-Weston Area. He is Assistant Rector of the Grace Episcopal Church in Newton. A former social worker, Parachini has directed a number of community programs for area youth, including the Newton-Wellesley-Weston Multi-Service Center, the Newton Youth Foundation, and Freeport, Inc. in Newton.

Parachini is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, Huron College, Ontario, Canada, and the Andover-Newton Theological School.

"The Office for Children was created for the purpose of coordinating and monitoring children's services," Parachini said. "The Project for Children, which focuses on the child who is in danger of being institutionalized, is our first step toward making services of all kinds available to children with special needs."

The southwest suburban region, which Parachini will direct, includes the towns of Canton, Dedham, Medfield, Needham, Norfolk, Norwood, Plainville, Sharon, Walpole, Westwood, Wrentham, Newton, Wellesley, Weston, Braintree, Cohasset, Hingham, Hull, Miltonl Quincy, Randolph, Scituate, Weymouth, Ashland, Dover, Framingham, Holliston, Hopkinton, Hudson, Marlborough, Mills, Natick, Northborough, Sudbury, Wayland and Westborough.

The regional office is located in Room 38 of the Peabody School, 474 Brookline Street, Newton Center. The office will eventually operate a referral and information service for parents, foster parents, and providers of children's services who need information of any kind.

Real Estate Today

By Lyn Medoff

CURIOSITY SEEKERS

If you intend to implant a "for sale by owner" sign in your front yard, be prepared for the inevitable "Curiosity Seeker". You probably will spend more time tramping through the house with curiosity seekers than showing it to firm prospects.

Your "For Sale By Owner" sign leaves you open to all types of people and problems. For example, a visitor may present an offer to buy, on which he doesn't intend to follow through.

You may make plans based on accepting it, only to learn that the "prospect" had no intention of completing the agreement.

A good Realtor has the experience to unmask the insincere offer and turn it away before it does any harm. In fact, the presence of a Realtor usually will discharge any attempts of that sort.

He will qualify prospects in advance and allow only those who are definitely prospective buyers - not curiosity seekers - to inspect your home.

Guaranty-First Trust Company.
Because you deserve a better way to bank.

What's a Guaranty-First Trust Company? It's a combination of the Guaranty Trust Company of Waltham and the First National Bank of Natick. It merges the best of both banking worlds into one, new, bigger, and best of all, better way to bank. For you.

The way we look at it is this. You grew. So we grew. The more your financial needs keep shifting and stretching, the more you need all the bank you can get out of your bank. So we decided that two good banks would be even better as one.

What does it mean for you in the way of services? Guaranty-First will continue to feature the same superior services both banks have been famous for. That means things like lifetime guaranteed no charge checking, First Reserve or American Express credit, Master Charge, 24-hour check cashing, student loans, and automatic mortgage payments and account transfers. And we've got bigger and better ways to bank on the way.

What does it mean in the way of bank locations? Well, there are Guaranty-First branch offices in Waltham, Belmont, Natick, Framingham, Holliston, and Sudbury. That means no matter where you are, there's a better way to bank right in your backyard.

Finally, what does it mean in the way we treat you? If you're an old friend who knows us by an old name, remember our new name, and remember, we're getting more than bigger. We're getting better. If you've never known us by any name, remember why we're here. Because you deserve a better way to bank.

GUARANTY-FIRST TRUST COMPANY

Our main office is located at 600 Main Street, Waltham. Our branch offices are located at 876 Lexington Street, 424 Trapelo Road, 1290 Main Street, and 114 River Street in Waltham; 69 E. Central Street, 32 E. Central Street, Sherwood Plaza (Rte. 9), and Natick Shopping Center (Rtes. 9 and 27) in Natick; 250 Concord Street in Framingham; 100 Central Street in Holliston; Mill Village Shopping Center in Sudbury, and 60 Concord Avenue (soon to be located at 492 Trapelo Road) in Belmont. For offices in the Waltham-Boston area, dial 899-2100. For offices in the Natick-Framingham area, dial 653-5500.

Innovations In Sound

You've probably never thought of your car as an ideal stereo listening studio. Well, it is! The minute you sit in your stereo equipped auto, you're blanketed in thrilling sound. You'll witness an entirely new perspective in stereo listening; a richness in stereophony and realism of sound reproduction that has never before been possible. Now, with stereo tape cartridges, whether you listen in your car, home, boat, plane or trailer you enjoy an unparalleled sound sensation . . . crisp clarity and maximum fidelity, superior craftsmanship . . . and a wealth of music for every taste from Broadway to The Beatles, from current hits to classical.

Stereo cartridges are carefully engineered to afford maximum reliability and convenience of operation.

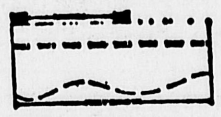
1. You never have to thread or even touch the tape.

2. You may change from one stereo program to another with the press of a button.

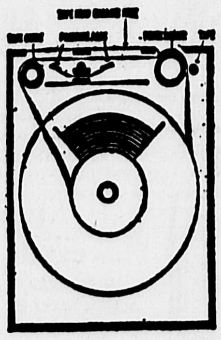
3. Tapes are continuous and never need rewinding.

4. With a minimum of care, the playing life of the tape is practically unlimited.

What is four-track and eight-track stereo tape? Within the ¼-inch tape width, music is recorded on four or eight parallel tracks which run the length of the tape. Two tracks play simultaneously and produce true stereo sound. Standard tapes provide up to 40 minutes of continuous music. Twin cartridges up to 80 minutes.



How does a tape cartridge work Stereo cartridges contain a tape in a continuous loop, which simply means that the tape runs from the center of the spool and is returned to the outer lap of the reel. Thus, never needs rewinding. Inserting the cartridge into the tape playback unit is probably as easy as replacing your cigarette lighter in the dash.



Seeing is believing, however, and perhaps the least expensive method for you to experience the unusual convenience engineered into a stereo tape is to visit a dealer and ask for a demonstration.

Realizing that stereo tapes are here to stay, Lechmere Sales of Cambridge and Dedham is now compiling substantial stocks. This foresighted record dealer and department store devoted exclusively to providing the consumer with even a larger and more complete musical selection than previously realized with the more traditional record album departments.

Long recognized as a retailing leader and innovator, Lechmere now features perhaps the largest selection of stereo tape cartridges in New England. It's a certainty that a visit to either Lechmere in Cambridge or Dedham will prove a most rewarding musical experience.

Eight-Day Symposium Held

By EVAN COHEN

Veneral Disease was the subject of an eight day symposium entitled "The Quality of Life" which was held last week at Newton South. The successful Open Campus Program organized the symposium.

"VD Blues," originally telecast on national television, and a new film called "VD" were shown. In addition, lectures and discussions with Dr. Nicholas Fuimara, director of the Division of Communicable and Venereal Diseases at the Mass. Department of Public Health, and principal William D. Geer, Jr., were held.

Mrs. Phyllis Monderer, the Open Campus coordinator, feels the program filled a need felt by students and comments, "VD is one of the social diseases that all people face. Hopefully, this program will help us make healthy decisions."

NEWTON Educational Workshop began Jan. 20. This enrichment program, aimed at elementary school children, meets every Saturday morning and uses South's facilities. Elizabeth Colt and Maureen McDonald lead the workshop. While courses are taught in English, Art, and Science, a pottery and drama course are the most popular.

The theme of this year's Regulus, Newton South's yearbook, is "Patterns." As opposed to last year's loose-leaf edition, Regulus 1973 is reverting to the traditional hard bound format.

The Margaret W. Erskine Library at Newton South is enlarging its stock. Head librarian Mrs. Toni Nelson is concentrating upon improving the weak photography, home and society, and psychology sections. The reading room, an adjoining part of the library complex, is amassing a diverse collection of magazines. New subscriptions range from Environment to Sing Out, a folk music magazine.

The Junior Class held elections in December. Mike Shokett was elected president. Other officers on his victorious ticket include Robbie Shahon as vice president, Jon Sandman as treasurer, and Elise Tofias as secretary. Mike urges full class participation for a successful year. Future plans may include a student-faculty bicycle race, and a beauty contest, as well as dances...

"You're a Good Man Charlie Brown," directed by two students, Ronda Flashen and Rick McClellen will be performed on April 25, 26 and 27. Rick McClellen will play Charlie Brown, Tara Becker will be Lucy, his five cent psychoanalyst, and David Alpert will hunt the Red Baron, as Snoopy. Jon Oshima plays to the tune of Schroeder and Josh Stone carries his blanket as Linus. Leslie D'ercole concludes the cast as Patty.

Team teaching (the sharing of one class by two teachers) has been in use by the Foreign Language Department at Newton South for some time. Designed to reduce the course load of French classes from five to 4½ courses a teacher, the implementation has sown additional benefits. Language students are able to hear two different voices and they have two people to see for help. The teachers have the opportunity to observe other teacher's methods so as to improve and broaden their own.

Two systems of team teaching are currently in use. In one, Mr. Cornell and Mrs. Hennesy divide each period into grammar and reading sections. They switch every two weeks. The other system used by Mr. Rivers and Mr. Glicker, and by Miss Benezra and Miss McLane, consists of the teachers in a pair switching off every two weeks. While both systems have advantages and disadvantages, all the students appreciate the variety it affords them.

Plans for an Automotive Center at Newton South have run into financial problems. Although $5,000 of the original $20,000 has been spent, state law requires a separate building to store flammables such as gasoline. This adds $6500, to the original cost. A substitute proposal, not yet voted on, provides that students learn at the Newton Works Garage and use equipment owned by the city.

SWIM CAMPAIGN

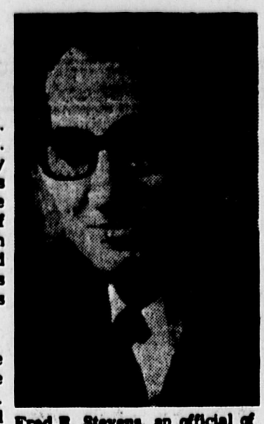
SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — More than 100,000 New South Wales school children are taking part in the biggest learn-to-swim campaign launched in Australia. Every available public pool in the state and many private pools are being used in the program organized by the Ministry of Sport.



Fred R. Stevens, an official of the Stone & Webster Engineering Corp., will head the National Constructors Association this year. Stevens of 13 Townhouse Dr., Newtonville, is a vice president of the Boston firm of engineers and builders. For many years, he served as a member of the National Joint Board for Settlement of Jurisdictional Disputes in the construction industry and he is a management member of the Construction Industry Collective Bargaining Commission established by presidential executive order in 1969.

Weinstein Chairs Local Israeli Birthday Effort

Preparations for Boston's celebration of Israel's twenty-fifth anniversary moved ahead this week with the appointment of Lewis H. Weinstein of Waban as chairman of a special committee which is planning a major community-wide event on May 7 in observance of this milestone in Israel's history.

The announcement was made jointly by Bert Rabinowitz, chairman, and Bernard Garber, co-chairman, Greater Boston Committee for Israel's twenty-fifth anniversary celebration.

Sponsored by the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston and the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Boston, the committee is coordinating a series of exciting programs for the forthcoming year.

Bicycle Safety Clinics To Begin In Late March

Mayor Theodore D. Mann, Chief William F. Quinn, alderman Robert Tennant, Insurance Agents of Newton, Jay Cee Crime Prevention Committee Chairman Ronald Petralia and Safety Officer Charles Feeley will inaugurate the 1973 Bicycle Safety Inspection and Identification program in cooperation with Mr. Aaron Harris of Harris Cyclery at 10 A Spencer St., West Newton.

Chief Quinn announced that the Newton Police — Newton School bicycle safety clinics will commence in the latter part of March at individual schools.

The Chief said "We are grateful to Mr. Harris and his staff in their cooperation with us to insure all bikes to be used in our clinics will be safety checked. In addition I would like to thank the Jay Cees for their untiring efforts to mark as many bicycles as possible."

In order to have improved safety the Jay Cees have set up a series of inspections with cycle shops on the North and South side of the city. Wherein a free safety inspection will be held with recommnded repairs etc. to insure the safety of the bicycle at no charge. In addition bicycles will be marked as part of Operation Identification.

Feb. 10 - 24th (Sat.) will be at the Harris barn on Spencer St. 1286 Washington St. South side locations will be announced later.

Mr. Aaron Harris of Harris cyclery will provide his full staff of mechanics for this second Annual Safety inspection. The inspections will check tires, brakes, headsets, cones etc. Bicycles passing the safety check will receive a reflectorized safety emblem.

Sgt. Charles Feeley Safety Officer stated "We shall conduct as many on street riding clinics as the weather allows and last years experience of full inspection indicate a need for professional inspection of all bicycles after months of disuse. This year our pre-ride inspections will be rigorous and tougher. Bicycles not conforming to Safety Standards will not be allowed at the clinics. Bicycles must have a good seat, handle grips, satisfactory pedals, chain guards, etc. Mongrel bicycles with dissimilar wheels, extended forks or any modification of engineering not standard will be ineligible.

Hadassah Groups To Meet Feb. 4

The Chestnut Hill-Bat Ami and Mt. Scopus Groups of Hadassah will hold "a rap session with the 1990 generation" on Sunday evening, Feb. 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Hosting the meeting at their home will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parritz, 54 Bonad Road, West Newton, where coffee and dessert will be served prior to the meeing.

Husbands of Hadassah members are invited to hear the views of the Hashachar (youth movement) Group and a guest panel including Rabbi Howard K. Kummer, Mitchell Dubin and the Medames Helen Jeffrey and Leonard Fein. Teenagers also are welcome to attend the rap session.

The presidium includes Mesdames Rabinovitz and Rosenblatt, Mt. Scopus Group and Mrs. Herbert Hechtman, Chestnut Hill.

AUSTRIAN FAVORITE

GRAZ, Austria (UPI) — Graz, Austria's second largest city, is popular among foreign visitors. The number of overnight stays here from January to June 1972, increased 39,978 to a total of 176,503, compared with 747,276 in the first six months of 1971.

The figure does not include overnight stays in student homes, youth hostels, private homes and camp grounds. These would have brought the 1972 first half total to 196,311.

TRAVEL TRAILS by Julian Roberts

"It was a wonderful trip but I didn't have a chance to really meet the people" — such is a familiar comment from a traveler after a trip abroad . . . There are some suggestions to overcome this problem and to make a trip even more memorable . . Many cities have a program in which a traveler spend an afternoon or evening with a local family who are just as interested in meeting and talking to visitors from another part of the world . . . This is called a "home visit" plan for travelers . . . Remember, on your trip abroad, don't miss the people . . . They can be the most important part of the trip, and they will probably provide your fondest memories.

All travel begins at REGENCY TRAVEL, INC., 1330 Boylston St., 731-4271, where experienced counsellors give personal attention to all phases of your trip. We honor all credit cards and are open Mon. thru Fri. 9 a.m.-5:30 p.m.* Evenings by Appointment. Qualified agents to give personalized service are available at REGENCY TRAVEL INC. *Sat 9.30-4.

Newton Centre Women Hold Monthly Meeting

The Newton Centre Woman's Club recently held their January meeting at the Methodist Church in Newton Centre. Mrs. William J. Haggerty and Mrs. Francis L. Maynard provided refreshments. Hostesses were Mrs. F. Earle Conn and Mrs. Jeremiah P. Cronin.

President Mrs. Amos E Kent announced a new $500 scholarship to be given to a student attending the Newton-Wellesley Hospital School of Nursing. This grant makes the third scholarship that the Newton Centre Woman's Club members give yearly to assist young students.

Mrs. William E. Bailey, Membership chairman, gave out name tags and introduced a new member, Mrs. Francis P. Duffy.

Mrs. John W. Merrill, Director of the Fine Arts Department, announced that rehearsals for the singing group will start the end of February. Mrs. William J. Haggerty, Bridge Chairman, announced monthly bridges will be held at the workshop, 72 Columbus street, Newton Highlands on the second Tuesday. All members are welcome. Please call Mrs. Haggerty at 332-2451 for reservations.

The Executive Board honored Mrs. Stanford D. Blitzer in recognition of her work and devotion to the Club, by electing her an ex-officio member of the Board. Mrs. Blitzer, a past president resigned this month as Publicity chairman. Mrs. James F. McGarry, Jr., is the new Publicity chairman. The next regular club meeting will be Friday, February 9 at the Methodist Church.

After the business meeting, the Club members enjoyed Ms. Ann Larson's monologue entitled "The Laughing Americans". Complete with costumes and props, Ms. Larson selected different types of humor from Lincoln, Twain, Rogers and others.

Laskaris Leads Streaking Newton High Quintet To Top In Suburban League

By DAVID CUTLER

By virtue of a 9-4 record, 8-2 in the Suburban League, Newton High School has established itself as a basketball power to be recokoned with in the um-coming Tech Tourney. The Tigers must win four of their seven remaining contests to qualify for the Tournament; no mean feat considering the strength of the team in the Suburban League, possibly the toughest league in the state. Newton found that out when it lost to sixth place Brookline 44-42 on Friday, January 12. After the game Coach Jerry Phillips vowed, "We'll come back." And the Tigers rebounded to win three of their next four contests from league foes Arlington, Weymouth North, and Rindge Tech. The victories propelled Newton into a tie with Arlington for first place.

Tip Arlington

Against Arlington on Tuesday, January 16, Newton came through with a 60-57 overtime victory. The game was close throughout. Newton didn't gain their first lead, though, until 1:08 was left in overtime. Brian Pendergast's three-point play put NHS ahead 53-52, and the Tigers never trrailed from that point on. Pete Laskaris scored Newton's last five points to nail down the win. Laskaris led all Newton players with 21 points, 15 after halftime. A key facet of the game was the foul situation. Arlington committed 30 personals while Newton had only 17. The Tigers' 26 for 33 foul shooting certainly made a difference in the outcome. "We made a lot of mistakes," said Phillips. "Our defense was just so-so, and our ofense was very poor. We weren't putting it all together. But I was pleased with the outcome." The victory tied Newton with Arlington for the league's top spot with identical 6-2 records.

NHS faced non-league opponent New Bedford on Thursday, January 18. The Whalers were only 2-10 going into the contest, but that record is certainly deveiving, going by their 75-64 victory over Newton. New Bedford Co-Captain Steve Ramos was the big man for the victors. His 26 points was high for the game, and the 6'8" center held Laskaris to 18 points. "Ramos was just hot," said Phillips. "If it wasn't him, another of their guys would have beaten us. We just couldn't get going." The loss brought Newton's overall record down to 7-4.

Tip Weymouth

Weymouth North provided the opposition on Tuesday, January 23. It was hardly a great performance for the Tigers, but ehey came out of the game with a 46-45 decision. Newton trailed 37-26 after three periods, but made up the deficit with a 20-8 scoring edge inthe final quarter. Danny Curtis scored six fourth period as he topped the scoresheet with 14 points. Laskaris was also in double figures with 11 points, six in the fourth quarter. All Coach Phillips could say was "we played poorly." Nevertheless, the Tigers won and boosted their league-leading mark to 7-2.

Trounce Rindge

Newton gained revenge for an earlieer loss to Rindge Tech on Friday, January 26. The 72-54 trouncing was a tremendous demonstration by the Tigers. Newton increased a 34-29 halftime lead to 51-39 after three and rode that margin to victory. The well-balanced attack was led by Ken Billings with 19 points. Curtis and Laskaris netted 14 points apiece, Ed Beckler scored 11. "This was our best game all year," said Philips. "We were doing a lot ot things which we weren't before. We broke their press, and we were passing to the open man."

Team Play

Team play is the main reason fo Newton's success. "One guy can't score," analyzed Phillips, "if the other four aren't doing their job. Right now there is no standout. We have overall strength."

Newton High School's jayvee team is also having an excellent season. the squad has a 10-3 record and its losses have only been by three, five, and two points. "This is the best jayvee team I've ever had," said Coach Mike Buzzi. The individuals whose performances he made particular note of were John Ryan and Peter Norvig for consistant scoring, Gary Herendeen's defensive play, Dave Brilliant's rebounding, and Bob Kinsella for his ball-handling and the offensive threat he poses.

South Runners Defeated By Acton-Boxboro

There are losses, and there are losses, and the Newton South High track team has had its share of all types this winter, but none of the losses the trackmen have experienced before begin to compare with the one they received last week from Acton-Boxboro.

The Dual County League-leaders lambasted South, 74-12, at the Wayland Fieldhouse, to hand the Lions their sixth consecutive defeat of the year. South is in last place in the conference standings.

Co-captain Jack Ferreri accounted for five of South's points with his best-ever clocking in the 600-yard run. Ferreri was timed in 1:20.5, his best effort by about one second, to record Newton's only individual victory.

Acton captured nine of the 10 events, sweeping four of them. The Colonials also took the relay.

South's strongest showing was in the 600 where co-captain John Mason followed Ferreri with a second-place finish for three points.

The rest of the Lions' points came on third-place finishes. Barry Kaplan, who has been a double-winner four times this season in the shot-put and high hurdles managed just two third places this time out.

Sophomore Mark Venet, in the 300, and Don Podufly, in the high jump, contributed the other points.

The South trackmen face Concord-Carlisle in their final dual meet and then move on to championship competition with the Dual County All-League meet, and the State meet.

Top individual marks around the league were recorded by Acton's Bert Putname, 2:34.3 in the 1000, Weston's Dave O'Connor, 34.8 in the 300, and the 51-5 toss in the shot by Chris Queen, also of Weston.

COLLEGE HOOPSTER — Former Newton High School basketball player Steve Burghess is a member of the Chicago University basketball team. He is a freshman guard on the team.

South Hoopsters Defeat Acton; Bow To Westwood

By Lewis H. Freedman
Asst. Sports Editor

Nobody, but nobody does a better imitation of cigar-store Indians than Newton South did, last week, in a game against Acton-Boxboro.

In the end, what began as an elementary-school scramble designed to lull the spectators to snores, became a real-live basketball game and South, despite falling behind by 11 points at one stage, won it, 61-59.

A Mike Lushan layup, a Bob Lent turnaround from 10 feet, and a Ned Moan free throw gave South a 5-0 lead 1:30 into the game, but the Lions didn't score again for three minutes. After its quick start Newton South immediately shifted into its totem pole offense and it took a 22-footer by Lushan at the buzzer to come up with 10-9 first period lead.

When Lushan went to the bench for a rest in the second quarter the offense went with him and what had been a five-point lead instantly shrunk to two before going back to three, 22-19.

The buzzer went off just as Acton took a desperation heave which went in. South was apparently saved by the buzzer, but then it was discovered that there was still six seconds on the clock and the shot was ruled good. So it was 22-21 at the half.

Newton South looked like it had been hit by the plague at halftime. The Colonials stole the ball three times, instituted a full press, and ran the one-point intermission deficit into a 39-28 lead.

Whatever the disease, Acton caught it from South and the Lions retaliated by running off nine straight points before an Acton foul shot made it 40-37. Acton lost 10 straight turnovers and didn't get a shot at the basket for three-and-a-half minutes during the South comeback.

As quickly as it caught the disease Acton found the cure and showed signs of life again towards the end of the period, taking a 44-43 lead at the buzzer.

South's game plan in the final quarter acillated between sending Moan and Mark Jefferson in on drives and turning sophomore Mark Aronson loose on one-on-ones. They both worked. Moan fired in five points in a 40-second stretch. Jefferson, who played a marvelous hustling, gambling defense hit a couple of layups, and Aronson pumped in 12 points.

Moan's splurge came in the last two minutes and left the Lions on top, 60-57. With 29 seconds remaining Jefferson was fouled. It was 60-59 and he made the first end of a one-and-one situation for a 61-59 lead.

Acton-Boxboro center Kevin Cash, the game's leading scorer with 15 points, had the opportunity to send the game into overtime with five seconds left, but he missed two free throws and South center Richie Spector hauled in the rebound to ice it.

Cash got offensive help from Mark Pruneau and Kevin Regan, who each tossed in 13 points.

Aronson was top man for South and Spector contributed 10 points. Moan also had 10.

Once upon a time Newton South was ahead of Westwood, 53-50. Then, Westwood changed its image. Instead of playing like the Philadelphia 76'ers the Wolverines started playing like the Boston Celtics, or even more apropos in this case, UCLA, because what Westwood did was install a fullcourt press which destroyed the Lions.

Westwood had managed to stay just in front of the Lions in the first quarter (20-18) and at the half (40-33) with good shooting. But in the third period Westwood's shooting fell apart and South won the period, 10-6, and crept back into the game at 46-43.

South outscored the Wolverines, 10-4 to open the fourth quarter and it looked like Westwood's shooting slump would carry over. Then along came the press and that proved that the remedy for poor shooting is to practice layups, and layups are what Westwood got. The Wolverines turned things around and outpointed South 18-6 the rest of the way for a 68-59 decision.

Westwood got balanced scoring from guard Dave Whalen, 18 points, Jim Henderson, 17, and Jim McGrail, 17.

South was paced by Spector, who flipped in 15 points, and Moan and Lushan, who added 10 markers each.

Air Detects Cancer

Inserting air in a patient's armpit can help detectcancer that may have spread from the breasttoo the lymph nodes in that area, according to Dr. Denise Ouimet-Oliva, radiologist at Notre DAME Hospital.

Tne method, which she calls air axillography, requires only five minutes while air is injected into the armpit under local anasthesia and X-ray studies are made. The air creates a contrast on the exposed film to aid in identifying cancerous nodes.

From city street to jungle village there are two games for children that are played throughout the world.

Hide and seek, according to Encyclopaedia Brittannica, is a universal game, and children in every land play tag with countless variations.

Tag in India has a novel "Safety" feature—a player cannot be caught if his forehead touches the bround.

South Sophs Drop Pair

By ALAN FREEDMAN

Newton South's sophomore team dropped both of its games, last week, a 42-40 thriller to Meadowbrook Junior High, and a 65-57 decision to Westwood High.

Against Meadowbrook on Wednesday, the Lions made a great comeback, chopping a 35-21 third quarter lead down to just two points with 30 seconds remaining in the game.

South then went all out in an effort to steal the ball and finally forced a turnover and called timeout with eight seconds left. The Meadowbrook defense then tightened up as the Lions were unable to penetrate, and Meadowbrook forward Bill Green blocked a South desperation shot at the buzzer to seal the upset.

Meadowbrook's Dan Wisell took game scoring honors with 20 points and Rich Gosmen chipped in with 13 for the winners.

Guards Jon Bamel and Steve Selib threw in 10 apiece as they accounted for exactly one-half of South's points.

It was another close game for the Lions when they visited Westwood, last Friday. South trailed by five, 33-28 at the half and by eight, 50-42 after three quarters.

Bamel and Selib then led a Lion comeback as they outscored Westwood, 11-4 in a four-minute span and were down by only one point with half the final quarter still remaining.

Westwood called time out in an effort to regroup and the stragegy evidently worked as the Wolverines took command once again with three straight hoops to ice the game.

Bamel poured in 23 points for the losers and Selib threw in 20 in an extremely unbalanced attack.

The sophomores record now stands at 5-6, but they should go back over the .500 mark this week since they play Wayland and Maynard, two teams they have already beaten this year.

South JV Cagers Split

Newton South High's sophomore - laden junior varsity basketball team has compiled a 6-3 record to date this winter, and last week split two decisions.

The Lions erupted for an opening 15-0 burst and expanded that to 48-17 later enroute to a 64-23 shellacking of Acton-Boxboro. Included was a 21-5 third quarter, sparked by Bob Shpiner's eight points.

Game scoring honors went to 6-2 forward Bob Harris who singlehandedly outscored the Colonials, with 26 points.

The jayvee didn't have quite the same firepower later in the week, falling to Westwood, 58-52. Harris was again tops for the Lions with 19 points and Ricky Charton, who two games earlier totaled 30 points, fired in 15 points.

Newton South Sextet Splits Pair Of Games

It was a week that started on a sour note for the Newton South hockey team and ended on an encouraging one as the Lions were bombed, 7-2 by Lincoln-Sudbury, and then turned around and tied Westwood, 1-1.

Lincoln carried a 2-1 lead into the second period against South on the basis of two Steve Leger goals. The Lions' tally came on an unassisted score by Steve Tresca. However, South, which never led in the contest, never got that close again.

Lincoln erupted for two goals in the first 29 seconds of the second period, one at 11 seconds and the second just 18 seconds later to put the game out of reach. The Warriors added two more scores in the middle frame for a 6-1 margin after two.

South played the third period even on a goal by Jim Kavanaugh at 7:24, but the Lions were never able to mount a consistent attack. Tresca got the lone assist on Kavanaugh's goal.

The loss knocked the Lions out of fourth place in the Dual County League standings and Lincoln-Sudbury moved into that spot.

The young Lion skaters bounced back from the demoralizing loss with a 1-1 tie with Westwood.

South lit up the scoreboard first at 7:20 of the first stanza as the team's leading scorer, Kavanaugh, blasted a long slap shot at Wolverine netminder Paul Barnard who never got to touch it. Instead, sophomore defenseman Joey Donlan streaked in front of the net and poked it past Barnard on a deflection play.

The lead was short-lived as Westwood retaliated less than three minutes later with its only score of the evening. Pete Brown unloosed a blast at South's Jim Caruso and Caruso stopped it, but the puck bounced off his pads and trickled into the net as he reached for it with his glove hand. Jim Reardon collected an assist on the play.

There was some excitement in the third period when Ken Bianco was awarded a rarely seen penalty shot after being hauled down from behind on a breakaway. He went one-on-one with Barnard, but Barnard was equal to Bianco's best fakes and stopped his try for the game-winner.

The pucksters are now 3-5-2 on the year with just one game on tap this week. Tomorrow night the Lions face-off against Wayland, the Dual County League's second-plce club, and a squad rated 10th in Eastern Massachusetts. The last time the teams played, on December 23, Wayland won, 10-1.

TV S. Reading

The majority of Japanese school children spend an average of two hours daily watching television but only 30 minutes in reading, according to an Education Ministry survey.

Comic books ae the most popular reading reading for primary and junior high school students, but 53 percent of the senior high school students said they read mostly newspapers and magazines.

'Defense medicine'

A Duke University study indicates there is little basis for the frequently heard claim that large numbers of doctors are proacicing medicine "defensively" to guard themselves against the threat of malpractice suits.

The study, conducted by the Duke Law Journal, concludes that malpractice litigation has been much overrated as a contributor to rising health care costs. Those who say so maintain doctors practicing defensive medicine over-utilize diagnostic tests and procedures, just to be on the safe side in case a patient sues.

The Newton Notebook

One Newtonite who agrees with Newton South High hockey coach Neil McPhee that Newton players are at a disadvantage disadvantage because of the city's lack of ice facilities is Fred Klashman. Only he decided to do something about it.

Klashman, who graduated Newton South in 1971 after a brief interruption for a stint in Canada, never actually played hockey for the Lions.

He played some hockey at Weeks Junior High, but realized early-on that if he was going to go anywhere on a higher level he needed more development than high school hockey could give him.

So Klasman spent part of one year playing Canadian level hockey in Halifax, Nova Scotia, before an illness cut his sojourn short and forced him to return to Newton.

Back in Newton he played with the Framingham Stars of the Massachustts Junior League rather then participate at the high school level. From there he spent one year skating for Mt. Hermon Prep.

The result of Klashman's dedication to improving his game and his experience in Canada was a hockey scholarship to Colorado College, perennially a top Western Collegiate Hockey Association (WCHA) team.

Klashman, who still keeps in touch with his old neighborhood, commented on the addition of some new ice facilities both built and proposed for Newton.

"I am very happy to see the addition of three new rinks," he said. "This should aid all players from the pee-wee age to the all-important high school age.

"At the present time," he continued, "high school hockey is a real killer. In Canada, a player at age 18 will play 50 or 60 games with his bantam and all-star teams. However, an American, just entering high school, plays a maximum of 23 or 24 games. (And that's stretching it.) And I don't think the high school coaches are as good or know the game as well.

"If I had not jumped high school hockey," he concluded, "to play junior hockey, I certainly wouldn't find myself with a WCHA scholarship. I hope that changes will be made and with the new rink facilities the high school boys should be skating daily."

Klashman, 19, is a powerfully-built, 6-2, 188-pound wing, who is specializing in penalty-killing for the Colorado Tigers. The freshman from Waban is also getting some odd shifts and when he did get a regular turn versus Notre Dame he notched his first collegiate goal and collected a couple of assists.

The former junior instructor at the Bobby Orr-Mike Walton Sports Camp took exception to a January 4 Special to the Graphic story by Dave Aalto touting the supremacy of eastern college hockey this year.

The following is his equal-time opinion of the subject: (Admittedly both authors are prejudiced to their own cause.)

"After the bit about the downfall of western hockey," he said, "I thought it was time to speak my piece. In the east, out of the ECAC (Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference) Division I hockey teams there exist possibly four or five strong clubs. This strength and lack of balance is seen in the weekly scores.

"Colorado College is presently (no longer) on the bottom of the WCHA. However, we have registered wins against Wisconsin and St. Louis, the number two and formerly number eight teams in the nation. The league finds its strength in its definite balance. On any given night any club can beat another. There is just no way that Northeastern will ever beat Boston University this season.

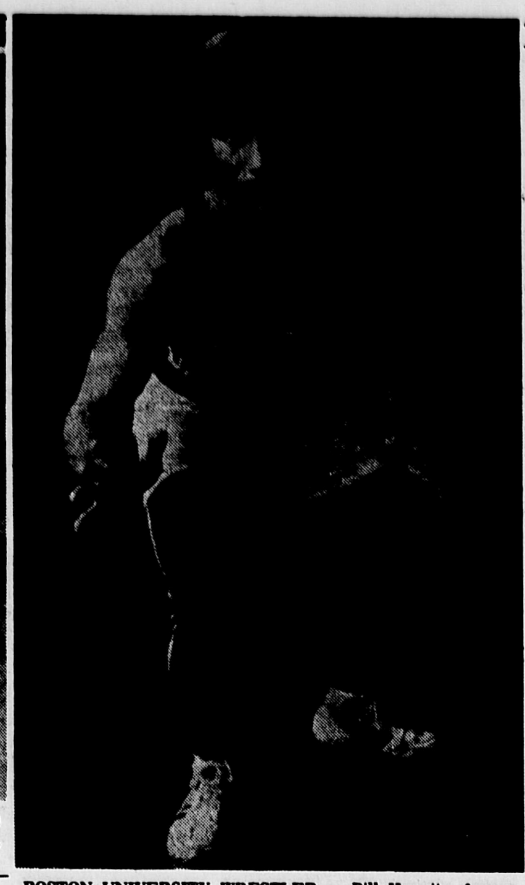
"Another ridiculous myth is that the league is 95 percent Canadian. I think that if the rosters are analyzed it is obvious that 75 percent of the players are from Minnesota. Granted, though, that Michigan Tech is 80 percent Canadian. At present time, though, I am the only easterner in the league, which is very surprising."

Klashman, who plans a career in law after college, is eligible for the pro draft for the first time this year, and like all players is keeping one eye on the lists. Pro hockey is something Klashman would very much like to do, but he isn't very optimistic about the possibility right now.

"It's my draft year," he said, "but unless there's a market for Jewish penalty-killers it doesn't look too promising." — Lewis Freedman

COLORADO SKATER — Newton's Fred Klashman is a freshman center and wing for Colorado College. The rugges 19-year-old, who specializes in penalty-killing, is a 1971 grad of Newton South



BOSTON UNIVERSITY WRESTLER — Bill Hurwitz, former Newton South wrestling co-captain, will see action for the Boston University varisty wrestling team. Bill won three varsity wrestling letters at South and finished second in the 1971 Massachusetts Tourney for the 118-pound class. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hurwitz.

Framson Leads South Gymnasts To Twin Wins

Gary Framson turned in two of the best performances of his career, winning twice in each meet, as the Newton South High gymnastics team rebounded from two opening week losses to topple Newton High and Brookline, last week.

South edged the once-mighty Tigers, 87.3 to 83.6 and trounced Brookline, 78.80 to 63.80.

Framson, a senior, three-year regular performer for the Lions, captured the floor exercise and long horse vault and placed fifth in the parallel bars to tally 17.35 points and spark the South victory over Newton, Three days later he duplicated the feat versus Brookline, including the fifth in the parallel bars.

South, which copped 5 of six possible firsts against the Tigers also got wins from Mark Forte, side horse, Bruce King, high bar and Jay Levine, still rings. It was Newton South's second straight win over Newton.

Other scorers included: Mark Tarciano, three seconds, King, one fourth, Dave Williams, one fourth, Ricky Baruch, two thirds, Joe Duggan, a fourth and a fifth, Levine, a sixth, and Dave Pershe, a sixth.

Besides Framson's two victories versus Brookline, Tarciano and Forte tied for first in the side horse and Tarciano won the parallel bars. King captured the horizontal bar and Levine took the still rings.

Levine, second in the horizontal event, Tarciano, second in the long horse, King third in the floor exercise, Tarciano, fourth in the floor exercise, Ricky Gove, fourth in the horizontal bar, Jerry Stone, fourth in the parallel bars and rings, Joe Duggan, third in the long horse and fifth in a tie with Andy Sisson in the side horse, and Levine, fifth in the floor exercise, completed the South scoring.

The Lion gymnasts are 2-2 on the season and face North Quincy and Dennis-Yarmouth this week.

Newton South Wrestlers Drop First To Milford

That was the week that wasn't for the Newton South High wrestling team. Or at least it was the week that shouldn't have been.

South went into the week with an unblemished 7-0-1 record, and coming off a sweet 36-16 revenge win over Newton High. So much for the good stuff.

The Lions, who have trailed early on numerous occasion this year, but who have always managed to come through with the big pin when necessary found the tables turned this time as Milford High broke open a close match with pins in the 175-and 185 lb. classes for a 33-27 win.

South leaped out to a 9-0 lead this time with Paul Linn racking up a 11-1 decision in the 100-pound category and Mike Shockett scoring by forfeit at 105.

Milford came back with a pin over Pete Anthony, a forfeit win, and a decision of Pete Nathanson in the next three classes to get its first lead, 15-9.

Rich Hyman pulled South closer with a 4-3 win at 132, but Brian Corcoran's loss at 138 negated that gain.

The Lions then made their usual run as the weight classes got heavier. Dave Berkowitz won, 11-4, Woody Saltzberg tied, 3-3, and McDonald scored a pin. That gave Newton a 23-20 lead. It was the last one the South grapplers would enjoy.

Newton South's vaunted 11th hour rushes came to an end, there, though. Haskell Kingston and Peter Maples were pinned and that left John Staulo's victory by pin in the heavyweight division meaningless except as a positive gesture.

That was the big lousy thing that happened to the wrestlers, last week. The second thing wasn't nearly as discouraging, it was just an inconvenience. Monday's match with Foxboro, a team the Lions should have killed, was cancelled because of a schedule mixup. South, now 7-1-1, could have used the ego boost.

Sports Shorts

The long search has ended. The long journeys. The long nights. Billy Sullivan can now rest in peace.

No, Sullivan is not dead. He can just finally get some sleep. The deed is done, he can sit back and admire his handiwork.

The New England Patriots, if you haven't already heard, and if you're wondering what all this drama is about, have signed Oklahoma's Chuck Fairbanks to be their new coach. And from superficial indications, that he's a winner, and that he hasn't alienated anybody yet, it looks like a positive move.

It will take a while to find out if Fairbanks is the super-brain needed to direct the Pats to the Super Bowl, but the things he really needs (they come in all shapes and sizes) are super players.

The results of the George Foreman-Joe Frazier fight were flabbergasting, just incomprehensible. Who would have believed that Frazier would be knocked down six times in 4:35?

The fight was truly costly for Frazier. Not only did he lose his heavyweight crown, but he probably cost himself a few million bucks in an attractive rematch with Muhammed Ali.

Personally, I wanted Frazier to beat Foreman so that he would then be forced into the long overdue rematch with Ali. Now, however, we may never see it, and on top of that the luster will have been lost by his loss. It just won't be the same fight since Frazier's lost.

The Bruins seem to have caught the luck of the Patriots. The slumping B's are now over 10 points behind the Canadians who have lost just six games this year. The time has come to stop fooling around or the Bruins will get iced come playoff time. The return of Mike Walton, who was hot when he got hurt, will hopefully inspire the team.

Did anybody really think that Providence would stop the big, fast machine on the west coast? UCLA did unto Providence the same way it did unto everyone else These other Bruins belted the Friars, 101-77 en route to their new collegiate record of 61 straight wins. Against Loyola of Chicago, UCLA had troubles, but still managed a 14-point victory. The UClans got the usual immense performance from center Bill Walton who had 32 points and 27 rebounds.

It was truly amazing how incompetent the West hoop squad looked in last week's NBA All-Star Game. Granted, Rick Barry and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar didn't play, but Jerry West, Nate Archibald, Spencer Haywood, and numerous others who are better than good, did play. Their performance was incredibly inept—84 points?

The East, on the other hand, at least looked like it was trying, and that was probably because it had the Celtics and Knicks on its side. The guys who play for those teams are not only winners, but guys who hustle all the time.

Funny thing, the guy who outhustles everybody, all the time, Dave Cowens, got the game MVP award. He deserved it.

Another point to be made about the game is that it has too many players in it for a coach to comfortably maneuver. Basketball, in most cases, is not conveniently played with 14 men on a side. It looks as though the rule insisting that one member of each team must be on the squad will have to go. That was initiated before expansion. Times have changed and the rules should,, too.

Is Duane Thomas with San Diego Chargers or not? Well, he may not be, but Johnny Unitas and Tom Matte are. The Chargers, a team much-improved last year, have been making more moves to strengthen themselves. The real question, through, is whether Unitas, at age 40, will be capable of leading the team through 14 games. And if not, then the Chargers may have made a real boo-boo in trading away John Hadl.

Congratulations to Frank Shorter for winning the Sullivan Award. Shorter, the ex-Yale distance star, won America's first gold medal in the Olympic marathon in 60 years, beating the Europeans at their own game--long, long distance running. Shorter is back in Florida now, training with the Florida Track Club for his assault on the indoor circuit record book

New England Whalers Face Tough Goaltender

By LEWIS H. FREEDMAN

If you haven't been to the Boston Arena this year the first thing you'll notice when you walk in is that the Arena ain't what it used to be—and that's good.

The Arena, which has housed everything from the rodeo, to wrestling, to college hockey, is now the home of the New England Whalers, but the old affectionate nicknames it went by — The Pit of St. Botolph Street, or the Boston cousin of the Black Whole of Calcutta — are no longer apropos. The Arena, like its inhabitants, is new.

Highlights of the renovations include a new paint job, new lighting, and a new sound system — you can hear with this one. However, despite the advertisement that there's more parking the situation is still the same if you're arriving by car — intolerable.

So much for the building and its spanking new interior. The spanking new team which lives there is in first place in the World Hockey Association's Eastern Division and playing jolly good hockey. Entering their game with Quebec last Saturday night, the Whalers - had notched seven victories in their last 10 games. Quebec was hidden away in fourth place in the East.

The first thing which came over the Public Address system was the announcement that Quebec would be without five of its regular players, which considering what it had to start with should have insured a Whaler massacre.

The second thing that came over was the announcement that Al Smith, the All-Star goalie, would be starting for New England and that Richard (Whi?) Brodheur was starting for the Nordiques.

Next came the Canadian National anthem, which was a neat trick, because why wouldn't anyone stand for that. Who wants to insult Canada? Thus, the whole recent controversy of not standing for the Star Spangled Banner was avoided becaise everyone was on his feet anyway. Not a bad idea. And playing the Canadian anthem is an idea which should be universal in pro hockey. That was something missing at the last Bruins game I attended.

The puck was dropped, the game started, and the Whalers took over as successively, the lines of Larry Pleau, Tim Sheehy and John French; Tom Webster, Terry Caffrey, and Paul Hurley; and John Danby, Mike Hyndman, and Kevin Ahearn took pot-shots at Brodheur Danby particularly was good in the early going. With his green uniform, green helmet and skinny build, (5-10, 165) he looked like a praying mantis forechecking.

So New England charged and shot, and charged and shot and it was 1-0 by 6:05. Only it was 1-0 Quebec. One lousy rush and a shot by Michael Perizeau, which went between Smith's left leg and the post.

New England took even sterner command of the back at 11:36 when Ahearn went off for two minutes for charging. The Whalers didn't permit the Nordiques a shot on the power play.

The Whalers charged some more, got nowhere, made a stupid mistake in the Quebec zone and the Nordiques came flying back on a three-on- two led by Bob Guindon, and scored 2-0.

Now the Whalers were getting mad. Britt Selby unleashed a brutal shot from in close and Brodheur stopped it. Selby poked at the rebound and Brodheur stopped this one while lying on his back.

And finally one rush clicked. French and Sheehy got the jump on the Nordique defense and had a two-on-one. Sheehy parked it over Brodheur's left shoulder and French and Pleau got assists at 19:50.

The second period featured a parody of a football game played between the 20-yard lines. The two teams skated almost exclusively between the blue lines. A Whaler power play of Pleau, Sheehy, French, and Jim Dorey and Brad Selwood netted nothing whatsoever. That group exhibited the combined firepower of a book of wet matches. It clearly wasn't the Whalers night. They got nothing in the second, but neither did Quebec.

Bounce Back

The third period was remarkable. The Whalers bounced back and forth down the ice like yo-yos. Their attack would get repulsed and they'd fly back into the Quebec zone. They looked like they were storming the Alamo, but between Brodheur, who turned more somersaults than an Olympic tumbler, and steady defenseman JC Tremblay, the Whalers couldn't get on the scoreboard.

Despite trying harder than Avis, the Whalers almost killed themselves with frustration and Quebec was the one to get on the board—again. Yves Bergeron notched the final tally of the game. The final, Quebec 3-1.

The moral of the story is keep your eyes peeled for a 20-year-old goalie named Richard Brodheur. The diminutive netminder is only one year out of Junior A hockey, and already he looks like Gump Worsely, Jacques Plante, and Glenn Hall rolled into one.

Boston-area hockey teams continue to clean up. Boston College won its eighth in a row and remains 10th in the nation. Boston University is fifth with a 15-4 record and Harvard is still first in the country at 9-1.

The basketball teams haven't been doing as well. BU is 9-5 and Northeastern is 11-5, but the other big schools have been having problems. The small, schools, though, have been consistently terrific. Assumption is 8-1 and sixth in the nation. Bentley is 15-1 and 11th. Tufts, as yet un-heralded, is 11-1

LEWIS FREEDMAN

Private School Sports Roundup

By Lewis H. Freedman

What made the Celtics the world's greatest for umpteen year? C'mon everybody Yell it right out. That's right. Defense!! Defense - that starts with a capital D and rhymes with fence and nobody around Newton places Defense like St. Sebastian's.

St. Sebastian's employed the same magical tricks as the Celtics did, last week, holding three opponents to an average score of 39 points to tear off three consecutive victories and move into first place in the Private School Legue.

The highpoint of the streak, and the game which enabled the now 11-2 Arrows to takeover the league roof was a 45-43 win over Rivers to end the Redmen's 30-game winning skein.

St. Sebastian's, not enjoying its best shooting night of the season, kept pace with the Redmen, who were 10-0 at that time, but fell behind 43-37 in the closing minutes of the fourth quarter. But that was it for Rivers, as the Redmen chose that inopportune moment to go cold.

The Arrows, paced by Kevin O'Malley, who tied the contest on a layup, and Terry Grant, who sank a jump shot with time running out, ripped off four straight baskets to pull out the game.

The Arrows got a game-high 15 points from 6-5 center Phil Coleman, 10 from Grant, and eight from O'Malley in terminating Rivers' streak.

That was the week's finale, but St. Sebastian's had two other healthy efforts on the way.

The Arrows pummeled Groton, 54-32, and Noble and Greenough, 56-42 on the way to their showdown with Rivers.

Groton, skyhigh for the encounter, actually emerged from the first period with a 14-13 lead, but that was just about the last time the visitors saw the hoop. St. Sebastian's man-eating zone defense swallowed everything and everybody in sight in the second and third quarters and Groton hit for only four points in each period.

Although the Arrows' offense wasn't overpowering either, Coleman and O'Malley managed to total 12 points each and forwards Bob MaGuire and BobLawler chipped in with eight points apiece. Groton's offense was named Dick Williams. He fired in 10 points and gravved a dozen rebounds.

It was 28-28 two minutes into the third period against Noble and Greenough when the Arrows decided to turn on the pressure this time. A fullcourt zone press shutout Nobles for the rest of the quarter as St. Sebastian's coasted to a 16-point lead and the team maintained a similar margin for the rest of the game.

Coleman again took scoring honors with 12 points (he also notched 12 rebounds) and Maguire and O'Malley had 10 each

It hasn't been the same season for the Arrow hockey team. After a split last week, the Arrows are 4-8-1 on the year.

The win came first. Bob Devaney blasted a hat trick, scoring once in each period to propel the icemen to a 6-4 decision over Winchester High.

Devaney's goals in the first and third period were the team's only scores, but in the second period, three other Arrow players collected scores. Devaney was joined in the second frame by Mike Ledoux, Steve Maskell, and Kevin White. Maskell also tallied two assists, as did Mark Canavan.

Tom Foley turned aside 34 shots in the Arrow net.

St. Sebastian's took a 1-0 first period lead against Milton Academy, but Milton exploded for five goals in the second period, including four in a row, to take control, and earn a 6-3 win.

LeDoux, Bill Eagan, and Maskell got goals as the Arrows scored once in each period.

Our Lady's is only 5-6 in basketball, but the Lancers have to be one of the state's cleverest teams. They always find creative ways to lose. Last week they tried two new experiments. They both failed. Or they both succeeded, depending on your orientation. No matter how you look at it, Our Lady's lost two basketball games.

Against St. Clements there was an excuse anyway. The visitors were 10-0 and in first place in the Catholic Suburban League. However, Our Lady's hit St. Clements on a night it could be had. The Lancers just couldn't do anything about it.

The Lancers opened with a four-point first quarter, improved by 10 in the second, and added nine more in the third. By that time they were down 38-23 since St. Clements wasn't doing much of anything either. All the fun came in the final quarter as Our Lady's pumped in 25 points in the last eight minutes and St. Clements fired in 21. Only that just wann't enough to pull it out for the Lancers.

Gary Bearfield tossed in 22 points for Our Lady's, including 16 in the last period.

The next creative-way-to-lose exhibition was put on versus Hudson Catholic. This time the Lancers went down, 66-61 in overtime (that was the new wrinkle) after holding a 52-44 lead.

The scoring was better balanced this time with Al Gentile tallying 16 points, Bearfield, 15, Andy Coletti, 14, and Joe Welch, 10.

Let it be stated here, that although they did lose both games, St. Clements, and Hudson Catholic, 8-2, are both top teams. From the way they played, the Lancers appeared just a little bit away from moving into starry company. The big play, which keeps the teams apart, is what is missing from the Lancer repetoire.

Last Week's Reocrd
Won 6, Lost 2, Tied 2
Season's Record
Won 44, Lost 14, Tied 4

Saturday's Selections

DEDHAM over WALPOLE

This is it for Walpole for if they lose they're out of the state tourney and if Dedham loses they could have their hands full for winning the Bay State League title. In the first game between the two teams Dedham won the game rather easily and have to be picked to repeat in this one. Both teams have plenty at stake. On the records Dedham seems to have the better of it, but Walpole should be fired up. The Rebels have the better forwards and are the leading scoring team in the Bay State League, while Dedham is the best defensive team in the league. If John Baldasarri returns he could propel the Rebels to a win here. Looks like a real close game and it's a tossup but Dedham's in first and may stay there for the year if they win this one. DEDHAM BY ONE.

NORWOODover BRAINTREE

The Mustangs have been doing a fine job this year despite injuries and could win here. The Wamps have been an in and out team who proved they win against any team in the league. They have a fine goalie in Bob Cusack who can give any team trouble. At present they're out of the tourney and have no pressure on them. On the other hand Norwood has a no-name team but they keep running and realize that if they lose here it means no tourney berth. Should be a good game but the Mustangs have a lot more at stake and should win but if Cusack gets hot, watch out. NORWOOD BY ONE.

NEEDHAM over NORTH

The Rockets will now take the roll of a spoiler in the Bay State League and they should knock North off in this one. As usual it will no doubt be the Rockets high scoring first wave that will do the damage. On the other hand this North team has to be the surprise of the Bay State League. They have seven wins which is four more than they have ever had at the school. Real close game, but Scanlon, Peters Sullivan & Company may prove too much for the Spartans.

SOUTH over MILTON

Milton has proved that they can do it and are capable of an upset here, but the Flyers have a shot at the title and realize that a loss and they're in trouble. South rolled to an easy 7-1 victory in the first meeting between the two clubs and should win here, but it won't be by as much. Gary Maus' Whiz Kids are playing fine hockey but may have too much to cope with in the high powered South team. SOUTH BY TWO.

NATICK over WELLESLEY

The odds are that no team in the Bay State League is going to go winless and maybe this game will be Wellesley's moment of glory, but we have to stick with the Natick team who have lost plenty of tough games this year. Might be a close one but Mark Rothwell could be the big weapon as Natick wins.

Selectings For Wednesday, January 31

Norwood over Needham (by one)
Dedham over Wellesley (by two)
Walpole over Braintree (by one)
South over North (by four)
Natick over Milton (by one)

Campus Notes

Susan J. Campbell, a senior mathematics major and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Campbell of 206 Church st., Newton, was among 214 students named to the dean's list for the fall term at Lake Forest College.

The college has a grading system of honors, high pass, pass or fail. Attainment of two high passes and an honors, or better, is required for appointment to the dean's list.

Also at Lake Forest, Lawrence E. Finsen, a senior philosophy major and son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Finsen, 11 Sheffield Rd., Newtonville, was among the 53 students who received 3 honors grades for the fall term.

The fall term enrollment at the co-educational liberal arts college was 1059, representing 40 states and 24 foreign countries.

Miss Carol M. Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sherman of 15 Donna Rd., Newton Centre, a graduate of Newton South High School, is enrolled in two winter term courses in the philosophy and government departments at Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, New York.

The philosophy course, taught by Dr. Warren Hockenos, deals with the problems criminal punishment presents to a philosopher Students read philosophy and literature on the subject and discuss both readings and contemporary problems in class meetings.

The problem of determining how responsible an individual is for his actions also will be considered by the students studying "Criminal Law." Dr. Philip Hannon, of the government department, describes it as a "bread and butter law school course." Students consider various types of criminal law including homicide, theft, and crimes involving moral questions such as cannibalism.

Nancy B. Fisher of 110 McCarthy rd., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Fisher, a student at Newton South High School has been accepted for admission to Union College, Schenectady, N. Y.

---

Florence B. Kreindel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman B. Barnett of 11 Langdon st., Newton, will receive her bachelor of arts degree from Simmons College this January.

Miss Kreindel is a home economics major.

Miss Margaret Anne Kelliher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Giles C. Kelliher, 25 Chestnut ter., Newton Centre, has achieved dean's list status at Nasson College, Springvale, Me.

To attain the list, students must earn an academic average for the semester of 3.0 on a scale of 4.0.

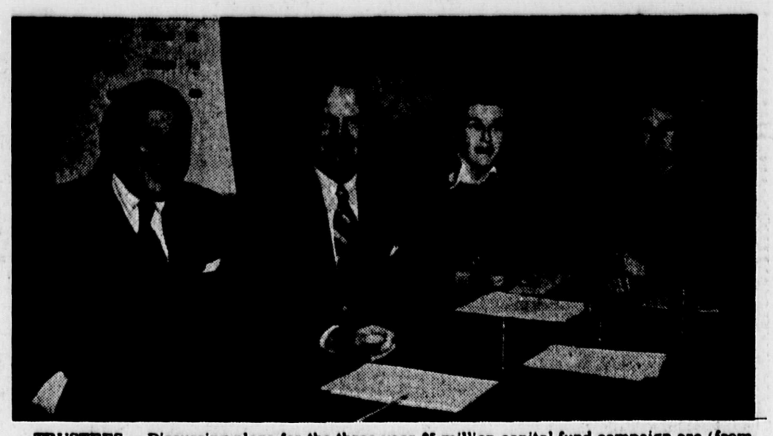
Bradley Stern, son of Dr. and Mrs. Melvin W. Stern, 19 Jacobs Terrace, Newton Centre, was on the first semester honor roll at Thayer Academy, Braintree, Mass.

Bradley is a ninth grade student.

To attain honor roll status a student must maintain a B average in all subjects. He is also on the junior varsity basketball team.



TRUSTEES — Discussing plans for the three-year $5 million capital fund campaign are (from left) Vincent Learson, chairman of the board of trustees; William J. Gilbane, Mary Ford Kingsley of Wellesley, and Sister Jean Ford, provincial of the Washington Province of the Society of Sacred Heart. The fund campaign was launched this month by Newton College.

Newton College Starts Fund Raising Campaign

Newton College launched a $5 million capital fund campaign this month, Dr. James J. Whalen, president of the college, announced this week.

The three-year drive is aimed at erasing a debt incurred by an extensive building program in the 1960's during which six major new facilities were constructed on the 70-acre campus.

T. Vincent Learson, chairman of the board of International Business Corp., will serve as national chairman of the capital campaign. William J. Gilbane, executive vice-president of the Gilbane Building Company, will head up the Major Gifts Committee. Mary Ford Kingsley of Wellesley, also a member of the Newton Board, will be National Alumnae Gifts Chairman. Theodore P. Heuchling, vice president of Arthur D. Little Co., will serve as National Parents Chairman. Daniel A. Cronin, Jr., a director of C.R. Bard Co., and his wife Jane Cronin, a member of the college's Board of Trustees, will lead the Advance Gifts effort in the Greater Boston area.

In addition, Sister Gabrielle Husson, past president of Newton College, and Frank Sawyer, long time friend and counselor of the college, will serve as honorary chairmen of the drive.

A significant start toward the $5 million goal has already been achieved. The Society of the Sacred Heart has responded to the challenge with the commitment of $1 million. Of this amount, $860,000 is in the form of the cancellation of previous loans made, and $140,000 will come in the form of cash.

In addition, the college's Board of Trustees has pledged $415,000 to the campaign.

The facilities on the campus which were erected in the 1960's causing the debt are the college chapel, the science wing, the faculty wing, two dormitories and the library.

The current drive represents Newton College's first organized capital campaign and largest fund raising effort.

IMPORTANT . . . READ!

OUR PRICES & GUARANTEES WILL MAKE US or BREAK US!

If we didn't know what we were doing, we'd go broke with prices and guarantees like this! WE'RE NOT ABOUT TO LET THAT HAPPEN!

We know the biggest problem to most car owners is where to take their cars for repairs and maintenance. We know that service and gas stations rarely have the sophisticated equipment and time to do a really precise job. Car dealers are tied up with warranty service. Faulty and guesswork car maintenance plus inflated bills have plagued the market. We know that Master Mechanics can solve our share of the problem.

Master Mechanics has installed the very latest and most dependable diagnostic equipment that can be made. We've hired the finest factory and field trained master mechanics in the automotive field. Our management personnel have spent most of their lifetime in this business. In short, we are committed to doing a better job than anybody else.

Because we use only the finest mechanics that have all graduated from BEAR Brake and Front End Schools plus MARQUETTE Electronic and Motor Tune Up School we save time in labor and by saving on time, we save you dollars. We quote labor time before the job, because of this equipment and our Master Mechanics. Again another first . . . we will absorb any time over what we quote. In other words, if we tell you a job will take a half hour and it takes us a full hour, you will pay the labor costs for a half hour only. Every car that goes in our bay gets our electronic diagnostic check up.

When you stop and think about it, everyone wants to take their car to someone they can trust and that is dependable. Master Mechanics has the latest equipment, carries only the finest brands and has the expertise that can tell you exactly what is wrong with your car and how much it will cost you. After each job, you will receive a check list telling exactly what we have done, plus a written guarantee for the service performed.

NOTE! NOT ONLY DOES THIS DEPENDABLE QUALITY CONTROL EQUIPMENT END MEDIOCRE REPAIR AND GIVE YOU THE ULTIMATE IN SAFETY, BUT IT SAVES YOU MANY DOLLARS.

WE'RE GOING TO MAKE IT AWFULLY TOUGH FOR YOU NOT TO DO BUSINESS WITH US!

FREE!

$8.95 to $12.95

BEAR and MARQUETTE DIAGNOSTIC CHECK

THIS IS WHAT YOU WOULD NORMALLY PAY $8.95 to $12.95 FOR . . . NOW FREE!

As you drive into our electronic bays, a highly precisioned front end machine will hydraulically and electronically check your car to determine how reliable the front end and steering is. 4 feet beyond that point, built into the bay floors, your car will travel over a 24 foot louvered brake tester, where-4 miles per hour is equal to 50 miles per hour highway speed.

This incredible test will tell you not only the performance of your brakes as a whole but individually check front left and right brakes, as well as rear left and right brakes. This test may show that just a minor adjustment has to be made that can keep you driving safely. These 2 tests are the most important functions on a car since they determine stopping and steering performance. The next test would be a 30 step electronic tune-up check and calibrated basic timing check. Following is a 40 step electronic analysis which is usually done today by guess work or by a mechanic using a screwdriver.

Our master mechanics would then raise your car on a lift which gives complete visibility underneath the car to check out all the steering components, shock absorbers and full exhaust system. Your tires would then be checked.

Everybody has been reading about pollution of air . . . we are 2 years ahead of the country using the infra-red testing machine used to check pollution in the exhaust system. This machine can tell us in 15 seconds if you need a motor tune up and pin points your problems. For a motor tune-up, we go through a self calibrating electronic system which is the closest machine ever made to give a perfect tune-up.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.)

Q — As a female veteran going to school full time under the GI Bill, can I claim my husband as a dependent?

A — Yes. Public Law 92-540, signed by the President October 24, 1972, makes educational benefits and all other veteran benefits apply equally to male and female veterans. To take advantage of this benefit, you should apply to the nearest Veterans Administration regional office.

Q — Who approves schools for enrollment under the GI Bill?

A — The state-approving agency in the state where the school is located. However, the Veterans Administration is the approving agency for courses offered by schools in foreign countries, agencies of the Federal Government, and for apprenticeship programs administered by interstate carriers.

Q — Can a service-disabled veteran who received a VA automobile allowance receive reimbursement for the necessary special adaptive equipment more than once?

A — Yes, but reimbursement is made to the seller of the equipment, not the veteran.

Q — I was recently discharged from the service and am now working for a tile setter, learning the business. Is there any way that I can qualify for on-the-job training under the GI Bill?

A — From your nearest VA office obtain application 21E-1990. Fill it out completely and return it to that VA office along with copies of your separation papers from the service (DD 214), and birth and marriage certificates (if the latter apply). Your state approving agency (usually the Department of Education) for such training will take it from there and determine whether or not your job qualifies. If it does, VA will send you benefit checks allotted for such training.

Q — I am a veteran, aged 46, and I have cancer. I am unable to work and must stay in bed 100 percent of the time. Can I get any financial assistance from the Veterans Administration?

A — You may apply for a pension which is allowed to qualified war time veterans whose annual income does not exceed $3,800. For further information contact your nearest VA office, or the VA office where you know your records are located.

Q — If a veteran sells his home and his GI loan is assumed by the buyer, can his eligibility be restored so he can buy another house on a GI loan?

A — No. Entitlement can be restored only if both the following conditions are met: (1) The original GI loan has been paid in full; and (2) the home was disposed of due to compelling reasons such as health, destruction by hazard, condemnation and under certain conditions of transer for employment.

Health For All

A study of the effects of "Tobacco Smoke Pollution in Public Places" is now underway thanks in part to local Christmas Seal contributions.

The research, under the supervision of Professor Melvin First of the Harvard School of Public Health, will measure the concentration of particulate levels in closed public places where smoking is allowed.

The study is based upon a preliminary report by Dr. Morton Corn of the University of Pittsburgh which stated, "Particulate levels from cigarettes exceed the Federal Ambient Air Standards . . . in some instances 20 to 40 times higher, which suggests conventional ventilation and air conditioning is inadequate and in need of revision."

Three other Massachusetts researchers will receive grants this year, part of $1.193,000 allocated by local, state, and national units of the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association (NTRDA) to underwrite a wide range of investigations aimed at unveiling new information about lung diseases.

The other local recipients and their areas of study are: Dr. Sadamu Ishikawa, Tufts Lung Station, studies in lung physiology; Dorothy Sexton, R.N., Assistant Professor of Medical Surgical Nursing, Boston University School of Nursing, the relationship between knowledge of health beliefs and compliance with medical regimen; Robert W. Walker, Ph.D., Institute of Industrial Microbiology, University of Massachusetts, the human resistance factor to isoniazid (presently the major anti-TB drug).

In renewing his appeal for contributions, John J. Devlin, President of the Boston TB and Respiratory Disease Association, pointed out that in addition to research grants, another $1,000,000 of Christmas Seal funds support fellowships, faculty positions and other programs designed to expand professional knowledge about emphysema, tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

Devlin noted that in Suffolk County, 1972 Christmas Seal donations have reached only 74 per cent of their projected goal of $120,000.

"We face a long, hard battle against chronic lung diseases," said Devlin, "but it's not too late to join in the fight by answering your Christmas Seal letter today."

Popular Hardtop

The two-door hardtop is the most popular automobile body style, moving from 13 percent of the market in 1961 to 39 percent in 1971, according to industry sources.

Devaluation victim

Devaluation of the dollar has wiped about $60,000 in purchasing power out of the current book buying budget for the Cornell University Libraries. This means about 6,000 of the nearly 60,000 foreign published books and periodicals that were to have been added to Cornell's collection this year will not be purchased, says Hendrik Edelman, assistant director of libraries.

Educators Serving On Committees

Two Newton educators were named to faculty committees at Wentworth Institute, according to an announcement by Dr. Edward T. Kirkpatrick, president.

The committees aid in formulating educational policy, and planning and organizing various programs for the benefit of the school which is located across from the Boston Museum of Fine Arts in Boston.

Robert A. Edwards, West Newton, assistant head of the department of pattern making and rifle team coach at Wentworth Institute was named to the radiological safety, safety and civil defense committee, and Buono B. Rufo, Newton, assistant head of the department of welding process at Wentworth Institute was named to the Faculty Welfare Committee.

Open Nursery Registrations

Registrations for the Newton Community Service Centers' Nursery School are now being taken for September, 1973.

"This early start," director Anthony Bibbo said, "will provide parents who register at the school with a chance to look into other programs to determine what the most appropriate school for their youngster might be

The school operates five days per week during the hours of 9 a.m. to noon under the direction of Mrs. Herbert Stearns. A school calendar is scheduled to cover a 39-week period with vacations coinciding with that of the Newton school system. Transportation is available.

This program offers young children age 3 to 6 their first introduction to a socialization - education experience. Stories and games for imaginative growth, and art projects for creative expansion are among the activities in which these youngsters engage daily.

Games and procedures are geared to foster attitudes of cooperation allied with a sense of the need for personal recognition. The adjustment of the child to others of his own age is one of the primary goals of the Nursery School program.

For additional information or a registration application, contact the Center at 429 Cherry Street in West Newton, 969-5906.

Heads Drive For Funds

Earle Pat Groper of Newton, executive vice-president and treasurer of Branded Liquors of Westwood, has for the second consecutive year been named Massachusetts state chairman for the annual Dysautonomia Foundation, Inc., Campaign.

The proceeds of the campaign, which is part of an intensive annual fund-raising effort across the United States and Israel, are applied directly into research to find a control and cure for familial dysautonomia, an hereditary disease that afflicts Jewish children.

Under Groper's leadership, last year's Massachusetts campaign was the most successful in history. As a result, the Dysautonomia Foundation was able to purchase vitally-needed equipment for the Dysautonomia Research Laboratory at New York University Hospital.

Long active in community work, Groper was recently named president of the Greater Boston Brandeis (University) Club. He is a Fellow of Brandeis and Greater Boston Chairman of the Brandeis 25 Campaign. He is also active in a wide variety of educational, social, civic and philanthropic organizations.

A director of the Wine and Spirits Wholesalers of America since 1961, Groper is a member of the Boston Bar Association, a director of the U.S. Trust Co. and he U.S.T. Corp.

He is a member of the University Resources Committee of the Board of Overseers of Harvard College; a member of the College Advisory Committee of Grahm Junior College; a director of the Brookline Hospital Men's Association; a director of the Association of Jewish Community Centers and a trustee of the Hebrew Rehabilitation Center for the Aged.

He is also a director of the Boston Chapter of the Friends of The Hebrew University, an executive committeeman of the Boston Chapter, American Jewish Committee and member of that organization's national executive council.

He is a trustee of the Children's Hospital and a former beverage team chairman for the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Boston and the Massachusetts Heart Association.

Familial dysautonomia is basically a malfunction of the autonomic nervous system - the system which controls involuntary body processes such as heart rate, digestive system and reflexes - and, to a lesser degree, the central nervous system which controls voluntary actions.

The disease afflicts boys and girls in equal numbers and poses severe physical, emotional and social problems for the afflicted child in his relationship with other children.

Among the symptoms of dysautonomia are relative indifference to pain, inability to distinguish between hot and cold; the lack of tears (which allows undetected foreign objects to irritate the eye and cause corneal ulcers); the absence of taste buds; unstable blood pressure; unstable body temperature which may fluctuate between 92-108 degrees; uncontrollable vomiting attacks; speech and motor difficulties; drooling; stunted height; impaired swallowing; skeletal defects and repeated attacks of pneumonia.

Folk medicine

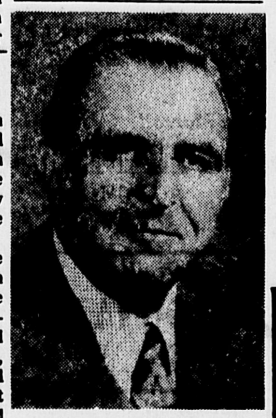
An attempt to find and classify medicinal plants used in folk medicine in parts of Texas and Mexico is being made by Dr. Clarissa T. Kimber, Texas A & M Foundation at College Station. The search is supported by a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health.

Such plants, believed to be among the first used inmedicine on this continent, are now becoming extinct. Some medicinal plants used in folk medicine centuries ago and then ignored have been found to yield drugs useful in modern medicine. An example is Rauwolfia, a plant whose roots produce reserpine, an important tranquilizer and hypertensive agent.

Home For Jewish Aged Cites Local Employees

Five Newton men and women were recently awarded special citations and certificates in recognition of service to the aged at the Hebrew Rehabilitation Center for the Aged.

Receiving recognition were Dr. William Shriber and Isaiah Ginsburg, director of the diversional therapy department, for 20 years service and Dr. Sydney Brass, podiatrist, Mrs. Lillian Ross, diversional therapist, and Mrs. Margaret MacClure, receptionist and telephone operator, for five years service.



Irving Rose of Newton Centre was recently appointed to the Board of Directors of the Coolidge Bank and Trust Company according to bank president Milton Adess. Rose is the owner and president of Portland Pipe Fitting Company of Boston, attended Bentley College and is a Boston area real estate broker and investor. He is also president of the Mattapan and Webb Supply Company.

Guaranty-First Trust Company.
Because you deserve a better way to bank.

What's a Guaranty-First Trust Company? It's a combination of the Guaranty Trust Company of Waltham and the First National Bank of Natick. It merges the best of both banking worlds into one, new, bigger, and best of all, better way to bank. For you.

The way we look at it is this. You grew So we grew. The more your financial needs keep shifting and stretching, the more you need all the bank you can get out of your bank. So we decided that two good banks would be even better as one.

What does it mean for you in the way of services? Guaranty-First will continue to feature the same superior services both banks have been famous for. That means things like lifetime guaranteed no charge checking, First Reserve or American Express credit, Master Charge, 24-hour check cashing, student loans, and automatic mortgage payments and account transfers. And we've got bigger and better ways to bank on the way.

What does it mean in the way of bank locations? Well, there are Guaranty-First branch offices in Waltham, Belmont, Natick, Framingham, Holliston, and Sudbury. That means no matter where you are, there's a better way to bank right in your backyard.

Finally, what does it mean in the way we treat you? If you're an old friend who knows us by an old name, remember our new name, and remember, we're getting more than bigger. We're getting better. If you've never known us by any name, remember why we're here. Because you deserve a better way to bank.

Our main office is located at 600 Main Street, Waltham. Our branch offices are located at 876 Lexington Street, 424 Trapelo Road, 1290 Main Street, and 114 River Street in Waltham; 69 E. Central Street, 32 E. Central Street, Sherwood Plaza (Rte. 9), and Natick Shopping Center (Rtes. 9 and 27) in Natick; 250 Concord Street in Framingham; 100 Central Street in Holliston; Mill Village Shopping Center in Sudbury; and 60 Concord Avenue (soon to be located at 492 Trapelo Road) in Belmont. Mr. Charles W. Dudley, president of Newton Junior College, will be available to speak on "Important Aspects of Junior College Education," "The Concept of the Community College," and "The Two-Year College: Its History and its Prospects for the Future."

Burton M. Pike of West Newton has been elected president of the Metropolitan Credit Union of Chelsea. Pike is a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association and a senior member of the law firm of Pike, Pike & Nagel. Before election to his new post, he served as vice president and general counsel for the Metropolitan Credit Union. He is married to the former Doris Weingard and the father of three children.

DR. MURRAY FREED of Littlefield Rd., Newton Centre, has been designated chairman of the centennial celebration of the Boston University School of Medicine. "Responsive medical education for a second century" has been selected as the theme for the celebration in 1973. Dr. Freed is chief of physical medicine and rehabilitation at University Hospital and Boston City Hospital and is chairman of his specialty at the University School of Medicine. He was recently cited by Governor Francis W. Sargent as Massachusetts Physician of the Year for the second straight year on behalf of the Massachusetts Commission to Employ the Handicapped.

Campus Notes

Miss Rita A. Dumais, 36 Parker St., Newton, has been named to the list of first semester honor students in the College of Arts and Sciences at West Virginia University.

Students must make at least a 3.3 grade point average to be named to the dean's list at the university.

Miss Sharon Gottlieb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Gottlieb, 132 Christina St., Newton Highlands, was named to the second quarter dean's list at the Northeastern University School of Dental Hygiene.

Deborah Pease, 411 Brookline Avenue, Newton, and Cathy Levin, 60 White Oak Rd., Waban, have been named to the dean's Honor list at the University of Denver, Colorado, for high scholastic achievement during the autumn quarter of the 1972-1973 academic year.

The honorees are full-time students in the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration and Engineering who have attained predominantly "A" grades or have ranked in the top 10 per cent of their colleges.

Karen Lane of Newton Centre is one of 70 students participating in the Educational Explorations program at Ottawa University, Ottawa, Kansas.

The students are currently spending the four-week winter term observing and helping teachers in actual classroom situations as an introduction to the teaching profession.

Miss Lane, a sophomore, is observing classes in the Meadowbrook Junior High School. She is the daughter of Mrs. Barbara C. Lane, 228 Wiswall rd., Newton.

Miss Amy E. Waterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Waterman, 275 Spiers Rd., Newton, is a member of the editorial board of the Bowdoin College literary magazine, "Quill."

Miss Waterman is a member of the Class of 1976 at Bowdoin.

Community School Opening

An announcement has been made of the opening of a Community School in Newton Lower Falls. The first series of programs will commence on Feb. 5. A variety of popular courses will be available for all age groups from 4-year-olds to senior citizens.

The 1973 session is planned to last for six weeks and the programs include Creative Dance, Arts and Crafts, Gym Programs, Needlework, Dance Exercise, Experiments in Clay and the History of Newton. Classes will be conducted at the Hamilton School located on Grove Street in Lower Falls. Those for young age groups are generally scheduled to take place in the afternoon. Registration is currently underway. Tuition fees range from $3 to $9 with the exception of the course on the History of Newton for which there is no tuition fee and which is open to all Newton residents. The Community School Committee has announced that scholarships are available.

In this centennial year, the course on the History of Newton is of particular interest. It will be presented primarily by Alan B. Larkin, chairman of the Newton Historical Research Committee. It will begin with the Puritans and highlight the establishment of New Towne in 1688, the centennial of our nation in 1876 and the commencement of the city to this centennial year. It will be enhanced with legend and fact as well as with the appearance of guest lecturers from Newton Historical Commission, the Jackson Homestead, and the Newton Free Library. An attempt will be made to equate contemporary Newton with life style and habits during the past 12 generations. This class will meet from 7:30 to 8:30, the five Thursday evenings in March.

Kosen President Of Fund Raisers

Milton Kosen, University Fund Raiser at Boston University, has been elected president of the Massachusetts Society of Fund Raisers, and in an installation ceremony at the University Club, he received the charter of office from the outgoing President Richard S. Carroll, assistant dean for planning and resources, Harvard School of Dental Medicine.

Kosen, who supervises fund raising operations for the 15 schools and colleges of the Charles River Campus, is a 26-year veteran in the field.

Although recently appointed to the post of university fund raiser, Kosen's association with Boston University goes back to 1964 when he became deputy director of the Boston University Medical Center. In that capacity he was responsible for a highly successful development program which embraced capital extension, faculty expansion and endowment. At the Charles River Campus he has already initiated several innovative changes, including the organization of a development board composed of experienced volunteer fund raising leaders.

Before coming to Boston University, Kosen held fund raising positions with a number of health and welfare agencies. From 1960 to 1964 he was director of fund raising for the Jewish Community Council of Essex County (N.J.), where he conducted annual and capital fund drives. During the period 1955-1960 Kosen was director of fund raising for the United Hias Service, which conducted campaigns in more than 200 communities on behalf of Jewish refugees. He also directed fund raising activities for the Newark Beth Israel Hospital and for the New England and midwest regions of the Weizmann Institute of Science. He also served as a regional representative for the National United Jewish Appeal.

A 1938 graduate of the City College of New York, Kosen also attended graduate courses in public relations at the New School for Social Research. A veteran of World War II, Kosen received a battlefield commission, the Purple Heart and the Silver Star during the course of his service with the ninth infantry division and the eighty-second airborne division from January, 1941 to January, 1946. He participated in the African, Italian and European campaigns and left the service as a first lieutenant.

Kosen lives with his wife, Muriel, and three children in West Newton, Massachusetts. His daughter, Phyllis Anne, is a senior at Boston University, majoring in chemistry. His other children are Steven, 17, and Sheila, 16.

Kindergarten Art Program Organized

Kindergarten age children can now enjoy a creative afternoon with art at the Newton Community Center where reality and fantasy are explored in a non-structured experimental atmosphere.

Classes in flag-making, printing, insect discovery and puppets are on our agenda.

Class size is limited so parents are urged to call the center as soon as possible. The telephone number is 969-5906.

Across The Kitchen Counter

Ruth Lenson

Bracing, comforting, satisfying, refreshing . . . nothing, but nothing, beats the taste of homemade soup or evokes such cozy feelings — especially on a cold winter evening.

Soup cookery ranges from the kinds that are clear, well-flavored broths to those of the thick, meaty type that come close to being in the stew category. But let's not forget the cream soups, bisques and nutritious vegetable soups.

Clear soups such as bouillons and consommes are usually served as appetizers. The heavier soups — chowders, purees and rich vegetable soups threaded with meat, are hearty enough to please most appetites when presented with crusty hot buttered rolls, a green salad and favorite dessert.

Today's method of preparing soup is entirely up to the homemaker — a bountiful array of canned soups allow the soup to go from the pot to bowl in minutes; however, there's something about the old fashioned goodness and fragrance of a homemade soup that has bubbled and simmered for hours to a savory goodness that makes it all worth while.

Important: As far as soup temperature is concerned, there is no middle road for soups — soups are never meant to be served lukewarm. Serve soups piping hot — the hotter the better. Perk up soup with your own bit of wizardry: for instance, a dash of sherry and the crunch of toasted almonds does wonders to chicken soup . . . a tiny amount of chopped mint enhances green pea soup while sweet basil performs magic on any soup that contains tomatoes.

Always thoroughly warm dishware for hot soups. Use heat-proof ware for soups to be presented with baked or broiled toppings. Clear soups take on a bit of sophistication when garnished with diced avocado, toasted nuts, wafer thin slices of mushrooms or cucumber. A sliver of lemon floating on top of a cup of hot broth adds a delightful aroma as well as piquant taste.

One last word — add meat to cold water when making soup, and in the first hour of cooking, be sure to skim the liquid as often as necessary. With every skimming, add a quarter cup of water to the pot to replace that which has cooked away.

COME ON GANG.....SOUP'S ON!!!!!

MINESTRONE SOUP

1½ pounds shin beef with bone
1 quart water
½ cup dried red kidney beans
1 tablespoon salt
1 teaspoon Ac'cent
2 bay leaves
¾ teaspoon sweet basil
1 large onion, sliced
¼ cup chopped parsley
½ cup diced celery
1 cup shredded cabbage
3 carrots, pared and sliced
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
1 large zucchini
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen peas
½ cup vermicelli
Grated Parmesan cheese

Combine beef, water, beans, salt, Ac'cent and bay leaves in a deep kettle. Bring to a boil; skim. Cover and simmer for 2 hours. Add sweet basil, onion, parsley, celery, cabbage, carrots and tomatoes; simmer 35 minutes or until fresh vegetables are tender. Add zucchini, peas and vermicelli; simmer 15 minutes longer. Remove bay leaves. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Serves 6-8.

NOTE: Soup may be made the day before. Remove from heat before adding zucchini, peas and vermicelli; refrigerate. Complete soup as directed just before serving.

SPLIT PEA SOUP

1 pound (2½ cups) green or yellow split peas (dry, not soaked)
8 cups cold water
Meaty ham bone
¾ cup chopped onion
¾ cup diced celery
¾ cup diced raw carrots
1 large bay leaf
1 teaspoon salt
1 garlic clove

Combine, in heavy kettle with a tight-fitting lid, all ingredients. Bring water to boiling point. Cover pan tightly and reduce heat — skim surface. Simmer for 2 hours, stirring occasionally. (Over-stirring this soup will cause the peas to mash or puree — so just stir gently.) Remove bay leaf and discard. Remove ham bone and cut meat off bone — chop meat into pieces and return to soup. Discard bone. Makes 8 cups.

NAUTICAL CHOWDER

½ cup chopped onion
½ cup sliced celery
¼ cup butter or margarine
3 cups diced, peeled raw potatoes
2 cups water
2 tablespoon flour
2 cups milk
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 can (1 lb.) pink salmon
Chopped parsley
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Saute onion and celery in butter until tender and lightly browned. Add potatoes and water. Simmer until potatoes are just tender, about 15 minutes. Blend flour into ½ cup milk. Add to remaining milk and stir into potato mixture.

Add salt, pepper. Cook slowly until soup is smooth and slightly thickened. Add flaked fish and allow to heat through. Just before serving add lemon juice and chopped parsley. Serves 6-8.

COUNTRY KITCHEN TOMATO SOUP

1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 teaspoon sugar
6 cups milk
1 bay leaf
1 tablespoon minced celery leaves
4-5 sprigs parsley
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon white pepper

Combine tomatoes, onion, celery leaves and sugar in saucepan. Simmer over low heat, stirring occasionally, for 20 minutes. Puree in a blender or press through a fine sieve. Meanwhile combine milk, bay leaf, parsley in saucepan and heat until bubbles appear at edge of milk; remove from heat and let stand for 10 minutes. Remove bay leaf and parsley from milk with a slotted spoon. Melt butter in a large saucepan and stir in flour. Stir in seasoned milk and cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and slightly thickened. Stir in tomoato mixture and cook and stir until well blended. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Serves 6-8.

CHICKEN CORN CHOWDER

1½ pounds chicken parts (drumsticks, thighs, breasts)
½ cup water
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped celery leaves
2 teaspoons salt
2 carrots, pared and thinly sliced
2 medium potatoes, pared and cubed
2 stalks celery, sliced
2 cans (8 oz. ea.) or 1 can (15 oz.) tomato sauce with tomato bits
1 can ( lb. 1 oz.) cream style corn
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning

In large saucepan combine chicken, water, parsley, celery leaves and 1 teaspoon salt; simmer, covered for 30 minutes. Add potatoes, sliced celery and remaining salt; simmer 20 minutes or until chicken and vegetables are tender. Stir in tomato sauce with tomato bits, corn and poultry seasoning; simmer, stirring occasionally, until thoroughly heated. If soup seems to be too thick, add a bit more water. Serves 5 to 6.

NOTE: For easier eating, remove chicken from stock after simmering 30 minutes; remove skin and bones and return meat to stock along with vegetables. Continue cooking as directed.

SOUP TIP: MADE TOO MUCH SOUP? Don't fret — usually the flavors of soups improve upon sitting. Freeze in empty milk cartons — when taken out of freezer, peel cardboard away — place "block" of soup in heavy saucepan and heat slowly.

ITALIAN RUM CAKE, one of Mamma Leone's specialties, which serves 20. For the recipe see Information, Please.

Beauty Authority, Arlene Dahl

When people hear you've just interviewed Arlene Dahl, beauty expert . . . stage and film actress . . . author . . . designer . . . the first question you're asked is, "Is she REALLY that beautiful? Second question, "How old is she?"

And you shake your head in awe and say, "She is the most beautiful woman I've seen in years and years . . . maybe ever." Her age? Miss Dahl volunteers that information herself (perhaps because few women can equal her beauty at half her years); she is 45.

With bright sun glaring, her porcelain-like skin is flawless, blue eyes are fringed with lashes and her softly-coiffured red-gold hair was set for her at the Elizabeth Arden New York salon the day before. Pauline Trigere designed Miss Dahl's two-piece green plaid skirt and coat worn over a black "beauty suit"; lots of gold jewelry at her neck and on her wrists accessorize the costume.

Miss Dahl, Sears National Beauty Advisor, visited Boston recently making personal appearances as she conducted informal question-and-answer sessions in Sears stores.

You are amazed to learn that she grew up considering herself a puny, plain, drab, colorless child who believed she would never equal her mother's beauty. As Miss Dahl put it: "My mother had curves all in the right places . . . gorgeous skin, beautiful green eyes and hair the color of an English setter. Everyone used to compliment her and I wondered how it would feel to be the focus of so much loving attention.

"Mother used to make all my clothes — she designed them as well as sewed them and people would say, 'Oh, isn't she a sweet little girl.' Of course I would much rather have been beautiful than sweet.

"I always had good skin because mother would insist that I wear a hat on the beach and keep out of the sun because I was allergic to it, and she would tell me not to drink coffee because it would color my complexion, and not to smoke because it would make wrinkles prematurely. Well, I thought that if I did all these things I would turn out to look like her.

"When I was 18 I discovered mascara and about that time my figure filled out. People, especially boys, started paying me compliments. At first I thought they were kidding me because when you grow up thinking a certain way it takes time to change your self image.

"Frankly, I've never gotten tired of hearing people say they liked the way I look. I try to do whatever I can to enhance whatever I've been given and I think every woman should do the best she can with what she has. It's not a pretty world all the time and we should put as much beauty into the world as we can. I don't think it should take over all our thinking . . . that would be very shallow, but I think we should dress as well as we can with our budget and then forget about it . . . go out and see what we can do to help the world."

Was it a strain appearing on Broadway last spring in Applause? Arlene Dahl's laugh is musical as she admits, "Oh yes, very much. It was difficult but it was a challenge. I wanted to find out if I could do it, though I hadn't danced or sung in about 10 years. For the first 2 or 3 weeks I felt as though my body were coming apart (we had 9 production numbers)."

It was a sort of crash course [re]ok in singing and dancing and throu[gh] it all I wore my Sears beauty su[it] I discovered that by putting [a] moisturizing lotion on under my [eyes] (it's a lotion I've been using for 15-[20] years) my body felt softer than ever before."

"Incidentally, the lotion is hyper allergenic and I've been told by Virginia Knauer that it is the first cosmetic to be so labeled . . . after all, I've been writing about labeling in my beauty column and talking about it on television — asking women to please stop being guinea pigs for the cosmetic houses because women should know what they are buying."

"I felt that if I brought a lotion out on the market I should practice what I preach. And Sears have agreed with me — they are very consumer-oriented people to deal with."

When asked what Miss Dahl's beauty advice would be for women who are governed by a family budget, her first suggestion was the purchase of a sewing machine. Once a fashion designer with a line of sleepwear, she considers sewing fun.

The second suggestion is the purchase of her Sears beauty suit made of Spandex and Lycra. The suit covers you from the shoulder down to the toes, eliminating the need of girdles, half slips and stockings or pantyhose. (No bra is necessary unless you have a 36-inch or over bustline.) So, in the long run, explained Miss Dahl, though the beauty suit costs $19.95 (in nude or black) you no longer have all the little bulging lines on the thighs and at the waistline.

Arlene maintained that the black suit she was wearing was the same one she wore daily during her spring performance in "Applause" and the suit is still perfect. Care is minimal . . . the suit launders like a dream by hand or in the washing machine.

"Sometimes," said Arlene Dahl, "I make my own cosmetics. If I run out of cold cream, I remove my makeup with mayonnaise. Always use a non-alkaline soap and a good moisturizer on your skin 24 hours a day. Another thing I do [is] take vitamin E every day . . . I also [break] open a vitamin E capsule and apply the liquid under my eyes to lubricate that wrinkle-prone area. I take two vitamin C pills, one vitamin B tablet and gelatin capsules with rose hips, every morning."

In private life Miss Dahl is the wife of Rounseville Wolfinschaum, mother of Lorenzo, 14, Carol[ina], 11, and little Sonny (Rounseville Andrew), who was 2 years old in December. Managing a busy household, acting career, personal appearances as well as guesting on talk shows, how does she do it and appear relaxed and radiant?

"The secret lies in my ability to take cat-naps. I can put my head back and after a short 15 minute nap I awake refreshed. A cup of tea with honey and I'm raring to go. If I were to mention one thing all women should bear in mind, it is the importance of getting a full night's sleep, because when you are rested you can think better, your skin looks better and your eyes are bright and clear."

Does Arlene Dahl consider herself a "liberated" woman? The answer is sincere: "I've been very fortunate in having things come to me'. . . I don't know how successful I would be if I had to go out in business to achieve. I've been very lucky. I have met challenges and I've found them exciting. Hopefully, in some areas, I've been successful, but I have never had the feeling of being oppressed or thwarted in my hopes to do creative things."

Information Please

Ruth Lenson

This is the reader's column. If you have a question or a recipe to share with other readers, please write to: Information, Please, Transcript Newspapers, 420 Washington Street, Dedham, Mass. 02026.

Mrs. T. M., Dedham, sends us a tea loaf recipe given to her by her daughter-in-law. Our thanks to you both!

TROPICAL TEA LOAF

1¾ cups unsifted all purpose flour, divided
½ cup sugared honey wheat germ
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking soda
Two-thirds cup sugar
One-third cup shortening
2 eggs
1½ cups (about 3) mashed bananas
1 cup chopped or pitted dates, snipped

Measure 1½ cups flour, wheat germ, baking powder, salt and soda onto waxed paper. Stir well to blend. Cream sugar, shortening and eggs well. Mix dates with remaining ¼ cup flour. Stir into batter. Spread in well greased and lightly floured 9x5x3-inch or 8½x4½x2⅝-inch loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 60-65 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from rack. Wrap in foil or plastic wrap. Store overnight for easier slicing. Yield: 1 loaf.

Question: I doubt if you can get it, but last night my husband and I were at Mamma Leone's and we just loved their Lasagna and their Italian Rum Cake . . . do you suppose the chef would share these recipes? My husband and family would be very grateful. Thank you. — Mrs. J., Newton.

Answer: Mamma Leone's staff were pleased that you asked — so pleased we received not only the recipes but also a photo of their magnificent rum cake.

MAMMA LEONE'S LASAGNA

1½ pounds wide lasagna
1½ pounds Ricotta cheese
2 cups cooked veal, ground
12 oz. Mozzarella cheese, sliced
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Salt and pepper to taste
Bolognese Sauce (recipe below)

Prepare the Bolognese Sauce allowing time for it to cook thoroughly (3½ hrs.) Cook lasagna according to directions on package. Drain. While lasagna is cooking, mix Ricotta and veal. Set aside. Take a medium size baking pan and pour into it a thin layer of Bolognese sauce. Over the sauce, arrange the cooked lasagna lengthwise making sure the strips overlap at the edges; cover with a thin layer of the veal-Ricotta mixture, a layer of Mozzarella cheese, a sprinkling of Parmesan cheese, and then a layer of lasagna. Continue until all of the ingredients are used finishing with a layer of lasagna, sauce and a thick coating of Parmesan cheese. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven for 25 minutes. Serves 6-8.

BOLOGNESE SAUCE

3 Slices Mortadella
3 slices Prosciutoo
3 slices salami
1 cup ground pork
1 cup ground veal
1 cup ground beef
1 onion, chopped fine
12 mushrooms, chopped fine
2 cloves garlic, chopped fine
16 ounce can beef bouillon
2 bay leaves
¼ pound butter
8 fresh tomatoes, peeled and sliced

Make a Julienne (slice fine) of the Mortadella, Prosciutoo and salami. Melt butter in frying pan; add Mortadella, Prosciutoo, salami and rest of the ingredients (except tomatoes) and saute slowly until medium brown. Add tomatoes and cook till dry. Add bouillon and continue until all of the stock is used up. (About 3½ hours).

MAMMA LEONE'S ITALIAN RUM CAKE

6 egg yolks
6 tablespoons oil
1 cup sugar
Pinch of salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon juice or lemon flavoring
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups cake flour, sifted
6 tablespoons water
6 egg whites
1½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
¼ cup white rum
Filling, below

Take two mixing bowls; one large and one small. In the large bowl place the egg yolks, oil, sugar, salt, baking powder, lemon, vanilla, sifted cake flour, water. With an electric mixer set at medium speed, beat for 8 minutes. Wash and dry prongs of beaters. In second bowl place the egg whites. Set mixer at high speed and beat until frothy. Add sugar and cream of tartar and beat for 3 minutes or until mixture holds peaks. Carefully fold egg white mixture into egg yolk mixture until all egg white mixture disappears. Pour mixture into a large 9 or 10-inch greased and floured cake pan and place immediately into a preheated 350 degree oven. Bake for 50-60 minutes. Test to make sure cake is done. Cool cake in pan for 10-15 minutes. Remove and cut cake lengthwise into three layers. Sprinkle the rum on top of each layer. Set aside.

FILLING

[2] cups milk
[½] cup sugar
4 tablespoons cornstarch
4 eggs
3 tablespoons cocoa (or melted chocolate)

Bring 3 cups milk and the sugar to a boil. Add cornstarch and eggs to the remaining cup of cold milk; beat lightly. Add to boiling milk and cook for 2 minutes, stirring constantly. For chocolate layer, add cocoa or melted chocolate to half of the filling. Mix thoroughly. Cool fillings. On a cake platter, place bottom layer of cake. Spread evenly with chocolate filling. Cover with second layer of cake and spread evenly with white filling. Spread whipped cream or your favorite butter frosting over the top and sides of the cake. Keep in refrigerator at least one hour before serving. Serves 20.

Question: We've recently moved to this area and would like to know if there is a store that specializes in specialty items of Mid-Eastern origin . . . I'm referring to the honey and nut pastries and prepared tiny stuffed grape leaves? Many thanks. — Mrs. T. G., Canton.

Answer: Happy to pass the word — Vicky's Bake Shop, 37 Billings Road, North Quincy, Mass., sell not only the tri-cornered meat pies, spinach pies, stuffed grape leaves and kibbe balls but also the most delectable baklava ever!!

It's just heavenly when people share their favorite recipes! Our thanks to Mrs. Sarah Feinstein of Rhode Island for sending in her family's favorite pudding:

SWEET POTATO PUDDING

2 cups raw grated sweet potatoes
2 tablespoons melted butter or oil
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup molasses
1 cup water
2 eggs, well beaten
¾ teaspoon salt
Grated rind of 1 lemon
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¾ teaspoon cinnamon

Combine all ingredients. Pour into 1-quart baking dish. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees until a crust begins to form. Stir well. Every 10 minutes, stir again. Bake a total time of 40 minutes. Serve hot with meat or poultry or as a dessert (like Indian Pudding with Cool Whip, whipped cream or ice cream).

HELPFUL HINT: For a quick dish to utilize cooked beef, prepare a quick chili: Cube meat and heat with tomato sauce and onions. Add chili powder to taste. Drained kidney beans added last, the entire mixture stirred and heated through and it's a quick budget-minded dish.

Henry F. Owens III

Black History Topic Of Program Sunday

Daughters of Myrtle, Myrtle Baptist Church of West Newton, will present their annual Black History Program on Sunday, Feb. 4, at 4 p.m. at the church.

The guest speaker will be Attorney Henry F. Owens III, now serving as a member of the Cambridge City Council and as its vice mayor.

Owens received his Bachelor of Science Degree from Southern Connecticut State College in 1946 and was selected that same year to visit Africa on an Operation Crossroads Africa Scholarship. He received his Juris Doctorate from Suffolk University Law School in 1967.

His professional experience includes being a legal intern in the office of the attorney general of Massachusetts, participating in an internship program in the office of district attorney of Middlesex County, appointment as assistant district attorney of Middlesex County, legal counsel for the Boston Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, outside defense counsel for Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, evaluator of O.E.O. Legal Services Programs and consultant to I.B.M. These activities kept him occupied from 1966 through 1972.

Owens also serves the community as a director of Harvard-Radcliffe Afro-American Cultural Center, Inc., director of Black Community Fund, Inc., a director of the Cambridge YMCA, director of Boston Traveller's Aid Society and he has membership in the City of Cambridge Bar, Boston Bar, Massachusetts Bar and Middlesex County Bar Associations.

Daughters of Myrtle president, Mrs Elizabeth Nichols, alond with the Program Committee, Miss Louise Triplett and Mrs. Leahnora Hill, cordially invite the public to be guests. Refreshments will be served.

Mother Of Year Addresses City's Church Women United

Massachusetts Mother of the Year Mrs. James H. Shaw will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of Church Women United in Newton on Friday, Feb. 2, at Second Church, 60 Highland St., West Newton, promptly at noon.

Mrs. Fernand Boudreau, president of Church Women United in Newton, will introduce special guests Rev. and Mrs. Richard Bauer.

Rev. Bauer, new minister at Second Church, will give the blessing and Mrs. William C. Lowe, spiritual life chairman, will offer closing devotions.

The annual business meeting will take place after the luncheon. Mrs. Boudreau will present the budget as recommended by Mrs. Walter L. Hill, amendments to the by-laws already furnished to church delegates and the new slate of officers as presented by Chairman Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden of the nominating committee.

Mrs. Shaw was born in Hamilton, Ontario, graduated from McMaster University and moved to Newton Centre with her husband in 1943 when he joined the faculty at Harvard University. Her activities over the years have included teaching Sunday school, hostessing international student suppers, interfaith and bible studies, counselor and homemaker for Radcliffe and Wellesley international students, and several speaking engagements both here and abroad.

Mrs. Shaw was nominated as Mother of the Year by the Harvard and Radcliffe students who were members of the Christian fellowship group with whom she has worked.

Luncheon arrangements are being handled by the Hostess for the Day Mrs. Nelson M. Silk, Jr., president of the Women's Fellowship of Second Church.

While free baby-sitting services will be provided as usual, it is suggested that mothers provide a sandwich for their childrens' lunches.

Fellowship Sunday Set At First Baptist

Dr. Gene E. Bartlett will preach a sermon entitled "Put To Work What You Cannot Put Away" on Communion Sunday, Feb. 4, at the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre.

Morning worship is at 10 a.m. and Adult Education classes begin at 11:15 a.m. Children through the sixth grade are welcome at the Church School which is held from 10 a.m. noon.

This will also be Fellowship Sunday, the occasion when those wishing to join the church are extended the 'Right Hand of Fellowship' and taken into membership. An invitation to participation and membership in the church has been extended to prospective members through the visitations which were made on Sunday, Jan. 28 by over 60 members of the congregations.

The church offers two types of membership: the regular membership, either by baptism, by letter of membership from another congregation, or by Christian experience; and the associate membership, which allows full participation in the fellowship of the church while permitting a person to retain membership in another church.

New members are taken in to the fellowship of the church on Communion Sunday, the first Sunday of each month. Friends and neighbors in the community are encouraged to join in the programs and activities of the First Baptist Church.

Chapter Plans Cellar Auction

Mayflower Chapter B'nai B'rith is planning a "Cellar Sale" to be held on Sunday, Feb. 11 at 515 Walnut St., Newtonville. It will be open to the public from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Chapter President Annette Ross stated that "she is relying on Vice President Shirley Horblitt, Edna Glass, Muriel Cohen and Phyllis Briskin to make the sale a success."

For further information any members of the above committee may be contacted.

Temple Plans Sports Night

Temple Mishkan Tefila's Brotherhood Forum is presenting a sports night on Thursday, Feb. 8.

The evening will feature Celtics star Dave Cowens and Eddie Andleman. It will begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner at $3 for adults and $2 for people under 15.

B'nai B'rith Hosts Rabbi

The Mayflower Chapter and Lodge B'nai B'rith will meet Wednesday Feb. 8, at Temple Reyim, 1860 Washington St. Newton at 8:15 p.m.

The regular business meeting of the chapter will be presided over by President Annette Ross.

Mrs. Irving Pransky, Mayflower Chapter, and Mr. Allen Korb of Mayflower Lodge are chairmen for the evening.

President Eldon Sudalter of the lodge will introduce Rabbi Richard Israel. Rabbi Isreal is Regional Director of B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation of Greater Boston, and Director of Special Projects from National Hillel Foundation. His topic will be: "From the Black Panthers to Brown Rice; Why nothing is New On Campus This Year."

Hospitality Chairman of Mayflower is Mrs. Delores Lebow.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Charlotte Glickman, Mrs. Sylvia Porter and their committee.

Please try to come to this interesting meeting and bring your friends.

Rev. Oscar A. Guinn, Jr., pastor at Carter Memorial United Methodist Church of Needham will be the guest speaker at the annual combined Newton Temple Brotherhood's breakfast scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 18 at 9:30 a.m. in the Temple Emanuel Community Hall. Rev. Guinn's topic will be "The White Man's Relation to Asia." He spent 15 months in China and four years in Malaya. Ben Blocker of Temple Emanuel is chairman of the breakfast.

Drinan Speaks On Powers Of Congressmen

Congressman Robert Drinan will speak at the Ethical Society of Boston on Sunday, February 11, 1973, on the topic "Will Congress Reassert Its Power".

The meeting begins at 11 a.m. and is followed by coffee and informal discussion. It will be held at the Boston Center for Adult Education, 5 Commonwealth avenue, Boston. A childrens meeting for those between 3 and 13 is held at the same hour.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS LAND COURT

Middlesex, ss.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Respectfully represent Peter J. Menconeri and Catherine G. Menconeri of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; that they are owners of a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, shown on a plan of land in Newtonville, dated June 14, 1929, E. S. Smilie, Surveyor and recorded with Middlesex Southern District Deeds, Book No. 5372, Page No. 538. Said parcel is bounded and described as follows: Northwesterly by said Lothrop Street in two courses measuring respectively twenty-six and 77-100 (26.77) feet and forty-eight and 23-100 (48.23) feet; Southwesterly by land now or late of Bertha S. Stratton one hundred nineteen and 70-100 (119.70) feet. Southeasterly by land now or late of Judkins seventy-five (75) feet; and Northeasterly by land of Trussell one hundred twenty-three and 81-100 (123.81) feet.

That the record title to said lot of land is clouded by a mortgage given by Jennie Guberman, to Nathan Weiss dated April 30, 1930, and duly recorded Book 5458, Page 1, purporting to secure a note for $1,500, payable in quarterly installments of $93.00 in or within four years from date with interest annually, which mortgage appears to be undischarged, unassigned and unforeclosed on and by the record.

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said condition no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgage; and

That the mortgagor named in said mortgage and those claiming under have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of time limited in said mortgage for the full performance of the condition thereof.

WHEREFORE your petitioner pray that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20, of the Acts of 1924.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS (SEAL) LAND COURT

No. 66542 Misc. In Equity

To Helen A. Cummins, a-k-a Helen Vail Cummins, of Arlington; Frederick R. Vail, of Belmont, both in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Agnes Young Anderson, of Brookline, in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth, and to all whom it may concern:

Greeting:

Whereas a suit in equity has been begun against you in our Land Court, by Patrick J. Callaghan, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth,

We command you, if you intend to make any defense, that on the first Monday of May next, which Monday is May seventh the return day of this subpoena, or within such further time as the law allows, you do cause your written appearance to be entered and your written answer or other lawful pleading to be filed in the office of the recorder of said court at Boston in the County of Suffolk, and further that you defend against said suit according to law, if you intend to make any defense, and that you do and receive what the court shall order, adjudge and decree therein.

Hereof fail not, at your peril, as otherwise said suit may be adjudged, and orders and decrees entered therein, in your absence.

The petitioner represents that he is the owner of the premises known as and numbered 26-28 Burton Street, Brighton, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth, as evidenced by a deed to him from Francis M. Kelly, Administrator, dated April 20, 1972, duly recorded with the Suffolk Registry of Deeds, Book 8528, Page 118, and with the Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, Book 12191, Page 153; the petitioner further represents that included in said parcel is a small area of land located in Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; the petitioner further represents that through inadvertence and error, ambiguities appear in the lot numbers and description; and the petitioner prays that the Court reform the following deeds:

to read as follows:

"A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated on the Northwesterly side of Burton Street, a short distance Southwest of Hunnewell Avenue in that part of said Boston, formerly Brighton, and extending for a short distance over into Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, comprising Lots 4 and 4A on N. J. Holland's plan, dated June 8, 1903, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds Book 2983, Page 548, and in Middlesex County South District Deeds at the end of Book 3554, that part situated in said Brighton containing 7084 square feet and that part in said Newton containing 850 square feet and said lots are together bounded and described as follows:

SOUTHEASTERLY by Burton Street, 55 feet;

SOUTHWESTERLY by lots 3 and 3A on said plan, 144.27 feet;

NORTHWESTERLY by land now or formerly of Mary B. Whiting, 55 feet; and

NORTHEASTERLY by lots 6A, 6 and 5 on said plan, 144.24 feet."

And it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the petitioner that the whereabouts of some of the respondents are unknown, and they cannot actually be served with process, it is ORDERED that notice be given by publishing a copy of this order once a week for three successive weeks in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in said Newton, the last publication to be two months at least before the said first Monday of May next.

Witness, William I. Randall, Judge of our Land Court, the ninth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventy-three.

ASTROLOGY

By Oscar Weber

LIBERATED WOMAN

Q. Born on October 1, 1944, at 2:50 p.m. in Boston, Mass. Please advise statistics on my Sun Sign. What House is Rising? E. H.

A. The Sign of the Zodiac and the degree of that Sign that is exactly on the Eastern Horizon at the moment of birth is said to be "rising" and is called the Ascendent.

This Eastern Horizon Point is always the "cusp" (beginning) of the First House. The Houses do not move, they are regarded as stationary, it is the Signs of the Zodiac that appear to move around each House of the "wheel" in the chart.

This apparent motion of the Signs of the Zodiac is caused by our planet Earth revolving on its axis completely once each day, somewhat like a spinning top. This is why the time of day of the birth is necessary to calculate which Sign of the Zodiac is on the Ascendent and other Houses at that particular moment.

The Sun Sign means the Sign of the Zodiac that the Sun is in at the moment of birth but during the 24 hours of each day, it may be in any one of the 12 Houses. Perhaps this will clarify your question as to "what House is Rising".

The Sign of the Zodiac Leo was on the "cusp" (beginning) of your First House at the moment of your birth and is therefore your Ascendent. Your Sun was in Libra, conjunct the planet Neptune and in Favorable aspect to the planet Uranus in Gemini, indicative of your desire to be as your letter reveals a "liberated woman".

The Sun-Saturn aspect in your horoscope is indicative of some disappointment or restriction with or through a man or men early in life and you try to maintain your self respect by being independent.

Rate Your Rat Race Rank

Virginia Payette says:

Johnny's teacher may be trying to kick the report - card habit, but Johnny's daddy's boss isn't. He's still looking for ways to pinpoint possible candidates for the executive suite.

And while nobody knows for sure how much industry spends each year on psychological testing, evaluation reports on individual performance and potential probably stretch from the water cooler to the board room.

Whether they mean anything is something only a boss can say, but a new magazine, Futures Conditional, is out with a chart that pokes a little fun at the whole business.

It's called the "interpersonal rating scale, and whoever dreamed it up is still a mystery. (A disillusioned personnel office, no doubt.) But it seems to make as much sense as those occupational ink - blot tests and psychic interpretations of young executives' dreams following the office Christmas party.

And so, for every parent who ever squirmed through a conference of complaints that Johnny wasn't performing "up to his potential," here's the way one puckish wag evaluates contestants in the grownup rat race, in five descending levels from "outstanding" to "unsatisfactory":

QUALITY — leaps tall buildings with single bound; needs running start to leap tall buildings; can only leap small buildings; crashes into buildings; cannot recognize buildings.

TIMELINESS — is faster than speeding bullet; only as fast as a speeding bullet; somewhat slower than a bullet; can only shoot bullets; wounds self with bullets.

INITIATIVE — is stronger than a locomotive; is stronger than a bull elephant; is stronger than a bull; shoots the bull; smells like a bull.

ADAPTABILITY — walks on water consistently; walks on water in emergencies; washes with water; drinks water; passes water in emergencies.

COMMUNICATION — talks with God; talks with the angels; talks to himself; argues with himself; loses those arguments.

RELATIONSHIP — belongs in general management; belongs in executive ranks; belongs in rank and file; belongs behind a broom; belongs with competitor.

PLANNING — too bright to worry; worries about future; worries about present; worries about past; too dumb to worry.

"This chart has the quality of a complex cartoon," explain the editors. "But things like this are funny because they show us the ridiculous in ourselves — and our institutions.

"Hopefully, looking and thinking about this may help us to break out of some of our more ridiculous expectations of others — and ourselves.

That's exactly what I tried to tell those teachers. But they kept rattling on about needing help to "form more meaningful interpersonal relationships" (he fights). . . "developing a mature approach to functional disciplines" (doesn't get his homework in on time). . . and "creating associated motion for information" (I never did figure that one out).

The SLIM Gourmet

Calorie-Conscious Cooking

By BARBARA GIBBONS

While the frost is still on the pumpkin . . . and canned pumpkin is still in your supermarket . . . be sure to try these good Slim Gourmet desserts. Both taste so rich and fattening it's hard to believe they're so calorie-shy! And, best of all, both are super easy. You can whip them up in your blender in just a few minutes . . . even the cake, if you're willing to do a thorough job of scraping out the batter.

MYSTERY SPICE CAKE

We've reduced the calories by using diet margarine and part sugar substitute. Low-calorie canned pumpkin gives this loaf cake a delightfully moist texture and a fascination "what-is-it" flavor that will leave your family guessing!

½ cup diet margarine
½ cup sugar (brown or white) sugar substitute equal to ½ cup
2 large eggs
1 cup plain canned pumpkin
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1½ cups unsifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons raisins

Combine margarine, sugar, substitute, eggs, pumpkin and cinnamon in blender or mixer bowl and beat until smooth. Stir the flour, baking powder, soda and salt together. Add to egg mixture and beat smooth. Stir in raisins. Scrape out every bit of batter into a nonstick loaf pan. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes. Makes 12 slices, 145 calories each.

PUMPKIN CREAM CHEESE PIE

Low-fat pie crust (recipe below)
8 ounces low-calorie cream cheese (or neufchatel cheese)
3 large eggs
1 cup plain canned pumpkin
2 tablespoons skimmed milk
1 tablespoon vanilla
2 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice
pinch of salt
¼ cup sugar
sugar substitute to equal ¼ cup

Prepare pie crust and prebrown in a hot 425-degree oven six to 10 minutes.

Combine all remaining ingredients in blender and beat until smooth. Pour into crust. Bake in a preheated 275-degree oven for one hour. Chill. Makes eight slices, 174 calories each.

LOW FAT PIECRUST: stir together ½ cup all-purpose flour, pinch of salt, 2 tablespoons corn oil and 4 teaspoons ice water. Knead into a flat ball. Chill thoroughly before rolling. Roll very thin. Line a pie pan with pastry. Puncture bottom surface in several places with a fork before baking.

When You Know All, You Tell

I've just discovered what it was that washed Life Magazine down the drain. It was a fellow named L. Rust Hills who, by his own admission, recently dropped out of what is called "the world," and now spends his time thinking.

L. Rust Hills, formerly a magazine fiction editor (Esquire and The Saturday Evening Post), does his thinking in Stonington, Conn., far from the madding crowds in the madding city. And he also does a lot of daydreaming.

It was because of one of his daydreams — and his FAILURE TO DO ANYTHING ABOUT IT — that Life had to fold. L. Rust Hills tells about it, modestly, of course, in his Doubleday book entitled, "How to Do Things Right — The Revelations of a Fussy Man." (On the dust jacket Mr. Hills says: "Why is your whole life in a mess? It is because you never do anything right. If you have any strength left, buy this book and CHANGE before it is too late.")

He then reveals under "Contents" that some of the things he's going to tell you how to do right include:

"How and When Properly to make and Eat Milk Toast."

"How to Know Whether to Get Up and Fix the Way the Television Picture Is Revolving or Wait and See if It Fixes Itself."

"How to Organize a Family Picnic (and Keep It That Way)."

"How to Do Four Dumb Tricks with a Package of Camels."

Well, I've dipped into some of his how - to - do magic in each of these categories, and I can't say that I'm overwhelmed. Mr. Hills, for instance, devotes nine pages to telling how and when properly to make and eat milk toast, and he cautions that after the toast is prepared you should begin eating by cutting pieces out of the middle of toast with your spoon, "allowing the four crusts to curl up somewhat out of the milk, so they will remain crisp longest." All of this is lost on me because I hate milk toast and wouldn't eat it under any circumstances!

His explanation of how to do four dumb tricks with a package of Camels proves that he was absolutely right when he said the tricks were dumb. (One of the dumb tricks isn't ALL bad, but it requires the use of a mirror, and since I can't furnish you with a mirror along with this column, there's no point in describing it.)

I did get some advice from his chapter on "How to Set An Alarm Clock" — always remember to wind it (unless it's electric, and then you do something else that I couldn't quite figure out), and to settle it, and to pull out the little knob. I'm grateful for this knowledge, and it probably will prevent future failures.

And I sort of liked his chapter on "How to Care for and About Ashtrays" — "It should never be necessary to wash an ashtray, if it is kept clean and dry." (Or if it's never used.)

But Mr. Hills' real value, I think, lies in his daydreaming, and the things it could accomplish. And the really important segment of his daydreaming chapter is headed: "I Save LIFE."

In it he says that when he was daydreaming, people like Hedley Donovan and James Linnen approached him, called him "Rust," saying: "You don't mind if we call you 'Rust,' do you?" and explained that LIFE was in trouble because advertising was soft, circulation was expensive, and television was sapping the vitality of its photojournalism.

The Life executives, in this daydream, begged old Rust to take over Life, become its editor, and turn it into a magazine that would run nothing but serious literary fiction.

"You could pay," they said, "absolutely top rates, have three of four major novels running in serial simultaneously, eight or ten stories by Famous Name Writers and Promising Young Writers, plus a couple of novellas, EACH WEEK!"

The great men ivplored old Rust to take the assignment, starting at 50 thou a year, working up to a hundred thou in no time, and with lots of dandy fringe benefits. With tears in their eyes they said: "You don't want to see Life go the way of Collier's, the Post, and Look, do you?"

But good old Rust spurned them in his daydream, and that's how Life went down the drain. Just thought you'd like to know.

Professor Or Doctor

by Amy Vanderbilt

"Dear Miss Vanderbilt: I have noted your several references to the fact that at Harvard and Vanderbilt (and perhaps at other universities) holders of the Ph.D. do not use their titles, but are Mr., Miss or Mrs. as the case may be. I note, however, that you feel that the trend is definitely toward giving Ph.D. full honors socially and professionally. But here is my problem: A man is both a Ph.D. and a professor. Which title takes precedent socially and professionally? — S.G.R., Madison, Wis."

I presented this question to North Callahan who has both a Ph.D. and a professorship (at New York University). He is also the author of a number of historical novels for adults and young people, the latest of which is "George Washington, Soldier and Man" (Morrow $7.95), an adult book.

Prof. Callahan says, "I believe the term professor usually outranks that of Dr. if the holder of the rank is on a college or university faculty. A young Ph.D. is a doctor even when he graduates and he may be only an instructor before he becomes an assistant professor."

"A few, but very few any more, professors have no doctoral degrees, but attained their rank by their writings or research and before the doctorate became required for appointment."

"So, if a man is a professor, he should, in my opinion, be called that, assuming he officially holds that rank in the university."

"As to the use of 'Mr.' in addressing a faculty member, I have heard it used some, but feel that such is bending over backward to be modest, particularly after one has worked hard for years to earn such a position."

In other words, he feels his professorship does outrank his doctorate and friends do address him socially as Prof., too, in both written and spoken address. I'd be interested in hearing from other professors as to their own preference in the matter.

Businesswoman's Card

"Dear Miss Vanderbilt: Should a woman's business card have her title on it? Recently I ordered informals from a quality shop and requested that the name be set in lower-case letters without a title before my name so that my informals would match my business cards. I was told flatly by the clerk that this was completely incorrect, that they would prefer not to print the informals in this way. They told me that I should also have a title on my business cards, rather than just my first and last name.

"I don't see why I can't have the informals printed in lower-case letters if that's what I prefer, and why, if they are 'informal,' I have to have 'Miss' before my name. Should I use Ms.? Perhaps you can clear this up for me. — A. H., Long Beach, Calif."

On one thing I can agree with you — you have every right to have your name in lower case although, it would be unusual on an informal. I agree that a woman's business card should carry her title. I have yet to see Ms. on such a card, but I suppose some women will insist on it.

My readers know how I feel about Ms. and I was greatly heartened by an AP release from Rockville, Conn., which quoted the Journal-Inquirer there, saying it had started using Ms. instead of the standard Miss or Mrs. on Feb. 24, but had just dropped it as a result of a poll indicating that 82 per cent of those responding were against the Ms. designation. The story stated, "The response began instantly and has continued until this very day — the greatest outpouring of letters and telephone calls we have ever received on any subject."

It went on to say, "The fact remains . . . (the) Ms. . . . has become a chronic irritant to the vast majority of our readers . . . We are returning to the traditional Mrs. and Miss designations, effective with this issue."

The reason I have always recommended that women's business cards carry a title is that the title omitted makes the card seem masculine. In some cases, where a woman's name could be a man's, it is confusing. And a woman with no title on her card leaves people in doubt as to how to address her. Surely she doesn't want everybody to call her by her first name or, alternatively, by her full name. It is awkward when people have to say, "Are you Mrs. or Miss?"

I believe that women in business should retain their maiden names and call themselves Miss. They should keep their social lives out of it, but socially become Mrs. John Smith. A job needs to be done on the benefits and satisfactions of the millions of good marriages, in which the husband does not try to put down the wife, nor the wife the husband. Post cards, please, with your comments.

(Amy Vanderbilt welcomes your letters and strives to answer all those of general interest in her column. Send your questions and comments to her in care of (name of your paper).)

From The Inside

by Frank Van Der Linden

A fight to hold down Federal spending and to avoid a tax increase will be the Republicans' main issue in this Congress and in their efforts to take control of the House away from the Democrats in the 1974 elections.

In private strategy conferences on Capitol Hill, the Republicans have agreed to give maximum help to President Nixon's coming clash with the Democratic Congress over control of the budget.

The Democrats will try to pass popular bills over the President's veto — bills containing billions for water and sewer projects, schools, health, welfare, farm programs. It will be tough for his own party members to stand with him.

"We'll be whiplashed by the lobbyists for each pressure group," said Rep. John B. Conlan, the articulate conservative from Phoenix, Ariz., the newly elected president of the "93rd Club." It's composed of the 43 new minority members of the 93rd Congress.

In an effort to curb "the grab - bag boys," as Conlan calls the pressure groups, many Republicans will support a bill to wrap up all Federal spending into a single bill, instead of the present system of approving funds for various departments in separate measures.

"We freshmen will push very heavily for budget reform," the former Arizona state senator said. "We think it's incredible to have one bill zinging out one day for the Defense Department, another bill for education, another for something else. This causes 'pork barrel-itis.'

"Instead, we want a single money bill," he said. "let's see it all out in the open and make an intelligent decision. If it's too much, send it back to committee and cut it down."

Warned that the single money bill would be fiercely opposed by the veteran Democrats who head the Appropriations subcommittees and by the whole party hierarchy in Congress, Conlan replied: "We'll put them on the spot. If the Democrats refuse to pass the bill we will take it to the voters in 1974."

He has had some encouraging conversations with presidential assistants about the single money bill proposal.

"None that I can talk about," Conlan said. "I'm sure that we'll get White House cooperation, though."

Conlan, 42, won Arizona's new Congressional seat last fall by beating Jack Brown, a liberal Democrat who endorsed Sen. George McGovern in the state's presidential primary. Sen. Barry Goldwater crisscrossed his home state by air, campaigning for the Nixon-Agnew-Conlan ticket.

When the "93rd Club" met a few days ago the conservatives smoothly elected their entire slate of officers after beating down, 30 to 10, a motion by the moderate-liberals to adjourn without electing anybody.

Chosen with Conlan were George O'Brien of Illinois, vice-president; Donald Mitchell of New York, Secretary; Marjorie Holt of Maryland, treasurer; Trent Lott of Mississippi and Harold Froehlich of Wisconsin, Policy Committee members; and David Treen of Louisiana, the freshmen's spokesman on the executive committee that assigned all Republicans to their legislative committees.

Conalan insisted "it was no coup d'etat," just a harmonious election.

Gradeless English

No one should ever get an F in English, says the National Council of Teachers of English. The council's new grading policy stresses the student's personal and social growth, his learning exploration, his study habits, and states that a student's progress be measured through methods other than the assignment of a letter or numerical grade.

The Council's grading committee soon will offer recommendations on how the new grading policy can be implemented by the Council's membership.

SEATBELT Safety

Safety experts say seatbelts lengthen the stopping distance of the body that is suddenly jerked during an auto accident. This means that instead of having all the force let out at the spot where a passenger's head hits the dashboard, the stopping energy is spread over a wider area.

Seven out of 10 toys are purchased by parents for their own children.

Program by Conservatory Dance Majors

The first winter program of new works choreographed and performed by the Boston Conservatory Dance Majors will be held Saturday, Feb. 3, at 8:30 p.m. and be repeated at a matinee performance on Sunday, Feb. 4, at 3 p.m. Both performances will be given in the Conservatory Theatre, 31 Hemenway street, Boston. Admission is free and the public is cordially invited.

The Boston Conservatory Dance Department, currently under the chairmanship of noted dancer Ruth Sandholm Ambrose, was founded in 1945 by the late internationally-known dancer and choreographer Jan Veen. The Department has 15 full-time instructors and teachers-in-residence, guest artists, 110 Degree and Diploma students and extension courses with an enrollment of over 250 students per semester.

the 1972-73 school racial census figures but that the material actually was apparently based on the 1971-72 census figures.

Judge Sullivan indicated in his report that young children in the elementary grades should go to schools closer to their homes than boys and girls attending high schools.

"I placed particular emphasis on the elementary school districts," Judge Sullivan stated. "Here the schoolchildren are of tender years (five to 11 years old). Quite obviously, much more care must be taken in consideration of safety factors. Here, also, much more concern must be exercised in the determination of the distance the young child is moved from home; and the importance of reasonable proximity of the school to his or her own neighborhood assumes great importance.

"In contrast, these same considerations, although important, are not nearly as compelling for the high school student of 16 to 18 years of age, who is or should be accustomed to public transportation and is or should be more easily adjustable to strange surroundings."

From our study of Judge Sullivan's report, painstakingly presented and carefully supported with quotations from the general laws and Supreme Court decisions, it seems that it would be difficult to take substantial issue with any part of it.

History To Record Johnson As A Truly Great President

History undoubtedly will record Lyndon B. Johnson as a great President.

His domestic accomplishments, especially in the area of civil rights, were outstanding even though he was the Presidential candidate of the South at the 1960 Democratic National Convention.

Johnson plunged the United States too deeply into a war that became unpopular before the end of his own full term as President.

He relied too heavily on the advice of the generals and the professional military men and tried to win a war that couldn't be won. But he excelled on the home front.

Lyndon Johnson was a politician's politician. Few men were better equipped by training and experience for the Presidency than was he.

He ascended to it at a time of great tragedy and under circumstances of great disadvantage to himself after John F. Kennedy had been assassinated in his home state of Texas.

Our own personal memory of LBJ was of the losing fight he waged for the Presidential nomination at the '60 convention and of his debate with John Kennedy at which each took some pains not to bruise the feelings of the other.

When JFK won that battle, Mr. Johnson, like the true professional he was, brushed aside any disappointment, accepted the No. 2 spot on the ticket with John F. Kennedy and later stepped into the breach in a manner few men could have equaled, on Kennedy's death.

Some of the articles written about the supposedly unfeeling manner in which he conducted himself in the Presidential airplane immediately after John Kennedy's assassination seemed unfair to him. He had human faults and failings, but he was a great President and basically a kind, warm-hearted individual.

History will rank him with Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt, Truman and Kennedy.

Conjecture If North Viets Will Honor Own Peace Pact

Many knowledgeable Washington officials are privately apprehensive that Hanoi will not honor indefinitely the peace pact to which it agreed.

If it does, it probably will be because of pressure exerted on it by the Soviet Union which now wants peace in Indo China because of its own problems with Red China.

However, fear exists that the North Vietnamese government will resume fighting in South Vietnam when it serves its purposes to do so.

There is considerable doubt concerning the ability of the South Viets to defend themselves in the event fighting again erupts after the last United States forces have been withdrawn.

But President Nixon had little alternative but to obtain the best peace agreement he could get out of Vietnam with the prisoners held captive by the Hanoi government.

American public opinion would not allow the U.S. to maintain forces in Vietnam indefinitely to hold the North Vietnamese at bay.

It is to be hoped that the future will not see a wholesale slaughter of the South Vietnamese by their more belligerent neighbors to the north. That is a risk Mr. Nixon had to take.

Diet-

tipped the scales at 70 pounds when she was three.

She was on diet pills for almost 20 years and got off them herself when she realized the damage it was doing to her mental health.

"I like the other diet groups are too structured for me," she stated. "As with the diet pills they didn't suit my personality. The key is people caring. That people call every day convinces me of this," she concluded.

Sue, another Newton housewife, has lost pounds since she entered the program a month ago and stated enthusiastically, "We have found people in the program are completely honest. We have to be. We'd only be cheating ourselves and hurting our friend on the other end of the telephone."

Carol told of the program member who gained four pounds overnight when her "friend" forgot to call her one day. "The key to diet maintenance for those of us who have failed every other way is the reward of knowing someone cares for us. All humans have this need, and we have found a way to satisfy it."

Carol emerged from the anonymity of her group over a low calorie salad in a local restaurant. She wants to publicize the success she and her small army of dieters have gained in order that others may share in it.

"All they have to do is reach for the telephone instead of that chocolate mousse, and I'll be waiting to listen," concluded Carol.

enthusiastic," although he made no mention of peace or of coming home. The letter was written, she said, November 29, 1972.

She said she thought her son had "no idea" that a settlement was imminent in the war.

Asked what would be the first thing she would like to do when she has Paul back home, Mrs. Brown said happily: "Find out what he wants to do."

She said military officials have told POW families "not to plan too much."

Capt. Brown has one brother, Thomas of Long Island New York; and two sisters, Mrs. Judith Whitsit of Downey, Calif.; and Mrs. Carol Jacobson of New Hampshire, that will round out the "welcoming team." His father, Thomas G. Brown, died while he was a prisoner of war.

Carol Martin of 376 Ward St., Newton Centre, Major Temperley's cousin, said "We feel great!"

She said the major's mother, Mrs. Sarah Temperley Hopf of North Falmouth, got a telephone call from the Pentagon at about 10 p.m. Saturday night officially informing her that her son would return.

Mrs. Martin was given the good news early Sunday morning by her father, and she said he also told the pastor of Newton Centre Methodist Church that official word had been received in time for a prayer during the Sunday service

The family does not know, she said, how long a period of rehabilitation Russ will need, but they do know he will be going to Andrews Air Force Base.

"We figure he'll head for New Hampshire when he's released," she said, "because he loves it so much."

Stays-

Judge Chmilisky sat on the Worcester case last year and ruled the city could not send out tax bills until all property was assessed at 100 per cent.

Tax bills in Newton for the year 1972 have already been sent out and the taxpayer's suit appears to have no affect on the current bills but the action may have a dramatic impact on the bills which will be prepared for 1974.

The taxpayers have been threatening to sue to force revaluation in the city since last fall when the matter came up before the Board of Aldermen.

Aldermen at that time voted to recommend the mayor establish a committee to study the matter and determine, in its judgement, if the city should use its own assessors, hire an outside firm, or use a combination of the two methods to carry revaluation out.

Gellerman said at that time that the taxpayers he represents were not "satisfied" with the city's action and the suit would proceed.

Since the Supreme Judicial Court originally ruled that property must be assessed at "fair market value," several Massachusetts cities and towns have been forced to reassess by taxpayers' suits.

Deliberations on Newton's 1973 budget are scheduled to begin shortly, and $8 is the speculated increase over the 1972 rate of $139.60, a jump of about $18 over 1971.

Newton also faces the prospects of dealing with an 18-month budget this year. The State Legislature voted several years ago to use an 18-month budgetary cycle in order to bring cities and towns into line with the fiscal cycle used by the state and federal governments.

The change in cycle will also enable cities and towns to pass budgets before the fiscal year begins. Under the present system, three months of the fiscal year beginning in January elapse before budgets are approved.

The next Newton tax bills are scheduled to go out June 14 and would begin the 18-month cycle. According to Comptroller Arthur Marr, two thirds of the June bill would be due Nov. 1 and the last third would be due May 1, 1974.

After May 1, 1974, Marr said, taxes will be paid twice a year, on May 1 and Nov. 1.

Players Are Preparing Zindel's 'Miss Reardon'

By special permission of Dramatics Player Service the Newton Country Players are presenting Paul Zindel's recent hit Broadway play, "And Miss Reardon Drinks A Little."

Zindel is alwo the author of the prize winning play, "The Effects of Gamma Rays — On Man-in-the Moon Marigolds," and "The Secret Life of Mildred Wilde," which just had its pre-Broadway run in Boston.

"Miss Reardon" is the story of three school teacher sisters. The three central roles will be taken by Marilyn Krassin, Sandra Deming and Pat Pellows.

Players President Sandy Deming, will play the part of Anna Reardon. A loyal worker, Mrs. Deming served as stage manager for "See How They Run" and producer for last sping's show "Gold in the Hills." She was also producer for the Players highly acclaimed "Sam Stiller, Private Eye"

On stage for the Players, Mrs. Deming created the role of Helen Clark in "We Have Always Lived in the Castle" and Cynthia in "Everything in the Garden."

A native of England, she studied elocution and drama under Louise Senior, a well-known British actress and teacher, winning awards for interpretive readings in a number of regional drama festivals and at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art.

Working with the Bradford Civic Theatre, she played Hermia in "A Mid-Summers' Night Dream". Olivia in "Twelfth Night", the Madwoman in "Jane Eyre" as well as roles in "The Chairs", "The Lesson", "The Mikado", "Separate Tables", "The Matchmaker" and "Pirates of Penzance". During her husband's tenure of service in Germany, she was involved in many theatrical ventures for the Speical Services and the U.S.O.. including her portrayal of Sylvia in "The Tender Trap". Her initial dramatic effort upon arrival in the United States in 1965, was the title role in "Antigone" at Marietta College, Ohio.

Mikki Krassin, as Catherine Reardon, adds another credit to her long list of appearances with the Players. Mrs. Krassin, past president of the Player is currently advisor to the board and has worked in such diversified technical and administrative areas of production as producer, business manager, sponsor, chairman, meeting hostess and as a member of the reading committee.

On stage with the players, she has portrayed the female lead roles of Elizabeth Corbin in "Catch Me If You Can," Vera Claythorne in "Ten Little Indians," Grandma in "The American Dream." Chantal in "The Balcony," for which she won Honorable Mention at the New England Theatre Conference Drama Festival and Mrs. Toothe in "Everything in the Garden". She was also stage manager for "Sam Stiller, Private Eye" and producer for "Little Mary Sunshine."

A graduate of Ithaca College, she appeared there in "Antigone", "Lady Mcduff", "Kasandra" and as Judith in "The Devil's Disciple."

In three seasons with the Malden Bridge Playhouse, N.Y., her roles included, Elaine Harper in "Arsenic and Old Lace," Rebecca Gibbs in "Our Town," Pat Stanley in "The Male Animal," Stella Livingston in "Light up the Sky," Margaret in "A Hasty Heart," Patty in "The Moon is Blue" and Edith Chauvenet in "Harvey". Mrs. Krassin has also appeared as Varda in "Seven Days of Mourning" for the National Jewish Theatre at Brandeis University and is currently conducting a class in Drama at the Rebecca Pomroy House.

A noted actress and raconteur, Pat Bellows, will portray the role of Ceil Adams. Mrs. Pellows has appeared on stage for the Players as Mother Colpepper in "The Dastard", Dr. Marion Armstrong in "Ten Little Indians", and the Lady in "War" for which she won the Best Supporting Actress Award at the New England Theatre Conference Drama Festival. Other credits with the Players include, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," "Catch Me if You Can," and "Bells Are Ringing." She directed and was featured in the playlet "Fumed Oak," and performed in the playlet "Dinner for One."

Mrs. Pellows is also a past president of the Players.

Her screen credits include the Steve McQueen film "The Thomas Crown Affair", the role of Mrs. Nemur in the award winning film "Charlie" with Cliff Roberston and Claire Bloom and the Jack Lemmon feature "The Out-of Towners".

Previous roles included Edith in "It's Never Too Late" for the Circle Players, Kate in "Taming of the Shrew" and the title role in "Elizabeth the Queen" for the Revere Thespians, Mother in "The Inspector Calls", Winifred in the "Vinegar Tree" and Amy in "Summer and Smoke" for the Tufts Arena Theatre, Alice in "Dear Brutus" for the Peabody Playhouse and Mrs. Charpolsky in "Seven Days of Mourning" for the National Jewish Theatre. She has also appeared at the B.U. Hillel House in "Black Zion" for the National Jewish Theatre.

Mrs. Pellows wrote and directed the musical shows "Rumania Mania" and "Rumania Stew", has executed One-Woman shows, stage make-up demonstrations, costuming and commercials for local radio and TV programming.

Making their debuts with the Players are Florence Osman and Ben Berg, both of Newton. For Mrs. Osman, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., and an 18-year resident of Newton, the role of Mrs. Pentrano marks her first time on stage. Mrs. Osman teaches Russian at Brookline High School.

Berg, a student at Newton North, has "run lights" for many Players productions and will make his first appearance under the Players banner as the Delivery Boy.

Bob Reed, in the part of Bob Stein, delighted Newton audiences with his portrayal of Moonface in the Players Fall show "Anything Goes". Reed directed "The Boyfriend" at Meadowbrook Junior High School last spring and is director for their next production "The Music Man". Night club audiences have enjoyed his impressions of musical comedy stars.

Making her fourth appearance with the Players as Fleur Stein, is West Roxbury, resident Paula Grossman. Ms. Grossman a graduate of Ithaca College, appeared as The Girl in "The Balcony", The Mother in "The Tale of The Donkey" and Mrs. Wright in "We Have Always Lived in the Castle" for the Players. She has also been active in Summer Stock appearing as Demetria in "On Borrowed Tine", Kate in "Exit The Body", Phoebe in "The Best Laid Plans", and Cornelia in "East Lynn" for the Town Meeting Playhouse, Jeffersonville, Vermont. Cathleen in "Long Day's Journey into Night" for the Hutchinson Theatre, Raymond, N.H. Edith in "High Spirits" and Mrs. Spoffard in "Gentlemen Prefer Blonds" for the Off Broadway, Ogunquit, Me. Ms. Grossman has also performed in Regional and Dinner Theatres in Connecticut and Massachuetts and has acted as producer, stage manager property mistress and Public Relations Representative for theatre companies in the New England area.

"And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little" will be performed Friday and Saturday nights February 9, 10, 16 and 17 at 8:30 p.m. at the Pomroy Playhouse, 84 Eldredge St., Newton. Tickets are now on sale.

CREATIVE DRAMATICS — Although creative dramatics generally has not been used in elementary schools in the Commonwealth, institutions like Boston College and Beethoven School in Newton are finding innovative ways to incorporate dramatics into tthe children's school day so that they can develop a broader range of communication skills. Here, Beethoven third graders are working on mime.

Chorale Performs Saturday

The Masterworks Chorale of Lexington, under the direction of Allen Lannom, will present the New England premiere of Rossini's "Petite Messe Solennele" Saturday (Feb. 3) at 8:30 p.m. in Sanders Theater, Cambridge.

The chorale will be accompanied by two pianos and a harmonium, in accordance with the directions given by Rossini. Beverly Schiebert of 62 Otis St., Newton, will be the harmonium accompanist. She is also the music director at Christ Church in Harvard Square.

"Petite Messe Solennelle" is illustrative of Rossini's great love for opera composition. The solos are arias and the Chorale parts are similar to what might be sung by an operatic chorus.

The soloists, all from New York, will be Barbara Shuttleworth, soprano; Mary Gayle Dowson, mezzo-soprano; Carl Olsen, tenor; and Jay Hilborn, bass. The pianists will be Sharon Ensminger and Elissa Putukian.

Tickets, $2, $3, and $4 will be available at the door.

Debut Of 'Collage' At Conservatory

The New England Conservatory of Music will present the Boston debut of "Collage", the contemporary music ensemble of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, on Friday, Feb. 2.

The group is a unique ensemble whose aim is to form an atmosphere of musical involvement, a union of composer, performer and listener. The program they have selected for Friday's concert in Jordan Hall includes several premiere performances, as well as first Boston performances of new works.

Included in the program are: Mario Davidovsky's "Synchronisms No. 2"; "Hymn for Cello and Bass", by Robert Ceely, NEC faculty member; "Quartet: The Three Seasons of Autumn," by Robert Selig, NEC faculty member; Oliver Knussen's "Ocean de Terre"; "Time Cycle", by Lukas Foss; and "Nocturnes," by conservatory faculty member Tibor Pusztai, who will direct his work in its first Boston performance.

Regular members of "Collage" are Frank Epstein, percussion (NEC faculty); Ronald Feldman, cello; Paul Fried, flute; Felix Viscuglia, clarinet (NEA faculty); Ronald Knudsen, violin; and Lawrence Wolfe, contrabass (NEC faculty)—all members of the BSO. Other members are Ina Hahn, dancer; Joan Heller, soprano; and Christopher Kies, piano.

The concert is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. in Jordan Hall on Feb. 2. Admission is $2, $.50 with student identification. Tickets are available through the Jordan Hall box office.

Newton South Prepares Musical

Students at Newton South High School are now working on their annual musical production.

The theater arts and music departments are preparing to stage Irving Berlin's "Annie Get Your Gun." Last year, the musical production was "Zorba."

The production includes a cast of more than 40 singers and dancers, featuring Beth Rothenberg as Annie Oakley, Ed Hornsby as Frank Butler, Larry Benders as Charlie Davenport, Cheryl Kaplan as Dolly Tate, Gary Kaplan as Buffalo Bill, Andy Schulmas as Pawnee Bill and Andrew L. Golov as Chief Sitting Bull.

The performances will be given Tuesday through Friday evenings, Feb. 13, 14, 15 and 16 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. Tickets will go on sale Monday (Feb. 5) at Newton South High School.

Admission is $2.50. Tickets can be reserved by calling 969-9810, ext. 342 anytime from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

Young Skiers Continue Lessons

Recreation Commissioner John B. Penney reports that 15 boys and girls have enrolled in the Ski Instruction Program conducted Tuesday afternoons at Waltham's Prospect Hill Ski Area.

The program opened Jan. 23 for a four week period. A few vacancies still exist for Feb. 6 and 13.

Newton youngsters, wishing to register, should call the recreation department at 969-3171. Pupils must supply their own ski equipment.

Classes conducted by instructors from the Bob Dunn Ski School begin at 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. for beginners and advanced beginners, respectively.

Transportation to the Prospect Hill Ski Area is furnished by the Newton Recreation Department. A bus leaves the Newton Centre Playground at 1:15 p.m. and the Albermarle Playground at 1:40 p.m.

The Adult Badminton Program has resumed after a two week layoff due to repair work in the gym of the Warren Junior High School. The program is conducted at the school Thursday nights from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. with Mrs. Jennie Rogan supervising. Interested adults from Newton may contact Mrs. Rogan at the school on Thursday nights. There are still a few openings left for anyone over 16 years of age.

According to William J. Barry, recreation supervisor, the West Newton Youth Center Gym Program has also resumed Saturdays from 7:30 p.m. to 11 p.m. at the Warren gym.

This very successful program for junior and high school age boys and girls is conducted for the recreation department by the Newton Community Service Centers and directed by Mrs. Karen Wright. The program includes street hockey, basketball, volleyball and gymnastics.

In the city basketball program the defending champions, Waban Wonders, and the Silver Lake Electronics share the lead in the A Division of the American League with identical 4 and 0 records. The Newton Centre Pizza Club and George's Cafe are tied for second with three wins and one loss each.

The Waban Wonders handed the Newton Centre Pizza Club its only loss of the season beating them 92 to 86 in double overtime.

In the B Division, the Newton Boys' Club, last year's champ, are alone on top with four wins and no losses. Next is the Stumblebums, three and 0; Oakley Spa, three and one, and the Lovemen and the Lidonni Club with two and one records

In the National Basketball League the Hawthorn Lakers are off to a fast start with five wins and no losses. In second spot, the brewers, three and one; third, Newton Boys Club, three and two; and Newton Centre and the No Names with two and three records are tied for fourth place.

In reporting on the Pony League, recreation supervisor Robert Doherty states that the Newton Boys Club and the Sacred Heart Club share the lead with three wins and no losses each. In second place with a two and one record are the Warren Red Devils and Newton Centre is next with a one and two record.

A mother-daughter exercise class will begin the week of Feb. 19, according to Recreation Supervisor Fran Towle. Interested women should contact Miss Towle at 969-3171.

The class, to be directed by Mrs. Barbara Valinsky, is for mothers with daughters in the fourth, fifth or sixth grades.

Organized practices and scrimmages for the Girls' Junior High School Basketball League will be held from 1:30 to 4:30 on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 3. Play in the six-team league is scheduled to get underway Feb. 7 with games starting at 6 p.m., 7 p.m., and 8 p.m.

Fran reports in a sneak preview that plans are being made for a gymnastic clinic for junior high girls after the February vacation.

In a final note, recreation staffers remind the public to keep off the dangerous ice surfaces throughout the city. Information on skating conditions may be obtained by calling 969-2851.

Chamber Releases Agency Directory

The Directory of Newton Agencies and Organizations for 1972 - 1973 has just been published by the Newton - Needham Chamber of Commerce.

It includes information on elected officials, city departments, schools, PTA organizations, civic, business, fraternal, social, health and educational groups, as well as a listing of all churches and temples, together with names of the presidents (or chairmen), addresses and telephone numbers. The directory is the most complete listing of organizations and governmental structure of Newton in existence.

Those agencies and organizations that share in United Fund allocations are described in detail, together with their programs and functions.

In previous years the directory was published by the Newton Community Chest and Council, but since the regionalization of United Community Services and the elimination of the local office of the Newton Community Chest and Council, the Chamber agreed to publish this year's directory on at - cost basis.

Copies are available at nominal charge at the Chamber's office (437 Cherry street, West Newton) and will soon be available in branch libraries. For futher information, please call 244-5300.

Two Performances Of Jonson Play Slated

The drama department of the Cambridge School, Weston, will produce Ben Jonson's "Bartholomew Fair" on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 8 and 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the student activities building.

With a student cast of 23, including Adam Gross, Chris Lovell and Dorothy Nemetz, all of Newton, plus many in the stage crew, the play is a "series of counterplots, subplots, and superplots among the Fair, the Flesh, and the Fowl-cosmic piggerie, 1614."

T. S. Eliot, speaking of the playwright, said, "Of all the dramatists of his time, Jonson (1572-1637) is probably the one man whom the present age would find the most sympathetic, if it knew him."

Directed by Robin Wood, and lighting designed by Janis Rosenberg, admission to the play will be $1, with tickets available at the door.

Campus Notes

Miss Lee Seymour, 125 Aspen Avenue, Newton, is a recent graduate of the Barbizon School of Modeling and has qualified to register with the Barbizon Modeling Agency for professional assignments.

While studying at the Boston modeling school, Miss Seymour received extensive, personalized training and instruction in showroom, retail, fashion, television and photographic modeling techniques from a faculty of professional modeling instructors.

Miss Seymour modeled a variety of smart outfits before invited guests in a fashion show, graduation exercise narrated by Miss Charolotte Scott, Barbizon Modeling Agency director.

VOL. 98 NO. 6 NEWTON, MASS., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1973 PRICE FIFTEEN CENTS

$42 Million School Budget Approved

AN ENTERTAINING AFTERNOON — The 97 members of the Claflin School Glee Club packed the Heritage Hill Nursing Home in Newton Lower Falls last week to stage a performance for residents. Under the leadership of director Thomas Wormwood, music consultant for the Newton Public Schools, the chorus cheerfully ran through a repertoire of contemporary, patriotic and nostalgic songs. Accompanying the chorus of fourth, fifth and sixth graders were Susan Wessel (flute) and Laurajean Goldberg (violin). (Anthony Lupo Photo)

Monday night's meeting of the School Committee cost Newton txpayers precisely $42,390,985.

The figure represents the total amount budgeted for city public schools for the period Jan. 1, 1973, to June 30, 1974, and was approved at Monday's meeting following six weeks of discussion and price trimming. Last year's 12-month approved budget was $24.9 million.

All School Board members voted in favor of the budget. Mayor Theodore D. Mann, whose vote can be tie-breaking in some cases, chose to abstain. The final tally was eight affirmative votes and one abstention.

The Committee's approval signifies an historic first for Newton, an act which will this year duplicated all over the Commonwealth: the passage of an 18-month budget. State law required the oversized funding this year, in preparation for converting the Massachusetts fiscal year from Jan. 1-Dec. 31 to July 1 - June 30.

The 18-month outlay provides a transitional budget which will facilitiate the switch to July-June appropriations next year.

The bulk of the $42 million budget is composed of salaries for teachers and instructional accessories: $29,733,170 has been allocated for the "Instruction" account, which includes professional wages and supplies such as books. This also allows funds for many of the special education programs, aid to physically handicapped, etc.

The maintenance of equipment, maintenance of school plant, and the total operation of plant together account for over $5 million of the approved budget. This includes custodial salaries and supplies, equipment repairs, heat and utilities. The unit cost of the latter items have increased, leaving the administration no choice but to raise the budget slightly in this area.

Administration costs total over $1 million. This account entails money for office salaries and supplies, and the professional staff.

$10 on the tax rate?

Strewn throughout 1973-74 the budget are costs for items such as pupil transportation, data processing, the technical high school, the Newton Junior College, food services, the athletic program, cafeteria supervision, and out-of-state-travel. All of these round out the $42 million in total funds.

Comments on the budget from committee members and the audience generally reflected a feat of having grappled with huge amounts of money but with the knowledge that much effort had been channeled towards paring the final total wherever possible.

Member Alvin Mandell said he found "it difficult to vote for it because it's so large, but I find it hard not to vote for it because of the conscientious effort made to hold it down."

Member Mrs. Dorothy M. Reichard stated that she felt "comfortable" with the budget, but cautioned that "even though we're voting for it, we have to be sure the money is well spent," that the programs are constantly evaluated.

Mrs. Joan Needleman, their colleague, complained that she felt uneasy because not enough of the "top brass" in the School Department was being used for consulting work. As a result, the School Committee must hire outside consultants.

"We have a lot of excellent talent which is not being capitalized on," Mrs. Needleman stated.

Taxpayer representation was rather small Monday night, relative to last Thursday night's crowd of residents who turned out for a public hearing on the budget. (only 11 people not

Budget Met With Praise, Criticism

A mixture of praise and critism was heard at last week's public hearing on the 1973 School Budget: praise for the attempts that have been made to keep the budget down, and criticism for the seemingly inexorable rise in school costs.

At the very beginning of the session, summing up after a lengthy explanation to the audience of the budget's delineated costs. Superintendent of Schools Aaron Fink termed this year's 5.2 per cent hike in the recommended School budget "the smallest per cent increase in 27 years."

Fink, by means of charts projected onto the wall of the Bigelow Junior High School Auditorium, told the audience of about 70 residents that in 1968, the approved budget was 12.3 per cent more costly that 1967's.

In 1969, he continued, it was 12.6 per cent higher, in 1970 11.2 per cent, in 1971 8.5 per centl and last year 6.8 per cent.

The last speaker of the eveningl Pat Forti of Nonantum, was completely unmoved by the superintendent's figures. He informed the School Committee and members of the administration that "we have reached the saturation point."

"The average person can't afford to live here anymore," Forti protested. He assailed the assembled education officials for lacing the budget with "fancy frills," which "aren't necessary to achieve quality

Aldermen Hear Message On Forthcoming Changes

The president of the Newton Board of Aldermen this week indicated his personal "disappointment" with the board in 1972 and served notice things are going to change in 1973.

Board President Eliot K. Cohen, delivering what he called a "State of the Board" message Monday, warned fellow-aldermen about purely political animosity and said in 1972 there were "too many instances of dislike, distrust and lack of good will and understanding."

"That we should have political differences is healty," Ald. Cohen continued. "That we should be discourteous to each other is unhealthy."

He also pointed out that he was well aware of the fact 1973 is a city election year and said he "anticipated" greater differences of opinion as "we approach the elections."

"I charge you not to let these differences detrimentally interfere with our legislative responsibilities," the president said. "Let these differences continue to operate for the well-being of the community."

The aldermanic leader also called for continued and increased cooperation by the Executive Department.

"In 1973, the work load, concerns and demands on our board will be greater than ever," he said. "To fulfill our duties each of us must adequately share responsibilities which can only be accomplished by our relating to and complementing each other. Likewise, it is clear that we must have the cooperation and assistance of the Executive Deaprtment and department heads."

Cohen charged that board committees often find themselves without "sufficient professional assistance," and warned aldermen do have the power to hire additional staff members.

"I hope that we will not be forced into this position which can only result in greater economic burdens to our citizens," he said, "and I urgently request greater administrative assistance in giving the board the professional aid so desperately needed."

In keeping with this statement, he said he had instructed Board Clerk Edward English to make a closer check on times submitted to aldermanic commitees and let the administrative departments handle items that do not really have to clutter up the aldermen's dockets.

Night Hours Will Begin At City Hall

Certain departments located in City Hall are scheduled to begin evening hours tonight (Thursday).

Mayor Theodore D. Mann announced this week that the departments would be open Thursday evenings "on a trial basis" from 5 to 7 p.m.

Mann said that personnel in the departments had volunteered to staff them and that many welcomed the opportunity to volunteer because they are given compensatory time off.

Aldermen Get Request For Revaluation Funds

Hard on the heels of a court ruling, a request was submitted this week to the Board of Aldermen for an appropriation of $135,000 to begin revaluation of Newton property.

It was referred to the aldermanic Finance Committee and will most likely come up for a vote at the next aldermanic meeting Feb. 20.

Superior Court Judge Henry H. Chmielinski ruled last week that a restraining order, stopping the city from issuing 1973 tax bills, would remain in effect until Newton had shown some definite progress down the road to revaluation.

Mayor Theodore D. Mann this week also released the text of the city's Blue Ribbon Panel report on revaluation.

The report recommends Newton hire an outside firm of assessors to conduct revaluation and estimates the whole process will take from two-two and a half years.

As explained in the report, the firm's employees would "inspect and describe each property in the city and assist the assessors in determiing full and fair cash value in accordance with professional standards."

Committee members gave six reasons in the document why they thought it would be advantageous to hire an outside firm. Among them were: speed, substantially lower cost, impartiality and objectivity, the establishment of a data bank for future and continuous updating, assistance to the Board of Assessors in providing expert testimony in hearings before the Appellate Tax Board; and experience in providing appropriate and effective communications with city officials and taxpayers.

The committee estimated the cost of the undertaking at between $300,000 and $375,000 as compared with their estimate of $500,000 to $760,000 should the work be done by city assessors.

The report explained the second estimated cost was much higher because of the number of

Opt For Compromise In Newman House Dispute

At a special meeting for the purpose of discussing an ouster petition from Newman House neighbors, the aldermanic Land Use Committee voted to set up a special group to act as intermediary in the long standing dispute.

Under the terms of a motion introduced by committee Chairman Alan S. Barkin and approved by the Land Use Committee, the neighbors and directors of the teen drop-in center will be asked to enter into voluntary negotiations with neighbors.

Chief among the neighbors' complaints were a lack of supervision at the house and refusal of house directors to openly discuss the situation with them.

The move made by the committee is similar to one taken late last year by the Newton Community Relations Commission. At that time the commission also set up a sub-

DISPUTE—(See Page 26)

Safety Petition Passes

A proposed resolution calling on all Newton citizens to fulfill their public safety responsibilities has been approved by the Board of Aldermen.

Alderman Michael Lipof sponsored the seven-point proposal on behalf of Joan Saklad, 45 Miller Rd., Newton Centre. Both he and Mrs. Saklad served on a P.T.A. Council Safety Committee from which an extensive citywide safety report emerged in 1968.

In requesting adoption of the resolution as city policy, Mrs. Saklad stated that she was prompted by recent "Letters to the Editor" appearing in the Newton Graphic.

The first letter cited by the safety conscious Mrs. Saklad concluded by stating "we hold ourselves personally responsible (for public safety.)"

The second, signed by the Newton Police Department, called upon all Newton residents to do their share for the continued safety of all school children.

Mrs. Saklad stated that she felt the opinions stated in the letters should be made a matter of public policy, and included recommendations from both in her seven point proposal.

"I decided after reading the letters to try to get people to think about safety and their part in helling to create conditions," stated Mrs. Saklad.

Her resolution, requires all residents be asked to observe the following rules:

"1. All snow shoveled from driveways shall be placed in areas other than sidewalks so that the snow does not create an obstruction to pedestrians, especially children walking to and from school.

"2. All rubbish barrels shall be placed on grassy strips closest to the street so that they too will not cause any dangerous obstruction.

"3. Youngsters shall be discouraged from walking across ice-covered lakes and immediately reported to police if they do so.

"4. Off-street parking shall be observed to allow passage of plows and emergency equipment.

"5. All dog owners shall faithfully observe the leash laws.

9-School Study Approved

The School Committee last week approved a $46,000 study to be made of nine Newton schools by an architectural and educational consulting firm.

The survey, voted unanimously by the board, will, if approved by the Board of Aldermen, be undertaken to evaluate the facilities in terms of their academic specifications, space requirements, cost projections, needed renovation, and educational philosophy.

Hill, Miller, Friedlaender, Hollander, Inc. of Cambridge is the consulting firm to be engaged should the study be endorsed. A contract has already been drawn up between the consultants and the city, and the School Committee's vote last week okayed the survey's proposal.

The nine schools which would be assessed over an eight-month period are: Angier, Cabot Emerson, Franklin Hyde, Ward, and Williams elementary schools, and Warren and Weeks junior high schools.

The $46,000 to pay for the survey would be drawn from the Maintenance Repair coffer of the School Department. The aldermen must approve the funding and sign the contract.

The initial proposal for the study was voiced last March, but the actual discussion of the subject has been going on for years. The first recommendation was made in the spring of 1971, and the total review of nine "priority schools" followed a successful study of the Davis School in the summer of 1971.

"I think what we're after is a good, hard survey of nine schools," said Committee member alvin Mandell, "to see what priorities exist."

"Some of the schools got on the list because of overcrowding," added Member Mrs. Eleanor S. Rosenblum.

Mrs. Rosenblum made a motion, which was passed unanimously, to form a corollary committee "to work

Raves Greeted Teri's Performance

Teri Bryant

By CYNTHIA BLACK

"A nightingale with a voice of pure crystal."

That's what one enthusiastic critic had to say about Newton's Teri Bryant when she made her operatic debut in Milwaukee, Wis., recently.

Miss Bryant, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Bryant of 102 Herrick road, Newton Centre, is starring at Milwaukee's Skylight Theatre in a staging of an obscure opera, "Juggler of Notre Dame," by Massenet.

The Skylight is well-known for its avant garde productions and its natural propensity for staging works no one has ever heard of with the exception of musical scholars.

This particular work, based on a short story by Anatole France calls for a young by soprano to play the leading role of the juggler, Jean; and, inevitably, a girl is chosen for the role.

Miss Bryant, a graduate of Newton South High School and the Boston University School of Fine Arts, was suggested for the part by co-star Ray Hickman.

Hickman, a Skylight regular, appeared in a Boston University production of "Twelfth Night" with Miss Bryant and suggested Skylight Director Claire Richardson might like to hire her for the part of Jean.

Teri's mother recounted in an interview that the eccentric Richardson promptly called Teri in Newton and all he asked her was whether or not she had "skinny legs."

As is true with most jobs, being hired was not even half the battle.

Jean was a juggler and an acrobat; Teri isn't.

After arriving in Milwaukee, the 23-year-old music major wound up preparing for her role by joining—tumbling and fencing classes.

"Fortunately," Miss Bryant said, "Jean was not supposed to be very good at anything."

She also noted in an interview that this is the first time she has ever played a boy.

"Jean is simple," Miss Bryant said, "his religion is so real to him that he speaks directly to the Virgin Mary as though she is going to answer him."

The strange Massenet opera, noted if at all for its music and not its story, is about a juggler who decides to become a monk and suffers from a great deal of inner turmoil because he lacks a beautiful, meaningful, majestic way of expressing his religious devotion. After all, he's made his living as a wandering minstrel.

The presentation in Milwaukee got mixed reviews, but there was no doubt that Miss Bryant soared above the whole production.

"One amazing thing about the Skylight Theatre is that it can do productions with holes in them and still come up with enough diverting

Ice Gone With Winter?

Rapidly changing weather conditions have been a probelm for the Newton Recreation Department personnel charged with maintaining the city's natural skating areas.

The freeze and thaw cycle can leave ice in extremely dangerous condition and all skaters are advised to pay attention to the warning signs erected ro their protection.

Accurate information on conditions in the skating ateas may be obtained by calling 969-2851.

Recreation Intern Austin Moore says that at the end of the first round in the National League of the Recreation Department basketball program, the Hawthorne Lakers are out in front with a six and zero record. Second place in the league for high school age youths are the Brewers, four and two followed by the No Names, three and three; Newton Boys' Club, two and four; the Messing Club and Newton Centre each with a two and four record.

In the A Division of the American League, according to Recreation Supervisor William J. Barry, Silver Lake Electronics leads the pack with five wins and no losses. They are followed by the Waban Wonder, four and zero; George's Cafe, four and one and Newton Centre Pizza, three and two.

In the B. Division, Newton Boys' Club is in first place, five and zero; second is Loveman, four and one and Oakley Spa, four and one; third, Stumblebums three and fourth, Upper Falls, three and one.

The director of the Pony Division of the Recreation Department's Basketball League, Recreation Supervisior Robert E. Doherty, stated that after the first month of play, the Newton Boys' Club, with four and zero record is the leader. Tied for second are Sacred Heart and the Warren Red Devils with identical three and one records. The third slot is shared by Newton Centre and the Hawthron Lakers with Newton Centre at one and three and the Lakers, one and four each with two points. In this case the Beginnings are last, still seeking their first win of the season.

Mr. Barry reveals that the West Newton Youth Center will reopen its coffe house at the First Unitarian Church in West Newton Square on Saturday, Feb. 10. The activities from 7:30 p.m. to 11 p.m. include, quite naturally, the serving of coffee, music and perhaps later on, moving picutes. The coffee house is supervised by Tony Quintiliano.

Just to emphasize how well accepted the Recreation Department programs are, Bill reports he has had another call relative to next season's softball program and the other day, a Tag-Fottball enthusiast stoppe him on the street to suggest a rule change for next Fall.

Among the continuing popular programs for young people are the youth gym program at Warren Junior High School on Saturday nights from 7:30 ato 11 and the Saturday afternoon basketball program at Warren, Bigelow, Weeks and Meadowbrook Junior Highs.

The Warre Youth Program features floor hockey, basketball, vollyball and gymnatics. The open house basketball programs at the junior high schools attract over 100 young people to each facility.

The Newton Seim Team, according to Recreation Supervisor Fran Towle, is putting in an activie week with meets at Norwood, Feb. 7, Wayland, Feb. 11 and Weston, Feb. 14.

The swimmers will break for the February vacation and then resume the schedule on Feb. 26. The swim team program will continue until early March.

Miss towle also announced that the second session of the toneastics classes is scheduled to begin on Feb. 26. The six week program is conducted from 9:30 am. to 10:30 a.m., Mondays and Wednesdays at the Newton Centre playground field house.

The class, for which a fee is charged, is conducted by Mrs. Barbara Valinsky. To register, call the Newton Recreation Department at 969-3171.

League Hears Capital Plans

D.r Donald Levitan, Newton's Director of Community Development, will discuss the 1973-1978 Capital Improvements Program (CIP) with members of the Newton League of Women Voters on Monday, Feb. 12 at 9:30 a.m. at the Auburndale Congregational Church, 64 Hancock St., Auburndale.

The public is invited and babysitting is available.

Under the new City Charter, the aldermen must hold a public mearing on the CIP and then adopt it with or without amendment. All league members have received a copy of the CIP and this discussion will give members and the public an opprotunity to thoroughly familiarize themselves with it. This knowlege could be useful to anyone who decides to make a statement at the public hearing.

For furthr information about the Monday morning meeting please call Priscilla Leith, 332-0590. For further information about the, league please call Marsha Slotnick, 244-6268.

Artists Exhibit In Worcester Art Museum

Currently on view in Galleries 114 and 117 of the Sorcester Art Museum is a selection of photographs by two contemporary American artists, Berenice Abbott and Irene Shwachman.

Ms. Shwachman of Newton Centre worked with noted photographer Ms. Abbot over a period of eight years and is represented in the current showing by nine photograpsh from New England, New Mexico and two taken in Jerusalem in 1968. All nine photographs date from the last decade.

Well-known for her studies of room interigrs, Ms. Shwachman's noted style is typified in "Indian Store, Greenville, Maine, July 1965," "Abandoned School House, Blanchard, aine, July 1965" and "Arab Christian Quarter, Jerusalem, April 1968."

"compton Street, Castle Square, Boston, April 4, 1962" is a symmetrical study of a brick building front. Ms. Shwachman's "Vermont, May 1965" is a sensitive depiction of a fallen tree trunk.

Born in Manhattan, Ms. Schwachman attended Columbia University and has been on the faculty of the School of the Worcester Art Museum for seven years. She is represented in the collections of the Art Institute of Chicago, the Metropolitan Museum of Art as well as in many private collections.

Quinn Warns Of Hoax Calls

Newton Police Chief William F. Quinn advised Newton citizens this week that a person with a "perverse sense of humor" has been making a series of indiscriminate hoax calls that have been "frightening and dangerous" to Newton telephone subscribers.

The chief said, "This person would call and indicate that the subscriber's husband or wife had been taken ill or had been injured and was taken to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, and then would suggest that the subscriber go to the hospital immediately. The recipients have been of varying ages and these calls have been frightening and in some cases resulted in fast rides to Newton-Wellesley Hospital in an agitated state."

The chief continued, "Or the caller, a male, might indicate that a husband was hospitallzed for a rash and ask the wife if she had any symptoms, and would engage in conversation indicating some knowledge of medicine and hospital personnel."

Chief Quinn added, "Hospital policy precludes any discussion of illness or symptoms by telephone. I suggest that anyone who receives such a call should hang up and call the hospital back to verify the conversation. If the call proves to be false, notify the phone company and the Newton Police Department at 244-1212 and we shall conduct any necessary investigation."

City Red Cross Reveals,First Aid Course Plans,

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE — A day honoring Newton's participation in the American Field Service international youth exchange was proclaimed recently by Mayor Theodore D. Mann. Witnessing the signing of the proclamation in the mayor's office were Noboru Konno (left), and exchange student from Japan, and Sverker Littorin (right), and exchange student from Sweden. The students were made honorary citizens of Newton and presented with certificates.

Mental Health Agency Seeks Loving Homes For Teenagers

Newton families who are willing to extend themselves to include an adolescent in need of a warm accepting family and who are interested in sharing their lives with a new family member for one week to one yyear are urgently needed for a new program called Families Extended.

This program seeks alternative housing for local young people who can no longer remain in their own homes.

What kind of adolescents are in need of alternative families?

The young people who can no longer remain at home have this problem for a variety of reasons. Some may have school problems which are intensified by ramaining with the family. In some cases there might be illness in the home. In most cases there is a lack of communication which makes living at home a painful or impossible experience.

Families who wish to become part of Families Extended will be interviewed and will have the opportunity to discuss the kind of child who could best be incorporated into their family. In all cases a careful evaluation of bothe the adolescent and the prospective alternative home will assure that the most suitable placement is made.

Orientation and supervision will be provided by the Task Force on Alternative Housing for Adolescents, and financial reimbursement is included.

Interested families should call John Kunitz, coordinator of the program, at 969-5917.

Families Extended is a program of the Task Force on Alternative Housing for Ajolescents and includes representatives from the following community agencies: Family Counseling Service, Region West; Newton-Wellesley-Weston Multi-Service Center; Newton-Wellesley-Weston Area Office, Department of Mental Health; Wellesley Youth Commission; Weston Youth Commission; Newton Public Schools; and the Newton District Court.

Democratic Committee Meets Feb. 15

A meeting of the Democratic City Committee will be held Thursday, Feb. 15, at 8 p.m. in the First Unitarian Church of Newton, 1326 Washington St.

Featured speakers will be the new Middlesex County Commissioners, S. Lester Ralsph and Paul Tsongas.

Alan Licarie, executive secretary of the Newton Election Commission will also speak.

The City Committee's annual theater party will be held at Brandies' Spingold Theater on Saturday, April 7, 8:30 p.m. Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," will be performed. A party will follow the performance ND Ward Four Alderman Richard J. McGrath is this year's theater party chairman.

GBARC Needs Help

The Greater Boston Association for Retarded Citizens (GBARC), has reported a need for volunteers interested in working with teenage and young adult retarded people on weekdays and weekends, day and night.

Anyone interested in volunteering can contact Mrs. Jerry Asher at 266-4520.

YMCA Inaugurates Water Safety Class

The Newton YMCA announces that Operation Drownproof, its annual campaign to combat some of the more than 7,000 drownings in the United States each year, will begin Feb. 20 at the Y.

With the popularity of boating and other aquatic activities spiraling, and with less than 10 per cent of all Americans skilled swimmers, deaths by drowing have increased greatly in recent years.

Since 1948, drowning has been one of the four major causes of death in the United States. Most victims have been children and young adults.

Operation Drownproof is available to anyone six years old and over interested in increasing his chances for survival in the water. Coed classes are scheduled by age during the period Feb. 20 to Feb. 24.

The campaign will be conducted from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday. Each session lasts 45 minutes.

For further information, drop by the Newton Y at 276 Church St. in Newton Corner, or call 244-6050.

Pines Favors Bill On Credit Rules

State Representative Lois G. Pines of Newton last week testified in support of a bill to protect individuals against discrimination because of sex or marital status in credit and services.

Rep. Pines said, "With more than 30 million women drawing paychecks for full time jobs, and millions more working part time, the current credit practices of department stores to provide credit only to the husband is ridiculous."

"Credit should be extended to any individual on the basis of her own financial resources," Mrs. Pines sid.

In her remarks before the Legislative Committee on Commerce and Labor Rep. Pines also said she feels "credit practices currently discriminate against women."

"This attitude is harmful and not rational," she said. "Massachusetts must take corrective action to provide women and men equal access to credit."

This legislation failed last year. It was introduced at that time by Paul Menton while he was a state representative from Watertown.

Mrs. Pines also appeared before the Committee on Commerce and Labor to speak in support of Sunday Blue Law repeal.

She stated that the Sunday Opening Laws "negate the basic precept that a man should be granted and guaranteed the right to use his property as he desires as long as he desures a as long as he does not interfere with the rights pf others and therefore are in violation of the 'due process' clause of the fourteenth amendment."

She further pointed out that, "they are clearly both discrimatory and ubfair."

"Why should a grocery store be forced to close while a drug store may remain open, both sell many of the same products and both are operating for profit&" she said. "The situation is in fact quite arbitrary."

Rep. Pines went on to say that "with today's active life style, the working man and woman have only Saturday and Sunday (48 hrs.) to shop."

"Research shows that more groups, that is families, shop on Sunday than on other days . . . The shoppers are participating in an activity and finding it enjoyable—it is seen as a more casual, pleasant experience it is becoming a family habit."

She added, "the interest and desies of the families who choose to shop on Sundays are singularly unrepresented."

Furthermore, she said, a check with the Chambers of Commerce in Ohio, Florida, California, New Hampshire, and New Jersey turned up very favorable responses from all.

"It seems especially a shame to put the retailers of Massachusetts in a secondary position and permit monies to flow into the hands of New Hampshire merchants."

Finally, she cited the case of a department store chain in Cleveland, Ohio, that on a typical week before Sunday openings grossed $900,000 per week while with the new policy sales reached $100,000, sales during the remainder of the week fell only to $860,000 a 6.7 percent increase in business.

They also found, she said, that while working on Sunday was made purely voluntary, they received an overwhelmimgly favorable response from employees.

A weekly column of information about the Newton Centennial Celebration

A multi-media presentation featuring the largest cast ever assembled for a dramatic production in Newton, and the world premiere of a cantata by Newton composer Henry Lasker, will highlight "Newton's Histoey in Words and Music."

The production, under the direction of Al Hurwitz, will be staged in Roberts Hall, Boston College, Sunday evening, May 13, as the third major event in the celebration of Newton's Centennial.

The program will include presentations and performances by the Newton Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Michel Sasson; the all-city chorous directed by John Harper; New World Gospel Choir, conducted by Sam Turner; the Troubadors of all Newton Junior High Schools, directed by John Norton and the Jerry Gardner Stage Band of Newton High School.

Composer Lasker's original cantata, "Oath of Hippocrates", will be performed by the Newton Symphony Orchestra. It will feature the combined choruses of Newton South and Newton High School and a choral reading by the Newton Country Players.

There will also be a dramatic reading, "One Hundred Years Ago Today," based on items taken from the Newton Graphic of May 13, 1873.

Well-known drama critic Samuel Hirsch will narrate the production, portions of which have been written by Alison Evans, editor of the Newton Centennial Journal.

During intermission, the audience will have the opportunity to view "The Newton Scene," a graphic presentation of art and photographs pertaining to Newton and its development through the years.

"Our goal in the production of 'Newton's History in words and Music' has been to avoid the stereotyped costume pieces usually associated with historical pageants," observed Hurwitz.

"We have assembled our cast and taken source material from Newton's history that will be entertaining, exciting and meaningful to a modern audience. I am grateful to the hundreds of people who have volunteered to help in planning our program and who are appearing in our cast. I am certain that our production will be a major contribution to the success of our city's 100th Birthday Celebration."

Serving on the program committee for the production are John Harper, general music director; Emmanuel Gilbert, Theresa O'Halloran, Mrs. S. Chipman and Allan White, tickets; Mary Williams, Florence Tankevitch and Edward Hallett, program.

Cohen Proposes Bill To Ban Insecticide Use

Alderman David B. Cohen of Ward Seven recently testified before the Massachusetts Pesticide Control Board on behalf of his resolution to ban the use of the pesticide sevin by the Newton Department of Public Works.

Cohen referred to what he termed "the growing body of data" pointing to the danger of the pesticide.

"Studies show that sevin is almost completely absoebed through the skin into the blood stream, that it affects human kidney function at low concentrations, that it has caused embryological abnormalities in a variety of mammals and that it is stored in the fat tissue of bodies," stated the alderman.

"The Mral Commission's report recommends that the use of sevin should be greatly curtailed around humans. Further, the Federal Trade Commission has issued a complaint againt Union Carbide, manufacturer of sevin, alleging that claims made by that corporation were misreoresentations," added Cohen.

He also pointd out that sevin has not been particularly effective in curtailing insects. The city is still subject to periodic outbreakd of gypsy moths no less severe than outbreaks in Concord which doea hot use any pesticides.

Cohen also stated that Newton could be aubject to financial liability should any person be injured or killed by the pesticide.

Boston Hospital Elects M. Grossman Director

Morton S. Grossman of Newton was elected a director of Boston's Robert B. Brighton Hospital at the hospial's annual corporation meeting Jan. 24.

The Robert B. Brigham is a major Harvard teaching affiliate and the nation's only teaching hospital devoted solely to patient-care, training and research of arthritis.

Mr. Grossman was named a corporation member in 1972 and has been actively engaged in the hospital's fund-raising campaign for the Joint Venture for an Affiliated Hospitals Center, a cooperative effort of three major Harvard affiliates, the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston Hospital for Women and Robert B. Brigham Hospital.

Mr. Grossman, president of Grossman Family Companies, is a past vice-president of L. Grossman Sons, the building materials company. He is a member of the Boards of Directors of the Jewish Memorial Hospital, the New New England Home for Little Wanderers and is on the Board of the Massachusetts Council on Crime and Correction.

LIKE FINDING GOLD

The best way for a would-be home buyer to beat today's rate of interest for mortgage money, is to find a house that was financed when money was cheaper and simply take over the payments on the old mortgage. It's like finding gold in the backyard.

If you're selling a house that you financed a few years back, the interest rate on your old mortgage may be the magic key that can help net you a quick sale.

Whether you are buying or selling, two conditions must be met to make a mortgage take-over practical and profitable.

First, the existing mortgage must have been made long enough ago to carry an interest rate substantially below the rate being charged today.

Secondly, the holder of the mortgage must not have been paying on it so long that he will require a prohibitive amount of cash to get his equity back.

Mann Backs State Takeover Of Middlesex County Costs

Newton Mayor Theodore D. Mann appeared before a joint legislative committee at the State House in Boston last week to testify on behalf of a bill now before the lower house of the General Court entitled "Petition that the Commonwealth Assume the Cost of the Operation of Counties."

I n support of the bill, co-filed by Newton's legislators, Mann stated that increasng costs of municipal government, the burdens of fiscal cycling and the disappointing returns from the federal revenue sharing program make it necessary for the state to assume costs of county management.

In 1970, Newton's contribution to the counties was roughly $2,200,000 and that figure increased by another $500,000 for 1972. "This we can no longer afford," stated the mayor. "The increasing costs of county government for diminishing returns can no longer be tolerated."

Mann also pointed out to the legislative committee that Newton had been assessed $485,128 over the past three years for maintenance of the Midlesex County Tuberculosis Hospital. During that time 11 Newton residents were treated at the hospital in Waltham. He added.

In calling for the state to assume county finances the Mayor stressed that city and town governments have ever increasing costs and constantly dwindling revenue and that the property tax is about at the breaking point. He added that "reveneus, other than the property tax, are also disappointing. The revenue sharing bill has brought Newton, with a population of 92,000, $808,000 for 1972, while Boston, with a population of 600,000, received 21 times this amount."

The Mayor concluded his remarks by stating "it is no longer necessary for cities and towns to finance county government, and reorganization of services by the county can best be achieved by the Commonwealth."

Mofenson Supports Bill For Direct Real Estate Payments

State Representative David J. Mofenson this week announced his support of legislation for the payments of real estate taxes directly to cities and towns instead of banks.

According to Mofenson, 75 to 90 per cent of the taxes in Massachusetts are held by banks and other mortgage holders. This represents nearly a half billion dollars in yearly average balance.

"It is my understanding," said the Newton lawmaker, "that the first year cities and towns will receive an extra $100 million, and in subsequent years about $20 million per year."

These figures were supplied to him by the bill's sponsor, Sen. Jack H. Backman (D. Boston-Brookline), he said.

The basic provisions of the bill call for direct payment to cities and towns, rather to banks, all taxes held in escrow by banks and mortgage holders to be turned over to cities and towns; taxes to be paid on a monthly basis as well as penalty procedures for late payments and defaults.

"The banks are in a unique situation. They have tax money available for their private use, plus the cities and towns must borrow from these same banks in anticipation of receiving the tax revenue. This allows banks to use public money for private use, as well as to earn interest from loans of money which rightfully belong to the cities and towns which are borrowing," said Rep. Mofenson, adding that "if it sounds confusing it is."

"Since my first term in the House of Representatives, I have been an advocate of consumer protection. I have also worked for a reduction in the property tax. I view this piece of legislation as a logical extension of both of these efforts, but by no means my sole attempt at either.

"This bill, if passed, would 'in effect' allow the taxpayer to see his money working for him immediately, and going further on a ver dollar basis. The banks will no longer be middlemen siphoning off their percentage and thereby reducing the revenue input of the cities and towns," said Mofenson.

Guzzi Wants Changes In Budgeting

State Representative Paul H. Guzzi has proposed changes in the budgeting procedures currently used by the State Legislature.

Speaking before the Joint Committee on Ways and Means, Guzzi stressed the need for a minimum period of seven days during which all budget recommendations would be in print and available for both legislators and the public.

The Newton legislator also supported a statytory requirement that public hearings on all budgets submitted by the governor, including the main appropriation bill, supplementary and deficiency budgets and capital outlay proposals.

Rep. Guzzi said the present line item budget has "outlived its usefulness as an appropriate method for dealing with a $2.5 billion operation."

He proposed the use of programmed budgeting or the counter-budget approach as possible alternatives to the present sustem.

Guzzi also called for the implementation of a program mamagement system in presentation of budgets to the legislature.

The Ways and Means Committee is presently considering proposals dealing with procedural changes in the budget process for fiscal 1974. Guzzi expressed optimism that some changes could be made this year in the process — the first changes in more than 20 years.

He noted hat if the legislature is to "regain its position as a co-equal branch of government, such changes are absolutely necessary."

GARRICK OHLSSON returns to Newton South High School Monday (Feb. 12) to perform and conduct classes for the day. Sunday evening, Ohlsson, who in 1970 became the first American to ever win Poland's prestigious Chopin Competition, will perform at Symphony Hall. Ohlsson first visited Newton South in 1967 and likes to pay visits whenever he is in the Boston area. At first, he would speak informally and play for music students; but, during his last visit, hundreds of students, parents and teachers came to hear him. His appearances are now considered a major event in the South school year.

Citizens Query Apartment Plan

The Ward 8 Democratic Committee will hear proposals of the T.J. Flatley Co. of Braintree to build 266 units of housing on a 35-acre site owned by the Xaverian Brothers Seminary on Winchester St. in Newton Highlands.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Birnbaum, 60 Solon St., Neton Highlands, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 13.

The Flatley Co. will be represented by Mr. Mark Donovan, director of planning and development. The Newton Conservators and site abuttors will also be represented.

The pine-studded land is listed in Newton's 1969 recreation paln as part of Newton's open-space resources and a lively meeting is anticipated.

Kindergarten Registration At Underwood

Kindergarten registration will be held at the Underwood School, 101 Vernon st. on Tuesday, Feb. 13 from 1:30-3 p.m. A child must be five years old on or before Jan. 1, 1974, to be eligible.

Parents are required to bring a child's proof of age and records of all immunizations. The school nurse and kindergarten teachers will be present.

NEWTON POLICE CHIEF WILLIAM F. QUINN is shown commending Detective William F. Fitzsimmons for saving the life of his fellow officer, Walter E. Jenkins standing between the Chief and Fitzsimmons. Quinn and the two officers are joined by Capt. Walter D. Drew who conducted the investigation which followed the shootout between Officers Fitzsimmons and Jenkins, and the now dead 66-year-old ex-convict believed to have robbed the Newton Corner branch of the Garden City Trust Co. on Tuesday. Chief Quinn stated that both Jenkins and Fitzsimmons will later be commended at an official ceremony "for the finest piece of police work I have seen an all my years on the force."

Aftermath Of Bank Robbery— A Blur For Officer Jenkins

For Newton Police Officer Walter Jenkins, a father of five children, the aftermath of Tuesday's armed bank robbery at Newton Corner may be a blur of blood and bullets, but he will never forget that he came within inches and seconds of death in the performance of duty.

Jenkins lay stunned at the feet of the armed bank robber after a near point blank exchange of gunfire.

The robber's gun was pointed at his head.

Five shots rang out. Jenkins life was saved by a fellow police officer who distracted the gunman and shot him fatally in the exchange of gunfire.

The 66-year-old parolee from Concord Reformatory was shot and fatally wounded (Monday) during a gun battle with the two Newton policemen.

Police intercepted him after he robbed the Newton Corner branch of the Garden City Trust Company of $12,000.

After an investigation by Police Capt. Walter Drew and Det. Leonard Farrell, Police said the Quincy man had been paroled in 1970 after serving part of a 15-20-year sentence for armed robbery.

According to investigating officers, he had spent almost 40 of his 66 years in prison. including one stretch in New York's Sing Sing. His last arrest followed a two-gun holdup spree in Boston back in 1958.

Newton Police Chief William F. Quinn stated that the man's death followed a gun battle on Waverly St. in which the gunman stood over Officer Walter Jenkins with his gun pointed at the patrolman's head.

The parolee was then distracted by Detective William Fitzsimmons who Chief Quinn credited with saving his fellow officer's life.

"I saw the man shooting at (Jenkins)," said Fitzsimmons. "Then he was standing over his head with the gun pointed down, apparently ready to shoot him."

"I ran toward them and the guy turned and fired three shots at me. I fired once and saw him jump a little. He was hit. Then I shot him twice more, both bullets hitting him in the head," stated Fitzsimmons.

Detective Fitzsimmons said he saw Jenkins lying in the road with blood pouring down his face and though he had been killed.

Patrolman Jenkins recalled later what had happened. "The guy walked over and stood near my head when I had dropped to the ground after emptying my service revolver at him. Then I heard more shots and thought, 'Oh, my God, I've been shot. This is it.' I must have gone into shock because I don't remember what happened after that."

Jenkins was cut by flying glass when bullets pierced the windows of his car. He was treated and released from Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

The gunmen, also taken to the same hospital, died there a half hour after arrival.

Fitzsimmons said the gunman was carrying two pearl handled .22 caliber automatic pistols and police later found a .32 caliber Luger automatic in the getaway car along with 100 rounds of ammunition for the weapons and two marked escape route maps.

Chief Quinn stated that officer Jenkins spotted the gunman on Waverly street after receiving a description of the robber given by witnesses at the victimized bank. "He was attracted to the getaway car by the white sweater being worn by the man," said Quinn.

Investigating officers later pieced together events at the scene of the holdup and Chief Quinn related them. He said that a black haired "woman" dressed in a car coat, white sweater, red slacks and carrying a red, white and blue striped shopping bag entered the bank just before closing time on Monday.

After pulling a pistol and forcing bank personnel to lie on the floor, the robber looted the cash drawers of the $12,000.

Jenkins heard the description of the man over the police radio system while on school crossing duty about a mile from the robbery scene.

"I jumped in my car and headed for the bank, and spotted the man with the white sweater. I made a U-turn and gave chase."

Jenkins forced the getaway car to the side of Waverly street and ordered the man out.

"When I told him to put his hands on the roof of the car he gave me a funny smile and said, 'You must be kidding!' Then he turned and ran up a driveway," recalled Jenkins.

Fitzsimmons then arrived on the scene and drove his cruiser up the driveway to head him off. Both officers stated that the man then ran back to his car and opened fire at Jenkins who returned the shots until his revolver was emptied.

"Besides the ammunition, maps and gun, police also found the stolen money and the long, black, woman's wig used as a disguise by the dead man," stated Chief Quinn.

Group Seeks Residence For Hospital Alternative

The Newton-Wellesley-Weston Committee to Establish Community Programs for the Retarded, Inc. will hold board meetings this month on Mondays, Feb. 12 and 24, 8 p.m., at the Grace Episcopal Church, Eldredge St., Newton Centre.

The board invites all interested residents from Newton, Wellesley and Weston to attend these meetings and become active members of the committee. The group's current project is to establish community residences for retarded adults and children within the three communities.

The group has received a partial grant from the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health for establishment of an institutional alternative and it is seeking a large rental house for this purpose. Donations of furniture either new or used are also being sought.

If anyone knows of a suitable house or has information on the source of new or used furnishings, they may contact Mrs. Harvey Chansky at 244-7310 or the Newton-Wellesley-Weston are office at 969-5917. Prospective members are also urged to call.

R.I. Man Cleared Of All Charges

A Providence, R.I., man was recently cleared of all charges brought against him.

Special Prosecutor Richard Steinberg said Wednesday he requested a charge of receiving stolen property be dismissed against John Capaldi of Providence after the man explained to Steinberg's satisfaction that the registration plates in question were borrowed from a friend who had previously reported them stolen.

"Evidently the plates were returned to their rightful owner but that fact had not been recorded on the police computer network," stated Steinberg.

Steinberg also said a charge of larceny of a motor vehicle against Capaldi was dropped when it was proved that the suspected motor vehicle was the rightful property of Capaldi.

Capaldi was tried before Special Justice Gordon Shaw of the Newton District Court on a charge of possession of a controlled substance but was found innocent when the judge ruled there was insufficient evidence to prove he was aware of the marijuana police found in the automoble.

Assistant District Attorney Steinberg explained that Capaldi, owner of an auto repair shop, frequently loaned his car to customers while they were waiting for their own automobiles to be serviced.

Judge Shaw ruled that any of the customers could have left the controlled substance in the automobile, according to Steinberg.

GOP Committee Ponders Lincoln Day Dinner Plans

Plans for Newton's annual Lincoln Day Dinner are moving forward according to Donald P. Quinn, president of the Newton Republican Club.

More than twenty members took part in discussions at a recent meeting of the club's executive committee.

President Quinn, in an effort to expedite final arrangements fo the dinner, appointed a small steering committee composed of Mrs. Herman Smerling, chairman, Norman Buchbinder, Mrs. G.M. Swift and Henry J. Wilson.

The Committee, noted Quinn "should be able to produce the final plans very soon so, that we can announce the date and other details of the 1973 dinner."

The Newton Republican Club has been the principal sponsor of the city's twelve previous Lincoln Day Dinners which have become major political events in the area.

A Challenge

The President of Newton's Board of Aldermen Eliot K. Cohen laid it on the line the other night in a brief speech at the board's bi-monthly meeting.

Cohen spelled out his own frank disappointment at the accomplishments of the board in 1972. And he didn't exclude himself in the appraisal.

He descibed the way members get along sometimes, both inside and outside the chamber, with words like "dislike, distrust, lack of good will . . . discourteous, unhealthy."

The top man of the 24-member board said that last year was "frustrating, aggravating and personally unrewarding . . ."

Those are strong words and phrases. If an outsider had even insinuated such, he would have been greeted with icy stares and dismissed with distasteful silence. Others have walked into the chamber and been rebuffed before they even started to speak.

But the reaction at the end of Cohen's speech was unpredictable and surprisingly disarming. As Cohen finished most of the board stood and applauded.

They apparently liked especially the last part of the speech when he called for more efficient procedures, a let's get-it-done attitude towards the work load and the promise that all aldermen —himself included — will have to work harder this year.

And the report grows stronger that the conviction Cohen has projected will lure him into Newton's most challenging political race.

Home Breaks

Major homeowner insurance firms have confirmed what a lot of people have been worried about for sometime. The insurance people declare that the high-crime areas are no longer confirned to ghetto areas, if indeed, they ever were.

Underwriters have assembled an impressive array of statistics to show that some of the congested areas of Greater Boston continue to be plagued with housebreaks and burglaries.

Our suburbs are having their troubles as well. Burglars, who need quick cash turnovers to meet their daily narcotic needs have been finding for some time that residents in the better class neighborhoods are careless.

They leave garage doors wide open to show the car is not there; they light up the whole house to scare off intruders or they only have lights at the front and rear doorways hoping they'll be enough to frighten away a thief entering through the usual manner.

Quick hit-and-run robberies and ready but illegal markets to dispose of the loot offer a modus operandi for the burglar. Some of them have polished their techniques so that a police officer on every block would not be able to cope with his swift strikes.

It was a question of time before the stolen TV sets, casettes, jewel boxes, or anything that's small and compact yet commands a good price with a fence, would mount to a point where the adjusters get disturbed.

The state Insurance Department says Massachusetts' homeowners in some areas could be hit with increases of up to 25 percent in their premiums. Crime does pay the perpetrator. The insurance company is taking steps to make sure it's not a victim.

Maybe the only way is for the householder to stand 24-hour guard on his home.

Experts

According to lexicographers the word "ECOLOGY" can trace its ancestry back to the early beginnings of the English language on either the King's or Queen's side.

It apparently got itself lost in scientific tomes for a few hundred years and by the time it found itself bouncing between Page One and the editorial columns a few years back, it was sending puzzled readers to the dictionaries.

Now if you want to know about ecology you don't waste time on dictionaries and encyclopedias. If you're the secretary of a discussion club or just a Thursday chat gathering and the members want to know about "How's things in the field of ecology?" you've got an easy talk. You will probably find a willing expert on your third call.

Within a couple of years we've grown a great big crop of ecology experts. Their ideas at times maybe a bit on the opposite pole sides. There are some who don't give thie world much chance of revival no matter waht we do.

Apparently the number and variety of experts are beginning to concern not alone our own State House but Washington as well.

Bureaucrats are slow to criticize the experts. One reason is that all or most are "sincere-dedicated" people. Secondly, some of them may be right.

Now, Dr. Charles H.W. Foster of Needham, first secretary of the office of Environmental Affairs for the State, is wondering if he needs of seven major departments and 49 agencies to begin to solve our ecology problems.

In Washington, too, where bureaus usually thrive on national problems, there has been evidence that a closer focus on the entire main problem is needed.

Any woman's clubs finding their members confused by the variety of ideas presented by "experts" will have to bide their time. Our forests aren't going to be turned into Gardens of Eden over night and the smog is not going to be whisked out of the skies before the sun comes up each morning, with the the touch of a button.

HOW SOOTHING!

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Should Help For Poor Here Be Cut To Aid North Viets?

A bitter battle is shaping up in Congress over the issue of whether American funds should be used to rebuild sections of North Vietnam rather than to improve life for the poor in the United States.

Some of the liberal members of both the Senate and the House will find themselves on the sharp horns of a difficult dilemma when that argument erupts.

Bitter disputes are certain to occur in the two branches of Congress over commitments which were made by President Nixon and his emissary, Henry Kissinger, during the peace negotiations.

A lot of Congressmen and Senators will not agree to cutting back and wiping out programs for the poor in the United States and using the money instead to rebuild North Vietnam.

People still live in ghettos in the United States. Children still go to sleep hungry in sections of our own nation. Elderly men and women in the twilight of their lives eke out an existence on poverty-level pensions or surprisingly small social security benefits.

Many Congressmen will object to sending any public funds to help other nations while those conditions exist here at home, especially since we have learned since World War 2 that our dollars apparently bought more enemies than friends.

Now that the fighting has ended in Vietnam, we will learn that we were deceived about many things by the likes of Jane Fonda and her compatriots who indicated much more concern for the well-being of the people of Hanoi than the American prisoners being held captive there.

They didn't tell us, for example, that the hospital about which they complained being hit by bombs was in the midst of a military complex, which was a legitimate target for our B-52 bombers.

We obviously should try to help the people of South Vietnam for whose benefit we supposedly have been at war this past decade. We can't restore the lives which were lost. We can do only little to ease the suffering that was caused. But we can repair some of the material damage left by the battles and bombs.

However, it does not seem right to do that at the expense of our own poor, our own sick, our own elderly.

President Nixon declared in an address to the American people that when the return on our tax dollars is not worth the expenditure, we must either change that program or end it.

On that basis we should seek to get back the billions we poured into Japan, Germany and France. Japan and Germany were our enemies, and France for a long time has treated us like enemies. We built up the economies in Japan and West Germany at the expense of our own.

Whatever we do in North Vietnam, or for that matter South Vietnam, should not be done at the expense of our own poor and sick and elderly.

Those who urge aid for North Vietnam talk about their children, their aged, the wounds the country has suffered, and argue that financial help will give us a lever to maintain the peace.

There is merit to that reasoning. But let's also keep on helping our own people who will live in poverty and misery without our aid.

Halt of Registry Patrols Would Be A False Economy

Patrol of highways by Registry of Motor Vehicles inspectors would be abolished, and this form of work would be left to state troopers, under Governor Sargent's reorganization proposals.

On paper that sounds like a worthwhile economy, the elimination of a duplication of effort since Registry inspectors assigned to highway patrols perform essentially the same duties as state police officers.

Unless more state troopers are hired, however, it would mean a lessening of highway patrols when more actually are needed in the interest of public safety, and the saving would be negligible.

State troopers and Registry inspectors don't really duplicate each other's efforts. Each group supplements the work of the other.

The mere presence of a Registry inspector or state trooper on the highway has a tendency to cause the average driver to operate his automobile more carefully.

The problem is that there are not enough troopers and inspectors on the state's highways, not that there are too many. Automobile operators deliberately violate safety regulations and cause accidents, deaths and injuries because the highways are not more thoroughly patrolled.

Elimination of the highway patrol function of the Registry of Motor Vehicles is supposed to save $200,000 a year. But it would be a false economy that would result in more deaths and destruction on the highways.

Bay State May Become First To Allow Prisoners To Vote

Back through the years persons serving sentences for felonies in Massachusetts prisons have been denied the right to vote while they were in custody.

Proposals are now pending on Beacon Hill which would allow convicts, regardless of the crimes of which they were convicted, to register as voters and to cast absentee ballots in an election.

Each prisoner would be listed on the voting rolls of the community in which he lived before he was incarcerated.

Convicts who were legal residents of other states when they were sent to prison in Massachusetts would be eligible to vote only for President and Vice President under the provisions of the bill.

While the move will meet some opposition in both branches of the Legislature, the chances seem good that the proposal will be approved.

The Civil Liberties Union and the Massachusetts chapter of the ADA are supporting the bill which was filed by Representative Charles F. Flaherty, Jr., of Cambridge, chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

The CLU and ADA take the position that a person should not be deprived of all rights and liberties because he is a prisoner. Some legislators oppose that theory.

Persons confined to county jails while awaiting trial were allowed to vote in several states last November. In Cuyahoga County, Ohio, for instance, a special polling place was set up in the jail's chapel. Similar arrangements were made in New Jersey's Passaic County Jail. But those persons had not been convicted of crimes.

Massachusetts may become the first state to allow prisoners serving sentences to vote.

Debate Over Best Treatment For Deserters To Come Soon

Aside from the probable dispute over proposals for cutting back the help for our own needy in order to assist the people in Indo China, the next big row on Washington's Capitol Hill may centre on what to do about the deserters who fled to Sweden and Canada rather than face induction into the armed services.

Should they be granted complete amnesty and be permitted to return to their home land without penalty or punishment?

Should they be tried as deserters and be sent to prison for running away and seeking haven in another country?

The final answer and solution probably will be somewhere in between these two extremes.

The feeling of American people, whose sons, husbands, fathers and brothers fought in Vietnam, died, were wounded or imprisoned there, is too strong to allow the deserters to be forgiven without some form of punishment.

Despite the hard line taken by President Nixon, it does not make much sense to incarcerate them at public expense or to keep them away from their families if they are prepared to become useful citizens.

The answer may be to allow them to serve in some capacity such as a hospital orderly for a prescribed period of time. This could include a number of different and useful occupations which would serve a public purpose. (So far Mr. Nixon has indicated his opposition to such a solution.)

The returning deserters could volunteer for one of these services and could be selected for the one for which they are best fitted.

Some of the deserters have made a life for themselves in Canada and Sweden and will choose to stay there. A reasonable plan should be worked out for the return of those who want to come back

McGovern Lessening Chances Of Holding His Senate Seat

Senator George S. McGovern will increase the likelihood that the voters of South Dakota will oust him from the U.S. Senate and public life next year unless he quickly sheds his image of a sore and sour loser.

He does not endear himself either to the people who stood with him in his futile fight for the Presidency or who might vote for him next year in South Dakota when he describes the Democratic party as "a party with no principles, no programs, living only from day to day, caring only for the prerequisites of office, doing nothing, and worse, not caring that nothing is done."

Those are harsh words, especially, coming as they did from a man who successfully sought the nomination of the Democratic party for the Presidency of the United States and now, at least technically, is the titular leader of that Democratic party.

That they were uttered in a lecture at Oxford University in England instead of on the floor of the U.S. Senate does not soften their impact upon Americans. George McGovern sounded like one more American who was carried away by his British surroundings.

His criticism of the Democratic party might seem a little less out of place if he had lost the election in a close fight or if it had denied him the nomination for President or if he himself had done less harm and violence to the party.

George McGovern certainly knew better when he charged that the newspaper reporters covering the White House didn't lay a glove on President Nixon during the campaign for fear of losing their "cushy" jobs.

Most of the newsmen who favored Nixon over McGovern did so because they considered him less undesirable than McGovern who now seems to be proving the accuracy of their judgment and that of the people who rejected his candidacy for the Presidency.

Hartke Gives Self Exalted Status Above Ordinary Folk

Columnist George Frazier was on sound ground when he criticized U.S. Senator Vance Hartke of Indiana for refusing to submit to the search which other airplane passengers must undergo as a precaution against possible highjacking.

Hartke, who for a short period was a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination last year until he discovered the people did not share his own high opinion of himself, was properly prevented from boarding a TWA flight in Phoenix, Arizona.

He maintained that the precautionary search was equivalent to arrest and that under the U.S. Constitution members of Congress could be arrested only for treason or felony.

It would be interesting to know how the common folk back home in Indiana, who elected Mr. Hartke to his exalted position in the Senate, react to his belief that he should be exempt from things required of ordinary citizens.

Trial of Juan Corona Was One of Weirdest On Record

This writer read carefully the day-to-day testimony in the 19-week trial of Juan Corona in Fairfield, California, on charges of committing the biggest mass murder in U.S. history.

It was one of the strangest court cases we have ever followed, and in view of some of the things which were said the guilty verdict came as a stunning surprise.

At one point during the trial the prosecutor admitted he had reasonable doubt about Corona's guilt.

District Attorney David Teja claimed at the start of the trial that he had "an open and shut" case. But in three months of presenting prosecution evidence he established no motive for the multiple murders, offered only circumstantial evidence and admitted the case was not fully investigated until Corona had been in jail for more than a year.

Superior Court Judge Richard E. Patton expressed his doubts about the trial, termed it an outrage, accused both defense and prosecuting attorneys of dereliction of duty, sentenced defense attorney Richard Hawk to 74 days in jail for contempt, District Attorney Teja to seven days in the hoosegow and special prosecutor Barton Williams also to seven days.

Hawk claimed the charges should be dismissed, called no witnesses, presented no testimony, refused to allow Corona to take the stand and assailed the prosecutor for allegedly trampling on Corona's constitutional rights.

The jury, according to its foreman, stood 7 to 5 for acquittal on the first ballot. That count eventually changed to an 11-1 guilty vote. A woman juror was the lone holdout. She finally shifted under pressure from the other jurors. She later said she did not feel enough evidence had been submitted and thought she was wrong in changing to a guilty vote.

In the end Corona was found guilty of slaying 25 itinerant field hands. He is seeking a new trial.

Officers of Ocean Liners Try To Shun Port of Boston

One of the supposed functions of the Massachusetts Port Authority is to bring additional shipping to the Port of Boston.

During the present sailing season the agency has succeeded in bringing two giant liners, the France and the Queen Elizabeth 2nd, to the Hub for the start of winter cruises.

But officers on both liners indicated they were not anxious to return to Boston because of the conditions they encountered.

One was the lack of big tugs to get the huge ocean liners in and out of the harbor. Instead of using two or three large tugs as would be done in New York, it was necessary to employ nine or ten smaller tugs.

The most surprising complaint was that there was not an adequate and safe gangplank for the use of the passengers boarding and leaving the ships at Commonwealth Pier.

The Port Authority presumably is unable to promote the use of big tugs in Boston Harbor if there is not enough regular work to keep them busy, but with all the money that is wasted by the state we should be able to afford to buy as good a gangplank as can be found anywhere.

It seems incredible that the condition of the gangplank used at the only pier in Boston which can accomodate a big ocean liner is such that officers of the liners would complain about it and consider it inadequate.

The captain of one ocean liner which came into Boston declared that the conditions here are the worst of any port he visits and that the gangplank used is actually dangerous. That's our idea of how to keep shipping away, not attract it. It means business for the city when those big liners come here, but we don't do much to attract them.

Question Legal Experience Of Two Judicial Nominees

Veteran attorneys say that two of the persons nominated by Governor Sargent for appointment as judges have very scanty legal experience.

They declare that at least two of the Governor's nominees were obviously picked because of their political connections, not their legal backgrounds.

This seems one more reason the judicial nominees should be questioned at Governor's Council meetings which are open to the press and public rather that at secret sessions behind locked doors.

Counters McGrath On State Of The City

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Having read Alderman McGrath's letter to the editor in a recent issue, I noted that the "politics of government" has enshrined itself in the life of our city. That is, it appears to this observer that the by-word of many of our aldermen is politics first, then the city".

Our Mayor who by my observation bends over backward to seek solutions to our complex problems, addresses the Board of Aldermen on the "state of the city" and everything he says must in the eyes of his mentors have a political connotation ot it.

Years ago, our citizens lost their faith in state government. The decade of the sixties was one in which our respect and trust for the federal government was undermined. Now, it is apparent that the decade of the seventies is to be one of conforntation and undercutting of respect for city government.

Newton has a proud heritage of the finest government and leadership in this state and it is fitting that this Centennial mark a revigoration of citizen participation and support in government and an end to the "politics of government" which has no place in our city.

Is it possible that some members of our Board of Aldermen have forgotten that our citizenry chose non-partisan government as the best method of running our city?

We should should examine closely the criticisms of Alderman McGrath in your issue.

In the first instance Alderman McGrath cites his disenchantment with the present administration for its "no-hire, no-fire" policy with respect to Newton's work force. To Alderman McGrath this exemplifies a failure to encourage hard work amongst the city workers. Somehow the concept of saving the taxpayer a dollar has slipped his mind.

Mr. McGrath goes on to insinuate that the singing of two year contracts by the Mayor with our municipal unions was to avoid disputes marring 'his' prestigious centennial or interfering with his upcoming election. I was of the impression that the effect of the two year contracts would be to avoid union pressure for benefits in exchange for votes.

Mr. McGrath's criticisms also touched on the mayor's use of forty-five new personnel hired through the federal government's Emergency Employment Act. For some reason Mr. McGrath only sees interference by these new employees in the jobs of othwr city employees and wonders "what will happen to the system when the funds dry up." I wonder whether the alderman saw the letter of commendation from the federal government to the Mayor for his aid in helping to achieve the purposes of the Act and whether the alderman noted that 45 jobs were created for our unemployed citizens of which 19 have since found permanent jobs with the city and 11 permanent jobs with private firms.

In addition the alderman takes the mayor to task for "taking credit" for the Rumford Avenue Dump being converted into a sanitary land fill and goes on to enlighten the reader with the 'truth', that it was really through the efforts of the alderman, the State Department of Public Health, and good press coverage that the dump was converted. In recalling the Mayor's address however, I failed to hear him take personal credit. Quite the contrary, his was a team approach. The job was accomplished because many people worked together.

These criticisms lead me to question whether it is the criticized or the critical who are interested in the welfare of our city. Perhaps in the last analysis such comments as I read by Alderman McGrath rebound to the credit of the mayor, for in a 14 page speech that took over one half the promises for the future, so little evidence could be found of the "deteriorating quality of our city."

Status Of Solid Waste Grant

(Editor's Note: Mauor Theodore D. Mann has sent the following letter to the office of Solid Waste Management Programs of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) regarding the formulation of a regional solid waste district including the cities of Newton and Waltham.)

Dear Mr. Meyers:

The cities of Newton and Waltham filed a joint grant application with your agency on June 1, 1972. Oour grant application (801702) was accepted and conditionally approved by your agency. There were three substantive conditions: 1) the formation of the district, 2) the hiring of a director, and 3) the approval of a landfill site. The main thrust of that application was to establish a regional solid waste disposal district as outlined in the Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40, Sections 44A - 44 K.

In the formation of the district the cities have sought and gained the approval of their legislative arms of government to take the first step in the Massachusetts General Laws to form a district. This was the appointment of a three-man solid waste planning committee in each city. Shortly thereafter the two communities joined and declared themselves a board.

The cities are now faced with a number of serious difficulties. This type of activity has never taken place in Massachusetts before and we are lacking in all guidelines and procedure formats. Nevertheless the board is currently engaged in investigating the pros and cons of a district and how it can be established. This is a complicated, time-consuming matter under Massachusetts General Laws.

Once the Planning Board is able to reach a decision concerning regionalization, it must then transmit that decision to both the executive and legislative branches of both city governments. This transmittal must contain the agreement under which the district will be set up and operated. In reviewing this decision the executive and legislative brandhes of both cities must carefully examine the ramifications of such a proposal.

We are also under ongoing, operational constraints. The City of Newton must have its incinerator in compliance with state and federal standards by July, 1975. To do this will require substantial addition of pollution contraol devices on the incinerator and we have been advised that while these devices are being fitted the capacity of the incinerator will be halved because it will be necessary to shut down one of the two furnaces.

Waltham is also faced with an operational problem in that once a firm decision is made on the proposed Sawyer Road landfill site, there will have to be substantial preparation in order to convert it to a working landfill. While there could be some provisions made to take unreduced rubbish into that site it would severely limit its useful life. This could be further compounded if Newton's incinerator is operating at only 50 per cent capacity. At that rate it could not possibly serve both communities.

All of this then brings us to the present. The Cities of Newton and Waltham desire to continue with the grant. We feel that we have demonstrated our sincere interest by the fact that the cities have spent approximately $5,000 in manhours and supplies on this project so far. However, realistically assessing the situation, we cannot possibly fulfill the conditions of the grant with the present time schedule. We have developed a timetable (as shown on the following page) that we feel is necessary to properly carry out the proposed grant.

Recognizing the problems you face as the agency responsible for the grant and its execution, we feel it best to apprise you of these difficulties in order to facilitate the award and execution of this grant.

We have been encouraged with the cooperation both at the regional and national levels that your agency has given our cities. We sincerely hope that you, in your demonstrated desire to assist us, will find this timetable acceptable so that we can proceed.

Wake Up Taxpayers!

Editor, Newton Graphic:

In 1969, Martin J. Roach had 390,000 square feet of land at the intersections of Route 16 and Route 128 in Newton. Roach had entered into an agreement with Haynes and Co to sell the land between Washington St. and Moulton St. for $4 per square foot, a total of 281,000 square feet for $1,124,000. The balance of the land would remain as house lots.

The Newton Redevelopment Authority took all the land by eminent domain for $191,000 or 50 cents per square foot. The reasons they stated for the taking were as follows:

1. The land was blighted,
2. The land had no access,
3. The land could not be developed with private capital.

The Newton Redevelopment Authority had several appraisals made of the Roach property before the eminent domain taking:

A. Nordblom & Co. appraisal was approx. $2.50 per square foot,

B. Meredith & Grew appraisal was approx. $2.50 per square foot,

C. Beale & Co. appraisal was approx. .50 per square foot.

The Newton Redevelopment Authority gave Roach a Pro Tanto payment based on the Beale appraisal of 50 cents per square foot.

In 1972 the State insisted on a new appraisal. Foster & Co. made the appraisal. Their appraisal was $4 per square foot. In January, 1973, the Newton Redevelopment Authority ran ads in the Boston papers offering the land for sale for $2.43 per square foot, or a total of $638,000 for 262,000 square feet of land. The Newton Redevelopment Authority took 35 percent off the Foster appraisal so that the taxpayers could subsidize a Newton Bank.

THE NEWTON REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY HAS NOT SPENT FIVE CENTS ON THE ROACH COMMERCIAL LAND FOR IMPROVEMENT IN THE FOUR YEARS THEY HAVE OWNED THE LAND. By some magical feat which only politicians can perform, the land is now described as:

PRIME LAND WITH GOOD ACCESS FOR SALE FOR DEVELOPMENT WITH PRIVATE CAPITAL. Was the Newton Redevelopment Authority telling the truth in 1969 or 1973? They had to be mistaken in either 1969 or 1973.

The Department of Community Affairs states that this is the only parcel of land ever taken in the state that is being sold at a big profit. Doesn't one of the Commandments say, Thou shalt not steal; or does it say, Thou can steal from the taxpayers? Maybe the taxpayers, Mayor Mann, and Commissioner M.iles Mahoney should have a discussion of this land taking problem.

To all taxpayers: Please wake up; it is your money that is being wasted!

Martin J. Roach,
Wellesley

Sorry For School Feb. 2

Editors note: The following letter was sent to students and parents last Friday by Superintendent of Newton Schools Aaron Fink.

I sincerely regret that I did not close schools on Friday, February 2. When I checked with several surrounding school systems at 5 and 6 a.m. they were all planning to be in session. (Their decision to close was late.) I then traveled the streets in may car.

The main streets were clear, but the side stteets admittedly were not. Before I could get to a phone to put a "no school" announcement into motion it was too late.

I can assure you that I will try to exercise extreme caution in the future.

Regretfully

Do Aldermen Discriminate Against Centre Merchants?

Editor, Newton Graphic:

For many years, the parking situation in Newton Centre has become increasingly critical. The City of Newton has established some off-street parking, but the bulk of it has been to serve the businesses on Centre Street. We have no quarrel with what has been done and are very happy that the business district has survived. However, there is still a startling lack of facilities in the East section of the square and the city has established no parking spots east of the Post Office.

Several years ago, Hugo Separini purchased the premises at 706 Beacon Street which is adjacent to our property and backs up to the MBTA tracks. Four years ago, Mr. Separini brought a petition before the Board of Aldermen under Section 25-21 of the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Newton for permission to establish a private parking lot on the premises at 706 Beacon St. This type of petition is for a permissive use which has been allowed in many sections of the City.

For some reason, the Board of Aldermen four years ago discriminated against Newton Centre and turned the petition down. We subsequently purchased the premises we occupy together with the premises at 706 Beacon St., and two years ago, we brought a petition for the same permissive use.

The Zoning Ordinances allow this type of use and we were in no way seeking to deviate from the intent of the ordinance or to in any way change a zone, encroach upon private property, or add to the existing business use in the immediate neighborhood. Again, the Board of Aldermen chose to discriminate against Newton Centre and it is interesting to note that even though the opposition cited instance after instance of traffic congestion, illegal parking, double parking, cars left parked overtime, and so forth as reasons for our being turned down in what we sought to dov, not one single alderman (even those who own businesses in the City of Newton) saw fit to vote in favor of the business interests of Newton Centre. This despite the fact that this type of permissive use has been allowed in every section of the city.

We feel that establishment of more off-streeet parking is vital to the business life of Newton Centre, together with the business life of the city in general, especially where our businesses are being dehydrated by the establishment of shopping centers which offer free parking and welcome their customers to stay as long as they wish and freely browse about from store to store, compare values, and commit themselves ag their leisure without the fear of coming outside and finding that a meter maid has added anywhere from $2 to $15 to the price of the merchandise.

We have again filed a petition for permission to use 706 Beacon St. for parking. This petition will be heard by the Land Use Committee of the Board of Aldermen on March 12, at 7:45 p.m. All we wish to do is park our customers' cars and our employees' cars on our own property. We can accommodate 100 automobiles per day, which will be off the streets of Newton Centre. We are willing to abide by any reasonable restrictions which the City of Newton puts on the use of or property.

It is proposed to raze the two-family house and to excavate the premises to the level of Beacon Street. A landscape strip would be left between Beacon St. and the lot and between the remaining two-family residence with appropriate fencing. No additional entrance would be established, thereby all traffic would be in and out the existing garage driveway. No cars would be on the lot which are offered for sale. No servicing of any kind would be done on the lot. No signs or other advertising device of any kind would be permitted.

We hope you will see fit to agree with us an that you will make your sentiments known to your aldermen by either writing them and expressing your views and especially by being present at the night of the hearing. Your support is vital. Without it we will fail again, and every day you see about you the results of the inaction of the city government. Please bear in mind we do not ask the city or the merchants to contribute one cent toward this venture. We just ask that we be allowed to lpve in the business community.

Please address any inquiries to the undersigned or to our attorney, William E. Halliday, 1357 Washington Street, West Newton - 332-0895.

Your editorial last week on snow removal was a most constructive and thoughtful piece.

Most of us found our own stairs and driveways too dangerously slick and did not venture out until later in the morning last Friday.

But Newton's city workers, despite the extremely hazardous ice storm, managed to go out and sand out streets and open, them to travel in the early morning.

They deserve our thanks and commendation for outstanding performance.

Guaranty-First Trust Company. Because you deserve a better way to bank.

What's a Guaranty-First Trust Company? It's a combination of the Guaranty Trust Company of Waltham and the First National Bank of Natick. It merges the best of both banking worlds into one, new, bigger, and best of all, better way to bank. For you.

The way we look at it is this. You grew So we grew. The more your financial needs keep shifting and stretching, the more you need all the bank you can get out of your bank. So we decided that two good banks would be even better as one.

What does it mean for you in the way of services? Guaranty-First will continue to feature the same superior services both banks have been famous for. That means things like lifetime guaranteed no charge checking, First Reserve or American Express credit, Master Charge, 24-hour check cashing, student loans, and automatic mortgage payments and account transfers. And we've got bigger and better ways to bank on the way.

What does it mean in the way of bank locations? Well there are Guaranty-First branch offices in Waltham, Belmont, Natick, Framingham, Holliston, and Sudbury. That means no matter where you are, there's a better way to bank right in your backyard.

Finally, what does it mean in the way we treat you? If you're an old friend who knows us by an old name, remember our new name, and remember, we're getting more than bigger. We're getting better. If you've never known us by any name, remember why we're here. Because you deserve a better way to bank.

personnel needed and wage and fringe expenses.

They also said they felt revaluation would take from three to five years if done by city assissors.

THE Blue Ribbon Panel ruled out the option of using a combination ofthe two methods; having an outside firm reassess residences and the city assessors handle non-exempt personal, commercial and industrial property.

They concluded there would be no savings in time or cost, the method would create "Confusion of responsibility inluding possile failure to assess all o the potentially taxable property in the city," and that there would be "difficulty in achieving a uniform standard of values."

Generally, the report noted, about one-third of all Massachusetts cities and towns have completed reappraisals and virtually all of them were performed by outside appraisal firms.

They stated there usually is "Hidden or undisclosed property" in the city that will be revealed by a complete reappraisal and there is a possibility the undisclosed values would increase the tax base and tend to lessen, "if not eliminate," the impact of reappraisal on taxpayers whose property may be assessed at a rate below the city average.

The report also acknowledged the fact revaluation tends to "lessen the value of certain types of statutory exemptions," and named those for veterans, the elderly and handicapped persons.

It went on to say the State Legislature is curently working on the exemption inequities problem under 100 percent valuation of property.

The panel met 10 times over the course of the last three months. Among the people invited to contribute their expertise were: the chairman of the Board of Assessors of Brookline, the chairrman of the Boston Board of Review, who discussed the concept of revaluation and related the experiences of other cities and towns in Massachusetts when they conducted reassessments; the chief assessor of Warwic, R. I., now in the process of performing in-house revaluation; officials of two independent appraisal firms, the executive director of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, members of the Board of Aldermen and the city solicitor.

The committee also reviewed sample specifications, contracts, appraisal manuals, forms and documents, rate studies of contiguous cities and towns, cost analyses of in-house and outside appraisals, and cases decided by the Supreme Judicial Court influencing revaluation.

Former State Asst. Atty. Gen. Jay L. Fialkow was the chairman of the committee. Its members were: Frederick T. Arata, city employee; Edward A. Green, chairman of the mayor's financial adisory committee; Susan H. Green, League of Women Voters; Alderman Michael Lipof; Phillip G. MARSH, PRESIDENT OF THE Newton Taxpayers' Association; Lyman H. Ziegler, technical director of the Massachusetts Taxpayers' Foundation, technical director, C. S. Draper Laboratory of MIT; and Michael R. LeConti, general contractor.

connected with the School Department were counted in the audience Monday).

The only citizen who spoke at length on the subject was Lorenz F. Muther of 133 Gibbs St., Newton Centre, who expressed his gratitude for the "work shown" on this year's budget. "I congratulate you for the work you have done," he said.

Muther, of the Newton Taxpayers Association, also admonished the board that the salary outlay could generate some "trouble." Salaries might "tend to eat up the programs," he commented.

In explaining why he abstained from voting, Mayor Mann, who has taken an active part in the budget debate since December, claimed that he felt "kind of frustrated."

"It has been a job well done," said the mayor, "but I'm still frustrated because the bottom line figure still must be paid."

Stating that "we must now come up with" the millions of dollars, and further alluding to a "superb job of the administration and School Committee" in trying to hold down the costs, Mayor Mann nonetheless proclaimed his intent to abstain as a way of saying, 'I'm frustrated.' "

Getting the last word in before the vote, Chairman Manuel Beckwith noted that the School Board's function all along has been to "try to have a budget which all taxpayers can live with."

He also said that it is their duty to "watch the budget like a hawk. We must watch every item in it for the next 18 months."

Before the official vote which approved the budger was taken, a motion was passed unanimously to remove over $3 million from the final figure if the State Legislature passes a law allowing municipalities to pay the July and August, 1974 teacher salareis from their fiscal 1975 budgest.

The motion was proposed by Mayor Mann, who stated that the Massachusetts Mayors Association is currently working on the proposal which will be presented to the state lawmakers.

At present, approximately $3.2 million of the nearly $30 million professional salary account has been allocated for the two summer months which follow the June 30 cutoff date of the 18-month budget. This has been done by the School Committee according to the mandatory state requirement.

If the mayors organization is successful, the Legislature would pass a budget-easing bill letting Bay State cities and towns push the July and August, 1974 teacher salary coffer into the next year's 12-month budget.

"In that event," said Superintendent of Schools Aaron Fink, "that amount ($3.2 million) willl be removed from Newton's 1973-74 budget."

The motion was offered by the Mayor because of the "unique and unrealistic strain on the budget" caused by this hindering statute. The motion is further subject to the "exact amount required for" the salary allocation of those two months, and "to the approval of the Newton Teachers' Association as a revision of their existing agreement."

The removal of the $3 million hinges completely on the Legislature's passage of the Mayors Association's proposal, it must be stressed.

stuff to make you feel that you've had a nice time," one critic wrote in his review.

He went on to say: "the show rests on the petite back of guest soprano Teri Bryant."

Criticizing the overall production, a second critic had this to say:

"Disappointing as these facets of the production might be, they fade into insignificance in the memory of Miss Bryant's splendid voice and infectious personality."

Miss Bryant, at the age of 17, made her first appearance with the Boston Pops. She has also performed leading roles in "Hansel and Gretel," "The Marriage of Figaro," and "Carmen," and sang the role of Theodora in the first Boston performance of Handel's "Theodora."

For the last year, she has been the soloist at the Christian Science Church of Quincy and when not performing, is employed at the Christian Science Publishing Co. in Boston.

Music is definitely the avocation of the Bryant family. Teri's father was a jazz and swing pianist in the 30's and 40's and also was a composer. Her mother studied voice as a young girl and in college.

Miss Bryant has a sister, Sandra, who is now working as a guidance counselor at Framingham South High Schoool and a younger sister, Andrea, now in nursing at Baptist Memorial Hospital in Kansas City, Mo. Her brother Barry is a sophomore at Newton South.

Miss Bryant studied music with Raymond Smith, tenor and director of music at Newton High School; and Robert Gartside, concert tenor and professor of voice at Boston University.

She is expected home in mid-February.

Ink drain

To bring the nation up to date, American newspapers every day drain a virtual lake of ink.

To print all of the newspapers in the United States in a single weekday, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, requires between 6000,000 and 700,000 pounds of ink —or, at the rate of 8 to 10 pounds per gallon — enough to float a respectable-sized ship.

The Sunday edition of a metropolitan U.S. newspaper may require as much as 200,000 pounds of ink

Soccer Talk

By PAUL ELDRIDGE, JR.

Attention all coaches and managers of Twilight League teams. Are you looking for a goalie? Leonarda Leonetti-Luparini, who is from Venezuela and is now attending Hoosac School in Hoosac, New York, is looking for a team to play on. He will be staying in Belmont for the summer and is anxious to play for a team so he can stay in shape for the college season.

You can write to him at the Hoosac School. Incidentally, it was his Director of Athletics, a Mr. Henry Dickie, who recommended to him that he get in tough with the Mass. Soccer Assoc. if he wanted to play top flight soccer.

At the recent Mass. Soccer Assoc. meeting, John Burtos, coach of the Boston Astros spoke. He said that he wanted to set things straight. Burtos stated that contrary to the rumor, now making the rounds, the Astros will play in the American Soccer League this coming season. He also said that the Astros will continue to play at B.U. Field.

Headlines on the English sports pages recently, stated that Paddy Mulligan was transferred from Chelsea to Cyrstal Palace. Both teams are in the English first division. Yes, this is the same Paddy Mulligan who played in Boston for the Beacons and Shamrock Rovers.

Commissioner Phil Woosam announced today that with the addition of Philadelphia the NASL would consist of three Divisions of three teams for the 1973 season. The season opener is slated for May 5th.

Philadelphia will join the new Eastern Division along with the defending NASL Champions, the New York Cosmos and Miami Toros. The Northern Division will include the Montreal Olympiques, Rochester Lancers and Toronto Metros. The Southern Division will include the Dallas Tornado, the new Atlanta franchise and the 1973 NASL runner-ups, the St. Louis Stars.

"Under the new alignment," the Commissioner stated, "each team will play a 19 game schedule consisting of one home and one away game with each of the other eight clubs, an additional home game against one of the teams in its division and an additional away game with the other team in its division, and one game against a common international opponent which will be included in the league standings. This schedule will provide each club with a ten home and nine away game schedule during a fifteen weekend period from May 5th to August 12th.

The teams involved in the playoffs will be the three division champions and a 'wild card' team, the second place team with the most total points. The playoff semi-finals will be played on the weekend of August 19th and the championship game on the weekend of August 26th.

With Tom McCoskey owning the Philadelphia franchise, a group led by the Dolphin owners purchasing the Miami club and the Omni group, owners of the NBA Hawks and NHL Flames, now operating the Atlanta franchise, we have taken another major step forward. The latest Gallup Poll released earlier this week provided evidence that soccer has made the greatest percentage increase in actual attendance at all levels over the past decade. This confirms our view that soccer is about to enjoy the degree of expansion as experienced by professional football and hockey in recent years.

Appointed By Scout Council

Betsy Shuster of 141 West Street, Braintree, has recently been appointed executive director of Blue Hill Girl Scout Council. The announcement was made by Mrs. Edwin Kussmaul, of Westwood, Council president.

Until her recent appointment, Miss Shuster, who has been with Blue Hill Council since 1967, was program services director and pesonnel services director. She has also been advisor to the selectons committee for wider opportuity events, and director of Project Friendship, which is a Senior-staffed resident encampment for disadvantaged irls and was a national event in 1972.

A graduate of Middlebury College, she taught at Braintree Senior High School, and is a volunteer representative for the Experiment in International Living.

Blue Hill Council is comprised of 22 communities south and west of Boston and serves over 12,000 girls in more than 600 troops as well as over 2,000 adult volunteers.

Backyard Frontier

By POLLY BRADLEY
(Mass. Audubon Society)

Instead of letting superhighways chop up Greater Boston like an orange into a number of neat, orderly little segments, Governor Francis W. Sargent of Massachusetts has decided to keep the orange in one piece. Through traffic can travel around on the skin of the orange, and the middle will be kept together.

After all, you know what happens to the center of the orange after it's separated into sections: the center is gone. The thin little membrane that's left is so dry and unsavory you might as well toss it down the trash chute. Not a vitamin left.

Boston couldn't possibly handle all the peak rush hour traffic on a one-car-one-person basis, plus all the through highway traffic, without ceasing to be Boston. Boston was, after all, built on a different scale. To try to adapt it to modern superhighways would mean the end of what makes Boston unique.

The new plan, instead of bringing in bigger superhighways and more cars, will encourage mass transit, with improved subway, bus, and rail service. A new inner belt subway will make it possible to go to the edge of the city without going to the middle every time. A new tunnel direct to Logan Airport for commercial vehicles will ease the approach to the city from the north. There will be traffic management innovations and parking limitations to discourage use of automobiles during rush hours. (One can only hope the revolutionary innovations will include enforcement of the traffic laws, which seem to be not entirely unfeasible in other parts of the nation.)

This one decision will not solve the problems of Boston. . . not even all the transportation problems. . . but it will at least make a future possible for Boston. At least one major problem of the future is being avoided: thousands of extra cars — with all the problems of congestion, confusion, air pollution and noise pollution that cars bring — will not be brought into the center of the city.

Boston isn't the first or the only city to opt out of inner-city superhighways. Already Route I-95, the Florida-to-Maine throughway which Boston is rerouting, detours around Washington, Baltimore, and New York. Other interstate roads are now bypassing San Francisco, Philadelphia, and Atlanta.

And this has been no snap decision. For nearly three years, the issues have been studied by the Boston Transportation Planning Review, headed by the Commonwealth's Secretary of Transportation, Alan Altshuler, with support from Massachusetts Institute of Technology transportation experts. The problems were widely discussed, open hearings held and the largest possible public input encouraged.

The plan deserves wide support. It will head Boston towards the goal of being a city for people, not for cars.

Nursery School Project Nears Realization Date

The new Temple Shalom Nursery School of Newton held its first open meeting last week with enthusiasm running high as the establishment and operation of the school was discussed.

The school, housed in the modern classrooms of Temple Shalom, will accomodate three and four year old children. The major goal of the nursery school will be to help the pre-school child understand himself and his invironment, while learning to live harmoniously with both.

The values and customs of Reform Judaism will be an integral part of the curriculum. The school will be open to temple members as well as to the entire community.

At the meeting, a discussion ensued pertaining to the number of nursery school sessions per week. A five day program is planned with the possibility of a two and three day program. The final decision will depend on the need and the number of children enrolled.

On Monday evening, February 12, there will be another meeting of all those in the community who are interested in this new nursery school. To convey your interest, and aquire further information, please call Mrs. LIpof at 244-5254, or Mrs. Freed at 332-5316.

Campus Notes

Academic reform was the topic of an interdisciplinary retreat sponsored by the academic affairs committee of the University of Texas.

The day-and-a-half-long retreat was held Jan. 27-28, and students and representatives of different areas of the university discussed and analyzed the "prospects of change." The program focused on problems of change, processes of reform, changes in curricula and students as agents of change.

Thomas Fotios Drakos, 68 Waverly Avenue, participated in the retreat.

Mr. Paul Paglia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paglia, 141 Cyprus street, Newton Centre, recently joined 11 of his classmates in the industrial design department of Syracuse University in a slide and tape presentation on "The Energy Crisis."

The presentation was given Jan. 16-17 for the Armco Sttel Corporation's annual student design program in St. Louis, Mo.

Each year Armco invited the industrial design departments of three universities to join in the investigation of the future of particular industries. This year, Syracuse, Georgia Tech and North Carolina State were asked to develop the presentations.

David C. Horovitz, 16 Shuman Circle, Newton, received a bachelor of science degree in hotel administration at the fifth and largest midwinter commencement of the University of New Hampshire.

A final message for the graduating students was delivered by Mrs. Mildred McAfee Horton, chairman of the university's board of trustees, who urged them to use their energy and knowledge for the benefit of the community and to constantly add to their education by learning from experience in living.

Temple Hears Clergymen Discuss Crisis In Religion

Temple Beth Avodah's adult education series entitled "Jewish Values and Social Crisis," will continue this Friday, Feb. 9, 8:15 p.m. at the Temple on Puddingstne Lane, Newton Centre.

The topic for this month's program is "The Crisis in Religious Institutions," featuring a guest panel composed of Jewish, Protestant and Catholic clergymen.

Rev. Paul G. Gorman, a Catholic priest and student of counseling psychology at Boston University, will present his ideas as will Dr. Donald W. Manthei, a Protestant minster, professor of psychology at Lasell Junior College and executive director of the Interfaith Counseling Service. They will be joined on the panel by Rabi Robert M. Miller, Longmeadow, Mass.

Miss Plotkin is a member of the Class of '73 and is enrolled in the executive secretarial program.

If you're buying something on the installment plan, check the contract very carefully. If you don't understand it, ask questions. Or—take it home and show it to someone who might be able to understand it.

spiritual leader of Temple Beth Avodah.

Rev. Gorman, Dr. Manthei and Rabbi Miller will explore the responses of each religious institution to current pressures including the apathy of the older generation, the cry for relevance of youth and significance of various underground mobements.

There are no simple solutions to these pressures but a frank discussion of the problems will heopfully bring a better understanding of the methods of survival for institutional religion in general and Judiasm in particulaar.

Guests are cordially invited to the Temple's worship service and the adult education symposium.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Temple at 527-0045.

SAFER ROASTING

NEW YORK (UPI) — Oven roasting bags came under the scrutiny of the Food and Drug Administration's (FDA) Bureau of Foods after a report by the New York State Health Department citing 60 incidents of bags exploding. That was last January.

Student Nurses Host Educators

Dr. Frank Pilecki, Dean of Laboure Junior College, Boston, was the guest speaker at the January meeting of NERO (Nursing Education Recruitment Organization) recently hosted by the School of Nursing at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Dr. Pilecki spoke on the "Systems Approach to Learning Used at Laboure Junior College" at a luncheon at the Newton Holiday Inn immediately following NERO's business meeting. The latter was held at the school of nursing with Miss Elizabeth Ketchen, the school's director of nursing education, welcoming guests.

NERO is the first national organization that gives individuals concerned with the aspects of recruitment and admissions in nursing education programs the opportunity to meet with their colleagues on issues of common concern.

LOVE POWER

It's all the little things we share. Like the time we stood on a hill and watched the sun go down. And no one said a word.

Or had to.

It's the single long stem red rose you brought me. You said it was for our anniversary...exactly 1,000 days since we first met. You won't admit it, my dear, but I think you have a sentimental streak. And I love you for it.

Love Power is that understanding shoulder you let me lean on, no matter what your day has been like. And the times your castles have crumbled, and your dreams have gone tumbling, and I can comfort you for a while.

That's what Love Power is all about.

How can we compete with a single long stem Red Rose.

We can't begin to. We can't even hold a candle to a sunset when you come right down to it. No one can. But if a Valentine keepsake is part of your love story we'd like to help.

We're part of something new that's sweeping the country. The catalog warehouse showroom.

Over 10,000 name brand items at up to 50% below retail 365 days a year. We buy direct from the manufacturers. You save the difference. A pretty substantial difference. Over 10,000 gift ideas, that you can pick up on the spot in our beautiful showroom.

As we said, no one can compete with a sunset for two, but if you should decide on a keepsake for Valentine's Day, we can help you make it just a little nicer than you had planned.

Or she had ever expected.

Best Buy catalog showrooms. Where you save the difference, and then some.

Bank Reaches Up!

The Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company reached a new high in total assets and accomplished the greatest deposit growth in its history during 1972, Giles E. Mosher, Jr., chairman of the board and president, announced.

Year-end assets were a record $210,291,782.85 while deposits totaled $186,613,975.65, up 24 percent over the 1971 figure. Time deposits peaked to $71,981,668.23, up 26 percent and demand deposits increased 23 percent, to $114,632,287.42. Total loans also grew by 16 percent to $133,801,595.31.

"We attribute much of our success this past year to a continued commitment to providing Newton-Waltham customers with the finest banking service available," Mr. Mosher said. "Half of our twenty-two banking offices are now open Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., and most of them are open at least one evening per week.

"Free Checking Plus, a popular new type of account we introduced in March, was another key ingredient in the bank's growth this year," Mr. Mosher continued. "We believe that it is incumbent upon us to adapt our business hours and services to customers' needs, and this philosophy will definitely guide our future endeavors."

Headquartered in Waltham, the Newton-Waltham Bank now has twenty-two offices in ten cities and towns west of Boston. It is a member of the Baystate Corporation, Boston, a multi-bank holding company with assets in excess of $1.5 billion.

COMEBACK

OTTAWA (UPI) — The famous schooner Bluenose II, one of Nova Scotia's major tourist attractions, will make a comeback this spring after being tied up for two years because of dry rot, says the Canadian Government Travel Bureau.

Now undergoing a major refit at the Lunenberg shipyard, the Bluenose II will sail the Atlantic again, carrying visitors to other attractions along the Nova Scotia coast. About 42,000 sailing buffs contributed $45,000 for the restoration.

Broadway Would Be Saved If Niel Simon Could Write More

By JACK GAVER
UPI Drama Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Of course, "The Sunshine Boys" is funny. Didn't Neil Simon write it? How else does he write but funny?

Well, sometimes he works some meaningful things into those comedies that have established him as the most successful playwright of the past decade, and this is especially true of the new hit at the Broadhurst Theater.

After you have laughed yourself into a helpless state when you see this one, give it a mental replay. I think you will decide that under that thick layer of laughs lies poignant, true and meaningful comment on the unhappiness and frustrations that old age can bring.

Simon has managed to achieve a subtle examination of this phase of the human condition that any playwright who has attacked the subject with pompous intent might envy.

The playwright has two magnificent collaborators in making this one of his funniest and most meaningful plays. They are actors Jack Albertson and Sam Levene. Their casting in the two leading roles could not have been bettered. And the direction by actor Alan Arkin is exactly right.

The Story

There isn't much of a plot, but that doesn't matter. Albertson plays Willie Clark and Levene is Al Lewis, septuagenarians who achieved vaudeville fame in 43 years as a comedy team.

As the play begins, they have been inactive for 11 years. Al retired from show business, seeing no future for vaudeville, thus automatically retiring Willie, who didn't want to quit. Willie has built up a hate against Al for this and other reasons.

Willie's agent nephew, admirably played by Lewis J. Stadlen, who has kept the old man alive in the latter's seedy hotel quarters, suddenly comes up with a television offer for the services of the team on a special saluting great vaudevillians.

Willie will have none of it despite the handsome money offer. He can't abide being with Al again Al, incomfortable abut dull retirement in New Jersey, is willing.

Willie finally comes around, they rehearse one of their famous sketches and get halfway through a dress rehearsal in the television studio when Al reverts to some old habits that have always irritated Willie, causing Willie to blow up and have a heart attack.

There is a rather pathetic reconciliation of sorts. Both decide there is nothing left for them to do but to retire to a home for old actors.

There is nothing wrong with the Broadway theater that couldn't be cured if Simon could turn out about five plays a season.

MRS. DAVID NORMAN RILEY

Genevieve Clark Fisher Marries David N. Riley

The recent marriage of Genevieve Clark Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Fisher, Jr., West Newton, to David NORMAN Riley, son of Dr. and Mrs. Leo Harold Riley, Newton, took place at the summer home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Genevieve Clark Fisher in Sagamore Beach.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ecru lace and vile gown designed by Priscilla of Boston.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Genevieve Clark Fisher and Mrs. Karen S. Vail were her matron and maid of honor.

Best man for his son was Mr. Riley's father, Dr. Leo Harold Riley.

The bride attended Oak Grove School in Maine, Brimmer and May in Chestnut Hill and The Art Institute of Boston.

The bridegroom attended Manlius Academy in Syracuse, New York and is a student at Harvard University, to graduate this spring, whereupon he will attend business school.

Christian Family Movement Groups Publish Cookbook

Just in time for the post-holiday meal doldrums is a new cook book, "For Family and Friends," published by the Christian Family Movement of Greater Boston, with many of the recipes submitted by members of the Newton CFM groups from Sacred Heart Church. Its 56 pages contain recipes for cookies, bars, cakes, pies, quick breads, muffins, yeast breads, and a miscellaneous section that includes a little bit of everything from a cheese puff appetizer to granola.

One of the most treasured recipes is the Colonial Innkeeper's pie, a fudgy cake that bakes in a pie shell. With the children, the top favorites arecookies. (See Bird's Nest cookie recipe below). For a change of pace in entertaining, try Vino Della Robbie, a delightful way to serve wine either as a compplement to dinner or by itself. The recipe is included in the book.

Bird's Nest Cookies

½ cup butter or margerine
¼ cup brown sugar
1 egg, separated
1 cup flour
1 cup chopped nuts

Cream butter with brown sugar. Add yolk. Add flour; mix. Form into small balls and dip into slightly beaten egg white. Roll in choppped nuts. Press centers in with fingers. Bake on ungreased baking sheets at 350 for 8 minutes. Remove and press in centers again. Bake 10 more mimutes. Before serving, fill nests with jam.

First Winners In Roche Bros. Winter Olympic Contest Drawn

Lucky winners, with dreams of becoming overnight millionaires, were drawn from the entries of the first week of the contest which will run for five weeks at Roche Bros. Supermarkets.

Mrs. James Doyle, drawn by Mrs. Stevens, a customer at Roche Bros. Supermarket. The second number drawn was for Claire Morrison, drawn by Bill Kelley, meat supervisor and long-time member of the Roche Bros. staff. The third winner was Mrs. Bartlett, drawn by Miss Cougan and fourth was Mrs. Dorothy Rowean whose name was drawn by Louise Trudeau from entries Monday through Saturday.

Following the theme of Winter Olympics, the weekly prizes are called SilverMedal Awards . . . and the Grand Playoffs will be on March 3 when Gold Medals Awards will be drawn from all entries throughout the five week period. The three Gold Medal Awards will be the choice of sport equipment from Lechmere Sales or, meat to fill the freezer in the amounts of $500, $300 or $200. Visitors to Roche Bros. are invited to enter their names as often as they wish, writing their name and phone number on register tape or blank paper, whichever is most convenient.

It is interesting to note the theme for Winter Olympics, grew from ideas suggested by the youth staff of Roche Bros. who are involved in sport activities and were anxious for a promotion in which they felt enthusiastically involved. The young crews have made up their own posters for their work areas, rooting for lucky winners, who may start the family off with camping equipment, golf or tennis from Lechmere's, or with months of good eating with meat from Roche Bros. Supermarkets, to say nothing of the many weekly silver awards to be given to lucky folks who will begin thinking in terms of the possibiity of becoming a millionaire.

Wins Top Sales Manager Award

For outstanding performance in his work, Raymond Hall of Herb Anderson Volkswagen, Inc., Norwood, was recently selected as Top Sales Manager from a field of 71 dealers in the New England area.

By winning this award, he is joining a select group of only 14 Master Sales Managers judged as best each year out of the entire Volkswagen organization.

He won the honor of being chosen for this award for his ability to efficiently fulfill all aspects of this job responsibility. In a letter congratulating him on his success, Robert S. Clark, Sales Manager of Volkswagen Northeastern Distributor, Inc. wrote, "You have set a performance standard to which other Volkswagen sales managers should aspire."

Proud of their employee's accomplishment, Herb Anderson Volkswagen, Inc. of 1210 Providence Turnpike has won numerous sales awards in the past year including Tops in Sales in New England for a given period.

Mr. Hall lives at 824 Washington Street in Walpole with his wife Pat and three children. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Elks and the Legion.

Message-

Cohen said he is recommending he or the board vice president be consulted on whether or not items referred to the board must have its approval and that an unofficial booklet of such items be kept.

Addressing himself to the lateness of board meetings, which have been known to last until 3 a.m., the president also served notice this tendency was about to be curbed.

"We are unfair to ourselves, our efficiency and to the city," he daid.

He announced recesses in official proceedings would be limited to the specified 20 minutes and committees would no longer have the opportunity to tie up meetings with recesses that have been known to last tow or more hours.

He also asked the Executive Department to curb its tendency to submit last minute, "emergency" items to the Board of Alermen, items which have usually been the cause of the abnormally long recesses.

The Newton Aldermen also voted on these matters at the meeting Monday:

—Approved a petition from builder Donato D. Capasso for the construction of 28 units of garden apartments at 153 Concord St. Capasso has agreed to lease three units to the Newton Housing Authority, two two-bedroom apartments and one one-bed room apartment, for five year with two five-year renewal options.

—Gave City Treasurer Theodore D. Scafidi the power to borrow in anticipation of revenues up to $28 million. The treasurer had requested a $40 million limit.

—Denied a request from the city solicitor to abandon the health commissioner system in Newton and revert back to a Board of Health.

—Approved a move to allow constables currently employed by the city to retain their life tenure and that all constables hired in the future will serve fivepyear terms. Under the old City Charter, constables were given life tenure and no provision was made for the position in the new charter, prompting aldermen to enact this measure.

—Unanimously approved a resolution calling on Newton legislators to oppose the sale of the Chestnut Hill Country Club to the state and asking them to discuss the matter with the governor and other state leaders.

—Agreed to have Gary P. Brazier, Walter J. Leonard, Martin Lucente, Mrs. Eloise K. Houghton, Allen M. Rudolph and Lewis B. Songer serve as the aldermanic contingent on a joint committee to study pay for board members.

Mayor Theodore D. Mann appointed Edward Kiley, John Weber and James R. Morse Jr. The panel is to study the question of paying Newton aldermen and make a recommendation in April.

ABC PILOT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Felton Perry signed with MGM to co-star with Lou Gossett in "The Fuzz Brothers," an hour pilot for ABC-TV.

Lipof Files Safety Petition

"6. Both front and back house lights shall be lit every night to discourage crime in the city.

"7. Driver courtesy be encouraged by all Newton motorists and that statutory traffic rules and regulations be observed."

Mrs. Saklad would also like to see the establishment of a city wide safety commission. While recognizing that several groups are already working on the safety problem she feels that a coordinating committee would be most beneficial in consolidating the actions of all the different agencies.

"Of course the police department would have to be involved in such a coordinating commission," stated Mrs. Saklad. "Not only are they the most expert in prevention of accidents, but I feel they have contributed the most in bringing safety to the attention of Newton's residents."

"I have nothing but the highest priase for the police, especially Sgt. Charles Feeley, the city's safety officer. He has been magnificent in teaching our children the rules of traffic observance," she added.

Mrs. Saklad concluded her remarks by also praising Alderman Lipof for his continued support of public safety, and she voiced the hope that his fellow alderman would also join in support of her resolution.

Hours-

Under the City Charter, the Board of Aldermen is empowered to set City Hall hours and the Executive Department can only change them on the voluntary basis.

Personnel will be available in the following departments to transact city business with Newton citizens:

Mayor's Office
Office of Citizens Assistance
Health Department
Building Department
Election Department
Treasurer's Office
Assessing Department
City Clerk's Office
Street Department
Engineering Department
Department of Human Resources
Department of Veteran's Affairs
Law Department
Personnel
Employment Office

Mann said he will also be available to citizens during the evening hours.

The mayor said the increased hours will be "evaluated on a trial basis" to determine "the criteria of need and effectiveness of the evening hours."

The extension of hours, he said, will be accomplished by a personnel schedule change and will be at "no extra cost" to the city.

The famous Hope Diamond is on display at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Rod Taylor returns to feature films to star in the re-make at MGM of "Trader Horn," the original of which was shot in 1930 and starred Harry Carey.

TRAVEL TRAILS by Julian Roberts

Most of us plan our vacations with meticulous care but we're apt to be careless about the house we're leaving behind . . . Aside from canceling the milk delivery, paper and mail delivery, locking doors, windows, unplugging electric appliances, call the police for added protection . . . Let them know you are leaving (especially if it's for more than 2 or 3 days) . . . Also give a neighbor a key just in case of an emergency . . . They can also double check your house from time to time . . . Now you can forget about your house and enjoy your vacation.

Vacations are fun at any time of the year. Let the staff at REGENCY TRAVEL, INC. handle your entire trip. We are specialists in group and individual travel all over the world and have six qualified agents to give personalized service. # Planting The Largest Forest In History

By ELDON BARRETT

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) — The largest single private forest planting effort in history is taking place this winter with plans by Weyerhaeuser Co. to plant more than 100 million seedling trees on its lands in the Pacific Northwest, the South and in Oklahoma.

"The aim," said George Weyerhaeuser, company president, "is to help us make sure America never runs out of wood."

C.W. Bingham, senior vice president of the forest products firm, said the company would plant trees in Arkansas, North Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama, Oregon, Washington and Oklahoma.

"This massive regeneration effort," Bingham said, "is exemplary of the efforts being made by industry to use fully the productivity of its lands and insure there will always be timber for our use.

"Wood is one major renewable resource and we must not only protect the delicate balance of the forest environment by replacing what we have taken for man's use with new growing young trees, but we also must manage that new growth intensively."

Bingham said about 80 per cent or the seedling would come from six company nurseries while the rest would be purchased from nurseries near the planting areas.

Weyerhaeuser nurseries can produce upwards of 85 million seedlings a year.

The trees are planted in the winter months and early springs because the seedlings are dormant and can be moved with little damage.

Hand Planting

Most of the tiny trees will be planted by hand to help isnure their survival. Under normal circumstances, one man can plant one acre of with approximately 700 trees a day.

During the 1971-72 planting season the firm placed about 75 million seedlings in the ground and the season before that 65 million were planted.

Of the 100 million to be set out this year, 38 million will be planted in the Douglas fir region of western Washington and western Oregon; 3 million will be put out in the Ponderosa pine region of Southern Oregon and 59 million pine seedlings will be planted in the South.

Seedlings which die before next season will be replaced next year. This procedure will be repeated until the new forest is fully established.

Weyerhaeuser said it was investing about $28 million in the program which it calls the "most intensive forest management program in the world."

Most of the trees planted now can be harvested for lumber, plywood or other uses within 50 years.

Bingham cited statistics which show that more than 200 million tons of wood products are consumed in the United States each year. That's about twice the amount of steel produced in the United States annually In fact, every American will require the equivalent of one 100-foot tree, or approximately one ton of wood, each year.

Household Hints

Before serving frozen citrus juices that have been reconstituted with water and chilled, shake or stir the beverage to aerate it and bring out peak flavor.

Frozen chicken is best thawed in the refrigerator, says the National Broiler Council, a trade organization. Allow 12 to 16 hours to thaw whole frozen chickens of four pounds or less. Chicken pieces thaw in four to nine hours under refrigeration.

---

If you have a ventilating hood over your kitchen range, turn on the fan in it before you begin cooking. This helps keep grease-laden moisture from sticking to the walls and ceiling, says the American Gas Assn.

---

Soft cookies are done when delicately browned and when the imprint of a finger is slightly visible when you touch the cookie centers.

---

To substitute cocoa for unsweetened chocolate in cake baking, use 3 tablespoons of cocoa and 1 tablespoon of shortening for each 1-ounce square of chocolate called for.

---

Celery is a $24 million annual crop in Florida. It covers farmland equal in size to the resort island of Bermuda and totals about 7.5 million shipping containers annually.

South Five Wins In Overtime

By Lewis H. Freedman

Center Rich Spector poured in 22 points, including the winning basket with 20 seconds left in the second overtime, to give Newton South a 44-42 triumph over Maynard, last week, at Maynard.

The 6-5 Spector sank a layup after taking a pass from guard Mike Lushan to win a game which had more ups and downs than the Allegheny Mountains.

South took a 16-12 lead after the first quarter, but then the Lion offense went into hibernation and they were outscored, 11-5 in the second period. The Lions spent the next two quarters making up for the second period lapse, capturing the third stanza, 13-10 and the final frame, 6-4, as both offenses went on vacation.

The first overtime consisted of two points for each club, with Spector hitting for the South basket.

Forward Rich Duffy (are you listening Rich Duffy fan club?) was South's only other player in double figures with 10 points, as only five Lion players scored.

Maynard was paced by Jeff LeSage's 20 points.

Newton South had a 46-45 lead over Wayland after three quarters, but 6-5 Spector and 6-3 Al Crupp fouled out and the Warriors took control of the boards to turn the fourth quarter into a rout, 22-10.

South had come from seven points down at the half to the one-point lead by outscoring Wayland, 18-10 in the third quarter.

Spector, despite playing less than three periods, was high man for South with 15 points. Ned Moan also cracked into double figures with 14 points.

Don Borger notched 27 points to lead all scorers.

The South jayvee toppled Wayland, 59-52, last week, to up its record to 7-3 on the year. Bob Harris and George Thomas, 15 points apiece, led the Lion scoring and Ricky Sharton added 13 points.

The Lion varsity is now 4-9 on the season, including a 3-8 mark in the Dual County League. South has a week between its games this week–from last Friday until tomorrow–and the Lions will need that time to prepare. They face tough Lincoln-Sudbury, a club which beat them 67-43 the first time around. The jayvee taps off in the Newton South gym at 6:30 p.m., and the varsity game follows at approximately 8 p.m.

Taricano Leads South Gymnasts

Mark Taricano utilized the strength and agility of Tarzan to capture the side horse and the parallel bars, take second in the long horse, and third in the floor exercise and propel the Newton South High gymnastics team to its fourth straight win, last week, over Dennis Yarmouth, 82.5 to 61.75.

Earlier in the week the gymnasts copped their third straight after two opening defeats beating North Quincy, 89.45 to 85.30.

The Lions also got a terrific effort in the Dennis Yarmouth Meet from Gary Framson, who won the floor exercise and long horse and tied for third in the parallel bars.

Bruce King, who was second in the floor exercise and tied for fifth in the still rings, also contributed a victory in the horizontal bar.

Additional points came from Jay Levine. Levine won the ring event, got third in the horizontal bar, and placed fifth in the floor exercise.

Joe Duggan, third and fourth, Barry Stone, third and a tie for fifth, Dave Pershe, second, Mark Forte, third, Ricky Gove, fifth, and Ed Spielman, sixth, chipped in with points toweards the win.

The match with North Quincy was quite a bit tighter. The decisive margin came in the horizontal bar, though, where the Lions outpointed North Quincy, 15.40 to 10.95 behind the efforts of King (first), Levine (second), Ricky Baruch (fourth), and Duggan (fifth).

Other clutch performances were turned in by individual winners Forte (side horse), Taricano (parallel bars), and Dave Williams (rings).

South fell behind in the floor exercise, 14.55 to 13.25 with it spoints coming from Framson (second), King (fourth), and Taricano (tie for fifth).

The Lions gained in the side horse where, besides Forte, they took third, Taricano, a tie for fourth, Pershe, and a tie for sixth, Andy Sisson.

Baruch, Framson and Stone went four, five, six in the parallel bars behind Taricano for aslight margin and the Lions edged just a trifle further ahead in the long horse vault with Taricano claiming second, Framson third, and Duggan fifth.

Levine, fourth , and Baruch, sixth, were South's only strength s in the rings after Williams victory.

South Sextet Bows To Wayland

When Newton South played Wayland the first time around in the Dual County League schedule this year, the Lions were annihilated, 10-1. Last week, although they lost 6-1, they gave the defending league champs a battle.

The game meant a lot to the Warriors. The perennial league titlists, despite only one loss in 10 games this winter, were not in first place. The one team which had beat them, Acton-Boxboro, was on top with a 9-0 mark. A win would push Wayland into first place, if only by virtue of having played more games.

Wayland came out playing its usual high-class skating game, but this time South stayed quth the Warriors, fighting back with strong checking, sharp passing and hustling defense.

What happened was simply a question of Wayland having more talent. The Warriors built a 3-0 lead in the first period on scores by Scott Williams, Chris Johnson and Chris Egizi, nd then went up 4-0 in the second period on Egizi's second goal.

The Lions, kating as hard in the third period as they did at the start of the game, cut the margin to 4-1 when Steve Owens hit a 20-foot backhander. But Johnson notched his second goal on a penalty shot and Rick Ross added another goal to give the Warriors the 6-1 victory.

Private School Sports Roundup

After tripping through its first 12 games with the steadiness and consistency of a drunk grizzly bear the Our Lady's basketball team has won three games in a row.

Last week the Lancers repelled Immaculate, 78-73, St. Mary's of Waltham, 55-53, and St. Mary's of Brookline, 62-57.

Our Lady's built a 17-point lead versus Immaculate, but almost watched it disappear in the fourth quarter. Time just ran out on Immaculate, which kept inching closer after the Lancers' biggest lead in the third quarter.

Bill MacDonald, a 5-8 guard, destroyed the Lancers' defense for 46 points, but didn't get much aid from his teammates. Mike Myers was the only other Immaculate player in double figures with 10 points.

Our Lady's got good balance from Pete Sullivan, 19 points, Danny Colletti, 14, Gary Bearfield, 13, and Andy Colletti, 10 points.

Our Lady's again took a fair-sized lead and was forced to hang on for the victory against St. Mary's (W). After St. Mary's took a 13-10 first quarter lead, the Lancers dominated to move to a 45-36 third quarter margin. However, St. Mary's came back in the final frame to give Our Lady's a scare.

Sullivan led the Lancers again with 11 points and got suppory from Andy Colletti, 10, and Al Gentile, also 10 points.

Our Lady's faked out St. Mary's of Brookline. This time the Lancers let St. Mary's grab an early lead and saved the rally for themselves. However, unlike their two previous opponents who had employed the same tactic, they pulled out the game.

St. Mary's took a 28-22 halftime lead, but the Lancers outscored their hosts, 40-29 in the second half to turn the contest around.

The Lancers, paced by Andy Colletti's 18 markers, had four players in double figures. Bearfield, 11 points, Gentile, 10, and Peter Kelly, also broke into double digits.

Our Lady's is now 8-7 on the year.

—o—

St. Sebastian's captured two more victories, last week, its fifth and sixth in a row to maintain its one-game lead in the Private School League.

The Arrows, now 13-2 on the season, outlasted Belmont Hill, 52-45, and toppled Milton Academy, 54-47.

Phil Coleman and Terry Grant directed a second-half comeback as the Arrows bounced back from a 30-25 first-half deficit to outscore Belmont, 12-8, and 15-7 in the third and fourth quarters, respectively.

Coleman fired in 18 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, nd Grant tallied 10 points.

St. Sebastian's broke open slightly its game with Milton by carrying the third quarter, 16-9 after owning a 24-22 half-time lead.

Kevin O'Malley and Bob Maguore registered 14 points apiece to pace the Arrow decision, and Maguire had 12 rebounds.

—o—

The Arrow hockey team tumbled to 5-10-1 on the year by dropping two games, last week, 2-1 to St. Mark's and 4-3 to Wellesley.

Both contests were deoralizing as St. Mark's notched its game winner with 20 seconds left in overtime and Wellesley potted the decisive goal with only 18 seconds left in regulation time.

Bob Connors, from Mike LeDoux and Bill Eagan, scored the only Arrow goal versus St. Mark's.

Eagan netted two goals and Bob Devaney one, in the loss to Wellesley.

South Runners Having Troubles

One thing you'e got to admit about Newton South track coach Don Sutherland—he's honest. Sutherland said in the beginning of the season that his team was going to have problems this year. Well, he was right. Last week the Lions were dropped by Concord-Carlisle, 58-28, in the last dual meet of the season for their seventh straight loss.

South got a lot of people into the scoring column, but they just didn't finish high enough up to collect the big points.

Co-captain Jack Ferreri captured the 600-yard run in 1:21.3 for his fifth win of the year, but the Lions didn't get many more five-pointers. Sophomore Charles Capeless earned his first win in the mile with a timing of 5:03.4 and the South relay team won for the first time this year.

And if not getting first places didn't clinch the South defeat, not getting second places took care of the loss. The only Lion second-lace finishes were by Mkke Bend in the shotput and Steve Burger in the high jump.

South did manage an abundance of third places, though.

Byron Ress, two-mile Dave Robinson, mile, Al Goldberg, dash, John Mason, 600, Jack McMahon, 1000, and Burger and Don Podufly, tied in the hurdles, all contributed single points.

So that's it for dual meets, 0-7. And with the personnel available things do not look optimistic for any big scoring in the Dual County championships.

South Wrestlers Bow To Wayland

Newton South High suffered its annual defeat to Wayland, its second loss in a row, 36-18, and then rebound for a 31-18 victory over Waltham, last week to run its season wrestling mark to 8-2-1.

The Warriors' strength in the middle bouts provided the key points in the Lions' loss to Wayland. Wayland copped four consectutive matches between the 134-pound and 157-pound categories, and swept six of eight classes between 121 and 177.

Paul Linn (100), Pete Anthony (114), Pete Nathanson (128), and Mike McDonald (167), all earned three-point decisions for South, and heavyweight John Staulo scored a pin in his division.

Mike Shockett, Adam Nisson, Dave Shields, Brian Corcoran, Dave Berkowitz, Haskell Kingston, and Pete Maples, all were dumped defeats. Berkowitz, the Lion co-captain, was dropping his first match of the season.

South creamed the Hawks with much the same blitz Wayland employed against the Lions. They broke the match open by sweeping through the 128, 134, 140, and 147-pound classes. Nathanson, Rich Hyman, Art Murphy, and Berkowitz won the key matches.

The Lions also got victories from Linn, Shockett, McDonald, Kingston and Staulo, the last three by pin.

Bruce Arafe (114), Nisson (121) Sowsy (157), and Aaron Moynahan absorbed the Lion individual losses.

Career Center Picks Director

Robert C. Hayden, former executive director for the Metropolitan Council for Educational Opportunity (METCO) in Boston has been appointed director of the Career Opportunities Program (COP) at Education Development Center, a private, nonprofit vvgporation engaged in educational research and development in the United States and overseas.

Mr. Hayden, 35, will direct a model training program in ethnic studies, with African Art and Culture as the prototype, for career entrants. The National Career Opportunities Program (COP) is funded and administered by the U.S. Office of Education's Bureau of Educational Personnel Development.

It is a nationwide career development model, based on the concept that public education for children of low-income families can be improved by the enlisting of talented, dedicated adults to serve as teachers and educational auxiliaries. EDC plans to work with COP projects in Boston; Hartford, Connecticut; St. Louis, Missouri and Atlanta, Georgia.

Hayden comes to EDC after serving for three years as the director of METCO, a seven-year old intercity public school program in which 1700 youngsters from the inner city of Boston are voluntarily bused to public schools in 30 cities and towns outside the city.

Prior to becoming METCO's director in 1970, Hayden held the position of editor, writer and curriculum developer for American Education Publications in Connecticut and for Ginn and Co. in Boston, both part of the Xerox Education Division. Before joining Xerox in 1966, he taught science at the junior highschool level in the Newton Public Schools for four years.

In commenting on his position, Mr. Hayden stated, "Based on my experience with METCO, I am convinced that we must continue to explore and support ways of getting people who are not trained for teaching in the traditional way into our schools and that the curriculum in all schools must deal with cutlural pluralism and experiences that will strengthen children's self-identity, enchance their self-esteem and promote their self-confidence through knowledge of their rich cultural heritages. The EDC COP project has the dual potential of contributing to both of these ends."

Hayden's own most recent books are entitled Seven Black American Scientists, Eight Black American Inventors and Black in America: Episodes in U.S. History. # South Sophs Win In Hoop

By ALAN FREEDMAN

Newton South High's sophomore team lost its third straight game, 72-62, last Wednesday, at Wayland, but the Lions managed to break the streak with a hard-fought 42-35 victory over Maynard High on Friday.

It was the South Defense that ook most of the blame for the Wayland loss as the Warriors continually drove past the Lions' man-to-man defence and helped themselves to easy baskets throughout the first half. The Warriors built up a 47-32 lead.

South's coach David Youngblood, knowing that some changes had to be made, switched his team into a zone defense at the beginning of the second half and this move kept the Lions in the ballgame.

With the zone denying Wayland the drive the Warriors were forced to shoot from outside of their range and scored only nine points in the entire third quarter as they saw their 15-point bulge dwindle down to six at 56-50.

The two teams traded buckets at the start of the final quarter and just when South started to move closer it was dealt a severe blow. Guard John Bamel, whose 16 points had carried the Lions, fouled out with five minutes left and Wayland still ahead, 60-54.

The Leions couldn't seem to muster any kind of an attack without Bamel and the Warriors kept a six-to-10 point spread between them and South for the rest of the game.

following Ramel in the scoring column for the Lions were Mark Shuster, 10 points, Steve Salib, nine, Mike Stockman, eight, and Jay Reubens, who played a fine all-around game, also eight.

Agsinst Maynard it was South's defense and not its offense which anabled the Lions to be victorious for the first time in their past four games.

South led throughout most of the game and carried a 29-25 lead into the fouth quarter. Maynard then ran off a 7-2 spurt and led for the first time in the contest, 32-31, with only four minutes remaining.

The Lions then called a timeout in an effort to regroup themselves for the final stretch. It did just that as Selib drove past the Maynard defense to put the Lions ahead once again. Then he stole the ball and hit a 10-foot jumper with 2:30 left. Maynard missed three consecutive shots after that and Selib hit a third time to clinch it.

Selib led South with 10 points and Bamel, Reubens and Stockman threw in ine apiece as the Lions improved their record to 6-7 on the year.

Newton Junior College Hoop

The Physical Eduation Department of Newton Junior College has announced the members of its basketball team for the second semester of the academic year 1972-1973.

Arthur Bennet of Waltham and John Colantonia of Newton are co-captains. Other members are Curt Arata, Frank Gable, Dana Gorton, William Kelley III, Bruce Loree, Hess Phofsky, Alan Rotberg, Larry Sandberg and Steven Shade, all of Newton and Richard Gibbons of Waltham.

TOURING TOURISM

A budget of $1 million for Philippine tourism promotion in Japan has been approved by the government. The money will be charged against the 16th year schedule of Japanese World War II reparations payments to the Philippines and will cover the cost of Japanese technical services and equipment necessary to promote Filipino tourist spots.

Frosh Hoop Tourney

The Newton Police Athletic Association will conduct their 7th Annual Junior High and Freshmen Basketball Tournament during the February vacation week - (February 19-25, 1973). This tournament will feature 16 top teams from Division 1-2-3. All games will be played at Newton South High School, Brandeis Road.

Teams will be selected by the Tournament Committee and records will play a major role in selecting the teams. A school from Newton will host the Tournament. Last year's defending champs will be invited to defend their title, but only with Coach Richard Najarian's approval.

The Tournament is a one game elimination. The entry fee is fifteen dollars. It is is our privilege to announce that Mr. Howard Ferguson, Newton North High, will assign officials for all games.

Individual and team trophies will be presented at the conclusion of the Tournament. This Tournament is well supervised and we welcome cheer leaders to attend and support their teams.

If you are interested, please complete the enclosed "Feeler" application. It would be helpful to the Selectiion Committee if you would include with your "Feeler" any noteworthy clippings pertinent to your basketball team. "Feelers" will be accepted no later than February 10, 1973.

If you have any questions, do not hesitate to call Mr. Robert Wargin, President, at 527-1148 or Mr. George Norcross, Sr. V.P. at 527-3190 between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Past Champs — 1972 West Junior, Watertown; 1971 North Andover Frosh; 1970 Stoughton Frosh; 1969 Garfield Jr., Revere; 1968 North Junior, Brockton; 1967 Somerville.

Newton Girls Basketball

BY MARI PLATI

Battling in a league in which no one team can be pronounced as a runaway for the title, Newton's Girls Basketball team has had its share of bad breaks along with the hard-earned periods of succes. Coach Carolyn Harrington describes it as "a strong league this year with no one team upsetting an other at any time. Every team realizes thet they can attain first place because there is no undefeated squad in the league."

The key to winning in this race appears to be the free trows. The team capable of sinking them with consistency will be the winner as the records have shown up to this point. "We have had regular shooting from the floor," explains Mrs. Harrington, "but the free throws have made the difference."

The versatility of its members had provided everyone with the opportunity for playing time and substitution has been free because of the unity of play. "Our forwards have been putting in their share of points and getting the rebounds." Consistent scoring has come from juniors Allyson Toney, who leads the offensive barrage with well over 70 points, Maureen Delaney and seniors Cindy White and Paula Dargon. Senior Linda Maregni, returning from an injury, is starting to show last year's form as an aggressive scorer with a notable height advantage. Sue Blakely and Sue Lanning, the two offensive guards, have contributed to the shoooting squad also, while juniors Jody Cappello and Linda Quintikiani, two defensive guards noted for their speed, always appear from nowhere to block the shot.

Centers Beth Schwab and Janet Applefield gave been doing their jobs while pulling in rebounds to cap the play. Janice Gittens, lately at the center position, has been played against the tall opposer due to her hustling looseness and quick jumps. While a knee injury has sidelined senior Mary Eve Mahony's playing time, ahe has supplied the all important spirit on the bench and only a time factor will tell whether she will return to the lineup. Co-captain Sue Dalton with the same type of injury has been unable to start in any contests.

In the first seven games of its schedule, sporting a 3-4 record, Newton had its difficulties attaining the needed lift. They ran into continual tough luck as the ball would go around the rim but not into the hoop, subsequently, the opposition seemed to be getting that needed spark.

The two Cambridge games were good examples of the importance of the free throw totals. Newton's 44-39 win was a turning point in which they put it all together and were on as a total unit. Cambridge led in field goal tallies 15-13 but Newton obtained 18 for 29 free throw shots to their 9 for 19. In a previous loss, however, Newton had an even 16-16 total on the field goals but as the opponent scored 11 for 22 on the free throws Newton faltered with only 9 for 26 shots and lost 43-41.

Newton has for the most part remained in their zone defense for their games. Despite the fact that they are a tall team, in comparison with the other competition this does not hold true. The zone has allowed them the extra rebounds and occassionally Coach Harrington has applied the full court zone press. This style ha been successful in putting the pressure on and in working for the interception and easy lay up shot.

Not a particularly fast group, Newton is a better shooting team than last year's explaining the switch from the man-to-man defense to the present zone. Using the present strategy and with some added luck, Newton should have as good a shot as anyone for the Suburban League title.

The Newton Notebook

Things haven't been going so hot for the Boston College basketball team. The Eagles, who once upon a time had a winning record, are now 6-9.

Right now things are going down the drain. The Eagles diniahws last in the Beanpot. Center Mark Raterink, who was performing miracles at first and averaging 20 points a game to boot hasn't been pulling any burning bushes out of his sleeve lately. Dan Kilcullen has been injured. He got better, and then he got injured again. He might be out for the year, now.

Last week Providence College visited Chestnut Hill (Yes, the same Providence College ranked 13th in the country. And yes, the same Providence College which gave UCLA a good fight only five days earlier.) expecting to blow the Eagles clear to Rhode Island. Ho, ho, ho.

It didn't turn out quite as expected. Providence won alright, but not as easily as everyone thought it would. The final was 73-64, and while the Friars didn't play their best, BC didn't play its worst either.

BC got top efforts from playmaking guard Jere Nolan, 18 points, forward Dave Walker, 15, Kilcullen, who made it into the lineup more or less whole, 14, and Ratterink, 13 points.

The Eagles were strongest in the first half when they more or less daught Providence in a flat mood. BC was up 24-20, but fell asleep over the last quarter of the half and was down 30-36 at halftime. The friars never really pulled away, but weren't in any trouble after that either. Guard Ernie DiGregorio was the game's high man with 25 points.

In hockey, last week, the Eagles had mixed luck. They erupted for three goals in the first period and went on to topple Yale, 6-2 for their 10th straight win early in the week. Kim King and Jim Doyle pumped in two goals each and Ed Kenty and Richie Smith accounted for single scores for BC. Bob Kane had two goals for the Eli's.

Well, all good things come to an end (How's that for a cliche?) they say, and BC is now 13-4 in hockey with a no-game winning streak. New Hampshire put an end to the Eagle skein with an 8-7 overtime victory in what was not one of goalie Ned Yetten's better efforts.

The Eagles were down 3-1 after the first period and 5-3 after two, but made it into the overtime stanza with a four-goal outburst in the last 20 minutes. Joey Fiddler, Doyle, and Bob Smith notched two goals apiece and Kenty scored one. Kenty also added three assists, while Olympian Tom Mellor, Fiddler, and former Needham High All-Stater Chuck Lambert each chipped in with two assists.—LEWIS FREEDMAN.

Sports Talk:

Celtics Won This One Big (Ho-Hum)

It's games like the ones the Celtics played against Cleveland, last Wednesday, that kill their average home attendance. They're averaging over 10,000 a contest, but on that night they drew just under 5,000. And do you know why? Because those games are dull.

They are dull, that is, if you would rather see the Celtics play well and slaughter the less fortunate team involved. But they are exciting if you would rather watch a competitive game, even if it's lousy basketball.

The Celtics were coming off two straight losses, both tough ones, 111-108 and 96-93 to the Knicks, and were admittedely not as psyched as they should have been. What they forgot is that Cleveland is not the same patsy it was when it first joine the NBA.

T That year, 1970-71, the Cavaliers eaened the right to call themselves the worst team in the history of professional basketball. And I mean they earned it. The Cavs compiled a 15-67 record, unchallenged in NBA annals, for a remarkable winning percentage of .183.

Times change, though, and theteam Cleveland put on the floor at the Garden, last week, was a most acceptable model of a pro club. It certainly should have been, because it beat Milwaukee, complete with Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, 112-98, the night before.

Coach Bill Fitch floored Rick Roberson at center, a man castoff by the Los Angeles Lakers, a team that can afford such luxuries, but who hustles, and has improved, especially as a reboundr; forwards Johnny Johnson, a man who suffered with the team as a rookie and was the team's rep on the All-Star roster that year, and Dwight Davis, the first-round draft pick from Houston who was the main man responsible for the assassination of Milwaukee the ight before; and guards Austin Carr, formrt Notre Dame 34-point-a-game man; and lst, but not least, the venerable Lenny Wilkens, who anongst other thingd, makes the team go.

It is not a team to be embarrassed of, if you're a Clevelander, nor is it a team to take lightly if you're a Celtic. So what the Celtics were doing out on the court is anybody's guess, but it certainly wasn't filming an instructional movie for kids.

In the beginning the two clubs were matching each other mistake for mistake and Boston was up 11-10. Then John Havlicek took over, only not quite in the manner we have all become accustomed to. Havlicek repeatedly threw the ball into the stands and hit his shots with the same accuracy as an inebriated dart thrower in a London pub.

Coach Tommy Heinsohn at first gaped at what was going on right before his very eyes, then started screaming, and finally started screaming at the officials. That netted him a technical with 5:24 to go in the first quarter.

Heinsohn's next tactic was to gradually clear his bench, sending in Paul Silas, Steve Kuberski, Hank Finkel, and Art Williams in hopes of inspiration. When they all struck out he began making frequent trips to the water cooler at the end of the bench.

Cleveland actually began making shots like an NBA team should and for a team starting out as slow as it did got a lot of points in the opening quarter. It was 34-19 after one.

The Celtics began the second quarter playing really well if not rebounding, not shooting, not hustling, not playing defense, or not fastbreaking can be classified as really well.

And with that kind of consistency it wasn't long before Cleveland was on top, 48-29. But here the Good Fairy jumped teams and Boston ran off a string of 12 straight points. The Cavaliers turnde into a bunch of zombies and two Wilkens free throws were all they got for the rest of the quarter.

The third quarter was a very evenly played game of "YOU take it." "No, you take it." The Celts closed to five; Cleveland brought it back to 11. In the end it was a stalemate as Cleveland led by nine, 71-62 after three periods.

Cleveland drove its lead up to 13, 77-64, as the Celtics' ineptness reached its zenith. Havlicek couldn't hit a moving target — his teammates — and Dave Cowens couldn't hit a stationary one — the basket. But then along came the dynamic duo of Don Chaney and Jo Jo White to make the world safe from the peril of the Cleveland menace.

Chaney stole the ball, passed to Havlicek, drove in, made the hoop and then the foul shot after being fouled. Then he scored on anothet fasrbreak layup. Then he got another three-point play. By then, with a little help from his friends, Chaney had brought the Celts within one, 85-84.

Enter Jo Jo White. White stole the ball, dribbbled the length of the court, layed it up, made it and got fouled and made that too. And guess what? It was 87-85 Boston.

Still another White steal and layup and another Chaney three-point play (his third in five minutes) and the Celtics had themselves a ballgame, 94-89.

It was definitely a case of a win is a win is a win, and we'll take it.

Sport Shorts

Last week the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference (ECAC) proved that it is as bureaucratic and archaic as its big brother — the NCAA.

What the ECAC did was take a giant step towards messing up a 19-year-old sophomore's life. Dick Decloe, Boston University sophomore hockey player was banne from participating in college hockey— for good.

In a strange case all around Decloe was declared ineligible and the BU team fortfeited its first 11 victories, the games in which Decloe played.

Decloe played Junior A hockey in Ontario a couple of years ago. While on the team its management paid a $189.33 school tax directly to the high school Decloe attended. Decloe, who was not a resident of the srea, did not even know he was being charged. The team paid the bill and never informed him. So that's Decloe's crime.

The funny thing is that there are whole bunches of players in the ECAC involved in similar situations, but nothing has been done. If someone starts blowing the whistle, like maybe someone from BU who is not too happy about the ECAC decisions, then the ECAC might find itself with teams forfeiting to each other. Then the ECAC will realize it has made a farce out of its own season.

The BU team, which should be 17-4, is now 6-15. The same evening as the Decloe decision was announced, the Terriers massacred a good Clarkson team, up until recently ranked eighth in the nation, 8-3. You might say the Terriers were mad.

—o—

I know I promised not to bother the Patriots anymore this year, but can I help it if they keep making news?

Trading Carl Garrett to the Chicago Bears for a number one draft pick was a lousy move. It had to be a purley vindictive since Garrett has the talent to run the football that the Pats need. On top of that, why, will someone tell me, did they then use that pick to choose a wide receiver when tey already have Reggie Rucker, Tom Reynolds, and Randy Vataha?

If you ask me (and I'm sure that's all yiu've been waiting for—my opinion) the Patriots did pretty well by themselves in the draft. John Hannah and the other burly boys should provide a new line of protection for Jim Plunkett. Now all we need is a defense. Still, if the Patriots have to lose I'd rather see it be by 35-34 than 35-7 as one scribe noted. That way, at least, we'll see a ballgame.

—o—

I for one don't think the Bruins' situation is quite as disastrous as everyone else seems to think it is. The loss of key players to the WHA and to expansion has definitely hurt. Now, we are just discovering, like the rest of the league, that the Bruins are no longer superhuman. They can be beat.

Now if the Bruins will stop depending so heavily on Bobby Orr's knee (I also think he'll be back to near capacity next year if he gives the leg a rest over the summer) and keep hustling hard, then they can still pull out the Stanley Cup.

What I was very glad to see was the return of Ross Brooks to the Bruins. He still needs a little sharpening from his long layoff, but I hope he makes it back to his early form. He's worked long and hard to make it to the NHL and deserves a chance to stick.

—o—

On the surface it appears that Baltimore General Manager Joe Thomas is going slightly berserk. He's certainly cleaning house with a vengeance since the Colts did not have a phenomenal season. You won't even recognize those crusty old Colts next year. The season's only been over a month and gone already are Johnny Unitas, Tom Matte, Bill Curry, Billy Newsome and Norm Bulaich.

—o—

Will we really ever see Dashing Derek Sanderson back in a Bruins uniform? Money or no money, we'd better. The Bruins need someone with his style and spark for their stretch run. Hopefully, they will iron out all the final details and get him on the ice soon. Time's awastin'.

—o—

Forward Peter Gavitt of Maine still leads New England's major college scorers with a 25.3 average and Providence remains by far ge area's best team. There shouldn't be any question about that at all this year. Northeastern, however, strengthened its bid for second by beating Colgate to go to 14-5 on the year. Boston University is sneaking up there, too. The Terriers have won five in a row and are 10-5.

—o—

It looks like it's going to go all the way to the end of the season before first place is decided in the WHA's Eastern Division. The Whalers and Cleveland are either tied or see-sawing the lead back and forth every day. It would be nice if Boston could have another first place team pulling off the same feat the Braves did — both of them winning in their first year of existence.

And speaking of the Braves, they are making a reasonably strong run at Nova Scotia these days and despite all of their earlier slumps, could pull out first place in the AHL.

—o—

You've got to hand it to those 76'ers. They keep on trying. Last week Philadelphia acquired Don May who was rotting on the bench in Atlanta. May stepped in and scored 18 points for the 76'ers in his first game. (They lost anyway.) Getting May could be the best thing Philadelphia has done all year. The former Dayton star languished on the Knick bench a couple of hears ago and then went to Buffalo in the expansion draft. He had a solid season that year and made the All-Star team, but when he went to Atlanta he found himself back on the bench. With more of a chance to play he could go quite a bit further towards reaching his potential or at least duplicating his excellent Buffalo season.

P.S. The 76'ers are now 4-52.

CM Sextet Edges B.C. High 2 to 1

By THOMAS MULLIN

After coming off a very fine victory against Archbishop Williams, Catholic Memorial faced a strong B.C. High team. It was a game in which CM came within one point of second place after they went on to victory 2-1. State tournament time is coming near and a new rule instituted this year says that two teams from each league will qualify for the tournament.

With one minute remaining in the first period Stephen Tryder let loose with a slap shot which caught the upper left hand corner and scored. Starting the play was Jim Walsh, who took the puck from behind our net and passed it up to Kevin Young. He skated up the ice over B.C.'s blue line, avoided a check and slipped the pass over to Steve Tryder, which resulted in the goal. At the end of the first period the score was C.M. 1 and B.C. 0.

It was not until nine minutes and thirty-five seconds of the second period when B.C. High tied the score at one to one. They scored on a flukie kind of goal, when their man Flannagan picked up the puck at center ice, skated over the blue line, and fired a low hard slap shot which beat Jim Flynn.

With the score tied at one to one at the end of two periods C.M. went to the attack. Steve Sylvester broke up an oncoming rush by BC and broke in, however while in the process he was tripped and while sliding on the ice Steve managed to fire the puck into the open corner of the net. This fine effort and great determination enabled CM to sneak by BC by a score of 2-1.

Defeat Arlington

CM started their third phase of the schedule against Arlington Catholic, a team which was unbeaten through their last four games. The first period was scoreless and a total of four penalties were called, two to CM and two in Arlington.

Coming to the end of the second period the teams were scoreless once again, when with less than two minutes remaining Arlington had a breakaway. It was up to Jim Flynn to do his job now, and when the Arlington player came in on Jim and made his move Jim was equal to the task and kicked out the shot.

There was only six minutes left in the game and it looked like it could be a scoreless game until CM scored three goals within a span of two minutes and twenty-four seconds. Steve Tryder started it off following a pass from Kevin Young and let go with a slapshot from the slot which caught the Arlington goalie by surprise. Next Jim Walsh took from inside our blue line, passed it to Steve Sylvester just over the red line. Steve in turn fed Rich Woodman just as he was breaking for the net. Rich went in all alone and scored CM's second goal at 7:04. One minute and fifty-four seconds later Steve Sylvester scored after Phil Bowers has passed the puck to Rich Woodman. Rich took the shot and Steve was in the right place for the rebound and put it in the net for CM's third goal of the game.

This fine performance by the team and especially by goalie Jim Flynn put Catholic Memorial into second place in the Catholic Conference.

The next team to play CM will be Christopher Columbus, which is in last place in our league however every game is tough and they will be no exception.

'Jack and the Beanstalk' Opens Feb. 17

Knights Qualify for State Tourney

Lose to Don Bosco; Then Bomb B.C. High

By BOB CREEDEN

This past week for Catholic Memorial was both discouraging and rewarding. The discouraging part came Tuesday night as the Knights were beaten by Don Bosco which dropped them back into a tie for first place. Then on Friday the Knights hard efforts were rewarded as their win, the 12th, qualified them for the State Tournament for the 14th consecutive year.

Edged by Bosco

The Knights started out very well and it appeared as though they would take it, but a tough Bosco defense and hot offense kept them in the game. The Knights jumped out to a 6-0 lead and kept it at the quarter leading 12-8, Bosco started to hit and C.M. went cold as the score was tied at the half, at 21 all.

The third period was the one that gave Bosco the momentum. Capitalizing on the very cold shooting of Memorial, Bosco soon opened up an eight point lead before Joe O'Brien hit just before the buzzer to bring it down to six at 31-25.

Bosco widened its lead but then C.M. caught up as Bosco went cold and with 2:00 left the Knights were within one at 41-40 and after Memorial missed Bosco stalled for 45 seconds. Two points were added for each team to make the final score 45-42 in favor of Bosco.

For the Knights who shot 28 per cent from the field and 53 per cent from the charity stripe Mike Vicens had 13 points, Joe O'Brien had nine and Ronnie Perry had eight.

BOMB B.C.

The Knights then met and destroyed B.C. They took an early 10-6 lead, but hot shooting by the Eaglets enabled them to close it to one point at the quarter 13-12. In the second the Knights started to jell as they went out to a 29-21 lead. But it was at this point that Joe O'Brien picked up his fourth foul and was forced to sit down. Joe Pembroke came in and did a fine job, grabbing some rebounds and scoring six points The Knights kept their lead at eight and went into the locker room a 37-29 leader.

Coming out in the third they widened the lead to 49-37 and Ronnie Perry's shot at the buzzer kept it that way as the Knights lead 57-44. To start the fourth Mike Vicens received a pass from Joe O'Brien, turned and headed for the hoop. As he went up in the air he brought his body around the B.C. defender bringing the ball with him in a most unusual fashion. He brought the ball around his back in mid-air and then laid it in the hoop for two points. This not only awed the filled gym, but was probably the basket that broke B.C.'s back. From here the rest of the team took over and the final score was 84-64.

With this win the Knights went to 12-2 and qualified for the State Tournament. This was the 14th consecutive year that Memorial has made the tournament.

Scorers in the game were Mike Vicens, 24 points, Joe O'Brien 12, Billy Griffiths 14, and Ronnie Perry 10. Also the trio of Mike Vicens, Tim Skaggs, and Joe O'Brien grabbed a total of 46 rebounds with 21, 15, and 10 respectively.

This Friday the Knights play host to the Hawks of Xaverian and Monday night will host Cheverus High School from Maine.

Guaranty-First Trust Company. Because you deserve a better way to bank.

What's a Guaranty-First Trust Company? It's a combination of the Guaranty Trust Company of Waltham and the First National Bank of Natick. It merges the best of both banking worlds into one, new, bigger, and best of all, better way to bank. For you.

The way we look at it is this. You grew. So we grew. The more your financial needs keep shifting and stretching, the more you need all the bank you can get out of your bank. So we decided that two good banks would be even better as one.

What does it mean for you in the way of services? Guaranty-First will continue to feature the same superior services both banks have been famous for. That means things like lifetime guaranteed no charge checking, First Reserve or American Express credit, Master Charge, 24-hour check cashing, student loans, and automatic mortgage payments and account transfers. And we've got bigger and better ways to bank on the way.

What does it mean in the way of bank locations? Well, there are Guaranty-First branch offices in Waltham, Belmont, Natick, Framingham, Holliston, and Sudbury. That means no matter where you are, there's a better way to bank right in your backyard.

Finally, what does it mean in the way we treat you? If you're an old friend who knows us by an old name, remember our new name, and remember, we're getting more than bigger. We're getting better. If you've never known us by any name, remember why we're here. Because you deserve a better way to bank.

GUARANTY-FIRST TRUST COMPANY

Our main office is located at 600 Main Street, Waltham. Our branch offices are located at 876 Lexington Street, 424 Trapelo Road, 1290 Main Street, and 114 River Street in Waltham, 69 E. Central Street, 32 E. Central Street, Sherwood Plaza (Rte. 9), and Natick Shopping Center (Rtes. 9 and 27) in Natick, 250 Concord Street in Framingham, 100 Central Street in Holliston, Mill Village Shopping Center in Sudbury, and 60 Concord Avenue (soon to be located at 492 Trapelo Road) in Belmont. ## To Take Part In Cross Country Skiing Event

Frederick Sears, Roald Osvold and Per Holtz, joint partners of the Scandinavian Ski Shop in Medfield, have applied for entry into the "Massachusetts Touring Day" designated by Governor Sargent on Feb. 11 at Fort Devens. The 15 kilometer race, sponsored by the Nordic Skiing Ass'n is a non-profit group that exists to promote this fast growing, family or individual sport.

The race is a counterpart of our own Marathon, and is designed after the races held for generations in Norway and Sweden. It has been arranged to provide entertainment and test of skill, for every sex and age.

A large number of tourists are expected at Fort Devens to observe the first local ski-touring day. Awards will be given including ones for oldest, youngest and fastest entries. All cross-country ski enthusiasts are invited to take part, regardless of skill or experience.

An entry fee of $2.00 per person is necessary and forms are available at most local ski shops. At least 500 to 700 cross country skiers are expected to take part in the event.

N.E. Flower Show at Commonwealth Armory

Boston's Commonwealth Armory will again be the setting for the Mass. Horticultural Society's annual tribute to Spring, the big New England Spring Garden and Flower Show March 17 through 25.

Announcement of the site and show dates was made today by Russell B. Clark, president of the society, and Carlton B. Lees, executive director.

Thousands of winter-weary New Englanders annually flock to this colorful preview of the Spring season with its brilliant array of flowers, shrubs and trees in beautiful garden settings.

This year's show will, in effect, be a return to Paradise, recreating the concept of Eden and the garden of the quiet Oasis. It will also demonstrate how every backyard can become a Paradise.

The beautiful blooming acacias from the greenhouses of M. and Mrs. Robert Stone of Marion will head the list of popular exhibitors returning for the Flower Show, sponsored for 102 years by the Horticultural Society.

"We like to think of this show as much more than flowers and garden settings. We like to think of it as a celebration of life," Lees said in making the announcement.

This annual Spring spectacle is the oldest, largest continuing horticultural extravaganza of its kind in the country.

A non profit membership organization, the Mass. Horticultural Society incorporated in 1829 for the purpose of encouraging the art of horticulture in the United States. The society also publishes Horticulture Magazine and maintains the most complete library on horticulture in the world.

Anyone interested in advance sale tickets or group tickets should contact the Mass. Horticultural Society, 300 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, or call 617-536-9280.

Spring Cleaning In February?

Doing Spring Cleaning in February? Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries thinks that's a good idea and they would like to help.

Goodwill, who is sorely in need of furniture donations, can help clear out unwanted furniture pieces. Chairs, tables, bookcases, bureaus and beds have a way of hiding in attics for years, but Goodwill can use them now.

Also needed are small appliances, radios, books, clothing and toys which can usually be found in a basement. Donations can help save you space and can also help Goodwill's handicapped workers.

These trainees repair, clean, and refurbish donated goods which are then sold at Goodwill Thrift Stores. Proceeds from the 18 stores pay the workers' wages while they learn marketable skills.

So go ahead: Do that February Spring cleaning and Goodwill will help. Clothing and small items can be placed in one of the many Goodwill boxes located in shopping centers. Goodwill will also pick up the larger items by truck. To set a definite time for pickup call the Boston Goodwill at 482-1894.

Number Plates Ending in Two (2) Expire Feb. 28

Blue-numbered plates ending with the figure two (2) bearing a black decal expire at midnight, Feb. 28, 1973.

All computerized renewal applications for these registrations expiring in February, 1973, have been mailed out by the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

If the information on the form is correct, registrants should have the form endorsed by their insurance companies and then have it processed by the Registry.

If there are any errors printed on the face of the computerized renewal, other than a change of address, registrants should contact their insurance companies to prepare a replacement form.

New red-lettered plates and red decals will be issued to owners renewing Feb. 1973 expiration registrations. The new plates will be valid for two years ending in February, 1975.

Endorsed applications, together with the correct fee, may be mailed to the Registry for delivery of plates by mail. HOWEVER, these applications must be received by the tenth (10th) of February. There will be no guarantee of the delivery of plates before expiration date on applications received by mail after the 10th of the month.

Reserved number plate registration applications must be processed at Boston office whether in person or by mail. If by mail, they must be received in Boston by the 10th of February for delivery of plates before the end of the month.

Registrants are advised to check their new plates to see if the number matches the registration number on the new certificate. If they do not match, they are advised to contact the nearest Registry Office.

Draw Winners at Open House At Mt. Washington Co-op Bank

The Open House celebration at the Mt. Washington Co-operative bank, was concluded on Saturday with a special drawing of prize awards.

Making the prize drawing was Joseph Fabbo, Transcript Newspaper advertising manager.

Winners were Marianna Richardson, 289 D street, South Boston, a color TV set; and Michael Connally, 240 Neponset street, Dorchester, a pair of tickets to a Bruins hockey game.

At last Saturday's special drawing, Thomas Flannagan of Milton and David Murphy, Acton, both directors of the bank, were on hand to greet depositors.

Hearing On Gun Control Legislation

State Representative Peter F. Harrington (D-Newton) today issued a call for Massachusetts residents to come to the State House on Thursday, Feb. 15 to support stronger gun control legislation, being held at a public hearing before the Senate - House Public Safety Committee at 10:30 a.m.

Rep. Harrington has filed House Bill 3113 to require mandatory registration of all hand guns.

Harrington said, "There are an estimated 100,000 plus unregistered hand guns in Massachusetts. There are the weapons that invariably get stolen or are illegally transferred and end up being used in the commission of a hold up, robbery or murder."

"We need stiff penalties and strong laws to protect the shopkeeper, homeowner and apartment dweller from the improper use of hand guns."

Rep. Harrington continued, "70 percent of policemen killed in the line of duty are shot with a hand gun; throughout the United States over 8,000 homicides are caused by hand guns each year."

Rep. Harrington hopes that people from all parts of Massachusetts will appear before the public safety committee to ask for stronger un control law.

At similar hearings in 1972 the national rifle association and other anti-gun lobies voiced strong opposition to gun control legislation and their presence and voice against further control is expected this year.

Present Massachusetts Law has provision for the valuntary Registration of handguns and requires sales within the state be recorded with the State Police.

Fashionettes

A new princess-line, button-front tennis dress for spring and summer is done in diamond pique. The fabric is 50 per cent polyester, 50 per cent cotton. By Tennis Whites, a division of Loomtogs.

The move to color on the tennis courts is seen in a Tennis Whites pleatknit tank top. It comes in yellow, orchid, blue, or traditional white. Meant for wearing with back-wrapped tennis skirt. Wash 'n wear, of course.

Stripes will make it to the tennis courts of the land, come spring. In one maker's new line of tennis togs, there is a two-piece cable knit—mini skirt and V-neck top. It is red, white and blue stripes, running vertically. The midriff top is elasticized.

The look-alike uniform for airline hosts and hostesses appears to be disappearing. United, in showing its new "uniforms" by Jean Louis, remains uniform mostly in the three basic colors—blue, green and red. The varied items—the greatest variety ever offered by the airline to its flight attendants — include: jumper, two body sweaters, two body blouses, jacket, skirt, pants or a second jumper, winter coat, trench coat, two inflight serving smocks, accessories — belt, purse and two scr;ks. A vest is offered as an option. The parts are meant to be mixed and-or matched. The possible outfits are many.

The new steward wardrobe for United Airline male flight attendants includes three jackets—a two-button blue or gray blazer and a four-button blue modified safari coat. Other items are two pairs of trousers, four shirts, two pullover sweaters, all weather coat, four ties. They are in the United colors of blue, green and red.

Memory Use May Revive

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI) — "Thirty days hath September
April, June and November.
All the rest have thirty-one
Excepting February alone
And 29 in each
Leap Year.

This is not only the little rhyme that helped millions of school children learn the lengths of the months of the year, it is a type of memory aid called a "mnemonic".

The ancient Greeks invented the mnemonic (pronounced with the initial "M" silent) as a way to get the memory working. But since those with good memories have always tended to look down upon those with less than total recall, it fell into disfavor in Victorian times.

With a snap of the cane here and a swish of the birch there, schoolmasters of that austere era forced their pupils to learn painfully by "cramming" what a good mnemonic might have turned into a short cut.

This downgrading of the mnemonic extends to the present day. But there are signs of a revival.

The Eyre Methuen Company has published the first "Dictionary of Mnemonics" in English. In a forward the editors remarked with editorial sadness:

"Times are bad for the memory-aid. Their enemies say that learning from them is like learning about sex from dirty jokes."

Nevertheless, scores of Britons from scientists to housewives answered their appeal for contributions to the first edition —an attractive printing whose blue cover displayed a white handkerchief with a knot in it, another way of jogging the memory.

King Henry VIII had six wives—Catherine of Aragon, Anne Boleyn, Jane Seymour, Anne of Cleves, Catherine Howard and Catherine Parr—and many a student has stumbled in answering a question about their fates. but not those who knew the simple mnemonic:

Divorced, beheaded, died
Divorced, beheaded, survived.

Is it vital to know the west-to-east order of North America's Great Lakes? Just remember that "Sam Magee hates eating onions".

(The first letter of each word stands for Superior, Michigan, Huron, Erie, Ontario.)

To a scientist "Virgins are Rare" is a pat mnemonic for recalling Ohm's Law that (the first letters again) Volts equal Amps x Resistance.

For the order of British hereditary titles:

Did Mary ever visit Brighton Beach?

(First letters—Duke Marquis Earl Viscount Baron Baronet)

In chemistry for the safe order of diluting sulphuric acid;

May her rest be long and placid
She added water to the acid
The other girl did what she oughter
She added acid to the water.

The upper five lines or treble cleff on a sheet of music can be remembered by Every Good Boy Deserves Fun—standing for the notes e-g-b-d-f. The notes on the four spaces between spell f-a-c-e.

To remember the order of colors in the spectrum:

Richard of York gains battles in vain.

(Red, Orange, Yellow, Green, Blue, Indigo, Violet).

And here is an invaluable mnemonic for avoiding hangover; alone worth the price of the dictionary:

Beer on whisky very risky.
Whisky on beer never fear.

NO MORE GUESSWORK ON YOUR CAR!

MOST PEOPLE THINK ALL AUTO SERVICE CENTERS ARE PRETTY MUCH ALIKE. MOST PEOPLE ARE WRONG. NOW, A BRAND NEW CONCEPT IN AUTOMOTIVE REPAIR.

We know the biggest problem for most car owners is where to take their car for repairs and maintenance. We know that service and gas stations rarely have the sophisticated equipment and time to do a real precise job. Fouling and guess work car maintenance plus inflated bills have plagued the market. Car dealers are tied up with warranty service. We know that at Master Mechanics we can solve their share of these problems.

Master Mechanics has installed the very latest and most dependable computerized diagnostic equipment that can be manufactured. We've hired the finest factory and field trained technicians in the automotive field. Our management personnel have spent most of their lifetime in this business. In short, we are committed to doing a better job than anyone else.

WE BACK THE QUALITY OF OUR WORK WITH WRITTEN GUARANTEES!

- SPECIALIZING IN AMERICAN AND FOREIGN CARS
- SPECIALIZING IN LIGHT TRUCKS AND CAMPERS
- COMPUTERIZED TUNE-UP
- COMPUTERIZED ALIGNMENT
- SHOCK ABSORBERS
- MUFFLERS, TAILPIPES
- BATTERIES, TIRES
- HEAVY DUTY BRAKES

IF YOUR CAR NEEDS WORK, YOU ARE UNDER NO OBLIGATION TO HAVE THE WORK DONE BY US!

$8.95 to $12.95 DIAGNOSTIC FULL ½ HOUR CHECK!

Opening Special . . . For a limited time only . . . to introduce you to Master Mechanics. Don't miss out . . . Come in or call for an appointment!

FREE ½ HOUR DIAGNOSTIC CAR CHECK PERFORMED ON THE LATEST AND MOST ADVANCED BEAR & MARQUETTE EQUIPMENT!

As you drive into our electronic bays, a computerized highly precisioned front end machine will hydraulically and electronically check your car to determine how reliable the front end and steering is. 4 feet beyond that point, built into the bay floors, your car will travel over a 24 foot louvered brake tester, where—4 miles per hour is equal to 50 miles per hour highway speed.

This incredible test will tell you not only the performance of your brakes as a whole but individually check front left and right brakes, as well as rear left and right brakes. This test may show that just a minor adjustment has to be made that can keep you driving safely. These 2 tests are the most important functions on a car since they determine stopping and steering performance. The next test would be a 30 step electronic tune-up check and calibrated basic timing check. Following is a 40 step electronic analysis which is usually done today by guesswork or by a mechanic using a screwdriver.

Our master mechanics would then raise your car on the newest type of lift which gives complete visibility underneath the car to check out all the steering components, shock absorbers and full exhaust system. Your tires would then be checked.

Everyone has been reading about pollution of air . . . we are 2 years ahead of the country using the latest infra-red testing machine used to check pollution in the exhaust system. This machine can tell us in 15 seconds if you need a motor tune up and pin points your problems. For a motor tune-up, we go through a computerized self calibrating electronic system which is the closest machine ever made to give a perfect tune-up.

DON'T BE AMAZED! WE ARE DIFFERENT!

We do the work right the first time with our computerized electronic machines!

Because we have only the finest mechanics who have all graduated from BEAR Brake and Front End Schools plus MARQUETTE Electronic and Motor Tune Up Schools, we save time in labor and by saving on time, we save you dollars. We quote labor time before the job. Again another first . . . we will absorb any time over what we quote. In other words, if we tell you a job will take a half hour and it takes us a full hour, you will pay the labor costs for a half hour only. Every car that goes thru our bay gets our electronic computerized diagnostic check up. When your stop and think about it, everyone wants to take their car to someone they can trust and who is dependable. Master Mechanics has the latest equipment, carries only the finest brands and has the expertise that can tell you exactly what is wrong with your car and how much it will cost. After each job, you will receive a check list telling exactly what we have done, plus a written guarantee for the services performed.

NOTE! NOT ONLY DOES THIS DEPENDABLE QUALITY CONTROL EQUIPMENT END MEDIOCRE REPAIR AND GIVE YOU THE ULTIMATE IN SAFETY, BUT IT SAVES YOU MANY DOLLARS.

WE'RE GOING TO MAKE IT AWFULLY TOUGH FOR YOU NOT TO DO BUSINESS WITH US!

IT'S WHAT YOU GET FOR YOUR DOLLARS THAT COUNT!

A COMPUTERIZED MOTOR TUNE-UP . .

With the most modern and dependable equipment and the finest trained technicians, Master Mechanics can now give your car perfection in a motor tune-up. Our MARQUETTE M-215 analyzer features built-in calibrated circuits which allows our technicians to check for accuracy and re-calibrates all their work in a matter of minutes. This machine assures maximum accuracy of spark advance, dwell, voltmeter and ammeter reading. We don't believe you can do an adequate tune-up by guess work or by a mechanic using a screwdriver. Because of our computerized electronic machines and trained technicians, WE WILL GUARANTEE OUR TUNE-UPS FOR 6,000 MILES or 120 DAYS!

*LIFETIME GUARANTEED BRAKES . . .

As you drive into our computerized electronic bays, a highly precisioned brake machine will hydraulically and electronically check your car to determine how reliable your brakes are. 4 feet beyond that point built into the bay floors, your car will travel over a 24 foot louvered brake tester where 4 miles per hour is equal to 50 miles per hour at highway speed. This incredible test will tell you not only the performance of your brakes as a whole, but individually check front left and right brakes, as well as rear left and right brakes. We install only extra heavy duty LIFETIME GUARANTEED BRAKES. We double check the job through our Diagnostic machine which gives us the perfection that permits us to GUARANTEE OUR WORK for as long as you own your car.

COMPUTERIZED FRONT END . . .

We use what the Automotive industry calls the finest electronic front end equipment to align your car, the BEAR TELALINER. This equipment allows us to be perfect in doing a front end alignment. Using synchronized templates for your exact make and model car, allows us to check electronically every step in the alignment. This machine calibrates so a car cannot go out wrong, checking every completed job. This is also why we can give you a GUARANTEE OF 6,000 MILES OR 120 DAYS. For safety, steering and stabilization on the highway, a BEAR COMPUTERIZED ELECTRONIC FRONT END ALIGNMENT IS A MUST!

PREMIUM MUFFLERS & TAIL PIPES . .

Our premium Thru-way mufflers are made for the exact make and model of your car. They are the highest quality to be found in exhaust systems. They more than exceed the original equipment mufflers on your car. Don't confuse these with lesser grade Universal mufflers used by most chains and gas stations where 10 mufflers supposedly can be adapted to any car. We carry one of the largest stocks in the East of mufflers and tail pipes fitting all American cars from 1960 thru 1972 plus most foreign cars from 1960 thru 1972. Thru-way premium mufflers use heavier steel and caps and shells. These thicker steel plates provide added insurance against rust-out and are the quietest muffler made. Large diameter inner tubes keep back pressure low. All extra heavy duty with a LIFETIME GUARANTEE FOR AS LONG AS YOU OWN YOUR CAR.

Steak House Opens Door

The Washington-based Enersons, Ltd. restaurant chain hasopened a new facility in Newton, its second in the Boston area and sixteenth in the chain.

According to John Radnay, president of the rapidly expanding firm, the new restaurant is located at 1114 Beacon St.

The Newton restaurant, created out of an existing structure by Emersons' design and construction department, will feature the same concepts that has fueled its growth over the last three years.

Decor features an English Pub atmosphere with warm wood tones, private booths, antiaues from the Victorian era such as Tiffany lamps and old photographs of 19th century figures, pewter mugs, fishnets and old fashioned kegs and casks. There is a bar and cocktail lounge.

Hearing-

education in Newton".

"Where is it going to stop?" asked Forti. "It has to stop, and it has to stop right now." He cited projected dollar amounts which have been allocated for certain academic programs recently published in the papers, and claimed that "people who have lived here for years can't live here anymore," because of the rising burden imposed on the taxpayers by the "frills" approved by the School Board.

Between Fink and Forti came a gallery of speakers, including committee members and individual residents.

Mayor Theodore D. Mann said that he viewed a "genuine effort" on the part of both the School Committee and the administration to "contain what might be called extravagances."

Committee Chairman Manuel Beckwith thought that "a lot of tribute should be paid to the administration officials, including school principals" for truly laboring hard and long to keep the 1973 budget to a minimum. He also claimed that "members of the staff and the public have had more opportunity to scrutize the budget this year" than any previous year of his membership.

At least two people in the audience were concerned about the Learning Disabilities Program in the school system. Fink said that his recommendation insofar as this project was concerned was to continue it at the same level attained this past September.

Member Alvin Mandell told the group that a Newton parent had communicated with him about one of her chilren who is afflicted with a learning disability. She told Mandell that the child received some special education early, but that he is now in the tenth grade, where he's falling behind his peers.

The mother, according to Mandell, is currently contemplating suing the School Committee and Administration for not providing adequate training for youngsters with learning disabilities at the junior and senior high school level.

"I'll join that suit," exclaimed Don Levitan, a member of the audience who stated that his son is perceptually handicapped. "You can't take a child in the ninth grade and set him adrift," the Newton man said.

What is even worse, intoned Levitan, is that his son's case is not isolated: "We're discovering that other kids are being set adrift" in the school system, on account of inadequate education available in the area of learning disabilities.

Dr. Richard M. Douglas, vice-chairman of the School Committee, heatedly objected to the innuendo: "I don't appreciate a threat," he cautioned Levitan. "I have a son who is also perceptually handicapped, but I am not going to sue the Newton School Committee" because of it.

When Levitan pleaded with him that he "hadn't made a threat," Dr. Douglas said, "You have, too."

Other persons present who jumped into the fray were School Board Member Mrs. Eleanor S. Rosenblum, who echoed an earlier statement by Fink on the committee's responsibility of examining "competing demands" of various academic programs, and a young man who told the audience that he actually had a learning disability.

This youth, currently a freshman in college, said that without the guidance given him by a woman tutor at Newton High School, where he commuted three times a week from Newton South High School, "I'd be nowhere."

Another man in the audience said that efficiency must be emphasized in organizing priorities in the budget. "I think the general tone is good,", he asserted; "we've always been knowns as enterprising."

Taxpayer John Keefe said that he was likewise interested in efficiency, which was why he questioned the huge increase in secretarial help over the last few years.

"I think we have to look hard at these items," said Keefe, referring not just to the staff of file clerks but to increases such as the hike in the telephone bills.

Beckwith said that "statistics don't tell the whole story; the demand for new programs is still going on."

A woman resident, Elisa Glassman, wondered out loud why the kindergarten children have two days off every week. "They've had Sesame Street, Summer Camps, etc., why don't they go to school those two extra days."

Director of Instructional Program Henry H. Atkins told her that the state mandate requires them to attend classes two and one-half hours a week, five days a week, by this coming September. Even now, he continued, "some go three hours a day."

The Kindergarten children, said Atkins, "are getting much closer attention."

Drinan Makes Choices For Military's Schools

Congressman Drinan announced recently the names of young men from the Fourth Congressional District whom he has selected for competitive nominations to the United States service academies.

Final selection for appointment will be made by the academies on the basis of academic records, scholastic aptitude tests and a rigorous physical examination.

Six young men have been chosen to compete for an appointment to the U.S. Military Academy. Those nominated are:

Dispute-

committee to handle the dispute.

Newman House neighbors indicated that they were unwilling to negotiate through the auspices of the commission and instead filed their petition with the Board of Alderman asking for eviction of Newman House from its Walnut St. location.

Chairman Barkin stated that he was aware of the commission's efforts to act as intermediary, but felt that his Land Use sub-committee would be more persuasive in bringing the feuding parties together.

Barkin also stated that he had not as yet heard from any of the neighbors as to their willingness to use the sub-committee as an intermediary, but Norman Walker, originator of the petition, stated that he considers Barkin "a fair and reasonable man who has done everything in his power to bring about an amicable solution."

Walker did add, however, "I don't have much hope because of the long history of neglect of our complaints by the house's directors.

Barkin indicated that he and the other members of the new sub-committee have plans to bring the two sides together in an informal setting free from public scrutiny, where they could peacefully confer over their differences. A time and place for the meeting has not as yet been set, according to the Land Use Committee chairman.

Other members of the special sub-committee include Alderman Michael J. Antonellis, Matthew Jefferson and Joseph M. McDonnell.

Alderman McDonnell stated that the special group should make it clear that any accords formed would not be legally binding on either of the parties involved.

Chairman Barkin concluded by stating that McDonnell's suggestion contained the intent of his motion.

Study-

closely with the study group." The committee would include one member of the School Board, and faculty members and parents.

The survey is broken down into three phases. The first one entails the compilation of data by the consulting firm of the nine schools' educational programs an intensive study of their actual facilities.

Phase two calls for a "data analysis and preparation of preliminary reports," regarding the detailed educational specifications to be drawn. These will include course offerings, enrollments, teacher requirements, supporting services such as health clinics, etc.

Phase two also will include a preparation of costs on any recommended maintenance projects, and a preliminary report of the findings of each of the nine schools which will be submitted to the individual school communities.

The third phase will be the distribution of the firm's final report.

The first two phases combined would cost the city $5,000 for each of the nine facilities, or $45,000 total. The third phase, or final report, merits, according to the contract, an additional $1,000 fee.

Guaranty-First Trust Company.
Because you deserve a better way to bank.
What's a Guaranty-First Trust Company? It's a combination of the Guaranty Trust Company of Waltham and the First National Bank of Natick. It merges the best of both banking worlds into one, new, bigger, and best of all, better way to bank. For you.
The way we look at it is this. You grew. So we grew. The more your financial needs keep shifting and stretching, the more you need all the bank you can get out of your bank. So we decided that two good banks would be even better as one.
What does it mean for you in the way of services? Guaranty-First will continue to feature the same superior services both banks have been famous for. That means things like lifetime guaranteed no charge checking, First Reserve or American Express credit, Master Charge, 24-hour check cashing, student loans, and automatic mortgage payments and account transfers. And we've got bigger and better ways to bank on the way.
What does it mean in the way of bank locations? Well, there are Guaranty-First branch offices in Waltham, Belmont, Natick, Framingham, Holliston, and Sudbury. That means no matter where you are, there's a better way to bank right in your backyard.
Finally, what does it mean in the way we treat you? If you're an old friend who knows us by an old name, remember our new name, and remember, we're getting more than bigger. We're getting better. If you've never known us by any name, remember why we're here. Because you deserve a better way to bank.

GUARANTY-FIRST TRUST COMPANY
Our main office is located at 600 Main Street, Waltham. Our branch offices are located at 876 Lexington Street, 424 Trapelo Road, 1290 Main Street, and 114 River Street in Waltham; 69 E. Central Street, 32 E. Central Street, Sherwood Plaza (Rte. 9), and Natick Shopping Center (Rtes. 9 and 27) in Natick; 250 Concord Street in Framingham; 100 Central Street in Holliston; Mill Village Shopping Center in Sudbury; and 60 Concord Avenue (soon to be located at 492 Trapelo Road) in Belmont. ## Bibi Osterwald . . .

From Irish Cook To Jewish Mother

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Bibi Osterwald, the nagging Jewish mother in "Bridget Loves Bernie," is as Semitic as Queen Elizabeth.

Bibi, in fact, is of Norwegian descent. Her family name, going back to the 16th century, was Ostenwald. Her family moved in 1912 from Scandinavia to New Jersey.

She is as baffled as anyone why she was cast in the role of Sophie Steinberg in the weekly CBS situation comedy.

The actress was playing an Irish cook and housekeeper in the soap opera, "Where the Heart Is," when she was called to Hollywood to play the Yiddish mama.

It was her seventh trip to California for a television pilot. When the series was given a green light Bibi had mixed feelings. She was delighted to move from a daytime soap opera to prime time, but it meant leaving her husband and son in Manhattan.

Bibi rented a furnished, two-bedroom apartment a scant two blocks from Columbia Pictures where she could walk to work—she was afraid of California drivers—spending 12 hours a day on the set.

Bibi has been married to New York bassist Justin Arndt for 23 years. Their son, Christopher, 17, is in his junior year at a private New York high school.

Father and son continue to live in the family's five-room apartment across the street from the Stage Delicatessen.

Bibi says the proximity of the famed Jewish-style establishment might have had something to do with her casting, but she doubts it.

It has been necessary for the character actress to play down her accent on the highly rated series to placate objections from viewers.

But she is slightly displeased, as perhaps any female would be, at the wardrobe she is required to wear as Sophie. To compensate, Bibi buys expensive tailored full-length dresses and skirts.

The ill-fitting wig of the early episodes has disappeared, too.

Proud Cook

Bibi takes enormous pride in her culinary dexterity. She is especially adept at stews, casseroles and goulash. Anyone, she says, can prepare a roast if she is willing to spent a fortune for a top cut of meat.

When "Bridget Loves Bernie" goes on its first annual hiatus Bibi will return to New York to keep house for her husband and son. She hopes, too, to make some commercials.

When the series resumes this summer Bibi will return, hopefully with Justin on tow. Currently he plays in the pit orchestra for "No, No, Nanette" on Broadway. But he wants to go into the boat repair business in Southern California as soon as Christopher graduates from high school.

Until the family resettles permanently on the West Coast, Bibi has many lonely evenings. But she also entertains old friends from New York who have moved to Hollywood.

She finally has steeled herself to the local freeways and has rented an automobile, driving to the beach and various other recreation areas.

Bibi Osterwald is a voluble woman who is many years younger than she appears in the series. She likes to chat with neighbors in the apartment house. Her favorite pasttime is making Scandinavian cookies.

More than anything else Bibi is anxious to reunite her family and find a real home.

Piano Stylist Bob Seixas Now At Concannon Village

BOB SEIXAS

Concannon's Village at 60 Lenox St., Norwood, is introducing week-night dance and sing-along entertainment featuring that genial pianist-entertainer, Bob Seixas.

Bob has been pleasing throngs of dancers with his orchestra all around New England for a couple of dozen years, as well as many thousands of cocktail lounge guests from Wentworth-by-the-Sea in Portsmouth, N. H., to the Providence, R. I., area, with his soft-rhythmic piano stylings, sing-a-longs, and general fun at the keyboard.

Long a favorite of the vacation-goers, Bob and his group always kept the dance music pouring forth with current and nostalgic tunes of the near and distant past, but also kept the audience involved with his "Lead A Band" contest, and "That Fabulous Year" contests. Versions of these will continue to highlight the pleasant evenings ahead at Concannon's Lounge.

Having come from a musical-theatrical family, Bob has kept that spirit alive through his sing-alongs and always encourages those who'd like to participate to join him at the mike for fun and songs . . . the old tunes, sad or gay . . . or the newer ones for the young and young-at-heart.

Bob and his new Fender-Rhodes Electric Piano and rhythm unit will serve up dance music for the most demanding tastes . . . down to those who would just love to dance to some of the beautiful old Glenn Miller and Tommy Dorsey hits of the 30's and 40's. Those with modern appetites will find Bob's song-bag well stocked with Bachrach, Beatles, Carpenters and modern-group tunes to please most every taste.

Art Exchange Exhibition

An exceptionally wide range of artistic disciplines will be on view at the Art Exchange Exhibition thru Feb. 16, sponsored by the Boston Museum School and the Massachusetts College of Art. Work will be exhibited at the Longwood Gallery of Massachusetts College of Art and the Museum School Gallery.

This unusual exhibition offers a full spectrum of diversified young talent, from the traditional to the highly experimental. Works on view will include paintings, sculptures, ceramics, jewelry, weavings, and prints.

According to the organizers of the exhibition, Virginia Gunther of the Massachusetts College of Art, and Dick Lyons of Boston Museum School, "This intercommunication between two of the area's leading creative institutions is a dramatic 'first' on the student art scene, and hopefully will lead to new avenues of cooperation between institutions."

The exhibitions are free and open to the public.

Johnny Hodges

His Saxophone Seldom Made Headlines

By WILLIAM B. LAFFLER

NEW YORK (UPI) — The late Johnny Hodges might be likened to a great defensive football player who is the mainstay of his team but rarely makes the headlines.

Hodges, a brilliant saxophonist who avoided musical gimmicks and cliches because his artistry had no need for them, was standout among standouts in the Duke Ellington band.

When Hodges was not in the best of form he was still worth hearing and when he was feeling right he was superb.

Some of Hodges' finest solos may be heard on an album entitled "Billy Strayhorn-Johnny Dankworth" (Roulette RE-121), one of five two LP-packages released by Roulette under the broad heading of "Echoes of an Era."

This session was recorded live under the leadership of Strayhorn, who also doubled on piano. It is fine music, throughout, and stands as testimony that this brand of sound is not likely to be forgotten.

While Hodges' magnificent solos are almost hypnotizing, there are other individual achievements, notably Harry Carney's baritone sax break on "Sophisticated Lady."

This portion of the album also features Shorty Baker and Clark Terry on trumpets, Ray Nance on cornet and violin, Russell Procope and Paul Gonsalves on reeds, Jimmy Woods on bass and Sam Woodyard on drums.

The Dankworth section includes two Julian Adderley numbers, "Cannonball" and "Sack o'Woe" as well as a syncopated rendition of "When My Sguar Walks Down the Street."

PERSONAL MENTION — In "I Have Lived" (MGM Records SE-4875), Charles Aznavour exudes Gallic charm while singing mostly romantic English lyrics. The result is relaxing entertainment. Songs include the title number, "The Old Fashioned Way," "To Die of Love," and "Little Fool ... I Love You," among others.

FUN ALBUM —"Monster Concert" (Columbia M31726) is a source of enjoyment to all who are addicted to piano music, for in this endeavor there are no less than 10 pianos with as many as 16 pianists, led by Eugene List, at the keyboards. At times it sounds as though there are only two or three because List and members of the Eastman School of Music piano faculty and graduate school students do not attempt to overhelm the listener. Selections range from "Stars and Stripes Forever" to "Blue Danube Waltze" but the big sleeper is Scott Joplin's "Maple Leaf Rag."

TAPE DECK—"Love Story" by Ronnie Aldrich and His Two Pianos with the London Festival Orchestra (London LON L 474162), an Ampex tape release, puts two LP records on one open-reel tape. This tape was Dolby encoded, ensuring cleaner sound. Among the selections are "My Sweet Lord," "Woodstock," "Amazing Grace," "What Is Life", "Rose Garden" and "El Condor Pasa."

Americans Abroad Expand Their Menus

By MURRAY J. BROWN
UPI Travel Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans may still be afraid to drink the water but they are more adventurous these days when dining out in foreign lands than they are at home.

That, at least, was the finding of a recently-conducted survey into the eating habits of the average American traveler who —in the not too long ago— would scan the menu and often end up by ordering hamburger with french fries "and don't forget the ketchup."

"Under his own roof the U.S. citizen today still prefers beef, potatoes and apple pie," said Robert H. Pitt, president of the international division of Diners Club. "But when he's overseas, he will dine on local specialities—veal scallopini in Italy, duckling montmerency in France or schweinebraten (potted pork loin) in Germany."

Preliminary figures from the U.S. government and travel industry sources indicate that about 6 million Americans traveled overseas in 1972 and spent around $3 million on food alone.

"Reports from our member dining establishments from Montevideo to Moscow indicate that the American traveler has become more sophisticated in his choice of food over the 10 years," Pitt said. "Managers and waiters in foreign restaurants tell us U.S. citizens today are more likely to choose regional dishes instead of looking for American-style food on the menus."

Among favorites of present-day travelers are French bouillabaisse, English Dover sole a la Marguary, Danish smorgasbord and various Italian veal dishes, he said.

"In Greece, restauraters report Americans favor arni exohiko, a dish of ground lamb and vegetables baked in pastry," he said. "Another favorite is avgolemono, an egg and lemon soup."

The survey showed that in Spain Americans preferred paella, seafood and chicken in rice, and gazpacho, a soup made with raw fresh vegetables which is served cold. In Mexico, favorites were chicken mole poblano and carne maya, a braised pot roast.

Familiarity

While some of the foreign dishes preferred by Americans contained familiar ingredients, others did not, Pitt said.

"In Japan, for example, restaurant and hotel dining room expect Americans to order two native dishes popular in the U.S.—teriyaki and tempura," he said.

"But they have been surprised at the number of Americans who also order sashimi, thin slices of various kinds of raw fish, served with a hot sauce called wasabi."

Pitt said the changes in American eating habits abroad became noticeable about a decade ago.

"In the years immediately following World War II, Americans overseas—civilians and GIs—tended to follow domestic eating patterns when dining out," he said. "But by the early 1960s, they were trying local dishes. In more recent years, with so many young Americans traveling, the willingness to try new foods took on the proportions of a major trend."

Pitts said that in Europe especially, food eaten by Americans seemed to indicate they stopped counting calories when they crossed the ocean.

"The American woman, who often seems to be on a perpetual diet at home, gives up salads for gourmet foods with fancy sauces in French restaurants," he said. "And she apparently is not reluctant to enjoy rich desserts on her travels—such as Viennese sachertorte, French and Italian pastries and German vanillpudding himbeersyrup, a rich vanilla custard with pureed fresh raspberries."

Pitt said all signs pointed to increased travel by Americans abroad in the years ahead. To meet this growing market, he said, Diners Club had expanded use of its credit card to more than 350,000 separate establishments in 143 countries and territories.

Across The Kitchen Counter

Ruth Lenson

In ancient Rome Feb. 14 was truly a red letter day. With anxious hearts, eligible maidens wrote their names on slips of paper and dropped them into an urn. Later, young men drew the slips knowing they were committeed to court their chosen lady for a full year before marriage.

Today, men have a tendency to remember Valentine's Day on Feb. 14, about 5 p.m. on their way home; immediately a detour is made to the local florist or candy shop only to endure a long impatient wait for service. Forewarned or not, alas, the pattern repeats itself year after year.

If you're keen on statistics, Velentine's Day ranks second in the sale of greeting cards after Christmas. School teachers are the largest recipients of valentines. Mothers will receive as many cards as they have children (plus one if Dad remembers). Sweethearts send the frilly sentimental words of love, teenagers the funny ones and children mail more valentines than anyone else .

As the song says, "Everybody loves somebody, sometimes," and on the 14th of this month an estimated 500 million valentines will descend like a blizzard on post offices around the world.

Be different! Instead of mailing a valentine, make one in the kitchen. What better way is there to show you really care!

VALENTINE GREETINGS TO YOU ALL!!!

VALENTINE STRAWBERRY DESSERT

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup sugar, divided
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen dessert
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 egg whites
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix together gelatine, 2 tbs. of the sugar, salt in a saucepan. Stir in milk. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat. Add strawberries and flavoring. Stir until strawberries are thawed and mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; gradually add remaining 2 tablespoons sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into gelatine mixture. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into a 2-cup mold. Chill until firm. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

VALENTINE PUNCH

2 pkgs. (10 oz. ea.) frozen sliced strawberries
2 cans (6 oz. ea.) frozen orange juice concentrate
1 quart ginger ale

Thaw strawberries slightly. Puree in blender. Blend in thawed undiluted orange juice concentrate. Mix thoroughly. Divide among 6-8 glasses. Fill to the top with chilled ginger ale. Makes 6-8 servings.

VALENTINE CHIFFON CAKE

2 eggs, separated
1½ cups sugar
2¼ cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
One third cup vegetable or corn oil
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 can (1 lb. 5 oz.) cherry pie filling, chilled
Frosting, below

Beat egg whites until frothy. Gradually beat in ½ cup of the sugar and continue beating until very stiff and glossy. Sift together remaining 1 cup sugar, flour, baking powder and salt. Add oil, ½ cup of the milk and vanilla. Beat at medium speed 1 minute, scraping sides and bottom of bowl constantly. Add remaining ½ cup of the milk and egg yolks. Beat 1 minute more, scraping bowl down constantly. Fold in beaten egg white mixture. Pour into 2 greased and floured 9-inch layer pans and bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes. Cool in pans on rack for 10 minutes; then turn out to cool completely. Put layers together with ¾ of the can of chilled pie filling and chill until frosting is prepared. Drain remaining cherry pie filling and spoon on top of cake in shape of a heart. Frost sides and top of cake up to the heart shape pie filling.

VANILLA FROSTING

1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese
1 tablespoon milk
2½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla

Blend the cream cheese and the milk. Add the sugar gradually, blending it in well. then add vanilla and mix again.

MINI-CHERRY CHEESE CAKES

½ cup sugar
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
1 can (1 lb.) red tart pitted cherries
Red food coloring
¾ cup chocolate cookies or gingersnap crumbs (12 cookies)
1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
One third cup sugar
1 egg
2 teaspoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon vanilla

Combine ½ cup sugar and cornstarch in a saucepan. Stir in cherries and juice. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Add red coloring and cool. Line 12 muffin cups with paper baking cups; spoon about 1 tablespoon cookie crumbs into each bake cup. Beat together cream cheese, one third cup sugar, egg, lemon juice and vanilla until smooth. Pour over crumbs. Bake in a preheated 375 degree oven for 15 minutes or until set. Cool. Top each cheese cake with 3 tablespoons cherry sauce.

CRANBERRY MEAT LOAF

1 can (1 lb.) jellied cranberry sauce
1 pound ground beef
1 cup soft bread crumbs
½ cup chopped onion
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1 envelope (5 serving) instant mashed potato granules

Cut four or five ¼-inch slices from cranberry sauce; set aside. Stir together ground beef, bread crumbs, onion, remaining cranberry sauce, egg and salt. Spoon into ungreased 8 or 9-inch square pan; pack down lightly. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Prepare mashed potatoes as directed on package and spread over baked meatloaf. Bake 10 minutes longer. Cut heart shapes from reserved cranberry slices; arrange on potatoes for garnish. Serves 4-6.

VALENTINE SALMON PIE

1 can (1 lb.) salmon, reserve liquid
Milk
1 cup soft bread crumbs
3 lightly beaten eggs
1 cup celery, diced
¼ cup onion, chopped
2 tablespoons margarine
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¾ teaspoon salt
1 unbaked pastry shell, 9-inch

Drain salmon and reserve liquid; add enough milk to salmon liquid to make one cup. Flake and pick over salmon. Combine liquid mixture, soft bread crumbs, beaten eggs and let stand while preparing remaining ingredients. Cook celery and onion in margarine until celery is tender. Combine all ingredients and mix lightly. Pour into unbaked pastry shell and bake in hot 400-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes or until crust is done and salmon mixture is set. Let stand 5 minutes before cutting. Yields: 6 servings.

EASY CHERRY DATE WHITE FUDGE

1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese
2½ cups sifted confectioners sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ cup cut-up dates +
¼ cup cut-up candied cherries

Beat cream cheese until smooth and soft with electric mixer; slowly blend in remaining ingredients. Press into a buttered 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Chill until firm, then cut in 21 pieces. Makes about 1 lb.

+Cut dates fine with scissors

TENDER LAMB CUBES, marinated in dry sherry, then quickly cooked in hot oil, are perfect partners for Pungent Plum Sauce, Creamy Mustard Sauce, and Gingerbread Sesame Soy Sauce. For recipe, please refer to "Information, Please."

Short Cuts For Spring

When you're counting pennies and can't afford a permanent, color, wave set or scalp treatment, the one thing you MUST have is a good hair cut.

This is the opinion of hairdressers meeting recently in Chicago. The consensus is that a woman's first duty to her appearance is the best hair cut she can afford. If hair is well cut the styling will be quite natural and easily taken care of at home.

It looks as though come spring scissors will be snipping away at a rapid pace producing the new mini hair style. What's a mini? Anything so short that running a comb or fingers through it will make the hairdo presentable. This length is expected to be adaptable for women of all ages, but especially for the gals who have been wearing yards and yards of hair down their backs. For quite some time young women have wanted a change but not a return to the teased and sprayed look of a few years ago.

For some the change has been a gradual one, cutting hair to collar level and then on to a really short cut. Dress designers are asking for models with the shorter cut because, as Chester Weinberg said, "Hair should reflect the quiet, subtle tone in fashion with a clean smooth style as honest and uncomplicated as today's clothes. Women have grown to love the relaxed look and hair with the short, smooth cap look ties in nicely with pants and uncluttered daytime dresses. For evening I prefer a gentle frame of waves flowing from a side part."

Kasper, designer for Joan Leslie also prefers the look of short hair, natural coloring and softer silhouettes. For evening, to go with his new short evening dresses, he likes a medium length style that has soft waves in front of the ears and then pulls back to be tied with satin ribbons.

"Hair that's smooth at the top and then turns into a smiling flip," is the way Stan Herman prefers his client's hair. "And then if another look is desired," he continued, "women can adapt with hairpieces."

It seems to be goodbye to the shag. Hair stylists have long felt that long stringy hair down a girl's back was a "blah" look. This spring the trend will be to many levels of hair, beginning quite short around the forehead and eyes for a capped-off smooth neater looking head.

Hair stylist Vidal Sasson has said, "When a hairdresser begins to layer your hair with a razor, run out of the shop." Generally, the new layered cut should be done with scissors . . . with the exception of the tapered back. The reason for this is so that the hair will hug the back of the neck.

Also new for summer is the uniformity in length of hair to achieve a Greta Garbo page boy style. This will be especially good for those who are in the throes of allowing their shag to grow out. Though the method sounds drastic, it involves cutting the longer bottom level of the shag to bring it up to the shorter levels . . . actually often times the under level is cut slightly shorter to allow the desired flip to take place.

When a noted hair stylist was asked what caused long waist length hair to become outmoded, he replied quickly, "Boredom. After all, long hair can be a nuisance. To keep it looking just right there had to be a lot of brushing and almost daily shampooing. It's a bore to become a slave to your hair.

"Besides that," he continued, "young people like to experiment with color and it's a lot easier to change color when hair is short. I just wish that young girls wouldn't consider going to the hairdresser such an ordeal . . . it seems to me that they would rather go to a dentist than have a hair cut.

"It all happens when a girl asks for a half inch to be taken off and her mother's hairdresser (sometimes prompted by the mother) lops off about 5 inches. Do you realize how long it took the poor girl to grow the 5 inches? I convince my clients I will not chop away . . . I take off only what is requested and in this manner the girl usually returns for more cuts—shorter cuts.

At home conditioning treatment? Here's one to try next time you notice your hair has become dry and lusterless: Before shampooing, part hair into four sections and massage generous portions of baby oil into hair, starting at the scalp and working out to the very ends. Pin hair up and put a baggie or plastic wrap tightly over hair. Take a steaming towel and wrap it around the head; the heat will help the oil to penetrate the hair. Leave on for 15 minutes, then shampoo thoroughly and set as usual.

All in all, if you look as though you've just emerged from the hairdresser, you don't have the "new look". Call it a natural look, a softly tousled look or sleek look, it's what you'll be seeing spring and summer.

Shorter hair styles have also caught on with boys. Though they are not willing to go crew-cut, barbers are being asked to cut hair shorter for a neater appearance.

A customer was asked recently why she had cut her shoulder length hair into a sleek cap cut. She said, "I suddenly realized I was spending 2 precious hours a week at the beauty shop and it would cost anywhere from five to eight dollars; I was achieving results that never lasted more than 3 days . . . so I decided on this very short cut. Now I feel as though I've been liberated . . . I don't need another appointment for at least 4 weeks!)

THE MINI CUT, a sleek hairdo for spring and summer and so perfect for city dressing as shown in a biege gabardine jumper, foulard-printed shirt and open blazer by Rodrigues.

This is the reader's column. If you have a question or a recipe to share with other readers, please write to: Information, Please, Transcript Newspapers, 420 Washington Street, Dedham, Mass. 02026.

Question: In the Jan. 3 issue of the Parkway Transcript, there was a recipe for hermit cookies and there was an omission of butter; would you please reprint the complete recipe?

A reader of the Transcript

Answer: Dear Reader: If you look right under the title "HERMITS" you will see that first ingredient reads: ½ cup butter (or margarine). I agree it's difficult to see because the remainder of the ingredients are in the next column. I do hope you enjoy the cookies!

Question: I gues you might call my family "apricot nuts" because we adore anything that contains apricots. I have an apricot bar recipe but would like an apricot tea loaf and an apricot jam or preserve that does not contain grapefruit. I look forward to your columns weekly. Thanks!

Mrs. J.R., Westwood

Answer: With compliments like that, how can I help but "come through"? Here are the recipes, compliments of the California Apricot Advisory Board:

APRICOT NUT BREAD
(1 8-inch loaf)

1½ cups all purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ cup sugar
½ cup chopped dried apricots
½ cup chopped walnuts or pecans
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
1 egg
¾ cup milk
¼ cup salad oil

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and soda into bowl. Mix in sugar, apricots and nuts. Add orange peel, egg, milk and oil; stir until blended. Pour into greased 8½ x 4½-inch loaf pan. Bake in 350 degree oven 45 minutes or until bread tests done. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan and cool on rack.

APRICOT ORANGE CONSERVE
(Makes 4 8-oz. jars)

2 cans (30 oz. ea.) apricot halves, drained
Peel of ½ orange, shredded or finely chopped
1½ cups orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
3½ cups sugar
¾ cup chopped walnuts

Place all ingredients except nuts in large heavy saucepan; bring mixture to a boil. Simmer, stirring frequently, until thickened, about 15-20 minutes. Stir in nuts. Ladle into 4 sterilized 8 oz. jelly jars; seal with paraffin. Serve at room temperature as a condiment for meat or poultry, or as a dessert topping.

Question: I'm planning a fondue party and would like to serve beef tenderloin in chunks to be cooked in a fondue pot but the beef is just too expensive. Would you please give me a recipe that would be almost as good using lamb? Many thanks.

Mrs. A.F., Newton

Answer: Here's a delightful recipe using lamb, and you won't have to make any apologies for not using beef . . lamb is tender and quite delicious.

FAR EASTERN LAMB FONDUE

3 pounds boneless lamb leg or shoulder, cut in ¾-inch cubes (You may use fresh or thawed frozen lamb)
dry sherry, peanut oil
Dunking sauces (see below)

Marinate lamb cubes in sherry in refrigerator for several hours, turning frequently. Remove from refrigerator; let stand to reach room temperature. Drain off sherry; blot lamb cubes well on paper toweling (this prevents splattering when cooking). Fill fondue pot about ½ full with oil. Heat on range to 375 degrees, or until oil bubbles. (Reheat oil on range as necessary, to maintain temperature.) If using an electric fondue pot, follow manufacturer's instructions. Set fondue pot on stand over moderately high flame. Let each guest spear lamb with fondue fork and cook to desired degree of doneness, about 20 to 50 seconds. Guests then transfer lamb to dinner forks and dunk in sauces.

PUNGENT PLUM SAUCE
(1 cup)

1 cup plum jam
2 tablespoons boiling water
1 tablespoon horseradish

Blend plum jam with boiling water; cool. Blend in horseradish. Serve cold with lamb fondue.

GINGERED SESAME SOY SAUCE
(about 1 cup)

1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ cup cold water
1 teaspoon ginger
One third cup soy sauce
2 tablespoons each: lemon juice, sesame seeds

Dissolve cornstarch in water. Add ginger, blending well. In heavy saucepan, combine remaining ingredients. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Serve warm with lamb fondue.

Our thanks to Mrs. Shirley M., W. Roxbury who sent us her favorite coffee cake, Banana Sour Cream Coffee Cake, her family's favorite.

BANANA SOUR CREAM COFFEE CAKE

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup mashed banana
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup dairy sour cream
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Cream shortening and sugar until fluffy. Beat in eggs, banana and vanilla. Fold in sour cream. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Fold into creamed mixture, stirring just enough to blend. Mix nuts, ¼ cup sugar and cinnamon. Sprinkle half of nuts into the bottom of a well greased tube pan. Spoon in half of the batter; sprinkle with remaining nuts and add rest of batter. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 45 minutes or until cake tester comes out clean. Let stand in pan on rack for 5 minutes. Loosen around edges and turn out.

Question: My mother lives with us and she enjoys a baked apple for dessert after dinner. I've been making it rather simple and would like a little fancier recipe for a change. Can you help me?

Mrs. G.G., Dedham

Answer: Baked apples are easy to prepare and easy to eat. Here's a recipe that is quite unique, using honey for sweetness and the crunch of nuts.

BAKED APPLES WITH HONEY

1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Rind
One third cup orange juice
One third cup honey
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
6 medium-sized apples
One third cup chopped nuts

Mix together orange rind, orange juice, honey and spices. Core apples; remove peeling one-third way down from top. Place apples in a baking dish, stuff with nutmeats and pour honey mixture over them. Bake at 350 degrees until done, approximately 40-45 minutes. Baste apples with syrup during baking.

HELPFUL HINT: Here's a foolproof recipe for a tangy tomato gravy great for indoor or outdoor barbeque. Blend 2 tablespoons flour into 2 tablespoons hot butter or margarine. Mix in 1 can (13 oz.) Madrilene and 1 teaspoon gravy seasoning and browning sauce. Stir over low heat until thickened and smooth. Makes about 1 and one third cups gravy.

No. 66542 Misc. In Equity

To Helen A. Cummins, a-k-a Helen Vail Cummins, of Arlington; Frederick R. Vail, of Belmont, both in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Agnes Young Anderson, of Brookline, in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth, and to all whom it may concern:

Greeting:

Whereas a suit in equity has been begun against you in our Land Court, by Patrick J. Callaghan, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth,

We command you, if you intend to make any defense, that on the first Monday of May next, which Monday is May seventh the return day of this subpoena, or within such further time as the law allows, you do cause your written appearance to be entered and your written answer or other lawful pleading to be filed in the office of the recorder of said court at Boston in the County of Suffolk, and further that you defend against said suit according to law, if you intend to make any defense, and that you do and receive what the court shall order, adjudge and decree therein.

Hereof fail not, at your peril, as otherwise said suit may be adjudged, and orders and decrees entered therein, in your absence.

The petitioner represents that he is the owner of the premises known as and numbered 26-28 Burton Street, Brighton, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth, as evidenced by a deed to him from Francis M. Kelly, Administrator, dated April 20, 1972, duly recorded with the Suffolk Registry of Deeds, Book 8528, Page 118, and with the Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, Book 12191, Page 153; the petitioner further represents that included in said parcel is a small area of land located in Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; the petitioner further represents that through inadvertence and error, ambiguities appear in the lot numbers and description; and the petitioner prays that the Court reform the following deeds:

to read as follows:

"A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated on the Northwesterly side of Burton Street, a short distance Southwest of Hunnewell Avenue in that part of said Boston, formerly Brighton, and extending for a short distance over into Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, comprising Lots 4 and 4A on N. J. Holland's plan, dated June 8, 1903, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds Book 2983, Page 548, and in Middlesex County South District Deeds at the end of Book 3554, that part situated in said Brighton containing 7084 square feet and that part in said Newton containing 850 square feet and said lots are together bounded and described as follows:

SOUTHEASTERLY by Burton Street, 55 feet;

SOUTHWESTERLY by lots 3 and 3A on said plan, 144.27 feet;

NORTHWESTERLY by land now or formerly of Mary B. Whiting, 55 feet; and

NORTHEASTERLY by lots 6A, 6 and 5 on said plan, 144.24 feet."

And it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the petitioner that the whereabouts of some of the respondents are unknown, and they cannot actually be served with process, it is ORDERED that notice be given by publishing a copy of this order once a week for three successive weeks in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in said Newton, the last publication to be two months at least before the said first Monday of May next.

Witness, William I. Randall, Judge of our Land Court, the ninth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventy-three.

Temples Combine For Adult Education

An outstanding and varied spring program of adult education will commence on Tuesday, February 27, at Temple Reyim, 1860 Washington St., Newton at 8 p.m.

The program which is sponsored by the combined adult education committee of Temples Emanuel, Emeth, Mishkan Tefila and Reyim, the conservative congregations in the Newton-Chestnut Hill area, is open to the community at large and will run for seven weeks.

This spring series will encompass classes, lectures, a panel discussion and the showing of a classic Yiddish film. There will be nine course offerings including five language classes and four classes of a topical nature. The language classes will include elementary Hebrew, basic conversational Hebrew, intermediate conversational Hebrew, basic Yiddish and intermediate Yiddish. These courses will be a continuation of those begun in the fall and are open to all interested participants.

Dr. Emanuel S. Goldsmith, assistant professor of Yiddish Language and Literature at Brandeis University, will teach a course on "Jewish Values: A Contemporary Interpretation."

A biblical course on "Problems in the Book of Judges" will be taught by Mrs. Ariella Goldberg, instructor in Hebrew Language and Composition at Brandeis University.

Rabbi Joseph Stern, instructor in Talmudic Law at Hebrew College in Boston, will probe the topic, "Jewish Law on Contemporary Issues of Life and Health."

"The Theatre in Israel, A Modern Hebrew Miracle" will be the subject of a course given by Dr. Zeev Raviv, associate professor of Theatre Arts, Modern Languages and Literature at Clark University.

Classes will be followed each week by a lecture. On Feb. 27, Dr. Zeev Raviv will commence the lecture series with a drama reading entitled "The Israelis, A Modern Jewish Breed." This will be an evening of readings marking the 25th anniversary of the state of Israel.

Rabbi Samuel Chiel of Temple Emanuel will present a lecture Mar. 6 on "Janusx Korczak, 1878-1942." He will probe the psychological dynamics of the making of a martyr.

"The Revolt of Bar-Kokhba - Fact and Fiction" will be the title of a lecture on Mar. 13 by Rabbi Philip Kieval of Temple Reyim. He will show how recent archeological discoveries have shed new light upon the Second Jewish Revolt against Rome in 132-135 C.E.

On Mar. 20, Rabbi Zvi K. Nelson of Temple Emeth will speak on "The Zionist Idea" discussing the development of the Zionist movement, its impact upon the revival of nationalism among the Jewish people and its influence upon the renaissance of Hebrew culture.

"Hasidism: An Expression of Jewish Mysticism," a lecture dealing with the teachings of Hasidism and the way of life practiced by its adherents, will be presented by Rabbi Israel J. Kazis of Temple Mishkan Tefila on Apr. 3.

During the series two full-evening programs will also be presented. Green Fields, a Yidsish film classic with English sub-titles, will be shown. Dr. Emanuel S. Goldsmith of Brandeis University will ive a brief introduction to the film and the culture it represents.

"The Ingredients of the Generation Gap" will be the subject of another evening's program. There will be a showing of the Eternal Light film "The Teaching" to be followed by a panel discussion of the issues raised in the film.

Registration for the entire program will be six dollars for adults, three dollars for golden agers and students will be admitted free of charge. If you would like further informtion or a printed brochure, please call te offices of the participating temples - Emanuel, 332-5770; Emeth, 469-9400, Mishkan Tefila, 332-7770 or Reyim, 527-2410.

ANNIVERSARY — Members of Myrtle Baptist Church of West Newton will celebrate the third anniversary of their pastor, Rev. Harold A. Pulley, as leader of the congregation on Sunday, Feb. 11, 4 p.m. Rev. Alvan N. Johnson, pastor of Bethel A.M.E. Church of Fall River will be the guest speaker. Music will be under the direction of Hubert Walters. Mrs. Alice Hunter, Mrs. Helen Evans and Howard Haywood served on the Anniversary Committee. Refreshments will be served and the public is invited to attend.

Concert Singer Presents Arias

Miss Noel Fraterrigo, lyric soprano, will present a program of operatic arias and duets in the parish hall of Auburndale Congregational Church, Auburndale, on Sunday, Feb. 11 at 3 p.m.

Miss Fraterrigo, a graduate of The New England Conservatory of Music, has sung roles with the New England Chamber Opera Company, Boston Opera Theatre, Theatre Project '71 and Cambridge Opera. She has also given numerous recitals in the Boston area and in Western New York. She will be assited in the program by baritone Vincent Ricento, also a New York Conservatory graduate, and James Busby, pianist.

The program will include works by Mozart, Rossini, Puccini, Verdi, Mascagni and von Weber and the public is invited.

Unitarians Hear From Foreign Born

"Growing Up in Different Cultures," will be the title of a special program for FeRUARY'S MEETING OF THE Newton Branch Women's Alliance of the First Unitarian Soiety to be held Feb. 14 at 11 a.m.

Members of the church will relate their own experiences in arious countries of their birth.

Mrs. Helen Gloor of Newtonville will speak of her childhood in Switzerland and her school experiences while studying the dance and music in Vienna, Austria.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bredin of Newton Highlands was born in Belfast, Northern Ireland. She will relate the circumstances of her education at a private English girls' school and at Queens University.

The third panelist, Mrs. Hanna Salzer of Waban, was born near Berlin in what is now East Germany. She will speak of her early German childhood and education which began at home and later continued in public and private schools in Europe.

The public is cordially invited to attend alliance programs and share with members of the church in the discussions which follow.

Further information may be obtained by calling the church office at 527-3203.

Organ Concert Features Bach

Mary Crowley Vivian will give an organ recital at the First and Second Church in Boston, Berkeley and Marlborough Streets, at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Feb. 4.

The program will include compositions by Jan Pieter Sweelinck, Louis and Francois Couperin, and Johann Sebastian Bach. The concert is free and open to the public.

Mrs. Vivian is a Fellow of the American Guild of Organists, and former Dean of the Boston Chapter of the Guild. She is a teacher of organ at Wellesley College and Boston University, and organist and choir director at the United Parish in Brookline. Mrs. Vivian and her family live in Waban.

Both the church building in which this recital will be given, and the instrument which Mrs. Vivian will be playing are relatively new. After the old First Church was destroyed by fire, the new First and Second Church was erected on the same site. The new organ, which has been in operation now for only a few months, was built by the Casavant organ company in Quebec, Canada.

Temple Sisters Plan Program

Sisterhood Temple Reyim will hold its mid-winter meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 14 at 10:30 a.m. in the Ordis Social Hall.

Mrs. Murray Yoger will preside over a brief business meeting. The D'Var Torah will be read by Mrs. Abraham Hekler.

The program entitled "Hasidic Women and Their Way of Life" will be presented by Mmes. Robert Friedman, James Brawer and Ruven Miller who are involved congregants of Congregation Beth Pinchas (Orthodox) of Brookline.

At noon, a gourmet luncheon will be served by sisterhood women. For a stimulating and enjoyable meeting, please make your reservation by calling Mrs. Levine at 527-2410.

Br. Varden Defends Catholic Education

Brother Bartholomew Varden, C.F.X., superintendent of schools for the Archdiocese of Boston, recently addressed the parent's club of Sacred Heart School, Newton Centre.

In a forthright talk, Brother Varden vigorously defended the right of Catholic and other non-public schools to exist. He pointed out that private schools existed in this country before the advent of public schools, and cited Supreme Court decisions and recent statements by President Nixon affirming the reasonable preferences of parents in the matter of education.

Varden stated that the threefold purpose of Catholic education should be to teach doctrine, to build community and to serve. "Community is an especially critical need because structures of the past have been weakened by many influences. Pressures on the family, the basic unit of society, have already been noted. Urbanization and suburbanization have radically changed the concept of neighborhood community," added the superintendent.

He declared that the Catholic school has the opportunity and obligation to be unique, contemporary and oriented to Christian service, producing young people who will be able to relate to a society that must live with rapid change and constantly learn to adapt.

"we offer a real alternative to public education, and believe it is in the overall interest of American society which has thrived on competition," concluded Varden.

Baptists Plan For Youth

Rev. Michael Scrogin, associate minister of the First Baptist Church in Newton Cente, will preach a sermon entitled "Teach Your Children Well" at the 10 a.m. worship service on Sunday, Feb. 11.

Mr. Scrogin will be assisted by Kenneth Joines, a student pastor at First Baptist and a second-year student at Andover Newton Theological School. Mr. Joines' area of concentration at the church is in pastoral care.

The morning service will be followed by a short break for coffee and fellowship, after which the adult study groups meet until noon. The senior high youth meet at 8:30 a.m. for breakfast and converstaon, and at 6 p.m. for youth fellowship. The junior high youth meet for discussion following the service, and for youth fellowship at 5 p.m.

All members and friends are invited to participate in worship, and young people are encouraged to join in the various youth programs. Of special interest to youth is the service of celebration, a contemporary form of worship service, planned for Sunday, Feb. 18, to which all are invited.

SAME SIGNS BUT DIFFEREND

Q. I have read about different Signs which are compatible but am interested in hearing how 2 persons of the same Sign would get along. My husband and I are both Sagittarians . . . he was born around 6 a.m. on November 26, 1946, and I was born around noon on December 11, 1947. Do you foresee any particular problems our relationship may have as a result of our astrological similarities? L.E.W.

A. The city or town of birth as well as the EXACT time of day are also needed in addition to the data you supplied in order to calculate an accurate horoscope.

Although you both were born with the Sun in the same Sign, not only were they in different sections of that Sign (called decanates) but the planets Mercury, Jupiter, Venus, Mars, Uranus and the Moon were also in different Signs and both of you have different ascendents. As you must have noticed you do not look alike nor do you think, speak or act alike.

However, by a comparison of the distance apart between certain planets on your birthdates (called aspects), there are indications that he has the ability to stimulate and arouse your emotions and vise versa. He should also be able to stimulate you mentally but at times irritate or provoke an argument.

You were probably attracted to him from the moment you met him since he was able to arouse romantic feelings of an exciting nature in you. Early in your relationship you may have had somewhat more liberal views than he but in time settle down to a more conventional life.

These indications may be modified or accentuated depending upon the complete horoscope which cannot be calculated without the previously mentioned data. Sun Signs alone are not a wise basis for judging compatibility.

'Dollar Drought' May Hit Farms

Virginia Payette says:

Farmers are worrying about threats of a long, dry spell, but this one has nothing to do with the weather. It's what you might call a "dollar drought."

And if they knew of a rain dance to ward it off, they'd be out in the fields tomorrow. What's at stake here is their favorite crop: farm subsidies. Four billion dollars worth every year. (Tax dollars, of course.)

It's a guranteed annual harvest, too, come rain or shine, blight or locust. And no breaking their backs in the north forty, either. That four billion is what we pay them for keeping acres idle.

The kicker here is that taxpayers making $10,000 wind up subsidizing farmers making $100,000 or more a year. That's on top of their weekly struggle with a whopping grocery bill that follows when idle acres create food shortages which, in turn, create sky-high prices at the supermarket.

What's happening now is that some folks in Washington seem to think a farm should be producing food instead of shortages. And Congress, after 40 years, is actually talking about a plan to cut off some of the free money they've been showering on farmers for not farming.

Farmers, of course, find this "shocking." Especially when one of their own is behind it all, that old Indiana farm boy himself, Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz.

Mr. Butz is the one who wants to slash subsidy payments to producers of major crops almost in half, bringing them down to less than $2 billion by next year. He's also in favor of eliminating price floors for certain agricultural commodities.

He might just do it, too. Because, with the election over, President Nixon has discovered he doesn't need the farmer [illegible] as much as he needs to [illegible] the irate consumer off his back. And he will support Secretary Butz in almost anything that promises to bring food prices down.

Also, this happens to be the year the basic farm law runs out. And city Congressmen, who feel a $54 billion handout since 1933 is enough, think they have the clout to outvote legislators from rural districts.

So they may be inclined to go along with Butz on his plan to cut subsidies and move reserve acres back into production.

They may even look with favor on his plea to scrap parity payments, that Rube Goldberg system of keeping prices on certain crops high enough to give farmers as much for their dollar as they had from 1910 through 1914.

With today's mechanized commercial farms, critics say, that kind of "parity" makes about as much sense as comparing an antique plow to a modern tractor combine.

What Secretary Butz is really after is a new bill that will keep farm income up without government propping. This would come, he says, from expanded production that will mean bigger sales and bigger profits in growing overseas markets.

The way things work now, when Russia buys up a big shipment of our grain it means farmers have that much less for American customers. . . which pushes up prices to bakeries. . . which will make the morning toast cost more.

If Secretary Butz is right, coaxing farmers through the crunch until they are competing in a free market would mean a double bonus for consumers: we'd save several billion every year in Federal handouts. . . and farmers could grow enough food to bring the grocery bill down.

That way, there might be something left over at the end of the year for taxes.

Calorie-Conscious Cooking

By BARBARA GIBBONS

At last, a piecrust pastry that's both foolproof and low in calories!

Standard piecrust pastry recipes add up to 1,350 calories, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture . . . 675 calories per crust! Our pastry is just about half that. Moreover, this pastry dough won't leave you tearing your hair out with floury fingers because it stubbornly refuses to be rolled. And there's no waiting or prechilling with this recipe; it's ready to roll the minute it's mixed.

If those virtues aren't enough to start you digging our your rolling pin, here's an added asset: this pastry even has a slight protein boost from added egg.

The following recipe makes enough for ample pastry for four pieshells or two double-crusted pies.

DIETER'S PIECRUST

2 cups unsifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup diet margarine
1 medium egg
1 tablespoon vinegar
3 tablespoons water

Stir the flour, baking powder and salt together in a bowl. Blend in the diet margarine with fork or pastry blender until mixed through.

Beat the egg, vinegar and water together and add to flour mixture. Blend or knead lightly until pastry leaves the side of the bowl. Separate into four equal-size balls and flatten. Makes four single piecrusts, 347 calories each, before trimming.

Rolling out this pastry is extra easy. Simply use a well-floured board and rolling pin. Use the pastry to line eight- or nine-inch lightly-oiled or nonstick pie pans. Fill with slightly sweetened fresh or diet-pack canned fruit for a special low-calorie dessert.

Or prebake the shells in a hot oven for eight to 10 minutes and fill with prepared low-calorie pudding and pie filling mix. Or . . . you can use this dieter's pastry to decalorize such fattening supper dishes as quiche lorraine or chicken pot pie.

FREEZER TIP — Why not make your own ready-to-bake frozen piecrusts? Simply roll out all four crusts and line four pie pans with the pastry. Stack together and wrap in aluminum foil. Then you're ready to make a busy-day dessert:

LOW-CALORIE BLUEBERRY PIE — Combine 4 cups unsweetened fresh or frozen blueberries with 6 tablespoons sugar and sugar substitute to equal ½ cup. Stir in 2 tablespoons cornstarch and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Pour in pastry-lined pie pan and top with crust. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven 40 minutes. Makes eight servings, 175 calories each.

Louse House Not For Mama

Jean Libman Block is a nice lady writer, and she's married to a nice lawyer, named Benjamin Gollay. And they are very happy.

But it was a little rough, six years ago, when Jean announced to her mother, a gently reared Southern lady, that she was going to marry this New York lawyer and they were going to live in Greenwich Village.

"Greenwich Village?" exclaimed Jean's mother. "But that's not suitable! You have a young lady daughter!" (It wasn't Jean's first marriage.)

Jean assured her mother that the Village was fine, and she added that young lady daughters rarely come home to live after they've gone off to college. Mama sighed, and said: "Well, I suppose it's all right. But where are you going to live in this Village?"

"MacDougal Alley," said Jean.

"ALLEY, ALLEY!" cried Jean's mother. "You mean I'm supposed to tell my friends that my daughter is going to marry a man who is going to make her live in an alley?"

Jean explained, she tells me, that MacDougal Alley is "very special, a private street, illuminated with gaslight, an authentic landmark of the little old New York that once was considered one of the most chic addresses in town."

"She didn't believe me," Jean told me, "but gamely, she went on to inquire just what quarters I would have in this alley. I said, 'Well, you go up to the second floor. . .' and she cut in: 'You mean you have to walk up the stairs!. . . I might have known — a walkup in an alley — I might have known!' "

Calmly, Jean tried to explain that it wasn't what you'd call a walkup. It was a private house, sort of like a town house, and it's very nice to live in a town house.

"She kept shaking her head and repeating: 'A walkup in an alley. . . a walkup in an alley. . . that my daughter would come to this! . . . Oh, a walkup in an alley. . . !' "

To try to divert her, Jean explained that she and her new husband would not be living just in this here old alley, and in a walkup at that, but that much of the time they would be privileged to sojourn at her husband's house on Long Island.

"Where on Long Island?" asked Mama.

Jean gulped a bit, but bravely she told the truth.

"It's on Louse Point Road," she said.

Her mother nearly had a stroke. It did little good to tell her that names in that area are somewhat odd, that the house has its own waterfront, and a spectacular view of Gardiner's Island and Gardiner's Bay — the kind of place you'd give your right eye for.

"Louse Point. . . Louse Point. . . " she kept grumbling. "I should tell my friends that my daughter lives in a walkup. . . and also at LOUSE POINT !"

Well, in time Jean says, her mother became a bit more mellow and she permitted her to give a luncheon for some of her friends in the house in MacDougal Alley. Mama was telling one of her friends, a most - dignified dowager, how to get to the place, and she said, apologetically:

"It's in the Village."

"I KNOW the Village," said the dowager. My niece lives there."

"Well," said Jean's mother, "that's nice. But the house is a walkup. At Jean's you'll have to walk up a flight of stairs."

"At my niece's," said the dowager, haughtily, "you have to walk up TWO flights of stairs!"

And so, Jean's mother became accustomed, as they say. But recently Jean wrote a book, along with Ren Glasser, called "Who's Sleeping in My Bed?" (published by Dell), and, let me tell you, this is a racy, shmacy type of book! The publisher calls it: "The biggest and boldest since 'The Love Machine' — a behind-the-fleshpots novel about the cosmetics industry, a journey through the world of perfume and mascara. . . !"

Very racy, indeed! And wait till Jean's mama reads it! She'll forget entirely about the walkup, and Louse Point Road! Ho, ho!

Two Wives, Two Markers

by Amy Vanderbilt

DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: My father had seven children by his first wife. When she died, he placed a marker at her graveside for both of them, requesting that he be buried beside her. He later married my mother, and they had six children. His wishes were that she also be laid to rest beside him, and my mother wants this very much.

Our father has since passed on, and we feel that our mother might be happier if we placed a marker at our father's side for her now so that she could see it. She seems pleased with the plan. How should we word the inscription?—Mrs. J. F., Providence, R. I.

You follow the practice that has been set up in the placement of the first wife's stone, which might have merely her name and the dates of her birth and death. If the first marker says "beloved wife," use this phrase on your mother's marker, also.

You may certainly order the stone with her name on it, with the first date, and put it in place. After her burial, the date of her death may be added.

Monuments are often put in place by the living with just the names and dates of birth inscribed.

FUNERAL CALLS

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: When there is a death in the family and thank-you cards are sent for flowers and other donations, is it necessary to send the foldover who stopped by to pay their respects?—Mrs. J. S., Wilmington, N. C."

Funeral calls are not returned. Therefore, it is not necessary tosend the foldover cards to people who have attended the funeral or signed the registry in the funeral home.

SUNDAY BEST

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: I was glad to read your column on 'What Happened to Sunday Best?' My family doesn't go to church just to see what Mr. and Mrs. Jones are wearing, but it certainly is a pleasure to see people dressed in their finest. It gives one the feeling that all's well with the world.

"Granted, God loves to see us come to church whatever we are wearing, but there is a sort of letdown in the respect we show Him in His house when women come with their hair in curlers, clothes barely covering their bodies, men with shirttails hanging out. This kind of dress is bad enough on the street, but in God's house!

"Would these same people dress this way going to the White House? If they would, then we are sinking pretty low in our respect for everything. We should all take another look at ourselves.—Mrs. M. W., Dennisport, Mass."

I am very sorry to tell you that they do indeed go into the White House, on tour, dressed in just about everything. I have seen tourists at President Kennedy's grave in curlers, blue jeans and bare feet. We should indeed take another look at ourselves.

From The Inside

by Frank Van Der Linden

Sen. George McGovern's recent flight to England, to avoid even being in the same country with Richard Nixon on the day of the President's second inauguration, has no parallel in American history.

Never before had a defeated presidential candidate run off to a foreign land — 3,000 miles away — to escape the embarrassment of witnessing his oponent's triumph.

The really great figures in politics, as in sports, are those who can take defeat with dignity and grace and good sportsmanship.

Richard Nixon stood on the Capitol platform on January 20, 1961, and congratulated the man who had narrowly beaten him, President John F. Kennedy. Eight years later, at the same place, Hubert H. Humphrey was there, blinking back the tears as he watched Nixon take over the presidency through another whirl of the political wheel of fortune.

It may be said that Nixon, in 1961, and Humphry in 1969, had to attend the inauguration, because each was a retiring Vice-President. It may also be said that it was George McGovern's duty, as a United States senator from South Dakota, to be present for Nixon's second oath - taking ceremony. Other Democratic senators were there — Edmund Muskie of Maine and Ted Kennedy of Massachusetts, to name only two.

Stephen A. Douglas, the "Little Giant," won only a dozen electoral votes when he was crushed at the polls by Abraham Lincoln. Yet Douglas attended Lincoln's inauguration in 1861 and — according to legend — held the new President's stovepipe hat.

But McGovern could not stand to see the coronation of King Richard, so he fled to England where he fully qualified himself for the title of "Prince of Wails."

At Oxford University, the senator, who used to cry, "Come home, America," made a speech painting a gloomy picture of his home country which had no better sense than to bar him from the White House.

"The United States is closer to one-man rule than at any time in our history," he wailed.

The President, he claimed, is a barbarous dictator; Congress is spineless and weak; the White House press corps is "incestuous" and timid; the Republican party is "reduced to utter vassalage"; his own Democratic party "is in peril of becoming a party. . . with no principles, no programs, living only from day to day. . . doing nothing."

It's still a "mystery" to McGovern, when he wonders why the people in 49 of the 50 states preferred the allegedly unpopular Nixon over his own obvious and manifest charms by a margin of 18 million votes. McGovern offered one clue: The voters, he opined, "did believe that I would do what I said, and they were afraid."

To find a parallel to McGovern's flight, it is necessary to turn back the pages of history to 1801, when the defeated President John Adams slipped out of the White House at four o'clock in the morning of Inaugural Day and hastened away by coach to his home in Massachusetts. He could not endure the humiliation of seeing his hated rival, Thomas Jefferson, take the oath. So Adams crept away from Washington. . . alone.

"You can have no idea of the meanness, indecency, almost insanity, of his conduct, especially of late", commented Albert Gallatin, soon to become Jefferson's Secretary of the Treasury.

"But he is fallen and not dangerous."

"Let him be forgotten."

Norembega Scouts Backpack To Pow Wow At Cedar Hill

More than 400 Boy Scouts, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts and their leaders took part in the seventh annual Operation Polar Bear, a back-packing, overnight camping event held at Cedar Hill Reservation in Waltham.

The top troop awards were won by Boy Scout Troop 209 of Newton and Senior Girl Scout Troop 196 of Ashland.

First place awards were won by Boy Scout Troop 209 of Newton and Cadette Girl Scout Troop 596 of Newton. Second place awards were won by Boy Scout Troop 153 of Weston, Cadette Girl Scout Troop 506 of Winchester and Senior Girl Scout Troop 642 of South Easton.

Third place awards were won by Boy Scout Troop 265 of Waltham, Cadette Girl Scout Troop 671 of Canton and Senior Girl Scout Troop 844 of Lexington.

Waltham was represented by Boy Scout Troops 236, 247, 250, 257, 263 and 265; Watertown by troops 203, 204, 226, 260 and 266; Belmont by troops 312, 346 and Explorer Post 314; Newton by troops 209, 322, 355 and Explorer Post 506; Weston by Troop 153; Winchester by Troop 506.

Cadette Girl Scout troops were 846 of Watertown; 596 and 879 of Newton; 506 of Winchester; 633 of South Easton; 300 and 336 of Cohasset; 671 of Canton.

Senior Girl Scout Troops were 747 of Watertown; 545 of Newton; 844 of Lexington; 196 of Ashland; 642 of South Easton; 333 of Cohasset; 512 of Marlboro and 655 of Sudbury.

All troops were rated on their back-packing and camp set-up skills and the following events were held, travois race, boil cocoa race, snowball accuracy throw, constellation identification, flag pole lash, patrol flag contest and a baking contest.

At the campfire the scouts enjoyed the NASA film "Apollo 16," authentic Indian dances by Explorer Post 506 and general dancing with refreshments.

Religious services were conducted by the Rev. Stephen Emmett of the Phillips Congregational Church of Watertown and the Rev. Robert Wild, S.J., of the La Farge House, Harvard University.

The Patrol Flag Contest was won by the Freedom Patrol of Troop 153, Eagle Patrol of Troop 263, Jailbird Patrol of Troop 671 and the 4-Eyes Patrol of Troop 512.

The baking contest was won by the Freedom Patrol of Troop 153, Soaring Eagle Patrol of Troop 209, Longjohns Patrol of Troop 196 and the Timely Travelers Patrol of Troop 642.

Blue "Pioneer" ribbons were won by Boy Scout Troops 153 Freedom Patrol, 209 Soaring Eagle, 209 Minutemen, 153 Buzzard, 204 Apollo, 153 Pink Panther, 265 Black Panther, 250 Mice, 247 Polar Bear, 103 Sopwith Camel, 506 Muscular Marshmallow, 265 Wolf, 506 Duck, 203 Superfish, 263 Eagle, 263 Bat, 506 Headhunter, 266 Tiger, 266 Eager Beaver, 236 Snowshoe, 355 Fox, 346 Kitten, 346 Longhorn and 355 Eagle.

A Way For Alcoholics To Pay Their Own Way

A unique program of seminars and counseling to help employed alcoholics is paying off both from a dollars and cents and a humanitarian standpoint.

The program is a joint venture between Middlesex County Hospital, Metropolitan State Hospital and the Walter E. Fernald State School. It is also unique as a program in that it is a cooperative effort by county and state agencies. Private businesses are now requesting to be included with Poloroid Corporation the first to be actually included.

Middlesex County was the first governmental level in the state to have it written into the contract that alcoholism would be considered an illness if the employee accepted treatment. Alcoholics shouldn't have to reach the bottom of life's ladder, losing both their job and their family before they are offered help, pointed out one of the initiators of this program.

It is also cheaper to rehabilitate a present employee than train a new one, he said. (So far the program has been run on a volunteer basis at no expense to the institutions.)

The program is working on two levels—a six week seminar for supervisors points to alcoholism as a illness, not a moral question and offers ways for a supervisor to help an alcoholic employee. Employees with a drinking problem are offered an opportunity for counseling—with no mention of the problem on their personnel records which might jeopardize their present or possible future job. They are also urged to take advantage of established agencies and organizations designed to help alcoholics.

The hospitals are now completing their third seminar series and the programs administrators feel they can already see results from a job performance point of view. There has been a decrease in the number of industrial accidents and employee morale has improved because one employee does not have to make up for the work of another who has been drinking.

Combined, the three institutions have about 2,000 employees. If employees take sick leave because of an alcohol problem and others must be paid at time and a half overtime to cover for the, large amounts of money become involved.

In addition, the program has aided friends and relatives of alcoholics. Alcoholism affects the entire family, the program coordinators point out. The family needs as much support or more than the alcoholic. An employee whose spouse is an alcoholic will not be able to perform at peak efficiency. Then too, the support of the spouse is needed to support the alcoholic during rehabilitation.

Coordinators of the program for the three hospitals are Alan Weston, R.N., nursing in-service education department at Fernald, Paul R. Shea, personnel director at Middlesex, and John McDougall, personnel director at Metropolitan State.

They credit their hospital directors with foresight and courage in supporting the program since it had never been tried anywhere else.

There has been lots of talk about the need for alcoholism programs but there has been little implementation. People are afraid to try something new," Shea commented.

They also credited the experts who have assisted with the seminars, Milton Wolk of the state's Division of Alcoholism and Edward Leahy of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission.

"A lot of things have come out of the seminars as the employees feel they can talk. The seminars include a cross section of people. When we started out the participants seemed to look on the problem as one that happened to someone else. That alcoholism was a matter of poor will power. But now there has been a subtle change. They have come to look on alcoholism as a disease and not a hopeless one," Weston said. It is also just as likely to affect supervisory personnel as employees under them, he added.

"To protect an alcoholic and not confront him is killing him with kindness. Untreated, it si a terminal illness," Shea said.

"Alcoholism is the largest drug abuse problem in this country today," McDougall said. "A recent study in Vriginia of traffic accidents between the hours of 1 and 5 p.m. showed the 50 per cent of those killed were drunk at the time."

Businesses and industries are now asking for help in establishing similar programs or to be included in the hospitals' which demonstrates the need and relevance of the project.

"We can't draw a line at the front doors of the hospitals. We have to include other groups. We feel we are taining people to handle future problems in their own communities," Shea said.

Another example of the scope of the need for such programs is that former Metropolitan State alcohol patients have returned to ask how they can get help for other family members or friends McDougall said.

One of the biggest rewards of the program, one of the men pointed out, was seeing one of the employees who had formerly had a drinking problem get a deserved job promotion.

VISITORS FROM S.A.

South American travelers are coming to the United States in ever-increasing numbers.

Argentina, Brazil, Colombia and Venezuela provided the greatest number of travelers in 1970—206,410 of a total of 319,022 for all South America, says Paul Hildebrandt, General Manager-North America of Argentine Airlines.

Miss Gretchen F. Feuer of Newton is one of 67 students who joined the Class of 1976 at Mount Holyoke College when classes convened for the second semester on Jan. 31.

The program of second semester entrance for freshmen was initiated at Mount Holyoke eight years ago and is now in use at other colleges. The program has grown with the increasing number of Mount Holyoke students who now complete their college work in three and one-half years.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Feuer of 43 Fairmont ave.

—o—

Jonathan Paul Winer received academic honors for the fall semester at Pomfret School, Pomfret, Connecticut. A senior, Jonathan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Winer, 75 Annawan rd., Waban.

—o—

Miss Renee Goldberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Morton Goldberg, 22 Avondale rd., Newton Centre, a freshman at Mount Ida Junior College, has been named to the dean's list for the first semester. Miss Goldberg, a graduate of Castleton State College, is enrolled in the general studies program.

—o—

Thirty-one students will leave this week for a semester's study in Vienna, Austria, as part of Nasson College's study abroad program.

Participating in the program is Ana Maria Caminos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horacio Caminos, 83 Fairmont avenue, Newton.

Members of the group will continue their liberal arts studies for the next 13 weeks at the University of Vienna. Their stay will also include visits to Austrian museums, historic buildings, concerts and lectures as well as visits to Budapest, Innsesbruck and several cities in Italy, including Florence.

—o—

Michael N. Sepinuck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sepinuck 94, Evelyn rd., Waban, has been named to the dean's list for the 1972 fall term at Babson College, Babson Park, Massachusetts.

Sepinuck, presently a junior at Babson, is a graduate of Newton High School.

FISH LIB?

NEW YORK (UPI) — The following report, may be of interest to those in the women's lib movement. It is from "The Sciences," journal of the New York Academy of Sciences.

"The existence of true amazons is now an established fact, with the discovery of two viable hybrid all-female species in the fish kingdom. Although the fish—one the Formosan Molly, the other an unnamed member of the guppylike Poeciliopsis family — borrow males of neighboring species to mate, none of their offspring are male. In fact, the males' genetic material never gets expressed; all second-generation fish have the genetic material of their maternal grandmothers exclusively."

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fiber glass in school desks can produce contact dermatitis, according to a report in the Archives of Dermatology.

Drs. Charles S. Eby and Robert L. Jetton, of the Naval Hospital, Lejeune, N.C., cited this case. A girl, 8, two days after enrollment in an elementary school furnished with fiber glass reinforced plastic desks had an outbreak over the midposterior section of her thighs. The rash newly occurs within a few hours after exposure to any one of a number of similar desks.

MARATHON TROPHIES — RoyceSawyer (right), coordinator of the Silver Lake Dodge Washington's Birthday Marathon, displays first place cup and array of trophies to be presented to the top finishers in the Sunday, February 18 distance run. Also pictured are Herbert Abramson, sponsor of the race and Frank Carrigton, race director.

More than 300 entries are expected in the race, which is an official qualifying contest for the B.A.A. Marathon, and has been designated as the New England 20 kilometer Junior Championship.

Menswear

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI) —Designer John Weitz does a lot of flying — around the United States to extol the merits of some of his products, frequently to Japan, and England, more recently to Mexico. The other day Weitz flew off the handle.

The outburst was brought on by a phenomenon he has witnessed frequently — gentlefolk of a certain age casting their dignity to the winds and dressing up like teen-agers to a point of ludicrousness. High heels, even.

Weitz is a proponent of his Big Man Look consciously designed to make the man who wears it feel big even though he might be five feet six. He puts function ahead of fashion but his clothes are fashionable to the point where about $26 million worth of John Weitz products are expected to be sold this year.

What particularly irritated him was seeing a man well past middle age with gray curly hair dropping down the back of his neck almost to his shoulders. The heels of his shoes were almost as high as those worn by 18-year-old kids and the suit had a skinny cut, amplifying rather than disguising the man's neglected and sagging abdominal muscles.

"A middle aged man ought to look like an airline captain—dignified, proud of his age and experience," fumed Weitz who is 49 and looks like an airline captain. "Whatever happened to the Flip Corkin and the Terry and the Pirates image? There are no flat faces any more. Just chubby cheeks.

Pride in Maturity

"This weird lack of judgment by businessmen who suddenly find themselves dressed in this youthful fashion. What does he visualize when he looks in a mirror? There should be pride in maturity—a proudful thing to have and less of this reaching for unattainable youth.

"No longer should these men wear wide bell bottom trousers with a sports shirt or their turtle neck sweaters inside their trousers, showing an emphasizing their paunch. And the long hair of middle age men. The windblown look is only for the youthful romantic, not the mature man. I wish they had a read-it-back-truthfully mirror."

He motioned toward a plaque on his office wall noting that he once made a list of the world's best dressed men and said, "I found myself doing things beyond the normal courage but I never wore anything that was outrageous."

Products bearing the John Weitz name are expected to top $18 million in the United States for 1972. In addition there are sales of about $7 million in Japan and $1 million in Britain.

Recently he added Mexico—and found himself upstaged by his own family.

Weitz is married to actress Susan Kohner who, in turn, is the daughter of even more famous Mexican actress Lupita Tovar who, for persons unfamiliar with Mexican movies, is referred to as the "Mary Pickford of Mexico". And Miss Kohner's godmother is Dolores del Rio.

Friends Sponsor Orchestra Debut

Among the local sponsors for the American debut of German's brilliant Bamberg Symphony Orchestra will be Mr. William A. Doebele, Dr. and Mrs. Heinrich G. Brugsch, Mr. and Mrs. Everett P. Grossman, Mr. and Mrs. Gunther Schuller, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ginsberg, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney A. Lang.

The concert, a Symphony Hall on Monday, Mar. 19, at 8:30 p.m., will be presented b the Friends of the New England Conservatory.

One of Europe's foremost conductors, Eugene Jachum, will lead the all Beethoven performance, including the "Egmont Overture," the "First Piano Concerto," and "Symphony No. 3" (Eroica).

Veronica Jachum von Moltke, a member of the conservatory's piano faculty, will be the soloist, her first performance with her father in Boston.

Tickets are available now through the Friends' office at the conservatory, and after Feb. 25 willlgo on sale at the Symphony Hall box office.

Travel Camp Registering Now for '73

The Sharon Travel Camp announces its cross-country program for the summer of 1973. An exciting and different six-week experience for boys and girls, 12 to 15 years of age, will combine elements of a camping program with travel and exploration of major places of interest across the country.

The entire trip will be under the direct supervision of Warren and Dorothy Kline, assisted by an outstanding counselor staff. Transportation will be by an ultra-modern, air-conditioned bus with a fully-qualified professional bus driver.

Warren has his master's degree in education, and has taught high school science and mathematics for 20 years. He is presently teaching mathematics as Sharon High School. He has many years of camping experience as a camper, counselor, unit supervisor, program, and camp director.

Dorothy has a bachelor of arts degree, and has extensive part-time teaching experience through the Junior High School level. She also has camping experience as a camper, unit supervisor, and program director.

The quaking aspen is an important winter food for elk.

CHILDREN'S THEATER — Mindy D'Arbeloff of Cambridge, Philip Grossman of Newton and Derek deJesus of West Newton play a scene from the Boston Children's Theater production of "Jack and the Beanstalk," playing at New England Life Hall Feb. 17, 22, 23, 24 and March 3. Derek is the son of Gil deJesus of 814 Watertown St., and Philip is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Grossman of 29 Nod Hill Rd.

Newton Violinist Joins Ensemble

Violinist Ronald Knudsen of Halcyon Rd., Newton, is a member of the unique contemporary music ensemble of the Boston Symphony Orchestra entitled "Collage."

Knudsen joined other members of the Boston Symphony in the debut of "College" at Jordan Hall, Boston, on Friday evening, Feb. 2. They were accompanied by dancer Ina Hahn, soprano Joan Heller and pianist Christopher Kies.

The group is unique both in its aim and in its make-up. It is not a fixed group with a upecified repertoire, but, rather, it is open and flexible with many different musical "collages" possible from its members. Its repertoire runs the full gambit vf contemporary music.

Members of "Collage" share the hope that by performing to diversified audiences in many different types of concerts, they will have the vpportunity to stimulate interest in contemporary music.

Whenever possible the ensemble will involve composers in the preparation and performance of their works. The group plans to especially highlight Boston-area composers, many of whom have already written works for "Collage."

At its debut, the ensemble performed "Synchronisms No. 2" (1964) by Mario Davidovsky; "Hymn for Cello and Bass" (1970) by Robert Ceeley; "Quartet: The Three Seasons of Autumn (1971) by Robert Selig and "Nocturnes" (1971) by Tibor Pusztai.

Percussion Academy Taking Registrations

The Percussion Academy of Newton, 41 Placid Rd., has announced that it is now taking registrations for percussion and guitar instruction for the spring semester.

Academy founder Arthur Press, a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, also announced that the academy has expanded its facilities to include all styles of guitar instruction.

In addition to Press, the faculty includes Gene Roma, Dean Anderson, Robert Kaufman and Tim Stark. For guitar instruction, John Scofield and Chris Boydston are available. Guest clinicians and lecturers are also invited periodically to further increase and broaden student education.

The original concept of the academy, Press said, was that of "highly individualized instruction of the percussion instruments and the guitar by performer-teacher, each expert in his own specialized area of performance."

Press sais that another purpose is to "adequately prepare students for entrance into into the higher institutions of learning.

"All in all, the student's total musical exposure is organized and coordinated to assure maximum learning depending on his or her individual needs." he said.

For further information regarding enrollment, consultations or evaluation, call 244-3316.

Windjammer Features Homegrown Chanteuse

Ruth Blair Mac Closkey, daughter of Professor and Mrs. Edmund M. MacCloskey, formerly of Newton Highlands, is currently appearing at the Marriott Motor Hotel's Windjammer Lounge here in Newton.

Appearing under the stage name Becky Parris, Miss MacCloseky has sung at various clubs in the area, including Caesar's Monticello, the Playboy Club, Batchelors Three and the Point After.

She is a recent graduate of Newton South High School.

North African Travelogue Set

Morocco—An Emerging African Nation is the subject of P orfessor Lowell S. Trowbridge's slide-talk at a coffee hour at Waban branch of the Newton Free Library, Thursday, Feb. 15 at 10:30 a.m.

According to Professor Trowbridge who traveled throughout the major cities of Morocco, the country is a growing "democratic nation that anticipates trouism as an important factor in its growth and acceptance by people in other lands."

Lowell S. Trowbridge, professor of Behavioral Science at Boston University's College of Business Administration, frequently travels with his wife to Europe, Mexico and the Caribbean.

Miss arlene Lynde, Waban branch librarian, invites arm-chair travelers to come for coffee at 10 a.m. to remain for the program at 10:30 a.m.

Children To Benefit From Art Projects

Starting Feb. 15, for 12 weekly Thursday sessions, Newton Community Service Centers will conduct two art workshops for children in grades kindergarten through six.

The classes will present a variety of activities from the simple to the complex, including basic paper bag puppets, styrofoam head puppets, sock puppets, felt finger puppets, paper mache puppets, spool puppets which move as marionettes and complete multi-material puppets often elaborately dressed and characterized. The creation of puppet stages are added to form the basis for exciting and creative stage plays.

The children also enjoy such activities as linoleum block printing and India ink on cork, both of which provide many uses for color, design and texture. Tie-dipping, macrame, plaster sculpture and casting are each a focus of the sessions.

Other activities will include making wall hangings, banners, flags, musical instruments, working with clay, woodworking, candle making and off the loom weaving.

The workshops will be taught by Joanne Holland and Cheryl Mazer. For further information call the Community Center at 969-5906.

Students Plan Musical Feast

The Newton High School Music Department will present "Winterfest" this Sunday, Feb. 11, at 3 p.m. in the auditorium.

The featured work will be selections from the "Messiah" by Handel.

The chorus and orchestra will be conducted by Raymond Smith and Jerry Gardner. Guest soloists will be Hazel O'Donnell and Francis Hester. Student soloists will include Diane Smith, Susan Blank, David Levy, David Shore, Janice Nardone, Robert Hyman and Nancy Mosher.

The first portion of the program will feature a wide variety of selections. Tickets at $1 will be available at the door and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Montreal Theater Slates Performances

Tickets for "A Shtetl Wedding," to be performed by the Montreal Yiddish Theater are now available through the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Boston.

Performances will be given Feb. 24 in Boston University's Morse Auditorium and on Feb. 25 in the Usdan Student Center at Brandeis University.

City's Young Thespians Sought By Tufts' Arena

The Tufts University Magic Circle Theater for Children, dependent for many years upon boys and girls from Newton to fill out its cast, is now acepting applications for its 22nd season this summer at the Tufts Arena Theater.

Harvey Grossman, co-director of Magic Circle last year, has returned as director this season. Grossman, an actor, director, and instructor in the art of mime, was trained as a mime by Etinne DeCroux in Paris. He is presently the director of The Players' Theatre of New England.

The Magic Circle Company comprises 35 children in grades six through nine. The group meets Monday through Friday during the Tufts Summer School, June 25-Aug. 3, 1973, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Company will present performances of children's plays for outside audiences. Emphasis is on technical and costume work as well as on music and acting.

Applications will be accepted until March 1; auditions will be held later in the spring. For further information write or call the secretary, Tufts Arena Theater, Medford, 623-3880.

Winter Production Opens Friday

The Newton Country Players open their winter production, "And Miss Reardon Drinks A Little," Friday (Feb. 9) at 8:15 p.m. in the Pomroy Playhouse, 84 Eldredge St., Newton Corner.

Performances will also be given Saturday, Feb. 10, and Friday and Saturday, Feb. 16 and 17, at 8:15 p.m.

Producing the Paul Zindel play is Joe Colella of Newton.

Colella, an Emerson College student, came to the Players from Newton Junior College where he appeared on stage in "We Bombed in New Haven" and "Time of Your Life." He appeared for the Players as Slick Steve in "Gold in the Hills" and as the reporter and purser in "Anything Goes" and has devoted much time and energy in set construction.

Acting as stage manager is Beth Sonis, also of Newton. Miss Sonis is a 1971 graduate of Northwestern University with highest honors in Speech and Drama. She has done radio and television announcing and directed and played in dozens of college and community productions. On stage for the Players Miss Sonis created the roles of Jenny in "Everything in the Garden" and Nellie in "Gold in the Hills."

In charge of props are Barbara Role and Lillian Breen, both of whom appeared as dancers in "Anything Goes" for the Players. Assisting are Diane Golrad, Miggs Gorilla and Soni Tick.

Lee Pinkofsky is Business Manager and James Sloane House Manager. Ben Berg and Alyn Pinkofsky will be in charge of lighting and the set was constructed by Joe Colella, John Deming and Bertram Krassin. Set decor by Sandy Deming, Mikki Krassin and Beth Sonis.

The Players always cordially welcome new members. For further information please call 969-1867 or write P.O. Box 9, Newton Centre 02159.

Drama Group Holds Tryouts

The Auburndale Club Drama Group has announced open tryouts for its spring production "Forty Carats," a comedy in two acts adapted by Jay Allen from a play by Barillet and Gredy.

Readings will be held on Thursday - Feb. 8 at the Auburndale Club, 283 Melrose street, Auburndale. They will be under the direction of Mr. John Head and Mrs. Beety Schuft, co-directors for the play.

OYSTERS AND PEARLS

CHICAGO (UPI) — If you're eating oysters and find something, it isn't a pearl.

Edible oysters, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, occasionally produce round calcareous concretions, but they have no lustre and are worthless.

True pearl oysters differ from edible oysters by the presence of a tuft of filaments and by a number of other characteristics.

The Newton Graphic

Newton Centennial 1873 - 1973

VOL. 103 NO. 7 NEWTON, MASSACHUSETTS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1973 PRICE FIFTEEN CENTS

18-Month Budget Tops $88 Million

The preliminary figure for Newton's total 18-month budget, including the school budget already approved, is $88,245,368.95.

Mayor Theodore D. Mann Wednesday said he will send a request to aldermen for $45.8 million in funds to cover the city's portion of the 18-month budget. The Board of Aldermen will probably begin its budget discussions at the end of February and is required to pass final appropriations in March.

State law requires that all cities and towns budget for 18 months instead of 12 months this year in order to bring the local units of government in line with the state and federal fiscal year, July 1-June 30.

Taxpayers will be required to pay two-thirds of their total 18-month tax bills at the regular due date, Nov. 1, 1973, and they will pay an additional third, to cover the other six months of the budget, on May 1, 1974.

The actual 12-month budget figure, the one comparable to the 1972 budget, is a total of $56.5 million for 1973 as compared to $53.7 million in 1972. It represents an increase of about $2.8 million.

The figure for the additional six month period is $31.7 million, including $15.6 million for the city and the $16.1 million already approved by the School Committee.

Mann attributed most of the increase to labor costs, citing the standard 4.5 per cent pay increase granted to most city bargaining units when contracts were negotiated last year. He said, based on the 12 month figures, the 1973 budget represented "an overall increase of 5 per cent."

He noted that revenue sharing is one "offsetting factor" that might help ease the taxpayers' burden but said Newton's share "does not have as great an impact as revenue sharing does in other communities."

Mann also said that if Newton only had to come up with a 12-month budget, "we could have kept the tax rate in line or even reduced it."

He explained city and town officials have been in contact with state leaders to see if some changes can be made in what funding the city must provide for the 18-month period, explaining that a whopping portion of the six-month burden is the extra $2.6 million in teachers salaries that must be provided.

According to the way the law reads, the city must raise enough money to pay teachers through August, 1974, which is 20 months, not 18.

Mann said that he hopes at least this change would be made before tax bills must go out because "it is just unfair to the taxpayers."

The mayor declined to speculate on what the budget would mean to Newton's tax rate, which jumped more than $17 to 139.60 per thousand of assessed valuation in 1972.

Hearings On Housing Authority Projects Held

By LEN BATEMAN

The Land Use Committee of the Board of Alderman conducted public hearings last Monday evening on requests by the Newton Housing Authority for zining changes at two of its proposed sites for low income and elderly housing.

The first of the petitions from the authority requested that land at Victory Field be changed from non-zoned to private residence. A request for permissive use of the land was also attached to the petition.

The authority is requesting both a zoning change and permissive use in order to construct for units of attached dwellings for low income housing.

Authority staffer Jennifer Volkert briefed the Land Use Committee on the current status of funding for the project stating that she an other members of the authority were "guardedly optimistic" over the possibility of obtaining federal funds despite the present moratorium on construction imposed by Washington.

Ms. Voldert informed the committee that HUD Regional Administrator James Barry had forwarded a telegram to Washington recommending that funds not be halted for Newton's proposed construction. She also stated that Newton's congressional delegation was working in Washington for HUD approval of the funding.

"In any event" she continued, "Commissioner Miles Mahoney of the State Department of Community Affairs has assured us that funding has been ear-

Report Criticizes Street Department

Ward Seven Alderman David B. Cohen has issued a report critizing the Street Dept. for "inadequate preventive maintenance, purchasing and biikkeeping procedures."

Cohen charged in his report that he "found very little evidence that a preventive maintenance program being "effectively carried out."

"Most of the vehicles serviced had broken down before being brought back to the garage for repairs," he said.

Newton Street Commissioner Edmund C. Bolduc stated that he had not been informed of Cohen's report and would withhold comment until he had a chance to read it.

Acting Director of Public Works Richard Dudman was unavailable for comment Tuesday.

Alderman Cohen stated that he had made a copy of his report available to Dudman.

Cohen cited failure to repair vehicles properly the first time as a primary cause of waste. He said he found that car No. 7 had three voltage regulators installed over a course of only a few months; car No. 496 had a tire repaired three times over a six month period at a cost of $160.20 and vehicles Nos. 203 and 348 each had two calcium filled tires repaired twice each at a cost of $244.14 after sustaining flats on the same days only three months apart.

The report suggested that failure to keep adequate records of gasoline consumption seriously hampered the effectiveness of the garages' preventive maintenance. According to figures furnished Cohen, vehicle No. 19 averaged something less than five miles per gallon of gasoline from Jan. 1 to Nov. 24, 1972.

"Poor mileage is often an indication of a faulty carburetor or distributor," stated Cohen, "and yet the vehicle was never checked to determine the cause of such poor mileage performance."

The gasoline consumption of many vehicles was impossible to measure, according to Cohen, because of broken odometers. He wa also informed, he said, that the garage conducts no regular monitoring of the fleet of packer trucks which account for the largest consumption of gad of all city vehicles.

The report also deals with the garage's purchasing practices.

It states that the garage may directly purchase any item costing less than $15.

"As of November 15, 1972, I found no evidence that the garage engaged in comparative pricing," Cohen said.

A spot check of five purchased items revealed that two of the items were available at a

Elementary Lunch Program Plans Begin To Take Shape

The Chapter 871, Elementary Lunch Program will be slowly set in motion over the next seven months in Newton Schools.

The School Committee last week approved the use of an architectural firm consulting work in advance of the program's launching. The end result should be the installation of the state-mandated project in all the Newton elementary schools by September.

Massachusetts enacted legislation last spring calling for lunch programs in all single-session elementary schools throughout the state by September, 1972, and double-session ones by September, 1973.

A pilot program has been devised and will be implemented at the Burr and Memorial Schools beginning Feb. 26. The other 23 schools will institute their lunch programs sometime between March and September (Peabody, because of its limited enrollment, has been excepted).

The architectural firm of Finegold and Bullis, of Boston, has been recruited to ascertain the proper methods for the Lunch Program's implementation. The cost will be $13,600 for the architect's work, which will include the following work at about half the elementary schools in Newton:

Inspecting existing conditions; making alternate kitchen location suggestions, if appropriate; determination that kitchen equipment can be brought into designated areas through existing doorways, and that current electrical service can accommodate demands for any new equipment; preparation of working drawings and specifications for painting and flooring; obtaining contract administration.

These listed items do not include all projects included in the Finegold and Bullis contract, but are representative of their scheduled tasks. Their work will not take them into some schools which have already been deemed suitable for Chapter 871's implementation.

Bids will probably go out for any construction to be done by mid-April or early May, so that any building can take place during summer months.

Change In Store For Oak Hill Bus

A change is due on the Oak Hill to Newton Corner mini-bus route.

MBTA officials and representatives of the city met Monday and ironed out an alternative route for the bus to follow eliminating bus travel on Roosevelt Road.

The effective date of the route, Mayor Theodore D. Mann said Tuesday, is to be March 26, "sooner if possible."

Mann said he had approved a proposed change that would have the bus run down Dedham Street to Greenwood Street, make a loop in front of Newton South High School, and travel back down Greenwood Street to pick up Dedham Street.

This pattern of travel, he said, would be used during school months,

About 60 residents on Roosevelt and Brandeis roads last week signed a petition circulated by Alderman Robert Gaynor asking for a return to the old route.

Danger to children on Roosevelt Road and the buses' 'deleterious effect upon our neighborhood" were given as reasons for the petition. It was delivered to the mayor by Ald. Gaynor last week.

Petitioners also charged that the bus made five fewer stops on the new route.

Donald Levitan, director of community development for Newton, explained that the route was originally changed to its current status by another group of petitioners. Levitan said the original petitioners were members of the Oak Hill Parent-Teacher Association and the School Committee.

This change, he said, was granted directly by the MBTA.

Levitan also explained that the route change would take place in the spring when MBTA drivers normally switch bus runs.

Anthropologist Zeros In On Today

Professor Robert A. Manners

Because his traditional research domain is shrinking, the anthropologist of today is increasingly centering his attention on problems of contemporary society.

And while he moves closer to the dilemmas of city and ghetto, he has created an expanding interest in the field of urban anthropology.

This is the view of a prominent anthropologist and long-time Brandeis faculty member, Professor Robert A. Manners of 134 Sumner St., Newton Centre. He believes the thrust of anthropological research has changed partly because of "certain sensitivities" felt by people of the Third World.

Manners discussed this and related matters following the announcement this week he had been appointed general editor of "American Anthropologist," the official journal of the American Anthropological Association.

"Many people of the lesser developed countries in Africa, Latin America and Southeast Asia simply don't want the anthropologist around anymore. There is a great sensitivity felt by those who have historically been in the study province of the anthropologist," Manners said.

"The result has been that the kinds of places and environments the anthropologist has been accustomed to working in are now being cut back." Two principal reasons account for such shifts in attitude, he said.

"First, many people of the Third World want to do their own research, and do it among their own people. They don't want to be treated as objects for study by outsiders.

"Another reason is that a feeling of antipathy towards white men has developed, one that condemns what the local people see as another version of 'exploitation by old colonial masters.' Of course, I don't think anthropologists feel they are exploiting the people they study. Nevertheless, the areas open to their traditional research are narrower and shrinking."

"So we are turning more towards our own society and looking, for example, for answers to problems of urban affairs and ghetto affairs," he continued.

Manners, who brings a 21-year Brandeis teaching career and a longer period as an anthropologist to support his beliefs, presents an optimistic side to this new direction.

"I think we stand in a good position now to make important contributions to an understanding of some contemporary problems of our society. And it's about time! If those who study mankind, his origins and his culture have learned anything from their comparative work among the so-called primitives, it's time to see whether they can apply these lessons and find ways to adapt them to the problems we encounter in American society."

Manners was named to head the "American Anthropologist" for a two to four year term. The journal is considered by professionals in the field to be the "prestige publication" in North America. It enjoys an international reputation as well. His appointment was confirmed by the executive Board of the American Anthropological Association.

During a wide-ranging interview on the Brandeis campus, the personable 59-year-old professor also focused on other anthropological questions, as well as the development of the department at Brandeis and the increase in student interest in anthropology.

The department was a "one-man operation" when he arrived at Brandeis he recalled. It stayed that way, he said, "because the man who talked me into leaving the University of Rochester to join him, left unexpectedly before I arrived in Waltham."

The department grew steadily, if not spectacularly, until today it has 13 full-time faculty members. As such, it may be the largest anthropology department of any school in the country, on a per student basis, Manners noted.

More than 50 Brandeis undergraduate students are anthropology majors.

School Lunch Prices Go Up

The School Committee last week increased the unit cost of a number of lunch items offered in Newton school cafeterias, following a recommendation from the administration.

Unanimously approved, the hike will go into effect following the February vacation, and was passed because John E. Gilleland, the assistant superintendent for Business Services, stated that "increases in food are moving faster than our budget forecast."

As of Monday, Feb. 26, the following price increases will be placed on food items in City schools:

Chocolate milk, from 10 to 15 cents; coffee milk, 10 to 15 cents; ham and cheese sandwiches, 35 to 40 cents; turkey club snadwiches, 60 to 70 cents; tunafish salad sandwiches, 35 to 40 cents; cream cheese and olive sandwiches, 30 to 35 cents; fruit cup, 10 to 15 cents; small salads, 10 to 15 cents; cocoa, 10 to 15 cents

Gilleland's reference to food price increases allude to items such as a hike in the price per pound of hamburger meat from 55 cents last June to 81 cents in January.

Increases such as this one necessitated the School Department's corresponding lunch cost raising.

Settle Accounts Controversy

The controversy over the legality of the School Board's decision to allow the transfer of funds from one School Department account to another was ended two weeks ago by a decision of City Solicitor Melvin J. Dangel.

Dangel, in alengthy report citing all correspondence between Superintendent of Schools Aaron Fink and Finance Director Arthur A. Marr, Jr., concluded that "the disapproval action of the Comptroller should be held to be of no effect, and the $212,708 is properly within the only line item that can be considered, namely, Cafeteria (Revolving Account) in the School Department budget.

In other words, said School Committee Chairman Manuel Beckwith, "the action which the School Department took was legal, proper, and the matter is closed."

Fire Wrecks Dwelling In Auburndale

Newton firefighters, working in near zero temperatures and gale winds managed to extinguish a fire in a single family dwelling at 186 Auburn St., Aubrundale, early last Monday morning.

Flames were shooting through the upper stories of the building when firefighters arrived and a second alarm was quickly sounded bringing aid from Waltham, Wellesley, Needham and Watertown.

Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr. estimated damage in excess of $15,000 and said the cause of the blaze was still undetermined, although firefighters thought it originated in the basement near the furnace and quickly spread throughout the wooden frame dwelling.

Dr. Charles L. Clay, 74, sole occupant of the building, managed to escape the flames without injury.

No firefighters were reported injured despite the rapidly forming ice from hose lines and the intense heat and smoke.

Chief Perkins said the 70 year old home was badly damaged with heaviest loss in the lower rooms.

Newton Police reported fifteen officers on traffic duty at the scene of the blaze from 6:30 — 11 a.m. when mopping up had been completed.

All's Quiet At City Hall

Business was bad, but predictably so, last Thursday when City Hall offices began their program of evening hours.

Anyone who has business to conduct at City Hall and who cannot get there during the day can now pay a visit to city offices between 5 and 7 p.m. on Thursday evenings.

The new evening hours are part of an experimental program to see if there is a need in Newton to have city services available at night.

Democratic Committee Plans Meeting Tonight

The Newton Democratic City Committee will meet Thursday (Feb. 15) at 8 p.m. in the First Unitarian Church of Newton, 1326 Washington St.

Featured speakers will be the new Middlesex County Commissioners, S. Lester Ralph and Paul Tsongas. Alan Licarie, executive secretary of the Newton Election Commission, will also speak.

Franklin School Kindergarten Registration

Registrations for the September, 1973, kindergarten classes at Franklin School, 125 Derby St., West Newton, will be held in Room 7 on Feb. 27 and March 6 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

In order to be eligible for entrance, a child must be 5 years old on or before Jan. 1, 1974. Parents must bring the child's birth certificate and immunization records for small pox, diptheria, pertussis, tetanus, booster shots, measles and polio when the come to register.

Business Thrives On Sports Stars

By SYLVIA ROSENFELD

Derek Sanderson's return to Boston may be a boon to someone besides the Bruins.

"What we need in my business is somebody new, somebody wh the fans really like," explains former Newton resident Henry DeAngelo, now a resident of Westwood.

DeAngelo, with his twin brother Arthur of Newton, runs a souvenir shop located across the street from Fenway Park in Boston and it's the largest of its type in the country.

DeAngelo isn't going to worry it too much, however, for his major interest is baseball and he's already gearing up for the coming season. And he and his twin brother, Arthur, have already decided who's going to be the big draw on the Red Sox.

"We're going to concentrate on Carlton Fiske this season," he says. "We didn't last year because we thought he'd fade. And then he was named Rookie of the Year!"

What about Orlando Cepeda, who's coming to town for the first time?

"We'll stick with Fiske and see what happens," he says.

DeAngelo and his brother who is his business partner, are both avid sports fans who make a point of attending every Red Sox home game — at least through the eighth inning. Happily, the nature of their business lends itself to such an arrangement, for their store is busy both before and after games but rarely during a game.

The DeAngelos are a real American success story, for when they landed in Boston from their native Italy in 1938 at the age of 13 neither spoke English and their family had no money.

Two days after they got off the boat, both boys were selling newspapers at Fenway Park because the crowds there would assure the sale of their papers.

"Right away we started to love the game and the Red Sox," DeAngelo goes on. "First we had the newspapers outside the park, then we switched to ice cream just before we were drafted in 1944. After the war, we came back to Fenway and hit it big with the 1946 World Series."

By then the brothers had moved on to souvenirs and after the series ended they took their profits and toured the country in the wake of the Freedom Train which was then traveling throughout the United States with the Bill of Rights, the Constitution, the Peace Treaty and other important documents.

The twins invested in replicas of the historic documents and sold them at each stop to the crowds who came out to see the train.

Again coming out way ahead, the two parlayed their World Series and Freedom Train bankrolls into the souvenir empire over which they preside today.

"At first we invested in push-carts. They were mobile. You could move them around the city for whatever was happening. Later we had a portable stand across the street from the park. We rented the sidewalk space and set up shop."

Still later, they rented a small shop near their present store which did well enough to allow them to purchase the large building on Jersey street where their present huge store is located.

DeAngelo estimates that his store stocks more than 2,000 separate items now and that at least $250,000 worth of merchandise is on hand at all times. With 25 employees, he has the flexibility to send them out with badge boards to events around the city or use them in the store for the walk-in trade.

"We do a lot of wholesaling now, too," DeAngelo goes on. "We supply a lot of independents who hawk souvenirs from boards on the sidewalks outside the park. We also sell to other stores, mostly small variety or sporting goods stores."

DeAngelo feels that he and his brother help create excitement for major league sports. Their recent bumper sticker, "This is Bruins Country" is an example.

Naturally, the brothers know many major league players personally through their contacts at the park. Often one or another of the ball players will come into the store after a game to visit for a while and see what's new.

In addition to baseball and hockey, the DeAngelos have many items geared to the Patriots and the Celtics. Last fall, for instance, they set up a portable souvenir stand in Foxboro for each Patriots home game to service the fans there.

Their business interests range beyond souvenirs, too, for they also own a chain of four dry cleaning stores in the downtown Boston Area.

"The dry cleaning business is dying, though," DeAngelo admits frankly. "Our stores are located in the areas where there are a lot of college students and you know the way college kids dress these days — in dungarees. They don't need dry cleaning anymore. We're getting out of the business, little by little."

But not the souvenir business, of course. There they are the giants of the industry who have seen sports stars come and go.

Over the years, the twins rate Ted Williams as number one.

"He had color and color sells souvenirs. There have been a lot of great players around here that weren't worth anything in the souvenir business because they weren't colorful."

"Jimmy Piersall was a good guy for us. So wasn't Ken Harrelson, although we got hurt a little with him when he was traded. We've still got over $5,000 worth of Harrelson stuff in our basement."

"Another buy that cost us money was Clyde Vollmer — Dutch the Clutch. He was red hot that year (1951) and had the town going crazy. We spent $3000 on Dutch the Clutch pennants and the next day he stopped hitting. I think we still have some of the pennants left."

The DeAngelo children — Ricky, 7, and Andrew, 4 — are just becoming old enough to appreciate the business their father is in, for after all, how many children get a chance to roam through a store boasting over 2,000 souvenirs?

Their mother, Anita, takes it all in stride, of course. She met her husband through the business when she worked for him part time as a bookkeeper, and to this day she still handles the books for him.

Occasionally, if things get particularly busy at the store, she lends a hand with sales, too.

Now the DeAngelos are hoping that the Red Sox will have a good season . . . both because they're sports fans and because a winning team means a winning season for them.

ALL IN THE FAMILY — Henry DeAngelo of Westwood (right) and his twin brother Arthur of Newton can afford to smile. Their souvenir shop near Fenway Park does a booming business. The store features 2,000 items, many of them geared to current superstars in the world of sports. Avid fans themselves, the DeAngelos can watch a ball game and still be back at the shop in time for post-game crowds. Henry moved from Newton to Westwood last summer.

BIKE CASUALTIES

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bicycle accidents are increasing by about 34 per cent a year because of greater use of the two-wheelers, says the California Traffic Safety Foundation. Children under 14 are involved in two-thirds of the accidents.

A weekly column of information about the Newton Centennial Celebration

The library is doing it again . . . participating actively and enthusiastically in Newton's Centennial Celebration with the Newton Free Library's second Centennial Program—a panel discussion and brief talks on "The Newton Business Scene Then and Now", scheduled for Newton Centre branch, Sunday afternoon, February 25 at 3 p.m.

Throughout the year, 11 special centennial programs at the Main Library and at each branch, planned by Library Director Virginia A. Tashjian with the cooperation of the Newton Free Library staff, will focus on different aspects of life in Newton as it was in 1873 and as it is today.

The Main Library's Centennial Celebration, scheduled to coincide with National Library Week in April, will include a tea honoring 13 Newton authors; a play depicting an historic Newton event performed by the Young Adult Drama Workshop; and an informal talk about antique books with George Gloss, owner of the Brattle Book Shop.

In addition, fascinating changing exhibits of maps, books, old newspapers, documents and city records from the library's Newton Room collection, as well as memorabilia from the Jackson Homestead and Newton citizens will be on view at the Main Library and branches.

Other Library Centennial programs will feature the History of Newton Clubs and an explanation of Newton High School's Oral History Project, March 25 at Newtonville; Religion in Newton, April 29 at Lower Falls; a discussion of Transportation, May 19 at Highlands; a river walk along the Charles, June 10 at Upper Falls; and a program July 18 at Oak Hill Park about the Notable People of Newton—Past and Present.

In addition, a panel discussion of Buildings and Furnishings in Newton is scheduled for Sept. 23 at Auburndale; a puppet play about Indians and the Early Settlers of Newton at Nonantum, Oct. 21; a Fashion Parade of the 1800s at West Newton, Nov. 15; and a Family Holiday Fair as It Might Have Been Celebrated in the Newton of 1873 is planned for Dec. 9 at the Boys' and Girls' Library. A program about "Education—Then and Now" at Waban branch in January inaugurated the Newton Free Library's celebration of the Centennial year.

Exciting, thoughtful, and varied, these programs, arranged with the help of many Newton citizens and organizations, are but a fraction of the library's on-going activities and services organized to meet community special program needs, including a well-developed "out-reach" program serving the elderly, the shut-in and the visually-handicapped as well as schools, organizations and the day-care center; extensive children's services including story hours, creativity programs and films; lectures; top-notch art exhibits; book reviews; film series on Tuesday, Thursday, and Sundays; and many library sponsored clubs, all free and open to the public.

As the city celebrates its Centennial, the Newton Free Library finds itself living through an exciting time serving a stimulating citizenry and sincerely reaching out to meet its responsibilities and commitments to the community.

SEE YOU AT THE LIBRARY!

Paper Recycling Successful Here

According to city statistics, Newton residents came up with 1,141 tons of paper for the period April-December, 1972, as part of the city's paper recycling effort.

The community effort produced $8,491.60 of revenue for Newton.

The figure for January is 105 tons of newspapers.

Papaers are regularly collected once a month on trash days.

Hospital Drive Set

The Newton Chapter of Medical Aid for Indochina, in conjunction with the National Medical Aid Organization, is working on rebuilding and re-equipping the Bach Mai Hospital in North Vietnam.

The major medical facility was hit during bombing in December, 1972.

Henri Pelletier, chairman of the Newton chapter, said the week of Feb. 23-March 2 has been set aside as "Bach Mai Hospital Relief Week" and funds raised during the period will be channeled into the national campaign to raise $3 million to restore the hospital.

Further information about this organization can be obtained by calling 965-3643.

Mofenson Testifies On Child Abuse Legislation

"The number of deaths resulting from child abuse is close to the 2,000 mark and that is merely the tip of the iceberg," State Rep. David J. Mofenson said last week.

The Newton Legislator made his remarks in a statement presented to the Joint Committee on the Judiciary, currently considering a bill to require the reporting of certain child abuse cases and providing protection for abused children.

"Children are scalded, burned with cigarettes and cigarette lighters, flung aginst walls until their skulls are fractured, beaten with fists, clubs and bats; and according to once source, there is now a trend toward poisoning children with hard drugs," Mofenson stated.

Illinois has had a child abuse law since 1965 and since that time reporting of abuse cases has increased at least 30 per cent. Some statistical facts arising out of the implementation of this law is as follows:

- more than one-half of the children reported are under the age of two.
- beating, malnutrition, fractures, and burns are the major types of abuse reported.
- the mother, father and stepfather - in that order - are most often suspected as the abuser.
- law enforcement agencies are involved in more than two cases in every five.
- the "falso alarm" rate is believed to be one in eight.

"The Governor's Task Force on Child Abuse in 1971 revealed that at least 7,000 cases of child abuse occur annually in the Commonwealth. The most liberal figure mentioned was near the 40,000 mark. However, the number of actual cases was estimated to be closer to 20,000 - just in Massachusetts. While the alarming figures would awake us to the problem - the official number of reported cases in 1971 was only 200. I wish it were so," Mofenson said.

"According to one source (Family Law Quarterly - 1970) "Criminal prosecution destroys any chance of working with the parent and trying to help him resolve his basic problems . . The child becomes even more the target of hostility and abuse.

"I think something included in neigher bill, but as part of the Task Force recommendation is a Child Crisis Telephone Service for use by parents who need help. This could be on the same idea as a drug "hot-line". The service provided could intervene in life-threatening situations," he suggested.

"One matter that has been mentioned briefly is that of confidentiality. As the committee knows, I have been an advocate of individuals' right to privacy. I would like you to consider the following:

"A father discovers his son who has fallen down a flight of stairs. When the child is brought to a hospital the father explains to the attending physician what occured. The physician suspects the father of abuse rather than accepting his story. Under this bill that physician would be compelled to include in the report his suspicions. So, the father would be on file as a suspected abuser.

"Consider, further, the possibility of the incident reoccurring three months later. Again the attending physician may suspect abuse and checks the registry for the childs record. On this occasion, the physician will discover a so-called "pattern".

"I know the likelihood of this happeneing is remote; but there is that danger. Even if the second incident never took place the mere fact that the father is mentioned in the first report as a suspected abuser could be construed as an invasion of privacy. Hopefully, adequate safeguards can be included to give such protection," he said.

Mofenson said he also attended a meeting in Washington recently before the Intergovernmental Relations Committee (IRC) of the National Legislative Conference.

The IRC, primarily a state-federal policy making arm of the conference, consists of 200 state legislators from across the country.

Mofenson met with congressmen, congressional staff and administration officials to discuss issues concerning states.

Among issues of special concern to the group were: the impoundment of federal funds, state and federal roles in property tax reform, the use of the highway trust fund monies for mass transit, the future of housing programs in states and the future of environmental and criminal justice legislation.

Mofenson served on the Task Force on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice and its discussion included corrections, drug abuse, disaster relief and special revenue sharing.

Police Investigate Robbery Involving Two Young Girls

Newton Police are investigating the robbery of two 11 year-old girls at the Chestnut Hill MBTA Station last Friday afternoon.

One of the girls is Charlotte Fuller, daughter of Peter Fuller, former governor of Massachusetts.

The incident was reported to police by Peter Fuller's secretary, Mrs. Helen Griffin, who reported that the two young girls were waiting at the station for a trolley when a man approached them, stole their ice skates and a small amount of money.

The youngsters provided police with a description of the man, and Dets. Edward F. Meredith, Robert W. Whelan, Officers James J. Kiley, Peter J. Wallace and Edward Pendergast are continuing the investigation.

The Huntington Radio and TV store at 991 Boylston St., was struck twice last week by burglars who madde off with six Zenith portable color TV's one Sony Portable TV, one Zenith stereo set, and one Zenith black and white TV. The burglaries occurred at the Route 9 appliance center within four days of each other, according to police.

Mrs. Tina Fanendakis reported to police that her home at 9 Blake St., Newtonville, was entered sometime last Friday through an unlocked window. Missing are assorted jewelry and a metal strong box.

Police are also investigating a break at Jerry's Depot Lunch, 108 Oak St. The front door of the establishment was broken open and $400 in cash was taken from the cash register along with the contents of the cigarette machine, police said.

Two color TV's were reported taken in separate breaks. The first was taken from the home of Douglas Turcotte at 1110 Chestnut St., and the second from the home of Gerry Finn at 90 Leeson Lane.

An unoccupied house at 25 Wedgewood Rd. was victimized by vandals who spread liquid detergent throughout the first floor. Police were informed of the malicious damage by Sister Mary Dugan of St. Joseph's Convent, Needham.

Sister Mary Dugan, guardian of the structure, reported to police that the incident occurred sometime over the weekend. Officers George H. Austin and James R. Veduccio are investigating the incident.

Gerald Boinick, 22 Stern Circle, told police that his home was entered through a forced bathroom window and $49 was taken.

A Cambridge woman was arraigned in Newton District Court on charges of shoplifting. Police reported that the 38 year old woman allegedly attempted too remove some articles of clothing from the Hit or Miss women's clothing store on Centre St., Newton Centre.

The woman was released on $50 bail and her case was continued to Feb. 21.

A seventeen year old West Newton youth was arraigned in the same court and released on $2000 personal recognizance in connection with an alleged to Newton Police. The case was continued to Feb. 26.

Move To Change Female Jury Rules

State Rep. Lois G. Pines testified Monday in support of proposed legislation she sponsored to change the method of jury selection as applied to "women with children under 16."

The current law grants an automatic exemption from jury duty to women with children younger than 16.

Mrs. Pines proposed legislation would eliminate the automatic exemption and permit the parent or guardian directly responsible for daily care of children 15 years old to claim the exemption.

Mrs. Pines explained the the age 15 is used by Congress in permitting deductibility for child care expenses.

Rep. Pines told the Judiciary Committee at the hearing: "A survey of many cities and towns in 1970 and 1971 points out that women are not included in many jury lists in the Commonwealth."

"The reasons," she said, "appear to be the somecity and town election officials have in the past not sent jury questionnaires to women and that in those cities where jury questionnaires have been sent it includes a question asking if the woman has a child under 16."

"If the answer is affirmative, that woman was automatically exempt," Rep. Pines said.

She also charged that the current statue "discriminates against men who are responsible for the daily care and custody of children."

The bill would also change the present law with respect to male and female members of religious corders, she noted. Current law exempts female members of religious orders from jury service.

Newton Chief Will Chair Greater Boston Police Council

Chief William F. Quinn of the Newton Police Department was unanimously elected first permanent chairman of the Greater Boston Police Council at a meeting held at the Newton Police Headquarters on Feb. 8.

He succeeds the acting chairman, former Police Commissioner Edmund L. McNamara, of Boston.

The council meets on a monthly basis, rotating meetings at the 21 member locations.

The purpose of the organization is to improve intercity communications, intelligence exchange, mutual assistance, efficiency, and to strengthen, by cooperation, home rule police units.

The council is composed of chiefs of the communities of Brookline, Cambridge, Chelsea, Dedham, Malden, Medford, Milton, Needham, Newton, Quincy, Revere, Somerville, Watertown, Waltham, Norwood, and Winthrop and includes the State Police, Boston, M.D.C., M.B.T.A., and Capitol Police, along with the Federal Bureau of Investigation in an advisory role.

The purpose of the February meeting, in addition to the election of a permanent chairman, was to plan the most efficient allocation of $230,000 in funds for Regional Communications) distributed by Governor Francis B. Sargent's Committee on Law Enforcement and the administration of justice.

The council divided the funds on a proportinate basis to better serve a community representing approximately three fourths of the Massachusetts population and criminal activity, and to endeavor to reduce the crime rate in the area.

CHIEF QUINN

Quinn is a 21 year veteran of police service, with the last five years as chief of the Newton Department. He is a member of the Municipal Police Science Institute, New England Chiefs of Police Committee on Training and Law Enforcement Education, Mass Training Directors Association, and the Police Activities Committee of the Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Association.

In addition, he is Institute Chairman of the New England Institute on Police - Community Relations, and the National Conference of Christians and Jews Scholarship Committee, and has lectured on police procedures at Northeastern University and Boston State and is currently a lecturer at the State Police Academy and Babson Institute.

The next meeting of the Council will be on the first Thursday of March at the State House, Chief Paul L. Doherty, acting as host.

Red Cross Needs Help

"Be a Good Neighbor" - it can mean many things to a Red Cross volunteer - from providing food and shelter to flood victims in Pennsylvania to taking the temperature of a radio or television personality on a bloodmobile visit in Massachusetts.

Recently, 21 volunteers from the Newton Red Cross assisted at the WBZ Blood Brotherhood Day held at the John Hancock Building in Boston.

A record total of 1,108 pints of blood were collected in one day insuring a supply of blood for hospital needs throughout the state. Without the aid of volunteers, this effort would have been impossible.

Unfortunately, with 1,000 pints of blood needed daily in Massachusetts, this supply only lasts a short time. Throughout the year, blood donors and blood program volunteers are needed by the Red Cross. If you would like to "Be a Good Neighbor," please call the Newton Red Cross Chapter at 527-6000 - "Help Us Help."

YMCA Continues Golf

For the 26th year, the Newton YMCA will offer golf lessons to men and women who are interested in learning the game or tuning up their swing for the spring season.

John Oteri, Thorney Lea Country Club pro and long-time "Y" teacher, will cover all phases of the game with the aid of a fellow professional. Everything from grip to stance, from sand shots to putting will be emphasized. Beginners and advanced players both will benefit from the professionals' personal instruction.

Two of the four scheduled classes are already filled, but there are openings in the 8 p.m. and 9 p.m. sessions on Thursdays. The series of seven one-hour lessons begins Feb. 22. All equipment will be provided, but students may bring their own clubs.

For more information, stop by the Y at 276 Church St., Newton Corner, or call 244-6050.

Good housekeeping and an effective insecticide probably will control cockroaches in homes.

Community Service Center Schedules Annual Meeting

Paul J. Burke, President of the Newton Community Service Centers, Inc. has announced that Arthur Martin, a board member of the agency who resides at 42 Plainfield Rd. in Waban, will serve as this year's annual meeting chairman.

This year's meeting will be held on Sunday afternoon, Mar. 4 at the Rebecca Pomroy House, 84 Eldredge St. in Newton. In commenting on the meeting, Burke stated that this will be the 66th such gathering by the organization which was established in 1907.

Historically, the Newton Community Center and Rebecca Pomroy House were individual agencies; however, in 1967 a period of dialogue was undertaken by the two agencies and resulted in a merger. Over 5,000 individuals were serviced by the centers this past year.

"In addition to our numerous offerings in kiddie klubs, open activities, cooking, drama, knitting, senior citizen clubs, craft classes, sewing, cake decorating, golf school, yoga classes, physical fitness for women, ballet, baton twirling, fencing, weight watchers, mothers' clubs," Mr. Burke states, "these centers coordinate a variety of specialty programs."

The Newton Youth Centers funded through the City's Recreation Commission; the adolescent projects funded through the Massachusetts Division of Youth Services; the Newton Job Bank funded through the Newton Youth Commission are all coordinated by the centers.

Burke has also announced the recent appointments of Mrs. John Taplin of 15 Sewall St., West Newton, as this year's sustaining membership chairman, and Mrs. Manuel Taylor of 1548 Lodge Rd., Waban, as nominating committee chairman.

Ugly Money Makers

One of the most unattractive inventions ever to get by the U.S. Patent Office was the first plain, ordinary parking meter. It was comprised of a length of pipe topped off with a gadget that could be adjusted to receive pennies, nickles, dimes and quarters.

It's had some years now as one of the greatest money-making contraptions ever known. It has had a lot of time to acquire a more attractive, sophisticated look. Only improvements in decades is that manufacturers have made the money collecting end more resistant to sledge hammers, steel cutters and big wrenches. They still can't spew out counterfeit coins and blow whistles for police officers.

Take a downtown parking lot in this area on a Sunday afternoon when no cars are being parked. The serried rows of steel look like ugly rows of parking meters in the raw. No one ever mistakes them for rows of corn. The rows are just ugly rows of steel.

However, you can't take away the fact that for many a small community they can make the difference between red and black ink as far as community parking problems are concerned.

The proceeds they earn can only be used for parking and, to a certain extent, traffic conditions generally.

Now comes an imaginative Wellesley selectman with a good idea. This gifted lawmaker suggests that the parking meters be used on a sort of first floor basis and the cash they earn go to adding a couple of useful business or office floors overhead, creating a building.

In that way the meters don't get so much visual exposure — you practically hide them away. The overhead floors could be used directly or indirectly in connection with the multi-faceted problems of modern traffic.

As long as it continues to bring in an endless flow of good American coins the parking meter's future is safe

However, there must be some way of hiding from the public view this blood relation of the Las Vegas "one - armed bandits."

Helping Hands

"We want to help," is the theme or slogan of the Internal Revenue Service according to Manager Louis Calatrello, manager of the agency's strategically - located all - service office at 93 Union street, Newton.

Besides its easy-to-reach geographically for a wide area—serving Needham, Wellesley, Dedham and other communities the office will operate in "big league" fashion with Monday through Saturday service from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Every year since these days when the federal income tax bite was only a minor consideration in the household budget, the taxpayers have been told that the current forms are the soul of simplification. Each year as April looms on the calendar IRS propaganda tends to over-feed us with the simplification assurances.

The American taxpayer today is a fairly sophisiticated person. There is hardly a major nation in the world which could depend upon its own people to fill out the forms annually required to keep the government machinery in motion. The average American has no over-bearing love for bookkeeping unless he's professionally involved.

However, he does a pretty good job once he's got his W-2 forms in hand after Jan. 1 and the mid-April deadline to get his return in Uncle Sam's hands. Those reams of instructions may impress some folks with their simplicity but truth-to-tell, they sometimes have a way of confusing as well as elaborating.

We like the Newton's office's clogan and particularly those hours from 8:30 to 5 p.m. every day including Saturday.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Public Attitude Hardening Toward Crimes of Violence

Bills to revive the death penalty for certain crimes are pending before the legislatures in at least half the states of the nation.

California's voters approved a referendum last November reinstating capital punishment for some crimes.

Bills have been enacted into law in Ohio and Florida providing for mandatory execution of persons found guilty of specific offences.

President Nixon will seek the enactment of a federal law imposing a mandatory death penalty for such cold-blooded, premeditated crimes as killing a prison guard, bombing a public building or skyjacking an airliner.

Hot debates over the merits of capital punishment are being waged in some states which haven't had it for 100 years.

This stems largely from the public reaction to acts of terrorism, slaying of police officers, horrible mass murders and airplane hijackings in which the lives of large numbers of passengers frequently are threatened.

The sentiment of the people toward the death penalty has shifted as a result of these things, and there is a hardening in the public attitude toward persons who commit crimes of violence.

Move In Congress To Ban Forcible School Busing

Capitol Hill observers report that there is a fair and perhaps even a good chance that Congress will approve a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution which would prohibit the forcible busing of public school children to achieve racial balance.

This suggested addition to the Constitution is being sponsored by Senator William Brock of Tennessee. Persons who favor or oppose such s step and wish to influence the action of Congress on the matter can write to Senator Edward M. Kennedy, Senator Edward W. Brooke and their Contressman, all at the House or Senate office building in Washington, D.C.

Accuse Sarge of Power Grab At University Appointments

Patronage-hungry Governor Francis W. Sargent is making a power grab in the section of his reorganization plan pertaining to education, according to Democratic State Senator James A. Kelly of Oxford, chairman of the important Senate Ways and Means Committee and an astute and sound student of state government.

Kelly declares that the main effect of Sargent's reorganization bills in the educational field would be to give him control over every appointment and promotion in the state-operated colleges and universities.

The Governor seeks to do this by abolishing the present boards of trustees at the various state colleges and universities and substituting a half-dozen regional boards which he, of course, would appoint.

"Nothing would be accomplished except to give Governor Sargent total control over educational appointments and promotions, and I don't believe the Legislature will allowany such grab for power," asserted Kelly who believes politics should be kept out of the colleges and universities to as great a degree as possible.

In professional life Senator Kelly is a certified public accountant. His skills and experience in that direction are presently being utilized exclusively in a painstaking study of Governor Sargent's budget and his reorganization proposals.

Kelly is one of the outstanding legislative leaders on Beacon Hill. When he speaks, he commands attention and respect. He devotes a tremendous amount of time and energy to his duties as the Senate Ways and Means Committee head. He is as keen a budget analyst as one will find in public or private life.

He promises that no new state taxes will be enacted this year, adding that if it should prove necessary to reduce the Governor's budget in order to avoid an increase in taxes, the budget will be trimmed.

Senator Kelly predicts that about half of the Governor's reorganization proposals will be approved by the Legislature but that the attempted power grab in the educational field will be blocked.

"Most legislators are not in a mood either to increase taxes or to give the Governor's office control over appointments and promotions in the state colleges and universities," Kelly declares.

Kelly, who has served eight years in the State Senate and six years in the House of Representatives and is now studying the state budget for the third year as Senate Ways and Means Committee chairman, asserts that the present budget is the most confusing he has seen.

While Kelly did not directly say so, a suspicion exists on Beacon Hill that a deliberate attempt was made to confuse the Legislature by the persons who prepared the Governor's budget.

He explains that he expected the budget to be submitted in such a form that it would be possible to tell what each program would cost but that this was not done.

Kelly at times becomes a bit technical in talking about cost accounting and general accounting. His complaint about the manner in which tthe Governor's budget was put together boils down to the charge that Mr. Sargent did ot use the method which any well run industry would employ.

I'm a certified public accountant. I have a staff to assist me in studying the budget. I know as much about the budget as anyone, but I still don't have the answers as to how much each program would cost, and there is no way I can get them without spending a lot of money," he stressed.

Kelly observedthat former Governor John A. Volpe and Anthony DeFalco, his Deput Governor, wanted the budget broken into programs to show what each program cost but that Governor Sargent did not do this.

Senator Kelly said he will be able to make a better estimate in early March as to whether the state's anticipated income will be enough to fund the budget submitted by the Governor.

"If the expected revenue falls short of the amount Governor Sargent wants to spend, we will reduce his budget until it is in balance with the anticipated state revenue without any new or increased taxes," Kelly added.

Some of the shrewdest political observers on Beacon Hill believe that the only way Governor Sargent can win reelection next year is if the Legislature turns down his reorganization bills which he claims will enable him to avoid any increase in state taxes and thus gives him an issue on which to campaign for another term.

Kelly indicated that he will support those sections of the Governor's reorganization program which make any sense to him and will oppose those which are little more than brazen patronage grabs.

"So far only the Governor's side of the reorganization story has been presented to the people of Massachusetts," Kelly pointed out.

"We will have to show that some instances the reorganization proposals submitted by the Governor and his Secretaries are nothing more than attempts to gain control over more jobs and that no savings whatever would be realized from them.

"The entire reorganization story has not yet been told," Senator Kelly concluded.

Mayor White Forcing Issue On Paying Chelsea's Bills

Boston Mayor Kevin H. White is conducting an intriguing experiment in undertaking to stop the use of his city's money to finance the operation of the Chelsea district court.

The situation is a preposterous one imposed on Boston by the State Legislature. White is seeking to correct a weird setup either by legislative action or by forcing the matter into court.

In his budget for 1973 White included an appropriation to fund the Chelsea court only for the first three months of the year. Some Bostonians, including White himself, are not enthusiastic about doing even that.

Under a strange provision in the law, however, Boston for years has paid the bills for running the Chelsea district court which serves Revere and Chelsea. Those two cities even divide the fines the court collects, making a profit on the operation and turning nothing back to Boston.

White, who is struggling to prevent his city's tax rate from rising into the stratosphere, is allowing someone else to worry about whether there will be payless pay days at the Chelsea court after March 31.

Boston, of course, pays most of the cost of running the Suffolk County government, and Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop pay nothing. It's doubtful that the Massachusetts Supreme Court would try to justify that arrangement or the one at the Chelsea court.

White apparently is forcing a showdown on the issue.

Mansfield Would Have Been Called Isolationist in '41

Back in World War 2 days Senator Mike Mansfield would have been called an isolationist and an American Firster.

Now the Senate Democratic leader draws more support than opposition when he calls for a gradual cutoff of all U. S. foreign aid, both military and economic, and a five-year, 50 per cent withdrawal of American troops from Europe.

The experience in Vietnam has served to sour many millions of Americans on involvement in the affairs of other nations anywhere in the world.

Mansfield raised a pretty good point when he said he didn't know why it's necessary for the United States to maintain approximately 100 bases in Japan or why we must have any bases in Africa.

If President Nixon must curtail the expenditure of federal funds, it certainly would be better to close down some or all of the bases in Japan and Africa rather than to cutback programs for the assistance of the poor, the sick and the elderly in this country.

Mansfield also is on sound ground when he advocates, with the advent of the professional army, that we reduce our troops and bases in Europe until we have "a lean, better, more effective fighting force."

The Montana Senator, incidentally, when asked if he considered President Nixon's first four years in office as "a plus or minus," replied that he regarded them as "a plus."

He referred to the President's trip to Peking as "the star in Nixon's crown."

It's widely assumed now, of course, that Mr. Nixon's trips to Peking and Moscow played a part in achieving peace in Vietnam.

Deputy Governor Feels Flak From Row Over "03" Abuses

Deputy Governor William A. Cowin came under a fire of ciritciaii recently as a result of his efforts to explain away some of the so-called "03" account payments to consultants and vendors.

The fact that Cowin's wife, an attorney, was paid $100 a week from the "03" account for seven months and that an aide to Governor Sargent's wife was paid a larger amount for a longer period from the same account probably sharpened the editorial blast at Cowin.

In fairness, it should be observed that Cowin, the Secretary of Administration and Finance in Governor Sargent's cabinet, apparently has moved to eliminate at least some of the abuses under the "03" system.

It never has been clear to this onlooker why some state officials are paid a second wage from the "03" account in addition to their regular salary.

If they are worth more money, why not increase their salaries in a businesslike, above-board manner and pay them what they are entitled to in one package?

Most of the payments from the "03" accounts undoubtedly are perfectly proper. But to many persons it assumes the proportions of a scandal when it is disclosed that state officials and employees, who are being paid substantial salaries for their services, also are getting extra stipends from special accounts for the same work.

Whether it came out of the "03" or the "007" account doesn't make much difference to the average taxpayer. As he views it, it's still his money going down the drain.

Stennis Shooting Points Up Need For Gun-Control Law

An ironical sidelight to the shooting of Mississippi Senator John Stennis outside his Northwest Washington home is that Stennis, like most Congressmen from southern and rural states, had opposed federal control of handguns.

The shooting of the 71-year-old chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee triggered a new move on Capitol Hill for federal licensing of such guns as those used by the two petty thieves who accosted Stennis.

But if the assassinations of John and Robert Kennedy and Martin Luther King and the equally senseless assault, which left George Wallace crippled for life, didn't bring federal gun controls, there is little reason to assume that the shooting of Stennis will do so.

The Senate last year passed a bill banning the sale of cheap handguns, but the measure died in the House because of a disagreement as to what kind of bill should be adopted.

An obvious fact which Congress and state legislatures must face is that the fewer handguns in circulation the smaller will be the number of shootings.

A new law banning the sale of cheap handguns and providing for the federal licensing of guns will not stop the triggermen in organized crime from getting revolvers and machine guns, but it may prevent young hoodlums and thugs from buying the so-called "Saturday night specials" for use in a holdup to get money for drugs.

The greatest menace to the general public is the gun in the possession of a punk on drugs who shoots a holdup victim because of some strange mental quirk.

It's time Congress did something about a ridiculous situation.

FAA May Fine Two Airlines For Bowing To Sen. Hartke

Officials of the Federal Aeronautics Administration are not at all amused by the refusal of arrogant, self-important U.S. Senator Vance Hartke of Indiana to submit to a routine airline search before boarding a plane.

The FAA has been threatening to fine Delta and Alleghany airlines $1000 apiece for allowing Hartke to board its planes without making the searches which are a safeguard against hijackings. (TWA declined to permit Hartke to board one of its flights.)

Nine countries, incidentally, have signed hijacking extradition agreements with the United Sates. They are Canada, Great Britain, Ireland, Spain, Italy, France, Argentina, Australia and New Zealand.

One way to pressure other nations to do the same thing is to stay off planes going to their airports until they do.

A bill is now being drafted by Congressman John Murphy, New York Democrat, which would impose the death penalty for hijacking and would allow the President to suspend plane service between the United States and any country which harbors skyjackers or refuses to return hijacked planes.

Lt. Gov. Dwight Standout Advocate of Reorganization

Lieutenant Governor Donald R. Dwight is standing out as the most convincing and persuasive advocate of Governor Sargent's reorganization program, parts of which are becoming the subject of mounting controversy.

While declaring that the reorganization proposals will save many millions of dollars, Dwight insists that the primary objective behind the plan for revamping the structure of the state government is a human one.

"Some see this plan as nothing more than a shifting of boxes on charts and a belt-tightening exercise too save money," he asserted sitting back in his State House office.

He went on to say that providing better service for the people of Massachusetts is of even greater concern than the economies which will be realized.

"While our plan does represent a sweeping change in the structure of government, and while it will break the cycle of a new tax program every two years, the bottom line is better service delivery. Our real concern is for the people of Massachusetts," Dwight stressed.

Dwight listed these improvements in public services which, he maintained, would be achieved under the reorganization bill.

"The treating of families requiring the services of several state agencies as single cases, not as a series of unrelated fragments.

"The treatment of those with the special problems of mental retardation independently from those afflicted with mental illness.

"The emphasis on home care, including hot meal service, for elder citizens.

"The merging of agencies responsible for employment security and the development of commerce under one secretariat to provide more effective job placement for the unemployed.

"The exclusive dedication of trained social workers to social work"

Lieutenant Governor Dwight, who probably will be the Republican candidate for Governor next year, declared that the improved setup can be brought into being without new taxes because it calls for sweeping changes and because many antiquated programs will be eliminated as well as new ones created.

"Our operating budget has increased by an average of 14.6 per cent a year over the last five years and, during the same period, the economic base has grown at an average annual rate of about seven per cent. It doesn't take a fiscal expert to see that these two trends cannot help but call for new tax revenues," he said.

"Because of the reorganization, this year's budget request is only 1.9 per cent greater than last year's," Dwight pointed out.

"Thus, for the first time in recent memory, we will be living within our means, and that is something we can all appreciate."

Lieutenant Governor Dwight is now recognized on Beacon Hill as the most effective backer of the Governor's reorganization bill.

On Aiding Defectors

Editor, Newton Graphic:

On Jan. 21, 1973, Representative Peter Harrington of Newton introduced House Bill 3021, authored by Arthur MacDonnell of Belmont. The substance of this bill is to pass a law instructing the attorney general to defend the defectors who ran away to Canada, Seeden and other foreign countries.

This defection is a violation of federal law for which the punishment is clearly defined. Those who have different views are free to contribute to the defense of these defectors.

This letter is not addressed to the Conscientious Objectors who wnet through out courts and accepted the consequences of their act. Time will eventually soften the penalties for desertion and defection, yet the time should never come when the defense of these men becomes the burden of the taxpayer.

To legislate the financing of legal defense for those men whould be tantamount to approval of conduct considered despicable by thos who believe that to love this country we must defend it.

We have not taken a body count but we are sure that in Massachusetts there are at least 1400 parents, wives, borthers and sisters who consider this bill an insult to both the men who are forever lost and to all who did their duty and returned.

Support Arab Jewry

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Over the last few years the world has becme aware of the situation of the Jews living in he U.S.S.R.

Before this enlightenment took place, hardly any Soviet Jews were allowed t leave Russia. Today, more Jews are permitted to leave. The emigration rate is still low, but it has increased. The reason behind increased emigration of Jews from Russia is the pressure put on the Soviet government by people all over the world.

There is still much to be done for the Soviet Jews, but there are organizations formed for this purpose — such as SSJ (Save Soviet Jewry) — that are successful.

Today, thee is an even more disastrous situation demanding the attention of Jews the world over. This is the predicament of the Jews in the Arab countries. Not only are they forbidden to leave, they arenot permitted to lead human lives.

In June, 1967, almost every adult male in Cairo was imprisoned without food or water. The guards were given freedom to torture the prisoners as they pleased. They took full advantage of this privilege. Today over 200 of the 2,500 Jews in Egypt are still in jail.

The 3,500 Syrian Jews are exposed to outright discrimination and persecution. For example, a list of all Jewish merchants is published by the government and all military personnel are forbidden to trade with them. In Iraq the 3,000 Jews may not do business with any non-Jew. They may not collect debts or earn over 100 Iraqi dinars per month. (One dinar is equal to approximately $2.80.)

During the U.N. debates before the establishment of the State of Israel, Egypt announced: "The lives of a million Jews in Moslem countries will be jeopardized by the establishment of a Jewish State."

Jamal al-Husseini made it known at the U.N. that, "If a Jewish State were established in Palestine, the position of the Jews in Arab countries would become very precarious."

Although the number of Jews in Arab countries has decreased since these threats, thousands of Jews still remain.

The threats have become a reality. Just as nothing was done to help the Soviet Jews until their problem was made known, knowledge of the plight of Jews in Arab countres is the first step towards saving these people.

Arab Jewry must be made as big an issue as Soviet Jewry. Then, and only then, will help be on its way.

Defending Draft Dodgers

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Today, February 12th, is the anniversary of my birth, and of my son, and of our 16th President. Because of these circumstances, I feel it is fitting I take this occasion to respond to the many criticisms of my recent proposal to require the Attorney General's Office to defend those whose conscientious objection to the Vietnam conflict results in their prosecution for violation of the Selective Service Act.

We might remember that 108 years ago this country terminated what was then the bloodiest war in the history of the world. It was also most divisive and draft resisters abounded. There had been riots in New York and other cities because of objection to service in that "immoral war." Surely all historians will agree feelings ran strong and deep; a hard line was taken by both sides. Andersonville was a reality of life not an historical novel.

In the midst of this national hatred, a president stepped forth and, "with malice toward none, with charity to all," he announced a policy for "binding up the wounds" of our country. A policy of compassion and of common sense, a policy that was brought to fruition by his successor, Andrew Johnson, who declared complete amnesty for all persons on both sides. For his conciliatory acts, Andrew Johnson was impeached by the Congress of the United States and but for one vote of Senator Edward G. Ross of Kansas would have been convicted, all of which is recorded in Chapter 6 of "Profiles in Courage."

Today our country seems to stand similarly divided. Upon reflection we all must know that if we are going to get this nation back on solid ground, we must resolve the problem of what to do about those estimated 100,000 plus young men who so strongly protested our involvement of Vietnam.

We shall have to do it in a spirit of compassion, not hatred; in understanding, not suspicion; and in adherence to our basic precepts of free expression of political difference and our right to our own moral beliefs.

Let us suppress our aboriginal desire for revenge in the name of justice, let us give love in the name of forgiveness.

Favor Abortion Decision

Editor, Newton Graphic:

The Massachusetts Chapter of Zero Population Growth rejoices at the interpretation by the attorney general of Massachusetts of the recent decision of the Unuted States Supreme Court relative to the subject of abortions.

There is little doubt that, with the termination of a pregnancy during the first trimester being now available to a woman with her doctor's advice, a sense of parental responsibility for the size of her family will be increased as well as her enjoyment of the right of a freedom of decision to determine what family size is the best size for her children's welfare, her husband's health and her community's economy, beauty and way of life, together with the future survival of the human race.

Such a result is in harmony with our national ideal of individual freedom and individual awareness of social responsibilities. Moreover, with the threat of overpopulatin impending, bith this country and in most other countries of the earth, the Supreme Court decision, as analyzed by the attorney general, will become an historic step by which mankind can move nearer to the dream of a life of abundance and liberty for every member of a population whose optimum size is measured by the capacity of its habitat.

A successful adaptation of our species to those changes of our environment that lie both within and without te control of mankind will help the billions of unborn future generations yet to come upon this earth.

These billions have a moral and ethical right to have their forefathers act wisely. In this sense our chapter stands very, very strongly for the rights of the unborn. We believe that future generations have a right to be born into a land where there is room to move, live and have their being untrammeled by conditions of excessive human density with all the misery and unhappiness that can flow from want of the material necessities of living or from the ugly destructions of the beauties of nature.

A Course On Death?

Editor, Newton Graphic:

What are the chances ot getting a course on death incorporated into the curriculum of high schools?

As a parallel . . . butnot as a comparison . . . reflect back some years ago to the debates on sex education in the schools.

Educators now consider sex as a current social problem, so sex education is in. God is not now socially "with it," so God has been removed from our schools.

Where does death fit? It's a universal concern. All of us should know more about it.

Our basic "Three R's still represent the public school system. Sophistication of facilities and equipment and certain other aspects of education represent some great strides.

Will school administrative officials accept death as a subject of social concern and necessity? It will have to get in line with the myriad other social problems that educators claim deserve classroom time, which is not available within our present framework of education.

An investigation of trends shows that an increasing interest in death has spawned a move among many colleges and universities to offer courses on death. In virtually all cases, the classes are filled or oversubscribed.

To find out about how receptive educators are to the subject of death, are two young men at the University Laboratory School of Northern Illinois University in Dekalb.

David W. Berg and George G. Daugherty, teacher, have developed a "Mini High School CCourse on Death."

This teaching-learning unit entitled "Perspectives on Death" is designed to provide secondary school students with a knowledge and understanding of death as a reality. It approaches death from a variety of viewpoints: medical, social, spiritual, cultural, psychological, artistic, literary and economic.

The unit of study will consist of an extensive teacher's resource book, an activity book for student involvement, filmstrips and audio tapes.

Through their extensive research, Berg and Daugherty found death-denial attitudes and taboos that surround the subject of death.

"Death", they say, "is a topic replete with misconceptions, needless fears and unnecessary misinformation. Oours is a death-denying generation."

The two believe that education should perform the vital job of confronting critica concepts and crucial issues and they believe the course they have developed will help tremendously in meeting these needs as they pertain to death.

An Invitation From Chamber President

As the newly-elected president of the Newton-Needham Chamber of Commerce, I am writing to you to invite your comments and-or those of your readers to participate in the goal-setting process of the Chamber for 1973.

We have recently completed a membership opinion survey, whose views on business and community problems are of paramount concernt to our organization. At the same time, we realize that in our psotion of representing nearly 600 industrial and commercial firms which provide about 70 per cent of the employment locally we have an obligation to consider the community's needs and opinions, as well as those of our members.

The principal concerns, in broad terms, of the Chamber of Commerce are to make our communities better places in which to live and work, to enjoy recreational opportunities and to improve the business climate in which we conduct ourselves.

As you know, the Chamber is a voluntary organization of business and professional men and women who are devoted to business and community improvement. It does not seek, nor receive municipal funds for operating the organization.

It would be most opportune, therefore, for any of your readers who might wish to express themselves in these columns or to write to me in care of the Chamber office (437 Cherry Street, west Newton 02165) to voice their feelings with regard to the broad matters of community concern in which they would wish to have the Chamber's participation started or expanded.

Public opinion will play a vital role in the determination of our goals and action programs for 1973. A statement of such goals will be published by the beginning of March.

Donald J. MacMillan,
President

Consultants

Editor, Newton Graphic:

The School Committee is right in complaining that outside consultants hired are an unnecessary tax burden on the Newton taxpayer.

As a parent, I met one of these gals who did very little for the huge salary she collected and although married now, we hope she is off the school budget payroll.

There are plenty of top brass teachers right in the School Department that have more talen and could save us money without having to hire outsiders.

Pat MacManus,
West Newton

Budget-

Costs other than teachers salaries that have to be considered in the 18-month period include those for two winters of snow removal (the beginning of 1973 and the beginning of 1974), and two winters of heating and utility bills for city buildings and schools.

City Comptroller Arthur Marr has said the city was told to expect an additional 50 per cent in cherry sheet returns to offset the additional 6 months but said he felt "this can not possibly be done in many cases."

He gave excise taxes as an example, pointing out the excise tax bills did not come out until after July 1 in 1972, and said the revenue to Newton from them amounts to $3 or $4 million.

The change in the fiscal year was passed by the legislature in 1969 and postponed in 1970 and again in 1971.

PRESERVING LORE

BOONE, N.C. (UPI) — Appalachian State University is making a big effort to preserve the rapidly-disappearing lore of quaint mountainfolk in western North Carolina. As part of the project, the university is distributing a weekly column on folklore to nearby newspapers.

More Jazz

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Since te performing arts program of the Newton Centennial will feature George Wein and jazz performers Dizzy Gillespie, Thelonius Monk, Bobby Hackett, etc., perhaps there is room in your program to welcome home with a citation a gentleman who was born in Newton some 50 years ago of a first family in Newton (the John T. Burns family of whom it is said Newton was built around), graduated from Newton High School and New England Conservatory of Music, and who not only has distinguished himself in the field of jazz but lately as musical director and orchestrator for the movie "Cabaret" may gather for himself further honors by winning an academy award for his efforts.

I speak of Ralp Burns who won the Esquire 1947 Jazz Arranger of the year award. His earlier works with Charlie Barnet and later Woody Heman helped to kep those orchestras at the top in the field of music.

His three part jazz concert "Summer Sequence" peformed in Carnegie Hall with the Woody Herman orchestra prompted Igor Stravinsky to call Ralph Burns a "musical genius." Ralph toured Europe with this concert and in later years has been the musical director and-or orchestrator for many Groadway musicals such as "Illya Darling," "Funny Girl," "Golden Boy," "No, No Nanette."

His latest invovement is with a new musical soon to open on Broadway called, "Irene."

A few of his own compositions with Woody Herman were "Early Autumn," "Bijou," and "Happiness is Just a Thing Called Joe."

It would be nice to accord Ralph Burns, a true Newtonite, a welcome home tribute befitting a musical genius of his stature and accomplishments.

Temples Combine In Study Offerings

The Combined Temples Adult Education Committee of Temples Emanuel, Emeth, Mishkan Tefila and Reyim has announced that its spring program will commence on Tuesday, Feb. 27, 8 p.m. at Temple Reyim, 1860 Washington St., Newton. Participants may choose from a wide choice of nine courses.

Elementary Hebrew will be taught by Mrs. Ilona Haendel, a graduate of Teachers College in Israel, who is now associated with the Solomon Schechter Day School. There will be courses in basic conversational Hebrew and intermediate conversational Hebrew taught by Miss Tamar Even-Tov, a graduate of Hebrew University, Jerusalem, and Mrs. Talila Mor, a graduate of New York University, respectively. Both are instructors at the Ulpan Hebrew College, Boston.

For those interested in Yiddish, classes both on the basic and intermediate levels will be offered, the former by Mrs. Chaya Perera, a graduate of United Jewish Teachers Seminary in Canada and the latter by Mrs. Harriet Segal, a graduate of the University of Lithuania, who presently teaches at Temple Emeth Religious School. These classes aim to broaden vocabulary and conversational skill.

Courses of a topical nature will include "Jewish Values: A Contemporary Interpretation" to be given by Dr. Emanuel S. Goldsmith, assistant professor of Yiddish Language and Literature at Brandeis University. Dr. Goldsmith will discuss such topics as the nature of values, the Jewish family, the community, the synagogue, world Jewry and Israel, literature and the arts, ides of God, worship and ritual and the ethical life. The text used in conjunction with the course is "Good To Be A Jew" by Eugene Kohn.

Mrs. Ariella Goldberg, instructor in Hebrew Language and Composition, will analyze "Problems in the Book of Judges." Commencing with a general historical background to the period of Judges, Mrs. Goldberg will discuss the first Judge, Ehud, the war against the Canaanites, Deborah, Gideon, Jepetah, and Samson.

"Jewish Law on Contemporary Issues of Life and Health" will be the subject of a course by Rabbi Joseph B. Stern, instructor in Talmudic Law at Hebrew College. Rabbi Stern will examine problems such as medical ethics, autopsy, euthanasia, the definition of death, food additives and matters considered dangerous to life in the light of Talmudic and Rabbinic texts. A new publication called "Modern Medicine and Jewish Law" by Dr. Fred Rosner will serve as the text.

The final course offering will be "Theatre in Israel: A Modern Hebrew Miracle" with Dr. Zeev Raviv, associate professor of Theatre Arts, Modern Languages and Literatures at Clark University. The course will consist of an investigation of the achievements of the National Theatre in Israel, the Habimah. It will be traced from its start in Russia before the Revolution and to its final settlement in Eretz Yisrael at the end of the 1920's until today. Famous play and stage productions will be discussed as milestones of its development.

The series will run for seven weeks. Classes will be given for five weeks and will be followed each week by a lecture by outstanding scholars.

Two full-evening programs will also be presented as part of the series, one the showing of a classic Yiddish film and the other a panel presentation.

Registration for the entire series is $6 for adults, $3 for golden agers, free for students. For a full-information brochure call the offices of the participating temples or the chairmen of Adult Education - Temple Emanuel, Eric Ungar, 244-2096; Temple Emeth, Daniel Smolens, 325-2465; Temple Mishkan Tefila, George Brody, 527-4589 or Temple Reyim, Sylvia Apelbaum, 332-0658.

Baptists Try New Liturgy

The First Baptist Church in Newton Centre will hold a "Service of Celebration" on Sunday, Feb. 18 at the usual 10 a.m. worship hour.

These services in the contemporary style, planned once monthly, aim to provide an opportunity for the congregation and ministers to experience new ways of coming closer together during the time of worship.

The theme of this month's service, "Hope in the Living Christ" will be explored through a dialogue sermon by Rev. Gene Bartlett and Rev. Michael Scrogin, pastors of First Baptist Church. They will be assisted by David O'Brien, a student minister who is concentrating in the area of administration.

Mrs. Helen Taylor will lead a practice singing session before the service. The Sacred Heart Singers, from Sacred Heart parish in Newton Centre, will participate both in the congregational singing and in special music. Members of the congregation will also be taking part in various aspects of the service.

All members and friends of the First Baptist Church are invited to attend this time of praise and celebration.

Masons Offer Photo Course

The next afternoon meeting of the Newton Masonic Club will be held Wednesday, Feb. 21 at 2 p.m. with a snack bar at 1:30 p.m.

The "Speaker of the Day" will be F. Crockett Brown, past deputy grand master of the Massachusetts Grand Lodge. He will discuss his experiences as a visitor to various Masonic lodges outside the United States.

Ben Worth, director of the Masonic Camera Club, announces a combined February and March meeting of the camera group on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 28, at 1:30 p.m. William Hasle will talk on "Hints on Picture Taking."

All Masons from Newton and vicinity are cordially invited to both meetings.

The Acoma Pueblo in New Mexico has been continuously inhabited for more than 1,000 years.

Rabbi Spotlights Intermarriage

The Houseware-Hardware-Toy Lodge of B'nai Brith will hold their next meeting on Sunday, Feb. 18, at the Sidney Hill Country Club, Newton.

Rabbi Albert E. Axelrad, chaplain of Brandeis University, will speak on the subject "Interfaith Intermarriage."

Rabbi Axelrad is the author of many books, a contributor to numerous periodicals and is a popular lecturer on college campusus.

Lodge members are invited to bring their wives and interested members of their families to this breakfast meeting.

Beth El Plans Family breakfast

The Brotherhood of Temple Beth El is sponsoring its annual Family Breakfast on Monday, Feb. 19, the official celebration date for George Washington's Birthday.

The breakfast will be held at 9:30 a.m. There will be door prizes and gifts for children and a magician will be on hand to entertain.

The breakfast chairmen are Henry Merrin, brotherhood president and Norman Hartstone. The committee includes Harry Kadis, Jack Oven, al Nathanson, Burt Cone, Phil Snyder, Dave Pivnick and Hy Grushka.

PAULINE ANN HANDLEY

Miss Handley Will Wed Mr. Abbis

The engagement of Miss Pauline Ann Handley and Joseph P. Abbis, Jr., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton A. Handley of Newton.

Miss Handley is a graduate of Newton South High School and is employed at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Mr. Abbis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Abbis, Cornell street, Roslindale. A graduate of Don Bosco Technical High School, he is employed by Bernardi's Auto Body of Wellesley.

CHEMISTS — Two local residnts spoke before nearly 200 professional chemists last week at Emmanuel College. Johannes Meinenhofer (right) of 59 Summit St., Newton, spoke at the afternoon symposium and Arthur S. Obermayer (left) of 239 Chestnut St., West Newton, spoke following the dinner. It was a meeting of the Northeastern Section of the American Chemical Society and its theme was "Nurturing Chemists as Professionals: Job Preparation and Job Retention."

Center Accredited

The Newton Convalescent Center has been accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals according to word recently received by Gerald Labourene, administrator.

This recognition is the result of a field survey made by a representative of the Joint Commission's Accreditation Council for Long Term Care Facilities.

The Joint Commission on Accredition of Hospitals was formed in 1952 by the American College of Surgeons, the American College of Physicians, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

In 1966, the Joint. Commission undertook the accreditation of facilities other than hospitals, and in 1971, the Accreditation Council for Long Term Care Facilities was formed.

The council is comprised of representatives of the American Association of Homes for the Aging, American Hospital Association, American Medical Association and American Nursing Home Association.

The council has set standards based on the principle that the resident shall be under a continuing planned program of care which focuses on his total needs. As a part of the Joint Commission, the council conducts a voluntary program for accreditation. The council seeks to recognize, and to identify for the public, facilities providing a high quality of long term care. The program covers extended care, nursing care and resident care facilities.

Accreditation of the Newton Convalescent Center means that the facility has voluntarily chosen to operate according to standards set by a professional, knowledgeable and nationally recognized group of health professionals. The Newton Convalescent Center is one of the approximately 1,800 long term care facilities throughout the nation that have earned this recognition.

Projects-

marked by that agency for the construction."

When queried by Alderman Joseph M. McDonnell as to whether the site was suitable for afamily housing, authoruty Vice Chairman James Miller stated that "We consider it a prime site and feel we are in compliance with the stated policy of the Board of Aldermen."

Attorney Robert Freto, representing American Legion Post 440, stated that the post supports the housing authority in its attempt to place the four units of low income housing on the Victory Field site.

Post 440 has already purchased part of Victory Field from the city and is currently constructing a combination post, community center and gymnasium on the site.

Freeto stated in response to a question from Alderman McDonnell that the post is willing to develop the site for recreational purposes in compliance with a resolution passed by the Board of Aldermen in August, 1971.

Chairman Alan S. Barkin of the Land Use Committee halted the recreational use discussion when he ruled that it was not properly before the committee at that time.

Mrs. Stephanie Martin of the League of Women Voters reiterated that group's support of the low income housing on Victory Field. She stated however that the support was contingent upon the authority's willingness to develop similar units throughout the city especially on the South Side.

'We are confident that, if these first units do get built," she stated, "the example of attractive housing, successfully operating, would serve to lessen the fears of Newton citizens who have resisted the location of subsidized housing in their neighborhoods."

Opposition to the proposed construction was voiced by Mrs. Beatrice Capelone, 259 California St., a possible neighbor of the low income families who may eventually occupy the site.

Mrs. Capelone's main contention was that the neighborhood is already comprised of low income families and it appeared ludicrous to her to "dump" more into the area.

"Why not put them in some other part of the city?" she asked.

Mrs. Capelone also cited the increased traffic from the New American Legion Post 440 and additional children in an already densely, child populated area as reasons for not constructing the housing in her neighborhood.

The Housing Authority ran into a heavier bombardment of opposition when the Land Use Committee heard a petition for a zoning change and permissive use of the Thurston St., Newton Upper Falls, site for construction of 50 elderly units and four low income units.

Several residents of the area were on hand to voice opposition through their spokesmen of inclusion of the four low income units with 50 elderly apartments.

A dispiute also arose when Alderman McDonnell introducted a resolution passed by the Board of Aldermen in 1971 which stated in part "that the housing authority shall build on the Thurston Road site four apartments for low income families which shall be separated from the remaining portion of the land which is to be used for the elderly."

McDonnell contended that the authority violated the spirit of this resolution when they instructed their architects t draw up plans which would mix the low income housing with the elderly units.

Miller stated that the authority interpreted the will of the Board of Aldermen to be integration of the units and had instructed Architects Collaborative to do so, even though the authority was opposed in principle to integration.

"Our own philosophy is not to mix," stated Miller, "but we took our directions from the Board of Aldermen as we interpreted them and integrated. We thought it would be the only way to get approval."

Authority membefs did agree to remove units if forced to do so to conform with a proposed ordinance which would require a 20,000 square feet maximum on individual apartment units. They did not state, however, which units would be removed — low income or elderly.

A private developer also ran into neighborhood opposition at the public hearing.

A petition for permissive use of a site at 82 Parson St. for construction of an eighy-unit apartment building by the firm of Magnarelli, Inc. of Newton met with adverse reaction from residents of the area.

It is the contention of the neighbors that Magnarelli's proposed three story brick building will destroy the architectural unity of the neighborhood.

Joel Goldman, attorney for 58 of the neighbors, complained to the Land Use Committee that real estate values in the area will depreciate if the permissive use is granted, and the Board of Aldermen will establish a precedent of allowing anyone to tear down an existing single or two family dwelling and erect an apartment building if they allow Magnarelli's petition.

Chairman Barkin instructed Goldman to inform his clients that they have the right to petition the Board of Aldermen for a change in the zoning laws which would prohibit construction in their neighborhood of anything but single and two family housing.

The Land Use Committee declined to act on any of the petitions before it at the public hearings and informed those present that discussions would take place at a later meeting of the committee.

A Beer Party In Kenya?

Students are apparently attracted to anthropology for a variety of reasons, Manners suggested. Although most of those drawn to anthropology as a career will seek teaching positions, others follow the "excitement" of one of the anthropologist's most important tool: field work.

And however clinical the term may sound, field work is not without its glamour, romance and even peril. Reports of newly-discovered "primitive" tribes or other anthropological findings, stumbled over in the backwaters of civilization, almost always arouse international curiosity.

The most recent field work conducted by Prof. Manners may be his most significant. It took him to Africa twice to study the transitional life of the Kipsigis tribe of East Kenya.

"I was fortunate in 1957 that older members of the tribe remembered when the British arrived in Kenya in 1901. And through them I was able to trace the whole sweep of change in their society. The change transformed the Kipsigis from a condition of communal landholding, where they grazed cattle and led a pure subsistence life into a lifestyle increasingly dominated by the need for cash. Almost overnight, the whole area was converted from communal to individual landholding plots and into a system of wage labor with cash crops."

Manners learned that when the British uncovered little in mineral resources, they turned their attention to agriculture.

"But they needed a labor force. They couldn't get the natives to work voluntarily, because the Kipsigis had all they needed, and money didn't mean a thing to them," he said.

However, a four-step process of tax imposition, creation of tribal reserves, limitation of crops and introduction of manufactured goods from Europe was enough to "coax" them into work. Thus began the dramatic change in their world.

Manners recalls two experiences that underscored the change.

He twice made requests to see and record a male initiation ceremony. And twice at council meetings of tribal elders, he was denied. After one of the meetings, young men of the tribe admitted to him that though they supported his bid, they feared opposition to the old men would bring a curse upon them.

Five years later, at a similar kind of tribal meeting, missionaries in the area sought permission to build a dam that would help generate electricity for a nearby hospital to be used by the Kipsigis.

"This meeting represented an almost complete about-face in the power structure between young and old, and it showed how the Kipsigis were quickly undergoing change to modernization," Manners recounted.

"The old men of the council agreed with the missionary plan, but the young men did not. Their reasons were straightforward: they wanted to build the dam themselves — after their people were educated. Until then, they could wait.

"They openly opposed the elders and the dam was not built, at least while I was there. This was a dramatic sign of the decline in power held by the old. They had dominated in situations involving traditional rituals but because the dam represented something new and something they idn't understand, they gave way to the young.

"In a world that doesn't change," Manners explained, "the old are the source of wisdom. But in a world that is changing, as the Kipsigis were then, the young begin to take over."

Manners suggests there may be clues in this experience leading to a better understanding of the present intergenerational conflict in the United States.

During his initial studies in Africa, Prof. Manners was, as usual, accompanied by his family, including his older son, John. "He was a great source of information for me. He was only 12 at the time, and he spent many hours working, hunting, and playing with the Kipsigis children.

"Years later, after he graduated from college in the United States, John joined the Peace Corps and, suprisingly, managed to be assigned work with the same tribe. When John returned to Kenya, his boyhood friends of years ago recognized him and celebrated the occasion with a beer party."

During his second stay with the Kipsigis, Manners' son, Stephan, was born.

Manners was made a member of a Kipsigis "clan" and more than once was an honored guest himself at beer parties. He remembers the first:

"We sat in a hut, circled around a big pot, which, according to Kipsigis custom, the women kept filled with beer. The men drank through enormous straws . . . they were six to ten feet long. I had a terrible time getting beer up from the pot but when I finally did, the Kipsigis applauded me. They had known all along I was having trouble, of course, but they didn't let on."

Prior to his field work in Africa, Prof. Manners conducted archaelogical research in Arizona, and social anthropology in Puerto Rico. He also studied in the Caribbean and with American Indian tribes in the Southwest. During World War II he served four years in the U.S. Army.

Among his books are The Peopole of Puerto Rico; Africa Speaks; Process and Pattern in Culture; Contemporary Change in Traditional Societies; Theory in Anthropology: A Sourcebook; and Culture Theory.

How does the professor, from his professional vantage point, see the cultural changes in America's youth?

He says he believes they possess an attitude today that "reflects a deep respect for different life styles."

"They are not divorced from the world around them, and they feel involved or a need to involve themselves. I think their attitudes offer a sharp departure from the past," he said.

"Moreover, you can put me down as being in favor of many of the changes favored by some parts of America's college population today. The new attitudes towards women, sex, marriage and other customs or life styles are important, I think, because young people are raising questions about morals and standards that haven't been raised before."

Can the anthropologist in this country reduce ethnocentrism, or the belief that one culture is superior to another?

Manners is not optimistic.

"It may be our job to try to reduce ethnocentrism, but I'm not certain we can do it effectively. There are forces working against its accomplishment. The anthropologist can scream his head off, claiming there is no demonstrated difference in natural ability between the races, for example.

"But just screaming, or teaching young people isn't enough to change the way things are. People don't necessarily change because they become better informed. Moreover, there is a countertendency at work." In this connection, he cites research by some contemporary scientists who maintain they find "clear evidence of the inferiority and lower intelligence level of blacks."

Manners disputes such claims. "I think these people have left out, and have diminished the importance of cultural experience. Thus, there is no way we can measure the impact that being black has upon such a person when he or she walks down a street where almost everyone else is white.

"This is something only black people can experience, and its impact may be so profound that it may do things to them psychologically that place them at an even greater disadvantage than many people realize.

"No, I don't believe the 'new racists' have proved their case at all. Not only is there a resurgence of this kind of 'scientific biologism,' there are also . . . powerful forces at work that have set blacks where they are today. Nor is it easy to overcome the forces that promote discrimination designed for someone else's benefit.

"Knowledge isn't enough to do away with discrimination. It may help to dispel ignorance, but other elements in society oftentimes override the impact of education.

Manners has long been an advocate of educational innovation and a greater student voice in university affairs. His reason is simple: "because I'm not convinced that we have the best of all kinds of systems.

"It is wholesome to experiment with education, and not only should experiment be allowed by American universities, it should be encouraged."

Brandeis has a vast potential for leadership in educational improvements, Manners believes.

"We have the kind of faculty and the kind of student body that gives the most promising possibilities for new direction. So we may, if we want, provide healthy and important clues to changes in America's educational system."

N.E. Campers Convene

The New England Camping Association's Winter Convention was held Feb. 2-3 at the Sheraton Boston Hotel.

Professionals in the field of camping took this opportunity to meet together and discuss their work with children. Those attending ranged from junior counselors in their late teens to directors and advisors who have been in camping a good number of years.

Delegates from the area attending the convention were Joseph Basiret, director of the Fessenden School Day Camp, and Robert B. Gallant, director, and a number of his staff from Berkshire Boys Camp.

New Chairman

WASHINGTON — Screen star Charlton Heston is the new chairman of the American Film Institute's board of trustees. He was elected for a one-year term to succeed Roger L. Stevens.

Homemakers Selected

Students named 1973 Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow at high schools here have been announced.

Selected on the basis of scores in a written knowledge and attitude exam administered to seniors throughout the country were: Angela C. Frisoli, Mr.alvernia Academy; Marian C. coletto, Our Lady's High School; Marianne P. Rea, Our LLADY OF Presentation High School.

Each will receive a specially designed award and each remains eligible for state and national honors.

The State Homemaker of Tomorrow will be selected from all Commonwealth winners via judging of a test and will receive a $1,500 college scholarship.

Seminar on Investing in Country Land

A free seminar on "How to Invest in North Country Land" will be held Wednesday evening, March 7th at the Marriott Motor Hotel in Newton. The session begins at 8 p.m., and is sponsored by Northland Investment Corporation, Newtonville.

This is the fifth symposium of this type held in the greater Boston area. A panel of experts, including a land planner and architect, real estate attorney, and several Northern New England realtors, will discuss the advantages and disadvantages of rural land investment, the new environmental regulations, unique methods of financing, and tax considerations in estate planning.

Principal speaker is Robert A. Danziger, president, Northland Investment Corp., the author of several articles on Northern New England land, and a visiting lecturer in real estate course at several New England business schools.

Health For All

HIGH POLLUTION

Air pollution is an all too familiar menace. But another kind of high-up pollution is spreading fast. From a surprising source.

Mountain climbers, seeking wind-swept experiences and soaring sensations, are heaping trash on the pristine tops they scale. At the Grand Teton National Park in Wyoming this summer, rangers say they regularly returned from the peaks with "Rucksacks full of junk." Within a decade, the number of people climbing the summits there has doubled to 4,000.

Three miles up on Mount McKinley in Washington, clean-up climbers found a trash dump covering an area of 100 square feet. At such altitudes, where the air is thin and freezing, even normally biodegradable stuff will not decay. And helicopters cannot go up that high for cleanup work.

And in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, helicopters are being used to fly out human waste in 55-gallon drums. The number of climbers in the White Mountains has been increasing 30 percent each year.

Climbers in the White Mountains are now asked not to camp more than 4,500 feet up. And rangers at McKinley talk to every climbing expedition urging them to bring back all their garbage and even to pick up extra litter along the way.

Polluted air. Polluted water. Polluted landscapes. And now, garbage-strewn summits. We are a nation of polluters—cigarette smokers, litterers, trash burners, carbon monoxide-spewing car users—and must be made aware of the pollution we ourselves create and inflict on others.

If you haven't already, be sure to answer your Christmas Seal letter today. It's a matter of life and breath.

'Superband'

The Biggest Of Big Bands

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
UPI Family News Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — If by some chance Jonathan Livingston Seagull or critters in an Unidentified Flying Object (UFO) happened to look down on a runway at an American naval air station one day during the middle of January, they would have seen the strangest sight.

It wasn't a bird. It wasn't a plane. It was superband!

It had 1,976 musicians—and then some. It was 350 yards long.

The sight was accompanied by what can only be described as the biggest band sound of all. Never, never has there been the like of superband. Or the sound—which included 178 trombones, 350 trumpets and 429 clarinets, for starters.

Biggest Band Happening

The biggest band happening on Jan. 17 on a runway at the Naval Air Station at Anacostia, Va., was recalled in an interview with Phillip Fuller, curriculum specialist in music for the Fairfax, Va., County school system.

The band was out there that day rehearsing for its part in President Nixon's Inaugural Day parade for a quite simple reason.

We couldn't find anything big enough to hold it," Fuller said in a telephone interview from his office in Fairfax. "Only a runway would do."

Fuller's getting lots of letters asking how the biggest band of all was put together. And he's getting letters saying—"I was amazed when I saw it in the parade."

"I was amazed, too," said Fuller. During the parade he was in the Spirit of '76 float that brought up the rear of the parade-the rear unit, that is. After the float with Fuller and his walkie-talkie, came the band, called the Spirit of '76 Band. It was put together to focus attention on the nation's bicentennial, due in 1976.

Fuller Will Report

To help communities wanting to stage a similar spectacular musical event calling attention to the bicentennial Fuller is going to report the logistics of the musical event in a journal for music educators.

Fuller said musicians from 20 high school bands in Fairfax County volunteered for the superband. Fuller himself had 10 days to get it together.

The music had to be shipped in air mail special delivery. It included just two pices—"America the Beautiful" and "Your Land and My Land."

There was that one rehearsal on the runway. No one really knew how it would come off during the parade.

"This had never been done before and there were a lot of unknowns," Fuller said, "but I recalled a law in physics that would seem to help us. The law holds that as you increase the mass you diminish proportionatly definition of detail."

In other words: Mistakes, even out of tune instruments, would tend not to even be heard with the massive sounds of superband.

A Worrisome Thought

What worried Fuller and the couple of dozen band directors helping: Holding it all together during the parade. That's why he was riding on the Spirit of '76 float. He had a walkie-talkie and was giving directions to the band directors on foot—also equipped with walkie-talkies.

"We didn't know what would happen to the sound if the marchers bunched up or got strung out too much," he said.

It was a needless worry. Stepping along at the tempo of 120 steps a minute, superband was able to keep its 380 yards of band intact. The 118 lines of 18 abreast got it all together perfectly.

There were more than 1,976 musicians—to coincide with the bicentennial year. The total was 2,070, broken down as follows: 236 flutes, 429 clarinets, 34 special clarinets, 138 saxes, 350 trumpets, 125 French horns, 178 trombones, 90 baritone horns, 70 tubas, 196 drums and 34 glockenspiels.

The support persons for superband included friends, parents, teachers, make a total involved around 2,400. Superband returned home the way it got to the nation's capital 20 miles away—in 81 buses.

Lunches for All

On the way home there were box lunches for all.

Fuller, a former president of the American School Band Directors Association, was band director at Fairfax High for 18 years before assuming his present position six years ago.

A native of Ashland, Wis., Fuller earned his master's in music at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill.

He was so sure of his law of physics that the size and sound of the band would mask imperfections that he didn't even have superband tune-up.

The man at the center of this piece of musical history said proudly:

"The biggest band before this one, I understand, was a 1,000 piece band—when Disneyworld opened."

P.S.—If all the high school musicians in bands got together it would be a mighty superband. More than one million. The American Music Conference thinks such a band would be nearly 100 blocks long. An idea for the nation's 300th birthday?

The paper you are reading has been read before!

Most newspapers strive to get the news first, and editorially, that has always been our goal. But there's an advantage to dealing with old news too, especially when that old news has been recycled into fresh, high quality newsprint. This Newspaper prints much of its new news on pages made from old news. And by using recycled paper we are providing a market for discarded newspapers that might otherwise have found their way to our overcrowded garbage dumps. So you see, there's some good news in old news after all.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Abnormal Heartbeats

Sudden heart attacks and heart failure cause about 650,000 deaths per year in the U.S. —with some 400,000 of these said to be entirely unexpected.

Abnormal heartbeat rhythms — technically called cardiac arrhythmias—are a serious and major factor in many of these "sudden deaths". Sometimes these irregular heart vibrations —bad heart "vibes" in "mod" parlance—cause the heart almost literally to shake itself to death.

The vital circulation of blood throughout the body and brain is affected, of course, and the heart, after all, is in simple terms, just a four-chambered pump whose purpose is to circulate our blood.

But the causes and origins of abnormal rhythms are far from fully known. Emotional and psychological factors, however, are certainly involved in many instances.

This is why the National Institute of Mental Health, or HEW's Health Services and Mental Health Administration, has recently underwritten a study to investigate the roles of psychological factors and the nervous system in cardiac arrhythmias.

The project is part of a research program on coronary heart disease and sudden death being conducted by Dr. Bernard Lown, of Harvard's School of Public Health.

An international authority in cardiology, Dr. Lown has made major contributions to knowledge in the area of acute heart attacks—notably in "cardioversion", or restoring the heart's rhythm to normal.

The new research will focus on patients with coronary heart disease who have abnormal heartbeat rhythms, which may predispose to sudden death.

This promising study will help to differentiate and unravel some of the precise psychological and physiological factors in coronary disease generally. It should help particularly in the prevention and control of the abnormal heart rhythms that lead to so many untimely deaths.

Coeds Pick Auto Mechanics Over More Sublime Studies

A student initiated and run "Experimental College" has gathered steam and begun full-scale operation this semester at Newton College with a wide range of "mini-courses" being offered to supplement the college curriculum.

The 35 subjects, taught by students, faculty and administrators, span the gamut from the most practical to the most esoteric. The informal classes meet once a week.

Included in the offerings are mini-courses in theatre-make-up, aesthetic dance, mixed media, astrology, silk-screening, bridge, chess, Ukranian egg painting, auto mechanics, handwriting analysis, guitar, fairy tales, exercising, self-knowledge, bird watching, macrame, care and feeding in a private institution, piano, creative cookery, theatre workshop, acting, on being a woman, trumpet, winetasting and gastronomy, mixology, civilization film series, basic cooking, beginning black and white photography, camping basics, Eckankar, ecological problems, Japanese language, music of the 60's and 70's, ping-pong and death and dying.

Betsy M. Hart, a senior and director of the experimental college, explained, "The college responds to the needs of the students and provides a forum for faculty-student discussion of contemporary issues. The courses supplement the usual college curriculum. The test of the experimental college is relevance, and the courses are creative and personal. There are no fees, tests, grades or credits. The only requirement is initiative and a genuine interest in learning through sharing with others."

More than 300 members of the college community including students, faculty and administrators have signed up for courses on the first day of registration in early February. First choice, thus far, appears to be auto mechanics. Through all of the courses have drawn a positive response, offerings that have attracted the most participants include mixology, bird-watching, Ekankar, aesthetic dance, astrology and death and dying.

Interestingly, Betsy Hart noted, the course "On Being a Woman" could be listed towards the bottom of the popularity poll.

Kindergarten Registration In Oak Hill

Memorial School in Oak Hill Park will hold kindergarten registration for children who will be five years old by January 1. Registration will be held on March 1 and March 8, from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

It is suggested that those whose surnames are in the first half of the alphabet come on Thursday, March 1 and those whose names fall in the last half report on March 8.

It is not necessary to bring the child since he will be invited to spend a day with the kindergarten teacher in May.

Parents should bring the birth and vaccination certificates as well as proof of all other immunizations. The school nurse will be on hand to meet registering parents.

Bicycles Inspected

A bicycle safety inspection and identification program was inaugurated Saturday (Feb. 10) at the Harris Cycle Shopv, 1286 Washington St., West Newton.

An additional free inspection will be conducted Saturday, Feb. 24, at the shop from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The program, designed to promote bicycle safety, is geared to the Newton Bicycle Safety on Street Riding clinics, held annually during the spring and fall.

This year, Newton Jaycees made arrangements for Harris mechanics to give a free inspection while the Haycees work at inscribing names of owner on bicycles with Operation Identification equipment.

Aaron Harris, owner of Harris Cyclery, in turn agreed to donate his staff of mechanics to check tires, brakes and general bicycle body conditions.

Mayor Theodore D. Mann, Police Chief William F. Quinn, Richard M. Douglas of the Newton School Committee, Ald. Robert Tennant, and Jefferson Connell and Ronald Petralia of the Jaycees participated in the opening program.

Newton has about 18,000 bicycles.

Sgt. Charles Feeley is also on hand at the bicycle inspections and will again be directing clinics at individual schools as soon as weather permits.

Cites Service

At a recent meeting of the Joslin Diabetes Foundation in Boston several well known people were elected as members of the corporation. They include B. Dan Fergusen, M.D. of Newtonville and Phil David Fine of Waban.

Dr. Ferguson served as chief resident of the Joslin Clinic and the New England Deaconess Hospitalprior to joining the Joslin Clinic in 1959. He is a staff physician and has been very active in both education and youth programs of the foundation in addition to his present care activities.

Mr. Fine is chairman of the Commonwealth Bank and Trust Company. He serves on the boards of many charitable institutions and corporations as well.

Inventors Hatch Delight For Handicapped

The recent exhibit at Campion Commons, Boston College, may have looked like an inventor's workshop, but upon closer inspection, it appeared that something even more unusual was astir. And indeed there was!

About 80 student - inventors were proudly displaying their own creations, handmade products of a semester's work, to the children of the campus school and teachers from the school of education.

"My students have been teaching devices," explained Jerry Shultz, teacher and organizer of the exhibit, "but the special characteristic of the event is that these devices are made specifically for handicapped children. I guess you could say that they are educational toys in the most literal sense."

"Too often," Shultz continued, "teachers of the handicapped think they have to spend a lot of money on special education tools from industrial firms and then many times educational needs of their children. By developing projects like those exhibited in Campion, and by learning about curricula in the course, I feel that my students will be better able to decipher what industrial tools will be most practical both financially for the school and for the students' needs, and they will have some background to make the devices themselves."

Although Schultz gave his students a free hand in developing their "inventions," he nevertheless established a few important guidelines. "It's vitally important that a device be safe," Schultz explains, "and I warned the students against using glass or making a device with rough edges or with protruding screws. I banned using lead based paint too. That's a major cause of retardation itself. The devices had to be made flexible enough so that other subjects or more difficult material could be substituted.

Most important of all, however, the devices had to be self-correcting — the main idea being that a child could work with it quietly in the classroom and know if he was right or wrong without the constant supervision of the teacher."

Indeed, while the projects were designed to be used quietly, Schultz said that the devices need not be dull, and a visit to the exhibit proved that he was right.

Jane Cordella, 24 Westgate Rd., Chestnut Hill worked with Schultz to create a self-correcting teaching device for handicapped childen. Jane's device is designed to help blind children learn numbers one through five.

Mary Lou Cronin, 84 St. Mary's St., Newton, made an electrical device which lights up when a child correctly answers listed questions.

"After Walt Sanders (WBZ-TV Channel 4) came here to do a piece on the exhibit," Schultz says, "A couple of educational toy manufacturers called to inquire about possibly marketing some of my students' devices. Now, I don't know where all of this is going . . . the campus school and other teachers have expressed interest in the devices as well," Schultz continued with a grin, "but at least one thing is certain — my students know that they can be successful inventors when need be, and that will be an invaluable thing to know when they begin their professional teaching careers next year."

Ginny Quealy, 24 Quincy Rd., Chestnut Hill, made a number puzzle and Ellen Stokar, 41 Wessex Rd., Newton Centre, made a matching device.

On Honor Roll

Among students named to the honor roll for the second semester at Catholic Memorial High School in West Roxbury are four local residents.

They are: Bryan Bonner abd and Mark J. Conner, freshmen; James J. Barry, sophomore; and James C. Reilly, junior.

Mt. Ida Adds To Program

The Child Study Department of Mt. Ida Jr. College announces an addition to its Early Childhood Education program at Longfellow Nursery School on the Dedham St. campus.

An afternoon kindergarten program will start in Sept. 1973, as an alternative experience for five year old children who need a small group experience before moving on to the public school. Sixteen children will be enrolled at a tutition fee of $450.

The basic philosophy of the nursery school will be extended to the kindergarten program - an environment in which the child is encouraged to explore, manipulate, and discover the world around him with ample space and time to succeed at his own level of ability and development.

The Child Study Program at Mt. Ida prepares men and women for a career as an assistant teacher with young children. Students gain teaching experience at Longfellow Nursery School and at other nursery schools in the Newton-Needham area and in public school kindergartens.

They are supervised in their work by Mrs. Harriet Kahn, chairman of the department. Mrs. Kahn is a graduate of the zeliot-Pearson Child Study Program at Tufts University where she received her M.Ed. The program also provides its students with opportunities to work with children with special needs.

Longfellow Nursery School, which is enrolling children for next year has two classes, one for three and one-half year olds and one for four year olds. The children come from Newton, Needham and Boston.

Mrs. Eliane Reisman, M.Ed. from Lesley College, is the teacher-director, and Mrs. Eunice Perry, B.U., is a head teacher. Mrs. Joyce Hollman is an assistant-substitute teacher and Mt. Ida students are placed in the program as student teachers.

Anyone who is interested in the nursery or kindergarten programs is invited to call 969-7000, ext. 44, or write to Mt. Ida Child Study Department, 777 Dedham St., Newton Centre.

Area Governor Speaks As Local Lions Gather

At a regular meeting of the Newton Lions' Club held on Wednesday, Feb. 14 at 7 p.m. at the Pillar House, King Lion Richard Jones presented Massachusetts Lions' District 33-K Governor Lester Blumenthal.

District Governor Blumenthal is a lingtime member of the Dedham Lions Club and has served that organization in many capacities, including president.

Throughout the years he has also served the State Lions District 33-K, which encompasses Greater Boston's 54 clubs, as zone chairman and deputy district governor.

As part of this traditional annual visit to the Newton club, Governor Blumenthal discussed the aims and goals of Lionism as they specifically relate to Newton Lions.

Following the regular meeting, Blumenthal spoke with the Board of Directors of the Newton Lions Club.

Science Museum Exhibit On Electrical Energy

Visitors at Boston's Museum of Science now will be able to:

Experiment with six different ways of producing electricity;

Pedal a bike to convert their own energy into electric energy;

Play an electronic game testing their skill at meeting electricity demands without causing a blackout.

These activities are part of the Museum's comprehensive new exhibit presenting basic information on electric energy and power generating processes.

Graphics, models, photos, and operating devices explain such subjects as the structure of the atom, the difference between nuclear fission and nuclear fusion, and the effect of opoulation growth or weather on electric supply. Other topics covered include the reading of an electric supply. Other topics covered include the reading of an electric meter, environmental factors relating to electric energy, and anticipated development of future generation systems.

The exhibit contains a model of a nuclear reactor, a 200-pound operating electric meter, and a full size nuclear plant fuel assembly. In addition, there is a direct current generator that was made in the 19th century.

The exhibit is sponsored by six electric power companies of New ENNGLAND. They are: Boston Edison Company; Eastern Utilities Associates; New England Electric System; New England Gas and Eelectric Association; Northeast Utilities; and Public Service Company of New Hampshire.

At a private preview of the exhibit held Feb. 12 Bradford Washburn, Museum director, and Thomas J.Galligan, Jr. president of the Electric Council of New England, addressed representatives of the sponsoring companies and MUSEUM OFFICIALS IN ATTENDANCE.

The exhibit is the second major one sponsored by industry to be installed in the new West Wing of the Museum. Previously an exhibit on telephone communications was installed under the sponsorship of New England Telephone Company with the cooperation of Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric Company. A major exhibit on the computer, sponsored by Honeywell Information Systems, is scheduled to open later this year.

Kevin Hartigan New Owner of Pewter Pot

The Pewter Pot Muffin House and Restaurant in Dedham Mall has been sold to Kevin M. Hartigan of Framingham.

Hartigan, who also owns the Pewter Pot in Braintree, has completely revised the menu to offer an excellent variety.

The newly revised menu starts off with breakfast and continues throughout the day. The breakfast offering includes pancakes, or French toast or bacon and eggs and coffee, all for 99 cents. There are new and different lunch and dinner specials such as bacon burger, pastromi and a tempting variety of hot dinners.

So the Pewter Pot Muffin House has a menu that makes it a rich and reasonable restaurant. The Pewter Pot offers patrons old Colonial atmosphere and the warm, friendly smile of the "muffin girls."

The Mall Pewter Pot is run during the day by Tom Dolan and at night by Dick Turner.

Celtics-Kings Game Benefit Jimmy Fund

The Jimmy Fund, H.P. Hood Inc. and the Celtics again are joining hands to benefit children's cancer research.

The Celtics-Kings basketball game on Sunday afternoon, March 18, at Boston Garden will be the third annual "Jimmy Fund Day," sponsored by Hood's Physical Fitness Program.

Half-price of all tickets mail-ordered through the Jimmy Fund or Hood offices will go to the Children's Cancer Research Foundation. Tickets purchased at the Garden or any other outlet are not applicable and will not benefit the Jimmy Fund.

There is multiple incentive for fans to purchase tickets through the Jimmy Fund or Hood offices. Besides assisting children's cancer research, they will receive a handsome ballpoint pen inscribed to commemorate Hood's "Jimmy Fund Day."

The Celtics have made available tickets in the $5, $4, $3 and $2 categories—the same prices in effect for all Celtic regular-season games.

The half-price of each ticket that goes to the Jimmy Fund is tax deductable for the purchaser.

Ticket orders ean be mailed either to the Jimmy Fund (Hotel Statler-Hilton, Boston, Mass. 02117) or to H. P. Hood's Physical Fitness Dept. (500 Rutherford Avenue, Boston, Mass. 021129).

Regardless of which address, checks or money orders should be payable to the "Jimmy Fund" and should specify the number of tickets, price range and a return address. Tickets—along with a matching number of pens will be returned by mail.

Any questions can be answered by telephoning 242-0600 (Ext. 369 or 370).

The "Jimmy Fund Day" plans were announced jointly today by Jimmy Fund executive director Bill Koster, Hood president John Fox and Celtics president Red Auerbach.

Memorial Stamp for LBJ

Postmaster General E. T. Klassen announced today that a memorial postage stamp would be issued in memory of President Lyndon B. Johnson, who died on January 22, 1973.

The stamp is scheduled to appear next August 27, on Mr. Johnson's 65th birthday anniversary. While a first-day-of issuance city was not announced, it appears likely that this would be Austin, Texas.

The U.S. Postal Service traditionally issues memorial stamps upon the death of Presidents. Issuance of the stamp for President Johnson follows by only three months the issuance of a stamp for President Harry S. Truman, who died December 26, 1972.

CAR TRAVEL TIP

DETROIT (UPI) — Motorists should keep gasoline tanks as close to full as possible, particularly during cold weather driving, auto experts advise. A full tank minimizes moisture condensation in the gasoline which can cause an engine to falter or misfire.

Heart Team Appointed

David R. Decter, Heart Fund Community Chairman for Newton, has announced the names of five local residents who are currently helping in the heart Fund's February drive. They are Mrs. Donald Perrin, special gifts chairman; Norman Aronson, general business chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kaufman, coin box chairmen; and Howard P Strum, treasurer.

Together, they will organize and coordinate the local Heart Fund campaign, raising funds to combat heart and blood vessel diseases which claim the lives of more Americans each year than all other causes combined. Funds raised in the community-wide effort will support the Heart Association's three point program of research, education and community service to the 52 communities served by the Greater Boston Heart Association.

Strum and Mrs. Perrin have both served in many previous Heart Fund drives in various capacities. In addition, Mrs. Perrin is a member of the Board of Directors of the Women's Division of the Greater Boston Heart Association. The other chairmen are offering their services to the Heart Fund drive for the first time.

"I am very pleased that I have the assistance of such concerned individuals and I know that together, we can enlist the support of fellow Newton residents in our fight against heart disease," Decter commented.

For further information about the Heart Association or the Heart Fund drive in Newton, contact the Greater Boston Heart Association, 677 Beacon St., Boston, at 267-4400.

Report-

lower price than that paid by the garage, he noted.

Cohen also found purchases which he termed "unjustifiable," especially of tire chains. The report states the number of chains purchased each year should be fairly constant and predictable, necessitating only a single transaction, but found that last year the city purchased a great deal of "additional" chains.

These purchases were made in March and October. Cohen questioned the need of a supplementary purchase in October. "What happened to the chains purchased in March? They certainly weren't worn out," he stated.

Cohen also delved into the "inadequacy of records."

According to the report, the garage keeps two sets of books. The first contains a list of all items purchased along with the vehicles to which each is allocated. The second book contains a vehicle by vehicle description of the repairs made.

According to Cohen "for some items found in the purchase book as allocated to a certain vehicle, there was no record in the repair book of that item ever having been placed in the designated vehicle."

"Since the repair book is supposed to contain a complete record of all repairs made, one conclusion to be drawn is that the repairs were never done," stated Cohen.

"It might also be claimed that the error was merely clerical," continued the alderman, "but in either case the omissions are inexcusable."

Cohen also claimed that the present system used by the garage makes it almost impossible for an outsider to examine books in order to trace repairs made to a particular vehicle over a period of time.

A recird is kept of repairs to each numbered vehicle, but the designations are changed constantly upon purchase of new vehicles and no indication of the change made in the books.

"When the book indicates repairs made to car No. Four, according to Cohen, "it may refer to several different vehicles, thus making an analysis of the car's performance impossible."

Cohen stated in relating the report that he had communicated his findings to the mayor's office.

"James Salter, administrative aide to the mayor, appeared to be familiar with many of these problems and indicated that some were already in the process of being remedied, he said.

"I hope the findings will be of further help to the mayor in cutting down on waste at the garage," he said.

Prize Goes To Katsenes

League of Voters Plans New Year Study Activities

Members of the Newton League of Women Voters will meet Thursday, Feb. 15 and Friday, Feb. 16 to decide the focus of league action and-or study in the community for next year.

Members are urged to attend one of the meetings to express their opinion on what they would like to see the league do locally. The Thursday evening meeting is from 8 - 10 at the home of Roberta Needleman, 351 Waban Avenue, Waban. The Friday morning meeting is from 9:15 to 11:30 at the Auburndale Congregational Church, 64 Hancock St., Auburndale; babysitting is available at 75 cents per child.

Members will review the local support positions which have emerged from previous studies in education, zoning, planning, charter, fisca, policy, open space and recreation, public health, environmental quality, equality of opportunity, housing and library.

All members have received a booklet of local support positions. They will separate into small groups for the first part of the meeting, each discussing a different section of local support positions. Then they will meet in a large group to shre their recommendations. Should positions be condensed? Should some positions be dropped? Should priorities among positions be decided?

This year the league is conducting a local study of redevelopment, rehabilitation, and conservation of areas of Newton under the leadership of Anita Capeless. Members may decide there is an issue involving current needs and community interest which the league should study next year.

Members might decide to push for moderate and low income housing, or work to preserve our open spaces, or push recycling, or push for community schools, or for a new central library next year.

For more information about the local program planning meetings call Betsy Lewenberg, 332-3671. For information about the league call Marsha Slotnick, 244-6268.

Tech Tourney Fever For Tiger Five

By DAVID CUTLER

The excitement of Tech Tourney play is filling the air at Newton High School. The Tigers still must win two of their three remaining games to qualify for the tournament in Division One South. Suburban League opponents Cambridge Latin and Arlington have already qualified for a berth in Division One North. Teams which win at least 65 per cent of their games enter the Tech Tourney to determine the State Champion.

Newton's chances for a Suburban League Title, which would automatically make them eligible, are small. Recent losses to co-leaders Cambridge Latin and Arlington offset by a single win over Waltham uave brought the Tigers' league record to 10-4 while they are 11-6 overall, a .647 winning percentage.

The Tigers had won eight of their last ten games before they played Cambridge Latin on Friday, February 2. Afterward, they had won eight out of eleven. The biggest factor in the 78-67 decision was Cambridge's 66 points from the floor compared to Newton's 46. Newton held a large foul-shooting edge, but it wasen't enough to make up the difference. The absence of 6'5" leading scorer Pete Laskaris, due to a sprained ankle, hurt the Tigers. The outcome moved Cambridge Latin past Newton and Arlington into first place in the Suburban League.

Laskaris was still out when Newton for a share of the league top spot on Tuesday, February 6. The lead changed hands several times, but Arlington was ahead for most of the second half. The Spy-Ponders led 62-59 before Danny Curtis brought the Tigers to within one with 39 seconds remaining. Mark Wasserman stole the ball in the backcourt, and Newton finally called time-out with 0:24 showing ont eh clock. Newton worked the ball around until Ken Billings threw up a 20-footer with four seconds left. The shot struck the front of the rim and the rebound was batted out of bounds as the game ended. "We were trying to work the ball underneath," said Coach Jerry Phillips, "but we couldn't. We were down much of the game but never gave up." The loss left Newton with only a slim chance for a tie for the Suburban League Crown.

Lowly Waltham gave Newton a start before the Hawks fell 50-34 on Friday, February 4. The Tigers fell behind 9-6 in the first period as they didn't score thei first points until 1:34 was left in the opening segment. Switching from a zone to a man-to-man defense in the second quarter, Newton came alive and took a 22-17 halftime laed. "We just weren't setting up our offense right in the first quarter," said Phillips. The Tigers coasted the rest of the way with everyone seeing action, except Laskaris. Curtis led all scorers with 14 points. Keith Glasser came off the bench to score ten, hitting on every shot.

Two of Newton's last three games are against teams which have beaten them before, Brookline and New Bedford. It is still questionable whether or not Laskaris will be back in the lineup for these games. "How can he play if he hurt?" asks Phillips, who wishes he knew the answer.

Sports at St. Sebastian's

St. Sebastian's high-flying hoop team had its seven - game winning streak snapped, 50-49, in overtime, by lowly New Prep, last week.

The Arrows, 14-3 and in first place in the Private School League's Southern sector, didn't expect much opposition from Prep, 2-10 before the game.

St. Sebastian's took a 28-23 lead at the half, about par for the course for the Arrows who have been starting slowly and then pouring it on in the second half, this year. However, this time, St. Sebastian's went cold, and New Prep came back with 10-9 and 12-8 third and fourth quarter tallys, tying the contest on a short jumper by Kevin Criwell at the buzzer of regulation time.

Benny Allen, who almost single-handedly had carried the Prep offense through the game, tossed in three quick points and the game shifted to Prep, 48-47, for the first time. St. Sebastian's came back for a 49-48 lead and then Allen tapped in a rebound with 10 seconds to go to seal the upset.

Allen bombed in 29 points for the winners, while Phil Coleman, 17 points, and Grady O'Malley, led St. Sebastian's.

For once, the Arrow hockey team enjoyed at least as good a week as the basketball squad.

St. Sebastian's bested Lawrence Academy, 3-2, and fell to Thayer, 6-3, to leave its record at 6-11-1 on the year.

The win over Lawrence has to rate as one of the most satisfying of the year. Kevin White scored on a rebound shot with just 50 seconds remaining with assists going to Bill Eagan and Mike LeDoux after Lawrence had vounced back from a 2-1 deficit earlier in the period.

Bob Devaney and LeDoux collected the first two St. Sebastian's goals after Lawrence went up 1-0 at 2:29 of the second stanza.

Thayer's powerful 14-1 club bombarded Arrow netminder Tom Foley with 53 shots, and he stopped 47 of them, but the six he let by were more than enough.

White, Devaney, and Dave Gately registered the goals for the losers.

Newton High Wrestlers Succeed Despite Injuries; Record 9-4-1

By DAVID CUTLER

Success despite adversity is often sought but seldom forseen. Injuries, sickness and the academic calliosus of certain members of the squad severly crippled this year's Tiger Wrestling team. Nevertheless, Norm Walker's grapplers have fought their way to a 9-4-1 season. Only four Newton wrestlers have been able to compete in all 14 matches for one reason or another. This situation has resulted in 22 Tiger grapplers getting the opportunity to participate in varsity competition.

Retaining the Suburban League Crown was not a part of Newton's success this season. Within an eight day span they faced league toughies Brockton, Weymouth North, and Brookline. The Tigers eliminated themselves from title contention by winning only one of those matches.

Newton hosted Brockton on Friday, January 19. The match was close all the way and the outcome rested on the final bout. Newton's heavyweight, Marc Bordieri, had only wrestled in two previous varsity matches. He stepped onto the mats with NHS leading 27-24. His opponents greater experience showed as he pinned "Bo" and won the match for Brockton 30-27. "We should have beaten them," said an upset Walker.

Teh Tigers bounced right back against a tough Weymouth North team the following Tuesday, January 23. Newton notched a 29-25 victory to boost their league record to 2-1.

Brookline provided the opposition on Friday, January 26. The two teams battled to a 27-27 tie. The result left Newton with a 2-1-1 mark; behind Brookline (2-0-1), Brockton (2-1-0), and Weymouth North (2-1-0).

The Tigers met perennially strong Wayland on Friday, February 2. They were whipped 37-25 and the non-league loss dropped their overall record to 6-4-1.

Newton was victorious in its final three matches of the season. The results were a combination of overcoming early season misfortune and applying the experience gained in earlier meets.

Malden was trampled by the Tigers on Saturday, February 3, 43-11. Newton beat Weymouth South 46-9 in the final Suburban League match on Friday, February 9. And on thd following day Newton High School concluded its schedule with a 32-21 win over Stoughton. Bordieri's pin in the heavyweight class clinched the victory.

Even though Newton did not win the Suburban League Championship Coach Walker saw it as a very rewarding season. "There were a lot of adverse conditions," said Walker, "and we came out o it all with a great season. Close to an outstanding season."

Although the team has finished its regular season, there is still more wrestling to come. The Sectionals and State Tournaments are coming up to determine the individual champions. Newton's best chances lie with George Hebard, John Womboldt, Randy Wilson, and Tony D'Amico. "Michael Bates or one of our co-captains, Mark DeWolfe or Dave Egelson could be a surprise," added Walker.

Newton High Hockey Team Having A Poor Season On Ice; Record Is 2-12

By DAVID CUTLER

The end of one of the most dismal hockey seasons in Newton High School history is coming to a long - awaited end. NHS has been victorious in only two of fifteen contests to date. Five times the Tigers have held third period ties or leads, only to lose the contest. They have been outscored 64-34.

Newton has come quite close to pulling off a few big upsets over the past few weeks. Brookline edged NHS 2-1 on Wednesday, January 24. The Indians broke a 1-1 tie in the third period to hand the Tigers their seventh defeat in ten outings.

Arlington dropped Newton 6-2 on Saturday, January 27. The decision was close considering the 9-0 beating Newton was dealt the last time the two teams met.

Another upset was within the Tiger's grasp against undefeated Waltham on January 31. Newton High relinquished a 2-1 third period lead as they fell 4-2 to the Suburban League leaders.

For a team with Newton's record to tie is a victory. But even this is a rareity. Newton was knotted 0-0 with Weymouth North on Saturday, February 3 with only 1:18 left in the game. A deflected shot from in close and an empty net goal with seven seconds remaining put the Tigers on the short end again, 2-0. "It's a game of mistakes," said Coach Jim Ronayne. "Right now everyone is scoring on our mistakes."

On Tuesday, February 6, Newton travelled to Hingham. The Tigers hung tough for two periods, but fell 3-1. Newton High School's record was now 2-11-1.

The Tigers had hopes vor their first win in five games against 1-11-1 Weymouth South on Saturday, February 10. These hopes were dashed decisively as Newton's defense returned to its porous practices in allowing six goals. The 6-2 decision drew Newton to within three points of cellar - dwelling Rindge Tech.

The misfortunes which have plagued Newton High's skaters this year exist off the ice as well. Coach Ronayne has a case of the flu which has forced him to miss school for the first time in fourteen years. 'When you're hot you're hot, and when you're not you're not,' Newton High School's Hockey Team is ice cold.

Boston College Sports

By LEWIS H. FREEDMAN
Asst. Sports Editor

Keith Francis runs with the power and speed of an express train and the Boston College freshman does it with the same effortless smoothness. Like the train, you know there's no need to worry. He'll get there, alright, and he'll get there first, to boot.

Francis is a widely-praides running phenom who won the New England schoolboy championship in the half-mile last spring before moving his place of residence from New Bedford to Chestnut Hill.

He has a lot to do with the fact that the Eagle track team was 7-1 in dual meets before the Greater Boston Collegiates, last weekend. For one thing, the muscular yearling had recorded the time of 2:09.3 in the 1000-yard run, one of the fastest in the country this year, and one of the fastest times ever by a freshman.

Francis was out to better that mark, last Saturday, on Harvard's swift tartan-covered board track. There didn't seem to be anyone around to challenge him.

Bob Clayton is like Francis in a few ways and not so alike him in some other ways. They are both black, wear their hair in big Afros, and they are both very fast. Clayton had never approached 2:09.3 in the 1000, and in fact was expected to compete in the 600. He is slender while Francis is broad, and he runs for Harvard, which has a large stable of runners, so he is not nearly as publicized as Francis.

There is also one thing which sportswriters tend not to notice about Bob Clayton because he doesn't consistently record fast time. But Clayton might be the gutsiest, best clutch runner New England has ever known. When the gun went off Francis immediately sprinted to the fromt of the pack. Clayton was one step behind him. The other runners quickly separated into a pack of their own perhaps two yards behind.

Francis chuggged along, looking huge as he pounded around the tight curves of the indoor oval. Clayton ran on his shoulder one step behind him. The gun signaled the last lap and they still strode together, Clayton running as a shadow. The order was the same as they sped around the final curve into the last straightaway. Clayton ran wide and pulled even They matched strides down the stretch, 20 yards, 10. Clayton inched ahead and strained into the tape winning clearly, his margin two feet.

Clayton instantaneously threw up his arms and broke into a wild victory dance, jumping up and down in place and stamping his feet with his knees raised high.

The time was 2:08. The time for Francis was 2:08.1. They are the two fastest times in the country this year.

Boston College got 33 points in all in the meet, to place third behind Harvard's amazing 120 and Northeastern's 49.

The Eagles' highest finish besides Francis' second was third place. Freshman long-jumper Dan Mahoney was third and Charley Diehl was third in the two-mile.

—o—

Boston College's sixth-ranked nationally hockey team blew a three-goal lead with seven minutes left to play and was extended to overtime before eking out a 9-8 victory over Northeastern in the first round of the Beanpot.

BC had an 8-5 lead and seemed secure. But NU blasted in three quick scores to send the game into a sudden death period.

It took a goal at 6:53 of the extra session by Mike Powers, his record-tying fifth score of the night, to avert a disaster.

Jimmy Doyle added two goals and Rick Smith, four, and Bob Reardon, three, cleaned up on the assist count.

The Eagles (14-4) had similar difficulty in dispatching a persistent Dartmouth team. It took some doing, though, as BC had to rebound from a 4-2 deficit to hang up a 6-5 win. Ed Kenty, who got the gamewinner, and Smith, each netted two goals.

—o—

BC's troubled basketball team was slaughtered by Massachusetts, 76-52, before burying Merrimack, 106-70, last week. That schizophrenic action left BC's mark at 8-11.

The UMass game is best forgotten, though freshman Bob Carrington from Archbishop Williams hit for double figures with 10 points in only his second varsity game. Forward Dan Killcullen was the leading Eagle point-getter with 14.

The Merrimack contest was simply a romp over a team which was playing out of its league. Mark Ratterink, 18 points, Carrington, 15, and Dave Walker, 14, were the high point men, although 14 players scored.

Ask Governor To Reconsider Council Position

Satate Representative Paul Guzzi said this week he has joined other legislators in requesting Governor Francis Sargent to reconsider curtailing the powers of the Consumers Council.

Under the Sargent reorganization plan, Guzzi said, the council would no longer be authorized to intervene formally on behalf of the public at rate hearings and in service cases concerning consumer complaints.

"The public needs an effective, independent advocate within state government," Guzzi stated in a letter to the governor. "Your suggestion that the Department of Public Utilities and the Insurance Administration will adequately represent the public interest before a new Administrative Court suggests either a misguided optimism or an unfortunate decision to eliminate the articulation of the public interest in important regulatory proceedings."

"Many citizens have worked energetically to overcome the pattern of regulators deferring to powerful special interests," the letter went on to say. "The Consumers Council is a powerful weapon in this fight to make the regulator responsive to the public."

Guzzi said if the governor did not alter his plan, the legislature would move to restore the council's power.

Our Lady's Basketball

What can you say about a basketball team which has forgotten how to lose? That it's lucky? That it's good? That maybe it's a combination of the two? Maybe.

Our Lady's, which has been trying to shake off a horrendous start, last week, recorded its fourth and fifth straight victories. And there was no luck involved. The Lancers smashed Sacred Heart of Weymouth, 81-55, and tumbled Gate of Heaven, 73-47.

The Lancers built an eight - point first period lead, and watched that margin move to nine, 40-31 at the half. Sacred Heart stayed at about that deficit for most of the third quarter, but then Our Lady's exploded with a 22-10 spurt in the fourth quarter to settle the issue. The Lancers at one time led by 20 points.

Al Gentile topped the Our Lady's scoring column with 16 points, Peter Sullivan fired in 15 points, and Andy and Danny Coletti eached notched 11 points as all 12 players on the team scored.

Our Lady's upped its season's slate to 11-6 by crushing Gate of Heaven. The Lancers were never threatened as they raced out to a 41-22 halftime lead, and frosted the cake with a 26-point fourth quarter explosion.

Gate of Heaven made a brief run in the third quarter when the Lancers bench was in, but the seven points it gained were quickly negated by the fourth quarter splurge.

Gary Bearfield and Sullivan each tallied 14 points and Dan Coletti chipped in with 12.

South High Track

Newton South High, which finished last during the regular dual meet Dual County League track season with an 0-7 record, totaled just four points in the league's championship meet, last week, but placed one point ahead of Lincoln-Sudbury.

Co-captain Jack Ferreri recorded his fastest time of the season to place third in the 600-yard run and register three of the points. Ferreri, a consistent winner all year, was clocked in 1:20 for the run.

Barry Kaplan, who was a double winner four times in the shot-put and hurdles for South, earned the other point with a fifth place finish in the shot-put.

Acton-Boxboro, undefeated in seven meets during the regular campaign, captured seven of the 10 events to romp in the team race. Acton piled up 61½ points to runnerup Concord-Carlisle's 31.

Individual winners were: Westwood's Jim Kelly, who broke his own league standard in the two-mile with a 9:42.2 timing; Concord's Joe Dinardo, 4:40 in the mile, and Concord's Bill Hagfors, who won the 300 in 34.2. All the other events were won by Acton-Boxboro. Darryl Schwartz was victorious in the 600 in 1:19.3, Bob Churchill triumphed in the daxh in 4.7, Ray Shuttle won the jurdles in 6.0, Don Putname took the 1000 in 2:25.2, Steve Williams hurled the shot, 51-2½, Al Lesure copped the high jump with a leap of 5-11, and Acton won the relay in 2:31.7.

Rezzuti Not Drafted By Professionals

Tom Rezzuti, a two-time Little All American defensive back from Northeastern University and Newton South (1969) was not among the 442 college players selected in the recent National Football League draft.

Rezzuti, who has completed four of his five years at NU, and his eligibility, set a New England record for career interceptions this fall with 27. He was also a punt return specialist for the Huskies

South Six Is Blanked By Acton-Boxboro

Nobody really expected Newton South to beat Acton-Boxboro, but people did think that the Lions might give the Colonials a game, if only because they put on a decent show against Wayland a week earlier.

South got beat, 4-0, so it had no goals and no assists, and the Lions came dangerously and embarassingly close to being held shotless. South managed just four shots on the Acton net.

Chip Hagey's goal and two assists led the way as the Colonials, tied for first in the Dual County League, and ranked second in the Eastern Massachusetts Division II listings, proved that they are not an over-rated bunch.

Mike Bradley started things off with a goal at 55 seconds of the first period and Acton added one more in the first stanza and one each in the last two periods of play.

South, 3-7-2, ut9lized senior Jim Caruso and sophomore Dave Satter in the nets and each allowed two goals. Acton-Boxboro is 11-1

Library Features Businessmen With Memories of Newton Past

The Newton Free Library's Second Centennial Program featuring a panel discussion and brief talks on "The Newton Business Scene - Then and Now" will be held at Centre branch, 1294 Centre Street, Newton Centre, Feb. 25, 1973.

Talks on individual businesses will be given by Carl Alvord, Donald Frail, Philip Minervino, Thomas J. Murphy, Earl Quint and Howard Strum, and will include a discussion about the growth and development of pharmacies, a newspaper, bank, florist shop and a wine company.

A panel discussion on Newton business and industry, moderated by Victor A. Nicolazzo, includes Weston E. Draper, Jr., Lewis B. Songer and Keith Willoughby as panelists.

Carl Alvord of Newton Centre owned and ran the Alvord Pharmacy from 1944 until 1966 when he sold it to his son Mr. Donald Frail, first employed by the Newton Sacings Bank in 1924, went on to become a corporator, vice-treasurer and manager of the Newton office and in 1967 became manager of the Newtonville office and remained there until his retirement in June, 1971.

Mr. Philip Minervino of Weston, owner of the Lower Falls Wine Company, will share information on the company's growth since it was founded after the end of prohibition in 1933.

Mr. Thomas J. Murphy, managing editor of the News Tribune, began his career as a high school reporter; went on to become sports editor, city editor and has been the managing editor since 1943.

Mr. Earl Quint of Quint's Florist Shop will recalls earning his first dollar planting tulip bulbs when he was six years old. His father Harry Quint founded the business in Boston in 1896 and moved to Newton in 1932.

The sixth guest, Mr. Howard Strum of Waltham, vice-president of the Newton-Waltham Bank in Newton Centre began his employment as a clerk in 1940. Today the bank is the largest commercial bank in the community according to Mr. Strum.

The panelists will include Victor A. Nicolazzo, moderator, president of Bigelow Oil Company and Bigelow Realty and former president of the Chamber of Commerce and Lewis B. Songer, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce since 1966 and 1972 president of the Massachusetts Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives, who will speak on commercial and educational aspects of business.

Also on the panel are Weston E. Draper, Jr., personnel director of Norton Metals Division and 1971-1972 chairman of the Personnel Council of the Chamber of Commerce, speaking on industry and Keith Willoughby, executive vice president of Newton Savings Bank and a member of the Mayor's financial advisory committee. Mr. Willoughby will speak on banking, real estate and insurance.

At the end of the program the floor will be open to questions from the public.

"The Newton Business Scene - Then and Now," the library's second in a series of 12 centennial programs, is shaping up to be a lively and informative afternoon. Plan to attend on Sunday, Feb. 25 at 3 p.m. at the Newton Centre Branch Library.

Explorers' Exposition Set For Wellesley Gym

The Norumbega Council's Exploring Division will hold an Exposition at the Wellesley High School gym from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Mar. 3.

Thirty explorer posts from Newton, Wellesley and Weston will show their projects and exploring displays.

Indian dances and costumes, medical displays, snowmobiling, mountaineering, cross country skiing equipment, ten speed bikes, photography and operational computer terminals supplied by Honeywell data processing are a few of the exhibits to entertain and educate the entire family

Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and may be obtained from explorers throughout the community or at the Norumbega Council Service Center, 2044 Beacon St., Waban.

Needlepoint to Belly Dancing

The Dedham Community House announces that it will be offering three new courses this Spring.

The new courses being offered are: Japanese Flower Arrangement taught by Mrs. Fusako M. Grant of Dover. A native Japanese and licensed instructor of the ancient art, Fusako's teaching will center on how to create the simple, classic arrangements of Japan with flowers, branches and other natural materials brought to the classes by her students.

This will be a 10-week, 2-hour course to be held on Tuesday afternoons at 12:45 p.m. Starting date will be March 13. The class will be limited to 10 people.

Designs in Needlepoint — Needlepoint classes will consist of learning approximately two dozen basic needlepoint and bargello stitches. The course from beginning to end includes designing through blocking and finishing.

This course will be taught by Mrs. Donna Gould of Needham and will be held on Tuesday mornings, starting March 6, 9:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. for 10 weeks. Classes will be limited.

And the third new course to be offered is Red Cross Standard First Aid Course—This course is designed to provide the fundamental principle knowledge and skills of first-aid and accident prevention. It prepares persons to care for most injuries and to meet most emergencies when medical assistance is not excessively delayed.

We are holding these classes to enableGirl Scout leaders and other interested persons to complete their basic requirements before the camping season begins. There is no charge for the 10-hour course except for your bandages and first aid book. The course will start in April. Exact date and time will be announced later. Anyone interested should call the Community House.

Carpentry—A woodworking class for children, 6-12 years of age will be starting a new 8-week session on Monday, February 26, at 3:30 p.m. In March, new classes will be starting as follows; Tuesday, March 13 at 3:30 and 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 14 at 3:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 28 at 4:30 p.m. and Friday, March 9, at 3:30. Anyone interested in having their child participate in any of the above classes, should call the Community House so that their name may be added to the list for that particular class.

Furniture Refinishing and Repairing—In this course, you will learn the professional touch for refinishing any type of furniture. New 8-week sessions will begin Monday, March 26, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.and the Monday evening, March 5, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Ballet and Tap [illegible] Acrobatics—The second 15-week session started Jan. 27. There are presently no openings available. However, we will take names of children interested in taking the next session starting in September.

George Peppard Lets His Guard Down

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPIK( — George Peppard, who stars at "Banacek," has more in common with his television characterization than short hair, a fondness for the same brand of cigars and a firm belief in beautiful women.

Both have a paucity of small talk. Peppard, like Banacek, is unmarried and keeps to himself whenever possible.

Unlike the fictional sleuth, Peppard does not live alone.

At the moment, his children by his first marriage—Bradford, 17, and Julie, 13—share his 11-room home in Coldwater Canyon. He also is visited by son Christian, 4, by his second marriage.

A full-time, live-in housekeeper does the cooking and tends to the necessary chores, which include feeding Peppard's two dogs, Rebel and Fred.

Both drive their normally placid master to distraction by digging under the fence and running off to Sunset Boulevard to play in traffic.

The house itself is an odd combination of Cape Cod and California ranch style, using the best of both—beamed ceilings and natural stone walls.

There is a swimming pool, of course, which George customarily ignres unless Brad and Julie are taking a dip.

A special room is set aside for Peppard's work bench. The son of a Detroit building contractor, George does most of the handiwork around the house, repairing furniture, replacing windows and patching plaster.

When prevailed upon by his youngsters, George will barbecue hamburgers or steak, but he is not the domestic sort and prefers to entertain on a somewhat grander scale.

Hosts Many

Many Saturday nights will find him playing host for as many as 20 friends at a dinner. More frequently, however, his parties are for a dozen or fewer acquaintances.

Until this season Peppard made rare television appearances. He was a novie star and content enough.

But distant locations became more and more common, making strangers of his children. For that reason he decided to accept the weekly NBC series.

"It amounts to working seven days a week for five months a year," Peppard says ruefully. "When you're not actually at the studio working, you spend Saturday and Sunday at home poring over the script."

In many ways the actor is a non-conformist. Only two years ago Peppard was as fashion conscious as any man in show business. Today he is weary of the constant change in modish men's wear.

He has a dozen jump suits of various colors which he wears almost all the time—as opposed to the well-dressed Banacek.

"I quit trying to buy the proper clothes one day when my tailor was measuring me for a new suit," Peppard says, "when he told me the vents in the back of the jacket were five inches deeper than the previous year. That did it. Since then I've considered clothing a lot of nonsense."

Long an avid hunter and fisherman, Peppard hasn't had time to indulge in these passtimes since the series began. Instead, he must content himself with the tennis matches he sets up with friends.

He is proud of his home, recently having redecorated it throughout in browns and greens. The furniture is informal and comfortable. So is George Peppard once he lets his guard down.

Property Taxpayers Hit by Sargent's Budget, Says MTF

It appears Governor Sargent balanced his fiscal 1974 budget at the expense of local property taxpayers.

A quick analysis of the budget summaries indicates that the cities and towns in fiscal 1974 will not receive some $80 to $100 million of local aid to which they are entitled.

Whether the state intends to cancel or merely postpone local aid obligations we are not told.

No explanation is available for the drop in distributions of state collected taxes based on sales tax collections.

It has been stated that proposed formula changes, which need legislative approval, will reduce monies for regional schools, school transportation and school building assistance.

The message does not explain the disappearance of $10.7 million of highway assistance known as Chapter 81 and 90.

The proposed slowdown in the state spending spiral and the promised benefits of reorganization are welcome news.

But the public should not be misled by the Governor's claim of a 1.9 percent increase in the fiscal 1974 budget.

This is a fallacious comparison of fiscal 1974 recommendations to actual fiscal 1973 appropriations. And it assumes the Leislature will approve the entire $200 million deficiency budget submitted just last week.

By making a proper comparison of 1973 recommendations to 1974 recommendations, the fiscal 1974 budget is up by 13.4 percent.

Perhaps of even more significance is that the fiscal 1974 budget recommendation is nearly $400 million more than was actually spent in fiscal 1972 that closed this past June 30.

The Governor's message says there will be no supplementary or deficiency appropriations for fiscal 1974 which is, at best, questionable in light of past experience.

Christian Culture Lecture By Psychology Professor

Dr. Rollo May, Professor of Psychology at New York University, will be the next speaker in the Christian Culture Lecture Series at John Hancock Hall, 180 Berkeley street, Boston, on Monday evening March 5, at 8:15, speaking on the topic, "The Courage to Create."

Rollo May, a noted psychoanalyst, is a supervisory and training analyst at the William A. White Institute of Psychiatry, Psychology and Psychoanalysis in New York. He has lectured at Yale, Princeton, Harvard, and the University of California in San Diego.

Dr. May is the author of many books, articles and scientific papers. His books include "Art of Counseling," the award-winning "Love and Will," "Symbolism in Religion and Literature," and his latest book is entitled "Power and Innocence." He recently received the Award for Distinguished Contribution to the Science and Profession of Clinical Psychology given by the American Psychological Association.

Tickets may be obtained at John Hancock Hall of lecture night or by contacting Father Robert F. Quinn, C.S.P., P.O. Box 8579, J.F.K. Station, Boston 02114; telephone 523-6083.

Antique Show In Dedham On Saturday

Over 250,000 items from China, Japan, Russia, Italy France, Germany, Africa and the New World will attract buyers and browers to the Dedham Antiques Show and Sale of the month to be held next Sunday, Feb. 18, from 1 to 9 p.m. at the Motel 128, Elm street, Dedham.

Sonia Paine of Chestnut Hill has selected the 55 nationally known antiques exhibitors from the New England states, Pennsylvania and New York.

Parking is no problem, free on the spacious grounds of the motel.

A portion of the proceeds ($1.25 admission) will go to historical groups of Norfolk County.

Industry sources report that over 90 per cent of all face yarn in carpet today is synthetic, with nylon leading in over half the fibers.

South Gymnastic Team Rolls On

Newton South's streaking gymnastics team ripped off its fifth and sixth consecutive victories, last week, by blasting Weymouth South and Weymouth North in a tri-meet, 88.15 to 85.95 to 78.10.

The wins insure the Lions of their first winning campaign in history and leave open the possibility for a bid to the state team championships later this month.

Senior Mark Taricano, who has been on a tear lately, copped the side horse and the parallel bars to propel the Lions. Taricano, who has developed into a top-flight performer in a number of events, also added points in the long horse vault, third, the floor excercise, fifth and the still rings, sixth.

South also notched firsts in the horizontal bar and the rings. Co-captain Bruce King won the former and Jay Levine took the latter. Levine collected a third place in the horizontal bar as well.

Co-captain Gary Framson was another big point-getter for the Lions. He earned seconds in the long horse vault and floor exercise and also contributed a fifth place in the parallel bars.

Mark Forte's second in the side horse, John Pershe's tie for fifth in the side horse, Joe Duggan's sixth in the horizontal bar, and Barry Stone's tie for sixth in the parallel bars, rounded out South's scoring.

The double win upped South's season record to 6-2 after two opening losses and if the Lions can beat Wellesley and Lexington this week then they will advance to the state teams championships for the first time.

Steeves Happy

Coach Tom Steeves, who has been the gymnasts' leader since the team was started at Newton South back in 1968 on a club basis, is enthusiastic about his team's chances.

"This is our best season," he said, "and it's probably our best group of guys, though we are a bit thin. The match with Lexington (tomorrow, 3:15 p.m. at South) should tell it all.

"We've been thin," he repeated, "but junior Dave Williams is back in the lineup now since he injured his shoulder on the rings. Our co-captains Bruce King and Gary Framson, and Mark Taricano, who is in five events now, have been doing a tremendous job, and Joe Duggan has come along and is scoring regularly."

Unfortunately, King, Framson, and Taricano, South's biggest scorers, are all seniors, ans Steeves, who has performed the task before, will aave to start all over again next winter.

"Yep," he said, "we'll have to start from scratch again. You just have to live with it and try to do it all the time within the system. We always have a few good kids, though — we always get some kids in the state individuals."

"One of the problems we face," he continued, "is that we compete against some four-year high schools. They have an extra year of development on us. An exception to this is Lincoln-Sudbury, which started a program just three years ago, but which has very good teams now. They've gone into it big with summer programs and all."

So next year, Steeves will be starting all over again, but what rankles him is that he will be starting off with kids who come up knowing nothing, their only experience being in gym class.

"If the junior highs had a program," Steeves said, "we would be much better off. I would like it if ninth graders could compete with us, but there's a problem in that, too, where the kids don't identify with the high school very much and they are a little apprehensive about coming over with older kids who they don't know. It's much better if they have their own season. If you'll look at the best teams in hte state you'll see that they all have either four-year programs or junior high programs. You need that development."

South Hoopsters Bow 63-47

By LEWIS H. FREEDMAN
Asst. Sports Editor

It was not a game worth waiting for, though for 16 minutes of play it looked like it could have been.

Newton South had one week to prepare for the Dual County League's second place basketball team, but even the extra rest and overtime psyching didn't halp the Lions outpoint Lincoln-Sudbury. The Warriors utilized a second-half outburst to overcome the Lions 63-47, at South.

The clubs played the first quarter to a standstill as an inspired South quintet puayed a good floor game to make the score read 14-14.

The Lions really warmed up in the second period, doing some of their best shooting of the year. Captain Ned Moan and center Rich Spector hit from far and near, respectively, as South left the floor at theintermission ahead 34-30.

Whatever happened in the locker room during the break wasn't to South's benefit. The Lions returned to the court and made the fans wonder who the team playing in orange and blue in the first half really was.

The Lions tallied just nine points in the third period and for an encore registered four points in the final period. That awesome offensive display, coupled with the awakening of Lincoln's two big guns, Joe Mewborn and Charlie Woodson, did the Lions in.

Lincoln, now 10-6, got 22 points from Woodson and 15 from Mewborn.

South was paced by Moan's 16 points and Spector's 15 markers.

When the two teams met on January 9, Lincoln prevailed, 67-43. This meeting was won at the foul lime. Both teams made 21 field goals, bur Lincoln outpointed South, 21-5 from the line. The Lions have four games remaining this year. This week's schedule features first place Bedford, which has already qualified for the state tournament, and Concord-Carlisle.

South, 3-9 in the League, and 4-10 overall, then wraps up its season with a home game versus Weston and a road game against Acton-Boxboro.

South Grapplers Lose, Tie

Newton South High's slumping wrestling team, at one time 7-0-1, continued its present losing streak by dropping a 30-26 desicion to Stoughton, and by being tied, 27-27 by Ashland, last week.

South had to come - from - behind to even get a tie with Ashalnd as Haskell Kingston at 187 pounds, and heavyweight John Staulo picked up nine points in the last two individual match - ups. Kingston scored a pin and if Staulo had duplicated that feat the Lions would have pulled out the match. Staulo won convincingly, 110-0, but just couldn't flatten his opponent.

Paul Linn, 7-5 at 100 pounds, and Mike Schockett, 10-1 at 107 pounds, gave the Lions the early lead, but after that the victories were far apart.

Pete Anthony (114), Steve Cramer (121), Peter Nathanson (128) all lost decisions before Rich Hymen pulled out a 10-9 match at 134 pounds.

Art Murphy (140), Dave Berkowitz (147), snd Brian Corcoran (157) all lost consecutively before Mike McDonald won a 5-1 decision in the 167-pound category.

Aaron Moynahan was topped at 177 pounds and that left the catch - up game in the hands of Kingston and Staulo, who came through.

Mike McDonald, the Lions' only remaining unbeaten grappler, missed the Stoughton match and coach Aredis Kojoyian's juggling of the lineup didn't help as the wrestlers were edged.

Linn, 10-0, Schockett, by pin, Hyman, by pin, and Berkowitz, 5-1, more than offset Stoughton's efforts over the first eight matches, to give the Lions an 18-15 lead. But South dropped three key matches in a row after that in the higher weights and even an 11-0 decision by Peter Maples at 187 pounds, and a 2-0 triumph by Staulo in the unlimited class couldn't save them.

Corcoran, Moynahan, and Kingston absorbed the losses. South, now 8-3-2 on the year, has matches left with Concord - Carlisle and Leominster before the Eastern Sectionals begin.

Knights Beat Williams; Bomb Xaverian Bros.

This past week the "72-"73 Catholic Memorial basketball team moved to within one game of its 11th Catholic Conference title. First the team traveled to Braintree and, with the help of clutch free throws, beat Williams 63-54. Then they played host to Xaverian and bombed them off the court to leave only Arlington Catholic between them and the Conference title.

Edge Williams

It is always a tough game for the Knights when they play at Williams. The Knights started slow being down 4-0 with 6:00 left, but soon found the handle and exploded. In the following six minutes the Knights outscored Williams 21-2 to take a 21-6 first quarter lead.

The Knights continued to play well as they increased their leads to 20 at the half, leading 42-22.

The third saw the Knights go cold scoring only nine points, but still held a 18 point lead going into the fourth.

At the start of the fourth, Mike Vicens fouled out and Tim Skagga picked up his fourth foul. Williams came back and, with 1:00 left were within six at 58-52. Nine seconds later it was four. Then 22 seconds elapsed and finally the Bishops fouled Joe O'Brien.

With 28 seconds showing on the clock Joe stepped to the line and converted on both of his free throws. Then with 20 Vicens had 14, and Bill Griffiths converted one of his foul shots to increase the lead to seven.

Billy then put the icing on the cake, sinking two more with eight seconds to make the final C.M. 63, Williams 54.

Top scorer for the Knights was Ronnie Perry who had 16, while Joe O'Brien and Mike Vicens had 14, abd Bill Griffiths had 13.

Bomb Xaverian

The last time these two teams met the game was as, Johnny Most says, a barn burner. But this time the Knights took off quickly and were never caught. Great performances by Joe O'Brien, Bill Griffiths, Ronnie Perry, and Tim Skaggs enabled the Knights to empty the bench.

The Knights took an 18-10 first quarter leas and stretched it to 38-24 at halftime. Going from 14 to a 20 point lead the Knights fast breaked and went out to a 53-33 lead. From here the bench took over and the Knights coasted to a 76-57 win.

Scorers for Memorial were Bill Griffiths with 17, Joe O'Brien had 16, and Ronnie Perry had 15, Tim Skaggs, Joe O'Brien and Mike Vicens dominated the boards with 18, 13, and 11 respectively.

This Friday at Arlington Catholic the title will be on the line. Win the game and the Knights have No. 11, and the title may be lost.

Xaverian High Skaters Edged By Memorial 4-3

BY PAUL BROOKS

The Xaverian Hawks came out on the short end last Wednesday the seventh as they were just edged by Catholic Memorial, 4-3. They played a great game, forchecking and backchecking well and a couple of bad breaks in the first period hurt them. The first one came when someone centered it, it hit the C.M. goalie and was sitting between his legs as he was standing up. Bob Tumiski poked it in, but the ref said he had blown his whistle.

Another one was when the C.M. goalie had just made a save, the puck popped out, and John McGourty flipped it in. Once again the ref said he blew his whistle.

The break started going in favor of the Hawks, as Bob Tumiski capitilized on a beautiful play. John McGourty was in with him, and when McGourty got the puck, he drew the goalie towards him, and flipped a pass to Tumiski who had a wide n net to make the score 1-0. That was the only goal of the first period as Xaverian outshot Memorial, 7-5.

Xaverian's hard work got them another goal at 40 seconds of the period, Mike Levangie getting it, his first of the year. Levangie got a pass while standing at the right point, from Jim Menne who was near the right boards. When Levangie got it, he faked a shot, shifted around a C.M. player, and drove it into the upper corner. Bob Tumiski broke in all alone on the Memorial goaltender, faked him out and drilled one home to make the score 3-0 in favor of Xaverian.

Catholic Memorial capitalized with 48 seconds left in the period, on a tip-in goal for a 3-1 score.

The shots on net were even at 7 in the second period, as Xaverian goalie, Bob Anderson, playing an exceptional game, had stopped 11 out of C.M.'s 12 shots.

The third period no sooner started, than C.M. started shooting a lot, and Bob Andrson was equal to the task most of the time, but three managed to get by him, all on rebounds. C.M. captain Kevin Young got one of the three goals (the tying one), as Memorial had twelve shots on Bob Anderson, who totalled twenty saves out of 24 shots.

Have Confidence

"Those two bad breaks in the first period is what did it", said coach Charlie McCarthy. "What can I say, you guys just played great out there; Bob (Anderson, the goalie) you played an exceptional game," McCarthy continued. The Hawks record is now 6-6-2, and John McGourty said "We're going to be 10-6-2 when the year ends." The coach has great confidence in his team as he was quoted "We'll beat B.C. High, and we'll be the only team in the league to knock off Matignon twice. If you play the rest of the games like you played tis, our record is sure to be 10-6-2. Just don't give up."

Service News

Staff Sergeant Stephen H. Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Stark, 21 Claflin Pl., Newtonville, was a crewmember on one of the U.S. Air Force aircraft used to airlift critically needed food and medical supplies into Nicaragua after the capital city of Managua was devastated by an earthquake just before Christmas.

Sergeant Stark was loadmaster on a C-141 Starlifter from the Military Airlift Command's (MAC) 438th Military Airlift Wing at McGuire AFB, N.J.

MAC Starlifters and giant C-5 Galaxy aircraft airlifted more than two million pounds of food, water, medical supplies and heavy equipment into the country during the first two days of the relief effort.

On the return flights, the aircraft evacuated approximately 400 U.S. citizens.

Stark has served in Thailand and is a 1957 graduate of Holderness High School, Plymouth, N.H.

His wife is the former Judy I. Murphy.

Navy Airman James C. Merriam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Merriam of 67 Arlington St., and husband of the former Miss Dorothea Norris of 385 Linwood avenue, all of Newton, has completed the recruit phase of the Navy's "Four to Ten Month" active duty program at MKILLINGTON, Tenn.

He will complete the remainder of his active duty training lasting from four to 10 months, at a specialized aviation school.

Merriam is a former student at Newton Junior College.

An Easter Sunday special on ABC April 22 will be "Portrait: A Man Named John," a one-hour drama starring Raymond ("Ironside") Burr based on a true incident in the life of Angelo Roncalli when the then archbishop was papal nuncio in Turkey during World War II. Later, he became Pope John XXIII.

First Lady Of Tennis

A combination 86th birthday celebration for Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, "Americ's first lady of tennis," and the Pine Manor Tennis Camp Reunion was held recently at the Charles River Tennis and Health Club in Newton Centre.

Mrs. Wightman, who has won more than 40 tournaments in her tennis career, teaches beginners fundamentals of the game at the Pine Manor Tennis Cap summer sessions.

The reunion evening included three hours of tennis, both singles and doubles, for the young campers with their counselors, parents, and friends.

In addition, there was a tennis exhibition by the Tennis Camp's head coach, Jack Dunmead of Brockton and top-ranking professional players Clarke Taylor of Sherborn, Len Fisher of Newton, and Sumner Rodman of Newton.

Pine Manor Tennis Camp Directors, Dr. Sydney Brass and Mr. George Volpe, both of Newton, announced the 1973 program. The first four-week session will run from June 25 to July 20 and the second session will run from July 23 to august 17.

The week-long adult clinics will be held June 11 to 15 and June 18 to 22. Private instruction is available on request. For further details write or call Dr. Brass or Mr. Volpe at Pine Manor Tennis Camp, 400 Heath Street, Chestnut Hill, Ma 02167, (617) 731-7000

Catholic Memorial High School News

OPEN HOUSE

Catholic Memorial's most successful Open House was held at the school last Sunday afternoon, February 11, with over 600 prospective candidates and their parents in attendance.

Guests were greeted at the door by members of the National Honor Society who distributed brochures for the day's events and name tags. Paul Rufo, President of the National Honor Society and Student Chairman for the Open House served as Master of Ceremonies. Mr. Christopher H. Jackson, Vice Principal, introduced the faculty and Br. William S. Henry, Headmaster shared some general reflections about the school. James Reilly, newly elected President of the Student Council also addressed the group.

Small groups then toured the school with members of the NHS serving as guides. A slide show of the school showing a typical day in a student's life at Catholic Memorial was also shown. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria at the conclusion of the program where the entire faculty was available for questions about the school.

Mike Ferrick Night

On Monday evening, Feb. 12, before the start of the basketball game against Cheverus High from Maine, the co-captain elect of this year's basketball team was honored. Mike was in a severe automobile accident over the summer and has not been able to play this year. Mike was a starter on last year's team that played in the finals of the State Championship against Lexington. Mike's recovery is slow but he is progressing well and hopes to be able to play next year.

The student body of Cathoic Memorial decided to honor Mike for the courage and fortitude he has shown throughout his ordeal. The student body presented Mike with a set of golf clubs, members of the basketball team presented him with a watch, and Br. Henry presented him with a plaque from the school.

Chess league

The South Shore Interscholastic Chess League has reached the halfway point in its season with lots of action in all four divisions.

In the Western Division Norwood High has achieved a perfect five and zero record. In second place is Catholic Memorial of West Roxbury with three wins and two losses. Westwood and Dedham are tied for third place having won two matches and dropped three. Medfield, new to the league this year and Xaverian Brothers of Westwood trail the division at this point.

Braintree leads the smaller Northern Division with a perfect four win, zero loss record followed closely by Milton High which has lost but one match. Thayer Academy of Braintree comes next with a two and two record trailed by Weymouth North and North Quincy.

In the Coastal Division of the league the apparent leaders at this juncture are Norwell and Plymouth Carver, each with three wins, one loss and one tie. Scituate, new to the league this year trails at present, still looking for that first win. Results have not been tabulated yet for the other three schools in this division; Hull, Hingham and Silver-Lake.

Randolph High presently leads the Central Division with three wins and one tie, followed by Sharon with three wins and one loss. Canton has won two and lost two while Stoughton has lost three and tied one, Brockton has won one while losing three.

As soon as divisional winners are established there will be playoffs to determine the overall league winner. The league also sponsors an Individual Championship Tournament. With twenty-two schools it is believed that the SSICL may well be the largest in the state. Interest in chess has always been good on the South Shore, the league itself having been founded nine years ago. Last summer's Fisher-Spassky match had certainly augmented that already existing interest.

Parent Teacher Conferences

Parent Teacher conferences were held on Tuesday evening for Freshmen, Wednesday evening for Sophomores, and will be held on Thursday evening for Juniors and seniors. Students were encouraged to attend these meetings with their parents in order to achieve a nore meaningful dialogue and open avenues of communication, to explore reasons for successor lack of it, and to suggest methods of improving.

NEDT For Sophomores

On Wednesday, Feb. 14, all sophomore were administered the National Educational Development Test. Father Frederick Ryan, sophomore counselor, was the exam coordinator. This three and one half hour exam is a measure of the student's intellectual growth in comparison with himself and others of his age group throughout the United States.

Barefoot in the Park

A fine turnout on Friday evening Feb. 9, enjoyed the National Theatre Company's presentation of Neil Simons "Barefoot in the Park." It was a fast paced comedy and parents and students who attended commented that it was a most enjoyable evening of theatre.

The National Theatre Company will return to Catholic Memorial in May for a production of "Antigone." This will be shown to all CM students during the school day.

Winter Vacation

Catholic Memorial will close for winter vacation on Friday, Feb. 16, at the conclusion of the school day and will re-open on Monday morning Feb. 26.

Newton Student Wins National Speech Match

Three Newton Junior College students competed in the Woodrow Wilson Forensic Tournament held at Monmouth College in New Jersey recently.

They are Michael Dather, a first year student, Walter Donohue, a second-year student, and Mary Jo Deppisch of Newton, a second-year student.

In competition with 37 contestants from other colleges, Walter Donahue won third place in original storytelling, and fourth place in a field of 80 contestants in impromptu speaking.

Dean Leo P. Judge of the college accompanied the students and acted as judge in the tournament.

Some colleges represented were Ohio University, Hunter College, Pennsylvania State College, City College of New York, John Hopkins, Southern Connecticut State College, and the University of Maine.

The Newton Junior College Speech Club has participated in forensic tournaments for the past six years. During that time it has competed successfully by placing in winning rounds in many categories, and althoug it has frequently been in the minority representation of two-year colleges, its record of achievement has brought honor to the college and the Newton community.

Nursery Plans Registration To Fill September Openings

Anthony J. Bibbo, executive director of the Newton Community Service Centers, Inc., has announced the opening of registration for nursery school in September, 1973.

Bibbo stated that this early registration would provide parents with a look at other programs in order to determine the most appropriate for their particular child.

The school operates five days a week between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon under the direction of Mrs. Herbert Stearns. A school calendar is scheduled to cover a 39-week period with vacations coinciding with those of the Newton Public School System. Transportation is avaialable.

This program offers three to six year olders their first introduction to a socialization-education experience. Stories and games for imaginative growth, and art projects for creative expansion are among the activities engaged in daily.

Games and procedures are geared to foster attitudes of cooperation allied with a sense of the need for personal recognition. The adjustment of the child to others of his own age s one of the primary goals of the nursery program.

For additional information or a registration application, contact the center at 429 Cherry St , West Newton, 969-5906

The Skiing Scene

By PAUL J. MASSEY

Skiers who wait for excellent conditions everywhere will go the whole season without putting their skiis on once. There's no need to wait for excellence from a natural snow-fall, men and machines are making enjoyable ski conditions all over the place.

And there's a continuous change of programs and plans to make every skiers trip "excellent" no matter what the weatherman says. Here are some of the most recent developments:

Lincoln, N.H. — The staff at Loon Mountain, which has just about gone agricultural, in its efforts to "farm" snow cover and maintain the best possible conditions, wasn't taking any chances last weekend when snow was forecast. The staff "seeded" the slopes with salt to soften the snow cover and help maintain any white stuff. Enter Mother Nature with up to a foot of dry powder snow.

"It's a God-send. We had just about run out of ideas for maintaining skiing conditions," reports Vice President and GM Colby Russell. "During cold weather a week ago, Loon's crews had been making snow as much as possible in addition to caring for the snow on 17 trails and slopes."

York, Me. — Every Monday, between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., Mt. Agamenticus is giving a whole ski area to the girls for free. All the facilities, including lifts, and all the people, including GM Ralph Amsden and a whole staff of professional instructors, are free for the taking. Any questions about technique or equipment? Just ask: The advice is free too.

After 1 p.m. you can buy a lift ticket at the regular low half-day price, and practice what the pros have preached.

Kingfield, Me. — Despite recent attempts to educate skiers and stress the need for proper adjustment of bindings, GM Harry Baxter of Sugerloaf-USA says about 9 out of 10 sets of skis tested are out of adjustment.

Sugerloaf's ski shop has a binding measuring device conceived by the IAS, the international working committee on ski safety. The device measures height of the skier's toe and heel, tension on the toe and heel, plus distance between the toe and heel. "There's a chart that the skier can check for age, weight and so on," says Baxter. "Then they test the bindings and it's hard to believe that we still find nearly 90 percent of all skis tested are out of adjustment or won't release. It's just like a bear trap."

A two year IAS survey shows that proper adjustment of bindings can reduce injuries by 93 percent.

Fayston, Vt. — Bill Bozack, ski patrol director at the Glen Ellen Ski Area, is the winner of the National Ski Patrol (NSPS) award as the most outstanding Professional Ski Patrolman of 1971-72. Now in his eighth year as director at Glen Ellen, Bozak is National Secretary of the Professional Ski Patrol Association (PSPA), a certified examiner for PSPA, and Eastern Advisor to the National Professional Director. He was selected for this coveted award from a national membership of over 4,000 professional ski patrolmen.

Pittsfield, Mass. — Ther Berkshires rang with nostalgia recently as the largest gathering of ski writers and broadcasters ever assembled converged on the Bousquet ski area to help it celebrate its 40th consecutive year of operation. Some had been engaged in ski journalism back in 1933, but most depended on old movies, photo displays, a unique press kit and a speech by newscaster-world traveler Lowell Thomas based on his first-hand knowledge of Bousquet history, for their trip into the past.

It was in the 1930's that Bousquet made ski history with the nation's second ski tow, the first rope tow safety gate, the first snow trains to ski country and the first rope tow gripper... events which today are simply that... history. Also in the 30's Bousquet's first installed artificial lighting for skiing and in the mid-50's introduced artificial snowmaking equipment to the nation.

North Conway, N.H. — As if skiers didn't have enough to be happy with because of the snow cover at the five areas in the Mount Washington Valley, now they'vegot an extra in the apres ski scene. At last count, there was 17 nightspots providing nightly entertainment for overnight guests.

Kingfield, Me. — Sugerloaf-USA is one of the pioneer areas in refining evacuation procedures for skiers stranded on aerial lifts such as gondolas and chairlifts. GM Harry Baxter says his ski patrol is filming its efforts with an eye toward improving both speed and safety.

Baxter has devised a special chair which can be rigged up to the stalled gondola or chairlift so that the stranded skiers can be removed with a minimum of effort and discomfort. The lifts are generally stopped in times of high winds or sometimes extreme cold weather. In such cases, skiers on chairlifts must be evacuated with all due speed because they are exposed to the elements while a gondola at least affords a small amount of protection, Baxter says.

Mendon, Vt. — For three decades the Pico Ski Club has been a key link in "The Friendly Mountain's" dedication to serving its customers. As a gesture of appreciation and to provide a base of expanded operations, Pico has built its ski club a beautiful new lodge. Facing south up B Slope (site of America's first cable lift) the two story structure features a top 2000 square foot section for the club, complete with huge fireplace and sundeck. The lodge is located right at the lifts near Pico's main base facility.

Bridgton, Me. — Old-fashioned hospitality is spiced with Yankee bargains for skiers at Pleasant Mountain. Each Friday is designated as "Frugal Friday", except holiday periods, offering group lessons for ten dollars, starting at 10:30 a.m., plus afternoon all-facility tickets good for six lifts. And for an added one cent (correct, just a penny!) a skier and his or her friend receives lessons and tickets!

Manchester, Vt. — In German "Pisten Bully" means "trail boy". At Bromley Ski Area it means money in the bank. Bromley added a $25,000 Pisten Bully grooming machine this winter and, according to PR gal Kit Cooper, it's been an important factor in the area's success. "Since there hasn't been that much snow, we have had to do like everyone else and do the best with what we have," she says. "The snow farming maching has been just great."

Peterborough, N.H. — Seven ski areas dot the Monadnock Region of New Hampshire; Pinnacle, Fitzwilliam, Temple Mt., Crotched Mt., Onset, East Hill Farm and Woodbound Inn. Each is different and thus presents a unique opportunity for developing a story. Some are busier places than others. Two such ones are Pinnacle and Temple Mt.

A must for ski fun and relaxation is the well groomed slope or trail.

Here's the way three areas handle the job:

Stratton — Stratton's Mountain Manager is a Bavarian-born ex-mountain guide and ski instructor named Karl Bauer. Bauer has been an active skier for over 52 years; he has taught at Mt. Snow, laid out numerous trails at Okemo and directed the Killington Ski School before arriving at Stratton in 1961.

Bauer has helped lay out and install the 54 miles of ski trails - a staggering project in which every rock and contour and wind factors and other variables was carefully evaluated. One of Stratton's most exciting trails, "Big Ben" was four years in the making.

Of Stratton's 360 acres of skiable terrain, 40 acres can be covered by snowmaking equipment. "We have a solid base of 10 inches of snow and it stays pretty solid at our higher altitude," reports Bauer. "So we use man-made snow primarily for touch-up. Once some of our grooming machines, the Pacemasters, for example, we put as much as 7,000 miles a season on the slopes."

Bromley — Bromley with the largest snowmaking operation in New England was one of the first mountains in the U.S. to go to snow machines; they invested nearly a million dollars in that operation in 1965.

Tut Tuttle, manager at Bromley, was born in Connecticut, but Vermont has been his adopted state the past twenty years. Tuttle has been with Bromley since 1954, working as ski instructor, then supervising the ski school prior to his appointment as Mountain Manager last season.

Bromley uses eight 250 horsepower compressors, seventeen miles of aluminum pipeline, two 200 horsepower water pumps and a water holding area of 9,000,000 gallons to make snow - right up to the top of the mountain and covering 70-75 percent of all its trails.

"Constant grooming," suggests Tuttle, "is the real answer to safe, enjoyable skiing conditions. Our machines manufacture ice crystals which can withstand higher temperatures and more wear and tear than natural snow. Man-made snow has less air and is much denser."

Bromley is also equipped with planers, rollers, bulldozers, and Snocats. The latest addition is a bulldozer-hauled "powder-maker" which can chop up three inches of blue ice into powder snow.

Magic — Mountain Manager Alois Betschart of Magic was born in Sattel, Switzerland, gained early experience by skiing to and from school each day, and raced with the Swiss team for several seasons. He worked for some years for a Swiss Ski-Lift concern in the engineering and lift installation division. He signed on with Magic in 1966 as ski instructor and in his third season was appointed Mountain Manager.

Betschart races for Magic. Like his cohorts at Stratton and Bromley, Betschart gives each ski trail his personal attention.

He checks out each trail once a day, and also relies heavily on reports from the Ski Patrol and the ski instructors.

Magic's snowmaking installation with 4,200 cubic feet of air covers a large section of open slopes serviced by two chairlifts.

Says Betschart, "Due to our high western ridge and the lower elevation, Magic Mountain is almost totally protected from the prevailing western winds which permits uninterupted lift operation and extra pleasant skiing with its indirect all day sun.

The Swiss speedster has helped lay-out four of the expert trails on Magic's western north exposure.

VFW Voice of Democracy Banquet to Be Held Sunday

The Department of Massachusetts Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S. will hold its 2nd annual Legislative-Voice of Democracy banquet at the Wonderland Ballroom, Revere on Sunday, Feb. 18 at 7 p.m.

The banquet is to honor the State finalist and the eighteen District winners of the VFW Voice of Democracy Scholarship contest. The VFW Silver Medal Award will be presented to an outstanding State Senator for sustained support of veterans legislative programs. Ralph J. Canina, State commander from Belmont and (Mrs.) Edith Anderson, State president Ladies Auxiliary to the VFW will make the presentations. Mrs. Anderson is from South Weymouth.

Beth Lambert, a senior at Fontbonne Academy, Milton, was the first place winner in the State finals in the VFW VOD Scholarship contest. She was sponsored by the George F. Bryan Quincy VFW Post No. 613 and went on to win the Norfolk VFW District No. 5 run-off of Post winners. She will be the recipient of a $750 State VFW scholarship and a five day all expense paid trip to Washington, D.C. to represent Massachusetts in the National VFW finals. She will have a chance for $22,500 in scholarships.

The $500 second place State VFW scholarship honor will be presented to Edward D. Lamperti of Nauset Regional High School, Easton. He was sponsored by Brewster VFW Post No. 9917 and won the Cape and Islands VFW District No. 17 VOD run-off.

The $300 third place State VFW scholarship award will be presented to Miss Marie B. Mulroy of West Roxbury, a senior at St. Clare High School, Roslindale. She was sponsored by the John T. Fallon Roslindale VFW Post No. 1050 and went on to win Suffolk District 16 VFW VOD scholarship run-off.

Each of the other VFW District VOD scholarship run-off winners were previously awarded U.S. Savings Bond and citations at the various District VFW banquets. Each will be presented a plaque and State citation at the State banquet.

The Honorable James A. Kelly, Jr., State Senator from Oxford was selected by the State VFW Legislative Committee to receive the Department of Massachusetts 1973 VFW Silver Medal Award, the highest award at the State VFW level. Senator Kelly is a member of the Oxford VFW Post No. 5663.

PDC Max Masow, chairman, from Revere will be assisted by James E. Finnegan of Jamaica Plain, the State VFW VOD chairman; PDC Raymond C. O'Brien, of Stoneham, State VFW Legislative chairman; PDC Richard T. Lawler of Quincy, National VFW youth committeeman; Paul R. Malyszko of Brockton, National VFW Sgt-at-Arms; Michael J. Connell and Michael S. Molnar of Roslindale, VFW Legislative secretary.

The principal speaker will be Past Commander-in-Chief Cooper T. Holt, tthe executive director of the Washington VFW Office.

Patients Happy To Receive This Hospital Bill

"The Patient's Bill of Rights," drawn up by the American Hospital Association, has been affirmed by the Board of Governors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, according to Administrative Vice-President William S. Brines.

Documenting the moral and legal rights of the individual as a patient both in his relationship with the hospital and with his physician in an institutional setting, the Bill of Rights had prior approval by the executive committee of the hospital's medical staff.

This catalogue of rights, which have been standard practice at Newton-Wellesley, includes the following provision:

The patient has the right to considerate and respectful care.

The patient has the right to obtain from his physician complete current information concerning his diagnosis, treatment and prognosis in terms the patient can be reasonably expected to understand. When it is not medically advisable to give such information to the patient, the information should be made available to an appropriate person in his behalf. He has the right to know by name, the physician responsible for coordinating his care.

The patient has the right to receive from his physician information necessary to give informed consent prior to the start of any procedure and-or treatment. Except in emergencies, such information for informed consent, should include but not necessarily be limited to the specific procedure and-or treatment, the medically significant risks involved, and the probably duration of incapacitation. Where medically significant alternatives for care or treatment exist, or when the patient requests information concerning medical alternatives for care or treatment exist, or when the patient requests information concerning medical alternatives, the patient has the right to such information. The patient also has the right to know the name of the person responsible for the procedure and-or treatment.

The patient has the right to refuse treatment tothe extent permitted by law, and to be informed of the medical consequences of his action.

The patient has the right to every consideration of his privacy oncerning his own medical care program. Case ciscussion, consultation, examination, and treatment are confidential and should be conducted discreetly. Those not directly involved in his care must have the permission of the patient to be present.

The patient has the right to expect that all communications and records pertaining to his care should be treated as confidential.

The patient has the right to expect that within its capacity a hospital must make reasonable response to the request of a patient for services. The hospital must provide evaluation, service, and-or referral as indicated by the urgency of the case. When medically permissible, a patient may be transferred to another facility only after he has received complete information and explanation concerning the needs for and alternatives to such a transfer. The institution to which the patient is to be transferred must first have accepted the patient for transfer.

The patient has the right to obtain information as to any relationship of his hospital to other health care and educational institutions insofar as his care is concerned. The patient has the right to obtain information as to the existence of any professional relationships among individuals, by name, who are treating him.

The patient has the right to be advised if the hospital proposes to engage in or perform human experimentation affecting his care or treatment. The patient has the right to refuse to participate in sich research projects.

The patient has the right to expect reasonable continuity of care. He has the right to know in advance what appointment times and physicians are available and where. The patient has the right to expect that the hospital will provide a mechanism whereby he is informed by his physician or a delegate of the physician of the patient's continuing health care requirements following discharge.

The patient has the right to examine and receive an explanation of his bill regardless of source of payment.

The patient has the right to know what hospital rules and regulations apply to his conduct as a paitent.

County Hospital Passes Test

Middlesex County Hospital, Waltham, has received full accreditation from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

Accreditation was based on the careful inspection of the hospital last fall by a commission team. The American College of Physicians, the American College of Surgeons, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association comprised the joint commission.

The announcement was made by the Middlesex County Commissioners who are the hospital's trustees, the Rev. S. Lester Ralph, chairman, Paul Tsongas and John Danehy.

During the past three years the county hospital has developed many programs which are not available elsewhere in the county and even in the state. The accreditation signifies the level of quality of these services," Commissioner Ralph said.

Until three years ago the hospital was a tuberculosis sanitorium. It still maintains a small TB unit but is now a licensed chronic hospital serving rehabilitation patients, a residential unit for young adults with spinal cord injuries who are attending college or working in the community, an alcohol detoxification and rehabilitation unit and a halfway house for former drug users.

"The hospital has developed into a multi-level community oriented facility which is proving a regional approach to health care is feasible," Commissioner Ralph said,

Commissioner Tsongas also complimented the hospital's staff on receiving full accreditation during its first inspection as a chronic hospital, pointing out it was a recognition of the professionalism and dedication of the staff.

Thecommission's accreditation program is voluntary on the part of thehospitals and not required by law. However, accreditation is recognized nationwide as denoting high standards of patient care.

Newton-Needham Chamber Announces Slate of Officers

Richard F. Kaerwer of the 3 M Co., Needham Heights has been elected 1973 vice president of membership relations for the Newton-Needham Chamber of Commerce to succeed Weston E. Robert A. Warden of the 3 M Co. will discuss the use of audio-visual aids in employment interviews and employee relations programs as the featured speaker of the February meeting of the Personnel Council of the Newton-Needham Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be held at 10:45 a.m. in Holiday Inn, Newton Lower Falls on Thursday (Feb. 15).

Officers elected for 1973 include Margaret Hunt, Newton Savings Bank and Gerald A. McCluskey, Boston Gas Co., Cochairpersons and Frances Fletcher, Holiday Inn, Secretary.

Others elected to the Executive Committee include Dorothy Sparrow, Chairman of the Council's Research Committee; Roger Welch of Polaroid and Richard Kaerwer of the 3 M Co.

Pack 303 Will Hold Gala Dinner

Cub Scout Pack No. 303 will hold its gala annual dinner Friday (Feb. 16) at the Walnut Park Montessori School at 7 p.m.

Cubs and their families will be joined by the principal of the Jackson School, Sister Rita Hennessey; and the principal of Walnut Park, Sister Mary Arcodius, and several other sisters from the staffs of the two schools.

In addition to the presentation of awards, there will be a display table and speeches on the theme, "Famous Americans."

Americans to receive recognition will be George Washington, "Crossing the Deleware," presented by Den 1; Benjamin Franklin, "Electrical Experiment With A Kite," Den 2; Martin Luther King Jr., "I Have A Dream," Den 3.

All three dens also will present an exhibit of Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin landing on the moon.

ANIMAL WITH COLOR

CHICAGO (UPI) — One of the world's "newest" animals is among the most colorful.

The okapi, which inhabits the Semliki forest of the Congo, was unknown to science until 1900, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, although the animals range to more than five feet tall at the shoulder.

The okapi has a plum colored body. The upper parts of the legs are irregularly striped black and white. The sides of the face are reddish. The shanks are white with black fetlock rings.

how do you know God exists?
Once you have felt His guidance and healing power in your life, you know.
People who have been helped and healed through understanding God's presence share their experiences at our Wednesday meetings. They tell how Christianity has become a practical, operative force in their lives.
There are thoughtful readings from the Bible and from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy.
As you listen, you begin to see that God is real, that He loves you, that His power can be felt in your life
You're always welcome.

Four Newton residents entered the continuing education program at Wellesley College, Wellesley, with the start of the second semester on January 29.

Laura H. Falchuk, Regina rd., Aburndale, is working toward the B.A. degree in Spanish and Latin American studies. Two Wellesley alumnae from Newton, Ruth Baden of Cedar St. and Sylvia Reiner, Beacon St., are engaged in postgraduate studies. Mrs. Baden is concentrating in sociology and Mrs. Reiner, who also holds an M.A. degree from Wellesley and in 1970-1971 was a member of the Wellesley College Chemistry Institute, is studying chemistry. Ruth Evjy, Waban Avenue, Waban, is working toward the B.A. degree in art history.

The program of continuing education at Wellesley is in its third year and is designed for people beyond college age who wish to complete requirements for the B.A. degree, to prepare for graduate study, or to take courses either to enhance professional capabilities or for the simple love of learning.

Coninuing education students attend the same classes as Wellesley undergraduates. The program is open to men as well as to women, although Wellesley awards the degrees to women only.

Anyone interested in further information about the program should contact the Office of Continuing Education. Applicants must file a preliminary information form and submit transcripts of previous college records.

All applicants must have an interview before formal application for admission is made. The deadline for interviews for the 1973-1974 academic year is Mar. 15. All application materials must be submitted by Apr. 1 to the Ofice of Continuing Education, Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., 02181.

The program is under the direction of Betty Lou Marple, tel 235-0320, ext. 661

Real Estate Today

By Lyn Medoff

INGREDIENTS FOR INVESTMENT

Housing prices have gone up steeply since the mid-60's for two basic reasons. First, the shortage of new savings made it difficult to finance private housing, and the number of new housing units built each year was far below what it should have been. Since there is a steady growth in population, this puts pressure on our housing reserves and prices rise.

Second, there have been inflationary increases in the labor and material costs that go into building a house. In many urban areas, land values continue to go up each year, too. (Our tax system encourages speculation in unimproved land which helps raise the price).

So here are the ready-made ingredients for good investment. We all need housing of some kind, and according to the experts, the price of housing will continue to go even higher, though perhaps, not as dramatically as in the past few years.

Will an orange a day keep the flu away? Don't know . . . however, nutritionists tell us that whenever the body is subjected to stress, such as changes in temperature, colds or other infections, its need for vitamin C increases sharply and the most practical way to get plenty of vitamin C is to eat an orange a day.

In a report for Sunkist Growers by Dr. Edna B. Southmayd, Nutritionist, she said, "If you are a woman over thirty and have had more than 2 children, all the sources of calcium should be of interest to you. Many studies show that it is the woman of the American family who is most apt to get less calcium in her diet than other members of the family, and less than the amount recommended for her . . . Although a great deal of the calcium consumed in this country has been estimated to come from milk and milk products, many women do not drink milk regularly. Therefore, the fruit and vegetable sources of calcium are very important to them."

The report goes on to say, "When using oranges, it is best to eat the whole fresh orange for the peeled fruit has 4 times as much calcium as the same amount of strained juice."

If you are watching your calories, a navel orange (a great dessert) has only 82 calories . . . half a medium grapefruit has only 44 calories, is rich in vitamin C (40 milligrams) and is a source of many of the B vitamins and minerals.

Oranges do not need refrigeration, though most people find them more appetizing when they are chilled. Fresh grapefruit can be easily peeled and segmented like an orange for a lunch box surprise—or, better still, pack an assortment of orange, grapefruit and tangerine sections. This type of snack is especially good for those children or adults who missed their vitamin C at breakfast.

Besides the healthy aspects of citrus fruits, they also seem to possess magical qualities when it comes to making good cooking gourmet fare. Following are some good citrus ideas:

+Add chilled orange pieces to tossed green, chef's, waldorf and cole slaw salads for a tangy, refreshing new note.

+Make up a package of orange gelatin, using fresh orange juice as the liquid. Fold in bite-size orange pieces for a salad or dessert.

+Thin mayonnaise with fresh orange or lemon juice and add a bit of grated peel . . . delightful for fruit salads.

+Hollow out lemon halves . . fill with mayonnaise thinned with lemon juice and sparked with a bit of grated peel—especially good with fish.

ORANGE GLAZED LAMB CHOPS—The tangy flavor of glazed orange adds zest to lamb chops served on a bed of fluffy rice. For recipe, please refer to Across The Kitchen Counter.

SWEET AND SOUR QUICKIE FISH STICKS

8 pkg. (8 or 9 oz.) frozen breaded fish sticks
½ cup thin sliced celery
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 medium onion chopped
1 to 2 tablespoons salad oil
1 tablespoon flour
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
½ teaspoon grated lemon peel
¼ cup freshly squeezed lemon juice
3 tablespoons firmly packed brown sugar
2 teaspoons soy sauce

Heat fish sticks in ungreased covered skillet, until hot, turning once. Place on bed of steamed rice; keep warm in low oven. In same pan, lightly saute celery, pepper and onion in oil until heated, but still crisp. Sprinkle with flour, stirring quickly to blend evenly; add mixture of tomato sauce and remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly; boil for 2 minutes. Pour over fish sticks and sprinkle with sesame seeds, if desired. Serves 4.

ORANGE GLAZED LAMB CHOPS

4 large loin or shoulder lamb chops cut ¾ inch thick
Salt and flour
½ to ¾ teaspoon curry
2 teaspoons freshly grated orange peel
½ cup freshly squeezed orange juice
2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
One third cup honey
Steamed rice
2 oranges, peeled, cut into bite-size pieces

Score around edges of chops to prevent curling; sprinkle with salt and coat with flour. Brown well on both sides in hot oil; drain off fat. Pour over a mixture of remaining ingredients, except rice and orange pieces. Cover and simmer 25 minutes; cook uncovered 5 minutes longer. (Or bake uncovered at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.) Remove chops to platter of steamed rice; keep hot. Add orange pieces to pan drippings; stir until warm and glazed. Pour over chops; serve at once. Serves 4.

TUNA SUPPER CASSEROLE

2 cans (6½ or 7 oz. ea.) chunk style tuna
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach
1 can (10½ oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ teaspoon grated lemon peel
2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 tablespoon instant minced onions
1 tablespoon water
1 cup packaged croutons
Paprika

Drain and flake tuna; cook spinach and drain very well. Combine undiluted soup with lemon peel, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, melted butter, onions and water. Toss remaining lemon juice with spinach to season well. Place half of tuna in well buttered 1½ quart casserole; cover with ½ cup soup mixture then layer of remaining tuna. Add layer of spinach and sprinkle with croutons. Pour over remaining soup mixture; dust lightly with paprika. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Serves 6.

LEMON MUFFINS

½ cup soft margarine
½ cup sugar
2 egg yolks
1 cup sifted all purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 egg whites
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Grease 8 large muffin cups generously. Beat margarine, ½ cup sugar and egg yolks together until fluffy. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to first mixture alternately with lemon juice. Stir only until blended. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold into batter along with lemon rind. Spoon into prepared muffin cups filling about two-thirds full. Combine 2 tablespoons sugar and cinnamon and sprinkle some of mixture over batter in each cup. Bake about 20 minutes or until muffins spring back when touched lightly in the center. Serve warm or cold.

Romantic Spring Bridal Gowns

This is the time of year when brides-to-be are busy planning their spring weddings and searching for the gown of their dreams.

Phyllis Bianchi Lange, talented designer and head of The House of Bianchi, visited Jordan Marsh's Bridal Salon recently. Soft spoken, petite and energetic, she moved quickly from fitting room to fitting room advising and overseeing the fittings of future brides before and after an informal showing of her newest bridal fashions.

The story of how Phyllis Bianchi got involved in the bridal business is an interesting one. As she put it, "My mother had always been in the custom made business and I used to watch her as she worked. After high school, I attended a school of fashion design and then went into my mother's business.

"During the second world war weddings were taking place with little or no planning time. It was difficult for stores to get delivery on wedding gowns and so, to accommodate customers, we began making wedding gowns. Sometimes we would start a gown on Thursday and have it done for a Saturday morning wedding. People would ask the bride where she bought her gown because our styles were always new looking, fresh and exciting; superior to anything the stores offered at the time. We had six stitchers, two cutters and I did all the fittings and designing.

"I was married in 1944 and we were quite busy, but I didn't like the idea of working Saturdays and evenings, so we thought of reaching the entire country on a wholesale level; we've been doing it ever since quite successfully."

Has today's bride changed from brides of years ago? Phyllis smiles and says, "Yes and no. By that I mean that over 80 percent of the brides are still tradition minded. For the girl who will have 30 people at her wedding, we've gotten into a collection of Bianchi Informals—these are informal garden-type dresses."

How far in advance should a gown be chosen? Mrs. Lange is quite firm on this important point: "A minimum of 4 months because you've got to allow the manufacturer a minimum of 8 weeks to deliver the dresses at this time of the year. After that the dresses should be in the store for a month before the wedding to allow for alterations, and that's cutting the time as close as possible."

According to this bridal expert, most brides prefer to wear the traditional veil that is designed specifically to go with the gown. Instead of the crown holding the veiling, girls are asking for more interesting headpieces. They want either a very important looking headpiece or they want nothing but veiling. Several requests this year have been for florists to make up a circlet of flowers from which the veiling would cascade.

Mrs. Lange answers the question about trains: "We have a department going with one girl who does nothing but add long trains. A court train is about a yard and a half from the waistline out . . it follows the bride easily and is on the floor about a half-yard. The cathedral trains are ordered anywhere from a yard or longer—they are all done on an individual order. It's a cumbersome length and we try to discourage it. We suggest that brides have a veil as long as they like because a veil is light and easy to handle."

And what about the "one-color" weddings? Phyllis laughs as she says, "Well, I would never do it. I'm going to be the mother of a bride this summer and though I haven't given it much thought yet (like the shoemaker's children I guess), it will be a garden wedding and my daughter will wear Belgium lace.

"Bridesmaids should all be dressed in one color—this allows mothers more freedom. For instance," she went on, "if one motherr looks better in pink and the other in blue they would not clash with the bridesmaid' gowns. I wouldn't hesitate, as mother of the bride, to wear navy and white if I felt that a dark color would do more for me.

"The most popular color for bridal gowns right now is white over pink. We have with us a truly lovely gown today . . . the dress has created a sensation throughout the country. It's embroidered appliqued daisies with pink centers and tiny swirls of mint green leaves. The style is slimming, princess fit and the matching picture hat has the same applique scattered all over the brim for a lovely garden party look.

Have there been times when a crisis has come up and there was a threat of wedding bells and no wedding gown?

"No, no," the calm answer was accompanied by a shaking of the head and a smile, "we always remember that 'While there is life there's hope' . . . we will make the gown if we have to stop everything! Even if it means putting the gown on a plane and having someone from the store meet the plane, but there has never been a time when we 'disappointed a bride."

A brief sampling of the lovely romantic bridal fashions from The House of Bianchi:

A tent of delicate pink over embroidered organza with a fitted bodice, bishop sleeves, cage back and a raised camelot headpiece with oranza flowers trailing from the back.

The unique gown for the sopisticated bride . . . a chantilly lace caplet forming a chapel length train barely hides the adventure of a beaded chiffon halter. Her simple headpiece is of matching lace accented by chiffon roses.

An ivory gown of reembroidered Alencon lace and pearls glisten above an empire waist simulated apron front is lavished in Alencon lace.

A princess silhouette creates a classic shape in silk organza with lace accents—the illusion and subtle touch of pearls and icy pink crystals set off a look of airy delicacy for the bride.

Question: My husband and I were wondering if you had a good recipe for a hot German Potato Salad. Many thanks. — Mrs. Victor Resch, Newton.

Answer: Direct from the Time Life Books "The Cooking of Germany" here it is!

Warmer Kartoffelsalat mit Speck or HOT POTATO SALAD WITH BACON

9 medium-sized boiling potatoes (about 3 lbs., scrubbed but not peeled
½ pound bacon, finely diced (about1½ cups)
½ cup finely chopped onions
¼ cup white wine or cider vinegar
¼ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley

Drop the unpeeled potatoes into enough boiling water to cover them completely. Boil them briskly until they show only the slightest resistance when pierced with the point of a sharp knife. Be careful not to let them overcook or they will fall apart when sliced. Drain the potatoes in a colander, then peel and cut them into ¼-inch slices. Set the potatoes aside in a bowl tightly covered with aluminum foil. In a heavy 8 to 10-inch skillet, cook the bacon over moderate heat until brown and crisp. Spread it out on paper towels to drain. Add the onions to the fat remaining in the skillet and cook, stirring frequently, for 5 minutes, or until they are soft and transparent but not brown. Stir in the vinegar, water, salt and pepper, and cook, stirring constantly, for a minute or so. Pour the hot sauce over the potatoes, turning the slices about gently with a large spoon or spatula to coat them evenly with the onion and vinegar mixture. Gently stir the reserved bacon pieces into the salad. Taste for seasoning. Serve at once or cover and set the salad aside at room temperature until you are ready to serve it. Just before serving, stir the salad gently and sprinkle the top with parsley.

Question: I am planning a buffet dinner for approximately 30 people in February; my appetizers and desserts are all set. For a main course I draw a complete blank. I'd like a casserole or some such that is easy eating off one's lap. Not too costly, please. I have great faith you'll come through again. — Mrs. K., Newton.

Answer: Thank you for your kind words. Here are two good buffet dishes — hope your party is a huge success!

HUNGARIAN GOULASH WITH NOODLES

3 large onions, thinly sliced
1 tablespoon salad oil
1 teaspoon caraway seed
½ teaspoon marjoram
1 teaspoon (or more) salt
2 to 4 teaspoons paprika
1 teaspoon vinegar
2 pounds boneless beef chuck, cut in 1-inch cubes
1 cup dry red wine
Noodles, cooked

Saute onions in oil until tender and golden; add caraway seed, marjoram, salt, and paprika moistened with vinegar; mix well. Add meat and brown nicely on all sides. Add wine; cover tightly and simmer very slowly for about 2 hours, or until meat is tender. Add water during cooking, if necessary. Prepare medium noodles according to directions on package. Serve goulash over hot noodles. Serves 6 (This recipe can be doubled or tripled.)

CHICKEN WITH ALMONDS

4 whole chicken breasts, boned
½ pound blanched baked almonds
2 cans (5 oz. ea) bamboo shoots, drained
2 cans (5 oz. ea.) water chestnuts, drained
1 cucumber, peeled
2 onions, shredded
6 tablespoons peanut or vegetable oil
1 cup chicken stock
2 teaspoons dry sherry
1 teaspoon ginger powder
1 teaspoon soy sauce
1 teaspoon cornstarch mixed with 2 teaspoons water
Salt and pepper

Cut chicken breasts which have been boned and skinned, into 1-inch squares. Place in bowl. To prepare almonds+ — drop almonds into boiling water for 2 minutes; slip off their skins and dry them. Bake them in a 400-degree oven with a little oil until almonds are golden (watch them closely). Thinly slice bamboo shoots, water chestnuts and cucumber. Shred onion. Heat oil in skillet. Fry onion lightly for 1 minute; add chicken and almonds and cook for 2 minutes. Add chicken stock, sherry ginger, soy sauce. Cook for 1 minute. Add cornstarch mixture, seasoning, cook for 2 minutes. Serve over fluffy hot cooked rice. Serves 8 (This recipe can be doubled or tripled.)

Our thanks to young Sally G. who sent in a recipe she calls: Brownies My Brother Loves. I'm sure everybody will like them, Sally!

BROWNIES MY BROTHER LOVES

2 squares bitter chocolate
1 stick butter
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs
½ cup semi-melted chocolate bits
1½ cups all purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts

Melt chocolate and butter together. Add sugar and gradually beat in eggs. Sift dry ingredients and add to chocolate mixture. Add nuts and chocolate bits. Bake in greased 8-inch square pan in 350 degree oven for 30-35 minutes. Cool before cutting into squares.

Question: My sister wrote to me from California, asking if I had ever heard of a Cauliflower Soup. I told her I hadn't but that I would write to you and see if you knew of such a recipe . . . it sounds interesting. Thanks! — Mrs. C.N., Dedham.

Answer: I agree, the recipe is most unique and perfect for a winter's menu:

CAULIFLOWER SOUP

1 medium head of cauliflower, broken into flowerets
2 carrots, pared and sliced
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
5 tablespoons flour
1 can consomme
3 cups boiling water
1 cup liquid reserved from cauliflower and carrots
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon sugar
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten

Cook cauliflowerets and carrots separately in boiling salted water. Drain, saving 1 cup liquid. Melt butter or margarine in 2-quart saucepan; stir in flour; then add liquids gradually, stirring constantly until boiling. Add salt, pepper, and sugar and let boil for 2 minutes. Gradually add a little of the boiling soup to egg yolks, stirring constantly. Return to saucepan; add cooked cauliflower and carrots. Heat but DO NOT boil. Serves 6.

Mrs. T., West Roxbury shares with us her most unusual but delicious recipe:

APPLE POTATO SCALLOP

4 cups very thinly sliced potatoes
1 onion, thinly sliced
2 tablespoons flour
Salt, pepper, nutmeg
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 jar (15 oz.) apple sauce

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Put a layer of about one-third of the potato slices in a greased 1½ quart casserole; top with half the onion slices. Sprinkle with 1 tablespoon flour, dust with salt, pepper and nutmeg and dot with 1 tablespoon butter. Repeat layers. Top with remaining potato slices; dot with remaining butter. Pour applesauce over all. Cover and bake 45 min.; uncover and bake 15 min.

A BRIGHT FUTURE WITH GOOD PAY!

Isn't that what we're all seeking?

We'll pay you a starting salary of $150-$170 to learn our business and provide a good fringe package and raises as fast as you can earn them.

When you are promoted to Manager 12-24 months from now, you will be earning $200-$250 a week immediately with prospects for more as soon as you show us you can build business and control costs.

We have many Managers making $300-$400 a week and they aren't working 70 hours per week to do it. But, they have complete responsibility for making our business successful and that's why they are paid so well. Candidates must be over 21, have high school diploma and transportation.

Give us a call or drop us a line and we'll arrange an interview to discuss how you can be a Friendly success story, too.

School Vacation Spells Extra Added Attraction

The Newton Recreation Department has announced the open basketball program for senior and junior high school age boys will continue from 1:30 to 4:30 each weekday afternoon during the February school vacation.

The Saturday afternoon program is going strong and according to Recreation Supervisor William J. Barry, is extremely successful with an average attendance of between 80 and 90 boys. At the Meadowbrook Junior High School, with its four gyms, 40 boys can play at the same time. Weeks, Warren and Bigelow Junior High gyms are also open. F.A. Day Junior High School is open for girls.

In addition to pickup games, there are extra baskets for practice shooting.

The Newton Youth Hockey Program sponsored by the Newton Recreation Department is now in high gear with some 550 boys aged five to seventeen getting a lot of ice time at the Wells Avenue Rink.

Last year there were 350 boys in the program, and next year it is expected the number will climb to around the 700 mark.

The youth hockey program features inter-mural play and all-star games with two teams in the Middlesex Pee Wee League. In addition to their skating at Wells Avenue, the Mites, Squirts, Bantams and Pee Wees are logging practice sessions at MDC Rinks and the Boston College Rink.

Skating conditions are touch and go as the sun continues to climb higher in the sky. The maintenance personnel report that the natural skating areas need several days of near zero temperatures for safe skating.

Tests have shown the ice thickness varies from 1" to 3" to 6" within a small area and the edges are very dangerous. The recent rain lifted the ice sheet at Bullough's Pond forcing blocks of ice up onto the shore.

A good cold snap would allow skating on flooded tennis courts if the ice is not broken by vandals.

The West Newton Youth Drop-in Center opened Saturday night at the First Unitarian Church in West Newton Square. It will continue Saturday evenings between the hours of 7:30 and 11.

Recreation Supervisor Robert E. Doherty reports that the special swim class program at the Sidney Hill pool has completed two-thirds of the season and is in the last six-week segment. Students from the high schools, Meadowbrook, Oak Hill and Peabody Schools will complete their twelve-week program while those from Countryside and Hamilton are on the second half of theirs. Mr. Doherty reports that for the first time since the program was instituted, there have been no cancellations because of inclement weather.

The girls' junior high school basketball league opened play at Sacred Heart gym Wednesday night with the six teams tapping off at 6, 7 and 8.

According to Recreation Supervisor Fran Towle, director of the new program, the teams will play once around and then enter tournament play continuing through the end of March.

Miss Towle says that the second series of toneastics classes will begin Monday, Feb. 26, and continue Mondays and Thursdays from 9:30 - 10:30 a.m. The classes are held in the Newton Cen're Playground Field House and are conducted by Mrs. Barbara Valinsky. Further information may be obtained by calling, 969-3171.

Playoff time is fast approaching for the teams in the Newton Women's Volleyball League. Director Fran Towle says that if there are no ties in the final standings, the first and second teams in the A division will begin play at 8 p.m., on Mar. 5 at F.A. Day Junior High School.

The B Division playoffs are tentatively scheduled for March 19, also at 8 p.m., and also at Day Junior High.

The most recent standings are as follows:

A Division: Y-ettes, 7-1; Set-ups, 6-2; Burr Rockets, 4-4; Late Bloomers, 3-5; Bouncers, 2-6; and Carr Blues, 2-6.

B Division: Bell Telephone, 7-0; Independents, 5-3; N's, 5-3; Smiles, 3-4; Rebels, 3-4; and Highland Carpets, 0-8.

Fran also reports the Newton Swim Team is active with the girls dropping a close meet to Brookline, 84-82.

At the halfway mark of the Newton Recreation Department Basketball League play, in the American League A Division, the Silver Lake Electronics are out in front with a 6-0 record, followed by George's Cafe, 5-1; Centre Pizza and Waban Wonders, last years champs, both with 4-2 slates.

In the B Division, last years champs, the Newton Boys Club are 5-0, crowded by the Stumblebums, 5-1, and the Lovemen, 4-1 and Oakley Spa, 4-2.

Review

Look Out For Miss Reardon

The title of Newton Country Players' latest production, "And Miss Reardon Drinks A Little," could well be amended: "and so does everyone else."

The principal actors in this tale consume several cocktails throughout the three acts of the play and also employ a number of startling devices and frequently shocking dialogue to rattle any theater-goer unfamiliar with the uproariously dark comedy-drama.

"Miss Reardon," written by the author of the award winning play, "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the Moon Marigolds," Paul Zindel, was presented last Friday and Saturday at the Pomroy House, 84 Eldredge St., Newton Corner.

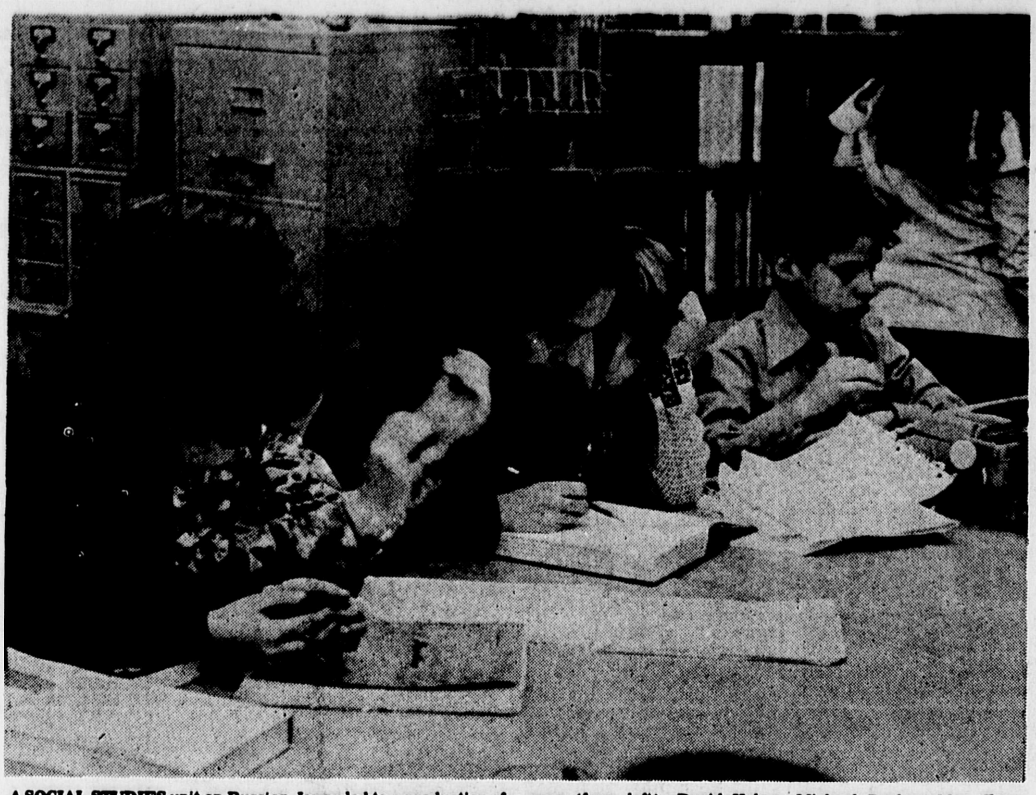
Additional performances will be given Friday and Saturday (Feb. 16 and 17). Tickets are available at the door.

The "Miss Reardon" in the title is played quite convincingly by Mikki Krassin, who offers the audience a character study of an aging schoolmarm caring for a younger sister (Sandy Deming), whose alleged perversions and mental problems pepper the plot.

Rounding out the sisterly trio is the oldest sister and the only one who managed to get herself married (by stealing Mikki's beau?). This sister is deftly portrayed by Patricia Pellows.

Fine performances are also turned in by the trio of sisters two "friends," Fleur and Bob, a husband and wife duo featuring Paula Grossman and Robert Reed. They share the alcohol and go in for a little character assassination via a series of clever one-liners.

Taken as a whole, the performance is well worth a trip to the Pomroy House and this production is another in the Country Players' string of well done shows.



A SOCIAL STUDIES unit on Russian Jewry led to a production of "Fiddler on the Roof" at the Solomon Schechter Day School. The performance by sixth graders was staged Feb. 1 in Temple Emmanuel. Researching the project while it was in rehearsal were (from left): David Kahan, Michael Pucker, Mrs. Ilona Lazeroff (sixth grade teacher), Jeffrey Schwabber and Nathan Yoffa.

Sculptor Turns Library Into Gallery of Living Reveries

Horses gallop, time stops, the double helix coils. as sculptor Lloyd Lillie's strong and vital forms lend intensity to the usually placid fiction area of the Newton Free Library during Lillie's one-man show now on view at 414 Centre St.. Newton Corner.

The bronze reliefs and three dimensional sculptures seem to spring from the shelves of fiction. Authors' fantasies seem to come alive through Lillie's creativity, capturing the eye of the viewer in a display of artistry uncommon outside a museum.

Time seems suspended, yet motion continues in "The Falling Couple IV," a twelve inch bronze relief demonstrating Lillie's fascination with movement and the transiency of life.

"The Double Helix," a pair of plaques in relief accentuating convex and concave elements, resulted from his study of the way the DNA molecule works.

Lloyd Lillie, an associate professor at Boston University, has had one-man shows at the Boris Mirski Gallery, the Helen Bumpus Gallery in Duxbury, Mt. Ida Jr. College, and Milton Academy.

His works have appeared in numerous group shows including the Corcoran Gallery of Art, the Smithsonian Institute, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, Boston University, Boston Museum School, the Brockton Art Museum, and the Fitchburg Art Museum.

Commissioned works include sculpture figures for the American Museum of Immigration, sculpture figures for the 350th Anniversary celebration of the Landing of the Pilgrims, Provincetown, and a design for a medal for Boston University's Centennial Celebration in 1969.

Lloyd Lillie lives in Newton with his wife Barbara and their three children, Lisa, 8, a student at Underwood Elementary School; Warren, 12, and Nina, 14, both students at Bigelow Junior High.

On view through the end of February, Lloyd Lillie's one-man show instills in the viewer an urge to see more of this sculptor's fine work.

Main library hours ar Monday through Friday, 9-9, Saturday, 9-5:30, and Sunday, 1-4.

College Artist Stages Show

An exhibition of drawings and prints by Elaine Biganess Livingstone, artist in residence at Newton College, will be held in the Kenny-Cottle Library on the Centre St., Newton, campus from Feb. 22 - March 24.

The exhibit will be open to the public and free of charge.

Mrs. Livingstone, a graduate of the Massachusetts College of Art and a member of the Radcliffe Institute from 1963-1965, has her work represented in several public and private collections.

She has also had her work displayed in a number of group and one-man shows. Some of these include: Botolph Galley, Boston; Merrimack College, North Andover; Weeden Gallery, Boston; Plymouth State College, New Hampshire; Currier Gallery of Art, Manchester, New Hampshire; Loeb Center, Cambridge; Ward-Nasse Gallery, New York City; DeCordova Museum, Lincoln; Carl Siembab Gallery, Boston; Museum of Modern Art, New York City.

Plays Lead

HOLLYWOOD — Jo Ann Pflug will play the feminine lead in an episode of Dennis Weaver's "McCloud" television series.

Consumer Secretary Addresses B.C. Group

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts' Secretary of Consumer Affairs, John R. Verani will address an open class-meeting at Boston College, Feb. 20, on reorganization of several departments under the Executive Office on Consumer Affairs.

Secretary Verani, former head of the Department of Public Utilities, was appointed by Governor Francis W. Sargent to the cabinet post in November, 1972. In January, he announced his proposals for reorganization of the various agencies within his secretariat.

Verani's proposals, if enacted by the legislature, would effect the elimination or consolidation of several boards and commissions which Verani says would result in a $4.3 million savings to the taxpayers of Massachusetts.

Secretary Verani will speak to Boston College economics students who have a special interest in consumer issues. Several of the students take Reverend Robert J. McEwen's course, "Government and the Consumer." Father McEwen is former head of the Consumer's Council and a well-known proponent of consumer protection.

The meeting, which is open to the campus and public will be held at noon on February 20 at Cushing Building, Room 335.

Centennial To Include Jazz Fest

The first planning meeting of the Committee for the Festival of the Performaing Arts of the Newton Centennial will take place Thursday, Feb. 15, in the Newton City Hall cafeteria, at 8 p.m. according to co-chairmen Mrs. David Kosowsky and Mrs. Bernice Johnson.

The group will discuss plans for the event which will feature former Newtonian George Wein and many internationally renowned jazz artists. Wein is regarded as the world's foremost jazz impressario.

He was creator and producer of the famed Newport Jazz Festival which last year played to several hundred thousand fans in a ten day combined indoor and outdoor festival in New York City.

The co-chairmen issued a release stating, "We regard our program as one of the most attractive and exciting events in the entire centennial celebration, and we expect enthusiastic response to our call for interested citizens to take positions of responsibility on our various committees."

They added that, "Our goal, similar to that of every centennial celebration, is for widespread participation of our fellow citizens. Our celebration is a community birthday party that is open to every resident. We welcome the participation of anyone who wishes to join with us in our effort to make the Kazz Festival an outstanding and memorable event."

Mrs. Leonard Finger is chairman of the refreshment committee for the planners of the festival.

Artist's Work On Exhibition

The works of Waban artist Gilda Braver are on display through the month of February at the Newton-Waltham Bank in Waban.

Mrs. Braver studied at the Boston School of Practical Arts, Boston Museum School and attended the DeCordova Museum School, Vespar George School and the School of Design in New York.

She has had one-woman shows at the Circle Theater Gallery, the Newton Public Library and Newton City Hall.

Mother of three, her son, Neal, is a graduate of Newton High School and attends Boston University, her son James studies and the Cambridge School of Weston and her daughter Amy is a student at Weeks Junior High School.

DeVoe to Celebrate It's 27th Year At Open House On February 19-24

A gla open house will be held Monday (Washington's Birthday) at DeVoe Motors, 17 Eastern avenue, Dedham, with George DeVoe personally welcoming all visitors.

Also on hand to extend their greetings will be John McGrath, sales manager; Dave "Mack" McGrath, Bill Kelley, Don Evans and Dick Greene. Refreshments will be served.

DeVoe Motors features the Plymouth and Chrysler lines.

If you are considering something more in a car than just size alone . . . you want to look at a Chrysler New Yorker Brougham. It's an enormously comfortable car that lends new meaning to the words "luxurious" and "plush."

Chrysler makes only one station wagon. It's enough. We think it is the best choice among luxury wagons. And there's also a choice of Town & Country models: you can have a 2 or 3-seat version.

You can tell a lot about a New Yorker just be looking at it. It's obviously a big car — And that goes for both size and comfort. And it's obviously a luxury car—one look at its standard interior appointments and exterior styling tells you that.

Meet the most affordable Chrysler . . . the Newport. Understated styling, overstated comfort . . . built with quality and value to last.

Like all Chrysler models, the Newport has long been recognized for the outstanding handling and comfort of Torsion-Quiet. This unique combination of torsion-bar front suspension, unibody construction and sound insulation makes for a strong and quiet car.

Choosing a Fury Gran Sedan or Gran Coupe means you like luxury car living without having to pay luxury car prices. The ride, handling and new quiet of these two cars have to be experienced to be truly appreciated. Inside, you are treated to sumptuous interiors with fold-down center armrests and wall-to-wall carpeting. Plus new silencing features that make these cars the quietest Furys we've ever built. Extra care in engineering . . . it makes a difference.

GEORGE DeVOE

'CUDA & BARRACUDA

Sport appearance and sporty performance. Barracuda and 'Cuda both come equipped with the 318 V-8 . . . a 340 V-8 is optional. Power front disc brakes, standard on the 'Cuda, Electronic Ignition System, bucket seats, unibody construction on both cars—plus a heavy-duty suspension system including front and rear sway bars and F70 x 14" white sidewall tires on 'Cuda.

Dress-up options—sporty body side tape, Barracuda sports decor group, rallye wheels, chrome road wheels, vinyl roof, console.

DUSTER

Duster is that neat little car that's small enough to go anywhere, yet big enough for five passengers rather than four. Rugged unibody construction coddles you in solid comfort. Torsion-bar front suspension gives road car handling characteristics. Big, economical Slant Six or 318 V-8 engine runs on no-lead or regular gas.

SATELLITE SEDANS

Here are two ways to get family-size room in a mid-size package. Satellite Custom and Satellite Sedan. They are unique among intermediates because Chrysler Corporation believes sedans require a different kind of design and styling than hardtops. Result? Sedans with a different look on the outside . . . more room on the inside. Even with the longer 117-inch wheelbase, a Satellite sedan remains easy to park and handle. Extra care in engineering . . . it makes a difference.

Foreign Motors West Has 2-Week Open House

Peter Atherton, general manager of Foreign Motors West, Route 9, Natick, is planning a gala two-week open house at his BMW, Mercedes and Rolls-Royce headquarters now breaking all sales and service records. "Pete" is completely confident that 1973 will witness another banner year in Mercedes Benz and BMW sales. The BMW line product of the precision artists at Bavarian Motor Works in Munich is proving more popular than ever in 1973.

"Naturally," Mr. Atherton, "Mercedes Benz models and Rolls-Royce speak for themselves in a most eloquent manner." Working with Atherton as co-manager is the service specialist Arthur Motroni.

Silver Lake Dodge Marathon Sunday, Feb. 18

The addition of entries from Illinois, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania has given a national flavor to the Seventh Annual Silver Lake Dodge Washington's Birthday Marathon, scheduled for Sunday, February 18, from Hopkinton to Newton.

New competitors included in the more than one hundred and twenty distance runners entered in the New England 30-kilometer championship race are: Dale Keenan of Washington, New Jersey; and Jonathan Alperin of Chicago, representing the University of Chicago.

Other distance runners of note who will be racing against the favored trio of former winners Pat McMahon, John Kelley and current record holder Ed Walkwitz include Terry Blumer of Brookline, Mass., 1971 NEAAU Thirty Kilometer champion; and Brian Gillespie, Portland, Maine, 1971 State of Maine Small College Cross Country champion and holder of the Maine record for 16 miles.

Race director Frank Campion expects a record number of applicants for the marathon which is hailed as a prep for the Patriots Day BAA 26-mile marathon. The Silver Lake race has the same starting point, at Hopkinton Center, but winds up on Watertown Street, Newton, in front of Silver Lake Dodge headquarters. Runners who complete the distance in less than two hours, twenty-five minutes will be eligible for the BAA marathon.

Herb Abramson, sponsor of the Washington's Birthday distance run, has donated twenty-five trophies, twenty medals and a team prize for the Washington's Brithday event. Jack Kelley, coach of the NE. Whalers and Teddy Green, Captain of the Whalers will present trophies to the winners. The winners will be crowned by Newton Mayor Theodore D. Mann.

Entry blanks for the thirty kilomoter event may be secured from Race Director Frank Campion at Silver Lake Dodge, 444 Watertown Street, Newton, Mass. Campion's phone number is 617-965-1300.

Vacationers traveling by car sometimes tend to overestimate their driving endurance. Travel counselors at the ALA Auto and Travel Club aecommend that vacationers plan to drive not more than 350 miles in a single day.

Berejik Motors Celebrate 23rd Year

Berejik Motors, 126 Highland Ave. Needham Mass. celebrates its 23rd year.

Brand new to the Oldsmobile line this year is the "OMEGA" with small car size and small car price, but still maintaining the great Oldsmobile quality.

Upon opening his business in 1951 in Needham Anthony Berejik has sold Oldsmobiles to thousands of satisfied people. Being a service manager for 21 years previous to this opening, he knows all there is to know about maintaining that one of a kind car.

The new showroom and shop facilities can meet your every need from a minor grease job to a major body repair.

Heading the sales staff is son George with brother Harry and Star Salesman Ray Kalijian.

Oldsmobile, has introduced many new inovations to the automobile market with the new Cutlass Salon and 98 Regency, both specialized in luxury and comfort.

Coming soon to the Oldsmobile line-up is once again the exciting Hurst-Olds which is another special car that Berejik Motors emphasizes in their sales force.

With the opening of the first and only high performance center for sales and service they have not only captured the high performance market for youngsters but have created added excitement for the older people. Having raced a car for the past 4 years (with many honors) the racing crew at Berejiks can make even the slowest car perform like a jet.

All this has helped the endeavor to make Oldsmobile for 1973 one of the top 3 best seling cars in America.

Oldsmobile Sales Hit Third Place

LANSING, Mich. — For the first time in modern automotive history, Oldsmobile Division, on the strength of record December deliveries, captured third place in domestic car sales for calendar year 1972.

Howard H. Kehrl, Oldsmobile general manager, and William J. Buxton, divisional general sales manager, jointly announced today record calendar year sales of 771,280 which boosted Olds into the industry's third position. This total tops the division's previous calendar year high of 696,883, established in 1971.

Oldsmobile climaxed its most successful year with dealers delivering 71,491 cars in December. This surpasses the former December high of 57,181 set in 1965.

"Checking yearly figures back through 1935," said Kehrl, "shows this is the first time in modern automotive history that Oldsmobile has captured third place in calendar year sales. It is significant," Kehrl added, "that during 1972. . . the same year in which Oldsmobile celebrated its diamond anniversary. . . we finished third in sales for both the calendar year and model year."

1972 marks the continuation of a move by Oldsmobile up through the industry sales standings. After being sixth in calendar year sales from 1967-70, Olds moved into a solid fourth place in 1971.

"Our success is a tribute to our people, our products and our dealers," said Kehrl. "Perhaps most significant is that we have broadened and strengthened our product line in recent years. More people are becoming aware that Oldsmobile offers upgraded cars in a variety of sizes — a new compact Omega, an intermediate Cutlass - up to the big 88's and the luxurious 98 and Toronado.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY SALE

Can You Afford an Oldsmobile?

Don't say yes or no for another 60 seconds:

Before you answer, Healer Motors of Watertown would like you to understand one simple fact:

You can buy an Oldsmobile for little more than you'd pay for a so-called "low-priced" car of similar size and equipment.

So, if you can afford one of theirs — you can afford one of ours.

The sad fact, is too many people think Oldsmobiles are priced higher than they really are.

It's probably because of their respect for Oldsmobile's looks, performance and dependability.

Nevertheless, Healer Olds would like to destroy that myth forever.

They're out to show you that you can afford an Olds . . . and at a price you'd expect to pay for a lot less car, and to impress you with their level of dealer service and attention to your needs.

Why not visit Healer Olds and prove the point for yourself?

Buying A New Car? It's More Than Kicking Tires

Prospective buyers of new cars are too often dazzled by the glitter and glamor of showroom models to make certain that they are getting the best possible buy.

The ALA Auto and Travel Club advises buyers to weigh several major considerations before inking-in their names on the dotted line.

First of all, determine how much car you need. For a big family that does lots of traveling a station wagon would certainly be preferable to a sports car. On the other hand, a small family looking for an auto just to use around town would be better off with a compact or intermediate size car, rather than a big, luxury auto. Know what you want ahead of time and don't let the dealer talk you into taking a more expensive model that you don't need.

If you're interested in the resale value of your new car, remember that automatic transmissions will being a higher price than manual ones. This is due to the fact that they are easier to drive, especially in traffic. However, some people prefer the response of a car with a manual transmission. A manual has the additional advantage of being considerably cheaper (usually by about $200) than an automatic. Keep these facts in mind when buying.

Beware of certain optional extras which are stylish, but useless. For example, a vinyl roof may look great but it raises your car's temperature in the summer. In another instance, tinted windows impair night vision.

Power windows cost a good deal extra and could be impractical under certain circumstances. Mechanical failure can leave you with a stalled window that won't go down, or worse yet, once down will not go up again.

Try to get permission from the dealer to take a long test drive of several miles distance rather than a quick turn around the block. For the same reason, it is advisable to drive the vehicle in traffic before purchasing it.

Most important when buying a new car, or making any major purchases, is to read and understand the terms of any contractual agreement you may sign. Be familiar with warranty terms: what does ir cover, what are your responsibilities, and what are the responsibilities of the dealer should you later be dissatisfied? In short, sign nothing until you understand everything.

Goode Ford In Dedham Continues To Enjoy Enviable Reputation For Integrity

In [illegible] four years at their present [illegible]ham location, Goode Ford has established the same reputation for integrity that they enjoyed for 12 years in Hingham.

The reputation that Goode Ford enjoys is the end result of many policies set forth years ago by Richard Goode, President of the dealership.

His policies are utterly simple and they are basically: to treat the buying public as intelligent and knowledgeable people; do not attempt to sell them an automobile that they honestly can't afford, whether new or used; arrange bank financing for them at the best rates available and see to it that the payments are within their family budget.

It is also Goode Ford's policy to provide prompt, courteous and sound repair work when the customer has a problem.

Sincere involvement in community activities is still another of Goode Ford's policies.

This perhaps as much if not more than anything else has had an intangible but tremendously effective result.

Goode Ford has been an avid supporter of Dedham's youth. They have been active supporters of baseball, football, YMCA programs, and ha e had Bruin's players at their showroom to meet and talk with Dedham's young hockey players.

All these efforts and involvements have added up to great achievement for both Goode Ford and the community.

You are cordially invited to visit Goode Ford in Dedham on Route 1 at Route 128 during this automobile month of February.

Reggie Smith At Mac-Moran's On Washington's Birthday

Mac-Moran is celebrating Washington's Birthay knowing they are again the Chevrolet volume dealer of New England. Tom Ferguson, general manager of Mac-Moran is proud of their reputation as the volume dealer who still gives excellent personal service to every customer.

Reggie Smith will be at MacMoran's showroom on Washington's Birthday to say Hello to his many friends and 24 pairs of tickets to the Red Sox opening game, will be given free. Drawing for the lucky ticket holders will be Saturday, February 24.

Chevrolet, which sells more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer in the world, in 1973 offfers three product lines that are completely new from the ground up . . . the Monte Carlo, the division's personal luxury car; an all-new Chevelle; and a completely restyled line of pickup trucks, Chevrolet's first new pickup truck in six years.

The 1973 Chevrolets, featuring seven car series . . . from the top-of-the line Caprice to the versatile Vega . . . give America's automobile buyer the greatest choice of styling features and safety innovations ever offered in the division's 62-year history.

"Bill" Moran, co-owner of Mac-Moran Chevrolet, stated: "We are undertaking an all new service program, called Service Supremacy, which should result in a giant step toward even better service.

"The addition of an improved product and improved service to the momentum built in the past year should guarantee a super year for Mac-Moran Chevrolet in 1973," he concluded.

ALA's Hints For Windshield Care

One of your car's most important features is its windshield. However, the ALA Auto and Travel Club notes that windshields seldom receive the care they deserve. Since safe driving requires the best possible visibility, here are several suggestions for maintaining a cleaner windshield.

Don't remove dust and dirt by wiping the window with a dry cloth. Sometimes grit particles are harder than the glass and may scratch it. Instead, use a soft cloth or sponge and lots of water to flush away hard grit.

Don't operate windshield wipers on dry glass. This can be similar to sandpapering the glass surface.

Avoid using oily or greasy rags or cleaning preparations containing oil or grease on your windshield. Wipers can't remove rain uniformly if a film of oil or wax remains.

Never follow too closely, especially on unimproved roads. Tires of the car ahead can hurl small stones, sand, gravel or debris with enough force to cause pock marks, conical fractures or even outright breakage of the windshield.

Never use a metal object to remove ice or snow from your windshield. Plastic scrapers are recommended.

Check frequently to see that your windshield wipers contact the glass uniformly along their entire length.

Studded Tire Hints

Studded tires first appeared on the market in late 1964. Since then they have become so popular that Department of Transportation figures show that they currently account for about 40 per cent of all winter tire sales.

"Studs" have been shown to significantly increase traction on ice. However, the ALA Auto and Travel Club advises owners of this type of tire to observe certain cautions in order to insure maximum performance and safety.

1. In most states the use of studded tires is limited to winter months. A few states, citing evidence that studs damage pavement surfaces, prohibit them altogether.

2. Have studs inserted by a dealer or serviceman. Don't do it yourself — an amateur job can result in studs wearing improperly or falling out.

3. Do not attempt to stud a worn or used tire, or to re-stud any tire.

4. Do not exceed the recommended range of 100-150 studs per tire. Too many studs actually decrease traction.

5. Do not switch studded tires so as to reverse the direction of rotation. Studs wear in at an angle; a reversal of that angle can cause them to loosen and drop out of their mountings.

Salamone & Sons Oldest Toyota Dealer In Boston

Salamone and Sons Inc, Toyota, 37 Chestnut St. Needham, the oldest exclusive Toyota dealer in suburban Boston announces complete line of 1973 models.

Toyota's 1973 line represents the most comprehensive selection of vehicles the company has ever offered, with a range of models and body styles to suit the needs and tastes of virtually every small-car buyer.

Here's the Toyota line for 1973:

COROLLA: The Corolla, offered in a 1200 and 1600 series, is the smallest and most popular car in the Toyota lineup.

The Corolla 1200 is powered by a lightweight, 71.1-cubic-inch, four-cylinder engine and is available as a two-door sedan.

With the addition of a five-speed version, introduced earlier this year, the Corolla 1600 now comes in five models: two and four-door sedans, two-door coupe, two-door five-speed sport coupe, and two-door station wagon.

A tachometer has been added to the five-speed Corolla, along with simulated wood grain instrument panel, competition stripe and mag-style wheel covers.

CELICA ST: The Celica brought a new touch of sportiness to the Toyota line when it was unveiled in the summer of 1971, offering sports car performance with economy of cost and operation.

An optional three-speed automatic transmission is available for the first time in the Celica, which also has a new interior and sportier exterior styling for 1973.

The sleek, two-door hardtop, which has a 95.5-inch wheelbase and an overall length of 168 inches, is powered by a 120-cubic-inch, four-cylinder, overhead-cam engine.

CARINA: Priced between the Corolla 1600 and the Corona, the Carina for 1973 features a longer hood with sportier lines, rear end styling changes and larger tires.

The Carina has a 95.5-inch wheelbase, is 168 inches long, and is equipped with the same 96.9-cubic-inch, overhead-cam engine that powers the Corolla 1600. It is offered only as a two-door sedan.

CORONA: New to the Corona series is a four-door station wagon. Other Corona models are a four-door sedan and a two-door hardtop.

The sedan and hardtop have a 95.7-inch wheelbase and an overall length of 170.7 inches, while the station wagon has a 96.9-inch wheelbase and is 171.3 inches long. All three are powered by a four-cylinder, 120-cubic-inch engine.

The 1973 Corona series offers improved exterior and interior styling, better access to the rear seat in the hardtop model, larger tires and a trip odometer which resets with the push of a button.

MARK II: The Mark II, at the top of the Toyota line, remains unchanged in exterior appearance, but its performance has been substantially improved with a more powerful, 156.4-cubic-inch, six-cylinder engine with 122 net horsepower — a 12 percent increase over the 1972 version.

There are three Mark II models: a two-door hardtop, a four-door sedan and a four-door station wagon. They have a 101.8-inch wheelbase and an overall length of 175.4 inches (176.6 for the station wagon).

The Mark II also features a new, more powerful starter for improved cold-weather starting.

LAND CRUISER: Long considered one of the finest four-wheel-drive vehicles ever made, the Land Cruiser comes in three models — two-door hardtop, two-door soft top and four-door wagon. Bucket seats for greater comfort are now standard in the hardtop and soft top versions.

The Land Cruiser derives its power from a hefty 236.7-cubic-inch, six-cylinder engine. The standard Land Cruiser has a 90-inch wheelbase and is 152.4 inches long, while the station wagon has a 106.3-inch wheelbase and is 184 inches long.

The '73 Land Cruisers also feature a new side ventilation system, plus a column mounted ignition switch and steering wheel lock.

TOYOTA PICKUP: An optional three-speed automatic transmission is being offered for the first time in the 1973 Toyota half-ton pickup truck.

Pickup trucks equipped with the automatic transmission also have a shift-lever console and bucket seats as standard equipment, in keeping with sportier styling introduced earlier this year.

The pickup is powered by a 120-cubic-inch, four cylinder, single-overhead-cam engine. It has a wheelbase of 101.6 inches and an overall length of 168.5 inches.

'73 Cadillacs At Norwood Auto Rt. 1, Norwood

Carl Johnson, owner of Norwood Automobile Co., celebrates Washington's Birthday in his new Cadillac showroom on Route 1, Norwood. Mr. Johnson's original agency, opened over 50 years ago, was located just off Washington street, Norwood, approximately where Parke Snow's is now. He moved from Broadway, Norwood, where he had been in business for years, to his new location. He is one of the pioneers of the New England Automobile business.

The new complex which covers an area of 6½ acres has been attractively landscaped, an estimated $25,000 having been spent towards beautifying the grounds with trees, shrubs, flowers, and a green lawn. The showroom and service department occupy three quarters of an acre.

Crandall Hicks Shows New Austin Marina

The Austin Marina, a completely new entry in the fast-moving, family-size compact car sales race, goes on sale locally this week, it was announced today by Crandall Hicks Buick - MG Inc., Rte. 9, Wellesley.

Austin Marina features include a competition - proven four-cylinder engine, power-assisted disc brakes, rack and pinion steering, standard equipment radial ply tires, a large trunk, welded unit body construction for a quiet ride, cut pile carpeting, standard equipment tinted glass, reclining seats, self-adjusting inertia reel lap-shoulder safety belts and optional air conditioning.

Two body styles will be available. They are the four-door sedan priced at $2,575 and the two-door GT priced at $2,625 (prices are at all U.S. ports of entry). Both models are designed to seat four passengers in complete comfort.

The new Marina measures 169.2-in. from bumper to bumper or almost exactly the same overall length as a Chevrolet Vega sedan. The Marina has a 96-in. wheelbase.

The Marina is powered by the same 109-cubic-inch (1798cc) displacement, five main bearing, four-cylinder, overhead valve engine as the popular MGB sports car, another British Leyland model. In twin carburetor trim, this same engine has powered MGB's to two straight Sports Car Club of America national racing championships.

The four-door Marina's maximum speed is around 97 mph. With manual transmission, it can clock 0-60 mph in 14 seconds, according to factory tests. The Marina uses 91 octane, regular grade fuel.

Two transmissions are available. Standard is a four-speed all-synchromesh unit. The optional transmission is the well proven Borg-Warner Type 35 three-speed automatic. The automatic transmission option is $195 extra and the company says that approximately 50 per cent of the Marinas offered for sale here will be equipped with the automatic option.

All window glass in both the four and two-door Marinas is tinted to increase the efficiency of the dealer-installed, factory warranted air conditioning system available as optional equipment at $340 plus installation.

Flow-through fresh air ventilation is provided by an air inlet just in front of the windshield, adjustable face level vents at the left and right side of the dash and air extractors just behind the rear side windows. Additional ventilation is provided by adjustable front vent windows.

The Marina's trunk is one of the largest in the car's price class, with the four-door having a 13 - cubic - foot useable capacity and the two-door having eleven cubic feet of useable storage space.

In addition to its commodious trunk, the Marina has driver and passenger side panel shelves under the dash plus a deep, lockable glove compartment.

The interior floor of the Marina is completely covered with contour-moulded cut pile carpeting and the trunk is carpeted with vinyl felt. Upholstery is the "breathable" vinyl type for cool seating. There is a fold down center arm rest for rear seat passengers. Stalk type switches on either side of the steering column control the windshield wipers and washers, directional signals and headlight dimmer. Instrumentation includes speedometer-odometer, fuel and water temperature gauges and oil pressure, high beam, ignition, brake system and four-way-hazard lights. The two-door GT has a tachometer as well as a walnut finish dash panel.

Marina exterior colors are: Rheingold, a metallic brown, Glacier White, Limeflower, a green-yellow, Green Mallard, a dark green, Teal Blue, a dark blue, Lagoon, a medium blue metallic, Midnight Blue, Black Tulip, a deep purple, Damask Red, a deep red, Blaze, an orange red, and Harvest Gold.

Interior colors are: Black, Geranium, a light red, and Autumn Leaf.

The Marina GT has contrasting pin stripes on either side running from just behind the headlights to behind the rear seat windows. At that point, they hook upward complementing the GT's fastback rear window contour. The rear window slant does not interfere with rear seat headroom or driver visibility.

In addition to air conditioning, the optional equipment includes a choice of AM, AM—FM or AM—FM stereo multiplex radios, a console with tape player or extra instruments, roof rack, bumper guards and additional trim items. A special trim kit will be available for the GT which includes side stripes, alloy wheels and rear window louvers.

The Marina is manufactured by British Leyland Motor Corporation, with components coming from several British Leyland plants in the United Kingdom. Final assembly is at Cowley, near Oxford. There are additional assembly plants in Austrailia and, for the European Common Market, in Belgium. The total cost of the Marina project, including new production facilities was approximately $100 million.

Wellesley Volkswagen To Show Complete Line During Washington's Celebration

Automobile shoppers visiting Wellesley Volkswagen during the traditional Washington's Birthday celebration will have an opportunity to see first hand the new line of 1973 Volkswagens.

Conveniently located in Wellesley's Linden Street Shopping Center, Wellesley Volkswagen's three-year-old automotive sales and service operation is one of the most advanced in the United States. Designed by Volkswagen architects, Wellesley is noted in automotive circles as a "model Volkswagen facility."

John M. Frey, president of Wellesley Volkswagen, said, "The entire 1973 Volkswagen line has been improved to offer customers more convenience and ease of operation while still maintaining a total transportation concept. VW still offers economical transportation, high resale value, and we are very proud of our Parts and Service operations."

"For 1973 we have maintained our 24-month or 24,000-mile warranty, which is, with the exception of Rolls-Royce, the longest of any major automobile manufacturer in the world," Mr. Frey said.

Major restyling of the world-famous Beetle, a new Look for the luxurious 412 series cars and, for the first time, an automatic transmission on bus-like VW station wagons, are key features which make the 1973 models the most exciting lineup in VW history.

Still unmistakably Beetle-shaped, the 1973 Super Beetle sedans and convertibles have deeply curved windshields to distinguish them from models of the past. The new windshield gives the interior a more roomy feel.

The rear taillights are the other external clue to idntifying the '73 Beetles. They are larger and more rounded than in the past. Rear fender sheet metal is also changed.

A completely new dashboard, with improved ventilation outlets and attractive contemporary styling are among changes inside the passenger compartment. The front seats have been redesigned for more comfort, better looks and simplified adjustment. Continuing a tradition that has made the Beetle the most produced car in automotive history, most of the improvements in the 1973 edition are out of sight.

Type 4's Have New Look, Name

Type 4 series has been given a new look and a new name—the 412. The front fenders and hood are completely restyled on two-door and four-door 412 sedans and 412 station wagons. Rear taillights have been increased in size and the dashboard features a wood-grained inlay. On two-door models, the hinges have been changed to permit the doors to open wider, making it easier to get in and out.

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) -- Ground has been broken in this resort community for a new $4.5 million Desert Museum scheduled to be completed in August, 1974, the Palm Springs Convention and Visitors Bureau reports.

The Museum, which now owns $750,000 in donated art, is financed exclusively by private donations. Among major donors are Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Annenberg, who gave a theater-communications center; Leonard K. Firestone, who contributed an art display gallery, and entertainer Frank Sinatra, who gave a sculpture court.

1973 Volvo's On Display At Dalzell's Rt. 1 Dedham

A gala open house will be held Monday, Feb. 19 Washington's Birthday. On hand to greet all its customers will be Clarke Dalzell, Dave Dalzell, John O'Brien and Paul Henning.

In 1973 we can expect a steady increase in Volvo sales even with increased worldwide competition and more exacting Federal safety standards. This is due in part to steps taken in the course of many years by AB Volvo to make sure that the product you sell today meets the needs of Americans.

The 1973 Volvos you will be selling embody the most exafter the extensive changes since the introduction of the all-new 144 six years ago. These new features and product improvements, coming only a year after the xtensive changes incorporated in the 1972 models, will give us a major advantage in this market.

The real key to our success, however, continues to be the Volvo buyer. In an era of increasingly sophisticated consumerism, our customers recognize the traditional Volvo virtues of high quality and durability — that we continue to provide safe, sound, reliable transportation, with ample and comfortable accommodations and superior mechanical performance, along with economy and convenience features designed to make driving a pleasure.

The 1973 Volvos will thus be equally well received by current and former owners, who will be gratified to find the same exacting standards of workmanship they have been accustomed to; and by the first-time Volvo buyers, who cannot help being impressed by the comparison of Volvo's design and features to what-ever automobile they have been driving.

It's Experience and Know How At Clay Chevrolet

Tom Clay, vice president & general manager of Clay Chevrolet Inc. would like to introduce some of the people who work from him. He does this in hopes that some day soon you will drop by and get acquainted.

In sales, it's Joe Whippen, Sales Manager, with Armand Boucher, John Scully, Walter Foster, Louis Bove, John Simcox and Arthur Ivey. These seven men represent 51 years with the company and 35 years of award winning experience which is sure to help you when selecting your next new Chevy.

In Service it's Joe Vinciullo, Service Manager. Joe has been with the company many years and has many good mechanics working with him. Together they listen well and are confident they can solve any service problem

In parts it's Frank Goldman. Frank has been with the company several years and has the know how to stock the parts room with the right parts. This means no delay whether you buy your parts over the counter or through the service dept.

For those of you who wish to lease or rent cars or trucks, I hope you'll pay a visit to Bob Clay and John Keeley who head up our leasing and rental dept. Bob and John are confident they have the most competitive leasing and rental rates available. One visit will prove it.

Whether it's sales, service, parts or leasing, I sincerely hope you will stop by soon and get acquainted.

Ernie Clair Car Country Is On The Move — 1973 Style

When you think of Buick in the Boston area, the man you think of first is Ernie Clair. How many times over the years have we heard these words? And believe you, this reporter, the times have proved them right.

Ernie Clair plays Santa Claus to hundreds of kids, gives away free Christmas trees, and shoots 300 lb. bear with bow and arrow. He has hosted the Miss Massachusetts Wrold Beauty Pagent, sponsored golf tournaments, and bought, sold, and traded automobiles every twenty minutes of every working day. He operates a multi-million dollar auto exhibit. He is the highest ranking officer in the oldest Military organization in the Western Hemisphere, The Ancient and Honorables, and is past president of the Metropolitan Buick dealers association. The Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce and the Better Business Bureau of Boston. One of his favorite projects is the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children. He is involved in so many charitable and divic enterprises that he has been known to jokingly remark, "I spend twenty hours da day doing so many things so fast that it takes me the remaining ten hours to catch up with myself." When you visit 1575 VFW Parkway in West Roxbury, I'm sure you'll agree his time was well spent.

The dealership boasts of one around consisting of over seven working mechanical stalls and more than twelve acres of sales area.

The sales of Clair Buick?— truly this is one that has amazed automotive men from Maine to California using the newest in merchandising concepts, many of them self-devised. Ernie Clair has catapulted himself into an example for the rest of the industry to try and match.

In spite of his tremendous success, the basic concepts of Ernie Clair have never changed. "I want every customer to feel that he is important to me, and everything we do here at Clair Buick is tailored in this direction." The two ingredients that Clair puts the most emphasis on are talent and teamwork. "No man can do it alone— I never lose touch with the fact that we are only as good as the talent around us, and as we continue to grow I must be sure that my people are working effectively as a team."

What kind of a team did Ernie Clair put together? Let's take a look. Tom Marshall is the general sales manager. A family man with an eye to the future of the automobile business, Tom has been instrumental in putting together a sales team referred to by many as "the best in the business".

"When I take in a new man, I prefer one with no automobile selling experience. This man is more willing to accept the changes in customer attitude of the largest service facilties for the seventies. We believe that treating customers in a gentlemanly manner is not only important, but a down to earth necessity. People want just to be treated fairly and honestly, and all my people are carefully trained to put the customers interests first."

Alan Epstein is the used car manager. Bert Kaje, Ernie Kay, and Leo Hurney are all associates sales managers. Together they represent nearly a century of automotive know-how. Their everyday direction of the sales team assures each customer of the kind of treatment he wants and deserves.

Up from Florida, the service administrator is Joe Piriano. Although he found a great difference in temperature upon arriving, he was quick to warm up to the situation. When asked his initial feeling about Clair Buick service he said "not only do I find the mechanics to be well-schooled and competent, but there is an inherent feeling of togetherness expierenced in the way they work."

Also associated with Clair Buick are Basil Clair, parts manager; Rosario Boisvert, business manager; and Lew Snyder, comptroller. Even though other employees are not mentioned here Ernie Clair was quick to point out that every one of them is an important member of his team, whether it be a lot man cleaning a car for delivery or a clerk or telephone operator.

Ernie Clair Car Country is to this reporter one of the finest examples of individual and team effort in the automobile business today. Ernie Clair, in spite of the pressures of big business, still finds time to be friendly and personable, and he has the unique ability to instill this feeling within the people who work for him.

If you have never visited Clair Buick you're in for a surprise. Ernie Clair says "attitude makes the difference," and I can tell you first hand that attitude is an everyday project at Clair Country.

Lincoln Mercury Dealers Up Sales By 33 Percent

BOSTON — New England Lincoln-Mercury dealers sold more cars in 1972 than in any year in the history of the Lincoln-Mercury Division Boston district, Thomas F. Ridell, district sales manager, reported today.

"It was a fantastic year," he said, "and when I say we broke it, we went all out. Our dealers sold 27,780 cars, an increase of nearly one-third over the year before when they delivered 21,470 units."

Mr. Ridell pointed out that even with the heavy 1972 sales pace "there's no sign of a tapering off, and the prospects for 1973 are even brighter."

He forcast that industry sales for the first quarter of 1973 should be better than 2.6 million units — "record for any first quarter."

"There is every reason to believe sales will remain strong throughout the year, especially if contract negotiations which will be held in many industries this year can be concluded without long, harmful strikes and on a basis that will permit the nation's productivity to increase at least as fast as real wages and benefits," Mr. Ridell added.

He said Lincoln-Mercury Division's goal for 1973 calendar year sales is 650,000 cars. The predicted increase comes on the heels of the division selling more than 600,000 units for the first time in calendar year 1972.

Biggest gainer in 1972 among New England Lincoln-Mercury dealers was the imported Capri. The car was up nearly 67 per-cent over sales in 1972, with 4,974 units sold.

Montego — up 57 per cent — was the next biggest district seller with 7,238 units sold. Third was the Mark IV with a sales increase of nearly 53 per cent.

Mr. Riddell said important shifts within the total market were especially favorable for Lincoln-Mercury Division.

Other car line gains in the Boston district included Lincoln Continental up 23 per cent, Comet up 14 per cent, big Mercury 8 percent and Cougar 4 per cent.

The previous banner year for the Boston district's 115 dealers was 1971.

Herb Anderson V.W. To Show Complete Line During Washington's Celebration

Automobile shoppers visiting New England Volkswagen dealerships during the traditional Washington's Birthday celebration will have an opportunity to see firsthand the new line of 1973 Volkswagens.

Major restyling of the world-famous Beetle, a new look for the luxurious 412 series cars and, for the first time, an automatic transmission on bus-like VW station wagons, are key features which make the 1973 models the most exciting lineup in VW history.

Still unmistakably Beetle-shaped, the 1973 Super Beetle sedans and convertibles have deeply curved windshields to distinguish them from models of the past. The new windshield gives the interior a more roomy feel.

The rear taillights are the other external clue to identifying the '73 Beetles. They are larger and more rounded than in the past. Rear fender sheet metal is also changed.

A completely new dashboard, with improved ventilation outlets and attractive contemporary styling are among the changes inside the passenger compartment. The front seats have redesigned for front seats have been redesigned for more comfort, better looks and simplified adjustment.

Continuing a tradition that has made the Beetle the most history, most of the improvements in the 1973 edition are out of sight. Front and rear bumpers are reinforced to withstand "parking lot" accidents with no damage to safety-related equipment. Transmission durability is being further increased through larger bearings and other changes, and a diaphragm spring clutch replaces the former spring clutch for less pedal pressure

Typr 4s Have New Look, Name

Type 4 series has been given a new look and a new name — the 412. The front fenders and hood are completely restyled on two-door and four-door 412 sedans and 412 station wagons. Rear taillights have been increased in size and the dashboard features a wood-grained inlay. On two-door models, the hinges have been changed to permit the doors to open wider, making it easier to get in and out.

The 412 models are available with a four-speed manual transmission in two-door models and a three-speed automatic in four doors and station wagons.

AUTOMATIC IN Bus-like Wagons

For the first time, VW's bus-shaped wagons will be available with an automatic transmission as an option to the regular four-speed manual gear box. In addition, the front end of the cars is restyled with turn signals mounted high, next to the fresh air intake grille. Stronger bumpers that can take 5-mph front end collisions and 2 ½mph rear collisions are built into the '73 VW bus. VW voluntarily provided this feature; such protective bumpers are not required for multi-purpose vehicles under federal regulations.

Fresh air and heater outlets have been relocated and enlarged for more comfort and better defrosting, while heater controls are simplified. The wiper-washer switch, mounted on the steering column, has provision for intermittent wiping, a convenience in misty weather when the wipers need not operate all the time.

Two familiar VW models that remain comparatively unchanged for 1973 are the classic Karmann Ghia and the Type 3 series of sedans and Squarebacks.

The slick two-seat Ghias, available as coupes or convertibles, share some of the improvements found in '73 Super Beetles: increased provisions for Computer Diagnosis; reduced exhaust emissions; stronger bumpers; a new clutch; reduced interior noise; beefed-up transmission bearings, and, for models with Automatic Stick Shift, the inclusion of a park position in the shift pattern.

The Type 3 sedan and Squareback models continue to be available with manual or automatic transmissions. Priced just above the Super Beetle, the Type 3 Basic Compact and the more expensive Type 3 sedans and Squarebacks offer budget-minded families VW quality and economy along with increased interior space.

The Type 3 is the automobile that pioneered the use of electronic fuel injection, a system that uses a computer instead of a carburetor to meter fuel to the cylinders. The same induction system is found on VW's series and many sports and luxury cars of other makes.

Don Glaser general manager of Herb Anderson Volkswagen said, "The entire 1973 Volkswagen line has been improved to offer customers more convenience and ease of operation while still maintaining a total transporation concept. VW still offers economical transportation, high resale value and excellent parts and service availability."

"For 1973 we have maintained our 24-month or 24,000-mile warranty which is one of the longest of any major automobile manufacturer in the world," Mr. Glaser said. "All 69 authorized New England Volkswagen dealers have a complete line of 1973 VWs on display and we invite the motoring public to stop in and inspect them."

Quite often after a car has been sitting for several hours or overnight, a squeak is heard the first few times that the brake pedal is applied. Normally the squeak will disappear after the brakes have been used several times. If the squeak persists, however, the ALA Auto and Travel Club suggests that the car be taken to a reliable mechanic for checking.

It's an old wives' tale that reducing air pressure in tires provides greater traction in snow, according to safety advisers at the ALA Auto and Travel Club. Lower pressure causes only excessive tire wear.

Cook Motors Offers Big AM Motor Guarantee

Robert L. Cook owner and operator of Cook Motors Inc., 885 Highland avenue, Needham Heights, Massachusetts announces once and for all, American Motors wants you to judge which one of these companies has the best new car guarantee. But American Motors wants to do more.

Item: A simple, strong guarantee.+ In fact, the only guarantee that expects every part to last for 12 months or 12,000 miles, or we'll fix it free.

+When you buy a new 1973 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material or workmanship. This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada, and that guaranteed repairs or replacements be made by an American Motors dealer.

Item: American Motors is the only manufacturer that has a plan to provide a free loaner car if guaranteed repairs take overnight.

Item: Special Trip Interruption Protection. If your car needs guaranteed repairs more than 100 miles from home, American Motors will pay all reasonable expenses for food and lodging—up to $150.

Item: A free hot line to Detroit. If you want to get mad at us, we'll listen.

Our dealers make it possible for us to run this ad.

No manufacturer's guarantee can be successful without the cooperation of its dealers.

And like us, our dealers' dedication to the Buyer Protection Plan has become a way of life.

They know that we'll back them in their commitment to you, the customer, under the terms of the Buyer Protection Plan.

Besides, they're finding out what we've suspected all along: Build a good strong car with a good strong guarantee and the world will beat a path to your door.

We back them better because we build them better.

Educational Trophy to Boating Group

Great Blue Hill Power Squadron, a unit of United States Power Squadrons, recently received the Prince Henry Trophy, given annually to a squadron in District 12 in recognition of the number of its members successfully completing courses in celestial navigation. District 12 includes nine local Power Squadrons, south and west of Boston.

In addition to the JN (Junior Navigator) and N (Navigator) grades offered by the Power Squadron, each local squadron offers courses in safe boating, seamanship, and advanced piloting, all prerequisites for the Navigation courses.

Great Blue Hill Power Squadron launches its free spring boating course on March 5 at Westwood Senior High High School. Registration is open to men and women of all ages, and is held on the night of the first class. Classes are conducted each week for approximately 12 weeks, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The holder of the grade JN displays his or her ability to navigate a sea-going vessel, using celestial observations, anywhere in the world. Recent recipients of the JN grade from Great Blue Hill Power Squadron include Mr. and mrs. Francis Smith of Norwood, Russell Babcock of Norwood, John Rubinelli off Canton, and Samuel Goldman of Newton Highlands. Mrs. Smith is the first and only lady certificate holder affiliated with GBH to achieve this distinction.

Membership in the Great Blue Hill Power Squadron includes boatsmen from Westwood, Norwood, Dedham, Needham, Medfield, Walpole, Foxboro, Sharon, Canton, Norfolk, Franklin, and other communities in the Greater Boston area. For more information, call Lt. John H. Gemmel of Needham, 449-1362.

Tax Guide for Businessmen Now Available Says IRS

The 1973 edition of "Tax Guide for Small Business" is now available to answer questions businessmen have about Federal income, excise and employment taxes, William E. Williams, district director of Internal Revenue for Massachusetts, said today.

The business tax guide, IRS Publication 334, also contains a Tax Calendar for 1973 listing the dates on which the various tax and information returns and payments are due.

The booklet includes a checklist which enables businessmen to identify quickly all taxes they may have to pay. The checklist also contains information on each tax and the forms required, according to Williams.

The booklet explains how Federal tax laws apply to various forms of businesses such as the sole proprietor, partnership, or corporation. It also covers special problems faced by some manufacturers, retailers and professional men.

The "Tax Guide for Small Business" sells for 75 cents at most IRS offices. It is also available from the U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

When to Put On Car Plates

Board Approves Revaluation Funds

Newton aldermen this week approved an appropriation of $135,000 to hire an assessing firm for the revaluation of city property.

The board voted 14-4 Monday night to set the wheels in motion for what is estimated to be a two-year process of reassessing city property.

The debate over starting revaluation in Newton began almost one year ago exactly, resurfaced in September, 1972, and came back a third time for action this month after taxpayers filed a suit to force the issue.

A temporary restraining order which would stop the city from issuing tax bills if continued long enough, was granted to the taxpayers in court at the end of January.

Mayor Theodore D. Mann immediately placed a request with aldermen for an appropriation of $135,000 in order to hire a firm to do the job and demonstrate the city's intentions to the court.

Aldermen in favor of the appropriation agrued Monday that the court left them with no alternative while dissenters continued to warn that revaluation will hit hardest those least able to pay.

Alderman Peter F. Harrington said he felt a "number of people here will be seriously, financially harmed if we go to 100 per cent valuation."

"Once we go to 100 per cent," he went on to say, "we will lose certain benefits. I don't think we should just go forward like this because the judge and the mayor want revaluation."

Replying, Alderman Sidney T. Small told Harrington: "You think you're going to be saving people when actually you will be costing the taxpayers hundreds of thousands of dollars in 1973.

The only thing we will accomplish by delaying this is finding ourselves with a permanent injunction to stop us from sending out tax bills."

Alderman Robert Gaynor, who abstained from voting, said that the Board of Aldermen's decision was tragic but "in view of the present restraining order issued by Judge Henry Chmielinski, I believe the board had no alternative."

He predicted that revaluing the city at 100 per cent "will trigger a taxpayer's revolt that will result in an enormous exodus out of the city."

Ald. Michael Antonellis questioned whether or not the board would be losing its opportunity to review the firm selected by the mayor to handle assessing if the $135,000 was approved.

"I am in favor of voting the money to show our good faith, but I don't feel any judge would expect we do not want to review the contract for the job," he said.

Ald. David Jackson responded that Mann had told members of the Finance Committee he does intend to discuss the contract with the board and does not plan on issuing a contract until he has the full appropriation for the job from the Board of Aldermen.

When the 37-party taxpayer suit was filed in January, Judge Chmielinski issued the restraining order and continued it at a court hearing Jan. 31

At that time, he told City Solicitor Melvin J. Dangel he did not think the city has made as serious an effort to start revaluation as it could have.

Oak Hill Bus Route Now Official

MBTA officials have announced that the proposed change in th Oak Hill to Newton Corner bus route will go into effect on Monday, March 19.

The bus will discontinue the use of Roosevelt Road and will proceed down Greenwood Street and on to Brandeis Road to make its stop at Newton South High School.

The bus will make a U-turn at South High and come back out to Dedham Street via Greenwood Street.

It will then proceed up Dedham Street to Parker Street, to Cypress Street, to Centre Street and on to Newton Corner.

It will also use the U-Turn pattern at South High School on return trips south from Newton Corner.

Mayor Theodore D. Mann, in a letter to the MBTA dated Feb. 12 confirmed that this is the route change approved by his

Tardiness A Problem, Chief Reports

Chief William F. Quinn of the Newton Police Department issued an advisory on tardiness to parents of elementary school students this week.

The chief said, "This department supervises over 75 school crossings, enabling children to cross busy streets safely. These supervised crossings were established after requests from parents and school authorities indicating concern for the safety factors involved.

"Yet, my policewomen and officers inform me that we are experiencing a high rate of late arrivals at school."

Housing Authority Still Trying

The Newton Housing Authority this week continued to seek state funds for construction of four projected housing developments which had previously been thought to have been covered by funds from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development

Faced with the freeze on funds from Washington, Authority Chairman Anthony Medaglia gave his staff the go-ahead to seek state funding for the projects.

Medaglia was encouraged to seek state funding by recent approval granted to the Authority to proceed with land acquisition at the proposed Beaconwood rd. site by the Department of Community Affairs of the Commonwealth.

The authority has also filed applications with the state for two other projects, one involving 50 units of elderly and four units of low income housing off Thurston rd., Newton Upper Falls; and the other containing four units of low income housing on Victory Field, Nonantum.

An application for a third project on Curve St. and for construction funding of the Beaconswood Rd. site will be filed within the week and "hopefully we'll get authorization on the whole package shortly after that," explained Medaglia.

The current owners of the Beaconswood Rd. property have not as yet responded to an offer for purchase of the land made by the authority according to Medaglia.

Ciccone Realty Trust, owners of the land for the past 60 years, have, in fact, filed a law suit against the authority aimed at overturning the Newton Planning Board's approval of a plan for subdivision of the site submitted last spring by the authority.

The suit would overturn that approval on the ground that the authority did not own the land and therefore had no legal right to seek a subdivision.

City Solicitor Melvin Dangel has recently ruled that the authority did have the right to seek approval of a subdivisional plan even though it didn't own the property because of its power of eminent domain.

Medaglia explained that the law suit will be moot if the authority owns the land by the time it is heard in court. "If we don't own the land by then, and the court overturns the planning board, we can always resubmit our plan for subdivision to the board in the event we subsequently gain ownership," continued the chairman.

The authority sought approval for a subdivision because the state requires planning board assent before releasing purchase funds, according to Medaglia.

As explained by Jennifer Volkert, authority assistant, in recent public hearing before the aldermanic Land Use Committee, the housing authority will continue to keep its applications for federal funding on file with HUD in the event the current moratorium does not apply to Newton.

"In fact," stated Mrs. Volkert, "Newton's congressional delegation in Washington, including Senators Brooke and Kennedy, Congressman Drinan and Democratic Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neil of Cambridge, are actively working on our behalf."

Authority Vice Chairman James Miller has stated that the authority intends to keep the Newton end of the HUD pipeline open by continuing to apply for federal funds despite the freeze. "That way," explained Miller, "should the freeze be lifted, or for some reason Newton is not included in the moratorium, we will not have to start from scratch in negotiating with Washington."

Aldermen Take Up The Task Of Reviewing Budget Tonight

The aldermanic Finance Committee has released a list of hearing dates for departments within the proposed $45.8 million 18-month city budget.

Hearings begin at 5 p.m. today (Feb. 22), with the executive department's budget.

There will also be hearings Friday and Saturday.

These departmental budgets will be discussed Friday beginning at 5 p.m. and running through 9:15 p.m.:

Personnel
Library
Human Resources
Accounting
Treasury
(Dinner adjournament from 6:30 to 8:15 p.m.)
Elections
Purchasing
Law Department
Planning Director

Deliberations on departmental budgets are slated to resume at 9 a.m. Saturday and will run through 3:30 p.m.

On the agenda are these departments:

Assessing
Fire
Police, Animal Control

An executive session, closed to the public and press, is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. followed by a lunch break.

Hearings then resume at 2 p.m. and four additional departments are to be covered.

They are:

Recreation Department
Health Departmeny
City Clerk
Clerk of the Board.

An executive session is also scheduled to be held at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

According to the schedule, 10 additional budgets will be reviewed on Saturday, March 3, beginning at 9 a.m. and the entire document will be reported to the full Board of Aldermen on Saturday, March 17 or Saturday, March 24.

Bus Hearing Set

A hearing on proposed school bus safety legislation will be held Tuesday, Feb. 27, at 10:30 a.m. in room 473-B of the State House.

The Public Safety Committee will be taking testimony on the legislation proposed by State Representative Lois G. Pines. People interested are urged to attend.

Harrington Delivers Statement Supporting His Handgun Bill

State Representative Peter F. Harrington of Newton appeared before the legislative Public Safety Committee last week in support of his bill to require mandatory registration of handguns.

Appearing with him to indicate their support of the legislation were members of the Druggists Association, representatives of local banks, and Mrs. Joan Cowan whose husband was mysteriously shot and killed last November in Waltham.

Harrington said the bill has also been endorsed by the Massachusetts Police Chiefs Association.

The Newton legislator also submitted petitions signed by 1,000 residents of the Commonwealth in support of his proposal.

In his testimony before the committee, Rep. Harrington noted his feeling that "our history as a nation plays a strong part in the negative reaction to gun control."

"Most of those who came to America to found and build this great nation," he explained, "emigrated from a civilized world to a frontier."

"It has been said that the white man wanted North America and he took it," he continued. "The flint lock rifle, the ball and cap pistol, the six gun and with Winchester rifle were the law and justice that settled this country. It was the law of the gun that stilled opposition to progress and prosperity."

"Romantic legend has sugared the truth of the harsh, bloody and violent history of this nation," he added. "And how do we respond to this recital of our historical record? Do we pass it off and say 'this is 1973'?"

Harrington also cited these statistics:

— In 1970, there were approximately 15,000 homicides in the United States and handguns were used in 52 per cent of the murders involving 8,221 victims.

— In 1968, there were 21,372 suicides and 10,911 of them were deaths from guns.

— In 1960, there were 475,000 handguns manufactured in the United States and in 1969, there were 2.8 million handguns manufactured. Production was up 600 per cent.

— Official records show that in 1970, there were 78,000 arrests for illegal carrying of weapons and 138,000 armed robberies committed with firearms.

"On and on goes the litany of violence, from aggravated assault to political assassination," he stated.

Harrington described his proposed legislation as "not an answer or a curb on violence, but a step in that direction."

He said it offers a "compromise between those that call for a ban on firearms and those that claim an unfettered right to own firearms."

He explained the present law requires gun owners to obtain a firearms identification card, he

Tannenbaum Weathers Life-Long Affair

BY LEN BATEMAN

"If you can't have the girl you love, then love the girl you have!"

Thus spoke retired weatherman Oscar Tannenbaum of Newton in explaining his life-long infatuation with the field of meteorology.

Tannenbaum met his "love" on a more or less blind date after graduating from Northwestern University in Chicago.

It was 1929.

The stock market had just crashed and Tannenbaum's father had just died.

Oscar wanted to go to law school but financial prospects were dim for him as they were for most Americans at that time.

He took several civil service exams and passed all of them. The only one which produced a job, however, was in weather forecasting.

Tannenbaum took the job not only because of the money involved but because the working hours entailed in forecasting Chicago's windy weather allowed him to attend Northwestern University Law School during he day.

For the next three years Oscar lead three lives.

He was a weatherman, a law student and a very serious gentleman caller on the young woman who was to eventually become his wife and the mother of his two sons.

"I always carried on more than one career at the same time," stated the 64-year-old retiree who is now determined to continue doing the same.

After graduating from law school, Tannenbaum left the weather service and practiced labor law in Chicago for seven years. "It was always my first love," he conceded, "but world events again interfered and I was called back into the weather service by a government rapidly being drawn into World War II."

The Tannenbaums moved to Kansas City where the young lawyer turned his attendton to aiding military and civilian aircraft using that city's airfields.

"We arrived there one week after the attack on Pearl Harbor and stayed there until the summer of 1947," stated Tannenbaum, who explained that after the war he decided to take advantage of his seniority in government service and remain in domestic aviation forecasting.

In the fall of 1950, after a three year stint in Washington, D.C., Tannenbaum was transferred to Logan Airport in Boston.

He settled his family in Newton where he soon became very active in Temple Emanuel activities, serving at one time as president of the temple brother hood. "We love it here and have no intention of returning to Chicago now that I've retired," stated Tannenbaum

After 22 years as New England's chief climatologist, he is now ready to resume the career "interrupted by World War II."

Actually, explained Tannenbaum, "I have plans to combine the best of both my law and weather forecasting careers."

Tannenbaum recently attended a meteorological convention in Florida where he and several other weather service retirees banded together to form an association of consultants to government and industry on climatology problems.

He has also been admitted to the Massachusetts Bar through a reciprocal agreement between Massachusetts and Illinois which permits lawyers licensed in one state to be licensed in the other.

His long years as a meteorologist have convinced Tannenbaum of the importance

NOMINATIONS OPEN — The Newton Jaycees have begun their annual search for candidates for their 1973 Distinguished Service Awards. This will be the first year men ages 18 to 21 will be eligible for the honor. Nominations are accepted from any citizen in the Newton community. Men ages 18-35 are eligible. Jaycee President Jim Duncan (left) is shown here with one of last year's winners, State Rep. David Mofenson. State Rep. Paul Guzzi was also a winner last year. Anyone who wants to make a nomination can call Bob Alkon (969-6032) or Jeff Cornell (965-0200). Judging is done by an impartial volunteer panel selected from outside of the Jaycee membership.

Democrats Working On Theater Party

Plans for the Newton Democratic City Committee's 1973 Theater Party at Brandeis' Spingold Theater are well underway, according to committee chairman Ald. Richard J mcGrath.

The play, Arthur Miller's "The Crucible", is the choice for the April 7 event. After the performance, a party will be held.

Invitations have been extended to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, Atty. Gen. Robert Quinn, State Senate President Kevin Harrington, House Speaker David M. Bartley, Congressmen Thomas O'Neil, Michael Harrington, and Robert Drinan, Boston Mayor Kevin White, State Committee Chairman Charles Flaherty, former representative Michael Dukakis and a number of county officials.

Ticket information can be obtained from McGrath or David Mofenson. Tickets are $25 a pair for patrons, $5.50 each.

Supports Bill For Utility Rebates

Newton Mayor Theodore D. Mann and State Representative Peter F. Harrington were among those present Tuesday to testify in support of a bill giving power to the Department of Public Utilities to make rebates for inadequate service.

Mann said he feels the bill will "provide a means for more adequate regulation of public utilities in the Commonwealth."

Harrington, the bill's sponsor, said the proposal reflects the question: "should a utility be required to maintain a certain level of service?"

"If you adopt the theory that a utility should be required to maintain a level of service, the legislation should be passed," he said.

Harrington went on to say that a "utility crisis has been developing for the past 10 years."

He said his bill is aimed at making the utilities do three things:

—force them to seek power supplies to replace their dwindling power supplies,

—force them to replace antiquated service delivery equipment with new systems,

—and make sure the new efforts are paid for from utility profits and not through rate increases.

"In addition," the Newton legislator went on to say, "rates should be reduced when service is poor."

The local representative also pointed out that two states, New York and Illinois, have adopted legislation similar to his proposal; and four other states, Alabama, Florida, Kentucky and Utah, allow consumers to sue utilities.

Harrington charged that between 1960 and 1970, electrical power and telephone company profits have risen from $3 billion to $5 billion after taxes; and that although the gas utility advertises for new customers, it recently turned down a request from American Legion Post No. 440 for the installation of gas heat at the post's new building.

Mayor Mann made this statement:

"In October of 1972 I petitioned that the DPU hold a hearing in Newton concerning inadequate telephone service to the Newton region. For three days, evidence and arguments were presented which I BELIEVE ESTABLISHED THE TELEPHONE COMPANY'S FAILURE ON A COMMUNITY+WIDE LEVEL TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE SERVICE. Twenty citizens came to present their own personal experiences, 100 letters and 3000 signatures on a petition were received confirming the poor service — the delays, the inconveniences, the businesses losses and danger to public safety.

"While telephone service in Newton was singled out as one of the worst in the Commonwealth, the failure of the telephone company to live up to its public duty to serve the citizens in a basic necessary is present in other geographical areas of the state. A public utility which provides any service — telephone, gas or electricity — must remain responsive to the needs of the consumer citizenry. I recognize that under our laws the public utility is also entitled to a profit. But it is not entitled to reap monetary benefits while failing in its assigned duty to provide such basic essential services.

"Government can establish regulations and safeguards. It can attempt to set standards for these utilities. These are proper and important mechanisms for reminding the utilities that they are different from other private businesses. The most potent weapon, however, for guaranteeing service is the profit incentive.

"When a utility's performance in any community is substandard, the DPU should reduce the rates charged to subscribers who have been adversely affected. Attorneys representing the City of Newton presented at the telephone hearings in Newton my belief that the DPU presently has implied statutory power to order retroactive and prospective rate reductions which apply to gas, electric and telephone companies. Nevertheless, I wholeheartedly support legislation which will expressly include such powers. The power to provide a reduction should not only operate as a rebate once deficiencies are found, or House 1715 proposes, but also operate prospectively until the DPU determines that service levels have been sufficiently upgraded. The burden of proof for ending rate reductions would then rest with the utility and consumers would not continue to pay the costs of bad service which the regulatory agency has already declared.

"I would direct your attention to the approach being taken by the State of New York whose Public Service Commission is expressly granted such powers. The Commission adopted a series of weighted performance indexes incorporating the telephone company's own performance standards. Reductions have already been ordered for thousands of subscribers in areas which the commission determined were receiving substandard service. The methodology was set out in Cases No. 25612 and 26080 of the Public Service Commission Reports of 1972.

"I urge you to approve House 1715 while extending the rate reducing power to grant rebates and operate prospectively until such time as a deficient utility eliminates the substandard service."

Woman Injured During House Break

An 81-year old Newton woman was found on the floor of her home last week after 15 hours. She was pushed down two flights of stairs by a duo of would-be burglars.

Mrs. Florence Brewster, 20 Magnolia Ave., finally managed to crawl to her front door and call to a neighbor waiting on the sidewalk for his morning car pool ride.

Harry Antoniades of 21 Magnolia St. told police that he found the stricken woman after hearing faint calls for help. He immediately called the police who took Mrs. Brewster to Newton-Wellesley Hospital where she was treated and hospitalized for a fractured leg.

According to police, Mrs. Brewster told Antoniades that she had been drawn from her cellar at about 2 p.m. one day last week by the sound of footsteps on the first floor of her home. She surprised two men in her kitchen.

According to the police account, the men demanded money and threatened to kill her if they did not find any. When she attempted to reach for the telephone, it was ripped from the wall by one of the men, she said.

She told the intruders that money was kept on the second floor, according to police, but when they couldn't find any they threw the elderly woman down two flights of stairs.

She estimated that her assailants were in the house for at least 40 minutes, said the police.

After they left, she inched her way up the cellar stairs, a feat she thought must have taken at least two hours.

Throughout the early evening, Mrs. Brewster attempted to attract attention by crying out and knocking on various windows. Her attempts went unheeded, however, and she eventually fell asleep on her kitchen floor, police recounted.

When she awoke in the morning, Mrs. Brewster was able to crawl to her front door, partially open it, and attract Antoniades' attention, according to police.

Their investigation revealed, police said, that the two men gained entry by breaking a small pane of glass in the front door of the Brewster home. Police later found the injured woman's handbag containing $33 in bills and $1.33 in change and several credit cards in a front hall closet.

Mrs. Brewster also provided them with an adequate description of her assailants, according to police who were able to question her for a short time during her confinement at the hospital.

Police were also investigating a break at the home of Mrs. Samuel Cohen, 103 Audubon Drive in the Oak Hill section of the city.

Mrs. Cohen arrived home last Thursday to discover that thieves had broken into her home by smashing a pane of glass, police reported. A bedroom was ransacked, according to police, and some jewelry and $30 in cash was taken along with a small AM-FM radio and a pipe stand containing 10 pipes.

The apartment of John C. Moscato at 91 Walker St. was also victimized by ransackers.

According to police, Moscato's sister notified them that she found a bedroom of the apartment completely ransacked when she made a daily check of the premises.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Robinson of 1073 Washington St., also reported a break in their apartment to police who said that two televisions, one clock, a fur stole and jewelry were taken from the apartment.

Thomas Sabetti, custodian of Newton South High School, reported that sometime between 6 p.m. on Feb. 15 and the opening of school on Feb. 16 entered the building by breaking through a skylight.

Sabetti was not able to give police a rundown on missing items, but did determine that the broken, bubble skylight would cost approximately $150 to replace, according to investigating officers.

Newton police placed a 22-year-old Newton man under arrest on Feb. 15, after an alert patrolman spotted him passing allegedly phony $10 bills in the Newton Centre area according to police.

Officer Harold J. Travers apprehended the young man after he compared currency the man had just changed in the Hip Pocket specialty store and Tony's Jr. Villa on Union St. with real bills. According to police the money was allegedly counterfeit because of a difference in color and federal authorities were notified.

Homestead Recreates Old Newton

The 1973 spring history classes at Jackson Homestead are now open for registration it was recently announced.

Notices are being sent to all public and parochial schools in the City stating that the classes will commence on Tuesday, Mar. 6, and Thursday, Mar. 8. They will continue for six consecutive weeks.

More than 100 school children attended these classes last fall and many more had to be turned away. Instruction is given for fourth and fifth grade students.

Classes are conducted in the various colonial activities of candle dipping, butter churning and weaving as well as in early community history.

The program is sponsored by the Jackson Homestead, Newton's city-owned museum at 527 Washington St., as part of its cooperative educational activities.

There is no charge for enrollment in the classes and interested students should have their parents call Mrs. William H. Cannard, director of the homestead, at 332-3920.

Civic Associates Hear Proposal

The Auburndale Community Association will hold its winter meeting on Sunday Feb. 25 at 7:30 p.m., at the Corpus Christi Church Hall, Ash Street, Auburndale.

Mr. Arthur Ullian will be featured speaker. He will discuss a proposal for a "Life Care Center," to be located in Auburndale on Stanton Avenue, off Washington Street, adjacent to the Woodland MBTA Station.

The public is invited to attend.

GOP Sets Dinner Date

After weeks of extensive committee work, plans are now set for Newton's 13th annual Lincoln Day Dinner on Wednesday, Mar. 28, at the Marriott Motor Hotel, Newton, it was recently announced by President Donald P. Quinn of the Republican Club.

The dinner, widely regarded as one of the area's major political events, has been moved to a date somewhat later than usual to avoid a crowded, community, activities calendar, Quinn added.

Quinn also announced that William I. Cowin, secretary of administration and finance for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, will be the guest of honor and principal speaker at the dinner.

"Secretary Cowin, referred to often as the deputy governor, holds the top appointed administrative office in the Commonwealth. He is completely dedicated to the cause of good government and making that government more responsive to the needs of its citizens. We note with particular pride that Mr. Cowin is a resident of Newton and we welcome him as our guest of honor and principal speaker," stated Quinn in making the announcement.

A city-wide ticket distribution is underway according to John L. DiSabato who is being assisted in the project by Mrs. G. M. Swift.

The Patron's Committee for the dinner is chaired by Mrs. Edward C. Becherer, Mrs. Robert L. Tennant and Miss Charlotte R. Thornbury.

The combined Republican groups of Newton are sponsoring the dinner. Among the groups are the Newton Republican Club, Donald P. Quinn, president; Newton Republican City Committee, Julius L. Masow, chairman; Newton Young Republicans, Charles Miller, president; and the Newton Italian-American Republican Club, Francis A. Tambascio, president.

Arrangements for the dinner have involved more than 100 Newton residents under the leadership of Mrs. Herman Amerling and Henry J. Wilson who are serving as co-chairmen for the event.

Other active participants have been Mrs. Maudyea M. Campbell, chairman of hostesses; Julius L. Masow, printing; Mrs. Whelan Vinnicombe and Mrs. Rene J. Marcoux, decorations; Mrs. Harry Brenner, telephone committee; David A. Lurensky, public relations and Mrs. William L. Bruce and Robert Semonian, members of the Massachusetts state committee representing Newton.

Hopes High For Vacation Skating

Weather permitting the Recreation Department hopes there will be skating at the three major, natural ice areas during this vacation week.

The areas, Bullough's Pond, Crystal Lake and Ware's Cove should be open from 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

For up to date information on skating conditions call the special number 969-2851.

The Archery Classes conducted at the Newton Centre Field House by Hill Baker and his assistant Ray Minard have reached the half way mark. There are 26 enrolled so the class is full up for the rest of this year, Baker said.

Plans for a shoot with Waltham are in the works and the details will be revealed at a later date.

The Winter Basketball Season is reaching its conclusion as playoff schedules are being formulated in the three leagues sponsored by the Newton Recreation Department.

Recreation Supervisor William J. Barry who directs that American League reports that Silver Lake Electronics continues to lead the A Division with a perfect 7 - 0 record. George's Cafe, with a 6 - 1 slate is pushing followed by Waban Wonders, 5 - 2 and Centre Pizza and South High, each with 4 - 3 records.

The 10 team division has only a week to go before the playoffs start about the 5th of March.

Playoffs in the B Division will start considerably later due to the fact that there are 13 teams in that division.

The current standings list the Newton Boys Club on top, 7 - 0 with the Stumblebums making a race of it with 6 - 1. The Lovemen and the Bucks are tied for third, 5 - 2, and the Upper Falls Club has posted a 5 - 3 record to date.

The National League directed by Recreation Intern Austin Moore is led by the Lakers with 8 wins and 1 loss and three teams, the No-Names, the Brewers and the Beginners, each with 4 - 5 records are tied for second.

National League playoffs are scheduled to begin February 3.

In the Pony Basketball League the Newton Boys' Club has a four point bulge with 6 wins and no losses. The Warren Red Devils, 4 - 2 are second followed by the Sacred Heart Club and Hawthorn Lakers tied for third, each boasting 3 - 3 records. Newton Centre is fourth, 2 - 4 and the Beginnings are 0 - 6.

The playoffs are scheduled for March 5th.

Supervisor Barry reports that the first Saturday night at the West Newton Coffee House at the First Unitarian Church drew 170 young people on opening night.

The activity is co-sponsored by the Community Center and the Recreation Department, Saturday nights from 7:30 to 11 p.m. The operation is supervised by Tony Quintiliano, Marty Cohen and Karen Wright.

Recreation Supervisor Fran Towle reports the Newton Swim Team girls have won their first meet of the season defeating Weston at Weston Junior High, 84 to 82.

During their last outing the Newton girls indicated they were ready for a win as they dropped a close meet to Brookline, 82 - 84.

The Swim Team now breaks for the February vacation after which it will resume practice at the Brighton-Allston Y on February 27.

Fran again points out that the Toneastics Classes will resume at the Newton Centre Field House on February 26. Interested women should contact the Recreation Department 969-3171 for further information.

Another new program is scheduled to begin at the Horace Mann School on March 13 according to Miss Towle.

A Mother-Daughter Exercise Class will be held from 7 to 9 Tuesday evenings. Daughters should be registered in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades this year. After the initial meeting the class will be divided into two groups on the basis of age.

To register call 969-3171.

The next regular meeting of the Newton Recreation Commission will be held on February 26 at 7:45 p.m. at the Recreation Department offices at 70 Crescent st. in Auburndale.

Artist Demonstrates Watercolor

Members and friends of the Newton Art Association will be treated to a demonstration in watercolor by Mr. Carlton Plummer.

Mr. Plummer, born in Brunswick, Maine, now living in Chelmsford, Massachusetts, is an assistant professor at Lowell State College.

He is a graduate of Vesper George School of Art and has earned a Master of Fine Arts Degree at Boston University. He painted in Europe while in the U.S. Army Special Services in 1948, and in Thailand in 1969 as official artist for the Department of Military History in Washington.

Mr. Plummer has exhibited throughout the East and has won many awards. His paintings can be found among many public and private collections.

The meeting will be held at the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, 72 Columbus St., Newton Highlands at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Elvira Suitor and her committee during this, the Mar. 1 meeting.

Mayor Urges State Fund Costs Of Waste Removal

Mayor Theodore D. Mann of Newton recently appeared before a hearing of the state legislature's Committee on Natural Resources and Agriculture to support proposed House Bill 3500 which would provide state funds for environmental improvements.

In backing the hill, Mann told the state legislators, "As the technology for controlling the emissions from incineration has advanced, there has been a corresponding increase in the Commonwealth's requirements which cities, towns and districts are attempting to meet. The costs for remodeling and reconstructing municipal incinerators for this purpose are onerous when laid upon the tax-weary citizens of local communities."

The Mayor gave the committee an idea of the cost to Newton for upgrading its solid waste facilities. "It would," be said, "take between one and three million dollars to rehabilitate the city incinerator which was built in 1967 with what was then considered to be an adequate spray-and-baffle fly-ash removal system."

According to Mann, Newton has been meeting with neighboring communities since last February in order to develop some regional plans, but he told the representatives that both Newton and Waltham have very little land left for sanitary land fill.

"What with the present impact of the 18-month budget, the increasing cost of services that we must provide and the decline in usable land, it is now apparent that the responsibility rests solely with higher bodies of government to find ways to assit communities with their solid waste disposal problems," stated Mann.

County Hospital Maintains Alcoholism Crisis Service

A direct line for persons wanting help with alcohol problems — either their own or a friend's or relative's — has been added to the alcoholism services of Middlesex County Hospital, Waltham. Just dial 894- 004.

During the first two months of the hospital's multi-phased alcoholism program it has already reached over 500 persons. The 20-bed alcoholic detoxification and rehabilitation unit had 97 admissions from 17 cities and towns in the county.

The telephone counseling service took 250 calls from 26 cities and towns. Of these calls, 120 were concerning admission to the unit, 120 were for counseling or general information and 10 were of a crisis nature such as an attempted suicide which was averted with the assistance of the caller's local police department.

The most striking point about the Middlesex program according to officials of the Division of Alcoholism is that out of almost 100 in-patients so far, 20-30 are now actively involved in Alcoholics Anonymous in their own communities and an additional 10-15 are participating in other after care programs such as one at the Bedford Veterans Administration Hospital, Eastern Middlesex Half Way House in Malden or the Caspar House in Cambridge.

This is a very high rate of alcoholics who have been detoxified and are now in ongoing, after-care, support programs," explained William Hartigan, program co-director.

The detoxifications unit calls all former patients about two to three weeks following discharge to ask if there are any problems.

"The new telephone line, which will allow expanded counseling service, is intended, not only to provide a direct service to individuals who have an alcohol problem, but to help people in all county communities who are not sure what services they need find the appropriate agency or service." Mr. Hartigan explained.

"The main focus of the hospital's total alcoholism service is to reach out into the communities and establish a comprehensive alcoholism plan. "We would very much like to encourage service clubs and social groups who are interested in alcoholism to contact us and we will put them in touch with speakers on various aspects of alcoholism," Hartigan said.

A total of 250 persons are now attending weekly Alcoholics Anonymous meetings at the hospital. These are held by community people from Belmont, Malden, Watertown, Tewksbury, Woburn and Newton. There is one Alcoholic Anonymous meeting each week attended by 20 or 30 family members.

Of in-patient admissions, there were 20 from Waltham, 17 from Cambridge, nine each from Newton and Watertown and eight from Somerville during the first 60 days. Patients also came from Woburn, Arlington, Malden, Lexington, Medford, Belmont, Everett, Melrose, Lowell, Wilmington, Bedford, Natick and Burlington.

Telephone calls have come from Waltham, Cambridge, Newton, Watertown, Somerville, Woburn, Arlington, Malden, Lexington, Medford, Belmont, Everett, Melrose, Lowell, Wilmington, Bedford, Natick, Burlington, Framingham, Reading, Wakefield, Acton, Weston, Billerica, Tewksbury, Winchester and Concord.

The Middlesex program works closely with six local task forces for alcoholics, the Metropolitan-Beaverbrook area (Belmont, Watertown and Waltham) Lexington, Burlington, Winchester, Arlington and the Tri-City area (Malden, Everett and Medford).

HELPING OUT — Marina T. Guidetti, a sophomore at Cazenovia College has been working at a children's center in Syracuse, N.Y., as part of the college's Internship in Community Service course. Students work from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily and meet at weekly evening seminars to discuss their experiences. Miss Guidetti is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Guidetti of 99 Pennsylvania Ave.

Citizens For Education Elect New President

Daniel J. Ahern has been elected president of the Newton Citizens for Education, replacing Robert Kaplan who has left Newton for professional employment in another state.

Ahern is a community development specialist, currently serving as executive director of the Back Bay Federation for Community Development and the Back Bay Association.

Previously, he was executive director of the Downtown Waterfront Corporation. In that capacity he directed the planning for the renewal of Boston's downtown waterfront and the Faneuil Hall Market area which will be the focal point of Boston's 1975-1976 Bicentennial celebration.

Ahern is a graduate of Boston College School of Management and he has done graduate work in Urban Studies at Boston University. He is a director of the Citizen's Housing and Planning Association of Greater Boston.

Active in Newton civic and educational affairs, Ahern formerly served as a member of the PTA Council and as President of the Friends of the Newton Free Library. He has also been active in youth football, baseball and tennis programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ahern live at 21 Orient ave. Newton Centre. They have four children in the Newton Schools and have been members of the Mason-Rice, Weeks and Newton High School PTA's.

Association Seeks Community Housing

The Newton-Wellesley-Weston Committee to Establish Community Programs for the Retarded, Inc., will meet on Monday, Feb. 26 at 8 p.m., Grace Episcopal Church, Eldredge St., Newton Corner.

The committee will outline the progress of their plans to provide community housing for 8 retarded adults, hiring of a staff and location and furnishing of a residence. Financing and fund raising will be the major topics of discussion.

The committee plans to establish residences in the three communities. These homes will house former residents of the communities who are now institutionalized and prevent institutionalization for those residents now living at home in the communities.

Each house will have 8 retardates and an adequate supervisory staff. The people will live and work in as normal a family atmosphere as possible.

Furnishings for these houses are needed desperately. All donations will be picked up. Please call Mrs. Harvey (Lucie) Chansky at 244-7310 or the Newton-Wellesley-Weston Area Mental Helth and Retardation office at 969-5917.

OH, DEAR

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Motorists driving through the scenic Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania any season are encountering road signs that read: "Caution. Drive Slowly. Dears crossing."

The signs have been posted by the Pocono Honeymoon Rsort owners to protect their newlywed guests, 200,000 of whom honeymooned in the area during the past year.

Volunteers Aid Senior Citizens With Tax Returns

Volunteers trained by the Internal Revenue Service will be available at Newton City Hall to assist senior citizens and residents with limited incomes in preparing their 1972 income tax returns.

According to the Council on Aging, the service will begin next Monday (Feb. 26). There will be no charge.

Volunteers will be available on Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 2 to 4 p.m. in the office of the Dept. of Human Resources. Residents unable to attend during these hours can call the department during this period at 244-4700.

The service will be provided by 10 seniors majoring in economics at Newton College. Their training from IRS has enabled them to especially aid senior citizens who many have questions related to medical deductions, pensions, social security, etc.

Linda Gillis of Newton College will coordinate the program.

Open House Set At Country Day

On Saturday, Feb. 24, the faculty and students of St. Sebastian's Country Day School, 78 Hood St., Newton, are inviting everyone to view its new athletic facilities and clasrooms from 1 to 5 p.m.

There will be an opportunity to enjoy a middle school JV hockey game at 1 p.m., a varsity basketball game at 3 p.m., a Middle School JV basketball game at 4 p.m. and family skating on the new rink all afternoon and evening.

Information about the courses, activities, admissions requirements and Mar. 10 entrance examination will be available from students and teachers at the open house.

St. Sebastian's School, now in its 32nd year, is a college preparatory school, grades seven through twelve, staffed by diocesan priests and laymen. Many of its students and alumni are residents of Newton.

Memorial Kids Enjoy Valentine Day Of Crafting

Students at Memorial School last week participated in a valentine workshop sponsored by the creative arts committee of the PTA.

The students had an opportunity to design their own valentines, work on basic needlepoint or assemble three-dimensional cardboard butterflies with heart-shaped wings.

Maida Sheinfield and Gloria Rosenzweig were chairmen of the event and were assisted by Marianne Breitstein, Mary Hosmer, Sue Ulin, Anna Sebok, Peggy Schnur, Nancy Heller and Ruth Rotman.

Principals Take Time To Dabble In The Arts

Principals of Newton schools got a dose of the arts last week at a morning of creative workshops sponsored by the Newton Creative Arts Committee.

The program, at Burr School in Auburndale, was aimed at acquainting the school officials with the spectrum of creative arts available to them through the committee.

Workshops covered every form of creativity from paper sculpture to modern dance.

Mimist David Zucker, a familiar figure to most school children, requested everyone in his workshop join him in some basic mime exercise which proved to be more difficult and challenging to do than to watch.

Jim Bottomly worked with his group on a progressive collage using cardboard frames.

Scenes from "Of Mice and Men" and "Macbeth" were staged by Anita Sangilio and Bill Lacey. Lacey explained the scenes illustrated the pairs' attempt to introduce children to works like "Macbeth", and in addition, transmit a feeling of what it was like to live in Macbeth's world.

Weaver Sally Graham arrived with samples of her wall hangings. She helped members of her group make colorful belts.

Both Liz Halpern and Majorie Supovitz provided their groups with lessons in art appreciation using slides and tapes.

Considered the highlight of the morning of activities, the Concert Dance Company also was on hand to perform.

Barbara Goldfinger narrated as her group demonstrated the structure and development of modern dance.

Three separate orchestral groups from Warren Junior High School performed in the finale of the creative morning.

The Creative Arts people who organized the program were: Jane Weingarten, Nancy Goldberg, Beverly Bernson, Syrille Rosman, Herbert Callahan, Colleen Mahan, Merton Tefft, Lloyd McGarry.

Mrs. Weingarten said the group wished to thank Burr School for donating facilities for the program.

Pines Backs 'Free Press' Legislation

Representative Lois G. Pines (D-Newton) today testified before the Judiciary Committee of the Massachusetts legislature in support of legislation to protect "the societal interest in a full and free flow of information to the public."

Representative Pines, an attorney, told the committee: "As a result of the recent Supreme Court cases denying newsman absolute confidentiality of sources, and denying any privilege to refuse to appear before a grand jury until the government demonstrates some 'compelling need' for a newsman's testimony, the state legislatures must act. Approximately 17 states have passed some kind of statutory protection relating to newsmen's confidential sources. This must be the year for Massachusetts to take action to fully protect the newsman's sources, and information. In addition, newsmen must not be required to appear or testify before a grand jury 'unless the reporter is himself implicated in a crime.' His immunity must be complete in order to protect the public's constitutional right to be informed."

Representative Pines, strongly urged the committee to act favorably on an amended bill H3493, sponsored by Representative James Segel of Brookline and the Civil Liberties Union of Massachusetts. This legislation would protect a "newsman" from being forced to appear at a grand jury hearing unless the investigating body could demonstrate a probable cause to believe that the newsman has information which is clearly relevant to a specific probable violation of the felonies of murder, manslaughter, arson, forceable rape, kidnapping, robbery, burglary, assault and battery to commit murder, to collect a loan with a dangerous weapon, extortion, bribery or perjury and that the information cannot be obtained by alternative means.

This bill would also grant absolute privilege as to the source and intent of a newsman's information.

Representative Pines urged that the definition of "newsman" be amended to be broad enough to include both the professional journalist who for gain or livelihood is engaged in the gathering, preparation or editing of news for a newspaper, journal, press association, wire service, or radio or television station, as well as those "newsmen" with a college or underground newspaper.

She stressed that the legislation ought not be so broad as to allow anyone not validly a newsman to claim this privilege.

Society Elects Local Surgeon

Dr. Lewis H. Millender of Lovell Rd., Newton, was one of ten surgeons elected to the American Society of Surgery of the Hand at their annual meeting. Dr. Millender is Assistant Chief of Hand Surgery at Boston's Robert B. Brigham Hospital for arthritis and rheumatic diseases.

Dr. Millender, a graduate of Emory University and its medical school, is an instructor of orthopedic surgery at Harvard Medical School. He is assistant chief of the Robert B. Brigham Hand Surgey Clinic, the only one of its kind in the nation. The Robert B. Brigham Hospital is a major Harvard teaching affiliate and the only hospital in the nation devoted solely to patient-care, training and research of arthritis and related diseases.

Dr. Millender, a Georgia native, came to Boston in 1969 as a Fellow in Orthopedic Surgery at Massachusetts General Hospital and Robert B. Brigham Hospital. Dr. Millender is also on the staffs of Beth Israel Hospital, New England Baptist Hospital and Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

ARE DAMAGES TAX DEDUCTIBLE?

As a homeowner, expenses from damage or improvements may affect your income taxes. For instance: damage to your house from, say, fire or windstorm may be partially deductible as a casualty loss after subtracting insurance compensation. Then take off $100 for each accident and the remainder can be claimed as a tax deduction

Improvements, such as a porch, garage, finished basement cannot be deducted. However, they can be added to the cost of the house when figuring profit on the sale. So keep good records of such expenses Try to preserve cancelled checks and receipted bills. They will help substantiate the figures if necessary.

I'm just scratching the surface here. If this situation applies to you, I suggest you contact your nearest Internal Revenue Office for a copy of their pamphlet #530 "tax Information on Deductions for Homeowners."

Not So Funny

During the height of the bomb hoax calls, particularly those plaguing our schools, a stern-minded Legislature fixed maximum penalties calling for a fine of $10,000 and-or 20 years in prison.

No one, not even the outraged law-makers, expected any school students to run afoul of a judge who would think in such maximum terms for even the most persistent violator.

The hoaxes are now gradually dying out. They no longer prove to be the big problems they were on the junior high and high school level. They no longer produce the excitement that was prevalent when it was a new game. Nothing palls on youth more than repetitive humor stretched far beyond its time.

However, school authorities hereabouts and police and fire officials have become sophisticated with the game, too. They do not easily dismiss the tough hoax penalties of the law as a factor in reducing the phony calls.

One of the towns hit hardest in the present academic year was that of Medfield. Within a few weeks after schools opened in that town 18 hoax calls were received. 13 from the high school, four from junior high and one from a grade school.

In January authorities let it be known they were proceeding with court action against two juveniles whom they charged with authoring some of the 18 threats.

Since the cases were in Juvenile Court they got no outright publicity but as time stretched out, students began to realize the charges weren't going to be thrown out of court. Since January when Medfield authorities closed in on the suspects not a single hoax call has disturbed Medfield.

One of the juveniles prosecuted has received a six-month suspended sentence and when it can be determined he will have to make some sort of monetary restitution to the town. The second suspect's case has not yet been finished.

Medfield, it appears, has convinced its school children of the seriousness of the hoax nuisance. The shadow of that law may be thinned out by its length, but the fact that you're a teenager of less doesn't help you walk blitheley out of a court law, is something for hoaxers to think about.

Back to Home Service

The U.S. Postal Service deserves credit when credit is due and the credit should be forthcoming when it gets around to recognizing a real boo-boo to which it committed itself a couple of years back.

Until folks started to take a second look at cancellations on their letters the error appeared to be one of those annoying things that can creep into the operation of a big system and then takes over permanent residence.

The error revolved around the fact that someone with authority got an idea that our smaller community postoffices in this region and elsewhere didn't have the proper facilities to handle their local mail. It was decided to send bags containing local mail to a central distribution center like Boston, even if it was 10 or 15 miles away.

From many towns in the local area the mail made its way to the larger postoffices and then made its return to the community where it was mailed in the first place.

The Postal Service's letter recognizing the original error also contains its plans for "inaugurating" new service in our home towns. Portions of the letter might have been taken verbatim from recent protests registered by congressmen, individuals and major firms.

Read this paragraph:

"Under the present system, you (the postal service customer) deposit all your mail regardless of destination into one collection box. This mail is picked up by our collectors and transported along with thousands of other letters into a central distribution where it is cancelled, processed and shipped right back to your local office for further distribution to the letter carrier. ON OCCASION, YOUR MAIL DOES NOT RECEIVE NEXT-DAY DELIVERY DUE TO WEATHER CONDITIONS, VEHICLE BREAKDOWNS OR OTHER RELATED PROBLEMS. (The emphasis is ours.)

The solution the service has reached is simple, says the letter. The postoffices plan to put out bands stamped with the name of the community where the letter is mailed. "We propose to retain your mail for delivery within our community at the local postoffice where it will be cancelled and distributed directly to the letter carrier to ensure next-day delivery," postal superintendents are advising the public.

Sounds like a big improvement.

ANOTHER HIGH RISE

Hancock Officials Deserve Praise For Safety Action

Officials of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company deserve a word of praise for their decision to spend $2 million for the installation of automatic fire sprinklers in their new 60-story building in the Copley Square area.

The new Hancock tower building and the 40-story Federal Reserve Bank structure will be the first commercial high-rise buildings in Boston to have this life-saving equipment even though the Boston fire department ladders rise only seven stories.

Boston Fire Commissioner James H. Kelly has a bill pending in the State Legislature which would require the installation of sprinkers in high rise buildings, but it has not been voted upon, and the Hancock officials acted voluntarily.

Fire Commissioner Kelly, meanwhile, has arranged with the Coast Guard to use its helicopters to rescue persons who might be trapped by fire on floors above the seven-story reach of fire department ladders.

How a helicopter could rescue someone from a room on the 20th floor of a burning 35 story building is not clear to this bystander. However, the Hancock officials are setting a precedent which other builders of high-rise structures would do well to follow in the public interest.

Controversial Channel 2 Show Is One of Two Saved

It is ironical that a weekly show on Channel 2, which is the subject of political controversy, is one of only two which the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB) has agreed to fund for the next season.

That is "The Advocates," on which former Representative Michael Dukakis of Brookline, who intends to run for state-wide office next year, appears as either moderator or advocate.

Other politicians have pointed out that this gives Dukakis free publicity at public expense which is not available to persons who may oppose him in next year's primary or election.

Aside from the propriety of this situation, some attorneys have raised a question whether it is legal to spend public funds on a program on which one politician gains an advantage over other politicians.

This causes a viewer to wonder how CPB makes its decisions on the allocation of public funds for programs on stations such as Channel 2.

Such popular programs as "Washington Week in Review" and William F. Buckley's "Firing Line" apparently are to be axed while "The Advocates" is retained. Many persons are hoping that "Washington Week in Review," on which a group of outstanding newsmen appear, will be saved either through public donations or as a commercially sponsored program.

Smoking Ban Experiment Is Being Watched in St. Pete

Municipal officials all over the United States are closely watching an experiment in St. Petersburg, Florida, where smoking has been prohibited in most public places, drawing stormy protests from smokers.

A new city ordinance there bans smoking in stores, elevators, theaters, buses and dance floors and forbids dropping ashes or cigarette butts from windows, doors or moving vehicles.

While cigarette smokers complain loudly, supporters of the restriction are seeking to have it expanded to include restaurants.

It all started when Mrs. Barbara Gammon, a member of the St. Petersburg City Council, decided she was tired of sitting in a smoke-filled Council chamber and tried to outlaw smoking during Council meetings.

She aroused so much opposition that she dropped the idea, but it was picked up by a clergyman who enlisted the support of the fire department as well as non-smokers and finally achieved the adoption of the ordinance now in effect.

Many people, who have endured the experience of having second-hand smoke blown in their faces by cigarette, cigar and pipe-smokers are attempting to have restrictions on smoking in public places adopted in their communities.

Return of Prisoners Delays Amnesty For Draft-Dodgers

The emotional impact made by the blazing courage and the unflagging patriotism of the spokesmen for the prisoners brought home from Vietnam has delayed indefinitely the move to seek amnesty for the draft-dodgers who fled to Canada, Sweden or some other country.

Tears slipped down the cheeks of hard-bitten men as they listened to Navy Captain Jeremiah A. Denton, Jr., spokesman for the first group of prisoners to arrive at Clark Air Base, declare that they were honored at the opportunity to serve their country "under difficult circumstances."

When he added the salutation, "God Bless America," the cause of the draft-dodgers was set back for a long time.

The case of the draft-dodgers will be taken up in time but not until most Americans have forgotten about the little girl who became choked, couldn't speak and wept in her mother's arms when a television newscaster asked her how she felt about the return of her father after years in a North Vietnamese prison camp.

The memory of these men, many gaunt and hollow-eyed, some on crutches, a few on stretchers, back from the very shadow of death itself, will not fade for a long time. Until it does the case of those who ran away rather than serve in their country's armed forces will be shelved.

These men, many of them held prisoners so long their transition back to American life was a difficult one, had reason to be bitter. Surprisingly few were. Few Americans could help but be moved by the sight of the pale, wan men who came out of the jungle prisons in South Vietnam where their treatment obviously didn't match that given those held captive in the North.

Advocates of amnesty for the draft-dodgers are stressing the difference between draft-dodgers and deserters who went AWOL. Their arguments will accomplish little until time soothes down the emotional upheaval caused by the return of these gallant men who spent periods of their lives in enemy prisons.

Gov. Sargent Fiddles While Deficit-Ridden MBTA Burns

While Governor Francis W. Sargent has been talking in vague terms about a $1 Billion program for improving and expanding the MBTA, that troubled transit system has been bumbling along without enough safe equipment to meet even its routine needs.

In view of the present performance on the MBTA, the discussions about transforming it into the transit system of the future are little more than mumbo-jumbo and sheer nonsense.

If there has been any improvement in the operation of the MBTA during the period Francis Sargent has been Governor, it has not been apparent to this observer.

A recent fire in the lead car of a four-car train, which resulted in the death of one passenger and the hospitalization or treatment of 94 others, was caused by malfunctioning equipment.

When most of the 10-year-old Bluebird cars on the Dorchester-Ashmont line were recalled to the shops after the fire for the installation of safer electric insulation blocks, there was not enough equipment available to provide normal service during peak periods.

Governor Sargent of course, is not to blame for all the woes and ills of the deficit-ridden MBTA, but his do-nothing policies in the transportation field haven't helped.

Contrary to the general impression, federal funds can be obtained to help finance transit projects, but state money also must be provided, and this has not been done on the scale Governor Sargent himself has indicated is necessary.

The Governor has committed himself to two major MBTA construction projects, the extension of the so-called Red Line from Harvard Square to either Arlington Heights or Alewifebrook Parkway and the relocation of the Orange line to the area where Mr. Sargent decided not to build the Southwest Expressway.

The amount of progress being made toward either project is negligible. In fact, the MBTA transit planners have not yet even decided which project will be undertaken first, and the Governor has not budgeted the cost of any specific programs in his overall transit package.

If Governor Sargent follows his customary period of procrastination, this matter probably will be still pending when he leaves office at the end of next year, and one more 10-year program may well be dropped in the waste basket by Mr. Sargent's successor.

Don't count on any progress in the field of transportation while Francis Sargent is Governor. We could have and should have done something during the four years John A. Volpe served as Secretary of Transportation.

But there wasn't much Volpe could do to help us while we stalled around and failed to do anthing to try to help ourselves.

At least, however, we should have safe MBTA trains which will not catch fire while loaded with passengers. That shouldn't be too much to expect.

Meanwhile, Governor Sargent fiddles while the MBTA burns.

Rackets At Walpole Prison Made Possible By Officers

Massachusetts prisons have been run by cliques of prisoners since this writer was a young reporter which is a very long time.

The same thing probably was true in every other prison across the United States.

Groups of inmates set themselves up as the bosses of the prisoners by strong-arm tactics or other methods.

Courts were held and discipline invoked when disputes among prisoners had to be settled. An inmate who challenged the ruling clique was not a good insurance risk.

The inmate rulers operated little rackets and sold things to other prisoners which ordinarily could not be obtained in penal institutions.

But the extent of the rackets disclosed at the Walpole State Prison by the recent investigation and month-long shakedown staggers the imagination.

While nobody is saying a great deal about the matter, it obviously is impossible to conduct a prostitution racket in a supposedly maximum-security prison without the connivance of corrupt officers and guards.

That simply can't be done without the knowledge of a substantial number of people in the prison.

The assumption that this racket is operated by organized crime is, of course, conjecture and an educated guess.

The fact that liquor and dope were available to the prisoners at the right price is startling even to one who realized that country club life usually is available within prison walls to those who can afford to pay for it.

Raymond E. Porelle, the new prison superintendent, apparently is trying to halt that situation. If he succeeds, he will be the first to do so.

Pay Raises Predicted For All Judges In The State

Salary increases for all 272 judges in Massachusetts courts probably will be voted during the present legislative session on Beacon Hill.

Indications are that the raises will amount to at least a 10 per cent boost and possibly more.

The judges point out that their compensation has not been hiked since 1969 and that the cost of living in the Greater Boston area has risen 17.2 per cent during that four-year period.

More than a dozen bills calling for raises for the judges have been filed, but the two being given most serious consideration were sponsored by State Senator William M. Bulger of South Boston and House Speaker David M. Bartley of Holyoke.

Bulger's measure recommends salary increases ranging from $400 to $7500 per judge and would cost the state about $750,000 per year. Bartley's bill proposes raises ranging from $760 to $3500 annually and would cost slightly less than $500,000 a year.

Bartley is suggesting that the pay of the chief justice of the State's Supreme Court be raised from $35,000 to $38,000 and that the salaries of the six associate justices be increased from $33,800 to $37,180.

The chief justice of the Superior Court would be raised from $31,300 to $34,430 under the provisions of Bartley's bill while the 45 associate justices would go from $30,000 to $33,000.

Proposed pay raises in the Appellate Court would boost the chief justice from $32,500 to $35,750 and the associate justices from $31,300 to $34,430.

Salaries for the chief justice of the probate courts would go from $27,300 to $30,000 and for the 24 other full-time probate judges, the chief justices of the district court system, the Boston Municipal Court and the Boston Juvenile Court from $26,300 to $28,930.

The compensation of 62 other full-time district court judges and the eight associate justices of the Boston Municipal Court would be raised from $25,000 to $27,500.

The part-time special justices also would get increases since they are paid a percentage of the salaries of the full-time judges.

A bill along these lines was approved in the State Senate last year but died in the House during the rush for prorogation.

It seems virtually certain that raises of at least the amounts listed will be voted for the judges.

Monumental Task

Editor, Newton Graphic:

The Executive Board of the Newton Council of PTAs at its recent meeting voted unanimously to be on record as opposing recently revivied efforts to limit the autonomy of local School Committees.

We have sent along notice of this action to all our local and state elected officials and urge all citizens of Newton who are alarmed at the bills filed in the General Court to curtail the authority of local School Committees to make their opinions known to their elected officials.

Some of the reasons for this position are:

1. School do cost a great deal of money to operate – salaries consume 80 percent of the total. Fixed costs such as heat, light, etc., eat up a good part of the rest, leaving very little money available t the School Committee for the instructional and educational materials. Where can cuts be made – Programs? staff? Telephones?

2. Budgets can be trimmed. The function of the School Committee is to know the schools, their needs, and the personnel and programs involved. aldermen are beset from every direction by all other municipal concerns – (they have 52 percent of the tax money to contend with - the schools take the other 48 percent).

3. One of the problems facing education is its reliance on the property tax as its major source of revenue. The State and Federal government share with one hand and then take away with the other. They pass laws requiring a community to spend but do not appropriate the funds. (Maybe the "Home of the Whopper' is not a restaurant but rather our legislatures.)

When I spend more thatn I earn — I end up a pauper. When our elected officials spend more than the state's income, they either take it out of the "Local aid funds" or pass it on in the form of higher property taxes, and call it Statesmanship.

4. We appreciate aldermanic concern for the fiscal plight of Newton. We have watched out taxes double and double and double. But we retain fairht in the system as long as public spirited citizens continue to run for elected office. The aldermen and members of the School Committee turn in ayeoman's performance. The hours they put in, the materials they digest, the committee assisgnments they master, the abuse they receive . . .their work load. . .Is staggering. Possibly if they could coordinate their meeting's schedule they might gain appreciation for each others' responsibilities. But, as taxpayers, we ask – Try harder and do better!

We want to publicaly commend the School Committee and Administration for an outstanding budget presentation this year. The preparation and performance afforded the interested citizenry in eye-opening experience in participatory democracy.

A Long Walk

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

Your columnist, James G. Colbert, performed a real public service in reporting the poor condition of the gangplank at Commonwealth Pier. I took a cruise aborad one of the big liners which came into Boston this winter and was appalled and frightened by the gangplank I had to use to board and leave the ship. I was afraid I would slip into the water.

One of the officers on the ship told me the facilities in Boston are the worst of any port in the world that they visit. That is a poor advertisement for Boston.

I certainly agree with Mr. Colbert that it is not the way to attract shipping to Boston.

"Annie Get Your Gun" Staged

By EVAN COHEN

The Newton Work-Study Program, a combination of classroom study and on the job training, has been highly successful at Newton South. John Chaisson, coordinator of the program at South, feels "Work-Study is a terrifically interesting concept . . . it gets students to appraise realistically various career and employment opportunities."

Courses currently offered in the program center upon carpentry, business, child care, service station attendant work, and printing. Through a minimum of 10 hours employment a week plus four hours in the class, a student may earn five credits which is equivalent to the weight given an academic major. The program is beginning to snowball in that as more students participate, city employers hear more about the idea and consequently ask to receive students.

The Director of Admissions at Bowdoin College, Richard W. Moll, recently gave a presentation entitled "How to Get Into College" to members of the Junior class and their parents. He outlined a procedure of choosing colleges based on such criteria as urban vs. rural, faculty—student ratio, prestige vs. program, etc. Regarding the application and the interview, Moll stressed honesty. On a positive note, he added that since many students are applying to less expensive colleges, it is actualy easier to gain admission to the prestigious college.

Aaron Fink, superintendent of Newton schools, spoke at Newton South covering alternatives within the public school system, as part of the Open Campus Enrichment Program.

He noted that the differences of many students must be provided for. All of them do not fit into our traditional schools such as Murray Road, in Newton, are growing across the country. In Newton other methods of accommodation include using especially proficient students to teach others and at the same time receive credit for their teaching.

After very close elections, held on January 25 and 26, Robin Castleman, Scott Groper, Joanne Haimes, Eddie Miller, Mark Schuster, and Jim Young were voted into office as the governing council of the Sophmore Class. The function of this committee is to come forth with unifying ieas and objectives for their class. Benjamin Levy, a mathematics teacher, is advisor to the Sophomore Class.

Denebola, Newton South's biweekly newspaper, is now choosing its staff for next year. Its present editor summarizes the past year as ". . . extremely innovative; besides starting to compose the paper ourselves, we increased the variety of our features, our coverage of city events and of educational news in general."

The literary magazine Reflections, is beginning to solicit work for publication in June. Sani Copman and Jane Lapin are htis year's co-editors of the magazine. The publication, initiated at Newton North and taken over by Newton South, has gone downhill in recent years. To stimulate interest, material ranging from artwork to songs are being accepted for inclusion in the magazine.

The table Tennis Cub is a recent addition to South's long list of Union activities. They hope to play several matches in the near future against Newton North, Beaver Country Day and Northeastern University. The group's long range plans center

Solons Tour County Hospital

State legislators from Middlesex County will visit Middlesex County Hospital from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 23.

The tour is being organized by the seven legislators in the South Middlesex caucus and will be the first in a series of visits to state and county institutions. For this visit they have invited all the senators and representaties from Middlesex County.

The legislators will tour the hospital and Dr. John Noble, hospital director, will explain the hospital's programs.

The hospital's budget must be passed by the state legislature.

During the past the past three years the hospital has become a rehabilitation and chronic hospital with a multi-level community oriented approach. It has developed sepecialty units in alcohol detoxification and rehabilitation, a residence for young adults with spinal cord injuries who are attending college or employed in the community and a half-way house for former drug users.

Members of the South Middlesex caucus are Sen. Edward L. Burke (Framingham), Rep. George R. Sprague (Sherborn), Rep. Ann Gannett (Wayland), Rep. Louis Nickinello (Natick), Rep Barbara Gray (Framingham), Rep. Robert Owens (Framingham) and Rep. Walter Burke (Natick). All but Rep. Burke will be at the county hospital.

Other legislators who have said they plan to attend are Sen. Steven McGrail (Western Middlesex County), Rep Anthony Gallugi (Wakefield), Rep. Edward J. Markey (Malden), Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill (Cambridge), Rep. Richard McGrath (Watertown), Rep. Paul H. Guzzi (Newton), Rep. Donald Manning (Waltham) and Rep. Mary Fantasia (Somerville).

The South Middlesex Caucus is a non-partisan group of legislators which meets monthly to discuss common concerns. It also plans to visit the new county court house and house of corrections.

Library Centennial Program Includes Industry's Viewpoint

Ever wonder what it would be like to start a business? A panel discussion and brief talks on "The Newton Business Scene-Then and Now" will provoke a lively discussion at the Newton Free Library's Second Centennial Program, Sunday, Feb. 25 at 3 p.m. at Centre branch, 1294 Centre Street, Newton.

Mr. Victor A. Nicolazzo of West Newton, president of Bigelow Oil Co. and Bigelow Reality and chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Centennial Committee will serve as moderator for a panel discussion of Newton business and industry.

Panelist include Mr. Weston E. Draper, Jr., personnel director of Norton Metals Division in Upper Falls and of Dunstable, Mr. Lewis B. Songer of Waban and exec. vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce since 1966 and Mr. Keith G. Willoughby of Waban, exec. vice-president of the Newton Savings Bank.

The program also includes brief talks on individual businesses by Mr. Carl Alvord, formerly of alvord's Pharmacy, Mr. Donald Frail, retired manager of the Newtonville office of the Newton savings Bank; Mr. Philip Minervino, owner of the Lower Falls Wine Shop; Mr. Thomas J. Murphy, managing editor of the News Tribune; and Mr. Howard Strum, vice-president of the Newton Waltham Bank in Newton Centre.

Mrs. Ann Harbison, Centre branch librarian, invites everyone to the Centennial program, Sunday, Feb. 25 at 3 p.m. It is free. The audience is invited to ask questions and refreshments will follow the program.

Maps of business locations and growth and a display of manufactured articles will be on view.

Aetna Life Rep Attends Course

Peter C. Hoover, a representative of Aetna Life and Casualty Company at Newton Centre, has recently attended a special casualty and property course at Aetna's home office in Hartford, Connecticut.

Hoover, a graduate of Dean Junior College and Nasson College, is associated with the Chandler, Hoover and Giles Insurance Agency, Inc. He lives at 23 Otis St., Newtonville.

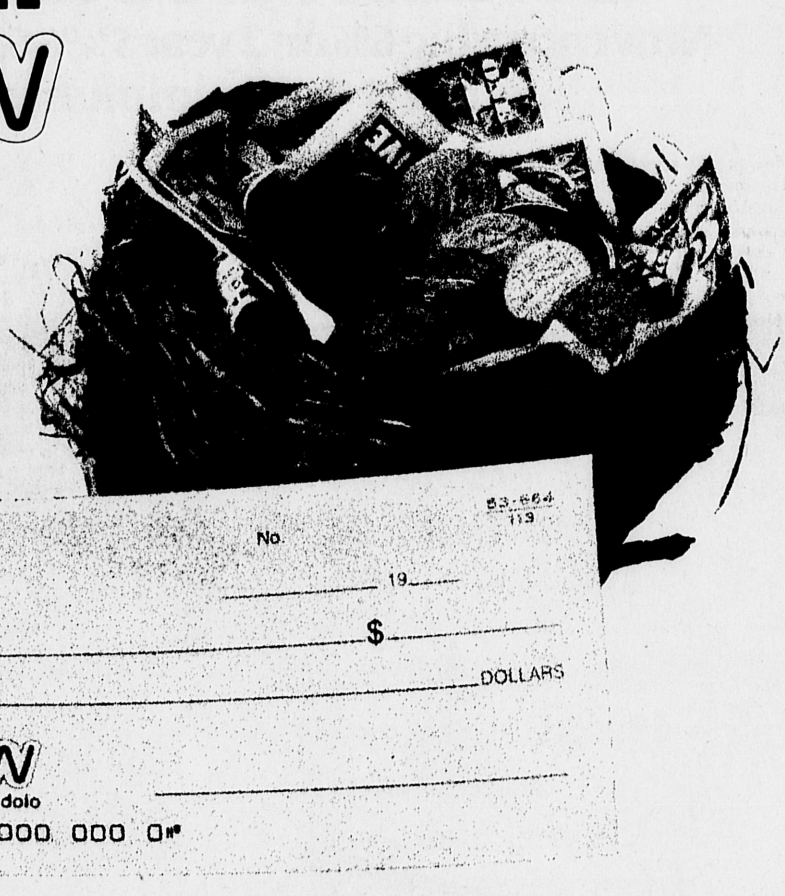
Newton NOW



The golden egg that pays your bills while it pays you 5¼% interest.

Newton NOW account gives you all the convenience of checking plus 5¼% interest.

To pay a bill or get cash, you just write out a withdrawal order. It looks like a check, works like a check and costs only 15¢. Meanwhile, your entire NOW account is earning daily interest at 5¼% as long as you keep at least $10.00 in it.

NOW it's a good idea to put all your eggs in one basket — combining saving, bill-paying, getting cash into one account, with one convenient monthly statement at the one bank, the savings bank, that traditionally pays higher interest.

How many banks does a family need? NOW just one.

Leaving Home In Greece

By JOHN N. RIGOS

PALYROS, Mani, Greece (UPI) — Stavros Petrolias pointed towards the cluster of houses where he was born. "A few years ago we had a school, we had a priest, we had people," he said. Now we are only six persons: two men and four women."

Petrolias, well preserved for his 75 years, slim, six feet tall and with a mass of wiry gray hair, climbed a knoll at the end of this village situated at the southernmost point of Mani, the middle of three peninsulas protruding down from the Peloponnese.

The Mediterranean was 1,500 feet below, and to the east he pointed out Porto Cayo, a small fishing village.

Many villages and towns, as the Maniotes call the small castles erected in the past by the peninsula's feuding families, were dotted about on the mountain behind.

"Most of the villages are empty today," Petrolias said. "Some have only one family—five, perhaps only three people. Homes are empty, falling to ruin because their owners have gone. Many of them never bother to return.

"The towers, once the symbols of our racial pride, are now the signs of the desertion of our land."

Mani, totaling about 400 square miles had a proud, fierce population of 50,000 before the second World War with the vendetta a common practice for settling loeal feuds. Today authorities estimate it is no more than a scattered 12,000.

Leave for Athens

Petrolias, one of the two men in Palyros, said originally when Greece had only an agricultural economy, Maniotes left their villages to immigrate mostly to America. But since 1960, when the country began its industrial development, Maniotes went off to Athens and its surrounding areas, where now almost one-third of the nation's 9 million population lives.

"It's not easy to tell people to stay here and scratch the rock for a subsistence income when they can make five times that amount washing dishes in Athens," said 41-year Yannis Kassis, the other male Palyros inhabitant.

He lives with his wife Stavroula, and at least three hunting dogs in the village's best preserved house.

"We have no children, no school problems, so we can live here," he said.

Next door are his cousins, two sisters, but as summer advances he said he expected more former inhabitants to come for vacation.

Kassis looks after a few goats and cattle and gets an income from his olive trees and beehives. He produced white cheese, olive oil, olives and homemade bread. "We make our own bread. A woman who cannot bake bread cannot get a husband in Mani," his wife said.

Kassis said they had to walk for an hour and a half to the north where a dirt track connected the whole area with Areopolis and Gythion, Mani's major towns.

"If this government makes a road and brings electricity, we may have a revival, at least during summer," he said.

Before the military takeover in 1967, Mani used to elect a member of the Mavromihalis family to Parliament. The family led the Maniotes during the Greek war of independence in 1821 and was credited with the assassination of Ioannis Kapodistrias, Greece's first president after independence was declared. The family had since dominated local politics.

Kassis said that when he was not busy with his agricultural tasks, he went fishing.

"My sons bought me a boat also and I go fishing too, but the boat is big and I find it more and more difficult to handle," said Petrolias.

"Our radios are our contact with the world. We listen for hours and we listen to everything," Kassis said, "especially Greek language programs of foreign stations.

"Under all governments, whether Karamanlis, Papandreou or Papadopoulos ... radio has always been one-sided. We want to hear all sides," he said.

Nanci Beth Swig Weds David M. Selby

Temple Mishkan Tefila was the scene of the Feb. 10 wedding of Miss Nanci Beth Swig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner E. Swig, Arnold road, Newton Centre to David Mark Selby, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Selby, Christina road, Newton Highlands.

Rabbi Alvin Lieberman officiated the ceremony and a reception followed at the temple. The couple left for a wedding trip to Bermuda.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown beaded with seed pearls on Aleoncon lace over English net. Her empire bodice and candlestick sleeves were accented with lace and pearls. The attached train was covered with lace appliques and pearls. A matching crown shaped headpiece held her cathedral length veil of illusion. She carried her grandmother's Bible topped with a bouquet of phaelanopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Ellyn Swig was her sister's maid of honor. Matron of honor was Mrs. David Swig. Bridesmaids were the misses Robin Sherman, Debbie Ehrlich, Amy Berger and Susan Swig of Newton Centre and Laura Stone of Connecticut. The attendants wore chiffon print gowns in colors of orange, yellow and orchid and carried spring bouquets of tulips and fresia.

Best man was Paul Selby of Newton Highlands. Ushers were David Swig of Needham, Steven Plotkin of Miami, Fla., Alan Rondina of Lawrence and David Falk of Medford.

Mr. and Mrs Selby will reside in Waltham. (Photo by the Nourses)

Spokesman For Oil Interest Advocates Atlantic Drilling

It's "imperative" that ex,ooration for more oil and natural gas off the shores of this counry be broadened as soon as possible, it was stated here today by a spokesman for the Massachusetts Petroleum Council.

Jack MackDonald, addressing the Newton Kiwanis Club, pointed out that the vast potential quantities of petroleum in the U.S. continental shelf "offer the best promise of maintaining the well-being of americans and the security of America."

MacDonald, a retail representative for Chevron Oil Company, said it is not yet possible to determine just how much oil and natural gas may lie under the seabed. The U.S. Geological Survey has estimated that the strata under our marine areas contain between 160 and 190 billion barrels of crude oil, and from 820 trillion to over a quadrillion cubic feet of natural gas, resources which are recoveragle under present petroleum technology, he stated.

He noted that proposals to search for oil and natural gas on the Atlantic outer continental shelf have been met by "emotional oppostion – much of it unfounded."

MacDonald added: "For example, it is not true that exploration off the atlantic Coast will mean a forest of oil derricks just off the beaches." Precise geological surveys by Dr. Kenneth Emery, noted Woods Hole marine geologist, and other indicate that the nearest ocean floor suited for oil is about 75 miles from Cape Cod here in Massachusetts, he said.

"Fear has also been expressed that oil exploration and production in the Atlantic will ruin the fishing industry. Similar fears have been dispelled inthe Gulf of Mexico. The commercial fish catch there rose from 571 million pounds in 1950 to 2.1 billion pounds in 1971. The petroleum industry certainly makes no claim for the improved commercial fishing. However, it is obvious that drilling and production operations have not adversely affected commercial fishing inthe Gulf."

MacDonald pointed out that the entire exploration, drilling and production process is carefully tailored to meet environmental protection standards. "Extensive impact statements are required before lease sales can be held," he said. "Public hearings must be held to determine the need of the sale, as well as its impact. And, in the actual search for underwater deposits, many moths are spent in careful analysis of environmental factors."

He declared that this nation needs every bit of marine oil and natural gas which can be found in order to prevent the current "energy gap" from turning into an "energy crisis."

J. DANIEL GRANDINE III, 145 Washington St., Newton Corner, has joined Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates as a tax accountant in the finance department. He received his B.A. degree from Bates College in 1967 and his M.B.A. from Boston University in 1973. He was a member of Beta Gamma Sigma Honor Society and served with the U.S. Navy aboard the U.S.S. John F. Kennedy for four years. Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates is a Boston-based diversified energy company with major operations in bituminous coal, gas utility, river and ocean barge and coke industries.

Co-op Club Hears State Banking Chief

Mrs. Freyda Koplow, commissioner of Banks for Massachusetts, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Co-operative Bank Club to be held at the Newton Marriott Motor Hotel, Thursday, Feb. 22 at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Koplow will discuss legislation as it relates to cooperative banking in this state. The evening has been designated legislators' night with more than 100 Massachusetts legislators expected to attend.

The Co-operative Bank Club, organized for the purpose of discussing matters relevant to co-operative banking in eastern Mass., holds monthly meeting during the winter months.

Its 130 members are drawn from managing officers and certain junior officers of co-operative banks in the Greater Boston Area.

Members of the Western Treasurers' Club, representing co-operative banking in western Mass., have also been invited to attend the Feb. 22 meeting.

The committee arranging the affair includes: Robert Nickerson, president of the Newton Co-operative Bank, Francis Metterville, president of the Fidelity Co-operative Bank of Fitchburg, James G. Perkins, Jr., president of the Equitable Co-operative Bank of Lynn and Stanley Gruber, president of the Chestnut Hill Co-operative Bank.

Mrs. Koplow of Brookline has served as commissioner of Banks since 1967 and is a 1930 graduate of Boston University where she received a B.A. degree in economics and sociology. She holds an M.S. degree in social research from Simmons College.

Before her appointment as Commissioner of Banks, Mrs. Koplow served in the Massachusetts legislature for 13 years as a representative from Brookline.

KERMIT GREENE has been named divisional general manager of St. Regis Paper Company's Laminated and Coated Products Division in Attleboro. Formerly divisional general manager of the Sherman Division of Newton, Greene succeeds Ray H. Anderson, who has resigned from the company. Greene joined the Sherman Paper Products Company in 1951 as production engineer at Newton. Since that time, he has held various engineering and management posts in the division, acquired by St. Regis in 1960, including vice-president, eastern operations, and eastern regional general manager. He was appointed divisional general manager in January, 1971. Prior to that time, Greene served in various engineering capacities with the National Biscuit Company and Container Corporation of America. He received his B.S. degree in mechanical engineering from M.I.T. in 1947.

Have A Heart, Sunday!

This Sunday, Feb. 25, is Heart Sunday, highlighting the month-long Heart Fund drive to raise funds for research, education and community service programs in many area communities.

According to Mr. and Mrs. David R. Decter, Newton Heart Fund Co-Chairmen, Heart volunteers are also distributing informational leaflets that describe the warning signs of heart attack and what to do if they occur.

This year the grim facts of heart attack will be felt in homes throughout the country as an estimated 670,000 Americans are claimed by this country's number one killer. The Heart Fund slogan "Beat the Big One — Heart Attack" is aimed at reducing these awesome statistics through the month long educational drive and through the funds that will support year round Heart Association programs.

While heart attack is the leading single cause of death in this country, the Heart Association is also concerned about the many other forms of cardiovascular disease — stroke, congenital heart defects, hypertension, rheumatic fever and hardening of the arteries.

Heart Fund dollars support research into these disorders in many area medical centers. Educational and informational programs in schools and community organizations give local residents the latest information about heart and blood vessel disease. Doctors, nurses and allied medical personnel are involved in numerous Heart Association workshops, seminars and training programs held throughout the year.

The Heart Association's work has brought about great progress in the past twenty years - in diagnosis, prevention, treatment, surgery and rehabilitation.

"The contributions that we make here in Newton, and in every community in he country, are critical to this progress for the Heart Fund can only continue its work with our help," Decter said.

"Won't you help with a generous donation when your neighborhood Heart volunteer calls this Sunday," Mrs. Decter added.

For further information about making a contribution to the 1973 Heart Fund call the greater Boston Heart Association at 267-4400.

Opens Westwood Office For Practice Of Oral Surgery

Dr. Irwin Mirsky announces the opening of an office for the practice of Oral Surgery at 737 High Street, Westwood.

He is a graduate of Syracuse University and received his D.M.D. at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine in 1954. He received his residency training in Oral Surgery at the John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland (1954-1956) and entered the Army as a Captain and Post Oral Surgeon at the White Sands Missile Range in White Sands, New Mexico from 1956-1958. Returning to civilian life, he continued his oral surgery studies at Boston University School of Graduate Dentistry, and was on the Oral Surgery Staff until 1971.

Dr. Mirsky has been in private practice in Oral Surgery in Boston for the past 12 years.

It Takes The Cake!

The Newton Community Service Centers, Inc., has announced the opening of registrations for its course in cake decorating.

This class to begin Monday, Mar. 5, is programmed to take anyone with little or no experience from the basic introduction and simple steps of cake decorating through border work, life-like flowers, lattice work, basket weaving, scenic designs and special cake arrangements.

Under the capable direction of Mrs. Ruth Lucas, who holds the master cake decorator diploma from the Wilton School of Cake Decorating, the class will run for six weeks at the Rebecca Pomroy House, 84 Eldredge St. in Newton Corner from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m.

Mrs. Lucas, formerly the head baker of one of the Schraffts stores in Boston, has had many years of experience and is widely known for her creative conversation cakes. As in previous years, Mrs.Lucas will continue the practice of giving a decorated cake to one of those present at the first class.

Information on this and other programs offered by the centers, is available daily at the Newton Community Service Centers' main office at 429 Cherry St. in West Newton, or by phoning 969-5906.

B'nai B'rith Coeds To Meet

The Boston B'nai B'rith Coed Unit at its regular monthly meeting, Sunday, Feb. 25 will feature several Charlie Chaplin films as part of the evening's program.

A full day of activity has been planned, including a brunch in Cambridge, a trip to the Isabella Gardner Museum for the afternoon concert, dinner, and the meeting at 7:30, followed by Israeli dancing.

The meeting will be held at the Brookline-Brighton-Newton community center, 57 Sutherland road, Brookline.

The Boston B'nai B'rith is a relatively new group made up of people aged 18 to 25. For information call George Korch, 244-5890.

VARIETY IS THE SPICE ...

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — North Carolina bills itself as Variety Vacationland because its tourist attractions range from national seashores on the Outer Banks to the Blue Ridge Mountains in the western part of the state. # St. Mary's Plans For Grand Finale

St. Mary's High School, Waltham, will hold a Grand Reunion '73 to signal the end of 82 years of dedication and service.

The event will be held at the Chateau De Ville, Framingham, on Saturday evening, May 12, beginning at 7:30.

Invitations are being mailed to graduates by representatives of the classes. Some classes do not have representatives as yet because of the difficulty in locating graduates.

Members of these classes, and any graduates who have not been contacted yet, should call Brother Raymund Davey, FSC, principal at 899-2466 during school hours, or Mrs. Donald (Terry) McAdams at 782-3789 or the class representatives.

Responses to invitations will be handled on a first-come-first-serve basis.

Newton residents serving as class representatives include Rev. John F. Devane, S.J., Boston College, Chestnut Hill, 969-0100, ext. 851, for the Class of 1939; Mrs. Brenda (Aucoin) Gorgone, 12 Milo St., West Newton, 527-0306, for the Class of 1957 and Mrs. Mary (Danforth) Casey, 72 Allison St., Newton, 244-1771, for the Class of 1965.

Class representatives will meet again on Tuesday, Feb. 27 at 8 p.m. in St. Mary's High School Hall. All graduates are invited to attend.

You can't bank at Guaranty Trust Company anymore.

Because we've changed our name. To the Guaranty-First Trust Company. The Guaranty Trust in Waltham has joined financial forces with the First National Bank of Natick to bring you an even better way to bank. You get all the same fine financial services (plus some new ways to bank on the way). And you get six new branch offices in Natick, Framingham, Holliston and Sudbury to go along with our Waltham, Belmont and Natick branches. So remember our new name. And remember we're not just getting bigger. We're getting better. For you.

Union Church Examines Prison Reform Attitudes

On Tuesday, Feb. 27 at 7:30 p.m., the Social Action Committee of The Union Church in Waban will sponsor a discussion of ways in which we can change attitudes toward prisoners and assist them in their rehabilitation, before and after their release from prison.

Three speakers, representing the Norfolk Prison Fellowship Foundation, will be present to share their views and answer questions. The Rev. Robert Dobson will be the moderator along with an ex-inmate and an outmate.

Mr. Robert H. Mitchell, chairman of the Social Action Committee, is in charge of arrangemens. An informal coffee is planned between 7:30 and 8 p.m., followed by the introduction of the panel and discussion. The public is most welcome.

This should prove a most worthwhile evening in light of the exposure of prison conditions and the drastic need for reform of our penal system.

Participating in this husbands-and-wives "Harbinger of Spring" breakfast will be the Graphic Arts Lodge No. 2615 and the Houseware, Hardware and Toy Lodge No. 2408.

Rabbi Israel, regional director of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundations of Greater Boston will speak on "The Jesus Freaks." He has served as rabbi in Bombay, India, as associate director of the Hillel Council at U.C.L.A., as well as at Yale University.

Reservation contacts are President Alan Witten of Graphic Arts Lodge and President Bob Waterman of Houseware, Hardware and Toy Lodge. Richard Kay, past president of Graphic Arts Lodge, is program chairman.

Shulman Gets Motel Award

Michael Shulman of Newton, public relations director for Arnold and Company, Inc., recently received congratulations from Lewis M. Sherer, Jr., general manager of the Marriott Hotel, and a plaque for developing and carrying through an outstanding and "most consistent public relations" program for a Marriott Hotel throughout the nation.

The award was presented to Shulman by W.W. Grice, former Newton resident and now marketing vice president for Marriott Hotels, Inc. The award was presented at the annual Marriott public relations seminar in New Orleans.

Marriott Plans Pre-Lenten Fest

Mardi Gras fun makes its third annual appearance at the Newton Marriott Motor Hotel on Saturday, Mar. 3 and Sunday, Mar. 4.

The festive weekend will duplicate in detail New Orleans' famous celebration. The food, decor and music all will have the traditional Mardi Gras touch, including a climatic midnight Mardi Gras parade.

Revelers will also enjoy all of the Marriott Hotel's leisure time recreational activities, including indoor swimming pool, ping pong, bumper pool and fully equipped health club with saunas.

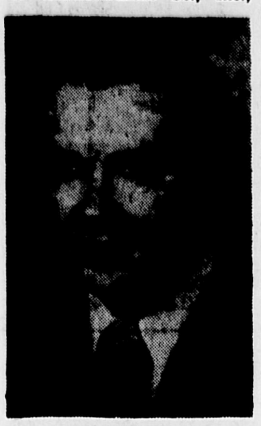
Named Anderson-Little Manager At Dedham Mall

Joseph G. Murphy, a member of Anderson-Little Co., Inc., store management staffs for six years, has been named manager of the chain's clothing factory salesroom in Dedham Mall.



JOSEPH MURPHY

Murphy, 25, one of the youngest managers in the chain, brings to the Dedham store considerable management experience. He joined Anderson-Little seven years ago as a part-time salesman at its Roslindale unit and was promoted to assistant manager at Dedham a year later. Since that time he has served as manager of the chain's units in Roslindale, Leominster and Worcester.

A native of Boston, Murphy is married and has two children.

His new assignment was announced by William G. Selden, executive vice president of Anderson-Little.

Named To National Post

Robert E. Smith, president-treasurer of Bob Smith Pools, Inc., of Norwood and Westwood, was elected to the board of directors of the National Swimming Pool Institute at the annul business meeting and convention held recently in Las Vegas.

Mr. Smith has served on the board of trustees of the New England Chapter of the National Swimming Pool Institute for the past five years and was recently re-elected to another three-year term. He has also served the chapter as secretary, program chairman, and during 1970-71 as the chapter president. Mr. Smith was elected to serve again as secretary to the chapter for 1973.

During 1972 Mr. Smith served the New England chapter as membership chairman. As a result of his efforts the New England chapter ranked first in the country in terms of membership. # Extra Help Offered by Internal Revenue Service

The Internal Revenue Service will give extra assistance to taxpayers this year, it was announced today by Ron Giunta, manager of the Quincy IRS office, 1 Cliveden Street.

Giunta said that the taxpayer service will be available Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Cliveden Street office will also be open on Friday evenings until 9 p.m. in February and April. There will be 9 p.m. hours also on Monday, April 16 and Tuesday, April 17.

"This extra assistance is in keeping with IRS' theme of 'we want to help'," Giunta said. "The Internal Revenue Service is providing additional help for taxpayers across the nation this filing period and the extra hours' program is one way of doing so."

Giunta pointed out that 40 per cent of Massachusetts taxpayers this year will be able to use the new Form 1040A which has been reintroduced. He said that taxpayers whose income is only from wages and have no more than $200 of interest income or $200 in dividends may use the 1040A.

The standard deduction has been increased to 15 per cent, limited to a maximum of $2,000 or $1,000 in the case of a married person filing separately.

Giunta said that the amount allowed for personal exemptions and exemptions for dependents has been increased to $750 this year.

He said that you must file a return if you are single and your gross income is at least $2,050; married (or a single person 65 or older) with gross income of at least $2,800; married where one is 65 or older and have a gross income of at least $3,550 or a married couple where both are 65 or older with gross income of at least $4,300.

Persons may call the Quincy office at 472-9032, 479-5028 or visit the Taxpayer Assistance Office at 1 Cliveden Street for free service in filing a 1972 Federal return.

Soccer Talk

By PAUL ELDRIDGE JR.

Since the demise of the Boston Beacons, the Boston Astros have been calling themselves, "New England's Only Pro-Soccer Team." This coming season they won't be able to do so. The Connecticut Wildcats are joining the American Soccer League. They will play in the league's newly reorganized Northern Conference along with the Astros.

According to Paul Ingram, the Wildcats general manager, they will play their home games in Hartford's Dillon Stadium as well as a number of exhibition games against top foreign teams in other cities throughout Connecticut.

Many of you have, most likely, heard the commercial on the radio, where the fellow asks for some Prunes and all he gets is laughter. Well that is what I receive when I tell people that Soccer is the fastest growing sport in the United States.

Here are the facts to back up that claim according to the latest Gallup Poll on sports attendance. Since 1959, attendance at Soccer games has risen 12 per cent. Football and Boxing are next in line at 10 per cent. Following along in order of percentages are: stock car racing, 7 per cent; Basketball, 5 per cent; Track & Field, 4 per cent; Hockey, 3 per cent; baseball and dog racing at 2 per cent each; and wrestling and horse racing at 1 per cent. The only sport with no increase was Tennis.

When the poll stated total attendance, they were talking about the attendance at all the games played from High School through the Pros. So please pass the Prunes.

According to "Soccer America," the NASL has received an application from a Boston group for a franchise for the 1974 season. The application will be considered at the next league meeting. Let's hope that they approve the application so that the NASL will be back in Boston.

N.Y. Cosmos goalkeeper Richard Blackmore, playing for Birmingham City (England's 1st Division), broke a leg during practice. Reports have it that Blackmore will not be ready for full-time duty until after the NASL starts their season in May. If Blackmore doesn't make it back, the Cosmo's will have a tough time defending their NASL Championship.

Newton High Hoopsters In State Tourney

By David Cutler

Qualifying for the Tech Tourney is the goal of every high school basketball team in Massachusetts. Winning your league is a high attainment in any sport, at any level. On Friday, Feb. 16, Newton High School's Basketball Team did both of these. The way they finally came about was as exciting as the attainment of the feats themselves; in overtime against super-foe, Suburban League arch-nemesis Brookline.

Newton started the week with a win over an inept Weymouth South team on Tuesday, Feb. 13. The 55-47 decision was one of the Tigers' worst offensive showings this season. And what's worse is that it occurred against the Suburban League cellar-dwellers. But it was a victory nonetheless and it boosted Newton's overall record to 12-6, 11-4 in the Suburban League. This brought the top of the league standings to look like this:

Cambridge Latin 12-3.
Newton 11-4.
Arlington 11-4.
Rindge Tech 10-5.

In Friday's action Arlington edged Brockton 39-37, and Rindge Tech upset Cambridge Latin 57-54. Thus, a Newton victory would earn the Tigers a share of the League Championship as well as a Tourney berth along with the two other league leaders and Rindge. A loss would eliminate them from possible league honors while making a final game win over New Bedford necessary in order to qualify for the Tech Tourney. The why's and wherefore's are superfluous. What it all boiled down to was that this game against Brookline was their biggest game of the year.

The Tigers were ready. Pete Laskaris was making his return to the lineup after missing five games with a sprained ankle. The Indians were very discourteous hosts in the opening period. Brookline ran out to an 8-4 lead midway through the first quarter, but Newton applied the press and knotted the score at 14 when the period ended.

The Tigers were charging at the start of the second segment scoring six unanswered points. Brookline offset that, though, with superior rebounding and an effective fast break to come out ahead at halftime, 30-29.

Overtime Thriller

"We were having some trouble adjusting our offense to their defense," said Newton coach Jerry Phillips. "We couldn't get going."

The third quarter was a defensive battle as the two teams combined for only 19 points. Newton got the better of it as they took a 40-38 lead with eight minutes left in regulation time.

Going into the final two minutes of the fourth period Newton hung onto a slim 53-50 lead. The Tigers' attempt to employ stalling tactics failed as an Indian steal and an ensuing three-point-play tied the score at 53. Brookline tallied again with 36 seconds remaining to go ahead 55-53. But Bernie Hinteregger layed the ball in with 13 seconds left to send the contest into overtime.

The two teams traded points for the first four and a half minutes of overtime. Hinteregger gave Newton a 61-59 lead with 30 seconds left. Pete Laskaris and Ed Beckler collaborated to steal the ball when Brookline brought it downcourt in the final seconds showing on the clock the victory was Newton's for sure, 63-59.

"We still haven't reached our peak," said an elated Phillips. "maybe we'll be better by the time the Tourney rolls around."

How they beat Brookline:

South Skaters Bow 2-0

By LEWIS H. FREEDMAN
Asst. Sports Editor

"We really hustled. We did a heck of a job against Bedford," said Newton South hockey coach Neil McPhee after his squad's 2-0 loss to one of the Dual County League's strongest teams.

"We played like we did over the first six games of the season, not the way we did in our recent slump," he added.

South, which had lost four of its last five games and tied the other one, played a tough checking, solid skating game against the Buccaneers and were only down 1-0 going into the final minute of the game. Then McPhee pulled goalie Jimmy Caruso and Bedford added a final goal into the open net.

The score was 0-0 through two periods and up until the last four minutes of the third stanza when Tony Norris scored for the 1-0 Bedford lead.

It was the Lion skaters' best defensive effort of the year and Caruso made 23 stops in the nets. Newton South had 16 shots on Dana Redmond.

Jon Rosenberg also turned in a strong effort for South.

Earlier in the week the Lions dropped a 5-2 decision to Maynard a team it defeated by the same margin on January 30. Dave Roarke tallied at 7:33 of the first period for the Lions with assists going to Steve Owens and Ken Bianco, and Rich Tedeschi collected a goal at 11:47 of the second period with assists going to Joe Donlan and Paul Tormy.

McPhee is disappointed with his club's showing over the second half of the season. It is now 3-9-2 and he expected more.

"I expected to do better over the second lalf," he said, "but we were dead, we slumped for four games or so. Now we're playing better again.

"It's been a good year for me," he added. "I've gotten a lot of satisfaction out of the team because it has never really stopped hustling, except for a little over the slump stretch. But you've got to expect that with kids. They're not pros and you can't expect them to be high every game. And we have to be high to stay with some of the competition we play.

"It's a good group of athletes. They hustle, stick their nose in the corners, and they work," he stated.

"Everyone on the squad has improved this year," said McPhee. Ken Bianco is the most improved of them all. He's really learned how to play his left wing position very well. Rich Tedeschi has also improved an awful lot throughout the year. These are the two guys who stand out."

—o—

The Dual County League All-Stars have been announced and the only member of the South squad who was selected was senior defenseman Steve Owens.

He's been terrific for us," commented McPhee. "He's our captain and he's done the job. He never comes off the ice."

DeNucci Fights Again

Newton's Middleweight Contender Joe DeNucci recently signed a contract to engage the top-ranked world middleweight contender, Jean Claude Bouttier of Paris, France. The match is to take place in the Lyon's Forum at Lyon's France on Friday evening, March 2, 1973 at 10 p.m. Bouttier recently received a decision via a low-blow disqualification, over five-time Champion of the World, Emile Griffith. Griffith was ahead on points when the referee choose to stop the contest because allegedly Griffith had struck a low blow. The decision was quite controversial and was quite unpopular with the crowd to the extent that it caused riot. Bouttier is one of the more active of the world middleweights and is noted for his lethal right hand punch and vicious infighting techniques, the majority of his wins have been via the knockout route.

DeNucci recently received recognition in the Ring Magazine (Boxing's Bible) for his showing in his fights with Griffith last fall. Joe received the short end on both contests via split decisions, the initial affair being a highly disputed decision. When the crowd became enraged at the lopsided decision, Emile Griffith took the mike and offered to return to Boston to make the rematch. Four weeks later, Joe met Griffith at the Boston Garden in a 12 round contest on the Cassius Clay card. This time, Emile took no chances, and fought a cautious, well balanced offence and gained another split decision.

While DeNucci looked in good condition, the experience of Emile together with the additional two rounds were too much for Joe. These contests, together with a two year win record resulted in a demand for his appearance with Bouttier. Joe has been training diligently for the affair at Connolly's Gym in So. Boston. His trainer, Bernie Doherty, hopes to have Joe in the best condition of his career.

Joe has encountered such outstanding middleweights as, Joe Giambra, Denny Moyer, Joey Giardello, Ralph "Tiger" Jones and recently former World Champion Emile Griffith. He is a veteran of 17 years of ring experience that began at the Lowell Golden Gloves when he was sixteen years of age.

South Gymnasts Bow To Lexington

It went down to the final event in the final match of the season, but the Newton South High gymnastics team failed in its bid for a near - automatic berth in the state team championships by dropping an 84.6 to 84.55 desision to Lexington in its last dual match, last week.

If the Lions had won they would have sported an 8-2 mark. With their 7-3 finish it is much more unlikely that they will be invited.

South outpointed Lexington in four of the six events, but dropped points in the floor exercise, 11.25 to 9.50 and the still rings, 14.60 to 12.95.

The Lions scored victories in two events with Bruce King capturing the horizontal bar and Gary Framson winning in the long horse vault.

South also notched four second - place finishes behind Framson, floor exercise, Mark Forte, side horse, Mark Taricano, parallel bars, and Jay Levine, rings.

The versatile Taricano also placed in four other events, scoring third in the floor exercise, and side horse, a tie for third in the long horse and sixth in the rings.

Other Lion points were notched by Dave Williams, third in the rings, Joe Duggan, tie for third with Taricano in the long horse, King, fourth in the floor exercise, John Pershe, fourth in the side horse, Levine, fifth in the horizontal bar, Gary Spielman, sixth in the side horse, and Barry Stone, tie for sixth in the parallel bars.

South recorded its seventh straight victory of the year by smashing Wellesley, 88.45 to 79.97 earlier in the week. The Lions won every event in the rout.

The Lions started things off by going one, four, five in the floor exercise behind Framson, King, and Taricano. The side horse was next and Forte won that with Taricano, second, Pershe and Andy Sisson, tied for third, and Spielman, fifth contributing more points.

King triumphed in the horizontal bar with Levine grabbing second, Duggan taking fifth, and Ricky Gove nabbing sixth.

The horizontal bar was even more of a rout with Taricano, first, Framson, tied for second, Stone, fourth, and Levine, sixth, racking up points.

Framson, first in the long horse, Taricano, tied for second, and Duggan, sixth, plus Dave Williams, first in the rings, Levine, third, and Taricano, fifth, rounded out the scoring.

Newton High Girl Gymnasts Unbeaten

By DAVID CUTLER

Over the past two seasons the Girls' Gymnastics Team has been the most successful team at Newton High School. In 1972 these acrobatic Tigers were Suburban League and State Champions. This year the girls have again won their league and are thus far undefeated.

Coach Joanne Randall, in her first year at Newton High, has been working with a group which is almost unchanged from a year ago. The fact that many of the girls have been with each other for two or even three years shows both in their attitude and performance. "The team has a real cohesiveness," said Mrs. Randall "It's a small, closely-knit group with really good morale."

With seven victories and one match reaining Newton has not come close to being beaten this year. Their closest win came against North Reading on February 7 when they were victorious by a 78-65 margin. North Reading, like Newton, has qualified for the State Team Meet on March 9 by winning their league. Another "close" one for the Tigers came against arch Suburban League rival Brookline, whom Newton beat 80-66 on January 19. The other five victories were quite decisive:

January 4 vs North Quincy 70-50
January 16 vs Waltham 73-29
January 26 vs Brockton 79-46
January 30 vs Weymouth South 78-41
February 9 vs Weymouth North 79-60.

From the middle of January through their most recent encounter NHS has averaged 79 points to their opponents' 55.

"The year has gone fairly smoothly," said Coach Randall. "There's been a lot of improvement from all the individuals as well as the team's improvements in all events (Balance beam, uneven parallel bars, vaulting, and floor exercise). Our greatest strength is our poise and execution. That's why people enjoy watching Newton's girls perform."

Even though Newton's is a team of many great gymnasts, there is still one who stands out. Marge Magraw finished third all-around in the State Individual Meet last year, as a sophomore. Margie's performance this season has again earned her the privilege of representing Newton in the Individuals along with Julie Myers, Jenny Barber, Ann Hurwitz, and Gail Whorisky. The competition will be held March 10 at Framimgham North. These five girls will be joined by Joanne Green, Gail Blauer, and Mary Pendergast the preceding day at Concord-Carlisle Regional High School for the State Team Meet.

"It will be a great disadvantage having the Teams one day and the Individuals the next," said Mrs. Randall. "But our girls should place quite high."

1972-1973 Newton High School Girls' Gymnastic Team Suburban League Champions.

South Sophomore Hoopsters Bow

Newton South's sophomore team continued on a downward slide as it dropped games to Weeks Junior High, 64-56, and Concord-Carlisle, 70-45, last week, with an exciting 37-34 victory over Bedford High sandwiched inbetween.

Monday, versus Weeks, the Lions trailed from the start and were down, 29-22 at the half. They slowly battled their way back to close the lead to two points, 43-41, at the start of the final quarter. It was all Weeks after that point, though, with Matt Sabetti and Mickey Atkins leading the way. Atkins was high scorer for the game with 27 points and Sabetti was next with 19 points. South was paced by Mike Sklar's 15 markers and by Jon Bamel, who tossed in 14.

The Lions also trailed from the beginning in their low-scoring contest with Bedford. The Buccaneers built a 20-14 intermission lead. Steve Selib then led a South charge which put the sophomores ahead for the first time in the game 27-26 after three quarters.

The lead see-sawed back and forth most of the final period till Selib hit on a jumper to put the Lions out in front, 35-34, with aminute remaining.

Bedford had two more chances to score, but couldn't convert and South had the ball and a one-point lead with just 10 seconds showing on the clock. Bedford was forced to foul and Alan Freedman hit on both ends of a one-on-one to ice the game for the Lions. Selib led the South attack with nine points and Jay Reubens followed with eight.

The Lions ended their busy week with Concord-Carlisle on Friday. South was victimized by a zone press which resulted in many turnovers and numerous breakaway baskets by Concord.

After leading by only five, 33-28 at the half, Concord blew the Lions out in the third quarter, outscoring them 24-9 to all but clinch the game.

Selib and Mike Stockman each contributed 11 points to the South cause and Freedman chipped in with nine. South's record was lowered to 7-11 on the season. The Lions close out their schedule this week when they meet Weston at home.

St. Sebastian's Sports Roundup

St. Sebastian's powerful basketball team upped its Southern Sector Private School League-leading record to 15-3 last week, by downing Lawrence Academy, 61-53, at Groton, Mass.

The Arrows are now 10-0 in the league and remain one game in front of Rivers Country Day School of Weston.

Captain Phil Coleman, a 6-5 center, and guard Kevin O'Malley, each pumped in 14 points to pace the victory. Forward Bob McGuire, nine points, and sophomore Tom Giblin, seven points, also notched clutch points down the stretch. Lawrence was led by Tom Bunnen's 13 points.

There was some good news and some bad news for the Arrow hockey team. St. Sebastian's skaters split, bombing the Brooks School, 7-1, and getting destroyed, 10-3 by Browne and Nichols.

It was 5-0 after the first period against Brooks, and 7-0 midway into the second stanza before Brooks retaliated with its single goal.

Bob Devaney, Tim Hammano, and Steve Maskell each blasted in two goals in the rout and Bob Connors got the other one Joe White collected three assists, and Tim Clapp and Rich Mulroy each contributed two assists as the Arrows recorded their most convincing triumph of the season.

Connors, Mike LeDoux, and Devaney, got the goals in the disaster against Browne and Nichols. The Cambridge school outshot the Arrows, 42-20.

St Sebastian' record is now 7-12-1 on the year.

Historical

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Michigan State senior basketball center Bill Kilgore is the all-time Spartan career leader in field goal percentage. He's hit from the floor at a .552 clip in his first two varsity seasons.

Title Monopoly

NEW YORK — The New York Giants and Chicago Bears were opponents in the first three title games ever held by the National Football League, beginning in 1963.

Boston College Sports

Apparently no-one told Boston University that it's a federal offense to kill an Eagle.

Well, the Terriers killed off a while slew of them last week, to take their fourth consecutive Beanpot title and regulate Boston College to a runner-up role, 4-1, at the Boston Garden.

There were 15,003 people on hand to watch the showdown between the two local schools, but it wasn't a game for people to watch.

BU played a near flawless defensive game and tried to set up its plays on offense, none of which made for exciting viewing. BC, meanwhile, was checking well and threaded its way through the Terrier defense for some good shots at Ed Walsh, but in general had its game cut off by a persistent BU defense.

Boston U. got one goal in the first period, two in the second stanza and a final one in the third period to BC's lone retaliation in the second period.

Ned Yetten, the BC netminder, played a terrific game in the nets, and although he had a letdown or two he couldn't be blamed for the loss.

Mike Powers, who had five goals in BC's first round 9-8 overtime win over Northeastern, scored the Eagle goal.

BU's stellar defenseman Vic Stanfield, younger brother of the Bruins' Fred, earned the tournament's Most Valuable Player award.

Boston College upped its season record to 16-5 later in the week by outlasting Clarkson, 9-8 in overtime at McHugh Forum.

The visitors from upstate New York fought back from 4-3 and 8-7 deficits to knot the game with five goals in the third period before falling.

Olympian Tom Mellor played the last 15 minutes of the game and netted the winning goal at 1:49 of the sudden death overtime period. Mellor, a defenseman, finished the night with two goals and two assists.

Bob Reardon had a big game with two goals and three assists, and his linemates Powers and Richie Smith each had one goal and two assists. The line totaled 11 points.

Chuck Lambert, former Needham High All-Scholastic performer, who was injured and forced Mellor into iron man service, Tim King, and Jim Doyle, each had one goal.

The Eagle basketball team was up-ended, 56-55, last week, by Georgetown, after blowing a 10-point lead midway through the second half.

Georgetown, coached by former Providence College and Celtic player John Thompson, got the winning points on a lay-up by Jon Smith with just seven seconds left.

Forward Dan Kilcullen sank 18 points, senior Tom Anstett hit for 16, and guard Jere Nolan notched 11 points for the Eagles, now 8-14 on the year.

The dual track meet between BC and Northeastern, last Saturday, was cancelled shortly after it started because of injuries sustained by Eagle coach Bill Gilligan who was hit in the chest by a 35-pound weight as it slipped out of the grasp of a competitor. Gilligan was admitted to St. Elizabeth's Hospital for observation.— LEWIS FREEDMAN

Knights Down Cheverus On Mike Ferrick Night

By Bob Creeden

"A man is measured by how he stands up to adversity. You Mike, are truly a man for you have stood up to your adversity as only a man could."

These were the words that were inscribed on a plaque given to Mike Ferrick from Catholic Memorial on his birthday, last Monday, Mike, who last year was a big part in the Knights winning season, was injured in an auto accident over the summer and told he could not attend school this year. He has never missed a game all year, home or away, and it was fitting to let Mike know that he is as much a part of the school and the team as he was last year. So in a ceremony before the Catholic Memorial-Cheverus High School (Maine) game, the students, faculty, and team members honored Mike on his birthday.

The Knights then went on to defeat Cheverus 82-71 in a hotly contested ballgame. The Knights, with stellar performances from Mike Vicens (31 points, 23 rebounds), Joe O'Brien (26 points, 15 rebounds), and Ronnie Perry (18 points) kept the standing room only crowd constantly on its feet.

The Knights jumped out to a 4-0 lead, but hot shooting by Cheverus gave them the lead midway through the period. Cheverus, which shot 95 per cent in the first quarter, then took a 20-14 lead going into the second period only to have it chopped to zero by the Knights within two minutes.

A three-point play by Ronnie Perry tied the game at 21 and then baskets by O'Brien, and Vicens put the Knights up for good at 29-25. With Vicens hitting 18 of his 31 points and Perry 13 of his 17 points the Knights took a 40-31 halftime lead.

The third quarter was all Joe O'Brien as he repeatedly burned the Cheverus defense with his shots from 20 feet and his amazing moves. Joe got 14 of Memorial's 23 points as C.M. took over easily, going into the fourth a 63-47 leader. From here the Knights went on to win to make the birthday a super one for all involved.

As was said, fantastic performances were turned in by Mike Vicens, Joe O'Brien, and Ronnie Perry as well as the rest of the Memorial basketball team.

Win 11th Straight Title

Then on Friday night the Knights won their 11th consecutive Catholic Conference Title by beating Arlington Catholic 65-60. Playing in the opponents gym is never a joy but the Knights didn't mind as they took a 20-15 first quarter lead. The Knights kept that margin at 5 as they went into the locker room a 34-29 halftime leader.

It was in the third quarter that Arlington got hot and traded hoops with Memorial until late in the third quarter when Memorial took a 47-43 edge. Opening the fourth Arlington was red hot and reversed the three point Memorial lead to a three point deficit at 54-49. The Knights fought back and with 2:41 left Joe O'Brien hit from 20 feet out to put C.M. up 57-56.

A minute later Mike Vicens sank two free throws to put the Knights up three at 59-56. Mike then proceded to steal the inbound pass and in the process was fouled. So Mike again stepped up to the line and made two shots to make the lead 5 at 61-56. Arlington scored twice but Joe O'Brien answered back to put C.M. up 63-60. With only 15 seconds left Arlington threw the ball away and then fouled Billy Giffiths. Bill hit on both of his shots to ice the game for the Knights at 65-60.

Leading scorer for the Knights was Mike Vicens who had 25, followed closely by Joe O'Brien who had 18, Ronnie Perry who had 12, and Billy Griffiths who had 10.

This marked the 11th straight year that C.M. had been king of the Catholic Conference and it was the first title for new coach Gus Andrews. Memorial will now prepare for their defense of the New England Catholic Tourney title which will start Friday at Roberts Center. The Knights first round opponent will be Holyoke Catholic.

BOSTON — Bobby Orr, of the Bruins, winner of the Hart Memorial Trophy as the National Hockey League's most valuable player during the 1971-72 season, is the first player to win the award three years in a row. Orr also won the Norris Memorial trophy as the league's best defenseman for the fifth straight year.

Roxbury Latin Wrestlers To Compete In Tourney

On February 24th, the Roxbury Latin School wrestling team will be one of ten private school Class B teams competing in the Graves-Kelsey Tournament which is being held this year at Milton Academy. The Roxbury Latin grapplers are going into the tournament prepared to defend the tourney championship which has been theirs for three consecutive years. This year's team is young and relatively inexperienced with only two seniors in the group. However, the fighting spirit and intense dedication shown by the wrestlers indicate that they will go all out to retain their title.

Varsity wrestlers are:

110 — Mark Richardson, 82 High Street, Brookline.

115 — Alvin Powell, 188 Thornton Street, Roxbury.

121 — Philip Dunn, Captain, 95 Country Lane, Westwood.

127 — James Washington, Sussex Street, Roxbury.

133 — Milton Roye, 26 Harlem Street, Dorchester.

138 — John Lawler, 285 Pond Street, Jamaica Plain.

145 — Paul LeBlanc, 9 Garden Parkway, Norwood.

153 — Robert McTighe, 29 Summer Street, Westwood.

160 — Walter Bender, 17 Grace Road, Newton Center.

167 — Dean Jorgensen, 245 Burgess Avenue, Westwood.

177 — Richard Arscott, 3 Celia Road, West Roxbury.

HWT — Christopher Dowd, 26 Barbara Road, Needham.

Bob Ryan, who has been the Roxbury Latin varsity wrestling coach for four years, has great confidence in the team's ability to make a fine showing in the tournament. Captain Phil Dunn, who was the 115 lb. champion last year, has an excellent record this year at 121 lbs. and must be considered a threat in that higher weight class. Besides Dunn, the only returning member of last year's excellent team is Alvin Powell who is a strong contender for top spot in the 115 weight class. Walter Bender has not wrestled prior to this, his senior year. His winning record reflects his aggressiveness.

LEBLANC PINS

A great tournament performance is expected from junior Paul LeBlanc wrestling at 145, who pinned six times in nine victories while losing one. Heavyweight Chris Dowd has compiled a winning record in spite of the fact that he is lighter than most of his opponents. Milton Roye, Bob McTighe, Dean Jorgensen and John Lawler have shown they can wrestle well and based on their recent performances, they should do well at Milton Academy. Injuries have plagued Jim Washington and Rich Arscott. Washington expects to be ready for the tournament, however.

Mark Richardson, a freshman wrestling at 110, has faced tough competition all season but his natural ability and persistent hard work could bring him victory at Milton.

This year's team surprised everyone with its 5-4-1 record and should continue surprising in the Graves-Kelsey Tournament.

Another Fine Year For South Grapplers

When a team finishes 10-3-2 and its fans are disappointed, then either that team has fans who are hard to please or fans who have been spoiled by success.

The Newton South wrestling team compiled the above mark, this season, rounding out its dual match campaign with victories over Concord-Carlisle and Leominster before the Eastern Sectionals got under way, last wek. And the record was the Lions' worst in six years.

"It's an off-year," said coach Aredis Kojoyian, "but it's still a good year. The seniors came through real well and it was a fine group of kids.

"This was one of the best crops of first-year wrestlers we've ever had," he continued, "and they did a great job. It's hard to step in, especially where we didn't have any depth. And then we got some injuries like Woody Saltzberg's knee sprain. He was a sure winner and we couldn't afford to lose him. Plus Wayne Vespa, a fine wrestler, had a pulled muscle, and Mike McDonald missed a meet. But I'm looking forward to next year. I think we'll be super tough." (Especially since the Lion jayvee was 12-1.)

South started its week by smashing Concord-Carlisle, 50-6. The Lions captured 11 of the 13 weight classes and recorded three pins.

Paul Linn started things off with a pin in the 100-pound class and John Staulo finished up the same way in the heavyweight category, and Mike McDonald, at 167, also contributed six points by flattening his foe.

Mike Shockett, 7-2 at 107 pounds, and Brad Anthony, 7-4 at 114 pounds, upped the Lion lead to 12-0 after Linn's pin. Bruce Arafe lost, 9-2, but then Mike Nathanson, 10-0, Rich Hyman, by pin (another six-pointer), Art Murphy, 8-0, and Dave Berkowitz, 5-1, all won in succession before Vespa dropped a 2-0 decision at 157. Haskell Kingston, 13-2 in the 177-pound division, and Peter Maples, 9-0 at 187 pounds, also added wins.

South's last dual match win of the year came later in the week versus Leominster. The Lions led from the start to dominate a 30-19 triumph.

Linn, 7-0, Shockett, 6-4, and Anthony, also 6-4, won decisions in the first three competitions to give South the quick lead before Steve Cramer was upended, 16-5 in the 121-pound class.

Leominster captured four of the next eight individual matches by besting Hyman, Murphy, Kingston, and Maples while South victories were scored by Nathanson, Berkowitz, Vespa and McDonald. That left the score at 24-19 and if Leominster pinned it could win the match.

That idea was squelched relatively fast, though, as John Staulo collected the pin for South instead to make the final score deceptively large.—

Sports Notes

Good Athlete

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Kansas City Royals manager Bob Lemon, who posted 207 wins as a major league pitcher, was good enough to make the major leagues as a hitter. Lemon was the Cleveland Indians' starting center fielder on opening day in 1946, also played third base for the tribe and didn't begin pitching regularly until he was 27.

Tough Year

PITTSBURGH — Ralph Kiner's 23 home runs for the Pirates in 1946 was good enough to win the National League home run crown.

Consistent Slugger

CHICAGO — Rogers Hornsby's .380 batting average made in 1929 for the Cubs is the Club's all-time batting mark. In the 1928 season, Hornsby, playing for the then Boston Braves, hit .387, the all-time Braves' batting record.

South Hoopsters Win Pair

By LEWIS H. FREEDMAN
Asst. Sports Editor

Bedford High will be playing in the state tournament in March about two weeks, and before that Bedford will win the Dual County League title.

Last week the Lions pulled off the upset of the year by tipping the Buccaneers, 45-43, on their own home court, and then an all around lovely week by outlasting Concord - Carlisle, 56-53.

South took an early 12-5 lead as Bedford was cold in the first period. But the Lions turned around and experienced the same offensive problems in the second quarter to fall behind, 19-18 at the half in a game which was not a spectator's delight.

The strange see - saw quarters continued in the third stanza with the Lions pulling that one out 13-6 and taking over a 31-25 lead. They kept that lead for the first half of the final period before Bedford ran off five points in a row to knot the game at 43.

South tried one shot, but missed and the ball went to Bedford, which also ended up with one shot, and also missed. The carom bounded out to South center Richie Spector who was immediately fouled. The 6-5 center sank both free throws to win the game.

Captain Ned Moan was the game's high - point man with 14 points. Spector, 12, and guard Mike Lushan, 10 also reached double figures. Jim Diebold, 13 points, and Mike Elias, 10 paced the losers, who are now 12-3.

Defeat Concord

The victory which followed over Concord marked the first time this season the Lions have put together two straight wins.

It was a tight contest all the way with Concord taking an 18-16 first quarter lead and then South wrenching that away with a 32-30 intermission margin. The Lions moved up by five points, 44-39 after three quarters and then hung on in the fourth period as Concord fought back. Forward Rich Duffy, who was a benchwarmer at the start of the season, but who has come on to score some clutch points for the Lions over the last few weeks, hit both ends of a one - on - one situation to ice the game with 16 seconds left.

South's Ned Moan fired in a career - high 20 points to spark the decision and Spector added another double - figure performance, hitting for 12 points again. Duffy was next in line with eight points.

Brian Dee, a 6-1 guard who pumped in 30 points the first time the teams met this season, last week had 21. Mark Hollenkamp added 12 points.

Newton South, 6-10 on the year, completes its season this week with games against Weston and Acton-Boxboro. The game against Acton-Boxboro could prove interesting. If Acton wins on Tuesday of this week then it will need one more victory, its last game, versus South, to qualify for the state tournament.

—o—

The South Jayvee boosted its slate to 11-5 with a 56-46 decision over Bedford and a 55-40 win over Concord. Ricky Sharton hooped 23 points in the first encounter with Bob Harris contributing 12, and Sharton led the scorers in the second game with 17 points. Forward Bob Shpiner chipped in with 14 to aid the Lion cause in that game.

Connecticut Schoolteacher Wins Newton Marathon

When Connecticut schoolteacher Amby Burfoot comes to Massachusetts to run, he comes to win.

The 26-year-old Burfoot, winner of the 1968 B.A.A. Marathon, repeated his victory Sunday in the Silver Lake Dodge Washington Birthday Marathon with a record breaking time of 1:43:20, Two minutes and forty-one seconds lower than the mark set in 1971 by Ed Walkwitz.

Two other runners, following closely behind Burfoot, crossed the finish line in record breaking time. Bill Rowe of Northeastern University finished in second place with a running time of 1:43:57 and the third place finisher Will Rodgers of the B.A.A. 1:44:37.

More than 300 distance runners faced the starter's gun at noon in Hopkinton Square in sub-freezing weather, and more than 100 completed the 20 kilometer distance in less than two and one half hours to qualify for the Patriots Day B.A.A. classic.

Burfoot, who teaches elementary school in Mystic, Connecticut, was crowned with the laurel wreath and presented with the first place trophy by Newton Mayor Theodore D. Mann and New England Whalers captain Teddy Green.

Rounding out the first ten finishers were Tom Smith, Larry Olsen, Ray Crothers, Peter Stipe, Walter Renaud, James Gallagher and John Cederholm.

New England Whalers coach Jack Kelley, New England Regional Dodge manager Art Warren and Silver Lake Dodge general manager Bernie Wantman presented additional trophies to the first fifty placers.

Sixty-five year old John A. Kelley, now a Cape Codder, who won his first B.A.A. Marathon in 1935, finished among the qualifiers for this year's race.

MARATHON WINNER — Newton Mayor Theodore D. Mann, left, and New England Whalers captain Teddie Green, present first place trophy to Amby Burfoot, center, record - breaking winner of the Seventh Annual Silver Lake Dodge Marathon. Burfoot, with a finishing time of 1:43:20, led more than three hundred distance runners over the course from Hopkinton to Silver Lake Dodge headquarters to become 1973 New England 20 kilometer Junior Champion. The 26 year old Burfoot, who won the 1968 BAA Marathon, teaches elementary school in Mystic, Connecticut.

Mariners Seek Crew

At the Pelagic Sailing Club's annual Skipper's Meeting, plans were made for this summer's cruises.

To accomodate the members varying interests and types of sailing yachts, plans were made for extended sails to Nova Scotia, St. John, New Brunswick, Maine, Cape Cod, etc. In addition many weekend cruises and rendezvouz to various ports in Massachusetts Bay, Cape Cod, Long Island, and Narragansett Bay were planned.

The Pelagic Sailing Club was established in 1967 for the purpose of providing competent sailing crews to skippers. The clubs commodore, John L. Vaccaro, announced that one member is planning to sail to the Azores and the Canary Islands and another member is making plans for an around the world cruise. Both are looking for crew.

Paul DeAvilla, membership chairman, said that with the club's increased activities, there are openings for a few experienced crew members. He urged that interested people write the Pelagic Club, Inc., P.O. Box 153, West Newton, Mass. 02165.

Where's Your Water Shutoff?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Home owners can minimize the amount of water damage caused by sudden leaks in a pipe or a valve by taking a few pracutionary measures, according to the American Water Works Association.

Every adult in the family and teen-agers should know where to turn off the water in case of an emergency, association officials said. Water from a burst pipe can cause untold damage in just minutes. Only fast action by someone who knows exactly where the shutoff valve is can minimize the damage.

Under no circumstances, however, should the person turning off the water be touching a light fixture or an electrical switch while standing in the area. If necessary, use a flashlight.

The Water Association is a non-profit, scientific and educational organization that speaks for the 30,000 community water suppliers in North America who provide daily water to 200 million people.

Nothing Slows Pace in Egyptian Capital

By JOHN F. SIMS

CAIRO (UPI) — One of the more amazing sights to a newcomer to the Middle East is this Egyptian capital, at almost any time of day.

As late as 10 o'clock in the evening the brightly-lit streets in the center of Cairo are crowded with cars, horse-drawn carts and pedestrians. Dilapidated Soviet and Hungarian-made buses, each carrying double its authorized capacity of 90 persons, roar through the wide boulevards, every bus tilted 20 degrees off true by the weight of dozens of passengers clinging to the outside.

"Nobody knows where they're all going," commented one Cairene. "They just keep moving. Anything so as not to be at home."

The only time the flow of pedestrians slows on Cairo streets during the day is at Moslem prayer time, just before sunset.

Then shopkeepers retreat to the backs of their open-fronted shops, take out prayer rugs and prostrate themselves in the direction of Mecca.

Out on the sidewalks peasants rearrange their flowing ankle-length shirts and kneel in rows behind a wandering Imam —Moslem equivalent of a priest —to join in an impromptu prayer session.

Flying to Egypt, airliners cross the coastline over desert areas to the west of the port of Alexandria. Banking to land at Cairo, the planes pass over the abrupt change from yellow to green where the fertile lands bordering the River Nile meet the desert. The Nile and its banks form a green and blue stripe down the center of Egypt. The Nile is blue from the air, but a muddy brown close-up.

On the road from the airport to the city, concrete foundations of an exposition site rise from stony ground bounded by mud-brick villages.

Cairo is a city of imposing buildings, wide streets and giant squares. More and more of its 5.5 million inhabitants live in modern high rise apartment blocks in the suburbs.

Cairo is a dirty city. Its streets are littered with rubbish and heaps of rubble that make it look like a vast building site.

Every day, winds blowing over the Mokattam Hills east of Cairo dump 150 tons of dust on the city, according to official estimates. The dust hovers in the air and mingles with the exhaust fumes from thousands of vehicles to give the city a gray overhanging haze.

Many of the buildings have blue windows—an air raid blackout precaution. Outside entrances to buildings are blast walls and piles of sandbags.

"Egypt is a country at war," is the answer to inquiries about shortages and inconveniences. This may be so, but it doesn't slow the pace of this fabled city by the Nile.

This Hand Must Be Bid on Distribution

Many hands in bridge defy the general rules of high card value, and must be bid according to distribution, claims Joseph Vaas, director of the Westwood Club. In these hands a player bids if the distribution is in his side's favor, and should soon pass if there is no 'fit' for his side in any suit. These hands should be recognized in the early bidding, if possible. Today's hand is one in which every player at the table can bid.

At some of the tables East opened the bidding with a call of one diamond. South can overcall with one heart, West bids two diamonds, and North can bid his spades. Now for his rebid East shows his club length and South can rebid his hearts.

So, with all the players bidding East-West realize they have a fit in the minors and North-South realize they have a fit in the majors.

| | NORTHS. K J 7 6 5 4 2H. 10 9 7 6 2D. noneC. 5 | |
|---|---|---|
| WESTS. 8H. Q 4D. K 10 9 6 4 2C. A Q 8 2 | SOUTHS. A 9H. A K J 8 5 3D. J 7C. J 10 2 | EASTS. Q 10 2H. noneD. A Q 8 5 3C. K 9 7 6 4 |

The defensive tricks on these type of hands are practically non-existent, therefore the bidding will go to a very high level. With this particular hand some tables had East bidding slam in diamonds and making it.

Also some tables were bidding six or seven hearts with the North-South cards. If the defense comes off to the wrong lead either side can make a grand slam.

These hands have all been played at the Westwood Bridge Club. This Club is open to all area residents and is located in the American Legion Hall in Westwood. The American Legion is directly behind the Police station on Route 109 in Westwood. Games are held every night of the week at 8 and Sunday at 7. There is also a morning game on every Tuesday and an Afternoon game on Sunday. For information call 326-6806 or 326-9724.

BERNHARD E. OLSON

Temple Shalom Conducts Interreligious Discussion

Bernhard E. Olson, national director of interreligious affairs of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will be the guest lecturer at the annual Clergy Institute to be held at Temple Shalom of Newton on Friday, Mar. 2.

Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom, is chairman of the institute which is presented in cooperation with the Newton Clergy Association.

Olson received his doctorate at Yale University School of Religion and is the author of many books and articles in the field of interreligious activities. His volume on "Faith and Prejudice" won two book awards and was the "book of the month" alumni selection of Drew University.

The Clergy Institute will begin at 10 a.m., with an invocation by the Reverend Monsignor Matthew W. Stapleton, chairman of the Arch-diocesan Ecumenical Commission. Olson will speak on "What Is The Central Problem in Jewish-Christian Relations Today?"

A discussion and luncheon will follow the presentation. The blessing will be offered at the luncheon by Meredith B. Handspicker, associate professor of Practical Theology at Andover Newton Theological School, and greetings will be brought by the Reverend Monsignor William A. Granville, president of The Newton Clergy association, and Mr. David Krongard, president of Temple Shalom of Newton.

At the Sabbath Eve Service, beginning at 8:15, Dr. Olson will speak from the pulpit on "The Church and The Jews - A Christian View." A post-service discussion and reception will follow, to which the community is invited. Temple Shalom of Newton is located at 175 Temple st., West Newton.

United Church Women Join In World Prayer Observance

Church Women United in Newton will join women of 168 countries throughout the world in the celebration of World Day of Prayer on Friday, Mar. 2, at noon in the Central Congregational Church of Newton, 218 Walnut st., Newtonville.

Mrs. Arthur F. Callen, the chairman of the day, has announced that the speaker will be Rev. William Blair Gould who will explore the theme "Alert in Our Time." Dr. Gould brought up in Wellesley, interrupted his studies at Wesleyan University to serve with the U.S. Air Force in North Africa and Italy from 1943 to 1946, then returned to graduate from Wesleyan with a B.A. degree in philosophy. After further study at Yale and Oxford Universities, he received a Master of Divinity degree from Union Theological Seminary in New York and a Ph.D. from the University of Edinburg. Besides serving Methodist pastorates in Connecticut, New York, and Asbury Church, Warwick, R.I., where he has served since July 1971, Dr. Gould has also been the Methodist chaplain at the University of Nebraska, director of the National Office of Campus Ministry with the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, chairman and professor of Religious Studies at Bradley University and academic dean of Washington College.

The hostess for the Day is Mrs. Earl Alban, president of the Women's Association of the Central Congregational Church. Mrs. Alban and the members of her committee have arranged to serve a "mini-lunch" at no charge immediately following the program. Child care will also be provided.

Mrs. William C. Lowe, spiritual life chairman, will lead the devotional services which have been adapted from a service prepared by the women of New Zealand. A special choir, led by Mr. Marshal Wilkins, director of music at Central Church, will furnish music.

The theme of the 1973 observance, "Alert in Our Time," expresses the intention of church women to be aware of the crucial needs in the world and to be agents of God's reconciling love in those areas. In the United States, church women will translate their prayers into action in three areas of concern: providing adequate health services to all; creating new life lines for interaction with the repidly growing community of Asian Americans in our country and becoming alert to world trade problems.

The Christian belief that faith should not be separated from action is carried out through the World Day of Prayer observances and all women in Newton are cordially invited to join with millions of other women throughout the world in this celebration.

HOLLYWOOD — Alan Arkin and James Caan will head the cast of "Freebie and the Bean" at Warner Bros.

Temple Plans Antiques Fair

Plans are well underway for the seventh annual Antique Exposition and Sale to be held on Sunday, Apr. 1 and Monday, Apr. 2 at the new Social Hall of Temple Beth Avodah, Newton.

Mrs. Herbert Goodman, chairman , and Mrs. Ronald Viselman, vice chairman, have been working very hard to make this a successful event. Many dealers from location near the far have been lined up and this promises to be the best show to date.

In addition a refreshment concession is being planned under the able leadership fo Mrs. Samual Klingsberg and Mrs. Alan Gorham. For dealer information, please call the temple office at 527-0045.

Vietnamese Kids Topic At First Baptist Sunday

A discussion and films on the "Committee of Responsibility" will be held Sunday (Feb. 25) following the 10 a.m. worship service at First Baptist Church.

This committee's main concern is with the war-injured children of Vietnam; this non-profit organization offers a medical rescue mission to Vietnam to give these children a second chance at life. A film entitled "An Evil Hour" will be shown which graphically describes the war's destruction of a people and their culture. Dr. Herbert L. Needleman, national chairman of the organization, will be the guest speaker and will further describe the activities of the Committee of Responsibility, which is housed in the First Baptis Church and which has recently become the national headquarters for the organization. A time for questions and discussion will follow this presentation.

"Ferment in the Family" is the topic of Rev. Gene E. Bartlett's sermon in the morning service. He will be assisted by David Roones, a senior at Andover Newton Theological School and student minister at the church.

All members and friends of the First Baptist Church are invited to take part in the hour of worship and to learn more about the important work of the Committee of Responsibility in the discussion time which follows the service.

Missionary Translates Good Word

Missionaries of the Park Street Church, Boston, serving with the Wycliffe Bible Translators in Peru have just completed translations of the New Testament into the Campa language.

The Rev. and Mrs. Willard Kinberg translated the Campa New Testament, and the dedication service for its publication is scheduled for the week beginning March 31. Some 15,000 members of the Ashinaca Campa Tribe in Peru, who speak the language, will now be able to read the Gospel.

Mrs. Kindberg, the former Lee Duncan of Newton, is the daughter of Mrs. Taylor Duncan who lives in Auburndale. A brother, Rev. Robert Duncan, is pastor of the Fort Square Presbyterian Church, Quincy.

explained and there is also a requirement for the registration of guns upon a new sale.

His bill, he said, asks for the registration of an estimated 100,000 handguns now unrecorded.

"What is asked here is not unreasonable," Harrington declared, "and it is not an infringement on the rights of the gun owner."

Harrington went on to say that his legislation was not aimed at sportsmen familiar with weapons and ammunition "because they know the danger of a cheap gun."

"There are those who will say that registration will not help the police," he noted.

"In answer, I can only say that recently the Commonwealth strengthened its auto registration law for the specific purpose of restricting the illegal ownership and use of automobiles.

"Those same arguments can be applied to guns. The legitimate owner and lawful gun user should not object to proper, lawful authority knowing how many handguns he owns. The law is for his protection and for the protection of his investment."

of environmental protection and he has decided to specialize in that aspect of the law.

He has discovered, however, that most large firms depend on their own lawyers for environmental services, so Tannenbaum is now searching for a downtown Boston office to practice law on his own.

But he is in no hurry.

"I'm my own boss now, and don't intend on hurrying through my retirement years," stated Tannenbaum.

One thing he does intend on doing is keep a lot of irons in a lot of fires. Retired but undaunted, Oscar Tannenbaum is looking forward to the most productive years of his life.

Charles E. Mason

Services for Charles E. Mason, 88, of 252 Woodland rd., Chestnut Hill, were held Wednesday (Feb. 21) in Trinity Church, Back Bay.

Mr. Mason, cofounder of the Episcopal Church Penison fund and past official of the Massachusetts Golf Association died Sunday (Feb. 18) at his home.

He was born in Boston, attended Noble & Greenough School in Dedham and graduated from Harvard University in 1905.

He and Rt. Rev. William Lawrence established the fund for teachers in 1916 and Mr. Mason served as its director and was on the board of trustees as well as director of the two subsidiaries, the Church of Life Insurance Corp. and the Church Fire Insirance Corp.

From 1920 to 1940, he served as treasurer and vestryman at Trinity Church.

Mr. Mason was a member of the Union Club of Boston, the Brookline Country Club and the Harvard Club. An excellent amateur golfer, he played for a number of years at the Cohasset Country Club where he became club champion and president. In 1933, he was named secretary-treasurer of the Mass. association.

Mr. Mason is survived by his wife, Mrs. Adelaide Maso; two sons, Charles E. Jr. of Chestnut Hill and John A. of Avon, Conn.; a daughter, Mrs. Trygve Gunderson of Brookline; and a sister, Mrs. Franklin Trumbull of Concord; 11 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Donald Harding

Private funeral services were scheduled to be held for Donald F. Harding, a native of the city.

Mr. Harding, 67, of 97 Laurel Rd., Chestnut Hill, died Sunday (Feb. 18) in a Jamaica Plain Nursing Home.

Born in Newtonville, Mr. Harding attended Newton High School and graduated from Harvard University in 1927. He joined the firm of Scudder, Stevens & Clark and eventually became a vice president and director of the firm. In 1953, he was made a general partner.

He was a past director of the Harvard Alumni Association, secretary of his 1927 graduating class, a trustee of the New England Conservatory of Music and of the James Jackson Putnam Children's Center. He was a member of the Country Club in Brookline, the Union Club in Boston and the Nantucket Yacht Club.

Mr. Harding is survived by his wife, Mrs. Charlotte Harding; and his sister, Mrs. Richard R. Thomas of Marshfield.

Palmer Demeo

Funeral services for Palmer Demeo, a West Newton resident for the last 30 years, were to be held at 9 a.m. Thursday (Feb. 22) in St. Bernard's Church, Interment is in Newton Cemetery.

Across The Kitchen Counter

Ruth Lenson

Have you ever noticed that most recipes are geared to serve 4, 5 or 6 individuals? Homemakers with large families usually think cooking for two would be a snap, but newlyweds, bachelors, career girls, working couples and retired people don't find it so.

There are also those who live alone and unfortunately many of these people claim that cooking for one isn't worth the bother—that it's boring." The attitude to adopt if you're cooking for yourself is, act like you're company! Set the table nicely, pour a glass of wine and listen to good music; even your everyday hamburger eaten in this environment will taste better and leave pleasant afterthoughts.

Dinner is a time for two to dine intimately and elegantly. The career girl has always considered a carefully planned dinner a great way to impress that all-important admirer. For the retired couple with the children away, it's a time to indulge in foods the little ones disliked but were your favorites.

The answer to good and interesting meals for one or two (other than lamb chops or steak) is careful planning. Take advantage of poultry and beef on sale and prepare several meals at once —a large casserole frozen in individual servings that need only reheating.

This column is dedicated to food preparation for one or two people, and remember, do set the table with linen, your best crystal and china . . . because you're very special!

VEAL A LA MARSALA

½ pound veal scallops or cutlets
Butter and olive oil
Salt and pepper
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
½ teaspoon parsley flakes
Pinch of nutmeg
One-third cup Marsala wine

Cut veal into narrow strips. Pound veal thin with back of knife. Saute veal slowly in enough butter and olive oil to cover pan; while cooking, add seasonings. When veal is brown (but not crisp) cover veal with wine — heat through. Serve with hot cooked vermicelli (thin spaghetti) and a bit of grated Parmesan cheese. Makes 1 serving.

FRESH VEGETABLE SOUP

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
4 green onions with tops, sliced thin
2 large ripe tomatoes, peeled and chopped
1 can (15½ oz.) okra, drained
1 cup chicken bouillon
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon sugar
Salt and pepper

Melt butter (or margarine) in saucepan; add sliced onions and cook for 3 minutes or until onions are limp but not brown. Add chopped tomatoes, cover and cook on medium heat for 5 minutes. Add drained okra, chicken bouillon (made by dissolving 1 chicken bouillon cube in 1 cup boiling water), lemon juice and sugar. Taste and add salt and pepper. Cover and simmer for 5 minutes. Serve hot with cooked fine noodles. Serves 2.

MARINATED FLANK STEAK

1 small flank steak . . . about 1 lb.
¼ cup soy sauce
¼ cup dry sherry
2 tablespoons honey
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
1 clove garlic, mashed

Trim steak and put into a shallow glass pan. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over steak. Marinate 8 hours or overnight. Broil steak 3 to 5 minutes on each side (meat should be rare). To serve, cut very thin slices across the grain. Serves 2.

CHICKEN LIVERS EN CASSEROLE

1 pound chicken livers
⅓ cup margarine
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 large bay leaf, crumbled
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 can (4 oz.) mushrooms, drained
1 small can stewed tomatoes, drained
1½ cups cracker crumbs
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen mixed vegetables

Saute chicken livers in margarine. Add remaining ingredients, reserving 3 tablespoons cracker crumbs for topping. Mix well. Cook over medium heat for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour into a 1½ quart casserole — cover with cracker crumbs and bake in 350 degree oven for 25 minutes. Serves 2.

3-MINUTE SCALLOPS

7 good size fresh scallops
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Pinch each of garlic powder, paprika and nutmeg
Margarine and olive oil

Wash and drain scallops on paper towel. Combine flour, salt, pepper, garlic powder, paprika and nutmeg in paper bag. Shake scallops in bag to coat well. Heat margarine and olive oil in pan; add scallops and saute until scallops are slightly browned . . . about 3 minutes. Don't overcook. Serve with hot fluffy rice and a fresh green salad. Makes 1 serving.

EASY BEEF STEW

1 tablespoon flour
¾ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
¾ pound beef chuck, cut in 1-inch cubes
1 tablespoon cooking oil
1 can (10½ oz.) condensed tomato soup
1 soup can water (1¼ cups)
¼ cup sliced onion
¼ teaspoon marjoram leaves, crushed
2 medium potatoes, pared and cubed
2 medium carrots, cut in 1-inch chunks
¼ cup dry red wine or water

Combine flour, salt and pepper; coat meat cubes in seasoned flour. Brown in hot oil; add soup, water, onion and marjoram. Cover and bake in 375 degree oven 1 hour. Add potatoes, carrots and wine. Cover and bake 1 hour longer or until meat is tender. Serves 2.

3-MEAL MEAT LOAF

1½ pounds ground beef
Two-thirds cup old fashioned or quick oats, uncooked
4 teaspoons instant minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon parsley flakes
1 egg, beaten
1 can (4 oz.) mushroom stems, drained
½ cup tomato juice

Combine all ingredients thoroughly. Divide the mixture into 3 equal parts. Shape each part to form a meat loaf about 1½ inches high and about 6 inches long. Wrap 2 loaves tightly in freezer wrap or heavy foil and freeze for future use. Bake remaining loaf in 350 degree oven approximately 40 minutes. Note: For frozen meat loaf, let stand at room temperature about 3 hours or until thawed . . . bake as directed.

GLAZED WHOLE CARROTS

Heat 1 can (8½ oz.) tiny whole carrots about 5 minutes or until heated through. Drain and add 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Sprinkle with 1 tablespoon brown sugar and heat gently, stirring to coat and glaze. Serves 2.

PEARS HELENE

4 medium canned Bartlett pear halves
½ pint vanilla ice cream
Chocolate sauce or syrup
Chopped nuts or crushed peppermint

Chill and drain pear halves. Place scoops of ice cream in dessert dishes. Top each with 2 pear halves, standing upright. Drizzle with chocolate sauce or syrup and sprinkle with chopped nuts or crushed peppermint candy. Serves 2.

CHEESE APPLE CRISP

2 to 3 medium apples
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Cinnamon
One-third cup sugar
¼ cup flour
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Pare, core and dice apples. Place apples in a shallow baking dish and sprinkle with lemon juice and cinnamon. Mix sugar, flour and butter until crumbly. Mix in cheese, then spread over apples; bake at 350 degrees 30-40 min. Serves 2-3.

The Caftan Craze

From mini skirt to caftan is quite a leap; however, there's nothing new about the biggest "cover-up" of all times, the caftan. The reason for their universal appeal is they lend grace to all—fat or thin.

Historically, caftans go back to ancient times when they were worn by both sexes in North Africa and the Middle East. The tent-like garment was worn by members of the Mohammedan priesthood in Turkey, Arabia and Egypt. Open at the neck, with long, loose sleeves and below the knees in length or longer, the cotton or silk cover-ups were worn as a protection against the sun and blowing sand.

Today caftans are worn by Orientals, Mohammed priests, Turks and Arabs . . . a slimmer version is the ancient Moroccan djelaba. Elaborately embroidered gowns were considered the mark of a man's status in society.

Designers such as Hallston and Oscar de la Renta have produced gossamer caftans as bejewelled as an empress' court gown . . . the basic garment is also available in rough, crude unbleached cotton.

Most often the caftan is worn in two layers . . . the under one for body-shaping and the overlayer a whirling, floating illusion of print in brilliant colors or soft water color hues.

First introduced in this country as an at-home gown for lounging or informal entertaining, jet setters such as Jackie Onassis and socialite Babe Paley set a trend by appearing in their caftans bedecked with jewels.

"Women like the caftan because, while it shows the body, it doesn't cling to it . . . small body faults are masked by the free flow of fabric and the wearer is involved in movements of almost lyrical quality," said noted designer Mollie Parnis.

Best selling caftan in the Mollie Parnis collection is a navy satin striped silk chiffon charged heavily with wanton blooms in vivid yellow, orange, green and violet.

Many gowns are now masquerading as caftans because designers are labeling any loose-fitting dress to be worn after five, a caftan. What to wear over the gown? Most appropriate cover up is a cape; however a coat will do quite nicely.

"I made a caftan," explained a young woman shopping in the maternity department the other day. "Though I had originally planned on wearing it as a housecoat during my final months of pregnancy, I wear it out evenings and feel right in style! It took me about two and a half hours to put the caftan together, so I'm making myself another . . . and I fully intend to go on wearing both of them even after my baby is born."

Those with sewing experience have found the making of the caftan an easy project with or without a pattern. For most people two to three yards of 48-inch fabric are sufficient. Folded in half. The neckline, centered, should measure 7½ inches with the front split down to whatever depth desired.

For the arm opening, measure 9 inches down from the top right hand corner and mark a diagonal line from that spot to the neck. (excess fabric can be used for facings.) Stitch side and top seams; finish hem and facings and you've made your very own caftan.

A good place to find low and medium-priced styles are the leisure or lingerie departments. The caftan appears at all prices and is most suitable in sheer, gauzy fabrics. Oscar de la Renta's caftans are done in imported embroidered silks with sides slit up to the hips to show a flash of legs that negate the modest covered-up look.

Evening caftans are soft, sinuous and their charm lies in being carefully cut for fluid movement, as in the scarf print, banded and string-tied at the neck—the deeply pointed sleeves reach to the hem. Also . . . in navy, white and red a flowery print on a navy background. These caftans are sized "one size fits everyone".

Men have not been overwhelmed by the tent-like garments. However, designers maintain that men too will be wearing their own caftans for lounging at home and sitting by the swimming pool. Already available are men's geometric print styles with matching swim trunks.

Designer Leo Narducci has featured caftans for the past six years. These gowns have been purchased by night club performers such as Vicki Carr, Peggy Lee and Mama Cass Elliot.

Narducci's flowing jerseys have their inner radiance; his chiffons sparkle and his prints with their Oriental influence appear to be suspended from matching slips. The fabrics move with the body in soft graceful swirls.

The caftan shape is of prime importance for evening, offering covered-up or very bare effects. For swim time, lounging or after five . . . if it's loose and it "moves" . . . it's a caftan!

CAFTAN LOOK — Leo Narducci's giant sized chrysanthemums spring forward on a mandarin - styled caftan in Arnel Pul crepe-de-chine.

River Rd., Rosemont, Ill. 60018. Sent to us from the American Dairy Association this savory combination of pork and sauerkraut recipe:

FAMILY-STYLE PORK AND SAUERKRAUT

3 tablespoons all purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 pounds boneless pork, cut in 1-inch cubes
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup sliced onion
½ cup water
1 can (1 lb. 11 oz.) sauerkraut, drained
1 tablespoon caraway seed
1 cup dairy sour cream

Combine flour and salt. Roll pork cubes in flour mixture. In a large skillet with cover melt butter; brown pork and onion. Add water; cover and simmer 20-25 minutes. Add sauerkraut and caraway. (If necessary, add additional small amount of water.) Cover and simmer 30 additional minutes. Stir in sour cream and heat to serving temperature. Makes 6-8 servings.

Mrs. Thomas T. writes in: "You may think this a crazy concoction, but my family considers it the best soup I make — it was a recipe my mother used to make whenever we expected snow — but I make it when the temperature goes below freezing. Hope the readers like it!

FRANKFURTER-BEAN SOUP

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium onion, chopped
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped celery
3 cups chicken bouillon
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
¼ cup uncooked rice
1 can (1 lb.) kidney beans
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
½ teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
4 frankfurters, sliced

Melt butter; add onion, green pepper and celery. Saute over moderate heat until onion is transparent. Combine onion mixture with bouillon, tomato sauce, rice, beans and their liquid, parsley, salt, pepper and frankfurters. Bring to boiling point, reduce heat and simmer, covered, about 30 minutes. Serves 4-5.

Sharing is so important — our thanks to Mrs. Anne Froese, Dedham for sending in her German recipe for "Rinderrouladen" especially for Mrs. C. of Needham.

RINDERROULADEN (Beef Rolls)

From a big, long top of the round roast, have the butcher cut 6 slices 1¼-inch thick (about 2 lbs.)
Pepper and salt
Prepared mustard
3 slices bacon
1 large onion, quartered in 6 pieces
Margarine to brown Rouladen
2-3 tablespoons flour for gravy

Sprinkle meat with salt and pepper. With a knife, spread a thin layer of mustard on each slice. On one end of each slice place ½ slice bacon, 1 piece onion (if preferred you can add one-half of a small dill pickle); roll up and secure with tooth picks (two for each roll). In large skillet over moderate heat, brown Rouladen on all sides in margarine. Add water until meat is almost covered. Bring to boil and let simmer for one to one-and-a-half hours. Take out Rouladen and remove toothpicks carefully. Mix enough flour and water to thicken gravy. Add more pepper and salt to taste. Return Rouladen to gravy until ready to serve. Serve with mashed potatoes or potato dumplings and your favorite vegetables; we like peas and carrots. Serves 6.

GUTEN APPETIT!

Question: I've been served a fish casserole that was delicious and have been trying to duplicate it. My cookbooks and experiments haven't succeeded so I am turning to you for help. The dish had a bed of whole spinach, a layer of rolled fillet of sole and was baked in a yellow custardy cheese sauce and then possibly browned under a broiler. Can you help me with the recipe?

Mrs. S. B., Newton

Answer: This recipe is very much like the Flounder Florentine printed in the December 28th Information Please column. Hope it's what you're looking for — we call it Cheese Baked Flounder Casserole.

CHEESE BAKED FLOUNDER CASSEROLE

1 onion, chopped
3 tablespoons margarine
2 pkgs. (9½ oz. ea.) whole leaf spinach cooked and drained
½ cup cooked rice
⅛ teaspoon rosemary, crushed
¼ cup chopped toasted almonds
1 tablespoon lemon juice
6 fillets of flounder (approx. 1½ lbs.)
¼ cup margarine (¼ stick)
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
½ cup shredded Cheddar cheese
2 hard-cooked eggs, sieved

In saucepan, cook onion with rosemary in margarine until onion is tender. Add rice, almonds and lemon juice and heat through, stirring well. Place heaping tablespoon mixture on each fish fillet; roll and secure with toothpicks. Put cooked, drained spinach on bottom of shallow 11x9-inch baking dish; top with rolled fish fillets and bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Meanwhile, in a 2-quart saucepan melt ¼ cup margarine; stir in flour, salt and pepper. Remove from heat; gradually stir in milk. Cook over medium heat stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Cook 2 additional minutes. Remove from heat; add 1 cup Cheddar cheese, stirring until cheese melts. Pour sauce over fish; top with Parmesan cheese and ½ cup Cheddar cheese. Bake for 20 minutes. Sprinkle with sieved eggs and serve at once

Question: We were served a lovely cocktail of pieces of fish (I think it was halibut) and chunks of avocado mixed in with a pink seafood sauce and I wonder if you could come up with a recipe for this delicious first course. Many thanks.

Mrs. D. E., Waban

Answer: A tasty as well as eye-appealing way to begin a meal!

HALIBUT AVOCADO COCKTAIL

1 pound halibut steaks
1 quart boiling water
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup seafood cocktail sauce (see below)
1 cup avocado cubes
Parsley
Lemon wedges

Place fish in boiling water with salt, cover and bring to a boil again. Simmer for 10 minutes, or until fish flakes easily with a fork. Drain and let cool slightly. Remove skin and bones. Flake, then chill fish. Arrange layers of flaked halibut, cocktail sauce and avocado in 6 cocktail glasses. Top with additional cocktail sauce and garnish with parsley sprigs and lemon wedges.

COCKTAIL SAUCE

¾ cup catsup
¼ cup chili sauce
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon horseradish
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
¼ teaspoon seasoned salt

Combine catsup, chili sauce, lemon juice, horseradish, onion, Worcestershire sauce and seasoned salt. Mix thoroughly and chill. Makes about one and one-third cups.

Problem-

The chief continued, "This means that tardy children are crossing some extremely busy intersections unsupervised long after our police personnel have left their posts."

The problem of tardiness began when the Newton schools changed entrance time from 8-8:30 am to 7:45-8:15 am three years ago, according to Quinn.

He added, "It is reasonable to hope that after three years we could get used to the new hours and arrange to take advantage of the protection offered at busy crossings."

All crossing protection in the mornings begin at 7:45 am and children are expected in school at 8:15 am when crossing protection ends.

office and made his official request that it be implemented.

"This new route will be on an experimental basis only," the letter noted. "We are endeavoring to lesson the impact of bus travel over Roosevelt Road and other narrow streets in the area."

He also asked that the new pattern of travel be implemented as soon as possible.

on the acquisition of a third ping pong table, pending the success of a financial request from the Parent Teacher Student Association.

Frank Walker, a junior at Newton South, has been selected to be a member of the Greater Bostonians, a vocal and orchestral group of 80 teenagers. The musical group will perform at Symphony Hall in March and shall also play for a number of youth organizations. "I Belive in Music," "Wedding Song," and two instrumentals, "Gentle on My Mind," and "Misty" are some of the numbers the group will perform.

The Mathematics Department at Newton South offers a very successful though relatively unpublicized computers program. Through a time sharing system with 31 other high schools, South is able to offer the use of both an on and an off line teletype terminal to students. Three computer courses are formally taught. Two of them form a curriculum one two year sequence designed for the science oriented student. The third course offered in curriculum two, is less mathematically weighted than the others. All the courses emphasis logical analysis as a method of problem solving. Paul Shapiro and Margaret Frantz teach them.

Annually, a May Arts Festival is held at Newton South High. This event which includes original plays, and concerts, is designed to raise money for the Theatre Arts Dept. and to celebrate the rites of spring through exhibiting the results of creative talent at South. Last Friday, two films "The Fall of the House of Usher" and the "The Pit and the Pendulum" were shown to raise money for the festival. Film nights like this one will be held regularly in the future as a money raising procedure.

BARRY F. MONTGOMERY, former assistant manager of the Wellesley office of the Newton Savings Bank has been named manager of the Newton Highlands office of the Newton Savings Bank, effective Feb. 1. He replaces Sylvia E. Kaiser who retired on Jan. 31. Montgomery, a resident of Braintree, graduated from Curry College and joined the Newton Savings Bank as a management trainee at the Newton Corner office in May, 1970. He was appointed acting assistant manager in November, 1971. Immediately prior to assuming his new post he had established and managed the bank's "NOW" account department, supervising all of the details necessary for the bank to offer savings accounts that can be used as checking accounts.

Aldermen-

He went on to say he felt keeping the restraining order in force might provide an incentive to the Board of Aldermen to take additional steps to comply with the law.

"Newton and every other city and town in the Commonwealth has had 11 years to comply with the Springfield Decision on 100 per cent valuation," the judge said. "It says 100 per cent valuation and that's what it means."

The suit filed by taxpayers charges Newton property is not assessed at "full and fair cash value" and asks the court to declare Newton's policy of assessing as illegal and order revaluation to proceed.

The actual case has not yet been heard in court. The only court appearance made has been on the temporary restraining order.

Aldermen voting in favor of the appropriation at the meeting were: Michael Antonellis, Alan Barkin, Wendell Bauckman, Richard Bullwinkle, Thomas Concannon, Harry Crosby, Jackson, Matthew Jefferson, Michael Lipof, Lois Pines, Edward Richmond, Jason Sacks, Small, Robert Tennant.

The four in opposition were: David Cohen, Harrington, Joseph McDonnell and Richard McGrath.

The six not voting were: Ernest Kietz, Louis Egelson, Gaynor, Andrew Magni, Edward Uehlein and Eliot Cohen.

Hospital Lectures Continue For MDs

"The Molecular Basis of Human Vision" will be the subject of a lecture by Dr. George Wald, Nobel Prize winner and Higgins Professor of Biology, Harvard University, at Newton-Wellesley Hospital Mar. 5.

The talk, which is open to medical personnel in the Newton-Wellesley-Weston area, is the fifth in the hospital's 1973 Fried Lecture Series, and will be given at 8:30 p.m. in Usen Auditorium.

Dr. Wald, one of three doctors to share the December 1967 Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine, was the first person to identify vitamin A in the retina of the eye while working under a National Research Council Fellowship in Biology in the early 1930s.

The winner of the 1939 Eli Lilly Award for "Fundamental Research in Biochemistry" from the American Chemical Society, Dr. Wald has also been the recipient of a number of othr noteworthy awards including the Lasker Award of the American Public Health Association "in recognition of his outstanding discoveries in biochemistry with special reference to the changes associated with vision and the function of vitamin A."

Dr. Wald, who earned his Ph. D. in Zoology from Columbia and has been a faculty member at Harvard University since 1934, was named Higgins Professor of Biology in 1968.

He is also an elected member of the National Academy of Sciences, the Optical Society of America, the Association for Research in Ophthalmology and the American Society of Biological Chemists.

Appoint Chairman For Cancer Crusade

Announcement was made today by John T. Driscoll, 1973 State Cancer Crusade chairman, of the appointments of Bernard M. Markwell to Crusade chairman of the Greater Metropolitan Boston Area, and Daniel Bushnell to Crusade chairman of the Metropolitan Boston Unit.

The Metropolitan Boston Area embraces communities from Reading to Walpole, and from Hopkinton to Winthrop, with a total population of 2,034,392.

American Cancer Society volunteers at the seven metropolitan branches plan to raise $1,000,000 of the state Cancer Crusade's goal of $2,100,000.

Markwell, Gulf Oil's regional vice president for Governmental Relations, was formerly a Gulf sales manager of the Metropolitan New York and Long Island area, a vice president and director of a Gulf marketing subsidiary in New York, and a sales director in Gulf's Houston office. A Pittsburgh, Pa., native, Markwell and his wife live in Boston.

Bushnell, Northeast Regional Supervisor of Industrial Employee Relations for Texaco, Inc., has been connected with the American Cancer Society since 1950, having served as president of New Jersey's Morris County Unit.

DISCUSSING VOLUNTEER ACTIVITIES in Metropolitan Boston for the 1973 State Cancer Crusade are John T. Driscoll, left, state chairman; Bernard M. Markwell, center, and Daniel Bushnell, newly appointed Crusade Chairman of the American Cancer's Society's Greater Metropolitan Boston Area and Metropolitan Boston Unit respectively. The Crusade goal for the 53-town area is $1,000,000.

Massachusetts Taxpayers Plan Revolt March on Legislature

William Nichols, chairman of the Concerned Citizens Committee of Lynn, addressed the West Roxbury Rotary Club at its weekly lucheon meeting at the Amarus Restaurant, recently.

Nichols warned his listeners that "Massachusetts property taxpayers are on the verge of a 'property taxpayers revolt marcn' on the State Legislature, which will begin with a rally meeting and march from the historical Boston Faneuil Hall, to demand legislative action to reduce Massachusetts property taxes, now!"

He urged "property tax control laws" which would place a ceiling on what a cty or town can collect in taxes from the various types of property and "especially from the single family homeowners who own approximately 65 percent of the total taxable properties in Massachusetts."

"Although most single family homeowners made many sacrifices during their life in paying for their homes, they suddenly find themselves faced with extinction from their homes because of confiscatory property taxes which are at least 14 percent higher in Massachusetts than any other states."

The Massachusetts property taxpayers revolt has been "Formenting" for the last six months, with many demonstrations, marches to city halls and town hall meetings having already taken place in Lynn, Beverly, Danvers, Revere, Quincy, Orleans, Cape Cod, Salem, Peabody, Swampscott, Marblehead, Nahant, Boston, Springfield and many other small communities throughout Massachusetts.

The property taxpayers revolt march is expected to take place within the next four to six weeks with final action of many action groups throughout Massachusetts to be determined by the actions of the State Legislature, now in session. The various protesting tax groups have been communicating with each other and are urging new groups to get in touch with us by calling or writing to Concerned Citizens of Massachusetts, 120 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass., Rm. 312, Zip Code 02114. Tel. 426-4200.

Nichols urges all Massachusetts property taxpayers and voters to keep a constant and vigil eye on your elected officials to "see what they do" and "not what they promise to do."

Nat'l Teachers Examination On April 7

The National Teacher Examinations will be given on Saturday, April 7 at Boston State College.

According to Dr. Edward FitzPatrick, testing administrator, college seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require the NTE are eligible to take the test.

In addition, the designation of Boston State College as a test center for these examinations will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the examinations with candidates throughout the country who take the tests.

Last year approximately 120,000 candidates took the examinations which are designed to assess cognitive knowledge and understanding in professional education, general education and subject-field specialization. The examinations, which are prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey, are limited to assessment of those aspects of teacher education that are validly and reliably measured by well constructed paper-and-pencil tests.

Bulletins of Information describing registration procedures and containing Registration Forms as well as sample test questions may be obtained in person from Room 109A, Boston State College, 625 Huntington Avenue, Boston or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Drinking Problems

NEW YORK (UPI) — A psychiatrist who treats alcoholics says there are eight types.

Dr. C. Nelson Davis, psychiatrist in chief of the Malvern Institute for Psychiatric and Alcoholic Studies in Malvern, Pa., categorizes alcoholics as follows:

—The periodic alcoholic. This one drinks sometimes regularly, sometimes irregularly, always ending in a binge.

—The chronic alcoholic. This one drinks daily end liberally.

—The quiet alcoholic. He or she drinks right into oblivion without bothering anyone.

—The eight-hour alcoholic. He tends to make family and friends and his own life unhappy. Drinking starts before dinner. The eight-hour victim of alcohol gets drunk on one drink, may sleep for a while but then gets up and is a nuisance.

—The binge drinker. He loses control of conduct.

—The regular alcoholic. This drunk understands his sensitivities to drink but continues to drink anyway. He or she knows eventually there will be a stay in a hospital—for revival purposes. Once released the regular alcoholic picks up drinking again.

—The station wagon alcoholic. He lives in suburbia. The drinking to the dissipation stage is protected by economic status.

—The drug dependent alcoholic. This one begins to take drugs to cushion the rigors of the hangover. In time, he or she becomes drug dependent. Suicide or accidental death usually marks the end for this type of alcoholic.

Local Association BAcks Mental Health Insurance

The Norfolk Mental Health Association, through its Legislative Committee chairman, Mrs. Arthur Baker of Plainville, will urge support of insurance coverage for mental illness in all health insurance policies, it was announced this week.

Representative Charles Flaherty has introduced a bill, H-2292, which would apply to both in-patient and out-patient care and would end the discrimination against the mentally ill in existing health insurance policies. Day care, group therapy, and family counseling are included. It is pointed out that with federal and state budgets either phasing out or reducing funding of mental health programs, the need for third party reimbursement through insurance coverage becomes of paramount importance and mental health associations throughout the state are focussing efforts on the matter.

The bill, which will be heard by the Insurance Committee March 13, covers mental illness on the same basis that physical illness is now covered in health insurance policies. This would be at a minimal cost to the consumer and would result in total savings to the taxpayer as to state government which would be reimbursed by third party payments for treating mental health patients.

Nearly eight million federal employees have this kind of coverage under Aetna Insurance and Blue Cross contracts which have been in effect over 10 years. Over three million Auto Union members and their families are covered by a similar plan. Their utilization rate is less than two percent. Thus both in costs and in use rate, mental illness has proved insurable and in line with sound actuarial practice. The State of Connecticut legislated this type of coverage in 1971.

An interesting facet of reasonable mental health coverage has been revealed by a study by Group Health Association in Washington, D.C., which covers Federal employees. This study found that such coverage actually reduced or prevented hospitalization.

Anyone interested in the bill may register approval by writing Senator D. J. Foley, chairman, Insurance Committee, State House, Boston.

A BRIGHT FUTURE WITH GOOD PAY!

Isn't that what we're all seeking?

We'll pay you a starting salary of $150-$170 to learn our business and provide a good fringe package and raises as fast as you can earn them.

When you are promoted to Manager 12-24 months from now, you will be earning $200-$250 a week immediately with prospects for more as soon as you show us you can build business and control costs.

We have many Managers making $300-$400 a week and they aren't working 70 hours per week to do it. But, they have complete responsibility for making our business successful and that's why they are paid so well. Candidates must be over 21, have high school diploma and transportation.

Give us a call or drop us a line and we'll arrange an interview to discuss how you can be a Friendly success story, too.

Join The Army, Learn To Cook

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Remember recuriting posters that said "Join the Navy and see the world"? Now add "Join the Army and learn to cook."

One facet of contemporary recruiting involves a prisewinning culinary team from the Army Quartermaster School at Fort Lee, Va. Its aims include interesting men and women in army careers as chess—not just for chow line cookery but also fancy fare of the sort served in fine restaurants and hotels.

"Most people have a World War II and Korean War image of army food," said Col. James T. Moore in a telephone interview. Moore is director of the Subsistence and Food Service Department at the school.

The culinary team helps dispel the wartime image by showing off its skills in cooking contests, such as the recent 8th Salon of Culinary Art in Washington, D.C. They won eight out of 14 prizes in competition with chefs from restaurants and the food service industry.

The team gets lots of questions from observers at such shows, said Moore. Many of the questioners ask about learning chefs' skills in the army.

The team is chosen from among the 100 military instructors who train more than 3,000 service personnel a year at the Army post outside Washington. They learn some cooking techniques from industry, Moore said, but most of their know-how is gained in the quartermaster school courses.

The salon they took part in was co-sponsored by Washington's Epicurean Club and the Metropolitan Restaurant Association.

Judges were White House chef Henry Haller, Harmon Rusche, owner and head chef of the Greenbriar in West Virginia, and John Secter, master chef for research for a leading supplier of food bases to industry.

The winning entries ranged from Specialist 5 Kevin Haar's gimmicky Cool Chick to classics of French buffet design, including whole fish in aspic and turkey in chaud-froid sauce. The latter is cold turkey covered with a gelatin glaze containing mayonnaise and usually decorated with fancy cut-outs made from vegetables. His entry was a baked chicken with vegetable head and hat fishing in a tallow pond filled with carrot and radish fish and turtles suspended in green gelatin.

Looks to Retirement

His regular assignment includes teaching some of the cooking basics, such as preparation of soups and sauces, meat and desserts. He's 41, a bachelor and seven years away from Army retirement, when he said he expects to look for a civilian food service job, possibly with a motel chain.

"Retired Army men are in demand for such jobs," he said.

Like most of his colleagues, he learned to cook in the Army. Three levels of classes are provided for enlisted men and women at the Fort Lee school.

A basic one is for persons who have never cooked before and who want to learn everything about the subject.

Another basic course is for non-commissioned officers who want to learn both cookery and management and merchandising of food. The third is an advanced course for non-coms who want to learn management of multiple facilities on an Army post. Moore said the last course also includes demonstrations such as the work entered in culinary arts contests.

"We don't want to compete with industry (in training chefs and managers)," Moore added. "We want to help ourselves and them.

"We would like to get the 500 to 600 students that the Culinary Institute of America has to turn away each year because it hasn't room and others from City College of San Francisco, which has a three year waiting list for its hotel school."

Although the course is open to Wacs, only eight are enrolled now, five in basic and three in the first cooks and dining facility management level.

At least once a month, the post gets a taste of civilian-type banqueting—or what Moore calls "super supper."

It consists of a large buffet meal of elaborately prepared food displayed with ice carvings and candle-lit tables. It's good exercise for students and instructors. Moore said:

"We think the soldier deserves this attention."

NEDA SIGNS

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Yugoslavian actress Neda Arneric signed for a leading role in MGM's "Shaft in Africa."

BREAKING RECORDS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Women's Lib notwithstanding, the men's pants industry is breaking all sales records. Manufacturers expect 1972 sales to show a total of 560 million pairs and the outlook for 1973 is estimated sales to surpass 590 million pairs in the nation.

The long-range outlook through the decade is for increased spending for clothing, according to Ted Houghton, marketing vice president for Farah Manufacturing Co., maker of dress and casual slacks and jeans for men, young men and boys.

Health For All

BETTER BREATHING CLUBS

Emphysema is a hard disease to live with. But emphysema clubs can help soften the strain.

Emphysema is a chronic lung disease that makes breathing a struggle to survive. When the walls of the lungs' air sacs stretch and tear, stale air gets trapped inside. People who have emphysema cannot force air out of their lungs. Their lungs get larger and inflated.

With advanced emphysema, even the simplest movements — like tying a shoelace — can be excruciating. As activities are restricted, living a normal life becomes more impossible. And, in addition to physical distress, there are psychological drawbacks. Many emphysema patients give up social activities and become isolated from the world around them.

Emphysema clubs try to change all that. They help provide the enormous comfort of others who know how it is. People with the disease not only find friends but they learn how to live easier with their condition.

They find out short cuts to dressing and doing light household chores. They get to know how to clean a nebulizer and do exercises that help breathing. They learn what kinds of medical benefits are available to people with lung disease and what the emotional effects of living with a chronic illness are.

Many local tuberculosis and respiratory disease associations across the country are sponsoring emphysema clubs. And they are trying to get the facts to others as well as patients. One of the facts about emphysema is that there is no cure for the disease, only ways to live easier with it. But there is a known cause: years of cigarette smoking.

See your Boston TB and Respiratory Disease Association for more facts about lung disease, cigarette smoking, and emphysema clubs. It's a matter of life and breath.

VIRTUOSO PERFORMANCE — The Kehillath Jacob Institute of Newton, will present American pianist Theodore Lettvin in a recital Sunday, March 4, at 2:30 p.m. at 858 Walnut st. Lettvin recently returned from a concert tour of Europe and the United States. He has appeared as a soloist with the Boston Symphony and is a professor of piano at the New England Conservatory. The concert is open to the public. For further information, call 527-2205.

Young Emerson Actors Recount Saga Of Danny

Broadway has come to the Ralph Waldo Emerson School in Newton Upper Falls.

The two first grades recently presented an operetta entitled, "Danny The Dark Green Dinosaur," under the direction of their teachers, Marie Fox and Janet Chiel.

Beavers: Moria Daley, John Daniele, Marie Lucente.

Raindrops: David Quinn, Wayne Melanson. Dana Chooljian, Geoffryey Woodard, Keith Attkiss, David Ebel, Michael Worobel, Charlie Busi Busuito, Marty Valente, Gary Murphy, Douglas Edman.

Daffodils: Janet Beatrice, Joan Dow, Maureen Daley, Nancy Cimetta, Debra Porter, Karen Marcy, Kim Marcy, Roberta Curcio, Beth Galvin, Judy DeAngelis, Sharon McClean, Rhonda McDonald, Rhynda O'Rourke, Kelly Gree.

Storm: Anthony Colasacco, Debbie Troy, Gene Lee, John Dorsey.

Midge Connolly handled the curtain. The accompanist for the show was Cynthia McElaney, a student at Framingham State College.

The dress reharsal was presented Feb. 12 for the Upper Falls Cooperative Nursery School and Emerson School kindergarteners. Supt. of Schools Aaron Fink and J. Geoffrey Pierson also attended the performance.

The second and third performances were presented for the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth graders at Emmerson. Lillion Radlo, administrative assistant to the superintendent of schools, also attended, joined parents, grandparents ans relatives of the cast.

Presenting

The lively performance was set off nicely with elaborate costumes created by Judy Dean, Nancy Hill and Florence Stolpinski, mothers of three of the first graders.

"Danny the Dark Green Dinosaur" is the story of an unhappy beast. He is sad because he is clumsy and cannot play ball like the other animals. But when a storm comes to the kingdom of the animals, he becomes their hero by saving them all.

Bobby McMullin starred in the production as Danny.

The cast also included:

Narrators; Karen Sue Hill and Eddy Colasacco.

Bees: Virginia Dean, Karen Stolpinski and Kelly Green.

Skunks: Jeanmarie Hann, Andy Mazzola, Jimmy Anderson.

Swans: Elana Epstein, Erica Rogoff, Marie Hoyt.

Symphony Concert March 11

The Newton Symphony Orchestra, will present a concert March 11 at 8 p.m. at Meadowbrook Junior High School commemorating the 25th anniversary of the founding of Israel.

Michel Sasson, musical director, will lead the orchestra in a program including Saint-Saens' "Introduction" and "Rondo Capriccioso," Symphony No. 13, "The Babi Yar," by Shostakovich with the Highland Glee Club; Bloch's "Nigun" from "Suite for Baal Shem."

In addition, "Ode to Viola," written by Newton Symphony violinist Dann Wyman, will be performed. This work is scheduled to be recorded by the Cleveland Orchestra Chamber Ensemble.

Soloists for this concert include violinist Marjorie Kransberg, violist Karen Phillips and baritone David Arnold.

This New England Premiere of Shostakovich's 13th Symphony, based on five poems by Yevtushenko (Babi Yar) serves as a superb document of protes against repression of the Jewish peoples. It was given its premiere in Moscow in 1962, performed again two more times, and now lies banned and unpublished in that country.

Thus, with Soviet Jewry in mind and in tribute to a state which welcomes all Jews, the Newton Symphony plans this concert in dedication. The program represents a recognition of Jewish spirit and determination.

As available seating is limited for this performance, which is part of the Newton Symphony Orchestra Concert Series for 1972-73, it is suggested that tickets be purchased early. Call 332-9346 or 969-4232 or write Box 64, Newton 02195. Tickets are available at $3.50 each.

All City Music Plans Concert

On Wednesday Feb. 28, the Newton All City Junior High School Organizations will present their first concert of the season. The groups include the Troubadors and the Band and String Orchestra. The concert will be held at Day Junior High School, Minot Place, at 8 p.m. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

The All City Music Organizations are composed of students from the five junior highschools in Newton. These students are accepted into the organization by an audition. They rehearse every Tuesday for two hours and perform two concerts a year in Newton and various concerts on tour.

Pine Manor Gallery Hosts One Man Show

Sculpture by David Kibbey is being exhibited from Feb. 12 - Mar. 11 at Pine Manor Junior College, Hess Gallery, 400 Heath St., Chestnut Hill.

There was a reception for the artist at the gallery, Tuesday, Feb. 20, from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Pine Manor Dancers Rehearse For Recital

A program of modern dance will be performed by students from the department of performing arts of Pine Manor Junior College at 8:30 p.m. on Feb. 21 and 22 in the college's Ellsworth Hall, 400 Heath St., Chestnut Hill.

The program is open to the public with no admission charge.

The distance from Northern Mexico to ierra del Fuego the South American continent'smost southern tip, is about 7,000 miles.

"JARRETT" STAR

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Glenn Ford will star in "Jarrett," a Screen Gems development project which, if well received as a television movie, will be spun off as a weekly series.

EARLY TALKIE

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Hollywood's first "talkie," starring John Barrymore in "Don Juan," had only a musical score. Dialogue wasn't introduce until Al Jolson's "Jazz Singer" in 1927.
